Many of men high in the confidence and counsel of the late PRESIDENT KENNEDY will leave the new administration of LYNDON JOHNSON as soon as an orderly transition period passes. Certainly, a large number of old friends and classmates in college with the late MR. KENNEDY will not stick around. They were there in the first place because of the warm, personal ties with the late President. LYNDON JOHNSON has already started surrounding himself with Texans — as a sectional man — most of his camp followers live in the Lone Star State. It is therefore natural that he summon many of his cronies of the political wars to Washington from his native state. A youthful newspaper reporter from Marshall, Texas, BILL MOYER, has already been standing warmly by the new President's side. Talk went out this week that HOMER THORNBERRY, set to take a federal district judge's appointment late next month in Texas, will perhaps be given a prominent post in the LBJ administration.

WILLIAM McKINLEY was last President to be shot in office before the assassination of PRESIDENT KENNEDY last week in Dallas. McKINLEY was felled by a bullet from a gun triggered by an anarchist named LEON CZOLGOSZ at a public reception in Buffalo, N. Y. on September 6, 1901. He died on September 14. He was the 25th president.

Youthful JOE V. REYNOLDS, son of our neighbors, MR. and MRS. JOE REYNOLDS, observed his birthday on November 12. His parents advised him that the date was also the editor's birthday. JOE VERNON spoke up promptly and said: "I'm as old as MR. ESTES." LITTLE JOE V. possibly had a point in his agile mind we can't understand but if he holds to his opinion he will be the youngest lad in the country eligible for a pension a long time before he is 21. By-the-way, JOE V. when your parents read this paragraph to you, and I know they will, for you are only three, I want you to know that the birthday cake was greatly appreciated.

Friends of DUB WEATHERFORD will be pleased to know that he has apparently recovered from his near brush with death recently, when a tire he was repairing exploded. DUB, former city officer, can certainly say an amen to the old adage that man who lives right will live long. The genial gentleman really had a close call.

Students of history have revealed the fact that all past presidents elected in years ending in 0 have all died in office. KENNEDY was first elected in 1960. FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT, was chosen in 1940 and died before the end of his term; HARDING, elected in 1920 died in office. And McKINLEY, elected in 1900 was slain in 1901 in office.

The fire alarm sounded Tuesday and MRS. NELL WHITE'S home in the Courtney community was completely destroyed by fire as a result of the first blaze. We have been advised that MRS. WHITE manage to save a few wearables, but the household goods were consumed in the blaze. It's tough to lose personal things in a fire anytime but a damaging fire before a holiday — in this case Thanksgiving — is really a tragedy. (Continued on page 8)

President's Death Dulls National Day

People Pause For Prayful Thanksgiving

Stanton and Martin County residents will join a gripped nation in observing Thanksgiving Day here Thursday.

The country lost an illustrious leader by assassination on Friday last. The death of President Kennedy has been deeply mourned and sincerely felt by all Americans in all the fifty states of the union. Thursday will be observed as the traditional Thanksgiving, because President Kennedy left a legacy to the people of many things for Americans to be thankful for. He would want the country, under a new President and his family and his friends to carry on.

Stanton and other county business houses will be closed Thursday. In addition to the closing of the commercial establishments, the post office, bank, and all county, city, and federal offices will also be closed for Thanksgiving Day.

The post office windows will be closed and there will be no rural mail delivery, but mail will be put up as usual in the boxes.

Martin County school children are receiving a two-day holiday in observance of Thanksgiving. Stanton Elementary School, Stanton High School, Courtney School and Grady School closed Wednesday afternoon for the holidays. Classes will be resumed at the regular time Monday.

Stanton churches held a community-wide Thanksgiving service Wednesday night at the First Baptist Church. Speaker was Rev. C. R. Lemon, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Bob Priddy, First Baptist's minister of music and education, was in charge of the special music.

So local citizens are pausing for a day to give thanks for the many blessings they have received during the past year, and for the bountiful harvest.

Many Stanton and Martin County citizens will be gathering with their families and friends in local homes for the traditional Thanksgiving feast and family get-together, while others are traveling out of town and out of state to be with loved ones for the annual observance.

An election suit is now pending the date setting in District Court here as a result of circumstances surrounding the special election held in Stanton on September 10.

Mrs. Haggard died unexpectedly Monday at 11:05 a.m. in the local hospital, where she had been under treatment for the past two weeks. She had made such good progress that she was due to be discharged when a sudden heart attack claimed her life.

Mrs. Haggard was born December 31, 1893 at Little Elm in Denton County. She came to Martin County in 1924 from Denton County and lived in the Flower Grove and Lenora communities until moving to Stanton in 1953.

She was married to Norvell G. Haggard in Denton, January 2, 1911, and he died last March 31.

Mrs. Haggard was past president of the Stanton Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. (Continued on page 8)

J. F. K.

Our President is dead, and as a people we all are bowed in grief and respect. But we are thankful that in the unity of this common grief we can say to our new President and to each other: Long Live our President.

Our city, state and nation, indeed the whole free world, was shocked and saddened by the death Friday of President John F. Kennedy. The circumstances were such as to numb the senses of all decent minded men and women. A slinking coward, identified before his death at the hands of another demented thug, as a left-winger and admirer of Soviet Communism and Red Dictator Fidel Castro of Cuba, cold-bloodedly assassinated the man who in person and position had stood in the breach as chief leader of the forces of freedom against the Communist conspiracy to subjugate the world.

We people of Texas are more deeply saddened because this tragedy occurred while our distinguished President was visiting in our state. Texans often have been divided in their views of some of his policies and programs, but there has been no division in our respect for him as our President and as a dedicated American.

In war, Mr. Kennedy fought in the Pacific for the preservation of freedom for the land he loved and returned to America with the scars of battle earned in defense of the high principles of democratic freedom, which includes the right to disagree. Many of us have disagreed with the President's position on many things all in the interest of individual freedom and national safety; but we have stood behind the President and he has had our admiration and respect in the great essentials of love of country, our homes, our churches and our God.

We spoke out in admiration and praise and urged all Texans to give the fullest support when President Kennedy stood up to Communist Khrushchev in the Berlin and Cuban crises. We now call attention to the fact that President Kennedy, an international hero, has died on the firing line of the cold war in his country's need.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy was a patriot. He was a devoted family man. Under the heavy duties and great stress of his office, he often was shown as watching his children at play and giving them his personal attention and interest. He always insisted that Mrs. Kennedy accompany him on his journeys, near and far, and he rested and vacationed with his family when opportunity presented.

Mr. Kennedy was an active and dedicated churchman. He was loyal to his church in attendance and worship even under the intense pressure and demands of his high office. He stood foursquare for Christian unity.

While we all are deeply grieved, history waits for no man and vigilance calls us to duty. The example we need is before us in the courageous action of Mrs. Kennedy who, though numbed in grief at her great loss, stood in blood-stained clothing beside Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson as he was administered the oath as President. We witnessed the splendid courage of Mrs. Kennedy again at the funeral of her beloved husband and saw, along with the world, how tenderly she comforted the children and so sadly said a final goodbye to John Fitzgerald Kennedy in death.

President Johnson is literally a man on the spot in the hall of history. Seldom does a national or world leader have duty so suddenly thrust upon him. Never has a new president faced more trying and difficult problems, with our nation infiltrated and the whole world on the brink of flame from the Communist world conspiracy.

As the wheels of our American government and leadership begin to roll under the direction of our new President, it behooves all of us as patriotic citizens to unite behind Mr. Johnson and give him the support and understanding he must have in order to lead our nation firmly and effectively. We, therefore pledge to President Johnson here and now our help in all ways we may be able to serve the course of freedom and national safety and peace in the world. Long live our President.

—Neal Estes

GOV. JOHN CONNALLY
Texas Governor John Connally, shot by the same assassin who murdered President Kennedy in Dallas last Friday, is reported recovering from wounds suffered from the crazed sniper's bullets struck him in the chest, arm and leg. Connally is in a Dallas hospital and is being guarded by Texas Highway Patrolmen 24 hours around the clock.

Martin Highway Contract Let

A contract for 10.00 miles of construction on FM 829 in Martin County has been awarded to a Corpus Christi firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission. South Texas Construction Company submitted the low bid of $101,821 on the project. Grading, structures, base and surfacing from FM 87 southeast, 4.7 miles north of US 80 is expected to take 120 working days, according to Archie J. Sherrod, District Highway Engineer at Odessa. G. T. Orenbaum, Resident Engineer at Midland will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

President Kennedy Murdered In Dallas

A sniper shot and killed President John F. Kennedy on the streets of Dallas Friday and seriously wounded Texas Gov. John Connally.

Within two hours, Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as the nation's 36th President inside the presidential plane before departing for Washington Friday afternoon.

The President died in a sixth-floor surgery room at Parkland Hospital at 1 p.m., about 40 minutes after the assassin had sent a Mouser 7.62 bullet smashing into his head as the presidential auto turned into Triple Underpass. The President's body was flown to Washington Friday afternoon.

Police arrested a 24-year-old suspect who has a pro-Communist background. His name was listed as Lee Harvey Oswald. He is also accused of killing a police officer who tried to arrest him.

FRIENDLY CROWD CHEERED KENNEDY

Shockingly, the President was shot after driving the length of Main Street through a crowd termed as the largest and friendliest of his 2-day Texas visit. It was a good-natured crowd that surged out from the curbs almost against the swiftly moving presidential car. The protective bubble had been removed from the official convertible.

Mrs. Connally, who occupied one of the two jump seats in the car, said Mrs. Kennedy had turned to the President a few moments before and remarked, "You can't say Dallas wasn't friendly to you."

At Fort Worth, Kennedy had just delivered one of the most successful speeches of his career, and he was on his way to the Merchandise Mart to speak to 2,500 at a luncheon arranged by Dallas civic leaders. He looked tanned, happy and buoyant as the car turned into the approach to the underpass.

ASSASSIN FIRES 3 SHOTS INTO CAR

At that moment the murderer, lurking on the fifth floor of the nearby Texas School Book Depository, pressed the trigger.

He fired at least three carefully measured shots into the car. Kennedy had just turned to grin and wave to some spectators beside the road.

"He was waving," said Charles Brehm, 38, who was standing 15 feet away, "and the first shot hit him, and that awful look crossed his face."

Shot through the head, the President fell back across the rear seat of the car. Mrs. Kennedy screamed and then softly crying, "Oh, no," moved over to cradle his bloody head.

Another bullet had caught Gov. Connally in the back beneath the shoulder blade. He slumped to the floor, and Mrs. (Continued on page 8)

Merchants Ready For Dollar Day

Stanton merchants are ready for one of the largest Dollar Day festivals in the history of the special day event. Monday, December 2, will be the last Dollar Day of the 1963 year. It will also be your last opportunity to stock up on Dollar Day specials before Christmas. Area shoppers have learned there are some mighty good bargains in Stanton and that the lines and quality of merchandise carried in local counties. (Continued on page 8)

Philosopher Envys Congress' Ability To Go Above Debt Ceiling Without Raising It

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw admires a feat of Congress, his letter this week reveals.)

Dear editor:

Trying to live within your budget is a problem I guess 95 per cent of the people struggle with; it doesn't make any difference how much money a man makes, his family or his government can always think of some place to put it. In fact, I know a man who has several sources of income and a neighbor was admiring his situation and said, "Man you've got it made, you've got money coming in from three or four directions," and he answered, "Yeah, and for every place it's coming in, there are two places where it's going out."

I got to thinking about this when I read an article in a newspaper last night saying Congress has raised the national debt ceiling again, and I have often wondered why I can't arrange such a system myself.

Here's the way it works: actually, the debt ceiling is 285 billion dollars. When we get that far in debt, the law says hold on, you can't go any further. But every year along about this time the government runs out of money and Congress has to raise the ceiling so it can pay its bills.

Well, it doesn't actually raise it, what it does is say, look, let's keep the ceiling where it is permanently, but temporarily let's raise it a little. Over the last 15 years the ceiling has been oooched up to where it's now 309 billion, but the other day they had to add on another 6 billion, to bring it up to 315 billion.

You might say, if it's going to take a 315 billion dollar ceiling, why not just vote to put it there, but you don't understand. Everybody runs for office on a platform of economy, and no economy-minded Congressman is going to vote to increase the national debt, even though they do every session. This may sound like Congress' trying to vote that some movie actress' age shall forever remain 36, but that's because you don't understand national finance.

I'm not saying the ceiling is too high, I don't know how high the nation can stand for it to go, it's a pretty wealthy country, although I think maybe we could cut down somewhere, except the cut ought to be in some other part of the country, not around here. Any right-thinking person knows the place to cut the national debt is in New Mexico, not in Texas.

At any rate, I wouldn't mind living within my budget permanently if I could just find some way to raise it temporarily every few months for the next 15 or 20 years.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bible Comment— Those Who Know Jesus Can Feel His Presence

It was the Saviour of Men, the redeemer, that Jesus fulfilled His earthly mission.

But the Gospels reveal on almost every page how the Saviour of Men was also teacher, healer and friend.

Jesus was also the great Sympathizer, entering into the joys and sorrow of life, weeping with those who wept, but sharing the joys of a wedding feast.

He freely accepted hospitality and mingle with men, especially with the common people "who heard Him gladly."

We call Him the "Man of Sorrows," and it befits one who bore the world's sins and invited the heavily laden to come to Him for rest.

But back of the sorrow and tragedy of the sin that crucified Him, was One who was neither recluse nor ascetic.

He is not only our Saviour, but also our Friend. He called His disciples "friends," and He is the friend of all who would be His disciples.

This continuing Presence and Friendship of Jesus is not a myth nor an emotional illusion.

Nothing is more sure than that thousands have felt, and feel the reality of that spiritual Presence.

It brings into daily life and experience the warmth and tenderness the faith and hope, the uplifting work that helped and inspired and blessed those who met the Master in His earthly life.

But if one would have that experience of the present Christ today, one must know that Master in his earthly life.

And one sure way of knowing Christ is by reading the New Testament, and especially the four Gospels.

JFK's Accused Slayer Shot Down In Dallas

Gunfire continued to crack in Dallas Sunday with Lee Harvey Oswald, accused slayer of President Kennedy, dying from the result of a single shot fired by a partly crazed night club owner.

Jack Rubenstein, alias Ruby, 53, bachelor owner of a downtown Dallas strip-tease dump located just across the street from the Adolphus Hotel, killed Oswald in the basement of the Dallas police station while television cameras ground out the scene. The joint owned by Rubenstein once featured Candy Barr, recently released from the Texas penitentiary, after serving a portion of a 15-year term for narcotics law violation.

Ruby, alias Rubenstein, worked his way into the confidence of the Dallas police and then sneaked out a pistol and with more than 200 witnesses looking on, sent a single pistol bullet into Oswald's left side below the chest.

Oswald was cut down at 11:20 a.m. while being taken from City Hall detention quarters to a permanent maximum security cell in the Dallas County jail, there to await trial for Kennedy' assassination. An armored car was standing by for the transfer.

Oswald was taken to Parkland Hospital, and died there in a room a few feet from where the President expired after being shot by an assassin.

The fresh blood-letting in Dallas aroused an immediate storm of comment and speculation.

In Washington, D. C., President Lyndon Johnson ordered the FBI to make a full investigation of the Oswald shooting.

Kittens Win Over Sands

The Garden City girls won their fourth basketball game in six starts by defeating Sands, 48-33, in Garden City Tuesday night.

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

The end of the 1963 football season is at hand for all except the post-season and bowl game players, and thousands of young athletes are soon to be released from rigorous training schedules.

Will they end their training with the season? Or will they make their training regimen a pattern for daily living?

Obviously, the football players who windup the season cannot be expected to keep up the daily hard training grind on their own initiative. But they can be aware of what happens if they suddenly break off exercise and return to a completely sedentary existence for the winter months.

In a commnt issued jointly by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations and the committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports of the American Medical Association, the experts point out that a year-round program of physical conditioning should be advocated for all those interested in athletics. Maintaining strength, endurance and agility makes possible high performance levels and protection against injury. It also reduces the necessity of the trying, early season period of crash-conditioning.

Of course, in many smaller schools some the football players will promptly begin playing basketball at the end of the grid season and their continued training is automatic.

The others can help to keep themselves in shape by regular workouts in the school gym, by handball or squash and other indoor winter sports that require considerable activity.

Many football players who halt training abruptly find they are immediately confronted with a sharp increase in weight. This is because they continue the heavy calorie diet consumed during the football season. Regular exercise will help to control weight while tapering off somewhat on the training diet.

A training schedule is actually a comprehensive health education program, covering principles of personal hygiene, first aid, medical and dental care, rest and exercise, communicable disease control, environmental hazards and preventive procedures. These principles are a sound basis for a life-time "way of life" as well as good preparation for the next football season.

Can't get a worm out of your worm box? Well, keep the box upside down and turn it over when you need one. The little rascals will all be where you want 'em.

Questions And Answers

Q—My husband was recently discharged from a VA hospital because of what the hospital said was "MHB." What does this mean?

A—The letters stand for "Maximum Hospital Benefit." This means that hospital officials believe that the patient's condition has improved to the point that additional time in the hospital would bring about no further improvement.

Q—When I enter a VA hospital next month, may I continue to draw my disability pension?

A—Veterans with dependents will not have their disability pensions reduced while in a VA hospital. Veterans without dependents who draw their pension under Public Law 211 will have it adjusted to $30 per month at the end of the second full calendar month of hospitalization. At their discharge from the hospital the full pension will be resumed. Veterans without dependents who draw their pension under the Old Pension Law will have it reduced at the end of six months to 50 percent or $30 whichever is the greater amount. The full amount will be resumed upon discharge from the hospital. Payments of amounts withheld under the Old Pension Law may be made on termination of hospitalization.

Q—Can a veteran obtain a GI loan to buy a home in Mexico?

A—No. The property must be located in the United States, its territories or possessions.

Boone, Iowa, News-Republican: "A newspaper is a private enterprise dedicated to the public good. A good newspaper must show a profit. In some countries the newspapers are the instruments of the government, but not so in the United States. That is what is meant by freedom of the press. In this country newspapers are free to express themselves without fear of government retaliation."

Now-'64 Chevy II...

Chery II Nova 4-Door Sedan

with a V8 engine

Now you see it. Now you don't. When a Chevy II does that kind of disappearing act you know without looking twice: It's a '64 with a V8 engine.

That's right. A full-grown 195-hp Turbo-Fire V8.* It's available for the first time this year along with a choice of three other engines—the standard 4 (in 100 Series sedans), the standard 6 and a new 155-hp 6.* (And all of them maintain their high spirits on modest amounts of regular gasoline.)

But the changes aren't confined to what happens when you slip into the driver's seat.

There are new styling features like the tasteful grille design and trim accents, for instance. And the larger self-adjusting brakes that further reduce upkeep on a car that already has a reputation of coming about as close to perpetual motion as anything on four wheels can get.

The place to get the full details on the '64 is your Chevrolet dealer's. And after you've got them, we hope you'll attend to one further detail yourself. Drive it.

Christmas Lights To Be Turned On Dec. 2

Few can deny that the full festive holiday season will be inaugurated here Monday evening, December 2, when Yuletide lights will be turned on.

A special crew from the Texas Electric Service Company started placing the multi-colored light strings in place a few weeks ago.

And again this year the courthouse will be made the most beautiful spot in the holiday theme by being trimmed with colorful lights and scenes.

In recent years, residents from Odessa, Midland, Lamesa, Garden City, Sterling City, Big Spring, and other area cities and towns drove to Stanton to see the decorations and it is the hope of those in charge of making the Yuletide picture attractive to young and old here that this year's attraction will be as good or better than those prepared in the past.

The lights will be up in plenty of time to give the area a pre-Santa Claus tint. The jolly man in the red suit with the little round belly that "shakes when he laughs like a bowl full of jelly," is really anticipating a Martin County visit.

And with warm, glowing holiday lights swinging from the streets and other appropriate decorations in evidence his visit here should be highly successful. Although the lights will not be burning when Santa comes to town, he will be very proud to know that this community will be well lighted on Christmas Eve when he starts sliding down Stanton chimneys and walking softly through unlocked doors to leave presents for the children.

Fire Destroys Mrs. White's Residence

Fire completely destroyed the residence of Mrs. Nell White in the Courtney community Tuesday morning. The cause of the fire was undetermined.

The Stanton Volunteer Fire Department answered the alarm. Fire chief, Bob Baslip, stated that the fire was beyond control and that the house was completely burned by the time the fire department reached the scene.

Mrs. White and her daughter, Myrtle Lynn, were making plans to move into a house adjacent to the destroyed one, but they had not started moving their belongings.

Could be your handgun holds nice and steady in your hand with just the barest amount of pressure to keep it there. That's the way the book says it should act. But sometimes the doggone grip slips and slides all over the place . . . enough anyway to drop your score into the amateur division. Try this tip: Use the same resinous compound bowlers and pool players use on their hands. A small amount rubbed in five or so minutes before shooting gives just the right feel and your gun hugs your hand.

Recipies

SPICY SAUSAGE APPETIZERS MAKES 3 1/2 DOZEN

1 cup pancake mix
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
3/4 cup cold water
3 - 4-ounce cans Vienna sausage
Barbecue sauce.
Combine pancake mix and parsley in bowl. Add water and beat with rotary beater until smooth, about 2 minutes.

Cut each Vienna sausage in half to make pieces about 1-inch long. Dip into batter holding with kitchen fork or tongs. Drain off excess batter. Fry in hot deep fat (375-degrees) 2 to 3 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper.
Insert toothpicks. Serve hot with barbecue sauce.

CHILI WITH MEAT BALLS (6 Servings)

1 pound ground lean beef
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg, lightly beaten
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons chili powder
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1/4 cup tomato juice or milk
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
3 to 4 teaspoons chili powder
1 teaspoon crumbled whole oregano leaves
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
1 pound can red kidney beans
5 cups hot cooked rice
Combine first 8 ingredients. Shape into balls. Brown on all sides in hot shortening. Remove meat balls. Add onion flakes, green pepper, chili powder, oregano leaves and cook until peppers are limp. Add black pepper, garlic powder, tomato sauce and red kidney beans. Cook 5 minutes until thickened. Add meat balls. Heat and serve over hot cooked rice.

PAN FRIED FILET OF BEEF SANDWICH

8 slices sandwich bread, toasted
Butter or margarine
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 clove garlic, minced
Four 4-ounce serving beef tenderloin
Salt
Pepper
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 lb. fresh mushroom, sliced
1/4 cup sherry
3/4 cup water
Spread toast with butter or margarine. For each sandwich, cut 2 pieces toast into diagonal strips and place on platter. Melt 1/4 cup butter or margarine in skillet. Add garlic and cook for 2 or 3 minutes. Add tenderloin, season with salt and pepper, and brown well on both sides (about 10 minutes). Reduce heat and add 3/4 cup sherry. Cover and cook. Remove tenderloin and reserve pan drippings. Then add the mushrooms, sherry and water to drippings in skillet. Cook about 5 minutes to allow flavors to blend. Arrange tenderloin on toast and spoon hot sauce over sandwich. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Chamber Chatter

By MAURYNE VARNADORE

The events of the past week end surrounding the assassination of President Kennedy have shocked and astounded the decent citizens of our country and the world. Although there are those who did not always agree with the President on political issues, the fact remains that he was a morally good man and a courageous man. He had the courage to stand for his convictions in the face of tremendous opposition, and work toward his goal of peace for all men. Mrs. Kennedy is certainly to be admired for her conduct throughout the past days. Her composure and self-control never seemed to falter under the difficult burden placed upon her and her family. Our sympathy goes out to her and the family of President Kennedy.

The director's meeting scheduled for Monday, November 25, was cancelled. A called meeting will be held at a later date.

Christmas lights are due to be lighted on Monday, December 2. Texas Electric Service have completed hanging the strings of lights and everything is ready. Bob Deavenport, chairman of the Christmas Committee, will announce when Santa will be here. The details are not available at this time.

Thanksgiving Turkey

The best part of Thanksgiving is the big dinner — stuffing, cranberries, pumpkin pie and the turkey.

Family and friends set around the table, express their thanks for the bountiful food, and the head of the family carves the turkey — white meat from the broad breast and big, tender slabs of dark meat — all sliced liberally, enough for all, and covered with giblet gravy. There is no bickering from either end of the table — there is enough to go around — with sandwiches and turkey hash for the rest of the week.

So it is with us, a fine, fat turkey is being carved in Martin County every day, and there is enough for all.

And we got there by pooling our energies, by striking in unison, by coordinating our efforts — by accord on all those things which are good for our county.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Bye, now.

Xi Alpha Beta To Serve Meal Saturday Night

Let's Be Thankful

This Thanksgiving Day will find all Americans sad in knowledge that our President will not be here this year to lead our Thanksgiving ceremonies or issue our national proclamation. But we must go on. We will go on. As Americans we are thankful in heart for many blessings that affect the fortunes and lives of all of us.

We are thankful for national abundance of crops, livestock and factory output. Free men, working under an incentive system which we call free enterprise, invest willingly and work diligently, and our increase from God-given raw material plus capital and labor makes us the envy of all peoples everywhere.

We are thankful that the rights of individual working men, too long subjected to union overlordship and dictation and other meddling and life-mind tactics is destined to be returned to our nation.

We are thankful that freedom of worship, as enunciated in the Constitution, is being recognized by more and more Americans as implying an equal spiritual responsibility to worship our Creator. It is a reassuring sign to see churches growing numbers and strength, and building the spiritual foundation upon which all true human progress must be measured.

We are thankful to family, to associates, and to friends of like mind and faith who reassure us when in doubt and indecision and who boost our courage to fight the battle against ignorance and greed that have always blocked man's progress toward peace and plenty.

First, and last, we are thankful to God from whom all blessings flow—who gives us life, if we will have it; and who gives us freedom, if we will keep it; and whose son Jesus taught patriotic allegiance to country in the same breath with spiritual allegiance to God the Father.

Our guests of honor did not arrive.

A "Texas Welcome Dinner" in Austin, honoring President and Mrs. Kennedy and Vice President and Mrs. Johnson, was cancelled.

President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas during the noon hour Friday, just a few hours before he was to be the guest of 3,000 Democrats of Texas at one of the largest honor banquets ever held in the Lone Star State.

He died of bullet wounds received while in a motorcade enroute to a speaking engagement at the Dallas Mart.

Also shot by the sniper and seriously injured was Texas Governor, John Connally, who was riding with the President.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, in keeping with customary security measures, was in another car. He was unharmed.

It was a bright, sunny day, suddenly turned into darkness and gloom . . . not just in Dallas and Austin, but throughout the world. Unquestionably it was the blackest day in Texas history.

Thousands of persons, including Texas legislators, heard the news enroute to Austin. Many continued their journeys to the capital . . . a city paralyzed by the shocking events. Hundreds joined the legislators in memorial services in the House of Representatives.

It was a sad ending to an even sadder day.

CONNALLY RECOVERING — First encouraging news to reach the capital following the murderous attack on the president and governor was word that the operation on Connally was successful. However, he is expected to be hospitalized for at least 10 days.

JOHNSON ASSUMES PRESIDENCY — Within a few hours after President Kennedy's assassination, Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as president.

EXPENDITURES APPROVED — Legislative Budget Board approved plans for a $1,000,000 conference center at the University of Texas. Governor Connally had vetoed the appropriations item because they placed "bricks over brains."

Board also authorized expenditures of $253,000 by the Parks and Wildlife Commission. Of this $49,500 will go for conversion of Port Lavaca causeway into a fishing pier.

House Speaker Byron Tunnell, a member of the board, President Bryant Wildenthal for buying a $65,000 electronic computer after the legislature turned down the purchase. Tunnell asked the comptroller not to pay the bill and said he thought a legislature investigation is in order.

SEEKS IMPORT CURB — A law to back up the State Highway Commission Order (voided by the courts) to curb use of steel imports on state projects has been proposed by a legislative committee.

Supreme Court has held that the 1960 "Buy America" order infringes on state law requiring competitive bidding.

TEXAS TAXES HIGH — People who think they are paying high state property and sales taxes will be interested to know they are! A study of state financing by the Legislative Budget Board reveals that the state tax burden in Texas is heavier than the national average.

A 10-year view of tax burdens — the term statisticians use to describe state taxes as a percentage of total personal income — shows Texans' "tax burden" has risen above the average for the first time.

Texas contributed only 3.7 per cent of their total income to help run the state in 1952, when the average U. S. citizen chipped in 3.9 per cent to his state.

Last year, the average Texan paid 4.9 per cent of his income for state taxes, while the average in other states doled out only 4.7 per cent.

States taxes are climbing upward all over the country, but in Texas the climb has been quicker than in other states.

Forsan Wins Sixth In Row

The Forsan girls won their sixth straight basketball decision, turning back Flower Grove, 59-39, at Flower Grove Tuesday night. No B game was played.

The Buffalo Queens were firmly in command at half time and coach James Blake saw fit to start his freshmen girls.

Judie Dodd led Forsan in scoring with 24 points. Patsy Gooch, Judy Hughes, Susan Elrod, Pam McKinnon and Ann Rutherford were outstanding on defense for Forsan.

Forsan (59) — Conger 9-0-18; Dodd 12-0-24; Lawson 1-3-3; Rister 2-1-5; Simpson 2-2-6; Prescott 0-1-1; Conway 1-0-2. Totals 27-5-59.

Flower Grove (39) — Haggard 8-4-20; Massengale 3-1-7; Prybyla 3-6-12. Totals 14-11-39.

Score by quarters:
Forsan 11 21 8 19-59

Thadd Koonce Performs At Music Seminar

Thadd Koonce, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Koonce, Star Route, Stanton, recently performed in a music seminar featuring 11 students at Graceland College, Lamoni, Iowa. Mr. Koonce, a vocalist, is a junior in the General College curriculum.

Graceland College is sponsored by the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints with world headquarters in Independence, Missouri.

This is due partly, because the average Texan's income has not risen as fast as his taxes, or as fast as the average income.

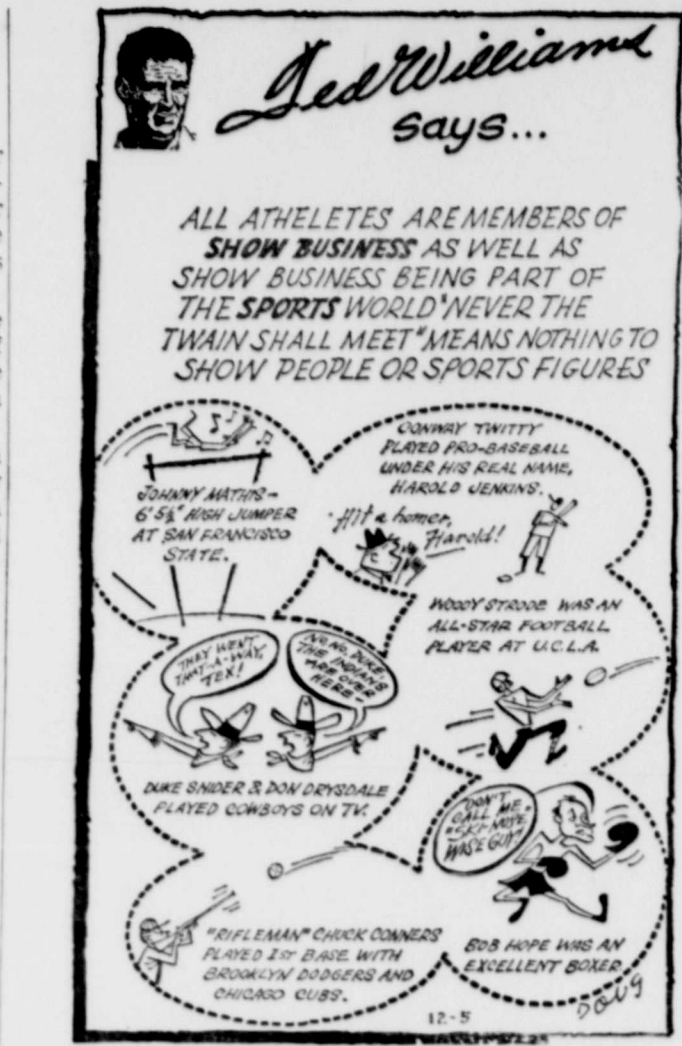

In 1949, average per-person income of Texas was 92.8 per cent of the national average. It was only 85.2 per cent of the national average in 1962.

FREE FOOD GRANTS DECLINE — Distribution of free federal surplus foods by the State Department of Public Safety decreased by more than 2,000 recipients between September, 1962 and September, 1963.

In September of last year 149,694 recipients in 87 counties and five cities were receiving free farm surplus. This year, the September number had dwindled to 147,583 persons in 85 counties and three cities. Navarro County was dropped from the list during the 12-month period, but Bee and Cameron counties were added.

BORDER DISPUTE — Texas and Louisiana officials have agreed to work out the dispute over the boundary line in Sabine Lake soon, according to Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler. The hope is to do it without a lawsuit.

Texas claims that the center line of the lake is the boundary, but Louisiana claims its land extends to the west bank.

Yearbook Of Agriculture

The 1963 Yearbook of Agriculture, entitled "A Place to Live," focuses attention to the many changes occurring in rural areas throughout the country as a result of urbanization.

Gerald F. Vaughn, extension resource development specialist at Texas A&M, says the book has many applications to Texas and Texas conditions and should prove a valuable aid the leaders in keeping abreast of changes.

For example, chapters are included on topics such as: "The Family Farm in Transition," "Farming on the Urban Fringe," "The Small Rural Town," "Water is Always a Critical Factor," "Encouraging Industry in the Country," and many others that are of concern to Texans.

"This is one of the most valuable references on Rural-Urban affairs published to date," Vaughn said.

Copies of the Yearbook, "A Place to Live," may be obtained from your congressman, free of charge, or from the U. S. Government Printing Office for $3.00.

Vice-President Catapulted To Presidency Eight Times

Eight times in American history circumstance has catapulted a vice-president from the relative obscurity of his office into the presidency, the most conspicuous office in the world.

The eighth time occurred Friday after the assassination of President Kennedy. Ninety-nine minutes after Kennedy was pronounced dead, Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as the 36th President of the United States.

Four vice-presidents succeeded to the presidency after assassination of a president and four on the death of a president from natural causes.

The first vice-president in American history to succeed to the presidency upon the death of a chief executive was John Tyler. This occurred after President William Henry Harrison died of pneumonia on April 4, 1841, exactly one month after he had taken office.

His last-recorded words, spoken in half-delirium to Vice-President Tyler, were: "Sir, I wish you to understand the true principles of government, I wish them carried out. I ask nothing more."

Millard Fillmore became the second vice-president to succeed to the presidency. President Zachary Taylor died on July 9, 1850, from a typhus fever attack, aggravated by exposure to the heat, injudicious eating and worry. Fillmore took office the next day as his successor.

Arthur took the presidential oath the day after Garfield's death. Assassination also was responsible for the next such succession. President William McKinley on September 14, 1901, succumbed to bullet wounds inflicted by anarchist Leon Czolgosz eight days earlier in Buffalo. On the same day, Vice-President Theodore Roosevelt sevelt at 42 became the youngest man ever to take the presidential oath.

The Spanish-American War hero went on to become the first succession-by-death chief executive to win a second term by election.

Calvin Coolidge became the sixth vice-president to succeed to the presidency. President Harding, already tired, became ill on a trip back from Alaska and was stricken with pneumonia in San Francisco. On August 2, 1923, he died suddenly.

Early the next day, in his father's house at Plymouth, Vt., Coolidge learned of Harding's death. The oath of office was administered by Coolidge's father, a justice of the peace, and the new president immediately left for Washington.

He completed the term and was elected on his own the next year.

Vice-President Harry S. Truman was the seventh holder of the No. 2 office to move up to No. 1. When President Franklin Delano Roosevelt died April 12, 1945, Truman stepped up to the presidency.

He asked newspaper friends to pray for him. He, too, went on to win a term on his own in 1948.

When Buick builds a LeSabre -- Buick builds a high-priced car, and puts a low price on it.

Lots of cars are in LeSabre's price class, but that's where the resemblance ends. For instance: Does anybody else in LeSabre's class treat you to that gentle Buick ride or impressive Buick performance and new gas economy? No. And who else gives you 15-inch wheels, fanned aluminum front brakes, extra cushioning for middle-seat travelers, and separate heat ducts and controls for the rear seat? Right again: Nobody in LeSabre's field but LeSabre. If all this makes you think a LeSabre would look awfully nice in your garage, you should see how nicely it fits a budget. You know who to see about it, of course: your Buick dealer. Who else? Above all, it's a Buick

It is possible to double the per acre yield and double or triple the returns from cotton and at the same time, maintain a high level of organic matter in the soil, John Box, extension agronomist at Texas A&M, told those attending the Cotton Production Conference this week.

He outlined a program beginning with increased organic matter resulting from higher crop residues. This in turn would result in improved soil physical condition and better control of erosion. Balancing fertility by addition of fertilizer, based on soil test would increase production, giving higher crop residues to complete the cycle.

Cotton Vote Choices Defined

The meaning of a "yes" or a "no" vote in the December 10 referendum on cotton marketing quotas has been explained by W. L. David, Chairman, Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. All farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1963 are eligible to vote in the referendum. The chairman explains the basic program choices as these: First, is at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve of quotas, then the quotas will be in effect for the 1964 upland cotton crop. Also, marketing penalties will apply to any "excess" cotton produced on a farm, and price support at a level within the range of 65 to 90 percent of parity will be available to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments, he says. On the other hand, if more than one-third of the growers who vote oppose the quotas, then there will be quotas and no penalties applicable to the 1964 upland cotton crop. Then price support to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments will be available at 50 percent of parity, as directed by law. Allotments are not affected by the outcome of the ballot, David says. They will remain in effect, whether or not quotas are approved, as a means of determining eligibility for the available price support. David pointed out that while the Secretary of Agriculture is directed by law to proclaim quotas for the next crop when the total cotton supply exceeds normal, it is the growers themselves who decide whether or not quotas shall be used. Allotments for individual farms will be made available to growers prior to the December 10 referendum, the chairman said.

Reports of screwworm infestations in counties that have not had cases all year have prompted screwworm eradication officials to issue a warning to livestock producers. They caution livestockmen that they cannot yet afford to let down their guard against the insect. Failure to prevent development and spread of the livestock pest could cause serious outbreaks in areas that have been screwworm-free so far during 1963, authorities said.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

MARTIN-HOWARD-MIDLAND SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

Terracing has long been accepted as a basic conservation measure. Much effort has gone into the development of different types of terraces for specific purposes and ease of management. With the advent of farm mechanization and use of 4 and 6 row equipment, terrace design had to be changed to avoid point rows and sharp angle on terrace ridges. Parallel terraces offer considerable promise for continued use of terraces, and these terraces permit efficient use of large tillage, cultivation, and harvesting equipment. A complete parallel terrace system cannot be applied to all land, but such a system can usually be applied to part of the land. This eliminates many point rows which are inconvenient to farm in a conventional terrace system. It is seldom possible to have all terraces in a field parallel, but when establishing a terrace system, attention should be given to developing as many parallel terraces as possible within the field. Landowners in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District that need information in designing a parallel terrace system may contact the Soil Conservation Service for assistance.

Thanksgiving Recipes

FAVORITE PUMPKIN PIE

$\frac{2}{5}$ cups sugar
1 tsp. flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt
1 tps. ginger
1 tsp. cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. nutmeg
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. ground cloves
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup unsulphured molasses
2 cups canned pumpkin
3 eggs
1 cup evaporated milk
1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell

Sift together sugar, flour, salt, and spices into mixing bowl. Add molasses, pumpkin, and eggs; mix well. Stir in evaporated milk. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 50 minutes, or until knife inserted in center of filling comes out clean. If desired, garnish with whipped cream.

MOLASSES MINCEMEAT PIE

1 pkg. (9 oz) dehydrated mincemeat
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cups water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup unsulphured molasses
2 medium apples, peeled, cored and finely chopped
Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie

Turn mincemeat into a 2½-quart saucepan; add water and stir until lumps are broken. Stir in molasses and apples. Place over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Boil rapidly one minute. Line pie plate with half the pastry; turn in mincemeat mixture. Top with pastry; flute edges. Cut slits in top of pastry to allow steam to escape. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

PERKY TURKEY CASSEROLE

1 envelope French's white sauce mix
1 cup milk
2 cups cooked diced turkey or chicken
1 can (1 pound) peas, drained
1 can (1 pound) whole cooked onions, drained
1 can (4 ounces) mushrooms, drained
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon rosemary, crushed
1 envelope (4 servings) French's instant mashed potato
Melted butter
Paprika

Combine white sauce mix and milk; heat just to boiling, stirring constantly. In 1½-quart casserole, mix sauce with turkey, peas, onions, mushrooms and rosemary. Heat in a 350 F. oven for 30 minutes. Prepare mashed potatoes according to package directions. Pipe or spoon potatoes on the turkey mixture; drizzle with melted butter, then sprinkle with paprika. Return to oven and bake casserole 10 minutes longer or until delicately browned. Makes four to six servings.

El Dorado, Kan., Times: "Castro's reaction to offers of Red Cross aid in those parts of Cuba which bore the brunt of the hurricane was a savage denunciation of the United States, a wholly unjustified warning against using the disaster as an excuse for invasion. So what do you do with people like that? Leave them strictly alone, is the only answer. Cuba has suffered bad luck in the instance of the storm, but will have to get along on the bounty of its Communist friends. That's the bed Cuba made; it's the bed the island must lie in."

Shelter School Set Dec. 9

A four-day "Shelter Management" school will be held at the Settles Hotel in Big Spring, beginning Monday, December 9, according to civil defense director W. D. Berry. Berry said the school is for shelter managers from Big Spring and area towns. All phases of shelter management will be covered at the school, he said.

The school will be conducted by the Extension Service of Texas A&M. Berry said the state school has a contract with the Defense Department for conducting such schools. "Shelter management courses are being taught across the nation," he said. The local civil defense director said one night of the school would be spent at the Settles in the hotel shelter. Berry said some 30 to 40 civilian defense, military and industrial shelter managers are expected to attend the school. Although primarily designed for shelter managers, the school will be open to interested members of the public, he said.

Subjects to be taught in the school include communications, morale, shift arrangements for sleeping and eating, and other factors which affect shelter life.

Reactions To Oswald Death Differ

The crowd in Dallas milled around the area where a sniper had shot President Kennedy Sunday to watch. It included mourners who had come to pay their respects to the dead President and the curious who had come to see Lee Harvey Oswald enter the nearby county jail. They heard a radio bulletin—Oswald had been shot—and a spontaneous cheer went up. Later, however, after the first emotional shock, there were expressions of regret. "He deserved to die, but he should have been tried and sent to the chair," a black-clad woman observed. "What will the world think of Dallas?" "When is all of this going to end?" her husband asked.

PRESIDENT LYNDON JOHNSON

Lyndon B. Johnson moved into the presidential office of the White House Tuesday and immediately started carrying forward the key foreign and domestic policies of his slain predecessor.

A FEW moments after PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S funeral Monday afternoon, I pressed the button on my car radio and for the first time in three days heard a song sung by a great American vocalist—TENNESSEE ERNIE. He was singing: "HIS eye is on the sparrow and I know HE is watching me." Maybe—certainly—it might do our country good to get our future tv and radio programs geared again and in tune with the music of Our Lord. The late PRESIDENT would want it that way—and we can show our continued admiration for him by insisting that the slush, bunk, propaganda, planted lies, and brain-washing be banished from our nation's communication systems. A long river of limosines brought the nation's mighty to the White House to pay final homage to JFK last week and those riding in the limosines will do well to follow the scriptural advice of DR. L. L. MORRISS, who in his sermon at the First Baptist Church in Midland last week said: "Seek You First the Kingdom of God."

DALLAS is my old home town. Half of the members of my immediate family live up there. Many good people populate Dallas but the solid residents understand fully now that their city was used as a base for a Communist sniper to shoot down the number one man in our nation. The people of Dallas now are aware of the full fact that there is another underworld colony or cell operating in Dallas. That colony of criminals, such as the assassin of the assassin of the last President, is going full blast right in downtown Dallas—right down there on Commerce Street—right across the street from two leading hotels. Such thugs and former Chicago criminal figures as JACK RUBENSTEIN, alias JACK RUBY, are mixed up in this nest of men and women who make their living on the outside of the law. And to drive home another point—it has now been revealed that RUBY, alias RUBENSTEIN, was an apparently intimate terms with many of the policemen in Big D. What is perhaps needed now before the people of Texas and the people of the nation can feel safe on the streets of Dallas is for a complete clean-up—maybe an all-out turnover of the official family in Dallas County. We had a letter from a friend up there Tuesday. It was down right pitiful. The person, like many other persons in Dallas are ashamed, scared, afraid, and they are keeping in, away from the downtown business section. The friend who wrote me from Dallas advised that people necessarily doing business in public places were going about with sealed lips—no extra conversation—no gestures of the friendly, cheery spirit that once belonged to the proud metropolis. It must be kind of like living behind the iron curtain. I don't want to go back until Dallas undergoes a thorough purge—until the Communist cells are cleaned out—until the JACK RUBYS and the LEE OSWALDS are removed from society for all time. I'm sorry for the thousands of good clean, Christian Americans living in Dallas. They are not responsible for the people who should have prevented it at all security costs. It's up to Dallas to clean house.

A PRESS report Tuesday said that 20 Texas Patrolmen from the Tyler district had been sent to Dallas to guard GOV. JOHN CONNALLY, shot by the same dirty sniper that murdered the late PRESIDENT KENNEDY. It was announced too that ATTY. GEN. WAGGONER CARR would open a public court of inquiry to attempt to determine all the facts in the Dallas case. Definitely, we people from all points in Texas, must help to restore the regal reputation once worn by proud Dallas.

LATE today DISTRICT ATTORNEY HENRY WADE of Dallas said he regarded JACK RUBY'S trial as one of the most important in Dallas history. "Our whole judicial system will be on trial," the district attorney said. "This trial will determine whether Dallas has a government based on the orderly processes of law or a government in which an individual can take the law into his own hands." WADE said he would ask the death penalty for RUBENSTEIN, alias RUBY, with "full confidence a Dallas County jury will return the correct verdict in this case."

NEAL'S NUGGET: MAY THE ETERNAL LIGHT BURNING FOR JFK LIGHT THE WAY FOR MEN LIKE ME.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy Leads Nation's Mourners

Mrs. John F. Kennedy walked part of the way on foot, following the casket, as she and a sorrowing nation—and statesmen from around the globe—said goodbye and farewell to John F. Kennedy in Washington Monday.

At the great stone steps of St. Matthews Cathedral, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, a personal friend of the young widow and her late husband, the President, met Jacqueline and her children, Caroline and young John. The cardinal leaned over and laid his hands on their shoulders, as if in blessing.

A few ranks behind Mrs. Kennedy strode one of the greatest assemblages of world statesmen ever witnessed, led by the President of France, Charles de Gaulle, in his olive drab uniform.

Just before the flag-covered casket was carried into the cathedral a band played "Hail to the Chief." Truly, John F. Kennedy was the nation's leader in death, in that hour, as he was in life.

Before the casket was placed on the casket in the Capitol, Mrs. Kennedy had knelt before it and prayed.

Then, as the coffin was carried from the catafalque, there was a roll of ruffles and flourishes.

"O God of Loveliness," a band played, and the procession began, to the measured cadences of muffled drums and a mournful dirge.

Then at the White House, Jacqueline Kennedy set out on foot, leading the procession to the cathedral.

The youthful President, who sought peace always, in an age of hot and cold wars, found his own peace beside the nation's heroes in Arlington National Cemetery, a plot of land once owned by the Lees of Virginia.

Campbell To Speak At PBPA Meeting

The Honorable Jack M. Campbell, Governor of New Mexico, will speak on "Conservation and the States" at the annual meeting of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association, Thursday, December 5, at 7 p.m. in Odessa's Lincoln Hotel ballroom, New Mexico Senator Harold Runnels of Lovington, program chairman for the meeting announced today. The Governor and Mrs. Campbell will arrive in time for the traditional President's reception preceding the annual meeting.

In addition to Governor Campbell, PBPA members and their guests will hear the president's remarks, by outgoing President W. T. (Bill) Edwards of Odessa; a brief financial report by Secretary-Treasurer, J. Wilmont Hunt of Midland; the nominating committee report and election of officers for 1964 will follow.

John Ben Sheppard of Odessa, former attorney general of Texas, will preside as master of ceremonies.

Jack M. Campbell, married and father of four children, was elected governor of New Mexico on November 6, 1962. He had prepared himself well, winning honors in high school and junior college in his native Hutchinson, Kansas. At Washburn College in Topeka, Kansas, he belonged to both Sagamore, the men's honorary society and to Tau Delta Pi, scholastic honorary group. Campbell graduated Magna Cum Laude and was nominated for Rhodes Scholarship the year it was won by Colorado All American Byron "Whizzer" White, now an Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court. Governor Campbell's law career began in Albuquerque as an associate of John F. Simms, who himself later served as New Mexico's governor. Campbell joined the FBI and served with them until he enlisted in the U. S. Marines. He saw some 26 months of combat duty with the Third U. S. M. C. Division and today is a Captain in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve. Following the war Campbell was executive secretary of the New Mexico O & G Ass'n., resigning to become general counsel of New Mexico IPROA. In 1953 he formed a law partnership in Roswell with John F. Russell and in 1955 was elected to the New Mexico House of Representatives, where he served four terms in top posts on the State Board of Finance, chairman of the Legislative Council and finally Speaker of the House. The PBPA is urging advance registrations where possible, as attendance will be limited to the seating capacity of the Lincoln Hotel Ballroom.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Norfolk, Va., Times-Advocate: "Look at the contents of your wallet. Think you have everything you need? The odds are that—like eight out of 10 of your neighbors—you aren't carrying the one most vital piece of information about yourself your blood type. Should a sudden emergency arise, it could save you, and your family, untold grief. A card in your wallet, identifying blood type and possible RH factor, is peace-of-mind insurance."

Senator Kennedy Thanks Friends For The Family

Slain President Kennedy's mother and other members of his family flew from Hyannis Port Sunday to Washington and all but the late President's ailing father, Joseph P. Kennedy, attended funeral services in the capitol city Monday.

The presidential plane Caroline carried them to the national capitol. The plane was named for the Kennedy's six-year old daughter.

Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy spoke briefly to newsmen and a crowd of some 300 people at the airport when the plane arrived in Washington.

He thanked everyone for a "tremendous outpouring of prayers and sympathy."

The messages of condolence were "a tremendous consolation to my parents," he said.

The late President's father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, 75, is a semi-invalid from a stroke suffered in December, 1961.

President Kennedy - - -

Connally grabbed him.

PANDEMONIUM ERUPTS AT SCENE

One of the two Secret Service men in the front seat of the car grabbed the car telephone. "Let's go straight to the nearest hospital," he called to the leading cars of the motorcade.

The scene of the shooting was pandemonium. Spectators were throwing themselves upon children to protect them. Uniformed police swarmed up the grassy parkway toward the school book warehouse and up the railway embankment. Secret Service men quickly unshipped guns.

At 70 miles an hour the presidential car sped to Parkland. At the emergency entrance, Connally was able to lurch heavily toward the waiting stretcher. Mrs. Kennedy helped lift her husband onto the stretcher, and Secret Service men assisted her into the hospital. She looked stunned but showed no signs of hysteria.

MASSIVE BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS GIVEN

The President was taken first to a room off the emergency lobby, and Dr. Malcolm Perry, a resident surgeon, and Dr. Kemp Clark, head neuro-surgeon, began massive blood transfusions. At least 8 or 10 other doctors were in attendance.

The doctors also performed a tracheotomy to aid the President to breathe.

Dr. Clark said the President lived for perhaps 40 minutes after he reached the hospital but never regained consciousness. Kennedy had two wounds, one in the throat just below the Adam's apple and another in the back of his head, "a large gaping wound with considerable loss of tissue."

"When we first saw him, we knew there was no chance of saving his life," said Dr. Clark.

Connally remained lucid right up to the moment that he went under anesthesia.

"Take care of Nellie (his wife)," he murmured to an aide who was with him at the hospital.

BULLET STRIKES CONNALLY IN BACK

The bullet that hit Connally in the back went through his chest, taking out a part of the fifth rib and collapsing the lung. The bullet went into his right wrist, causing a compound fracture, and then buried itself in his left thigh.

His doctor, Robert R. Shaw, professor of thoracic surgery at Southwestern Medical School, termed Connally's condition as satisfactory considering his injury.

"I have reason to believe Gov. Connally will recover without significant disability," he said and guessed that the healing process would take 10 to 14 days.

OFFICERS LAUNCH 2-CITY MANHUNT

During the frantic period at the hospital, police, Secret Service men and FBI agents had started a 2-city manhunt.

They arrested several persons, among them a Fort Worth man who was said to be driving a car linked to the slayer.

Oswald was arrested in the Texas Theater shortly after witnesses said he killed Dallas Policeman J. D. Tippitt in the 400 block of East Tenth Street Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Helen Markham, who was waiting for a bus in that block, said Tippitt spotted Oswald on the sidewalk and pulled up the police car to talk to him.

Mrs. Markham said that Oswald walked over to the police car and leaned in the window to say something to Tippitt. The officer got out of the car to say something to Oswald.

"All of a sudden they stopped, looked at each other and he pulled this gun and shot him down," said Mrs. Markham.

"I ran to the officer to see if I could help him," she said. "I was afraid he was going to kill me too, but I knew I had to help that officer."

Oswald fled. Mrs. Markham said Tippitt tried to say something as he lay dying.

"But he never got it out. He knew I was there, though." Ten minutes later police found Oswald in the Texas Theater on Jefferson where a movie called "War Is Hell" was playing.

Policeman M. N. McDonald, who made the arrest, was told by an usher that the man wearing a brown shirt, whom McDonald was hunting, had gone into the theater a few moments before.

Oswald, members of a respected Fort Worth family, is a former Marine who four years ago went to Russia and asked for Russian citizenship. The Russians refused him citizenship but agreed to admit him as a resident alien. He then returned to the United States.

Homicide Capt. Will Fritz said Oswald had told him that he was pro-Castro. He is said to be chairman of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

Word of the murder of the President swept rapidly through the city. All over town shocked and grieving people gathered around radio sets to learn of his condition. The diners at the Merchandise Mart pushed aside their steaks and hunted radios after the first news.

PRAYER LED BY REV. HOLCOMB

At 1 p.m., Erik Johnson, who was to preside, stepped to the microphone and announced, "There has been a mishap. We believe it is not serious at this time."

The Rev. Luther Holcomb led a prayer for the President and governor, and Johnson then announced that the shooting had been more serious than at first reported.

He urged the crowd to remain calm, but women were dabbing their eyes and men were shaking their heads. "Those damned fanatics," one man shouted, "Why do we have to have them in Dallas?"

At 1:25 p.m., the Rev. William Dickenson said the benediction.

The crowd was still in confusion when the news came seconds later over the radio that the President was dead. A woman screamed.

HUNDREDS GATHER AROUND HOSPITAL

Meanwhile hundreds of weeping and somber people had gathered around the hospital during the long wait between the Presidents entrance and the official announcement of his death.

Stow it away in your pack. Next time you're caught in the rain, slip off your coat, slip on the slicker and put your coat back on. Since your shoulders take the brunt of getting wet, the poor man's poncho protects you. Can be made the same way with plastic for even less weight. Can be used for a dry ground cloth to sit on too.

POOR MAN'S PONCHO

Try this for a slick way to stay dry. We call it a poor man's poncho. Cut a section out of an old inner tube slightly longer than your shoulders. Slit it down the middle. You now have a flat rectangular piece. Now, cut a slit in the middle of this, long enough for your head to go through.
