PRESIDENT JOHNSON has ordered a quick "bum's rush" for sit-in demonstrators at the White House. He also announced that they would be promptly arrested and jailed if they tried to gain entrance for protest purposes. Why not make this a national pattern. MR. PRESIDENT? JOHNSON has been very patient with the negro community since piloting their pet Civil Rights Bill through Congress. He is apparently beginning to realize the bill was not all the colored leaders had in mind. By now, everybody with a second-grade education ought to know what the ultimate goal is. Knowingly or unknowingly, the leading individuals in the negro demonstrations are the tools of the Communist. They are following exactly the tactics of the Communists — divide — disturb — riot — disrupt civic order — bring havoc to the towns in which they demonstrate and march in — sit-in — sing — disturb the peace — provoke attacks and they yell police brutality — yes — these are the tactics of the Communist. And this revolution is Communist inspired and one of the leading broadcasting companies, through their flinch-faced henchmen is providing the voice.

Our newspaper counter sales are growing by leaps and bounds weekly. Here's the story of just one store's counter sales the past week. Wednesday afternoon we took 60 copies of THE STANTON REPORTER TO THRIFTWAY GROCERY. They were sold out by 7:15 when we walked into the store to make a purchase. We unlocked the office and returned 25 more copies to the store. Thursday morning we added 20 more issues — on Thursday afternoon 25 more copies were delivered to THRIFTWAY. On Friday morning we took down 15 more copies. And on Saturday 20 more copies. How's that? We also had drops going good at other stores in the city.

TONY ZOPPI, writing in THE DALLAS NEWS says: "SAMMY PETRILLO'S impersonation of ROBERT KENNEDY may open an entire new field of comic mimicry." Persons having heard this bit say it produces stomach-shaking laughter and gets thunderous applause. Maybe so — anyway — we'd like to hear the dialogue.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON has clearly outlined his position on voting rights. Now we would like for him to clearly outline his plans for winning the war in Viet Nam. American men are dying over there in the uniform of their country. They are not singing songs and carrying placards but praying and carrying guns to protect the freedom the Communist-minded agitators would take from this country.

Some of the highlights of the President's address might have escaped close scanning. LBJ said: "Freedom of speech and freedom of assembly does not mean that a person can enter a crowded theatre and yell FIRE! Freedom of assembly does not mean that a group can block a public thoroughfare." He also got this line in: "We must create equal OPPORTUNITY for all." He said nothing about unearned benefits. In asking for equal voting rights the President also asked for an end to the marches in a subtle sort of way. That is as it should be. We also applaud his opinion as to where all disputes should be settled — in the courthouses and in the legislative halls, and not in the streets.

Clerk Collects Printer's Fee Due 14 Years

Patience and efficiency paired here last week and a 14-year-old printer's fee was collected for a legal publication through the efficiency of the alert and astute District Clerk of Martin County. Mrs. Doris Stephenson collected a fee due The Stanton Reporter for services rendered in 1951. Receiving the money was just like getting a Christmas package through the mail that had been lost in transit for 14 years. Receiving the money was not as important to the newspaper as the remarkable manner in which the statement for the printer's cost had been preserved and handled. Our congratulations are in order for Mrs. Stephenson's good services.

Electrical Shock Kills J. D. Green Thursday

J. D. Green, 25, was killed instantly Thursday when he came in contact with a high-voltage line while working north of Midland. Green, well known in Stanton, and residing of Big Spring with his wife and two sons, was pronounced dead on arrival at Midland Memorial Hospital at 2:20 p.m. shortly after the mishap. Justice of the Peace John Biggs of Midland returned an inquest verdict of accidental death from electrocution. Green was an employee of the R&S Construction Co., which was installing a power line for an irrigation project for the Cap Rock Rural Electric Cooperative of Stanton.

The council is sponsoring a drive to collect 150 books of green stamps to buy books that are needed at the library. The District THDA meeting will be April 14 in Midland at the Sands Motel. A buffet luncheon will be served, for which a charge of $1.25 will be made. Reservations to this must be made in advance. There will be no individual workshops, there will be a general session so that all women attending will get all of

The Department of Public Safety appealed to motorists this week to obtain 1965 motor vehicle inspection stickers as soon as possible. The deadline is less than a month away and only forty per cent of the motor vehicles in this area have been inspected for the current year, DPS officials said. "At the present rate of in-

SHS Students Take National Merit Tests

Some of the junior students at Stanton High School took National Merit Scholarship Qualifying tests last week. These tests are given on a voluntary basis and are for the purpose of choosing students who qualify for the scholarships offered by different industries. Those students who qualify for the finals will be given an opportunity to take another test at a later date to compete with other students who have reached the finals. The results of these tests will not be known for some time. The National Educational Development tests were given to some of the freshman and sophomore students last week. These, too, were on a voluntary basis and, like the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying tests, cost $1.00 (Continued on page 5)

Pay Raise For Teachers

A lot of confusion has resulted from the introduction of two teachers pay raise bills in the Legislature this term. There is really very little need for it too. The Texas State Teachers Association has proposed a bill calling for a $45 per month increase beginning in September 1965, while Gov. John Connally has countered with one offering an average increase of $90 per year over a 10-year period. It needs to be said here that the controversy is a political one not a personal one with the Governor. Both TSTA and John Connally are aware of the fact that the ultimate goal is the improvement of education for the children of our state. Gov. Connally is for a teachers pay raise. He simply thinks his plan is better. The TSTA members disagree. Charles Tennyson, editor of Texas Outlook, and one of Texas' devoted and dedicated educational leaders, put it well when he said: "The difference of opinion concerns how much teachers should receive, when they should receive it, and (Continued on page 5)

Bulletin

On a subway train rocking through the night in Brooklyn, a burly hoodlum in cowboy boots demanded a cigarette from a white teen-ager. The white boy didn't smoke and told the negro so. The negro plunged a knife into his brain. He died. Tell this story in Sunday School when you are feeling so high about peace and public relations, equality and forced integration. Then go home and pray to God that something like the above doesn't happen to your fine young son or beautiful teen-age daughter.

Absentee Voting Underway

Absentee voting in the city council race starts Saturday March 20. Ballots printed by The Stanton Reporter's commercial department were delivered Monday to City Secretary Harvey White. Williams Tapped For Tech Honor

Weems Williams has been selected for membership in the Texas Technological College chapter of Phi Kappa Phi. The honor society of Phi Kappa Phi recognizes scholarship in all academic areas of endeavor. Membership is restricted to students who rank in the top 10 percent of the senior class or top two percent of the junior class. The honor society of Phi Kappa Phi exists for the dual purpose of recognizing and honoring those students who achieve high scholastic standards and encouraging those students who are capable of such achievement. Williams will also be recognized Sunday, March 21, in the All-College Recognition Service at Texas Tech. This recognition service honors those students who rank scholastically in the upper three percent of their class within their school during either of the preceding two regular semesters and who have a 3.25 or better average in the other semester. Williams will receive class honors, which means that this is the second time that he has been recognized at this service. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Williams, Jr., of Courtney, and is a senior at Texas Tech.

Salvation Army Drive Going Well

Udell Morris, campaign fund director for the Martin County Salvation Army Fund Drive, has advised the press that approximately 40 per cent of the cards have been returned. R. O. Anderson, campaign treasurer, said today that a total of $245.50 had been counted. Morris urged all workers in the money drive for the Salvation Army turn in their prospect cards as soon as possible. Morris also stated that a contribution to the fund would be appreciated. He outlined the fact that the Salvation Army is always on the scene when disaster strikes or when help is needed.

Invitation To Candidates

Candidates for the various school board places in the Stanton, Flower Grove and Grady Districts are invited to submit short articles to the newspaper for publication at no cost to explain their reasons for making the races. Candidates for the Stanton city council are also cordially invited to submit articles or short statements telling why they are seeking public office. The business of our schools and our many phases of government are of vital interest to the taxpayers. We would like to have some of the ideas of the candidates outlined by them before elections are held in April. Feel free to submit your article. Make it clear, concise and to the point. We welcome them as a public service and the people will appreciate hearing from the candidates.

New School Facilities Forthcoming

Supt. Beryl D. Clinton advised the newspaper today that at a Monday meeting of the Stanton Independent School District Board an order authorizing the issuance of $125,000 in bonds was made. The money will be used to construct new class rooms and make improvements on the Elementary School building, Clinton said.

SHS Juniors Choose New Ring Dealer

Stanton high school juniors are breaking with tradition this year and plan to change the style and ring company most classes have done business with for years. The standardized graduate ring for seniors will be cast in a new pattern. Bill Johnson, principal, says the new design will resemble the old pattern but offer some additional touches in ring styling. A representative from the company will be in Stanton to meet with members of the junior class for ring measurements and deposits Thursday, March 18, Johnson said. Clinton also stated that work on the building improvement program would start as soon as law permitted. Olen Puckett, architect, was employed to draw plans for the construction work and plans for the proposed additions. Eight class rooms are in the picture, along with bath facilities and possibly some underground facilities. Some of the local board members accompanied Supt. Clinton to Artesia, New Mexico, where they inspected the school plant there. The plant facilities are a re underground there as well as in many other modern school systems. Some of the favorable points for the underground project include: Stops glare and eliminates outside distraction, offers a quiet atmosphere, minimizes allergies that plague the students (Continued on page 5)

Bible Comment—

Suffering Brings Fellowship In Christ

When Jesus hung upon the cross, one of the two thieves between whom He was crucified reviled Him, urging Him to save Himself and them. The other thief rebuked this fellow, reminding him they were suffering justly for their misdeeds, whereas Jesus was suffering for His innocence and goodness. The penitent thief had the reward of hearing Jesus say, "This day thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

It is the distinction between two kinds of suffering which Peter emphasizes in his writings that does so much to encourage suffering Christians.

The Christian who suffers is partaker of the sufferings of Christ. Instead of being embittered, he may well glorify God.

Certainly as we observe life, we can not very well say that the ideal life is entirely free from suffering. We have seen those who have accepted the way of suffering patiently and in subjection to the will of God enabled by their experience, finding a deep satisfaction in life often denied to those whose ways have been easier and more pleasant.

Peter brings this philosophy of endurance of suffering into the realm of Christian faith and practice, emphasizing the part of humility and the strength that comes to men through casting all their care upon God.

The mystery of pain has never been solved. We do not know why the innocent suffer with and for the guilty. We do know, however, that there is a fellowship in Christ's suffering which has brought to suffering Christians happiness and peace. And this too, is a mystery.

Philosopher Invents New Fountain Pen To Help L. E. J. Save Time In Signing New Laws

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw is in an inventive frame of mind this week, his letter indicates.)

Dear editor:

A lot of people think nearly everything's been invented that's inventable, and while there are more things invented than I have a use for, still there are some things yet to be invented that might come in handy.

Not though that all the time-saving inventions save time, except maybe for the rocking chair.

I have saved more time than anybody I know just sitting in one, part of the time listening to people complain about how their time-saving automatic washing machines or other gadgets are out of commission.

But what I started out to talk about was a genuine time-saving invention which I thought up the other day while watching President Johnson on television using 136 fountain pens to sign his name to just one bill Congress had just passed.

As I understand it, he uses all these pens so he can give them to various important people who helped out with the bill so they can go home and tell their children, and then they their children and so forth down the line, that the family owns a fountain pen used by the President of the United States in signing such and such a bill.

Well now I have no quarrel with this, it's perfectly harmless and could become valuable — what do you suppose you could get for a ball point pen used by George Washington? — but I don't think it's

YOUR BETTER WAY TO COOK BECAUSE IT'S FLAMELESS

Only electricity cooks meats without flame in their own savory juices

For a new taste sensation, try a rolled roast, ham or chicken cooked in an electric rotisserie. The meat bastes itself as it revolves on a slowly turning spit under radiant, flameless electric heat. The result is mouth-watering juiciness and flavor that will have your family coming back for "seconds." You can bake and broil foods, too, in your electric rotisserie. And because it's flameless electric, you can plug it in anywhere, cook wherever you choose — in the kitchen or family room, on the porch or patio. Some of the articles discussed are such as: Your kids when they grow up, what kind of world will they live in? What will the next generation be like? Beware this get-out-of-debt scheme; The fight over federal aid to education and many other informative articles. This will be available through the reference shelf and won't be checked out unless circumstances justify it.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

A bill to regulate commercial applicators of pesticides is having a hard time in a House committee. This is an indication that it probably will be changed considerably before it is reported for floor action.

Its author, Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler, tried unsuccessfully to get it re-fer-mitted, however, did vote to ee from the one headed by Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville. House agriculture committee, however, did vote to instruct Rapp to report the bill to the full committee.

Rapp said the bill is one of the most important issues to come up before the Legislature this session, on par with redistricting, taxes and other statewide issues. "This bill doesn't affect only commercial applicators," Rapp said. "It affects a lot of people."

Required by the bill would be licensing of owners and operators of equipment used to apply pesticides. Licensing would require passing an examination to demonstrate familiarity with application of pesticides and payment of an annual fee. Operator's fee would be $10; owner registration, $25; and $25 for each piece of equipment.

Proponents of the bill say farmers need protection because modern pesticide equipment can, is misused, damage large land areas, including adjacent property.

Rapp contends the bill needs to be studied carefully because the transient nature of some of the persons who work on pesticide equipment would require that the operator spend a lot of money on additional license fees and bonds.

Health Legislation—Sweeping new concepts for treatment of tuberculosis, mental illness and mental retardation are about to be written into Texas law.

Bills overhauling the entire state organization for dealing with these vast problems soon may be sent to Gov. John Connally for signature.

House passed 142-0 an amended version of legislation already approved by the Senate to set the eradication program in motion.

A separate bill to establish a new Texas Department of Mental Health and Retardation cleared the House 138-1 and was sent to the Senate.

The tuberculosis control measure by Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock and Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen would shift all tuberculosis and programs from the Board for Hospitals and Special Schools of the Texas Department of Health.

A bill by Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston also would take from the Board all mental hospitals and special schools for the retarded, moving them to the new department.

Both emphasize community-centered attacks on the problems at hand.

Experts maintain that case-finding, long-term follow-up care and contract care of patients close to home can virtually eliminate tuberculosis. Proposed $22,300,000, six-year program will begin in the San Antonio - Central - South Central Texas area and counties along the border from El Paso to Brownville.

Community care centers to treat mental patients close to the cities they live in rather than big hospitals far away are heavily relied on for major progress in the mental health field.

Horses Booked—Odds are long against the horse race betting advocates this session, but they will provide one of the Legislature's most-colorful shows.

On March 29 the House State Affairs Committee will hear a bill to legalize parimutuel betting on supervised tracks. Bill is backed by the Texas Racing Association. It was introduced by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville.

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine has introduced a constitutional amendment which would outlaw parimutuel (in a pool) betting and all other forms of gambling in the state.

Budget Conferees Take Over—Whether Texans will face substantial new taxation to finance expanding state services rest largely with 10 top lawmakers.

Budget writing was checked to a joint conference committee of senators and representatives after the Senate, without discussion, passed a $3,650,000,000 appropriations measure. It called for $617,000 in general revenue spending.

Senate version is $13,000,000 above the House-passed bill in general funds earmarked for the 1966-67 biennium. Both houses left money "on the table."

Senate bill is $14,000,000 below anticipated income; House bill $25,000,000 below. But there are plenty of claims for the leftover.

Amount of the school teacher pay raise approved after the general budget finally is adopted is the real key to the magnitude of a tax bill. But recommendations of the conferees—likely to be approved by both houses—will determine just how much of the foreseeable revenue is left to apply toward better salaries for teachers and other new spending demands.

Sabine Bill Passed—Legislation aimed at paving the way for making the Sabine River navigable from Longview to the Gulf has reached the governor's desk.

Bill sets up Sabine River Navigation District in Gregg, Harrison, Panola and Rusk counties.

A $15,000,000 revenue bond-financed project extending to Toledo Bend Dam is contemplated. Under the plan, locks would be constructed to lift barges into the Gulf of Mexico.

Beer-Liquor Interests Clash—One of the hottest floor fights of the session was waged over a bill which found beer and liquor interests on opposite sides and "wets" and "dries" somewhat confused.

Liquor store operators bitterly opposed a measure by Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham, which they contended permitted wholesale beer distributors to sell ale and malt liquor directly to consumers.

Mutscher said the two beverages should be treated as beer under state statutes, since they are made by brewers, not distillers.

After prolonged debate in the House, Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah unsuccessfully tried to tack on an amendment to raise the beer tax $1 a barrel.

Mutscher's bill finally passed 90-44 and went to the Senate for another round.

Pickups May Speed Up—House has approved and sent to the Senate a bill permitting pickup trucks to travel 70 miles an hour on Texas highways instead of the present 55 mph limit.

Another bill by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin specifies that pickups may be driven with a regular operator's license. Some law enforcement agencies (not the Texas Highway Patrol) contend that drivers of pickups must have a commercial license. The say law is not clear on the point. Bill cleared committee and is on House calendar.

Property Titles Unclear—Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo believes that no Texan can be sure he has a clear title to any of his personal property because present law permits the state to get a preferred lien without notice on any property which has gone through the hands of a person arrears on his taxes.

Harding said the state can do this regardless of how many times the property has changed hands.

He has introduced a bill which would provide for handling of personal property liens in the same manner that liens on real property now are handled, including filing of a notice with the county clerk. No lien would be effective on personal property before the filing of such notice.

Vocational Education Plan—Rep. Milton Schiller of Cameron has introduced a bill calling for a statewide plan to take maximum advantage of federal funds for vocational and technical education.

Bill would make the State Board for Vocational Education, established in 1949, the coordinating agency for setting up standards and requirements for school districts which want to set up a vocational and technical school or a vocational and technical school district with state and

The Theodosian Code of Rome specified the maximum loads that could be carried by the various vehicles in use in A. D. 438.

The classrooms will have four full walls on which to have displays, boards and ample space to put other projects in operation.

Supt. Clinton pointed out the safety feature on underground construction. Protection from tornadoes would be a moving factor.

Clinton personally likes the underground plant and he said: "I will be disappointed if we are unable to get this underground facility."

Proponents of the underground work claim that electric bills and other utility costs will be reduced due to the natural underground insulating quality present.

Proponents of the underground class rooms also pointed out that ventilation would be simple to arrange in case of a power failure during an emergency that battery powered lights would be available. These lights would be strategically spaced.

The entire facility could be used for a shelter for the students in the elementary school in case of disaster, it was claimed.

Pay Raise For - - -

(Continued from page 1) the all-important matter of who should pay for it. The latter may well be the point on which the issue turns."

In his message to the Legislature, Gov. Connally made it crystal clear that he wants local school districts to pay an increasingly larger share of school costs. Connally said: "To provide equitable and realistic state-local sharing of public school costs, I endorse the suggestions of the Texas Committee on State and Local Tax policy and recommend that the free textbook program and the Teacher Retirement System be incorporated into the calculation of the cost of the Minimum Foundation Program."

If this is done local districts would have to pay twenty percent of these costs, something they have never done before. And they would have to pay twenty percent of the Governor's total salary program, which averages $20 million annually for the first biennium. This combination would shift the sharing of the new Connally program to 70 percent local and thirty percent state for the next biennium.

Many Texas educational leaders are of the opinion that Connally's program would cause a breakdown of the foundation program in the Gilmer-Akin law. Connally's bill penalizes the local school districts by asking them to contribute to the teacher retirement fund and for textbooks, which have always been financed entirely by the state.

Another bad feature of the Connally bill is the proposed 10-year unchanged pay raise plan for teachers. The constantly changing economic conditions and the government's policies, which necessarily promote a lowering of dollar values, make such a proposal completely inconsistent with past experience or with future realities.

The TSTA plan would give the teachers a $405 across-the-board raise. Because it is an admitted fact that our teachers are now underpaid—because both Gov. Connally and the TSTA and the people realize in view of the rising economic conditions a pay raise for teachers is needed—and because our children's education is the best guarantee for our continued standard of life and for preservation of freedom—we are for the TSTA bill all the way.

Hospitals And You

By George M. Fleming, Ed. D., Member Council On Public Education Texas Hospital Association And Administrator, Galveston County Memorial Hospital, La Marque

A hospital's strength in any community is in direct ratio to the demonstrated interest, understanding and service expressed by the people in the hospital's health mission. Hospital Auxiliary Programs of voluntary services to patients, financial assistance to the hospital and public education and information to the community will become even more important in the future. Pink Ladies and other volunteers bring to the hospital the true spirit of voluntary service and self-sacrifice. As important, the hospital auxiliary provides information and education to the community regarding the hospital's value to patients and the community and interprets the hospital's needs to the public.

The leadership extended by the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries has been most effective in encouraging the growth and development of auxiliaries in our hospitals. State auxiliary presidents and leaders will be remembered like 1962 President Mrs. Guy B. (Sue) Neas of Odessa and her theme, "Public Relations"; Mrs. J. R. (Elsie) Spiller of Houston, 1963 President, "Cooperation is like a parachute, there is no substitute"; and Mrs. J. L. (Kitty Faye) Jenkins of Galveston, board member and past president, "Service," and Mrs. Betty Paddock, 1964 President, "Year for the Auxiliary."

The planned hospital auxiliary program crystallized in 1943 in the formation of the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries. This was a most significant step in a 20-year period during which tremendous scientific advances in medical treatment and hospital care occurred. In the years ahead the auxiliary volunteer will fill a primary role in fostering our health care hospitalization progress which evolves from independent interaction and through which patients receive untold benefits.

Many Texas hospitals have an active auxiliary. Their leader and member play a vital role in their hospital's growth and development.

Schuylkill Haven, Pa. Call And News: "A Montreal movie house was being picketed but business was brisk anyway as the theater was showing a good mystery thriller. The union strategists came up with an effective answer. The pickets began carrying signs that read: 'The professor's wife did it.' Two hours later the strike was settled."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

SELF-DEFENSE

Law, like psychology, pays due respect to the instinct of self-preservation. To defend yourself from danger, you have a legal right to use force. If the emergency is dire enough, you may even slay your assailant.

But, like all rights, this one has limits.

Here are some warnings: 1) Your right, broadly speaking, is no greater than your need. A minor attack does not justify a major counterattack. Thus, a man who reacted to a slap by stabbing the other man five times was held to have exceeded his right of self-defense. So was a woman who shot another woman for merely pulling her hair.

Of course, in measuring your peril, the law will take into consideration the surrounding circumstances. Obviously a woman has more to fear from a furtive grab on a dark street than from a rude nudge in a crowded elevator.

2) Your right is only to defend, not to punish. If an intruder lies wounded and helpless on the floor, you have no right to kick him in the head to teach him a lesson. Punishment is the law's job, not yours.

3) Before arming yourself with a weapon, check with the police. Possessing it may be unlawful even though you never put it to use. For example, switchblade knives are permitted in some communities but not in others.

Now, here is some reassurance: You are not required, in the heat of the fray, to act with perfect judgment and nice restraint.

"Detached reflection cannot be demanded," wrote Oliver Wendell Holmes, "in the presence of an uplifted knife."

Moreover, the law makes fair allowance for the normal human emotions that such an occasion may arouse.

In one case, a bill collector had a housewife arrested for swatting him with a toy baseball bat. But she explained to the court that the collector, trying to repossess her furniture by force, had cursed her, menaced her with his fist, and hurled her freshly-ironed laundry onto the floor.

Finding her innocent, the court said she had acted "very naturally," and added:

White House Aide Passes Buck To Self

Backstairs at the White House:

When Harry S. Truman was President he had a motto on his desk "The buck stops here."

This was the ultimate recognition of how far paper shuffling, decision delays, and responsibility transfers can go in the government bureaucracy.

Buck passing does not always work, however. Example:

An agency official was given some weeks ago an assignment that required tough, detailed decisions. Rather than take over, the responsibility himself, this official passed the buck to the White House.

Before two weeks were out, the same official — by virtue of an excellent reputation for past deeds — was transferred to the White House staff.

The decisions he had requested earlier from higher up, had been deferred at the White House until someone of naturally," and added: "She would not have been a woman if she had stood for that."

this man's caliber could be found to work on them. His first assignment was to work on the items he had tried to avoid in the first place.

It turned out that he had passed the buck to himself.

Another form of turn-about irony stems from President Johnson's order of a year or so ago to cut down the number of limousines and high-priced cars used by government officials.

A good start is reported to have been made on reserving limousine purchases only for cabinet officers and heads of the armed forces, with lesser lights riding in the ordinary sedans.

Even though there may be chauffeurs driving the Fords, Chevrolets, Plymouths and Ramblers, some occupants have been distressed by what they considered a reduction in prestige when they gave up their Cadillacs and Continentals.

The answer, in a few cars, has been to have a telephone installed in front of the rear window of the lower-priced automobiles, visible immediately from outside. If there is any status symbol in government that almost equals having a high-priced, chauffeur-driven sedan, it is having a telephone in a vehicle.

This indicates for all to see that the passenger is important enough to be kept on call even when riding to and from work. Up to now, at least, the 'phones do not violate any economy edict.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

If you haven't already got a copy of the Farmer's Tax Guide, Publication No. 225, from your agricultural agent or the Internal Revenue Service' you've been ignoring some mighty good advice. Most of the farm news men on radio have advised you to get by the county agent's office and pick up this year's copy of the Farmer's Tax Guide. This is still mighty good advice and will help you keep your Federal income taxes from eating up all the profit. Of course farmers who filed before January 15 can forget all the advisors except those who tell them to keep good records for next year.

County Chairmen To Attend RAMPS Meeting In Austin

Importance of county history in Texas and how to preserve and appreciate it will be focal points at the 1965 State-wide County Historical Chairmen's Meeting in Austin on March 16.

Over 100 county chairmen of their special representatives have pre-registered for the meeting, said John Ben Shepperd, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, sponsor of the event.

The one-day session will be devoted to a morning of special instructions for county chairmen and an afternoon of airing the regions' historical problems.

A noon luncheon will feature Mrs. A. A. Forester of Texarkana discussing county committees; Mrs. Dan Lester of Jefferson, THSC member, speaking on regional organizations; Weidon Watson of the Parks and Wildlife Department explaining co-operating organizations; and Shepperd, Odessa attorney, telling of the purpose and work of the state survey committee.

All these groups co-operate for the successful fulfillment of the state committee's program of RAMPS: Recordation, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation, and Surveys of Texas history.

Crux of the RAMPS program, said Shepperd, are the local, county, and regional organizations. TSHSC is there, like other state agencies, to assist in any way possible — help set up local groups, furnish materials with which to work, supply trained personnel when needed, and eventually to put final state approval upon landmarks and historical data.

All county chairmen and their committees have recently been appointed by the county judges of the state to serve a two-year term. The main point of the March 16 meeting in Austin is to give them instructions and inspiration to organize, develop and successfully fulfill the RAMPS program during the next two years.

Special guests at the luncheon will be State senators and representatives who are to be invited by their own areas' respective county chairmen.

"Importance of history in Texas is gaining momentum every day," explained Shepperd, "for people are realizing it is one of the state's biggest tourist attractions. The state of history in Texas is part of each individual's special Texas heritage."

Cahoon's Re-Map Plan Filed

The Republican congressional redistricting plan dropped in the House hopper Thursday afternoon by Rep. Frank Cahoon appears to be one of the most equitable yet proposed on community interests.

The projection strives for equal population compactness and community of interest. It attempts to honor county lines wherever possible and to avoid gerrymandering, Cahoon said.

Under the GOP plan Hale and Floyd counties would be moved from the 19th District (Lubbock) to District 18 (Amarillo). It would add to the 19th Scurry, Fisher and Nolan counties from District 17 (Abilene). The 17th District under this design would be abolished by creating a race between Omar Burleson of Anson and Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls.

District 19 would have a population of 422,804 or 1.5 per cent over the desired 416,508 figure. Under the 1960 census, on which all reapportionment plans must be based, the district presently has 424,774 people.

In addition to the Burleson - Purcell race, the Republican plan creates one more incumbent contest — John Dowdy of Athens against Lindley Beckworth of Gladedewar, and no district has a population fluctuation of more than 2.1 per cent from the 416,000 ideal.

Describing the West Texas-Plains area, the Midland legislator said that was little deviation from Plan A submitted by the Legislative Council Study Committee except that Midland and Ector counties—in accordance with their wishes were kept together.

"There is little you can do," Cahoon observed, "with the shape of the Panhandle or the Trans-Pecos region, and little alteration that can be logically made on District 19."

Tips For Outdoorsmen

DUCK PLUCK

Pluck ducks easier by soaking them in detergent. Detergent cuts oil in feathers, makes them easier to pick.

FISH KEEPER

Want to know the way to keep a big fish alive over an extended period? Tie a hunk of clothes line around his tail and let him seek deeper water. He'll be fat and lively when you go to take him home.

JUG FISHIN'

Jug fishermen are modernizing. They wrap jugs with reflecto tape so a flashlight shows them up after dark.

PLASTIC CONTAINER

Small plastic containers that medicine comes in will slip over the end of your rifle barrel and make a good snow shield.

EMERGENCY PACK

Mount a compass in the end of the rubber grips from a kid's bicycle handle. Before you jam compass in, though, fill the grip with maxed matches. Now you've emergency finder and fire.

BOTTLE CAP

Stuck for a bobber? Take a cork off a bottle cap. Works until you can get a better one.

BURN TREATMENT

Best first aid treatment for bad burns is to cover damaged areas with strong tea solution.

SOUP'S ON

The soup will be on if you use the bowl of an old silver tablespoon as a lure. Drill at both ends. With split rings, attach swivel at one end, treble hook at other. Wobble always gets 'em.

SHARPER HOOKS

If you dull a hook on a rock and left your sharpening stone behind, the striking area of a match book will do as well.

HEALTHY WORMS

Worm growers say the most important item in keeping the wrigglers alive and happy is moisture.

SUCKER PLAY

On those windless days when your decoys sit still as logs, catch a few suckers and attach them to decoy lines. Then watch the action!

BE A SPONGE

Be a sponge and keep trout flies better than anybody else. Sew a regular kitchen sponge to your fishing shirt. Flies hold on it like a magnet.

GOT THE EDGE

Don't fumble for a knife when you need one in your boat. Tack a strip of cardboard to a thwart and slide a single edge razor under it. You always have the edge on the other guy.

DRY BOX

Some fishermen reserve one of the spaces in their tackle box for a chunk of charcoal.

Terry Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Kelly, has returned from a Big Spring hospital where he had a tonsillectomy last Friday. He is reported to be doing well.

McCleskey Says Income Tax A Must

A Federal income tax return must be filed by every citizen or resident of the United States, including minor children, who had gross income of $600 or more in 1964, Gene McCleskey, Administrative Officer of the Midland office of Internal Revenue Service, reminded today.

A calendar year taxpayer, who is 65 or over, is not required to file unless his gross income in 1964 was at least $1,200, Gene McCleskey said. Document No. 5107 which furnishes more detailed information on this subject is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service.

IN the last issue of the newspaper it was stated that JOHN MCINTYRE, one of the six candidates for the Stanton Independent School Board was a painter by profession. JOHN has been employed by the SUPERIOR OIL CO., for 16 years in the construction department. As a devoted worker for this fine company he does many jobs, among them some spray painting. We are sorry we left out the part of his long tenure of service with SUPERIOR. It was an unintentional mistake.

OUR deepest sympathy goes to the survivors of youthful J. D. GREEN, victim of an electrical shock while working north of Midland last week. J. D. leaves a wife and two small boys among his survivors. He was employed by a Midland construction firm at the time of his death. GREEN's surviving wife is the former MARY ANN BOON, daughter of MR. and MRS. BUCK BOON, this county. His parents are MR. and MRS. O. D. GREEN.

REPORTS and rumors are eternally springing up in Washington. Some observers noted the coolness displayed by PRESIDENT JOHNSON in his address to a joint session of Congress Monday night to VP H. H. HUMPHREY. He recognized many dignitaries, including SEN. EVERETT DIRKSEN of Illinois, a staunch Republican friend, and SPEAKER JOHN McCORMACK, a Democrat, was warmly greeted by LBJ. But no such buddy-buddy attitude as prevailed in the last political campaign prevailed between HHH and LBJ. Rumor now has it that HUMPHREY may be replaced as a running mate to JOHNSON three years from now. Some political observers think this spot is the real goal of MARTIN LUTHER KING. It is a known and recognized fact that the views of HUMPHREY and KING are about the same and KING, actually being a leader of the colored corps would do more to bring negro votes in than HUMPHREY. This change in veeps could easily come about in 1968.

WE trust that the candidates for the school board places and for the city commission in Stanton tell the people FREE through the columns of this paper next week why they want to be elected. The invitation was extended in an effort to get candidates to "help put the issues before the voters." After all, our great President has called for this kind of above-board politics and we endorse his stand. There is bound to be a significant reason why every person runs for office. Let's hear the facts! We won't charge you for your statement. It's free.

EDITOR NEAL ESTES is preparing questionnaires to taxpayers to be delivered in person to every voter in Martin County within the next few weeks. Most voters subscribe to the newspaper, but "we don't want to miss any person," ESTES said. Purpose of the personal contact survey is to determine what the taxpayers expect from their elected public servants. "This government on all levels is engaged in million dollar businesses," the editor said. And he continued: "I am going to the grass roots and find out why the people are not informed as to the financial fabric and money fabric, as well as the administrative facets of our various PUBLIC governmental units by our public officials."

DR. ALLEN FISHER communicated with your writer Saturday night and invited us to participate in a Cougar—Mountain Lion—hunt that had been planned and mapped by our mutual friend, SAM MELL. We missed the take-off time by 45 minutes and later located the scattered whereabouts of the hunting party. But the results were nil. No mountain lions were bagged—nothing for the trophy case. The animals—two large ones—were reported destroying livestock in the Glasscock County sector. BERNARD HOUSTON and other ranchers south of Stanton were reported to have sighted the mountain lions. MELL contacted WEBB AIR FORCE BASE authorities and they agreed to send a 'copter over to flush the ferocious beasts so the hunters might get shots. DR. FISHER accompanied MELL. We were supposed to have been in their party but missed the appointment. Monday morning DR. FISHER was in our office and after listening to our explanation of tardiness at the start of the hunt, advised that SAM MELL was armed only with bow and arrow on the hunt. We didn't feel so badly after being late for the start of the mountain lion hunting trek after hearing that. True enough, it is an admitted fact that SAM is an archery expert but with nothing between your country editor but a camera and SAM and his bow and arrow—man—the odds just had to drop. DR. FISHER, it might be concluded, had the right kind of weapon—a powerful rifle. Anyway, we ought to try and flush those lions out of their Glasscock County lair before they attack anymore livestock or a human being.

ROBERT CALVERT told a committee in Austin that some of the senile and incompetent judges of Texas courts should be removed from office. He commented: "There is a judge in North Texas who doesn't even know where he is when he is in the courthouse."

THIS is the season for sucker advertising. Bums, birds, and bunco boys are combing one country community right after another with gimmicks to get your money. If you have any money to spend for advertising—spend it with a taxpaying business house that buys locally. After all—THE STANTON REPORTER is the only publication your funeral article is going to appear in after you are gone. You wouldn't want your obituary pinned to a public pole would you? Advertise in your local newspaper—or be forgotten here and in eternity.

HAVE you tried to "raise" a long distance telephone operator around 2 p.m. lately? Save the trouble—if you want to talk to Big Spring from Stanton, you can drive over there before you can get the operator to answer. I intend to talk to my friend GEORGE

California Growers Feeling Pinch Of Loss Of Braceros

"California growers are feeling the pinch of the labor shortage in that area brought on by the abolition of Public Law 78.

The right to bring Mexican farm workers to the U. S. A. terminated with the death of the law on December 31.

An officer of the Bank of America says certain farmers won't get loans because of an expected labor shortage.

Farmers have complained they don't have enough workers because of the end of Mexican national agricultural labor program. Earl Coke, senior agricultural vice president of the bank, announced that the decision was made at a statewide policy meeting and applies to all branches, including 150 in farm communities.

"As of now," Coke said, "there has been no assurance that there will be sufficient labor force to harvest California's high-labor crops."

The Bank of America, which last year made $700 million in loans to California farmers, will continue to process all applications," Coke said.

But he added that farmers who want to use all their land to grow such high-labor crops as tomatoes, lettuce and melons probably won't get any money.

Farmers who mostly plant grain, beans and alfalfa and other crops requiring few harvesters will probably obtain loans, Coke said.

Coke predicted farmers will plant fewer acres of high-labor crops than previous years.

Doc Blanchard Brags On Texas Senate Finance Body

Senator H. J. "Doc" Blanchard, Lubbock, released a statement to the press praising the "astute viewpoint of the Senate Finance Subcommittee in formulating its version" of the General Appropriations Bill.

"Recognition of the dire needs of our State, this committee has appropriated money for our most urgent obligations for research, education, and care for our special responsibility, the retarded," Blanchard stated.

"Establishment of a new Special School for Severely Mentally Retarded at Lubbock is now possible with the $250,000 appropriated for this purpose in 1966 and the $1,974,000 designated for 1967.

"Pinpointing funds for this school is like giving life itself for sheer relief and new hope the school will afford so many people," Senator Blanchard said.

Generations to come and the young people waiting right now for a chance to learn are really going to benefit from one of the most far-reaching appropriations in the bill that are set aside for innovations in education at Texas Technological College," Blanchard said.

"It's action we'll get now, and that's what we need, with the $150,000 the bill dedicates to study and planning for a state school of dentistry and a state school of medicine for Texas Tech," the Senator stated.

"Texas Tech's School of Law receives $59,000 in 1966 and $128,300 in 1967 in the bill," Blanchard said, "and this one appropriation is going to be worth every cent to the State for the return on the dollar each new law graduate will guarantee in dedicated service through the legal profession to our people."

"The net general appropriation to Texas Technological College of $10,166,934 in 1966 and $10,413,491 in 1967, is undoubtedly a penetrating direction of State money and suggests utmost wisdom on the part of the Senate Finance Subcommittee," Blanchard stated.

"We who fight for more and better things for Texas Economy are so deeply pleased at the sagaciousness of the committee in appropriating over $790,000 for the Cotton Research Committee for the two year period," Blanchard said.

"It's going to help the whole State to have enough money to research and investigate uses of cotton, cottonseed and their products more fully. It'll be like clothing and feeding the economy of Texas when our trained personnel discover new ways and means to supplant the uses of our present natural gift of fine Texas cotton," Blanchard said.

"I believe the people of Texas owe the Senate committee a vote of thanks for their discernment in passing out a general appropriations bill which fits so well the needs of our State; I am certainly grateful for the results of their hard work," Senator Blanchard stated.

"Members of this Senate Finance Subcommittee are Senators A. M. Aldin, Jr. of Paris, Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, Martin Dies, Jr. of Lufkin, J. P. Word of Meridian, and William T. "Bill" Moore of Bryan, Blanchard said.

Lions Hunted In Glasscock

A dozen hunters in jeeps and trucks, aided by a helicopter, spent a fruitless Sunday looking for two mountain lions which have taken up residence in north Glasscock County.

The hunt centered Sunday on the B. T. Houston ranch about 10 miles south of Stanton.

The lions, both of which have been seen on numerous occasions, killed a colt on a ranch in the area Friday. Heretofore, insofar as can be learned, they had not killed any animals but rabbits. Numerous rabbits have been found which had been slain by the marauders.

A negro hunter from Snyder brought a team of dogs into the area some days ago. His dogs tracked the pair to a dead-end corner. The upshot of the chase, it was reported, was two dead dogs.

Two or three times other dogs have treed the lions only to have them break out before the hunters reached the scene.

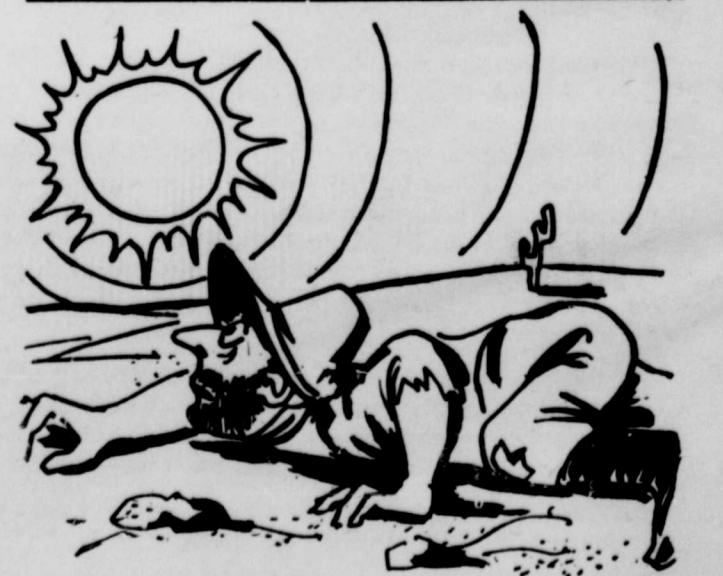

One of the lions is described as large. He has been seen in the area for some time. His companion, smaller, showed up only in recent weeks.

Ranchers say the lions must have drifted up from Mexico.

The Phoenix, Arizona, Republic says: "We believe it would be unfortunate for Congress to repeal right-to-work, thereby forcing workers to join labor unions. We believe that compulsory unionism infringes upon an individual's freedom of associations, freedom of choice, and freedom of conscience. It can no more be defended than compulsory membership in a particular religion or a particular political party. And it is incompatible with a free society."
