By NEAL ESTES

Our mail brought an important note from Big Spring this week. The District Social Security office is in a new location at 1009 Gregg Street, Big Spring.

Good Ole Summertime returned awhile last Thursday afternoon and temperatures roared back to near 80. Earlier last Tuesday morning an area radio station had broadcast another "severe" sandstorm for the county. Well, we can't always hit the nail on the head weatherwise. This blower was about like some of the so-called five day forecasts. Any old West Texas boy knows you can't predict the weather out here five days ahead of time.

Fans of the TEXAS TECH RED RAIDERS were disappointed to learn that the champions would not claim the title in the torrid SOUTHWESTERN CONFERENCE BASKETBALL RACE due to the ineligibility of a star player, NORMAN REUTHER. The league - leading RAIDERS withdrew "from consideration for the basketball championship this season" after the conference office discovered star forward REUTHER became scholastically ineligible at mid-term. But the loyal fans of TECH are very proud of them for the "honest error" they admitted, and next year with NORMAN REUTHER back again and other good players returning the championship might be won again.

The Texas Legislature handed GOV. JOHN CONNALLY what he said he wanted most last week - an 18-member board to coordinate the state's higher education. The members of the House and Senate also granted CONNALLY'S backers an additional 45 days to sell his teacher pay raise bill. No further action can be had on that proposition until in May. The House also adopted by a vote of 116 to 1 a resolution praising CONNALLY'S stand against the minimum hourly wage federal requirement for youth corps workers. Make no mistake about it - this is JOHN CONNALLY'S legislature. He has both the senate and house with him by heavy majorities.

J. R. YOUNG, Five Points, California, was in our office in person this week to renew his subscription to the paper. He is visiting relatives in Stanton and took time out to drop by the office and talk with us awhile. The state of California must really be a boomer. We've been out there but not recently. Perhaps we wouldn't recognize some of the places we visited 20 years ago. California is our number one state from a standpoint of population and from the looks of our mailing list it appears that several of the men and women out there now are transplanted Texans.

DR. ALLEN FISHER has announced the dates for the Spring Frolics, to be held at City Park in Stanton on May 1. Read his contribution to the newspaper under "Chamber Activities" in this issue. You will find it interesting and informative.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sale are attending the stock show in Houston this week.

Joanna Epley Enters Jaycee Beauty Pageant

Miss Joanna Epley, 19, of Stanton, is the second entrant in the Miss Diamondback Pageant being sponsored as part of this year's Rattlesnake Roundup.

The pageant is planned as

part of a dinner and dance at Big Spring Country Club on the evening of March 6. Miss Epley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Epley, Stanton. She has attended Harid-Simmons University, and is at present attending Howard County Junior College. Her sponsor is the Lass-O Club of HCJC.

She was also selected to Who's Who at HCJC, and is a member of Phi Theta Kappa Sorority. She was on the Dean's list at semesters in the Summa Cum Laude group. Joanna was chosen to represent the English Department of HCJC in a program of id-quotations on a Big Spring television program. She was a member of the 1963 graduating class of Stanton High School.

The Miss Diamondback Pageant will award the winning entrant with a $100 college scholarship, with the final judging to be of the top three contestants as part of the dinner-dance March 6.

Tickets to the evening program are being sold by members of the Jaycees, sponsors each year of the Rattlesnake Roundup. The roundup is planned for March 5, 6, and 7, at the Big Spring fairgrounds with deep-fried snake meat again to be offered the public at nominal prices.

Local Delegation Gains Promise Highway Engineer To Visit City

A delegation of Martin County citizens appeared before the Texas Highway Commission in Austin on February 25, and requested that Commission consider frontage roads abutting the new proposed Interstate 20 which is mapped to circle Stanton to the north.

The Highway Commission heard the petition, presented by County Attorney Roy Pickett, and advised the delegation they would send a highway engineer to Stanton to help work out the problems concerning the parallel roads and report back to the highway commission.

Those who appeared before the august body in Austin from Martin County included: County Judge Jim McCoy, W. W. Atchison, M. D. Coggin, Joe Froman, Roy Pickett, C. R. Crim, Beryl D. Clinton, S. Wheeler, Paige Elland, Bob Deavenport, A. G. Donelson, Terrell Pinkston, Glenn Madison, Coats Bentley, Clelan

Allison Takes Control Paper At Plainview

James N. Allison, Sr., West Texas publisher, Monday took control of the Plainview Daily Herald.

Transfer of 100 per cent of the stock was accomplished shortly before noon in a session with former major stockholders E. Q. Perry and Herbert Hilburn.

Allison took control of the Herald through Allison Communications, Inc., of which he is president.

He announced that no major changes in personnel or policy are now planned at the Plainview Daily Herald.

Allison, who has owned and published The Midland Reporter-Telegram almost 25 years, expressed great faith in the rich and growing Plainview region.

Perry, former president and general manager, had been with the Herald since 1929 and Hilburn, former vice-president and editor, since 1913.

Editor's Mail

U. S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT Internal Revenue Service Dallas, Texas 75201 February 23, 1965

Mr. Neal Estes Stanton Reporter Stanton, Texas

Dear Editor: "How much sales tax can I deduct on my tax return?" is, by a 4 to 1 margin, the biggest question we have throughout northern Texas. Eighty - two papers have printed this table one or more times for us already. We certainly appreciate the wonderful help that you have given us, but we need another printing now, and then a repeat about April 1.

We are sending you a new repro and/or mat in the hope that we haven't worn out the welcome mat at your house yet.

Sincerely yours, James C. Hodges, Chief Administration Division.

Mrs. Leta B. Eidson Retires As Postmaster

Mrs. Leta B. Eidson retired from her office as Postmaster at Stanton on February 28, 1965, after serving in that capacity for almost twenty-one years. She was installed as Postmaster of the Stanton post office March 29, 1944, but earlier had worked in the post office here in 1912-1915 as her first employment after graduating from high school.

Mrs. Eidson was appointed Postmaster during the presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Postmaster General at that time was Frank C. Walker.

During Mrs. Eidson's tenure in office, postal receipts went from the $8,000 mark, when Stanton was made a second-class post office, to over $36,000 recorded in 1964.

Actually, the most trying period for postal employees during the past twenty years was during the oil boom in 1951-1952 when there were not nearly enough boxes to accommodate all the population of Stanton, and many times the line waiting for general delivery mail reached to the door of the post office. This was quite a period of adjustment for the post office. (Continued on page 5)

West Texas Teachers Group To Meet Friday In Odessa

Public school students in 16 West Texas counties will have a holiday Friday as approximately 4,000 teachers and school administrators meet in Odessa for the 30th annual convention of West Texas Teachers Association.

A big general sessions meeting, special luncheon meetings, and section meetings and workshops await members of the association, which is also known as District IV of the Texas State Teachers Association.

West Texas counties from which the teachers will come are Andrews, Borden, Crane, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Glasscock, Howard, Loving, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Reagan, Seurry, Upton and Winkler.

Presiding at the convention will be association president, Mrs. LaRue Hutchinson, junior high school classroom teacher from Andrews. Vice-president is Paul Kantz of Midland, secretary is Mrs. Rosalee Huff of Kermit, and treasurer is M. O. Woolam of Andrews.

Ask And You'll Find It's All Arranged

There could not have been 20 more embarrassed men anywhere than the delegates from Martin County who called on the State Highway Commission Thursday on an "emergency" errand to ask for frontage roads on Interstate 20 around Stanton.

Since their appearance at the commission's monthly meeting was of the last-minute variety, commissioners Herb Petry, Jr. of Carrizo Springs and Jack Kulgen of Waco had not been briefed on their request.

Chairman Petry is usually quick to catch on to the nature of a highway request, but he seemed totally confused by Martin County Judge Jim McCoy's remark about the need for frontage roads, and even more confused when a county school superintendent Beryl Clinton started talking about the problems he would have getting school buses from the north side of the highway to the south side, where the school is without service roads.

Other convention leaders include state executive committee V. N. Keyes of Seminole, Sam M. Anderson of Big Spring, and Floyd McCarty of Odessa. Chairmen of district committees include Hubert Wheat of McCamey, Dr. C. L. Ainsworth of Big Spring, O. H. Pratt, Howard Butler and Louis Spain of Odessa, Dr. R. A. Montgomery and Mrs. Mabel Mize of Andrews, G. E. Thompson and Julian Dawson of Kermit, Jane Merrill of Colorado City, and Frank Barton of Wink.

The convention gets underway Thursday night with the 7:30 p.m. meeting of 160 special delegates who were elected on the basis of one delegate for every 25 teachers. The delegates will hear committee reports, consider resolutions, and elect officers for the next year.

At 9:30 a.m. Friday the approximately 4,000 members of the association will be in the general session to be held in the big Odessa High School fieldhouse, where the principal speaker will be Dr. Carl S. Winters, world traveler and lecturer and nationally known authority in crime prevention and rehabilitation.

Special luncheon meetings will also feature speakers who are authorities in particular areas. (Continued on page 5)

Deadlines Closing In On Candidates

Deadlines are closing in on prospective candidates for municipal and school board elections.

Time is up Thursday, March 4, for persons wishing to seek places on the county independent school district boards.

County Ex-officio School Superintendent Jim McCoy announced the following filings for the Stanton Independent School District Board: Glenn Madison, David Workman, Mrs. Louise Stallings, Dr. Jack Woodrow, and Gerald Hanson.

To date, no one has filed from the Flower Grove district, and only one candidate, Newell Tate, has filed from Grady.

The trustee elections will be held on the first Tuesday in April.

City Secretary Harvey White reported three candidates filing for place on the city council. They are: George Shelburne, Herbert Jones, and Juil Reid, incumbent, who is seeking reelection.

Two council seats are vacant in Stanton and two places on each of the school boards will have to be filled.

The city election will be held in the basement of the Methodist Church with T. W. Haney as election judge.

Municipal Jail Empty In February

Stanton could be classified as a crime-clean city during February—the shortest month in the year.

The police report prepared by Chief Bob Smith and submitted to the Mayor and city councilmen for consideration and presented to the people as a public service by The Stanton Reporter, shows that not a single person was placed in jail during the month just ended.

The department issued just six traffic tickets, made only four general arrests, and performed two escort jobs.

The city police did render 88 public service deeds and answered 44 complaints. City officers investigated (Continued on page 5)

Gem Society Plans Annual Exposition

Colo. Resident Lauds Local Police Chief

The following is a letter of praise written by a woman from Colorado, who on a visit in this area needed help and received it from our Chief of Police, Bob Smith.

"I have never ceased in being proud of Texas for its warm hospitality and beauty. I may be a little prejudiced because I'm a native of Big Spring.

"Last December I was visiting my relatives in Big Spring and we decided to go to Odessa. (Continued on page 5)

The show was acclaimed a tremendous success, and much praise was given to the show chairman, Guy Brown, and the other members of the Martin County Gem and Mineral Society, Mark Bentley, Charles Lewis, Gary Reid, Allen Springer, Bill Decker, and Butch Robnett. Helping with registration were: Brenda Dyson, Sherry Vest, and Sandra Jones. All of the persons connected with the show wish to give special thanks to Cap Rock Electric Co-op, Howard County Junior College, Roueche Printing, Bentley's of Stanton, Stanton Electric, Renfro Jewelry, George Smith, Willie Gene Lusk, Janis Burgess, Herbert Jones, Stanton Drug, The Stanton Reporter, Friendly (Continued on page 5)

Mahon Praises Group For Well Stated Cotton Case

Concern over the one-cent per pound cut in the cotton support price for 1965 brought a committee of 10 farmers and businessmen from the South Plains to Washington last week for meetings. The main purpose of the committee's trip was to urge that the one-cent-per-pound cut be restored. The Department of Agriculture has announced the drop of cotton supports from 30 cents a pound, middling-one-inch, in 1964 to 29 cents a pound in 1965.

Congressman George Mahon arranged for the group to have extensive discussions with Vice President Humphrey, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles Murphy, Representative Bob Poage, vice chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, Representative Jamie Whitten, chairman of the subcommittee on Agricultural Appropriations, and other officials. ## Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

Are you one of those many, many individuals whose appearance is marred somewhat by the pits and scars resulting from acne?

Possibly something can be done to improve your appearance.

A technique known as "dermabrasion," or skin planing is currently recommended for many of those left scarred by acne, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

Dermabrasion will not completely remove scars and pits. But it tends to reduce their size and depth, making them less noticeable. Not all types of scars are helped, or helped equally. Consultation with a physician experienced in this work is necessary to determine whether dermabrasion is likely to be helpful in a given case. Your family doctor can help you locate such a specialist.

In dermabrasion the skin is of Morton, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Stroud of Midland, Mr and Mrs. Tommy Smith and son of Odessa, Phil and Glen Stroud, and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stroud.

"frozen" and a rapidly rotating brush is stroked across the face to remove the upper layers of the skin. This procedure may be done in a doctor's office and does not require hospitalization.

The process requires skilled techniques and extensive training to minimize the danger of unsightly scarring. Although dermabrasion has been in use for more than 10 years, it still is regarded as in its infancy by medical authorities, Today's Health says.

Swelling and extensive crusting develop in the first 24 to 48 hours. The crusts are shed in 10 to 14 days, leaving the skin pink. The skin gradually returns to a normal state within six weeks to six months.

Some doctors feel that maximum cosmetic benefit is not obtained in many cases after one abrasion but that two or three dermal abrasions at intervals of three to six months may be necessary. However, each subsequent attempt tends to yield less improvement.

HCJC Offers Math Course

A modern math course will be given at Howard County Junior College.

Classes started Saturday, February 27, from 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. Classes are scheduled for several weeks.

This course is especially given for parents and teachers. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

Former President Eisenhower says: "I believe we should set our faces firmly against federal programs that erode away citizen, local and state self-reliance. . . . Are we, in our communities and states, to be reduced to helpless bystanders? Do we trust a Washington bureaucrat more than we do ourselves to solve problems that rest on our own doorsteps? Or, are we just too lazy to act; too blind to see; or too ignorant to understand? The trend toward centralization can be stopped only by a determined people. The best answer for too much government in Washington is better government at home."

Chamber Activities

Dr. Allen M. Fisher has three dates to bring a "Chamber of Commerce" message this week. The Lions Club Rotary Club, and Music Club have invited him to be on their program. The Music Club meets in the home of Mrs. Arthur Wilson, and the other two clubs meet Tuesday and Wednesday noon at the Belvue Motel.

The theme of the talk will be an old concept first introduced by Christ, sometimes forgotten but now again being resurrected by the Chamber of Commerce: "You cannot possibly help your fellow man without receiving a blessing yourself." The idea is to join the Chamber to get an opportunity to physically and financially boost the community and thereby boost your own business and prosperity. The reasons for joining are ten-fold:

1. You are making an investment in which you get assured returns.
2. You are helping to formulate constructive policy.
3. Your physical and financial support mean a better community.
4. This is your business home.
5. It took a good city to provide good opportunity.
6. People in all walks of life benefit from Chamber civic activities.
7. There is no other organization to do the work your Chamber does.
8. As our city grows, so does your business grow.
9. Your membership is an investment in community service.
10. The Chamber is the only organization exclusively engaged in promoting the prosperity of our community.

Girl Scout Week March 7-13, 1965

Once again, Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. — almost three and three-quarter million of them — are celebrating their birthday week. The West Texas Girl Scout Council will join in the celebration of Girl Scout Week, March 7-13, 1965. The theme of this week is, "A Promise In Action."

"A Promise" has been very much in action and in evidence for 53 years. The Girl Scout's 53rd birthday occurs on March 12. This date marks the anniversary of the first meeting of the first troop organized in Savannah, Georgia, by Juliette Gordon Low, founder of the movement in the U. S. A.

That first troop of a few girls set the pattern for more than 20 million others by making the Girl Scout Promise: "On my honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout Laws."

This year Girl Scouts are emphasizing — "a bridge to the future." These "bridges" refer to a continuity of program activities which become more complex and challenging as girls grow from 7 through 17. The program adopts activities related to arts, the home and the outdoors, to the changing interests and needs of the girls; thus bridging the four age levels: Brownie Girl Scouts (ages 7 and 8), Junior Girl Scouts (ages 9, 10, and 11), Cadette Girl Scouts (ages 12, 13, and 14), and Senior Girl Scouts (ages 15, 16, and 17).

By inspiring girls to live up to the Girl Scout Promise and Girl Scout Laws, Girl Scouting can make the difference in the kind of woman a girl becomes. This inspiration can ultimately determine the difference in the world of the future.

March Food Outlook Good Report Says

The March outlook is for good eating. Eleven different foods will be unusual plentiful this month, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Eggs, peanuts and peanut products top the plentiful list. March egg supplies are expected to be above those of a year ago, with attractive consumer prices in prospect. Peanut production is estimated at 7 percent above last year and the largest crop since 1948.

Other foods designated plentiful by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service include rice, cabbage, celery, canned pink salmon, red tart cherries, canned pears, apples and winter pears.

Production of rough rice set a new record. The pack of canned pears was record large and, in spite of low carry-over stocks, supplies are record large. Frozen tart cherry holdings are twice last year's volume, and there's plenty of canned cherries for all.

Apples continue in abundance, in spite of excellent early-season movement. The pack of canned pink salmon was considerably greater than the previous year, so current stocks are large.

Winter cabbage and celery will be in substantially greater supply than last season. Although winter carrot production is a little below last year, supplies are expected to ex-

(Continued from page 1) Admittedly, our delegation, not carrying the taint of professional politicians and frequent favor seekers, did appear before the august Highway Commissioners on a citizen-to-citizens basis. Our delegation still follows the time-honored American tradition of going directly to those trusted, by appointment, with the duty of helping their fellowmen find a solution to a problem of vital importance to every man, woman, child in Martin County.

And as a benediction to this story, if such is proper, we honestly think the Commissioners will help us in getting the right highway pattern around our city, and we feel like they have already instituted a course of action in that direction by agreeing to send an engineer to Stanton.

Mahon - - -

(Continued from page 1) "I think I have never seen a group from our District receive a better reception from government officials, nor have I ever seen a group do a better job in stating its case," Mahon said after participating in the meetings with the committee.

Officials explained to the group that to eliminate the one-cent cut would cost the government 75 million dollars which had not been included in the President's budget. It was also pointed out by key members of Congress that it would be most difficult to secure approval in the House of an additional 75 million dollars for cotton, especially without a request from the Department of Agriculture and the Bureau of the Budget.

Last year's cotton support program required government expenditures in excess of 850 million dollars. Congressman Mahon pointed out that there probably was not a 50-50 chance to get the additional 75 million dollars required for the restoration of the 30-cent support price, but he pledged to continue to do everything he could to be of assistance, realizing that the impact of the reduction in the support price last year, plus an additional reduction this year, would make it difficult and in some cases impossible, for farmers to conduct a successful cotton farming operation in 1965.

Mahon stated that there was full agreement on the point that one of the major difficulties confronting cotton farmers is the fact that while the support price on cotton is going down, the cost of production is going up, and the farm labor situation is getting more difficult every year. While the group came to Washington for the purpose of discussing the one-cent price drop, much time was devoted to discussions of what should be done at this session of Congress about new cotton legislation. Such legislation is required, as the present law expires at the end of this year.

Mahon said that he felt the group did an exceptionally good job in impressing officials in Washington the urgent necessity for the maintenance of a healthy condition among commercial farmers who produce the great bulk of the food and fiber required by the nation. He pointed out that it is esti-

TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE

Lubbock, Texas Mr. Neal Estes The Stanton Reporter Stanton, Texas Dear Editor:

In recognition of your interest in news about students from your city and area who are attending Texas Tech, the Public Information Department wishes to reaffirm our interest in obtaining this news for you.

We are constantly on the lookout for stories concerning individual students and make every effort to see that these are sent promptly to hometown papers. This includes individual honors, outstanding achievement in various fields, elective awards, scholarships, presentation of degrees - in fact, everything that we can possibly find time to handle.

However, Tech's spiraling enrollment does present some special problems... and some tasks so enormous that we cannot do all that we would like to do.

For example, since Tech had a full enrollment of 13,800 students, with approximately 2,700 of these on the dean's list, we found it physically impossible to send out hometown stories on students who make the list.

We appreciate your cooperation, and if there is any specific information you need at any time, please call on us. Cordially, Emil Carmichael, Public Information Department.

Mission of Ysleta by E. M. Schiweitz

THE MISSION OF YSLETA

The Church that changed sides!

When the Indians revolted against Spanish rule in 1681-2 in the upper Rio Grande Valley in New Mexico, refugees sought safety at the mission at El Paso del Norte (now Juarez). One group settled on the Mexican river bank and named its community Ysleta del Sur (South). This settlement was established in 1681 and a mission was completed the following year on a small island in the Rio Grande.

The Rio Grande changed its course and the site is now in Texas. Ysleta and its mission are generally given the distinction of being the oldest permanent settlement in Texas... truly a church that changed sides!

CHOOSE THE SIDE OF FREEDOM...with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Thus, Ysleta del Sur, the refuge of the oppressed, became the earliest of settlements to identify itself with a brave, new land of freedom.

Today, millions of Americans choose the side of freedom and they do something about it - by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every dollar you invest in Savings Bonds gives Uncle Sam exactly that much help in the vital task of safeguarding liberty for yourself and your family. Buy Savings Bonds at your bank or on the payroll savings plan where you work.

Jesus Offered New Values For Old Concepts

One cannot read far into the New Testament without realizing the great extent to which Jesus challenged many of the attitudes toward living which now, as then prevail.

Ambition, the desire to get ahead of others, the lust of power, all these motives that so strongly influenced men were present even among the twelve Apostles.

The rich farmer, whom Jesus described in a parable, was a typically successful man. He did what almost every successful man would do: planned for bigger things, planned to pull down his barns and build larger ones, planned to enjoy the fruits of all them he had built up. But Jesus challenged such a conception of success. For one thing, he pointed out its false economy. The man had left out the most important thing of all, his own life. But he had also left out the more important spiritual factor — he hadn't been rich toward God. And such men are legion.

It should be noted that the challenges of Jesus to what might be called dominant worldly attitudes and ways are not negative. Over against these, Jesus sets positive, constructive conceptions of a more abundant life.

What Jesus' teachings emphasize is a set of different values. How great the values are, and how thoroughly the challenges of Jesus are vindicated can be seen in the lives of those who have been conspicuous in giving, in contrast with those whose chief aim has been getting.

It is indeed more blessed to give than to receive.

Philosopher Takes A Look At The Latest Viet Nam Situation, But Sees Very Little

Dear editor: I would like some information.

According to an article I read in a newspaper this morning, and I hope you will answer quick as the situation may be totally changed by tomorrow morning, Gen. Khanh has been removed as head of the South Viet Nam military forces in what the newspapers call a coup and television announcers call a coo and is being sent to New York as a United Nations observer.

What I would like to know is, is this a reward or a punishment?

I had thought that the United Nations was supposed to be watching what went on in Viet Nam, both North and South, but what they have been seeing is hard to understand. You reckon the South Vietnamese, having been unable at ground level to understand themselves what they're doing, figured the view would be better from New York?

Or do you figure Gen. Khanh was getting bored with the limited confusion in Viet Nam and figured he could get a broader taste of it in the United Nations? Like going from a sideshow to the main tent?

I'll admit I don't know a thing about what's going on in Viet Nam, but I don't want this to leak out as Washington might want to send me over there as an observer.

I've got all the confusion I can handle at home.

And speaking of the United Nations, as I understand it, the U. N. has a rule that if any country is behind two years in its dues, it loses its membership, but is afraid to vote on whether this rule is still in effect on the grounds that if it does, there won't be enough major powers left in the outfit to operate it. This is like a hard-pressed bank declining to call in its past-due loans on the grounds it would alienate its customers.

It's possible that after Gen. Khanh observes the United Nations a while, he may go home and announces all this earth's countries got problems.

Yours faithfully,

Research findings on the Black Gap Wildlife Management Area from 1958 to 1963 graphically that carefully regulated heavy harvest of mule deer, regardless of sex and age, have not reduced the availability of prime two to five-year-old deer.

Although the number of hunters participating in Black Gap Management Area public hunts has increased from 313 in 1958 to 1,020 in 1963, the percentage of two to five-year-old animals in each year's harvest has remained consistently high, attesting to the health and well-being of the Black Gap deer herd.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

Gov. John Connally served notice on the U. S. Labor Department he doesn't like its directives that unskilled high school students in War on Poverty program jobs must be paid more than some of their parents make.

Connally, needed by an unnamed labor department official, indignantly denied he is scuttling the new Neighborhood Youth Corps job project. But he made clear he won't approve applications of some 23 local school districts for participation in the program until he is sure they know what they getting into.

NYC offers part-time job (10-15 hours a week) around schools and public agencies to youngsters 16-21 who are on verge of becoming high school dropouts because of financial difficulties. Federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost and local participating units 10 per cent. But next year the cost will be shared 50-50.

Connally spoke out against the Labor Department ruling that students must be paid $1.25 per hour, the federal minimum wage.

The 23 districts, before the ruling was announced, proposed to pay rates ranging from 60c to $1.20 an hour. Originally, Labor Department had notified the districts wages "should be a little below the prevailing entry rates for inexperienced workers in similar occupations."

The $1.25 order came out after applications were filed.

"This action," protested Connally, "would place local school districts in the awkward and unrealistic position of paying inexperienced school age students of underprivileged families a rate of pay for casual chores that in many cases would exceed that of adult employees working in the same facility, the average earnings of their own parents, and the wages he himself might reasonably expect to earn in the days immediately following school."

Furthermore, Connally noted, a directly parallel program for potential dropouts among college students administered by Department of Health, Education and Welfare pays 75 cents an hour upward.

House of Representatives applauded Connally's stand but specified it did not intend to criticize the President or his war on Poverty program.

Coordinating Board Approved — Governor Connally's number one project of the session — creation of a powerful 18-member coordinating board to supervise all aspects of higher education in Texas — swept through both houses of the Legislature with the speed of a blue norther. Legislators who opposed it — and there were only a few — had as much chance of stopping it as they would of forestalling a gathering storm.

After being guided through the House by Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, the bill was picked up by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan in the Senate, where it went through without an amendment and was passed on to the governor for signing.

Connally has until September 1 to choose the 18 members of the board. They will replace the Texas Commission on Higher Education and will take on the task of directing all higher education institutions through the university systems.

Board will decide what courses are to be offered by each institution. It was given the most far-reaching authority granted by the Legislature since the Railroad Commission was authorized to grant railroad permits. Present college boards of regents will continue to serve. But they will be responsible to the new overall coordinating board.

Another of the governor's education plans, to replace 12 separate boards of regents which govern the 22 state colleges and universities with three boards of university systems, had not been introduced when the coordinating board plan was adopted.

Some legislators feel that the system board plan may have served to lessen the opposition to the coordinating board particularly among representatives from the colleges whose board would be abolished.

Pesticide Protested — A cheap poison used against roaches and rats in many homes and in grain storage bins and warehouses can cause loss of hair and mental disturbances, physicians testified in a House committee hearing.

In heavy doses, it can kill a person or leave him mentally incompetent, they said.

MEXICO

Basking in the southern sun, Mexico is our most immediate Latin neighbor. Mexico City itself reflects the country's infinite variety with modern concrete and glass standing shoulder to shoulder with the weathered palaces of colonial Spain. nose. Some persons have been interned in mental hospitals before the real reason for their illness was discovered, they said. At present there is no known antidote to the poison except time.

Medical Aid Planned — Strategy designed to quickly pass a medical assistance bill as soon as Congress passes its expected new legislation has been announced by Rep. Charles Wilson of Lufkin. He is sponsor of a House bill to extend Kerr-Mills payments to elderly persons not on old-age pensions.

Wilson asked a House committee to report out his bill quickly so it could be passed on the floor and sent to the Senate. A Senate bill will not be considered until the federal legislation is enacted, he said. In this way, the Senate version can authorize participation in the new federal plans and the details can be worked out to the satisfaction of House members in a conference committee.

Old-age pensioners already are eligible for help on their medical bill through the federal-state program.

Liquor, Racing Bill Hearings Set — Horse racing and "small bottles" liquor bills are expected to turn out some of the biggest crowds at legislative hearings this month.

Bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville to legalize parimutuel betting on horse races will be heard by House State Affairs Committee on March 29.

Edinburg Sen. Jim Bates' bill to permit sale of two-ounce bottles of liquor by restaurants will get hearing before Senate Jurisprudence committee on March 16.

San Antonio Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry has introduced a proposed constitutional amendment of his own to legalize horse racing on a local option basis in Bexar, Cameron, Dallas, Hidalgo, Harris, Galveston, Midland, Tarrant and Webb counties.

Only teacher pay raises attract more mail to lawmakers than parimutuel wagering and liquor-by-the-drink legislation. This year, there's strong support on, as well as opposition, to both propositions.

"Spending" Rule Row Flares — Tightening of a joint House - Senate rule banning consideration of single-purpose spending measures ahead of the general appropriations bill may mean the difference in the type of pay raise teachers get this year.

Senators adopted 22-9 a "compromise" version making the provisions of a stricter house-passed Joint Rule 9-A effective only during the first 120 days of the session. The House is expected to agree.

Opponents say the rule still will prevent even a commit-

Stanton PTA To Hear College Representatives

The Stanton PTA will hold its regular meeting on March 9, at 7:30 p.m., at the High School Cafeteria.

The guest speakers will be representatives from surrounding colleges, who will brief resumes of the facilities offered at their respective institutions.

Parents and students desiring to speak to the representatives individually, will have an opportunity to do so after the meeting.

Teachers fear the delay will be used to gain support for Connally's long-range graduated pay bill, which they claim gives them far less than their own $45-a-month across-the-boards raise proposal.

Cities Ask Sales Tax — Spokesmen for cities urged a legislative committee to recommend that cities be given authority to levy local sales taxes up to one per cent if citizens vote approval in special elections.

They said they have gone about as far as they can with raising property taxes and need additional sources of revenue to provide necessary services.

Union representatives argued there still is plenty of mileage left in property tax. Also a local sales tax would hit little people harder and lighten the load on those most able to pay.

In House revenue and tax committee hearing at same time, tobacco industry spokesmen said a bill to raise the cigarette tax a penny a pack would be a serious blow to them.

Both bills went to sub-committee.

Redistricting — Legislators got a sampling of public views on congressional and legislative redistricting during a four-hour public hearing before the House Districts Committee.

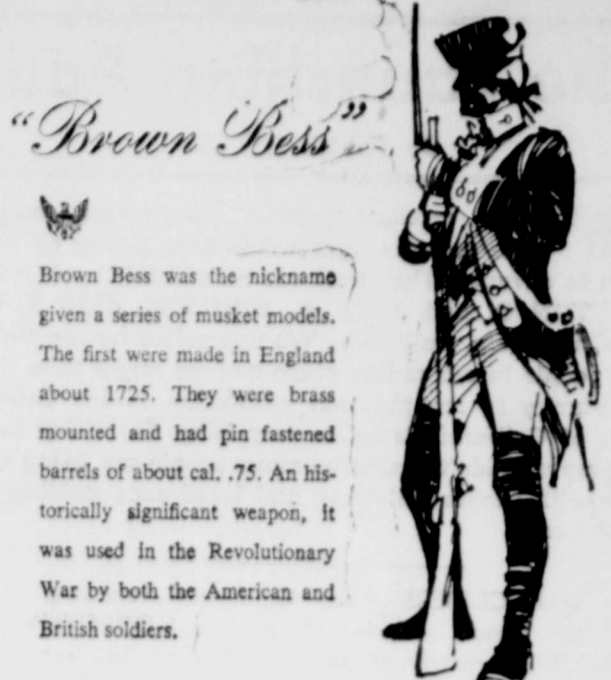

As expected, they didn't get much help since every plan advanced met opposition from some quarter.

Home committee members heard lengthy testimony on four congressional reapportionment proposals and two bills to realign the state House of Representatives.

Eight more measures remain to be heard. Chairman Gus Mutscher of Brenham said he hopes to set all of them next week and get the job into the hands of sub-committees as the Senate districts committee already has done.

In the Senate, Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall is interviewing individual senators on how congressional lines should be redrawn. House sub-committees are moving into their second week of similar contacts with the 150 representa-

WE have received several subscription renewals recently from subscribers paying up two years in advance. The latest one arrived this week from CLAYTON O. and ALTA A. JOHNSON, 4328 Byrne Road, Riverside, California. We appreciate having these fine people in our reader circle and we might take this opportunity to say that our circulation in the Golden State of California is rather surprising. Surprising only because we didn't realize so many people are living out there with friends, relatives, and loved ones residing in these parts.

SUBSCRIBERS from California renewing this week included HENRY and DOROTHY M. BADGETT, formerly of San Luis Obispo, but now of Arroyo Grande, California. We appreciated their check and will give prompt attention to their change of address as requested.

MRS. LETA B. EIDSON retired from the Postmaster's place here on March 1 and was succeeded by WILLIAM E. MORROW, JR. The competent MRS. EIDSON served the postal service for many years and the head of the U. S. Postoffice Department has caused a certificate of appreciation and merit to be issued to her as she leaves office. It has been the happy privilege of your writer to have enjoyed the understanding cooperation of MRS. EIDSON throughout our tenure of residence in Stanton. The Postmaster and the editor must necessarily work together for the good of the community. We always found MRS. EIDSON ready and willing to point out any improvements we could make in service to the public. She has been friendly and congenial and we are sincere in saying here that our business relationship with the retiring Postmaster has been an inspiration to us. We wish for MRS. EIDSON the very best in goodwill in the future and to MR. MORROW we send a hearty welcome and cordial greeting with the full knowledge that both of us have our work cut out in our dedicated missions to give service to the patrons of the post-office and of the press of this community.

TEXAS ELECTRIC has a clip sheet mailed out of the Ft. Worth office to managers. It is an interesting operation and as each manager receives it and reads it, then he passes it along down to the manager of the next city. The clip sheets contain information considered worth reading taken from many papers serving the vast area served by TESCO. CECIL BRIDGES telephoned us the other day to say we had made the sheet again. In looking over the local manager's copy we also found an interesting story about a friend of ours, JIM EDWARDS, assistant advertising manager of TESCO. MR. EDWARDS is well known to members of the West Texas Press Association. He has made all of our meetings for years in this area.

It was a genuine and refreshing pleasure for us to have MRS. COATS BENTLEY holding the society desk in the newspaper office this week. She is a very talented lady when it comes to writing and when she handles a story we are secure in the knowledge that no editing or rewriting is necessary. A person has to really be dedicated to duty while working in the field of journalism to enjoy it and get the job done efficiently. JEANIE BENTLEY is a natural.

POPULATION estimates have Texas with ten and one-half million persons at year's end. Projections show 11 million by mid-1966 and 12 million by 1970. These figures serve to prove again that cities and communities are doing the right thing by providing proper educational plants to train the children of today and tomorrow. The bond issue was handled here Saturday. The $125,000 was voted for expansion of our local educational system. We personally supported the issue and are proud that it passed. Our contention was that the school officials were right when they said the extra classrooms were needed. However, we seriously doubt that any other kind of bond issue would have passed at this time. People will support a school bond issue when they will vote against almost every other kind.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for members of the STANTON GEM & MINERAL SOCIETY for putting on one of the best shows here in years. The first exposition was held Saturday and Sunday at CAP ROCK with GUY BROWN in the role of director. He had the able assistance of members of the local club, including MARK BENTLEY, who personally directed the editor through the interesting displays. The society members all deserve a great big hand. The show was definitely a success.

WE are grateful for the snowfall Tuesday. For about two hours the white stuff swirled over the countryside but melted almost immediately after touching the ground. A few grassy spots held a blanket of white for a time but soon it disappeared too. We did catch a pleasant glimpse of STANLEY REID out "snow-balling." It has been said that all good men retain something of their boyhood. STAN was rolling up snow from the top of a parked car in front of his barber shop Tuesday afternoon and just as we passed a big, flaky snowball landed against the glass. We were tempted to get out and get with the fun too but a bad cold prevented our participation.

WE wish to continue to call attention to the ads being consistently run in the newspaper. This issue has some very interesting messages. Our town has grown from just a monthly dollar day affair and our merchants, professional people and artists in their respective fields of work are using the well read newspaper to bring these weekly messages. Just for instance, we want every subscriber to read MAXINE'S BEAUTY SHOP ad in this issue. The girls have just completed a brush-up course in beauty culture in Abilene and have brought a new style back to Stanton—SWINGHEART. That's a catchy something now — isn't it — and by-the-way, we read the ad in THE DALLAS NEWS of a well known beauty salon in that city about this all-new Swingheart style. ## No Injuries In Three Car Collision

A three-way collision between two trucks and a late model passenger car occurred Friday morning at 11:01 a.m. at the intersection of U. S. 80 and state 137 in the city limits.

No injuries resulted from the collision. Damage to the vehicles involved amounted to $700 according to an estimate made and given the press by Police Chief Bob Smith.

Chief Smith stated that a 1962 Pontiac was stopped at the intersection awaiting traffic along the highway to clear when a heavily loaded truck owned by the Coca Cola Bottling Company lost its brakes and plunged into the rear end of the Pontiac, shoving it out into the path of a truck traveling east on Highway 80.

Parents And Public Schools

Without parent interest and support, the public school system will fail or partially succeed in its great purpose—to teach boys and girls how to become strong and useful citizens capable of governing themselves and helping their fellowman to achieve and maintain freedom.

This is why we wish to call special attention to the observance of Public Schools Week in Texas, March 1-5. During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the schools and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education.

As Gov. John Connally points out in officially designating this special week:

"Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our tomorrow's leaders with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

Our forefathers in their wisdom recognized the importance of education in the function and operation of a democracy, establishing the public school to make education available to all.

The people of Texas declared, by the expressed terms of the State Constitution, a "general diffusion of knowledge being essential to the preservation of the liberties and rights of the people, it shall be the duty of the Legislature of the State to establish and make suitable provision for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools."

The 1854 School Law provided for the first Public School System in Texas. As the years passed our laws were strengthened to make sure that all children of a school age shared in this opportunity for public education.

As adults and parents, our job is to see that children of this generation get the best possible education we can give them. Unless this includes more than mere science, numbers, and theory, we are failing in the real job of educating our children.

American children are entitled to be taught of the great heritage to which they have been born. They should be taught that moral and spiritual values give meaning to our existence. Ethical behavior and high ideals are the great need of all peoples today.

To pass on this heritage is a responsibility of the public schools. History tells the story of the development of these values. Drama shows them in action. Biography depicts them in the building of character. Civics and sociology relate them to the problems of governments and society.

Moral and spiritual values are extolled in great literature and music. They are a guide to behavior on the playground. They are discussed and applied in homerooms and student councils. Respect for them is developed in the fair play of sports, in judicial designs of student government, in the activities of school clubs and societies.

Our schools furnish a climate in which our children's moral and spiritual values grow and develop. These values must be deeply rooted in all the school learnings, if the conduct affected by them is to be intelligent and self-directed.

School is life itself, an important segment of it, and the student members of the school society discover, apply, and reverse the high ideals to which men aspire, in the same way in which they become a part of the pattern of life beyond school.

If these worthwhile goals of public education are to be achieved, adults and parents must show a continuing concern for and interest in the schools. Parents should be more familiar with what is being taught, and better acquainted with the officials and teachers.

By visiting the schools and familiarizing ourselves with the problems of teachers and students, as well as with their desires and needs, we become more competent to safeguard and advance the institution that is so American in spirit and objective—the public school.

When the schools hold open house this week, accept their hospitality. You will enjoy the experience of going back to school, if but for a day. And your presence will contribute to a better atmosphere for learning.

Texas Auto Thefts To Reach All Time High

The theft of 20,000 automobiles in Texas during 1965 coupled with widespread "stripping" of automobile parts and accessories will add up to a record $10 million economic loss, according to C. C. Benson, manager, Texas Division, National Automobile Theft Bureau.

Speaking at the 16th Annual Meeting of the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association in Austin this week, Mr. Benson also forecast that the continued theft of late model cars, which would later be sold with false serial numbers and titles, would continue to be a major law enforcement problem. Of equal importance, he said, would be the theft of performance motors, transmissions and other expensive parts from sports types automobiles.

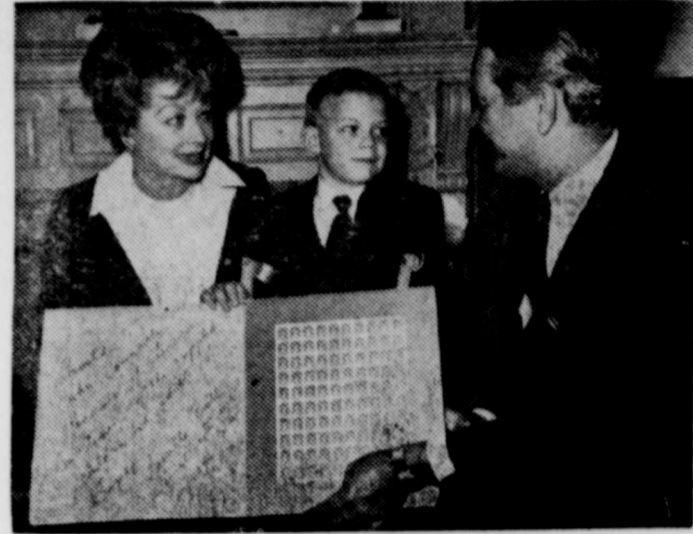

"If some way could be devised to keep youngsters out of stolen vehicles, the car theft problem could be cut by two-thirds in Texas. Statistics show that 60 to 65 per cent of all persons arrested in stolen vehicles are under 18 years of age," Mr. Benson said.

Questioning the effectiveness of present methods of handling auto thefts involving teen-agers, Mr. Benson suggested that persons who have been convicted of auto theft be required to make full financial restitution for all damages resulting from the theft.

"The dollar is king in the time in which we live and it speaks a language that the youth of our land understands very well. I am convinced that a uniformly administered policy of providing restitution through the probation authorities of the juvenile courts and through the civil courts against parents would prove a very healthy deterrent to auto theft," Mr. Benson stated.

The National Automobile Theft Bureau is a 50 year old organization that is maintained by 360 insurance companies. Its objectives include the prevention of auto theft and the recovery of stolen automobiles as well as automobile parts and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Jones left Friday for Fort Benning, Georgia, to visit their son, Pvt. Paul Allen Jones.

Governor John Connally received the first sheet of 1965 Easter Seals to be distributed in Texas on the eve of the Annual Easter Seal Campaign opening March 1 and continuing through Easter Sunday. The 1965 National Easter Seal Chairman, Lucille Ball, of "Love Lucy" fame, and Chuck Winikates of Dallas, made the presentation at the Governor's Mansion. Chuck is the Texas Easter Seal Child for the 1965 Campaign. The year-round Easter Seal Programs of care and treatment for handicapped children and adults are made possible by the funds raised during the annual Easter Seal Campaign.

Texas Solon Introduces Bill To Curb Criminal Gun Owners

A Texas lawmaker urged Congress to stop harassing legitimate gun owners, and instead to open war on the criminal element by setting a 25-year mandatory federal sentence for use of firearms in committing a crime.

U. S. Rep. Bob Casey of Houston today introduced legislation to make the 25-year sentence mandatory for use or carrying of firearms during any robbery, assault, murder, rape, burglary or kidnapping. He urged Congress to take quick action on the measure.

Casey introduced a separate bill covering the District of Columbia, pointing out that Congress could swiftly enact a model program of prevention, and illegal gun-use in its own crime-ridden home base.

The fourth-term Democrat called proposed gun registration bills before Congress "completely ineffectual" in striking at the criminal use of firearms.

"I see little need to further harass the legitimate gun owner, the collector, or the sportsman when the problem is caused by the criminal, most of whom are repeat offenders often using stolen weapons to commit a crime," Casey said. "No man in his right mind can expect a criminal planning a robbery with a stolen gun to register the weapon with federal authorities, or to be alarmed because he hasn't done so."

In the past, Casey pointed out, Congress has been reluctant to act in such a field, leaving the prosecution and punishment for crimes of violence to the States.

"But the problem of outlaw gun use is nationwide, and the States have failed to deal with it effectively," Casey said. "The Federal government sets mandatory sentences for trafficking in narcotics, and the illegal use of guns by criminals touches far more citizens than does."

"Here in the District of Columbia, as over the nation, the serious problem of illegal gun use has been severely aggravated by extreme laxity on part of the courts in meting out punishment to violators," Casey said. "The time has come to meet this problem head-on, and to take from the courts the power to turn loose on society the second and third offenders to continue preying on our citizens. My bill leaves the courts no discretion in sentencing the guilty, and I think it will go a long way in solving a growing problem."

"Passage of my bill also will stop the hysterical cries to unduly penalize law-abiding gun-owning citizens through imposition of rigid and unworkable restrictions on sale, registration or taxation of firearms, when the heart of the problem is finding a way to protect these same citizens from the criminal element," Casey said.
