Direct mail advertising hits the postal "file 13" in the front lobby most of the time. The Texas Press Association has determined, by survey, that 53 per cent of circulars go the same route. On top of the facts above, four out of ten people receiving direct mail are annoyed by it.

This is National Fire Prevention Week and also National Highway Week. We salute the local VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT and our HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT people on their respective weeks.

The Department of Agriculture has reported that Americans smoked 16 billion fewer cigarettes during the first half of this year than in the comparable period of 1963. That was a 6.5 decline. Cigar sales, on the other hand, increased 12 per cent.

Political and personal relations of former ATTY. GENERAL ROBERT KENNEDY and LYNDON JOHNSON have practically ceased. BOBBY KENNEDY never thought much of JOHNSON in the first place. Mutual friends say their relationship was born through political necessity and was never warm, and now has cooled almost to the point of non-communication. Of course we all know that KENNEDY is not speaking for JOHNSON in the presidential campaign. He stands a good chance of being elected U. S. Senator from New York and if KENNEDY wins, you can look for him to oppose LBJ for the Democratic nomination in 1968, even if LBJ is elected this year. If BOBBY KENNEDY does not win in N. Y. then SENATOR EDWARD KENNEDY of Massachusetts will be the likely Democratic opposition to LYNDON JOHNSON in 1968, if he wins in 1964 over GOLDWATER. Anyway the cat hops, you can look for a clash between the KENNEDYS and the JOHNSONS four years from now. If GOLDWATER wins next month that will be the end of LBJ's career and will undoubtedly set BOBBY's timetable back eight years until 1972. It is also interesting to note that MRS. JACKIE KENNEDY is having nothing to do with the LBJ campaign. Observers know that many of the KENNEDY Democrats are defecting to GOLDWATER.

The editor wishes to send a personal message of sympathy to the family of the late C. E. CROW. The Stanton citizen resided in our community for 36 years. MR. CROW was a true and loyal subscriber and reader of the county newspaper. We treasure those early morning conversations we used to have with him when he worked at the courthouse and when duty called us down to the news office early—long before many Stantonites awakened. A good soldier has answered the final call.

Mr. Batton was introduced by Claude LeMond, program chairman of the month. "God Created All Things," was the topic discussed by Mr. Batton. The speaker declared that it is easier to believe the Bible which stated, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth" than it is to believe the theories of men. He pointed out that men must be careful to present theories as theories rather than facts.

Stanton White, president, presided at the meeting. The invocation was given by Owen Kelly. Bob Priddy and Bill Decker were introduced as guests. The Reporter Offers Free News Letter

The Martin County Chamber of Commerce is experiencing serious difficulty in operating and that statement of fact has been stated by those interested in the preservation of the organization.

Two recent community meetings have been held in an attempt to spark interest in the Chamber of Commerce. Both sessions were held in the basement of the Methodist Church. Approximately 25 persons attended the first Monday meeting and about 19 attended the called meeting the past Monday night.

Chamber President Jim Wheeler has presided at both meetings. He frankly stated, on both occasions, that the purpose of the assemblies was to "offer an invitation for each and every one present to give suggestions and advice on just what they expect from the Chamber, financially and otherwise."

Some of those present responded to his invitation, at both meetings.

One lady present suggested the need for recreational facilities for the youth of the area and she reminded the group that "we have nothing to keep our children at home."

A gentleman present suggested that we "can never entice industry to Stanton until proper school facilities are provided."

Another person present suggested that maybe a monthly bulletin would aid. A committee was set up on this.

The editor of The Stanton Reporter was not present, due to previous commitments, at the first meeting. He was present at the second meeting.

Neal Estes, editor of The Stanton Reporter, and long and faithful backer of all Chamber of Commerce programs, both on the local and regional level, issued this statement, which should be welcomed by the Chamber of Commerce today.

"The Stanton Reporter will print absolutely free of charge an attractive, adequate news letter, and will also print all other office supplies needed to assist the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

"We printed, free of charge, all pledge cards, and other printing used when the Martin County Library was being proposed.

"We used the advertising and news columns of The Stanton Reporter to help reopen the local hospital and made two trips to Austin at our own personal expense to do so.

"Therefore, it is a genuine pleasure to furnish to the Chamber of Commerce, in their hour of financial crisis, the supplies, including the free printing of an individual news letter to be mailed to the present members of the organization."

President Wheeler concluded the last Monday evening meeting with an invitation to those present and to all others in the community to contact him about any questions, suggestions, or anything else designed to aid the Chamber in this undoubtedly brief crisis.

The Chamber of Commerce is a business. It is a good business. But a business with only $14 left in the bank must necessarily seek better support. That support can come from the payment of delinquent dues, and new memberships, a better balanced budget and possible reductions in operational expenses.

In any case, the prize winning community newspaper, and it's editor have moved in at the bedside of the Martin (Continued on page 8)

J. Edgar Hoover Writes

WANTED: YOUNG PEOPLE TO HELP BURY AMERICA. OPENINGS FOR FALLBEARERS OF TRUTH AND GRAVE DIGGERS OF DEMOCRACY. NO PRIOR EXPERIENCE NECESSARY.

If communism advertised its true aims in this manner, it would become a dusty cobweb-covered doctrine untouched by young Americans steeped in a heritage of liberty and freedom. But the treachery of communism does not permit such a factual recruiting poster.

A record number of young people are now entering college classrooms to engage in one of man's most noble pursuits: the search for truth through the acquisition of knowledge. In America, this endeavor is as honored as the freedoms which make it possible. It is an undeniable fact that under communism, these freedoms do not exist. Communism stipulates the "truth" its scholars must embrace and spreads its venomous lies and distortions through any available medium.

This academic year will undoubtedly see intensive Communist Party efforts to erect its newest facade on the Nation's campuses to draw young blood from the vampire which is international communism. In its continuing drive to attract young Americans, the Communist Party USA (CPUSA), spawned a new national Marxist youth organization in June, 1964—the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America.

Top Communist Party functionaries decided in October, 1963, that additional measures should be taken to recruit young citizens. Now, one year later, by mandate of CPUSA General Secretary Gus Hall, the true face of communism has another mask to wear—a new disguise calculated to dupe unwary youth.

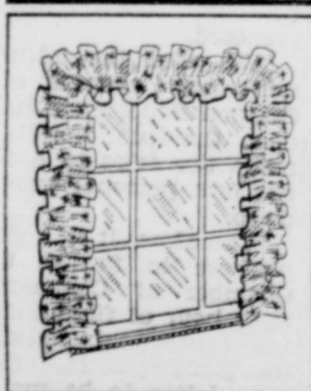

As an example of communist deception in action, the DuBois Clubs chose as their official insignia a half white, half black circle encompassing a white hand and a black hand under a dove. Thus the symbols of unity, brotherhood, and peace wave as a banner for an ideology that countenances discord, hate, and violence.

This organization and its communist parent would have us believe that communism has only one hand—the extended, open hand. But a look over their shoulder sees the other hand clasping the Berlin wall and squeezing freedom's breath from enslaved millions. It is this duplicity that is difficult for young Americans to comprehend. If our young citizens turn an objective, analytical searchlight on this ideology and its organizational arms, they will understand communism for what it is—a materialistic, godless dogma dedicated to world domination.

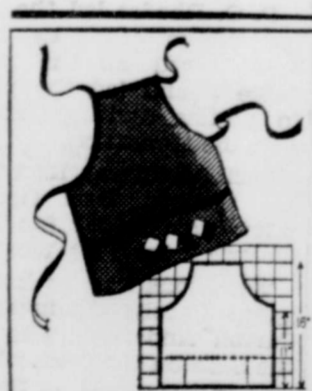

By spreading its poison through young veins, gangrenous communism is attempting to render the future America a quadruple amputee—a nation without freedom of speech, press, assembly, and religion. The youth of this Nation, armed with the scalpel of truth, can and must cure this disease from the body of America.

Against Poverty Since 1776

The fight against poverty did not begin with the President's message to Congress in January—it was launched in 1776 by the signing of the Declaration of Independence. By proclaiming that the rights of man were inviolate because they were God given, not a grant from the state, this nation began the greatest and most successful battle against poverty in all history.

The key to our success is freedom. Freedom to choose an occupation, freedom to our own property, freedom to succeed or fail, freedom to select those who govern. These freedoms give everyone the opportunity to improve his position, and, fired with this incentive, most people are waging their own individual campaign against poverty.

No, we have not completely eliminated poverty; but compared to any other nation our success is outstanding. The Socialist Manifesto of Karl Marx was a declaration of war against poverty but the method of attack prescribed was the exact opposite of the formula followed in the United States. Many nations have tried to obtain "social justice" but following the Socialist pattern of a government-managed economy to equalize rewards—not opportunity. The Russian revolution of 1917 gave birth to the dictatorship of the proletariat but the slave state method of eliminating want has kept living standards low in Russia for all but the Communist elite.

Swedish socialism is, at best, a peasantry which has stifled initiative and encouraged moral decay. The Swedish brand of Socialism is the same kind advocated by the ADA. It is interesting to remember here and now that Minnesota is largely populated by people of Swedish origin. It is likewise interesting to note that Hubert Horatio Humphrey is a senator from Minnesota, an original member of the ADA, and in case Lyndon Johnson is removed from the public scene by some act of God, would become the chief executive of this nation.

If government should succeed in dividing everything equally according to need, might it not also succeed in eliminating the most important defense against want and misery—the fear of poverty.

Bible Comment—

Tolerance Is A Vital Part Of Christianity

In one reads the earlier history of many churches, the impression spreads that there were individuals whose religion consisted chiefly in the delight that they took in disciplining others. In general it may be said that the church has been far readier to adopt Paul's suggestions about discipline than it has been to put into practice Paul's much important teaching concerning love as the greatest thing in the world.

A good cause is never well served in intolerant attitudes. There is such a thing as being intemperate, even in our advocacy of temperance.

At a temperance convention was heard the loud and raucous voice of a rather intolerant man who was haranguing the crowd. My friend, a total abstainer and strongly opposed to the liquor traffic, said to me, "I never hear that in a n advocate temperance without feeling like going out and having a drink."

If a man so thoroughly devoted to the cause could be re-acted upon in that way, what must have been the effect upon others? The temperance cause has been served most ably by those who have first of all practiced temperance, and who in their total life and conduct have manifested the beauty and graces of Christian living.

In his letter to Titus, Paul sets forth the things which, as he puts it, "befit the sound doctrine." It is a plea for temperance, sober mindedness, love and patience, for well disciplined, noble living, the sort of thing that will never bring shame upon ourselves or disgrace upon the church. It is as we make all these constructive virtues evident in our lives that we exert the truest influence on others, while attaining what is best for ourselves.

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses without settling the Viet Nam problem this week.)

Dear editor:

I guess you've noticed that Viet Nam has crowded out the farm problem as an issue in the Presidential race and I think I know the reason why.

Nobody knows the answer to either problem but Viet Nam is a lot farther away and if nobody has the answer to a bunch of problems, the one furthest away is the one to pick.

Speaking of the farm problem, I read the other day that a political speaker campaigning for one of the main candidates said his man didn't have the answer to the farm problem but if elected he would appoint a committee of leading farmers to sit down and figure out a workable program.

I don't believe the candidate knew this man was going to say that.

In the first place, if any farmers, leading ones or not, knew what kind of program would work they'd have suggested it long ago. The last thing a farmer would want to do is offer a solution to the farm problem himself. It's one thing to wake up every morning mad at Washington, and another thing to wake up mad at yourself.

Why do you think the Secretary of Agriculture is always somebody who's not a farmer? You're not going to get a farmer to go in there and hunt for an answer in Washington when he couldn't find one on his farm.

You take me. I don't know what the answer to Viet Nam is, but I'd rather try to tell you than to tell you what the answer is to the farm problem. It's true I don't know what's going on in Viet Nam, but what makes you think I know what's going on this Martin County grass farm?

Things are a lot more comfortable when you leave the Viet Nam problem to the farmers and the farm problem to Viet Nam.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Higher Teacher Salaries Favored By State Board

The State Board of Education recommended higher salaries for Texas teachers Saturday.

Without specifying a dollar amount, the board adopted a recommendation to the legislature "that action be taken to provide improved compensation for Texas teachers."

The pay proposal was one of 11 adopted without discussion.

C. Ray Holbrook, Jr., member from Texas City, said he would submit a minority report with more recommendations later.

The Texas State Teachers Association has set a legislative goal of a $45 per month boost in the state minimum required teacher salary.

The board also:

- Agreed to undertake studies necessary before a decision can be reached on a request for a junior college district in the Galveston area.
- Another major recommendation was to redefine "scholastic" to include only children in average daily school attendance.
- The board received a petition to create the Union junior college district composed of the Dickinson, High Island, Galveston, Hitchcock, LaMarque, Santa Fe and Texas City school districts. The local survey committee's report indicated that the school would have 1,200 students in the 1960-70 school year.
- Total plant cost for the junior college was estimated at $3,315,000.
- The survey said the area to be served is rapidly increasing in population.
- Betty Langston visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Langston, over the weekend. Betty attends Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Burley, Idaho, Herald Bulletin: "... we are still free people ... we still have a choice in selecting our representatives ... and ... as long as this condition continues to exist, we can always accomplish with ballots — instead of bullets — whatever changes in government may become necessary."

Hallettsville, Texas, Tribune: "Our 'most outstanding domestic problem' is created by controls driving small farmers out and piling them in big cities. ... Must not, therefore, our national policy be to help those people stay on the farms, instead of driving them out? There is no greater fallacy in that respect than that farming should be left only to the big farmers as more efficient — so forgetting that farming is also a way of life. What must count above all are not the machines and efficiency but the people."

Colleges Jammed In Texas

The World War II baby crop is pouring onto the campus, and Texas colleges and universities are jammed this fall with an estimated quarter of a million students.

Never before have so many sought degrees in the state.

Preliminary figures show that nearly two out of five youngsters of college age (38 per cent) have signed up for higher education.

Most Texas colleges posted record high enrollments in September. Overcrowding is common.

The University of Texas, the largest school in the South, again leads the state in enrollments with 23,800.

In second place is the University of Houston with 18,000, followed by Texas Tech with almost 14,000. Other institutions with more than 10,000 students are North Texas State University, 11,813, and Arlington State College, 11,500.

Other Figures: Besides Texas and Texas Tech, other Southwest Conference figures are:

Arkansas 9,000; Texas A&M 8,300; Southern Methodist (counting downtown) 7,700; Texas Christian 6,855; Baylor 6,000 and Rice 2,289. Rice has a sharply limited enrollment.

Counting both state and private institutions, enrollment at Texas colleges and universities is expected to jump 10 per cent over last fall's total.

The Texas Commission on Higher Education says the percentage of college-age people going to school will continue to grow. The commission estimates that by 1972, the Methodist Church Activities

The Women's Society of the First Methodist Church met for their regular meeting at the church Monday, October 5.

Mrs. James Jones presented the opening discussion of the continued study, "The United States and the New Nations." She also gave the devotional.

The hymn "Help Some One Today" was sung by the group. The situation in China was discussed by Mrs. Dewey Williams.

Brief reports on other new nations were given by Mrs. James Biggs, Mrs. Jesse Burns, and Mrs. C. R. LeMond.

Mrs. Burns dismissed the meeting with prayer. Next Monday the roll call will be answered with a brief current event related with the study.

Those present were: Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Jesse Burns, Mrs. C. R. LeMond, Mrs. Calvin Jones, Mrs. H. B. Smith, Mrs. John Poe, Mrs. Evelyn Woodard, Mrs. Dewey Williams, Mrs. W. H. Butler, Mrs. O. E. Bryan, Mrs. James Biggs, and Mrs. Howard McReynolds.

Texas collegiate population will soar to 365,000, an increase of more than 100,000 on the campus over this year.

The war baby boom can be seen clearly in a look at the number of high school graduates in Texas:

In 1963, it was 87,640; in 1964, it was 97,141 and in 1965, the Texas Education Agency estimates, it will be 115,967.

Junior colleges also are being swamped. Examples are Kilgore Junior College, with 1,505 this fall compared with 1,232 a year ago; Temple Junior College, 987 and 750; Amarillo College, 2,280 and 2,106.

Responsible leadership for all America

—Political ad paid for by Texas Johnson-Humphrey Campaign, Hunter McLean, Chairman

Just the other day I watched a fisherman on the Guadalupe River in Central Texas wading along quietly, casting his bait into likely looking spots.

Offhand it appeared as if he was angling for bass. But lo and behold, instead, he was fishing for channel catfish.

His is a type of cat fishing often overlooked. It is a fascinating, skillful method of angling. In a way it is like fishing for bass. Only real difference is the bait. Use of natural bait instead of artificial!

Every river of any size in Texas holds channel catfish. A great majority of these are taken on trotlines and drop-lines. Many of these fish succumb to sporting methods. But the average fisherman looks on catfishing as sitting in one spot, fishing a bait on the bottom and waiting for a cat to wander along and pick it up.

When drift fishing for cats, you float a bait into likely looking spots and try to make the bait appear as lifelike as possible to an unsuspecting cat.

Proper weapon for this type of fishing is a spinning or spincast outfit. Rod used is limber enough to let even a pound-sized cat strut its stuff.

Yet it's heavy enough, with ample backbone, to subdue even the five-pounders. This type of rig not only provides more sport, but allows the angler to hit more likely spots with his bait and to fish it more lifelike once he has the bait in the water. Small-diameter monofilament lines are all but invisible in the water and a bait can be fished without too much resistance and undue drag.

There are several ways to drift a bait to cats. Most common, perhaps, is with some sort of bobber, or cork as it is often called. A No. 1/0 hook goes on the line, a split-shot sinker is added about a foot above the hook and a bobber is snapped on at the appropriate depth.

This rig seems simple enough, but you'd be amazed at how many fishermen go at it wrong.

For one thing, they use hooks which are too large. Smaller hooks will result in more fish. Even a small hook will adequately handle a big cat on tackle that "gives."

A limber rod and a light-weight line will not allow the fish to get much leverage to break off.

Another mistake is to use a bobber that is too big. Employ the smallest bobber possible. This way you'll need a small sinker, to carry the bait down and stabilize the bobber. The small weight allows the bait to fan around more and appear alive in the water.

A slip cork works best with a spinning outfit. This is the cork with the hole through it. It slips freely up and down the line.

Tie a matchstick in the line where you want the cork to stop. When you cast, the bobber slips down against the hook, making casting easier and more accurate. But once in the water, sinker and hook slide down until the matchstick comes to rest against the cork.

There are many baits which will work in this kind of fishing. My favorite is ordinary earthworms. Only fault with worm is that small fish often bother them. When this happens, hellgrammites, grasshopper or frozen shrimp are better.

Walk along a stream and fish places where cats hang out. Such spots are below riffles, along undercut banks or in the calm water behind a mid-stream rock where the current cuts around it. Allow the bobber to drift right through the spot. It will carry the bait along as if it were being washed naturally downstream.

Another way to fish is with no weight at all. This commonly is called "free fishing." No sinker is added. Bait is carried down only by the weight of the hook. When the current catches the bait, it sort of tumbles and flows along, like the real thing caught in moving water.

This system often works quite effectively right after a rain when the river is coming up. With a worm bait, it appears the high waters have washed the morsel out of earthen banks. Few catfish can resist a worm that comes tumbling along in the current.

Often, however, it is difficult to get a bait down this way. Particularly if the cats are feeding near the bottom.

If you want your bait to go deep, add a single split-shot sinker about a foot up the line. This rig tends to foul on underwater obstructions so it is best used along smooth places. It works effectively where current washes over a sandbar and into a deeper pool.

Cats lie in wait in the deeper water and when the bait comes washing through the riffles they move in and suck it down.

Idea in this fishing is to move a lot and hit many likely looking spots. When a cat

Mrs. Happy Rockefeller Loses Fight For Children's Custody

Mrs. Nelson A. (Happy) Rockefeller lost her fight for custody of the four children she gave up to marry the governor of New York.

State Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Gagliardi, who heard the case behind closed doors last month, refused to return custody of the children to Mrs. Rockefeller.

Gagliardi said he found no grounds for altering the Sun Valley, Idaho, divorce terms of April 1, 1963, awarding primary custody to the former husband, Dr. James S. Murphy by mutual agreement. Mrs. Rockefeller retained liberal visiting rights under the agreement.

The court is "of the opinion that the best interest of the children will be promoted by allowing them to remain in the custody of their father," the judge said.

Mrs. Rockefeller filed her suit after Murphy's remarriage June 10. She alleged that the custody arrangements were affecting the children's health.

Gagliardi ruled in a 4 1/2-page opinion: "The court finds that neither the health nor the welfare of the children is being adversely affected by reason of the fact that the father has custody of them. He has succeeded very well in his role and the children are normal, healthy and contented. The evidence adduced does not warrant a change in the custodial arrangement which the parties themselves concluded."

The children are Malinda, 4, who has been staying with Mrs. Rockefeller since Murphy married the former Victoria Thompson; and Carol, 8; Margaretta, 11, and James, 13, who are with their father.

Unemployed Rate Rises In September

The Labor Department reported seasonal and expected changes in the nation's employed rate in September, with an unemployed rate of 5.2 per cent, compared to 5.1 in August.

Employment and unemployment both declined from August, mainly because approximately 1.7 million teen-agers left their summer jobs to return to school.

The figures given in the regular monthly briefing showed:

Unemployment rate — 5.2 per cent in September, compared to 5.1 per cent in August and 5.5 per cent in September, 1963.

Total employed — 70.8 million in September, 72.1 in August and 69.5 million in September, 1963.

Total unemployed — 3.3 million, down 350,000 from August and down 200,000 from September, 1963. The September total was the lowest for that month since 1959.

These are the last job figures before the Nov. 3 presidential election in which President Johnson is banking on his prosperity theme. The next monthly statistics are due Nov. 5.

In Thursday's briefing, Harold Goldstein, statistician for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, noted that the jobless rate for married men rose from 2.6 per cent in August to 2.9 per cent in September.

"I wouldn't send up danger signals at this time but we will have to watch that," he said.

York, Nebr., News-Times: "The precocious political plans of some Massachusetts teen-agers appear to have been nipped in the bud. The youngsters — including a girl — decided to run for the state's House of Representatives on the basis of a loophole they found in the law which neglected to place an age limitation on independent candidates. . . . State officials have

Q and A YOUR SAVINGS BOND QUIZ

(Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.)

Q—What evidence of payment of just debts or expenses of last illness and burial should the widow send VA?

A — The widow's certified statement showing the nature, amount, date and person or firm to whom such payments were made will be accepted as evidence of payment unless records later received raise doubt as to the validity of her statement.

Q—I am a peacetime veteran with service-connected injuries from an auto accident. I have loss of use of my left limb. Am I eligible for the VA allowance of $1,600 toward the purchase of a automobile?

A—No. This benefit is provided for wartime veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict periods.

Q — My Government Life Insurance policy has a loan value. How much can I borrow? Would it be to my advantage to surrender the policy for a greater amount of money than the loan value?

A—You may borrow 94 percent of the cash reserve of your policy. This is indicated in the table in the policy. Once your Government Life Insurance policy has been cash surrendered, there is no more insurance of this type available to you.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

Last year some 100,000 students in the Dallas Internal Revenue Service District learned how to prepare a simple income tax return through the free "Internal Revenue Service "Teaching Taxes" Course. Teachers in our local schools are in the process of sending in their orders for this material at the present time. It might be smart for some of our tax-ignorant adults to sneak in the back door and listen. Students who have had the Teaching Taxes course make only one-fourth as many errors as their parents. It seems that we need a little additional education.

"REMEMBER THE ALAMO" -- the cry that fanned Texas' defeat to victory!

On March 1, 1836, thirty men from Gonzales broke through the lines of Mexican Army Commander Santa Anna to increase the Alamo's defenses to 187. This little band of heroes held the Alamo against overwhelming odds for five more days in one of the most heroic struggles to be found in the annals of man.

On March 6 Santa Anna with over 4,000 troops stormed the Alamo, and the last of the heroic band of Texans died fighting. Names like William Barret Travis, James Bowie, Davy Crockett and James B. Bonham became immortal.

The massacre at the Alamo inspired General Sam Houston's men at the battle of San Jacinto. Crying "Remember the Alamo!", the Texans sprang upon Santa Anna's soldiers and in a swift bloody fight won Texas its freedom.

Dallas Apparel Mart To Open Officially On October 24th

More than 15,000 buyers embracing a 12-state area will converge on Dallas for the official opening of the $15-million Apparel Mart, 2300 Stemmons Freeway, on October 24th. The spring market which marks the occasion will run through October 30th.

Trammell Crow, president of The Apparel Mart, Dallas, states, "This building was designed for the mutual benefit of exhibitor and customer. It is the fashion industry's own building, providing it with a significant and appropriate place to transact business. Spacious showrooms, personalized decor, and effective lighting have been combined to set off fashions to their best advantage. Wide corridors and a courtyard filled with living trees and flowers provide for the buyer the right atmosphere for relaxed concentration."

Buyers attending the Women's and Children's Spring Market will select from more than 1,500 lines in 1,921,632 square feet of spaciousness which covers four floors. At three weeks until market-time count-down, occupancy stands at 250 tenants on both permanent and mark-time basis. Of The Apparel Mart's 1,250 showrooms, 350 are reserved for market-time use and will be occupied by members of American Fashion Association. A Courtyard wing of 50 suites is reserved for the southwestern showing of designer apparel in elegant settings; to complement these exclusive designs, exhibitors have a choice of four interiors—Spanish Contemporary, New York Sophisticate, Louis XVI, and Rural English.

Buyers attending market will find new convenience both inside and outside the new Apparel Mart. Five thousand free parking spaces surround the building to provide no-time-limit parking. Inside 12 escalators will move traffic quickly between floors; front and rear elevators supplement the escalators. There are comfortable buyer lounges on each floor, and food

'Scar Face' Nix On Lone Whooper

For the general public, it may be okay to call "it" Old Scar Face.

But the bird watchers won't have any such appellation for the advance guard of the annual whooping crane migration which was located first in Oklahoma, scar on the neck and all.

The Fish and Wildlife Service people refer to the feathered sojourner as "it" because determining the sex of one of the large white birds has puzzled the observers for a long time.

Anyway, the description of the lone tourist precisely fits the description marking the last 1964 spring departure from the Aransas Wildlife Refuge on the Gulf Coast.

Only, be careful about any "Old Scar Face" remark. Your next door neighbor may be a bird watcher. To those faithful observers, the whooping crane symbolizes the fight to preserve all wildlife and demands semi-reverent treatment.

Midge Control Helps Wildlife

Wildlife, notably quail and possibly pheasants, will benefit if Panhandle farmers heed the recommendations of the High Plains Research Foundation and avoid turning under grain sorghum stubble immediately following harvest.

Recent agricultural research, according to the Parks and Wildlife Department, has shown that such plowing practices provide gnat-sized wedge populations with a warm protective layer of earth from which they emerge each spring to wreak havoc in grain fields.

The tiny midge, which destroys four to seven million dollars worth of grain sorghum yearly, cannot survive winter in maize fields if stubble is left standing exposing the insects to cold, dry Panhandle weather.

The department pointed out that thanks to sound research, grain stubble left standing all winter will accomplish two purposes: control the restrictive midge and help provide winter food and cover for wildlife.

Lake Pauline To Open October 15

Lake Pauline near Quanah, Texas, will be officially reopened to fishing October 15 after a 16-month closed season.

In May of 1963, fish populations in Lake Pauline were totally eradicated by inland fisheries crews because rough fish heavily outnumbered desirable game fish.

Immediately following treatment in 1963, the lake was stocked with balanced numbers of catfish, bass and crappie. But two years of extremely dry weather sharply reduced the lake's water level and fisheries biologists recommended an early opening date so anglers could relieve overcrowding fish conditions by harvesting some of the one to two pound game fish.

Fisheries crews report catching bass in check nets that weighed two and three-fourths pounds, and blue and channel catfish that weighed one pound.

McCamey Club Defeats Local 'B' Eleven

The McCamey Badgers defeated Stanton Buffaloes "B" team in a Thursday night game. The game was played on the home field.

The final score was 18-0. The boys showed a lot of improvement in their game defensively. The boys got inside the 20 yard line several times, but had bad luck on losing the ball.

Coach Roy Dodds stated that Bobby Holland, Steve Hall, and George Smith played an outstanding game.

McCamey's "B" team has won all their games for the last two years. The Stanton Junior Varsity will travel to O'Donnell Thursday, October 8. The fans are urged to attend the games and support the team.

Permian Basin Petroleum Group To Meet

Dr. Arthur A. Smith, vice president and economist, of the First National Bank in Dallas, Texas, will be the principal speaker for PPPA's third annual meeting, to be held November 17, 1964, at the Midland Country Club according to a report from Russell J. Ramsland, committee chairman for the program.

Advance registrations will be taken and registering at the meeting will begin at 5:30 p.m. followed by the President's Reception at 6:00, with the dinner to be served at 7:00. Election of officers and directors will be held prior to Dr. Smith's talk.

Dr. Smith, outstanding in an elite and limited group, will bring to the Permian Basin both a complete familiarity with his subject and a wide knowledge of the oil industry. Formerly professor of economics and head of the economics department, Southern Methodist University in Dallas (1938-59), Dr. Smith joined the First National Bank in 1950. THE STANTON REPORTER closes one day weekly—SUNDAY—so please do not attempt to bring news to the office, phone it in, or call the editor at his home on this day of religious worship and rest. We would respectfully ask that our friends please transact their business with the newspaper during the week days from the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Our employes do not come on duty until 8 a.m. so there is not need in trying to telephone in news before that hour during the week.

AS the days come and go the circulation figures of THE STANTON REPORTER continue to climb. We are now at an all-time peak and new subs are coming in daily. We are ever amazed at the many new subscribers we have picked up in the past four months—particularly during the hot months last summer. It is likewise interesting to note that our news stand sales are leaping. It might surprise some of our readers to know that STANTON WALGREEN DRUG has sold as high as 225 papers a week on occasions and THRIFT-WAY GROCERY and FRIENDLY FOOD always sell from 120 to 200 weekly. All of this counts for extra circulation—bonus circulation one might say—for our advertisers.

EFFECTIVE with this issue, our regular, paid up, mail subscribers will receive the papers through the proper channels first. To encourage more on-the-mailing-list subscribers our papers will not go on sale on news stands until Thursdays in the future.

WE want to acknowledge some of our new and renewal subscriptions this week. We issued receipts to the following: AARON DONELSON, LOWELL HAMILTON, C. F. UNDERWOOD, W. A. DOUGLAS, JESSE BURNS, REV. W. H. UHLMAN, SAM H. STAMPS, W. D. McWHORTER, GEORGE W. PRIBYLA, WALTER GRAVES, TULL RAY LOUDER, GORDON C. STONE, L. G. ADKINS, WAYNE PETREE, BUDDY ROGERS, F. L. BASS, STANTON FHA, and DUN & BRADSTREET.

The editor received a letter from one of this city's better known and admired young ladies this week. NANCY ROBBETT, daughter of MR. and MRS. ED ROBBETT wrote in from TEXAS TECH and ordered THE OLE RELIABLE for this school term. She wrote: "The Reporter helps me to know what's going on at home, and your paper is really looked forward to." I'll sure get the current issue on the road NANCY and good luck to you and the other students in TECH from this county.

THE community has several nice events and a couple of outstanding holiday periods coming up during the next few weeks. The annual CAPON SHOW, always an appreciated event is due to come on strong this year in November. Then we have Thanksgiving Day and of course Christmas to look forward to. We also have several Hallowe'en School Carnivals scheduled for late October. Speaking of the Capon Show, we visited our locker at CAP ROCK the other day and discovered two capons purchased from the boys last year. THE STANTON REPORTER has always been an enthusiastic backer of this annual show both with publicity and purchase.

WE have a very keen observer over in Midland and a man with a lot of wit as an associate. We received some correspondence from him the past week addressed to NEAL McESTES. Reason: We have three people working in the office here at the newspaper who are of Scotch-Irish origin. Their names: M. O. McKAY, ALTON McCORMICK, and DOROTHY McQUERRY. So MIKE COOLEY just put a MC on my name too. Pretty cagey MIKE.

A lot of interest in baseball is due to be expressed by fans from coast to coast this week and possibly part of next week. The ST. LOUIS CARDINALS and NEW YORK YANKEES are engaged in World Series battle. It should be apparent to our readers how we stand. By-the-way, nearly everyone expressing an opinion in these parts is also a RED BIRD fan. The odds favor the YANKEES but our coffee bets are down on the CARDS.

CLOSER LAW COOPERATION URGED

Carr Completes Oswald Report

Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr presented to Gov. John Connally a report on the Kennedy assassination, and the two agreed to work for more cooperation between federal and state law officers. Carr's report noted that the FBI did not notify Dallas police of Lee Harvey Oswald's presence in the city or of his background, and recommended that federal, state and local officers meet to improve information exchange. Carr gave Connally 18 volumes of testimony, photos and data relating to the Kennedy assassination, including a 4,000-word summary. Carr's report concurred with the main findings of the Warren Commission that Oswald killed Kennedy and Dallas Policeman J. D. Tippit and wounded Connally. However, Carr's report and statements to newsmen stressed that the Dallas police did not have the benefit of FBI knowledge of Oswald and his background. The report praised the investigative efforts of Dallas officials and "their responsible acts of leadership and courage in guiding a great city through this crushing experience." The report concluded that aggressive news coverage and security deficiencies strained "the orderly procedures of the rule of law" and recommended newsmen-attorney conferences in pre-trial coverage. Carr explained to newsmen how he and his special counsel, Robert Storey of Dallas and Leon Jaworski of Houston, felt about the FBI-Dallas relationship: "We mean we don't feel the Dallas police can be justly criticized or should accept the full responsibility for the events of Nov. 22 because of the fact that the Dallas police had not been advised . . . by those who knew, namely the FBI, that Oswald was in Dallas and, indeed, was working in a building along the parade route." Connally said the Texas Department of Public Safety "at all times has tried to cooperate with local officials" and has worked with the FBI in the past. "But there have been times, at least with respect to much information passed on to the federal officers, that it is something of a one-way street," Connally said. Connally added there is no reason why Col. Homer Garrison, director of the DPS, and FBI officials could not try to "work out a better means of communication." Carr's other recommendation of the state bar and the news media work out a "fair and satisfactory relationship designed to prevent future disorder and confusion" such as that after the assassination.

It's The Law

THE LAWYER'S ROLE

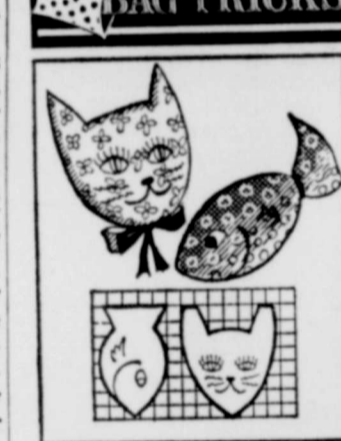

There was a time when the method of trying lawsuits was so technical and strange to the average layman that the lawyer was considered a behind-the-scenes manipulator. Now, since the public has come to know more about trial procedure, this erroneous conception largely has been corrected. The attorney is pictured for what he really is—a hard-working fellow who presents a case in a manner designed to fully and legitimately protect his client's interests. The lawyer's duty starts with his first contact with his client. When advised of the controversy, the usual questions his client thoroughly to determine all of the facts involved. His first duty is to objectively evaluate the facts involved. He immediately advises his client to tell everything. Facts and circumstances which may seem trivia to the client can be of great value to the lawyer in the trial of the case.

The attorney then fits the law to the fact involved, and determines the theory under which lawsuit or controversy must be approached. It is surprising to the layman to learn that no two cases are alike; and, that nearly always it is necessary for a lawyer to "hit the books" to find a case or decision which governs the particular principle involved. This is sometimes a long and arduous task depending, of course, upon the intricacies of the factual and legal situation. Quite frequently the lawyer will find it necessary to take statements of opposing parties or of witnesses to determine what facts they know that will confront him later in the trial. He is permitted to do this under our rules at any time before the trial. He also immediately starts planning his strategy, and determining the main points, factual and legal, upon which he will rely.

The next step in nearly every instance is negotiations between the parties which may or may not lead to a settlement. This usually takes considerable time, ingenuity and diplomacy. As a result many cases are settled out of court. If the case is not settled, the attorney then prepares for trial. The case may be won or lost in trial preparation. One of the most important aspects of a trial is the jury. The fate of the lawsuit is determined by 12 persons drawn from different walks of life, of different interests, and frequently of difference race, sex, and nationality. The lawyer presents his client's case to the jury through examination of witnesses and the introduction of other evidence. Based on this evidence the jury decides what are the facts of the case and renders its verdict in accordance with their findings. (The newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

A letter to our Congressman from JOE B. PHILLIPS

The Hon. George Mahon
Congressman
19th District
1211 New House Office Building
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Congressman:

Because of your busy schedule and the fact that you are unable to be in the district during much of the campaign, I am taking this opportunity of requesting your convictions upon some of the vital issues which concern the voters in our area. I want to acquaint you with mine.

I believe that the power of God is paramount to the freedom of man, and that our founding fathers created a government to preserve the God given rights of man.

Because I believe in these rights, I think that the children in our public schools must be allowed to pray, each according to the dictates of his own conscience.

I have the conviction that we should uphold the separation of church and state, not the separation of the state from God.

I believe that the words "Under God" should remain in the Pledge of Allegiance and the phrase "In God We Trust" on our coins. It is my opinion that Chaplains should be sustained in the military service and in Congress.

The U. S. Government is confronted with one of the most critical periods of its history, as it faces Godless, atheistic communism. As God fearing citizens of this nation, we must stand up and be counted in this time of crisis.

Very truly yours,
JOE PHILLIPS
