SCHOOL
OPENS SAFELY

In a few days our schools in the county will be open again. It is time now to consider the safety and welfare of the children in all grades who will be going to and from our school grounds and buildings. Be careful! Drive slowly through the sectors bordering the various school campuses. Make sure that you observe all speed limits, rules of driving, and above all — be a real gentleman or lady when you are behind the wheel.

County Schools To Open Tuesday

CONDITIONING—The Stanton High School Buffaloes, 45 strong, launched preseason drill Monday with a long series of calisthenics. The Buffaloes open the 1963 season at Merkel September 6.

STANTON BUFFS OPEN FALL DRILLS

New Staff Starts Fresh

By TOM RICE

Three words, "the new look," most aptly describe the football picture at Stanton High School this year as preseason drills were launched by 45 prospective Buffalo gridgers Monday.

Just about everything in the football program is new.

There is a new coach, new assistants and a whole flock of youngsters who have had little or no experience in Buffalo moleskins.

The new coach is Bill Milam who never has taken a job at a school that was winning, and has "never left a loser." He comes to Stanton from Early, near Brownwood, where he had a highly successful eight years. In that span his teams won the district championship four times and the bi-district title twice.

His aids include Roy Dodds, who is starting his first year of fulltime coaching, and Doyle Edmiston and Floyd Sorley. Sorley also will handle the junior high grid program.

Only two regulars are back from the Buffalo team which won four of 10 games in 1962. They are Donnie Polson (6-1, 230), who started on offense and defense, and Ronnie Hayes (5-11, 185), who was a defensive regular.

Polson was a guard last year but is being switched to a tackle position. Hayes is battling for his old guard post.

In addition to the two regulars, there are only five other lettermen participating in the drills. Only one of them has experience in the backfield.

Dink Ponson (5-8, 145) may earn a starting halfback post by the time the Bisons open their season at Merkel September 6. He is the only experienced back in camp and he is only a sophomore.

Mike Hall (6-0, 200) is another letterman, having earned his monogram at guard last year. Milam, however, is running Hall at the fullback slot, and the junior is expected to fill the shoes of the graduated Dewey Anderson in fine fashion.

Other lettermen around which Milam hopes to build a contender for the District 7-AA crown are Clinton Miller (5-10, 160), a senior end candidate; Bill Davis (6-2, 205), a junior guard or tackle prospect, and Roger Boyce (6-2, 240), who hopes to land the starting center chores.

After that, however, the picture gets quite gloomy. There is no experienced quarterback, and Milam his six youngsters working out in the field general's post in hopes of finding a successor for Buddy Glaspi, who guided the Bisons for three years.

Among the prospective signal callers are Ronnie Driggers (5-8, 150), a senior who sat out last year because of an injury; Jerry Johnson (6-0, 165), a senior; Carroll Anderson (6-1, 150), a junior; Dink Polson; Buddy Shanks (5-6, 150), a freshman, and Steve Milam (5-6, 125), a freshman and son of the coach.

Three other youths have drawn praise from Milam as prospective backs. They are Ronnie Hartzell (5-10, 160), a senior fullback; Mickey Allen (6-0, 160), a senior halfback, and David Dunn (5-10, 160), a junior fullback. Hartzell is the speediest of the trio, having been clocked in the 100 yard dash in 10.1 last season.

Among the more outstanding line prospects are Rodney Payne (6-0, 160), who is trying for an end post; Billy Powell (6-0, 210), a prospective guard of tackle, and Sammy

School Safety Urged By Police

School bells will ring Tuesday, September 3, as the two schools in Stanton open for the 1963-64 school term, and Police Chief Johnny Murdoch reminds everyone to be extremely careful.

The chief said his department will be enforcing traffic regulations to the fullest extent of the law in the school areas.

New signs, "School Zones" will be erected in the school areas. Other signs will be put up leading to the Stanton High School and the Stanton Elementary School as an extra precautionary measure to minimize the possibility of accidents.

"The hours before school begins in the morning, during lunch, and when school is dismissed will be especially busy," the chief said.

Parents will be taking their children to school and the older students driving their own cars will be adding to the confusion.

Chief Murdoch reminds motorists that children will be riding bicycles and walking to school. Drive slowly, don't rush, an unthinking child might dart into the street.

"Your cooperation in applying courteous, cautious, driving practices will pay off. It will keep you from getting a traffic ticket, it will allow traffic to move more rapidly, although driving slower, and above all it may save the life of a child," Murdoch said.

Remember the signs posted around the school areas mean exactly what they say. Don't rely on a reminder from a sign, drive carefully at all times.

Good Society

What is The Good Society? Many a profound book has been written in seeking to answer that question, many more will roll from the presses as the years spin by.

But it can be answered, in essence, in very brief and simple terms: It is a society in which each individual has the inalienable right to choose his path in life within a framework of equitable laws designed to prevent him from encroaching upon this same right in others. No law can make men equal—but the law can guarantee equality of opportunity.

It is, above all, a society in which individual freedom is limited by, and only by the right of a people as a whole to maintain, secure and protect itself.

It is a society which fully recognizes the Jeffersonian maxim that government is best which governs least.

Freedom without fear; strength without coercion; pride without arrogance; and an endless sense of the worth of man, not only in the mass but in the one—these are marks of The Good Society.

Rewards Await

The Odessa American recently carried this editorial challenge:

"Shouldn't we strive to abolish government operation of business (socialism), government control over agricultural production (fascism), and government redistribution of the wealth (communism)?"

"If the American capitalist system fails, there will be no other nation to save us—as we have saved so many others. On the other hand, if we will rededicate ourselves to capitalism in America, it will provide the beacon light of freedom and abundance that may save the whole world. The rewards of capitalism await us. Are they worth your effort?"

Getting Into The Game

Politics is the process by which government is shaped to serve the legitimate but diverse interests of all the people, and business certainly is one of the interests that must be served. Yet, in recent years, businessmen have not been much of a force in politics.

This regrettable lack may soon be remedied now that the Business-Industry Political Action Committee has been formed by a group of large and small businessmen from coast to coast. Laurie C. Battle, former Alabama Democratic Congressman, has been named operational head of the group.

BIPAC is, according to its founders, to be bi-partisan, and will support Congressmen and Senators who favor the free enterprise system and constitutional government. Memberships will cost from $10 to $99 a year, will be accepted only from individuals and not from companies, and the aim is to keep overhead so low that most of this money can be utilized in the ever-more-expensive campaigns.

Left of center political figures long have been able to tap the contributions of labor's Political Action Committee, while candidates more in tune with the essentially conservative thinking of the majority of Americans who have to raise their funds as best they could. BIPAC, if it realizes its sponsors' hopes, will remedy that.

The general public should benefit from BIPAC's activities, if only because its funds will enable the more moderate and conservative candidates to expose themselves to voter scrutiny more widely and better understand the choice to be made at the polls.

Business should benefit directly. Politicians of whatever persuasion realize in general that if business is bad all America (including the federal treasury) suffers. But those with the least understanding of what makes business good often are the ones sent to Washington to legislate on business affairs. Then they profess astonishment that business, burdened by taxes and other political high costs, hobbled by regulations and made legally vulnerable to any and all monopoly union demands, doesn't grow fast enough to stem the tide of unemployment.

BIPAC could significantly change this, and if business improves as a consequence, everyone will be better off.

Paul's Field Of Service Widened As He Traveled

When Paul saw the light on his way to Damascus, we are told he was not "disobedient unto the Heavenly vision."

It does not matter how God's call comes to us, whether in Heavenly visions or through normal human impulses. The important things is that no matter how it comes, it is by obedience only that we find a way to contribute greatest service.

Paul the persecutor could have only partly realized at the time of his conversion that the mission for which God called him was one of great magnitude.

His conversion meant that he was breaking away from the old associations. His future, to say the least, was uncertain. He was accepting the risks and dangers of a new way of life.

But there was no uncertainty in Paul himself. He threw himself into the business of being a Christian with the same intensity with which he formerly persecuted his new brethren.

Nor was there any incompleteness in Paul's conversion. It was from the pagan city of Antioch, the place where the disciples were first called "Christians," that Paul began his journeys as a missionary.

His first journey was small in comparison to his later travels. His companion on that first journey was Barnabas, the same man who endorsed Paul when the disciples at Jerusalem were inclined to fear and distrust him.

Accompanying them was a young man named John, whose surname was Mark. Later this companion was the cause of a sharp controversy between Paul and Barnabas. Paul refused to take him on the next trip.

But in defense of John Mark, it may be said that Paul, for whom no danger was too great or terrifying, may have been to exacting a leader.

The world owes a great debt to this John Mark because later he wrote the Gospel of Mark. It is the simplest and most direct of the Gospels and gives us a valuable portrayal of the Master's life and work.

Dear editor:

Although Congress hasn't asked me for my opinion on the test ban treaty and I don't think I could get away from this Martin County grass farm at the moment anyway to testify—it's not that I have anything to do here, but when it comes to not doing anything, this is the place to have it happen, not in Washington—I have decided to go ahead and state my views.

I did this after reading about the experts who have been testifying. The way I see it is, when one group of scientists with all the facts says it's wise to sign the treaty, and another group with the same amount of facts says it isn't, this opens the door to anybody. What I mean is, is the same set of facts can lead to two exactly opposite views, facts aren't as important as

NOW IS THE TIME TO CHECK THE LIGHT YOUR CHILDREN USE FOR HOME STUDY

Even children who pass the eye chart test with ease need special light for home study. Reading and other close visual tasks require plenty of good light to make seeing easier and to prevent eyestrain and fatigue. For best light from a table lamp, use at least 150-watt illumination. The lamp should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work area and properly shaded to shield the light source from the eyes. A diffusing bowl is recommended to soften the light and prevent glare. Check your children's study light now. Better light means better sight and better grades.

Vows Are Exchanged In Bowlin-Williams Rites

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Janice Margaret Bowlin and Wenzel Martin Williams Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in a ceremony performed at the First Methodist Church of Ackerly. The Rev. Albert Cooper, pastor, officiated for the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowlin, Ackerly. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Williams, Shallowater.

The ceremony was performed before an arch of greenery and white gladioli, flanked by spiraled candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white peau de soie with Victorian puffed sleeves shirred to the elbow and the belted skirt extended into a chapel train. Applied floral sprays of imported French lace accented the oval neckline, skirt and train. A rosebud headdress secured her fingertip veil of illusion. A single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, was her only ornament. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white rosebuds. Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Linda Bowlin. Her dress was of apple green dacron over taffeta, styled with belted skirt, rounded neckline and raglan sleeves. A small green veil was attached to her headband of white flowers and leaves. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Darla Henderson, Shallowater; Miss Judy Brown, Ackerly; and Miss Juanette Williams of Post, the bridegroom's sister. Their dresses and bouquets were identical to that of the maid of honor.

DPS Says 31 To Lose Life

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced today an estimated 31 persons will be killed in traffic crashes in Texas over the three-day Labor Day weekend, and called for "an all-out effort to prove the statistics are wrong."

Col. Morner Garrison, Jr. pointed out that the estimate by the DPS Statistical Services is based on past experience, but added: "There is always a chance that it can be proved too high if motorists will put forth a concerted effort to hold the line by driving within safe and legal limits and remaining especially alert to the added dangers of holiday travel."

To emphasize these hazards, he said, "Operation Motorcade" will be placed in effect from 12:01 a.m. Saturday, August 31 through 11:59 p.m. Monday, September 2. During this period, all traffic fatalities on the streets and highways of the state will be tabulated and released three times daily to the public through the co-operation of the news media.

In addition, the Department of Public Safety will do everything possible with the limited man power available to stop reckless and illegal driving on the highways, Garrison said. Officers from other DPS uniformed services will be assigned for the holiday period to Highway Patrol duty to add to the enforcement effort.

The DPS Director said Labor Day this year comes at a time when traffic tragedy for the year 1963 appears to be heading for an all-time high. He reported that more than 1,400 persons have been killed already this year for an increase of some eight per cent, adding that if the trend continues the toll will exceed the high of 2,611 persons killed in 1956.

Garrison noted that several public and private agencies are carrying on programs to supplement the safety emphasis effort for the Labor Day holiday. The Texas Safety Association will conduct a public information program stressing the need for courtesy and caution.

TSA Vice-President W. F. Bill Leonard will coordinate the efforts of Junior Chambers of Commerce over the state in operating numerous "rest stops" for fatigued drivers to whom free coffee will be served. The Texas Association of Broadcasters will conduct a statewide "Drive Lighted and Live" program in which appeals will be made to motorists to drive with their headlights on dim during the daylight hours to focus attention on the need for legal and safe driving.

The Texas Highway Department will carry on a continuing information and education program instructing drivers in freeway driving and the need for caution near highway construction areas.

And the Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association will sponsor a fleet of 35 to 40 wreckers.

Labor Committee Holds Meeting August 23

The trend away from hand labor to machine harvesting is reflected in estimates of the Martin County Farm Labor Committee made at a meeting held in the county commissioner's courtroom Friday, August 23, according to Leon M. Kenney, committee chairman.

The Martin County Committee is composed of the Rev. John A. Pierce of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Jerry Hanson of the Stanton Feed and Supply, Bob Cain of the Cain Tractor and Supply, Leo Turner and Jett Hoggard, manager of the Farmers Co-Op Society Gin. Leon Kinney is committee chairman.

The current estimate for the Martin County crop is 75,085 bales, with 25,000 bales hand picked, 16,100 bales hand pulled and 33,925 bales machined. This estimate is about 45% machined; however, the committee estimated that machining may harvest as much as 60% of this year's crop depending on availability of machines and weather.

In addition to the members of the committee, W. H. Townsend and Gillum were present for the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stallo spent the weekend in Merkel and Abilene. Their children, Jerri, Joel, and Jana, spent last week with their grandparents in Merkel and Abilene and returned home with their parents.

Good Eating Program Vital For Youngsters

In the rush of back-to-school days, don't let your youngsters lapse into the bad eating habits that cause almost half the nation's teenagers to suffer from malnutrition in the midst of plenty.

Dr. Evelyn B. Spindler, nutritionist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, estimates six out of ten teenage girls and four out of ten boys have poor diets and serious nutritional deficiencies. Poor eating habits among these youngsters result in lowered resistance to illness, frequent colds, skin eruptions, irritability, lack of energy, and unusual fatigue.

What are the reasons for this, and what can be done about it? Dr. Spindler blames teenage undernourishment largely on skipping breakfast and filling up on snacks made up mainly of "empty calories" — foods full of sugar, fat, and starches, but very little proteins, minerals and vitamins.

A good way to encourage your teenagers to adopt better eating habits now that school is back in full swing is to keep your refrigerator well stocked with nutritious foods and beverages. If your present refrigerator is already overloaded, you'll need one of the roomy new electric refrigerator-freezers to hold nourishing snack-time extras.

You'll find that the nutritious foods you keep in your electric refrigerator-freezer for afternoon snacks will disappear just as quickly as the "empty calorie" ones like cookies, cake, candy and soda pop. Nutritious substitutes to have on hand include hard-boiled eggs, cold cut, hot dogs and hamburger meat, ice cream, cheese, fresh fruits, and crunchy raw vegetables.

For health-giving drinks, provide lots of milk and a variety of juices such as apple, prune, grape, tomato, orange, and grapefruit.

State Secretary's Office Concerned Only With Law

The secretary of state's office has no authority to look into the background of directors and incorporators of new corporations when state charters are filed, a state official says.

"Our only function is to determine whether the instrument filed conforms to state law," Assistant Secretary of State W. O. Bowers said Friday.

"Ours is an administrative act," he said. "We have no authority to look into the background of any director or incorporator."

Bowers made the statement in reply to questions after the office of the secretary of state announced it had issued a charter to a new corporation of which former Pecos promoter Billie Sol Estes was listed as a director.

The corporation was named the "International Love and Good Will Corporation." It will be headquartered in Abilene.

According to the charter, the corporation was formed "to obtain members who are interested in bettering the economic welfare of underprivileged persons; to obtain by subscription, gift or other legal manner, funds to be used to carry out the purpose of the corporation."

Estes currently is appealing both state and federal convictions stemming from collapse of his financial-agricultural empire last year.

SCHOOLS OPEN
WATCH OUT FOR CHILDREN

A FEW years ago down in East Texas, your writer owned a country newspaper, and a few days before school started, we printed these lines, and we would like to print them all over again here for the parents who will see their young sons answer the school bell for the first time this year: "My son starts to school in a few days. It's all going to be strange and new to him for a time and I wish you would sort of treat him gently world. You see, up to now, he's been king of the roost. He's been boss of the backyard. I have always been around to repair his wounds and I've been handy to soothe his feelings. But now . . . things are going to be different. Tomorrow morning he's going to walk down the front steps, wave his hand, and start on his great adventure that will probably include wars and tragedy and sorrow. To live his life in the world he has to live in, will require faith and love and courage. So world, I wish you would sort of take him by the hand and teach him the things he will have to know. Teach him, but gently if you can. He will have to learn, I know, that all men are not just, that all men are not true. Some are unkind with their actions and their remarks. Teach him that for every sham and scoundrel, there is a hero—that for every crooked politician there is a dedicated leader. Teach him that for every enemy there is a friend. Let him learn early that the bullies are the easiest people to lick. Teach him the wonders of books. Give him quiet time to ponder the eternal mysterious of birds in the skies, bees in the sun, and flowers on a green hill. Teach him that it is far more honorable to fail than to cheat. Teach him to have faith in his own ideas, even if everyone tells him they are wrong. Try to give my son the strength not to follow the crowd when everyone is getting on the bandwagon. Teach him to listen to all men—but to filter all he hears on a screen of truth and take only the good that comes through. Teach him to sell his brawn and brains to the highest bidder, but never to put a price tag on his heart and soul. Teach him to close his ears on a howling mob—and to fight if he thinks he is right. Teach him gently, world, but don't coddle him, because only the test of fire makes fine steel. This is a big order, world, but see what you can do. He's such a nice little fellow, my son."

I OPENED the newspaper office at just before six a.m. Monday morning and resting besides the door was a nice watermelon. After getting the building aired out I strolled down the back alley to the postoffice. Out in front of GLENN BROWN'S store was another watermelon. I glanced down the street and spotted another in front of THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK. It suddenly dawned on me who the friend was who left those three melons scattered around like the Easter Bunny places his eggs. He is a fellow who rises early like both of us used to up there on the blackland. He runs from publicity, so we will keep his identity to ourselves. Anyway, it's real nice to know he has not deserted his raising—he still works long hours and so do we. But it's still wonderful to be able to live in this great country our fathers and mothers of the Old Frontier made so secure for us. And we will soon be rid of the boondoggling bunch up there in Washington whose regard for tax money amounts to no more than a hill of beans. This country has weathered the storms and scandals of the HARDINGS and ROOSEVELTS and it will do it again. Just two more battles to go—one at the ballot box in '64 and the other to chase the Reds out of Cuba. There is not a county judge in America who couldn't do a better job up there on the Potomac than what is being done there now.

Milam-coached teams have won 98 games in 14 years. He'd like to get No. 100 sometime real quick, but with such foes as Merkel, Big Lake, Coahoma, Seagraves, Crane and McCamey on the schedule victories may be well scattered for the Bisons this fall.

The Buffs will scrimmage here with Roscoe Saturday evening at 6 p.m.

I am delighted to report that I passed the examination at the University of Houston for the Institute Chamber Management Course I took in July. I had been "sweating it out" so to speak, ever since I took the exam and I did a little "jig for joy" when I was notified that I am eligible to attend the second year next summer.

Jack Springer WTCC Executive Vice President

Jack G. Springer, general manager of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce, Thursday was elected executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The Galveston man was recommended for the position by a personnel selection committee headed by W. H. (Bill) Collyns of Midland. Other members of the panel are Beeman Fisher, Fort Worth; Ben Barbee, Abilene; J. Carter King, Albany; and Jim Ferguson, Decatur.

Springer, who has been manager of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce the last two and one-half years, will assume his new position in the organization's headquarters office in Abilene on October 1. He plans to spend ten days in Abilene in mid-September, working with Husbands who plans to relinquish his duties September 30.

Springer was interviewed by the selection committee at a meeting in Abilene August 14.

He is married and has four daughters.

merce has announced the appointment of Jack C. Springer as Executive Vice President of that organization to succeed Fred Husbands, who is leaving to take another position. In a recent letter from Mr. Husbands, he expressed his appreciation to Martin County and the Chamber for its cooperation with him in the past. We wish good luck to Mr. Springer in the future.

Received the following letter from Senator John G. Tower. Quote: "Martin County Chamber of Commerce, Dear Sirs: Thank you for your wire of July 30 urging favorable action on S. 1703, which provides for a one year extension of the Mexican Farm Labor Program under P. L. 78. While Texas farmers have succeeded in reducing their requirements for these workers to a great extent, there remains a need for a program that permits the employment of Mexican Nationals under reasonable conditions. For this reason I will give careful consideration to proposals for the extension of this program. "Please convey my regards to all members of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce."

The tight skirts of prejudice shorten the steps of progress.

Bye, now.

New Food Invades Kitchen

What's bringing about a big change in American eating habits?

A willingness to try new dishes and new foods, says Richard Rosen, cookbook publisher. Rosen, who has just completed a detailed analysis of the changing tastes of Americans as reflected in the sales of his different cookbooks, says: "The American housewife and her family have an adventurous spirit about many new dishes and foods they'd never have considered not too long ago."

They're pretty sophisticated about it, too. Italian-style cooking, for example, has gone beyond spaghetti and meatballs to snails Romano and veal piccata.

Spices: There's a lot of experimentation going on in American kitchens, he says.

And relatively unknown vegetable are being tackled with zest. For one, there's the leek. Long popular in Europe, five years ago it has no following here. Yet a Swiss recipe for creak of leek soup mix, introduced into U. S. supermarkets a few years ago, is a best-seller today.

In fact, Rosen notes, "this country is rapidly turning from solely a broiled meat and fried potatoes diet to a soup, sauce and salad diet."
