The old-fashioned hanging baskets like grandmother used to have swinging from her porch are rapidly coming back into favor across the country. . . . The colorful baskets full of trailing vines, bright geraniums, or almost any kind of greenery are noted on the patio, porch, or hanging from trees on the lawn. Many homemakers are putting their imaginations to work to create different kinds of baskets—for example one person turned an old bird cage into a real conversation piece by spraying it white, and filling it with trailing greenery and rose colored geraniums. Others have used old-time iron cooking pots, renovated kegs, ordinary wooden boxes or water buckets hand-decorated and filled with flowers and greenery.

I was momentarily shook up when I found the story in the LUBBOCK AVALANCHE-JOURNAL Saturday morning proclaiming LADY BIRD'S visit to a Montana Crow Indian Reservation. I quickly figured her husband had sent her out there to give that part of the country back to the Redmen. We have already let the Africans have most of New York back and the Latins received a large chunk of our Texas soil recently. So, with MRS. JOHNSON having one of those strange sounding names that could have originated in the Caddo Indian tribe that used Caddo Lake and the community of Karnack, her home village, for fishing, hunting and what we say, shopping purposes at one time, I was in the bounds of my civil rights to draw my conclusion. LADY BIRD rode in a big sky bird to Montana. She was honored by the tribe and given another name, "PRETTY WALKING BIRD." All of those western states went Republican in 1960 and LADY BIRD'S visit was undoubtedly political. Washington had learned that the Indians had given up firewater for GOLDWATER and there was certainly nothing wrong in trying to get the tribe back to the ways of the OLD CROW.

I. G. PETERS telephoned the office Monday to report a 3.9 inch rain on his place. That's simply grand. We talked with MASON COGGIN awhile Monday morning and the commissioner stated that his land absorbed an inch and one-half in the Saturday afternoon deluge. We also learned that GENE CLEMENT'S place picked up about three inches. Our rain gauge at the residence in Stanton indicated 2.6. We will have a full weather story elsewhere in the newspaper.

SUE HOGGARD telephoned the paper about the first bale of cotton produced this year in Martin County. We appreciate her interest and the fact that she called us first. A page one story is included in this issue about BUD NICHOL'S first bale.

Congratulations to FRANKIE and RUFUS BANKS for a long, successful and happy marriage. FRANKIE is the daughter of MRS. NELL WILSON, and a very attractive and talented lady. RUFUS BANKS is as solid as a rock and a good fellow any way you measure him. They were united in marriage at MRS. WILSON'S home on Stanton on the evening of August 15. All of the chief operators of the BELL system working with MRS. BANKS in Midland were present for the wedding ceremony. That was a real tribute to this splendid lady.

Local Officers Set Block To Stop Speeders

Stanton officers erected a roadblock early Sunday morning in a cooperative effort to aid Big Spring police stop a speeding car carrying two men.

The men were arrested eight miles west of Big Spring on US 80 after they ran through a roadblock nearer to the city limits of the Howard County city. Patrolman Ted Lancaster stopped the car with a bullet in one of the front tires. Highway Patrolman A. N. Henry arrived to help Lancaster with the arrest. Martin County officers were ready for the men in case they eluded the roadblock in Howard County.

Four traffic violation citations were issued, and possible robbery by assault charges are pending against the men. The chase started in Big Spring when the car occupied by the men almost struck a patrol car. The driver cut the lights completely off and drove through Big Spring to Highway 80 before turning them back on, officers said.

Connally Oil Company Finals Third Well In Glasscock Co.

By JAMES C. WATSON
Connally Oil Co. of Abilene No. 1 Edmund Tom has been completed as the third producer in the Gordon Street, South (lower Wolfcamp) pool in Northwest Glasscock County, six miles southeast of Stanton.

It flowed 318 barrels of 38.2-gravity oil per day on a 16/64-inch choke from perforations at 9,676-96 feet after stimulating with 2,500 gallons of acid.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,620-1 and flowing tubing pressure was 860 pounds. The project is 3/4 mile northwest of the pool and 1,000 feet from south and east lines of section 43, block 35, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Good Rain Splashes Stanton On Saturday

The first rains of consequence in months splashed down on Stanton the past weekend and many other sections of Martin County reported moisture.

Some areas were not even dampened by the rainfall. In Stanton rain gauges were pretty much in harmony as 2.6 inches was reported. Just south of Stanton only 1.5 fell of the Mason Coggin farm. North of Stanton, about two miles, Gene Clements reported a fine 3-inch rain.

The rain dropped hard at times but tapered off into a slow, ground-soaking affair, and the leaden clouds and lack of wind penned most of the moisture down tight following the rainfall here.

Heavy rains pounded the San Angelo area but the Big Spring sector failed to get much moisture. In the Lampasas region the countryside caused 4.8 inches of rain.

But as the rains fell in scattered sections of Texas on Saturday, traffic crashes caused at least in part by rainswept highways presented a mounting accident and death toll.

One wreck took place in Stanton while the highways and streets were wet from the rain. No fatalities resulted when two automobiles collided in the city limits on Highway 80. However four people were injured.

Chief Smith Points Up Fatal Scooter Accidents

In a determined drive to curb accidents and fatalities in the city limits of Stanton, Police Chief Bob Smith released some vital accident information to The Stanton Reporter this week.

The information strictly points up the motor and scooter accidents happening in Texas in recent weeks.

For the record — for the benefit of the owner and operator of a motor scooter — for the parents, here is the brief. In Clute, Brazoria County, driver, age 15, killed when turning into traffic lane; San Antonio, Bexar County, scooter driver, age 14, killed while making wrong turn; US 281, Blanco County, driver of scooter, age 16, killed while turning into path of oncoming car; Columbus, Colorado County, scooter, age 16, killed when crashed into car from rear; Dallas County, scooter operator, 17, killed while riding on wrong side road — crashed into oncoming car; McAllen, Hidalgo County, scooter owner, age 13, killed while making wrong turn off highway; Port Arthur, Jefferson County, motor scooter driver, age 13, killed while riding in wrong lane; Lampasas, driver of scooter, age 13, killed, turning left into passing car.

Chief Smith stated that he intended to launch a check to be sure that all scooters were properly registered; that operators had applied for and received legal licenses; that loud mufflers were curbed; that the double or piggy-back riding cease; that all stop signals and safety regulations be observed; that obnoxious night riding and congregation of a mass of riders be stopped.

He said: "Scooter operators should obey all laws and operate their vehicles as car owners operate theirs and not gather for a motor scooter convention at a given point late at night and thunder forth on a pilgrimage of red-distributing for the people who pay the taxes."

Fun And Games

Fun is fun, and the federal government is both for it and against it.

Although the government cries constantly of the need for more recreational facilities financed out of taxes, some strange things happen when it gets right down to the idea of recreation.

Congress is hearing tales of how defense contractors have given parties for their employees, or passed out Christmas turkeys or something, and included such morale-building programs in the cost of their federal work. These are things businesses ordinarily do for employees engaged in work on private contracts. They are not done to squander money, but to improve employees' interest in the job. Such expenditures amount to a very small part of the federal outlays involved—and far less than the fringe benefits the government insist be paid to keep employees happy. But Washington objects.

The other side of the federal attitude toward fun is shown by Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, whose own idea of recreation is to shoot down federal squanderers like clay pigeons.

Sen. Williams has pointed out that the Farmers' Home Administration has been charged with taking woebegone farms out of production and turning them to other use. It has interpreted this mandate so liberally, he says, that it has been lending lavish amounts to turn pea patches into hunting lodges, etc.

In one case, he reported, 165 acres were taken out of cultivation and turned into a $275,000 golf course. This amounts to more than $1,000 an acre to dispose of farmland that was too poor to turn a profit, and wasn't worth anywhere near that in the first place.

The only thing that's clear about the Government's attitude toward fun is that it's subject to change without notice.

"Blind Dogma" Is Condemned

Pope Paul VI, in his first encyclical, condemned the "blind dogma" of communism and offered to intervene directly in conflicts threatening world peace.

In a rare papal reference to communism by name, the Pope said the movement "destroys at the root of any social system which attempts to base itself upon it."

In offering to work directly for peace, the Pope said: "We shall be ready to intervene, where an opportunity presents itself, in order to assist the contending parties to find honorable and fraternal solutions for their disputes."

The pontiff did not mention any specific dispute and his remarks were interpreted as a general reminder of the church's permanent stand that it is willing to mediate in international disputes if invited to do so.

The Pope's attack on communism was one of the strongest political statements ever made by a pontiff.

"For the lover of truth, discussion is always possible, but under communism dialogue in such conditions is very difficult, not to say impossible," he said.

Paul said the Roman Catholic Church in countries behind the Iron Curtain "speaks only by its sufferings, and with it speaks also the suffering of an oppressed and degraded society in which the rights of the spirit are crushed by those who control its fate."

On the "great and universal question of world peace," the pontiff said he would devote all of his efforts toward that end while remaining "of course within the limits of our ministry and so utterly divorced from purely temporal interests and strictly political forms."

It's unethical, immoral and illegal to spend taxpayers' money with firms or relatives' firms owned by public officials at every level.

Bible Comment—

There Is No Place In Religion For Hate

A plausible philosophy of life has said, "Be good and you will be happy."

But if happiness consists in being free from danger and immune from pain, the sufferings of good men have revealed how false is that easy adage.

A deep mystery of life is that the innocent have suffered with the guilty. It is that mystery of the Cross and the suffering and sacrifice of Christ himself.

The hostility that Jesus aroused in His prejudiced, fellow townsmen as He began His ministry of Nazareth continued on the part of many throughout His ministry.

Strange to say, it was the finest things that He did that aroused the most violent opposition.

Religion ought to make men humane, kind, considerate, ready and eager to help one another. But, unfortunately, it has often made them bitter and full of hatred.

It was not unnatural that the claims of Jesus should be questioned by some, as they had been by His own brothers. But why should His pronouncement of the forgiveness of sin aroused such hatred?

If He had no power to forgive sins, the sins would not be forgiven. To question His authority was one thing—to hate Him was another.

The opposition of certain Scribes and Pharisees and official religious authorities had some justification. They were the official representatives of religion. As Jesus Himself said, they "sat in Moses' seat."

The mistake that they made was in ignoring the actual words and deeds, in being blind to the authority of goodness, and hating one who the people heard gladly.

Are we wiser than those of old? Is religion our response to the goodness of God, or is it dominated by prejudice and bigotry?

Philosopher Explains, Not Very Satisfactorily, Where He Gets Ideas For His Letters

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses a personal matter this week. We guess that's what he's doing.)

Dear editor:

A man out here the other day stopped me, well he really didn't stop me, I was already sitting down resting under a shade tree, and not to talking and finally said he wanted to know how I get my ideas for these letters to The Stanton Reporter.

"How do you do it?" he asked. "I mean, how do you know where to start and when to quit?"

Well, I'll tell you, it's simple, and I've always found it just as easy to stop as to start. You come out of the house and look around and see all the physical labor there is to do on this Martin County grass farm and confronted by that any thinking man will start thinking.

Some people don't realize we're living in critical times, have been ever since I can remember, and what's a sagging gate compared to the situation in Viet Nam? How can a man patch his roof when the Turks and the Greeks may start fighting again, not that they haven't been doing it since recorded history?

How can I be bothered about cutting weeds at the moment I don't even know who's going to be Lyndon Johnson's running mate?

I know how to get rid of weeds that's been discovered for hundreds of years, but who knows how to keep Russia contained?

I know some people say I ought to work harder, that the

David Lawrence writes in U. S. News & World Report: "Only 175 years after our forefathers ordained the Constitution of the United States, the document has largely fallen into disuse. Some of the clauses that still remain in operation are being given an interpretation stretched far beyond their original meaning. We see an increasing power being exercised by the judiciary over the other branches of the Federal Government as the rights of the sovereign States are gradually being extinguished. . . . Our written Constitution, established in 1789 and amended in the intervening years to meet changing conditions, is being deliberately disregarded, and the doctrine of conformity by coercion is being espoused not only by our so-called intellectual groups but by vote-seeking politicians in our 'great society'."

Eighteen Years Ago

The Merrick community, Northeast of Stanton, is credited with bringing to Stanton the first bale of cotton of the 1946 crop. The bale was raised by Alfredo Reyna, on the farm of E. Ramsey, located in the Sulphur Draw area, a sub-irrigated tract. It weighed 516 pounds, and was purchased for 35 cents per pound. The premium contributed by Stanton merchants amounted to $92.50.

Benny Kelly and W. D. Chandler will represent the Martin County 4-H Roundup, to be held at Texas A&M College on August 28, 29, 30. The Stanton Lions Club will pay their expenses while at A&M.

Wedding vows were exchanged Thursday morning of last week by Sue Henson and Clement Standefer. Soft music was played by Lois Standefer. Rev. I. E. Biggs, pastor of the Stanton Methodist Church, read the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Standefer. The bride was dressed in a cream wool crepe suit and blue blouse with gray accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Latimer were in Breckenridge Monday to visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Poe Woodard are vacationing at various points in Louisiana.

Verla Anderson is employed in the county home demonstration agent's office as stenographer. She took the place of Flora Dee Wilson.

Plans have been made for Mrs. Claude Davis, of the Tarzan Home Demonstration Club, to attend the state meeting of Texas Home Demonstration Association in Amarillo.

Mrs. Imogene Ledbetter, home demonstration agent, attended a District Six meeting for county agent and home demonstration agents last week in Big Spring. Current problems of gardening, including planting and harvesting, selection of seeds for fall gardens and control of insect and household pests were discussed.

The Hackneyed Phase

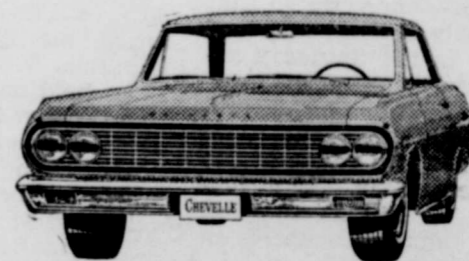

Hackneyed ponies and American saddlebred pleasure horses have been added to the five and three gaited saddle horses, fine harness horses, walking and roadster horses and Shetland ponies that will perform in the 1964 State Fair of Texas Horse Show at Dallas, October 9-13.

The 1964 Texas lamb crop totals 2,673,000 head, down 7 percent from 1963, according to the Texas Livestock Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. For the nation, the lamb crop is down 6 percent from 1963. The reporting service estimates the state's wool production will be down by 10 percent to 42,652,000 pounds (grease basis).

Dem Chairman Sees LBJ Platform Brand

The chairman of the Democratic platform drafters predicted this week the committee will turn out a document bearing the LBJ stamp without fighting any major battles over civil rights or other issues.

In a all-time precedent shattering feature for either of the major parties, the Democratic committee started sessions in Washington, D. C. Monday and not in Atlantic City. In other words, LBJ wants to be as close to the committee workers as possible to insure harmony at the Democratic convention opening on August 24 in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Some leading Democrats are worried about a demonstration for Bobby Kennedy there — even though — it is now apparent that LBJ will tap Hubert Humphrey for his running mate. Johnson recently slapped Bobby Kennedy in the face politically by ruling him out as a candidate because he was a cabinet member. There are those leaders in the party who now think Bobby made a mistake by staying on in Johnson's cabinet as attorney general after his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy was assassinated. It could have easily been within the realm of possibility that Bobby Kennedy could have had the nomination for the presidency at Atlantic City if he had taken the above outlined course.

Carl Albert, D-Oklahoma, is head of the Democratic Platform Committee. He presented, as one of the first witnesses, twice-beaten Adlai Stevenson, and the man who went down in presidential elections by big blasts from former President Eisenhower, as expected of him, launched a tirade against the Republican nominee. He made about the same kind of talk before the platform committee as he did when he got a hamburger, with mustard, slapped in his face in Texas.

Chairman Albert is from a state which now has a Republican governor and a strong Republican candidate for U. S. Senator, Bud Wilkinson, former coach at Oklahoma U. A recent poll by Gallup showed Goldwater carrying Oklahoma by a wide margin over Johnson in November.

The Democratic national convention, will meet, nominate, eat, belch and adjourn with Johnson at the top of the ticket and Hubie Humphrey as his running mate. The platform will be adopted, in the mind of Chairman Albert, with the LBJ brand on it. Lots of free television time will be allotted, as it should be, and more colored faces will be seen on screens of tv owners because plain arithmetic shows most negroes are Democrats. Those owners of color sets are sure to get their moneys worth come the week of August 24-28.

Medicare Tax Funds Termed 'Major Hike'

Dr. Edward R. Annis, former president of the American Medical Assn., told senators today that the administration's medicare program would have to be financed by a tax increase of "major proportions."

He testified before the Senate Finance Committee in opposition to the bill which has been bottled up ever since it was sent to Congress on Feb. 21, 1963, by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Medicare backers are seeking to attach the program as a rider to a House-passed bill now before the finance committee which would provide $1.5 billion in higher cash benefits for Social Security pensioners. It is uncertain how much of a fight President Johnson is willing to make for the program in view of the fact that Congress is trying to adjourn for the year around August 22.

Under the proposal, hospital and nursing-home care for Americans over 65 would be financed by an increase of payroll taxes to a maximum of about 104 per cent, half paid by workers and half by employers. The base salary on which the tax would be paid would rise from the present $4,800 to $5,400, or possibly higher.

Annis said, "We are dealing with a program of limitless possibilities and a tax increase of major proportions."

Bush Assails Ralph's Vote On Aid Bars

George Bush, Republican candidate for the Senate, criticized Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Texas, Saturday for the senator's vote against a foreign aid cut for Indonesia.

Bush spoke of Yarborough's vote against an amendment by Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, Thursday. The amendment to cut off all aid to the government of President Sukarno, who had spoken disparagingly of the $700 million given his country.

"I think it is a disgrace that Sen. Yarborough shows such a callous disregard in dealings to effectively administer our foreign aid," Bush said.

Texas Marker To Be Erected At Garden City

Contract for making the official Texas Historical Marker commemorating the Texas War for Independence period for Glasscock County has been let by the State Building Commission.

The markers are made of cast aluminum with Swedish steel effect for durability and appearance. The official Texas Historical Medallion appears at the top with the inscription below.

The marker for Glasscock County will be erected on State Highway 158, by the courthouse in Garden City.

The inscription, prepared by the Texas State Historical Survey committee, states: Glasscock County was created 1887, organized in 1893 with Garden City as the county seat. It was named for George W. Glasscock, a flat-boating partner of Abraham Lincoln in Illinois. He came to Texas in 1834 and fought in the War for Independence from Mexico. He built the first central Texas flour mill in Williamson County. Georgetown was named for him, and he served in the Texas Legislature from 1864 to 1868.

In this day and age, it behooves each and every one of us to be abreast of the world and its people. We must constantly study and keep up with what is going on in our land and others. This reminds me of a few lines from the poet, John Donne — "No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the Continent, a part of the Main; if a clod be washed away, we are the less; any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankind; therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee."

Liberal Filibuster Bogs Down Senate

A band of liberals tied up the Senate again Monday with their budding filibuster against legislation designed to thwart the Supreme Court's ruling on Senate legislative apportionment.

They not only kept the Senate from doing any serious business, they succeeded in a tactic that warms the hearts of all filibusters: They drew their opponents into the debate.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, the prime mover in the drive to delay the effects of the high court's ruling that districts for both the houses of state legislatures must be "substantially equal" in population, declined when Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., tried to get him talking.

But Saturday, Sens. George D. Allen, R-Vt. and John Stennis, D-Miss, gave the liberals breathing space by taking the floor to criticize the Supreme Court and lower federal state legislatures be reapportionment on a "one-person, one-vote" pattern.

Then after the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ork., broke in with a lengthy attack on the republican presidential candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the leadership called it quits for the day.

In a little less than six hours the Senate had passed a handful of minor bills and done nothing to propel the major item before them, the $3.3-billion foreign aid authorization, closer to passage.

And the Democratic leader, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, freely conceded that his hopes for adjournment by the end of the week were growing dimmer all the time.

DEAVENPORT'S

$78,000 In U. S. Bugles Ordered For Viet Nam

The latest consignment of U. S. aid to arrive in Saigon, South Viet Nam, was $78,000 worth of bugles.

The bugles were ordered on the suggestion of General William C. Westmoreland, commander of United States forces in South Viet Nam.

He felt that the South Vietnamese civil guard units and regular forces would get a morale boost by using the bugles.

The original order for bugles is for 5,000, but only 3,900 have been sent.

The brass bugles cost $20 each.

Bugles are just one example of the seemingly odd procurement items ordered for the effort in Viet Nam. Another item on order is 120,000 whistles.

"An NCO without a whistle is like an NCO without a weapon," one high-ranking U. S. officer said. So the whistles were ordered and will be given out to hamlet guards, civil guards and other South Vietnamese forces.

When Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was in Saigon recently, he urged more mobility at the lower levels. Especially, he said, village chief and hamlet chiefs should have increased mobility.

The result has been an order for more than 1,000 "combat bicycles." These bicycles are the same as any other bicycle except they have special lights and racks for carrying weapons and supplies. They are purchased from a Chinese bike maker in South Viet Nam for $30 each.

Other mobility items are Lambretta motor scooters being bought from Italy and Jeeps built on contract in Japan.

Warnings concerning the practice of starvation to lose weight come from the magazine Today's Health. It points out that starvation, in addition to causing a depletion of body fat and protein, can induce other hazardous effects not readily recognized. A form of gouty arthritis, low blood pressure and anemia have been reported in some individuals after relatively short periods of fasting. And there are persons with certain disease who should never attempt fasting. A more reasonable approach to weight reduction, it adds, is a modified diet of foods high in nutrients but low enough in calories to cause a loss of pounds, coupled with suitable exercise.

In the opinion of National Grange Master Newsom, "American agriculture is a part of our total economy — not apart from our economy . . . the old philosophy of relying chiefly on restricting production for the sake of a high price cannot well serve farmers or the American economy in the 1960's. The monopolistic approach of purchase by government of those commodities which have no other market at the government price is not realistic."

Cafe Owner Enters Pickax Business

Lester Maddox set himself up in the pickax business Friday and said he is now willing to serve all comers—regardless of race, color or creed.

The fiery segregationist who closed his Pickrick Restaurant in Atlanta, Georgia rather than obey a federal court order to admit negroes, moved his cash register outside, stationed Lester Jr. behind it, and set up a long table to display his wares.

"Instead of the fried chicken specialty he offered in his restaurant, Maddox's sidewalk enterprise served up "Pickrick drumsticks"—the $2 pickax handles many of his friends brandished when negroes showed up for lunch.

Also offered for sale were American flags, "Goldwater" — a soft drink plugging the GOP presidential nominee — and a wide selection of "patriotic" literature.

"We have all this merchandise for sale and it is available to all, regardless of race, creed or color," Maddox said.

Arlington, Texas, Citizen: "Once there lived in village in Old England a boy who was considered stupid. Men found delight in offering him the choice between a three-penny bit and a penny. The lad always chose the penny. One day a stranger asked the boy if he chose the penny because it was the large piece. The boy replied, 'Naw, not that. If I took the three-penny bit, they'd quit offering it.' Those who always want the biggest for themselves usually end up by getting nothing."

"If the Communists and racial agitators really want to do business with the Pickrick, this is the time to prove they're sincere by getting in line for our sale of American flags and Pickrick drumsticks."

Inside, the restaurant was quiet. Scattered on the table were hundred of letters and telegrams offering encouragement to the balding, bespectacled sometimes politician for his defiant stand.

One from Washington was addressed simply to "Fighting Lester Maddox, Atlanta."

Maddox, ordered by a federal court to begin serving negroes, held out for two days and turned back negroes when they attempted to enter.

But two more showed up, and he announced he was closed.

Maddox has appealed the lower court ruling to the U. S. Supreme Court in the first challenge of the new civil rights law, but his case will not be heard until October.

New Bank Charter Caution Predicted

A more cautious approach by the State Banking Board to new charter requests may be near. Some financiers say Texas has about all the banks it needs.

"I think Texas is pretty well taken care of as far as the number of banks is concerned," says Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner, one of the three board members.

About 100 new banks, state and national, have been chartered in Texas since 1962 began. Texas now has about 575 state banks with assets last December of $4,021,032,509. Those are figures of the Association of State Chartered Banks in Texas.

"I think we've perhaps overdone the chartering of new banks. They're getting pretty numerous," said Dr. John Stockton, head of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research and a director of the San Antonio Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

Sam Kimberlin, Jr., executive director of the Association of State Chartered Banks, agreed, saying, "The spots that could use new banks are pretty well taken up."

The main difference between state and national charters is the heavier regulation national banks receive from federal agencies.

Standards for judging new state bank applications are set by the legislature and have not changed in recent years. Among the requirements for a new bank and sufficient volume of business in the community for the bank's profitable operation.

"There is only so much business in the country," he said, "and every time we grant another charter, it just thins out business."

Bloys Camp Meeting Opened On Tuesday

The Annual Bloys Camp meeting marked the diamond jubilee when the association got together Tuesday for the 75th year Tuesday at Skillman Grove 23 miles northeast of Marfa in the Davis Mountains.

The meeting is an annual affair where four denominations of churches, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Christian (Disciples) converge on the mountain site for six days of preaching and Bible study sessions.

Housing and food are furnished to guests free, as has been the practice from the first meeting held in the Grove in 1890.

Founded under the leadership of the late W. B. Bloys, a Presbyterian home missionary living in Fort Davis, it was originally known as "the cowboy camp meeting." Its purpose was to get the people of the thinly settled area together for worship annually.

Out of the 46 persons who are recorded as attending the first meeting only 11 are still alive. One of these, Mrs. A. G. Prude of Fort Davis, is to be especially honored at this year's gathering. She has attended every session since its beginning.

In the early days each ranch outfit operated its own chuck wagon service, but now there are six large cooking camps with each being operated by one or more pioneer ranch families or their descendants.

Other changes have come about, whereas early worshippers lived in tents and wagons, modern day campers will have at their disposal cabins, electricity, running water and even a telephone booth.

Speakers for the 75th anniversary observance will include Dr. James H. Jauncey, pastor of the First Christian Church in El Paso; Robert Goodrich, pastor of the Methodist Church in Dallas; Dr. Grady Wilson, associate evangelist with the Billy Graham team; and Dr. Louie Evans, Presbyterian minister-at-large.

Mrs. Leonard Martin, Dwight Martin, Wanda DeVore and daughter of Midland, Annette Dearman of Odessa, have been visiting with Mrs. Martin's son, Pvt. Charles Lester Martin, who is stationed in Fort Knox, Ky. While being visited by his relatives, Pvt. Martin received overseas orders with destination Viet Nam.

Major Leo Gossett and Captain Ray Butler of the Department of Public Safety, visited in Stanton and Martin County Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cross and Mrs. Doris Taylor of Big Spring, visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davis in Houston this week and visited with Frank Davis of Rockport also. Gordon and Frank Davis are brothers of Mrs. Cross.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

MARTIN-HOWARD-MIDLAND SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

The Martin - Howard Soil Conservation Area has been hit hard by the drought that has been experienced this year. Agriculture leaders and farmers alike are at the crossroads, trying to decide which way to turn, plant or not to plant catch or cover crops. The time is rapidly approaching when this decision must be made, in order that our soil can be protected from wind erosion this winter. What the right answer is, no one really knows.

Cover must be applied to the soil in the forms of crop residues, cover crops or catch crops. These crops consist of Sudan, Millet, Small grain, Austrian winter peas, and cowpeas (not blackeyes.) In order that the above mentioned crops can be effective in controlling wind erosion, moisture is the governing factor, and must be present in order for a ground cover to be obtained. Assuming that sufficient moisture is obtain, there are other advantages of planting cover crops, such as maintain or improve the physical, chemical and biological condition of the soil. Provide supplemental grazing for livestock. Provide a green manure crop, if so needed. Increase the infiltration rate and the aggregation properties of the soil, not to mention the possibility of cash crop harvest from small grain.

Conservation of the land is up to the people who depend upon it for life. This includes each and everyone. This means there must be a consolidated effort on the part of all people both rural and urban to see that the job is carried out.

This is another in a series of messages to Americans who care.

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL WHO SEEK PUBLIC OFFICE

Many of the youth of America are voting for the first time. By 1966 more than one-half of the population of the United States will be under 25 years of age. Our deepest concern is that this giant nation find a giant purpose.

We see in America many confused and aimless people. We see the breakdown of conscience and character at home. We see Vietnam, and freedom on the defensive abroad.

We love America. We believe that her greatest days are yet ahead. We are looking for the candidates who will give this nation a dynamic, revolutionary purpose adequate to lead the world forward into the new age.

Will you be such a man? If so, our vote and wholehearted support are yours.

1. WILL YOU deal swiftly with scandals that beset the nation? We do not believe that we can expect the world to follow America's lead if corruption and immorality are allowed to continue in our own government, whether Democrat or Republican. Will you, regardless of personal cost, give us a nation we can be proud to inherit?
2. WILL YOU name to public office men who firmly believe that their private life has everything to do with their public service? We believe that a man who chooses to run for public office accepts the obligation in his private life to set a pattern of unity and integrity for the rest of the nation.
3. WILL YOU make equality a reality for every American by tackling the bitterness, hatred and fear which divide the races in America? We believe in legislation, but legislation alone is not enough. Only a change in the human heart can equip us to answer the flaming hatreds of the world.
4. WILL YOU halt the breakdown of conscience and character in the nation? We are opposed to the propagandists of the "new morality." They have blackmailed and bullied our generation into believing that lust, violence and godlessness are idols that we must worship. We have bowed down only to find that venereal disease among young Americans rose 130 percent from the years 1956 to 1961, and that 13,000,000 children are from broken homes.

SOME CANDIDATES talk of poverty. Material poverty must be cured, but will you also cure the moral poverty of both rich and poor which weakens the nation?

5. WILL YOU restore a sense of patriotism and national service in the country? We are ashamed that 52 percent of our young men are unfit for the armed services for mental, moral or physical reasons. We believe America's military forces are essential and must be maintained at their highest level of performance, but without love of country and moral backbone there can be no national security.

6. WILL YOU bring a new factor to bear in our foreign policy? America has given generously of her wealth to a needy world. But the new factor is a revolution of character based on absolute moral standards of honesty, purity, unselfishness and love. These standards, lived out, will give America the energy and clarity to lead the world forward. This will mean a revolutionary commitment from every American to bring freedom under God to all men.

America is on the verge of her finest hour. We believe that the 1964 elections will help to produce an America to whom the nations of the world will turn.

WE WILL PIONEER THESE IDEAS IN OUR SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES. WILL YOU MAKE THEM PART OF YOUR NATIONAL POLICY?

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

A revision of U. S. quality standards for beef has been proposed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in line with recent recommendations of the National Advisory Committee on cattle and several state and national cattlemen's organizations.

De-emphasis of maturity as a grading factor in young beef is the major proposed change, says Frank A. Orts, extension meats specialist at Texas University.

This revision would result in some reduction of marbling requirements for prime, choice, good and standard grades and would reduce the number of maturity classifications in these grades from three to two, Orts points out. It would also eliminate the two marbling degrees in excess of that now classified as "abundant" in determining quality grade.

The other revision, he said, is that all carcasses must be ribbed to be graded; that is, the hindquarter and forequarter must be separated between the 12th and 13th rib so the ribeye is visible to the grader.

Although beef palatability tends to increase with age, increased marbling tends to enhance palatability. Thus, says Orts, grade standards require increasing amounts of marbling to compensate for increasing maturity.

The efficiency with which a cotton picker does its job often depends on a little gadget called the spindle.

That's why rotating the spindles on your picker can mean extra cotton dollars this harvest season, says Beverly

South Plains Barrow Show Due Lubbock

The annual Southwestern Barrow Show will be held at the Panhandle South Plains Fair Grounds, August 20, 21, and 22. The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will co-sponsor the show with the Southwestern Barrow Show Association. Animals will be shown to the public on August 1, with the sale scheduled for Saturday, August 22, at 10:00 a.m. Awards, in the form of engraved silver platters and ribbons, will be made by J. D. Hufstader, chairman of the Chamber Agriculture Committee to winners in the barrow, carcass barrow and breeding swine divisions.

Officers and officials for the show will be: Tom Neely, general superintendent; Waylon R. Carroll, general manager; Tom Duffy, superintendent of the barrow division; J. B. Prewitt, superintendent of the Breeding swine division. Official weigher for the show will be W. B. Griffin of Tahoka and L. M. Hargrave will be the judge.

The publicity committee is composed of Dick Moseley, Gene Linn, Duane Howell and Ed Wilkes.

G. Reeves, cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Because the bottom six or eight spindles in the drum of the picker are subject to more dust and denser plant growth, they show more rapid wear after a harvest, Reeves explains.

Since the spindles are responsible for pulling the cotton from its bur, their edges or small projections must be sharp, says the specialist. If they are worn or dull, they cannot grasp the cotton properly, so it remains on the stalk of drops to the ground.

Reeves recommends rotating the bottom spindles with those in the top of the drum every three seasons or more often under extreme conditions. The job takes only three or four hours, he adds. "Even though worn spindles affect the efficiency of a picker, operators often allow this condition to creep up when their machines seem to be in tiptop shape, says Reeves. "An inferior picking job is the likely result."

Summertime poses a special problem for the homemaker. During the hot weather, her family wants light refreshing meals. Mrs. Gwen Ciyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist, offers these suggestions for summer meal planning.

Milk is plentiful and listed as one of the week's best food buys. By adding fresh fruit purees or canned juices as well as ice cream to it, milk becomes a filling, nutritious and inexpensive snack or addition to any meal.

The dry weather is continuing to put plenty of fresh beef in meat counters. Among some of the more favorite beef buys are rib cuts, chunks, rounds and loins. Smoked ham and picnics are also showing good trends; as are fryers.

An excellent plum crop this year will make plum an inexpensive snack and dessert item for many tables. Prices of grapes are down and more blueberries are coming out of Michigan, so plenty of fresh fruits should be eaten during the hot weather.

Overlapping supplies of celery and lettuce are making these vegetables good buys while most others have only fair to good choices.

During summer months, the homemaker especially needs to be concerned about the purchase, storage, preparation and use of fresh fruits and vegetables to get the most from her food dollar.

Proper use and storage combined with careful buying practices can hold food nutrient losses to a minimum and provide the family with more nutritious and attractive meals, says Mrs. Ciyatt.

Instructors will include A&M professors, representatives of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank and Federal Land Bank of Houston and other tax and land appraisal authorities.

Federal Pay Raise Signed; More Congress Work Eyed

President Johnson signed a $558-million federal pay raise bill Friday and used the occasion to praise accomplishments of this Congress — and to hint he expects considerably more of it.

The new scales affect virtually all federal employees and will push the annual non-military payroll to a little more than $16 billion.

The largest increases go to higher-echelon positions with the 10 Cabinet members topping the field with a 40 per cent increase.

The increases range on down to 27 per cent or about $100 annually, for the lowest-rated civil servants.

Members of Congress will receive a $7,500 boost making their salary $30,000. The congressional raise will become effective next January 1. While all others will show up in the next paychecks and be retroactive to July 1.

Johnson said the bill "ranks near the top of the list in importance to the entire country" among what he described as the 25 major pieces of legislation passed by this second session of the 86th Congress.

He called it an "energetic, even-handed and effective" Congress and compared its accomplishments with those of the second session of the 73rd Congress. Johnson noted that the then President Franklin D. Roosevelt said of that session that it "displayed a greater freedom from mere partisanship than any other peacetime Congress since the administration of President Washington himself."

After referring to the 25 major enactments, Johnson said — perhaps with tongue at least halfway in check — "since none of us are in a hurry to get home, there may be many more."

Actually, congressional leaders are driving hard for adjournment by August 22 so members can get about their urgent election-year business back home — and at the Democratic National Convention which begins August 24.

But controversial foreign aid legislation and a Social Security measure, plus several appropriations bills, must be disposed of.

Foreign aid has become entangled in a fight over proposed congressional slowdown on enforcement of the Supreme Court's ruling that state legislative seats must be apportioned on a one-man, one-vote basis. And the House-approved boost in Social Security payments is expected to run into Senate complications through efforts to tie the measure into health care for the elderly.

Johnson said of the new pay bill: "For the first time this gives us the tools to identify and inspire, to reward and retain excellence in our federal service.

"America's challenges cannot be met in this modern world by mediocrity at any level, public or private. All through our society we must search for brilliance, welcome genius, strive for excellence, and this measure will help us to do that in the federal government."

New salary levels established by the law include:

- $30,000 for such key executive posts as directors of the budget, the FBI, the space agency, Agency for International Development and the undersecretaries of state and defense — amounting to increases of $5,000 to $7,500 in most cases.
- $28,500 for other Cabinet undersecretaries, the solicitor general, director of Selective Service and chairmen of various boards — mostly increases of $6,000 to $7,500.
- $39,500 for associate justices of the Supreme Court and $40,000 for the chief justice — increases of $4,500.
- $33,000 for federal appeals court judges and $30,000 for district court judges — increases of $7,500.

Average increases for 1.1 million white-collar workers will be about 10 per cent while 590,000 postal employees will receive an average of 5.6 per cent.

people need the refreshment that enjoyable recreation offers.

Leisure time can be used to regain a healthy balance of suitable physical activity and relaxation. Whether through a trip to the opera or an hour or two of quiet fishing, the ability to "lose oneself" in some diversionary recreation provides personal fulfillment and relief from life's tensions.

Recreation is personal; to be satisfying, the hobbies and other activities chosen should be meaningful to the individual. What may be enjoyable to one person may be boring to another. Fortunately, a wide variety of opportunities is available and every person should be able to find some that bring satisfaction. Interesting family activities, another important but often missing part of modern life, can evolve from personal recreation interests.

Whatever a person may choose as hobbies, some physical recreation should be included daily. The health benefits from regular suitable physical activity such as weight control, relief from stress, and a sense of well-being are now well established. On the other hand, the potential ill-effects of prolonged inactivity, such as obesity, metabolic disorders, loss of movement capacity, cannot be considered helpful for enjoyable living.

The broad benefits attributed to recreation are not automatic outcomes. Every activity carries some risk, whether from the nature of the activity itself or from the demands on the participant. One national survey showed 18,000 disabling golf injuries in 1962. Most of these were persons struck by golf balls. However, heat prostration accounted for 10 per cent and over-exertion another 7 per cent of the total. These statistics should not cause a rush to the golf cart, which produced 7 per cent of the casualties. Rather, golfers should respect the safeguards that judgment and conditioning will offer.

To capitalize on recreational opportunities: (1) Learn your capabilities and limitations through periodic medical examinations, and plan your activities accordingly. (2) Practice habits of healthful living faithfully in order to have the ability to do effectively the things you must and want to do (3) Understand the risks involved in your activities of choice, and the preventive measures to be followed.

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

Setting time aside for wholesome recreation is becoming increasingly important in leading a healthful and productive life.

For most people, the day's routine no longer includes vigorous physical activity or provides enough variety otherwise to break the monotony of daily living. The natural result of modern conveniences and increased automation is a sedentary existence.

Modern society has become what someone has called "flip-flopped." The executive now works long hours instead of the laborer. Yet, like everyone else, physicians, executives, and other professional

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Tuesday that a growing number of doctors now own pharmacies or drug companies, and may turn their patients into "captive consumers."

Hart, chairman of the Senate anti-trust and monopoly sub-committee, opened hearings on doctor-owned drug repackaging and redistributing companies.

In his statement prepared for the session, Hart said, "certainly when a patient goes to his doctor and is given a prescription for a drug in which the doctor has an interest, the patient has no choice but to purchase that trade name drug."

"Also, when a doctor suggests using his pharmacy downstairs — or calls a prescription in to a pharmacy — it is likely that the patient seldom protests," he said.

Summer cooking make your kitchen "like an oven"?

Change to cool flameless electric cooking!

Women who cook electrically will tell you that electric cooking makes a big difference in kitchen comfort during hot weather. That's because flameless electric surface cooking units transfer heat by direct metal-to-metal contact with utensil bottoms. They send their heat through the utensils and into the food, not into the kitchen air. Electric oven cooking is cooler, too. There's no flame, so no intake and exhaust of air is needed to support combustion. The oven is insulated all around, including the bottom, to keep heat inside where it belongs. See your electric range dealer soon and start cooking the cool, flameless electric way!

IT'S amusing to watch Washington liberals and the left wingers yell and bellow like a motherless calf looking over a fresh painted gate when the "shoe is on the other foot." This week the chairman of the House Rules Committee, in an extraordinary move took the Reapportionment bill away from REP. EMANUEL CELLAR's judiciary committee and caused the loud-mouthed liberal to scream robbery. The bill of REP. WILLIAM TUCK of Virginia was given priority. The LYNDON-loving liberals again sent excited shouts bellowing toward the top of the House chamber that they would—what is this—can this be true? THEY THREATENED TO FILIBUSTER! Yeah, they like the full discussion and long talk when the filibuster favors the ones up there who have been described by another southern congressman as having taken the first ten steps behind the Iron Curtain. But they bottled up the southern's RIGHT to discuss and speak against the recently passed and highly controversial civil rights measure. They voted closure! REP. CELLAR said: "If you take away jurisdiction over reapportionment today, tomorrow you can talk away jurisdiction over civil rights and the next day over anti-trust cases." When the elections are over in November, MR. CELLAR, you might easily find another face at the White House window, hear another footstep in the rose garden, and find that at last a man is there who will turn the lights back on in the White House and get to work on bringing the nation back to basic prosperity and free the threat of another world war.

RESIDENTS around Mt. Pleasant, Titus County, Texas, have no doubts about war being real in Viet Nam. LT. HAROLD McNEIL, pilot, father of two small children, was killed Tuesday morning while flying an assault mission against communist Viet Cong. He was a 1950 graduate of Mt. Pleasant high school. Which one of the Washington mouth patriots was it who said everything was "just fine" in Viet Nam. Was it HENRY SABOT TOGE? I have a pretty good idea about how the surviving adult members of LT. McNEIL'S family are going to vote in November.

CAPTAIN ROBERT ESTES, cousin of your writer, and friend of the dead LT. McNEIL, said he "was the seventh pilot in our class of 50 to be killed in Viet Nam." ESTES wrenched his helicopter into a power dive straight at a spot belching communist tracer bullets with his four machine guns blazing. ESTES fired four rockets into the jungle-hidden enemy and pulled out over the tree tops. "Damn, that was a hairy maneuver," he laughed.

We suggest the fans purchase the decals and place them proudly on your cars this season. Let's all really get behind the team and the coaches early this year. THE STANTON REPORTER is again pledging all-out publicity for our team.

MRS. B. H. HICKS is reported recovering nicely from recent surgery in a Big Spring hospital. GLEENDEEN has served on the staff of the newspaper for the past several months. To say we missed her this week would be an understatement—we have been fortunate in getting HARRIET WHITE to pinch-hit for our ailing society editor and we trust we got most of the news happening in the city and county this week in the paper.

THE newspaper received a fine note from the MARTIN COUNTY LIBRARY this week. It read: "Please accept our thanks for THE STANTON REPORTER each week and for your wonderful publicity." MRS. GLENN L. BROWN signed the message from the library. Incidentally, MARY and GLENN have done more for our Library than any other couple in the county. And here's a footnote to this paragraph: "They will probably run me out the back door of their drug store for mentioning the above." The BROWN family—all five of them are confidence keepers and they don't need nor do they seek publicity. And to record all of the good things this family does at every level of community life would only serve to embarrass them for their many charities and good deeds for those they love, admire, and respect—those dear hearts and lovely people of their hometown.

MY brother CARL, decorated veteran of two branches of the service in two separate wars, and holder of military title; earned in the field of combat in the Air Corps and U. S. Navy, telephoned me the other night to inform me they had just caught 4.8 inch rain in Gregg County, and that he had just received a nice, personal letter from PRESIDENT LYNDON JOHNSON. He appeared to be proud of both the rain and LYNDON'S letter. I told the Colonel our city had just measured moisture in the amount of 2.6 inches, and although I didn't have any important letters in my mail—the moisture to the parched lands of this area was pure GOLD WATER.
