They held an art festival — ever what that is — in the White House the other day and the thing wound up with several artists openly standing there in the most sacred house in America critiquing the U. S. A. and President JOHNSON'S policy in Viet Nam. That takes the cake. How long are we going to pamper these bums? If I had been LYNDON, I would have called the porters and police and had the whole mob tossed out in the street.

The police in Jackson, Mississippi have one of the best riot-control departments in America today. They arrested 472 persons last week in Jackson — herded the demonstrators in waiting garbage trucks and trucked them off to a detention center. Negro policemen picked up about 30 of the teenage blacks who attempted to pull a sitdown and put them in a compound near the fairgrounds. No shouts of police brutality boomed from the crowd. One of the colored cops got a sit-downer off his bottom by telling him either "to get up on his feet or go to the cotton patch."

DISTRICT JUDGE JOE BROWN, who presided over the JACK RUBY murder trial last year, has asked to be relieved from "all further proceedings" in the case. Brown gave no reason. JUDGE DALLAS BLANKENSHIP, who assigns judges to state court cases in Dallas, granted the request. We have wondered since SUPREME COURT JUSTICE EARL WARREN'S private visit to RUBY in the Dallas County jail if he shouldn't also disqualify himself if the case ever reaches the high court on appeal. As far as we know the WARREN visit to a convicted and condemned killer marks the first in the history of the Republic.

The conversation between French leader CHARLES DE GAULLE and VP HUMPHREY was conducted in French. HUBERT is such a great gabber he possibly won't know what he said to the leader of France until he gets a copy of the translation.

U. S. REP. JOHN DOWDY, (D-Tex.) is one of the most highly regarded members of Congress. He is a real gentleman from the school of scholars and not a cheap politician. Congressman DOWDY of Texas, is worried about the steadily rising crime climb in Washington, D. C. Women, children, and visitors are not safe on the streets in our nation's capital and some Texas Congressmen have so warned constituents planning on visiting Washington, D. C.

Cindy Britton Chosen 4-H State Delegate

Cindy Britton has been chosen as a representative from District 6 to the State 4-H Council. The annual meeting will be held in Houston on June 22-26. Delegates plan and participate in all district and state 4-H activities. Cindy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Souval Britton, has been active in county and district 4-H. She has served as an officer in her local club, county council and district council. Only one boy and one girl from each of the 12 districts in the state make up the state council. The theme for the 1965 Texas 4-H Council is "Understanding and Utilizing the Texas 4-H Council." The annual meeting is divided into several sessions. Each session is devoted to a different phase of council business, such as reports by district council delegates, reports of officers, and the information chairman, reports of committees and activities, reviewing the standing rules, and election of officers for 1966. Workshops will be maintained.

Grand Jury Indicts Man For Murder

The Martin County Grand Jury met Monday in a recall session and indicted Augustine Vallas, 21, on a charge of murder with malice in the stabbing death of Santos Romero, 22, June 12, 1965 in Stanton.

Judge Ralph W. Caton set bond at $10,000 and appointed Roger Brown of Big Spring as attorney for Vallas, who remained in the Martin County jail.

No date was set for trial. The next grand jury session will be during the October term of court.

Murphy Baxter Wildcat Test Below 9,000 Ft.

Murphy H. Baxter of Midland No. 1-B Allar, a Martin County wildcat 15 1/2 miles north of Stanton, at last report, was at total depth of 9,100 feet and drilling ahead on an 11,000-foot Fusselman wildcat venture.

It is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 15, block 35, T-2-N, T&P survey and 3 1/2 miles south of the Hill Ranch (Dean) pool.

It also is four miles northwest of the extreme north edge of the Martin County sector of the Spraberry Trend Area.

Healey & LeBlond of Midland have plugged and abandoned No. 1 Mabee, a Martin County wildcat 17 miles northwest of Stanton, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 7, block 38, T-1-N, G&MMB&A survey, at total depth of 4,604 feet.

Cities Service Oil Co. No. 2-K Scharbauer, a Martin County wildcat 19 miles northwest of Stanton, has been plugged at total depth of 4,597 feet. It spots 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 1, league 324, LaSalle County School Land survey.

20 YEARS IN LIONISM—Five Stanton Lions were awarded 20-year service pins in a special presentation ceremony at the anniversary banquet held here on June 15. District 2-A-1 Gov.-Elect George Thompson of Sweetwater is shown honoring Horace Blocker, Cecil Bridges, O. B. Bryan, James Jones, and Finley Rhodes. B. F. White also qualified for the 20-year service lapel chevron but is not pictured.

Stanton Lions Celebrate Anniversary At Banquet

Charter members and out-of-city guests were in large numbers Tuesday night, June 15, as the Stanton Lions Club celebrated its 20th anniversary with a banquet at the Caprock Electric auditorium. In conjunction with its anniversary the Stanton club held its installation of officers and presented several awards for 20-year memberships to the club.

Bob Cain, a Martin County farm implement dealer, was installed as president of the club by Lions International Counselor Joe Pond of Big Spring. Pond was the installing officer at the Stanton club's charter night 20 years ago.

Other officers installed were John Wood, first vice president; Jack Ireton, second vice president; H. S. Blocker, third vice president; Roy Pickett, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Allan Fisher, Lion tamer. Tom Ed Angel, tallwister; Mrs. Pauline Wood, sweetheart; Rev. C. R. LeMond, chaplain, and Paige Elland, Jim Wheeler, and Euel Ferguson, directors.

Double-Header Program The affair highlighted a double-header program with Roy Minear of Midland as speaker. Entertainment was provided by the Lamesa Slumtown Symfunny.

Minear stressed the need for more dependability among Lions. "A man may be successful in many ways, but to be complete he must be dependable," he said.

Minear compared men with the brakes on a car as he asked, "What good are the brakes on your car if they are not dependable?" "The Lion is charged to do the right thing . . . and the record of Lions' accomplishments are evidence of their dependability," he said. The Lamesa Symfunny gave

Driver's Ed Course Nears Half Way Mark

Bill Johnson, principal of Stanton High School, reported this week that a total of 48 students were enrolled in the Driver's Education program sponsored by the school. The first phase of the course will end on Friday, June 25, after which the written exam will be given by Lt. Roberts of Midland, an officer with the Department of Public Safety.

The group will immediately go into the second phase, which will include six hours of driving and six hours of observation, and should be completed by July 9. Upon completion of the second phase, students will be eligible to take the regular driver's examination given by the driver's license patrolman. A temporary restricted license, which is valid only if the driver is accompanied by a licensed driver in the front seat, will be given upon satis-facting an entertaining program of jazz and classical music with the usual shenanigans. Martin County Agent Bob Johnson assisted the group.

Brown Attends Student Council Convention

Guy Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brown, is attending a National Student Council Convention in Lexington, Kentucky, in progress this week.

He and the delegates from Midland and Odessa, accompanied by Jack Mashburn of Midland, executive secretary of the state student council, left by automobile Friday for Dallas. They were to fly from Dallas to Lexington on Saturday, and register for the convention on Sunday. There are 21 delegates from Texas to the convention.

FHA Members Attend Meeting At Lubbock

Several members of the local FHA chapter attended a F H A Officer's Leadership Workshop at Texas Tech in Lubbock on June 15-16. They were accompanied by Mrs. Florence King and Mrs. Joyce Woody, high school teachers. The theme for the workshop was "Designs in Leadership."

A welcome was extended by Willa Vaughn Tinsley, dean of the School of Economics at Texas Tech. Robert T. Davis, director of the Attorney General's Youth Conference, Austin, spoke on "Leadership in Action."

The group was divided into small work sessions during the afternoon. Linda Manning served as a leader in a session for first vice presidents. She is outgoing area first vice president. Eunice Stephenson served as assistant leader in the session for third vice presidents. She is incoming area third vice president.

3 Candidates Campaigning For The Place

The special legislative race to name a successor to the late Ed J. Carpenter who represented the 78th District until his death will be held Saturday, June 26.

Three Big Spring men are campaigning for the job. They are: Roger Brown, attorney; Frank Hardesty, druggist; and Harold Hall, auto parts store owner.

The high man will get the post. There will be no runoff election.

Voters in seven counties comprising the 78th District will mark ballots. The polls will open at 8 a.m. in all counties and close at 7:30 p.m.

In addition to those expected to visit the voting places in Martin County to cast ballots, the qualified voters from Irion, Coke, Reagan, Sterling, Glasscock, and Howard counties will also express their preferences at the polling places.

The candidates have all made announcements and the campaign activity has been limited. Lack of interest in the important legislative race is reflected in the light number of absentee votes reported through Tuesday, the last day for qualified poll tax voters to cast that type vote.

In Martin County only six absentee ballots were looked up in the county clerk's office.

The candidates all are stepping up the tempo of their campaigns this week and all three will continue to work (Continued on page 5)

Mr. Neal Estes Stanton Reporter Stanton, Texas

Dear Mr. Estes:

We wish to extend to you our most hearty congratulations for the distinguished honors voted for you by the F.F.A., School District, and American Cancer Society.

Our continual reading of The Stanton Reporter for many years had already convinced us that it was edited by an outstanding thinker and individual so we take great pleasure in seeing this recognition in the paper.

Very truly yours, Allen R. Hamilton, O. D. and Staff.

Stanton Reporter Files Tell Events A Year Ago

The files of The Stanton Reporter have faithfully chronicled events and happenings in Martin County for many years.

We thought it would be interesting to publish some of the stories — at least the captions — taken from the issue of June 18, 1964 — just a year ago.

Udell Morris was installed as president of the Lions Club. Tammie Leonard, three-year-old daughter of a traveling Georgia couple walked into an airplane propeller at a local service station, and was hospitalized in Stanton. The child's father was attempting to start a plane — being towed behind the family car — when Tammie darted in front of the whirling blades.

The story of the murder of Mrs. W. S. McDonald was the banner story for the week. Guy Brown was attending a baseball camp in Lubbock — Future Homemakers of America girls were attending a workshop in Lubbock — Cap Rock Electric Cooperative was granted a $1,311, 999 loan to build 51 miles of new lines, construct 228 miles of distribution lines to serve 909 customers. Senator Ralph Yarborough wired the news to

Mahon Introduces Bill To Dramatize U. S. Debt

Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock Tuesday introduced a bill offered chiefly for its "shock value."

Mahon's measure would require that the interest on the national debt be specifically appropriated each year and thereby go through the long, routine procedure of congressional approval.

Currently, the interest is paid automatically out of funds appropriated to the Treasury Department without any congressional scrutiny.

"I just thought," said Mahon, "that this might hit us in the face and imbed in the marrow of our bones the magnitude of the national debt and the necessity for holding the line on spending. It would not reduce the debt, but I think it might have a sobering effect on both citizens and members of Congress who seek appropriations."

Mahon has offered a similar bill in the past with a notable lack of success. He decided to revive the idea to dramatize the debt picture.

In the fiscal year beginning July 1, the interest on the $319.3 billion debt will amount to $11.5 billion.

Mahon's bill would not and could not change either of these figures, but an $11.5 billion appropriation bill just for interest would have "a certain amount of shock value," he said.

Valley Field Yields First Bale In U. S.

A 50-acre field 12 miles southeast of Brownsville beside the Rio Grande yielded the first bale of new cotton in the United States this year. C. C. Crowe and his son Bill are the growers. They won an annual race by delivering the 452-pound bale at the Harlingen police station. Bill Crowe said 50 field hands worked from 1 to 5:30 p.m. and picked the entire field to gather the cotton. It was grown from Tideland 69 seed planted Feb. 1-2, the first legal planting dates in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

As a reward the Crowes are promised at least $2,500 for the bale by the Harlingen Chamber of Commerce.

The first new crop cotton comes from the Lower Rio Grande Valley almost without fail each year.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sims and family of Midland, were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckert.

As a reward the Crowes are promised at least $2,500 for the bale by the Harlingen Chamber of Commerce.

Fort Bliss, 117 years old, in 1854 was named in honor of Brevet Lieutenant Colonel William Wallace Smith Bliss, son-in-law of President Zachary Taylor. One of America's most colorful military posts, it was created Nov. 7, 1848 as the Post of El Paso.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:
The Texas Forest Service operates nine pine seed orchards. These orchards are made up of trees selected specifically for outstanding characteristics. Superior seed produced by the trees will be sold to forest landowners for direct seeding and used in the state forest tree nursery to produce quality seedlings for sale to landowners.

The Exchange Desk

THE COMANCHE CHIEF: "Comanche took another big step this week towards building a better community, as final plans were made to erect an airport here. This week Governor John Connally signed a bill allowing the use of State funds toward building the airport."

THE FORT STOCKTON PIONEER: "An increase of about $10 million in assessed valuation on the school tax roll and slightly more than $7 million in the county tax roll is indicated for next year."

MATADOR TRIBUNE: "Complete remodeling of Matador's post office building may be finished within the next week or ten days, according to contractor Kirby Campbell. All of the new equipment has been received with the exception of lighting fixtures and a few small items. Everything except the outside walls and roof of building, has been remodeled."

THE MITCHELL COUNTY NEWS: "The Colorado City Industrial Team, Inc. is conducting an industrial employment survey for information about citizens in Mitchell County. Questionnaires, which will include Spanish translation, will be mailed July 6, date set for kickoff for the survey, according to Don Benson, chairman."

DENVER CITY PRESS: "The per capita indebtedness for the City of Denver City is $249.66, according to calculations from the annual audit of the city, just released. The per capita debt was based upon the city's latest population estimate of 4,665 residents."

THE MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT: "Miss Anita Snowdon, Memphis senior, will leave Friday for Dallas where she will join other Texas delegates on the Odd Fellowship's Sixteenth Annual 'United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth.'"

STAMFORD AMERICAN: "The city cleanup campaign, slated last month, but seriously hampered by the frequent rains, is receiving renewed emphasis from the civic improvement committee and the community health and safety committee of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce. James High, director of the civic improvement committee, has pointed out that rodeo time is fast approaching and 'we would like to get this underway and a considerable portion done before rodeo time when there will be hundreds of visitors here.'"

THE McCAMEY NEWS: "McCamey is all set to celebrate their 40th birthday on June 24-25-26, and will officially kick-off with a street dance in downtown McCamey at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, June 24. Registration will begin at 3:00 p.m. on Thursday in the Halameick Building directly across the street from the Post Office on Burleson, and all visitors are urged to stop by and register."

WINKLER COUNTY BULLETIN: "The response from Big Lake and Reagan County in aiding Sanderson last week end when the tragic flood inundated the city, proved prompt and efficient with the first ambulance awaiting the opening of the highway into the city on that fateful Friday. The first load of food and clothing arrived by noon Saturday."

4th Grade 4-H Club Votes Name Change

The Fourth Grade 4-H Club met Tuesday, June 15, in the home of Elizabeth Flanagan. They voted to change their name to the Sunshine 4-H Club.

The group continued with their sewing project and cut out skirts and sewed the seams on them.

Bible Comment—

Common Sense Is Needed In Christian Life

The Christian way of life and conduct, if one accepts and proposes to follow it, ought to be simply and easily defined. Is it not to love God with all the heart, strength and soul and mind, and to love one's neighbor as one's self?

Yet it is obvious in the pages of the New Testament and in the religious life of all times, including our own, that religious people have been deeply concerned about the problems of daily conduct. They have differed widely about questions of right and wrong and have often been harsh in their demands and judgments upon those whose ideas have not coincided with their own.

There are reasonable standards of moral judgment that would mark the proper conduct of a Christian while avoiding great extremes of undue Puritanism and undue license. They can be found in studying the words and example of Jesus in relation to matters of conduct.

So often, we are too inclined to relate the teachings of Jesus to the supreme matter of faith and life without paying sufficient attention to specific instances.

A striking instance concerns the Sabbath. Throughout Christian history, punctilious observers carried to extremes observances of the letter of the Sabbath.

There are enough real sins and wrong to fight without creating artificial sins out of matters that are neither against God nor against one's fellow men.

Goodness needs always the strong ally of common sense.

4-H Group Attending Camp In New Mexico

Martin County boys and girls are attending the District 6 4-H Conservation Camp this week at Scott Able Camp in Cloudercroft, New Mexico.

The theme "Conservation—Now or Never" is being studied in the session: conservation — animals, plants; civil defense; physical fitness. Other workshop groups will be: science in 4-H, firearms safety, outdoor cookery, photography, exploring the forest, and citizenship.

Cathy Hazlewood and Gary Reid are serving on the District 4-H council. This group is holding its annual meeting while at camp and making plans for all district events. Mrs. Mildred Eiland is serving as their advisor.

Others attending the camp are Beth Holcomb, Doris Howard, Luan Louder, Butch Robnett, Barry Hill, Donnie Jones, and Bobby Johnson, who will be in charge of the physical fitness group.

Mrs. Bill Stone, the former Carolyn Kelly, has accepted a position as English teacher at Apple Springs High School for next year. Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kelly of Stanton.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON SEPTEMBER 7, 1965.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 44, proposing an Amendment to Sections 2 and 25 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to provide for an increase in the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39 members; to fix the membership in the House of Representatives at 150 members; to require apportionment of the Senate according to population; and to delete the limitation that no single county is entitled to more than one Senator.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Sections 2 and 25 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to read respectively as follows:

"Section 2. The Senate shall consist of 39 members. The House of Representatives shall consist of 150 members.

"Section 25. The state shall be divided into Senatorial Districts of contiguous territory according to population, as nearly as possible.

"Should the Legislature enact any enabling legislation in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature.

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the 7th day of September, 1965, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment increasing the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39 members, retaining the present membership of the House of Representatives, requiring apportionment of the Senate according to population, and deleting the limitation that no single county is entitled to more than one Senator."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment increasing the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39 members, retaining the present membership of the House of Representatives, requiring apportionment of the Senate according to population, and deleting the limitation that no single county is entitled to more than one Senator."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Teachers' Paid Sick Leave Bill Vetoed

Gov. John Connally vetoed Saturday a bill giving teachers five days of paid sick leave a year under the minimum foundation school program.

The measure was a major legislative goal of the Texas State Teachers Association, with which Connally compromised over a teacher pay raise plan.

Sponsors estimated the bill would have cost the state $4 million in two years. The program would have gone into effect in 1967. Most teachers already have locally financed sick leave programs.

The governor said his committee on public school education, authorized by the legislature, could look into the question of state-financed sick leave for teachers.

Dowdy Says Court Ties Police Hands

Rep. John Dowdy of Athens charged Monday that the Supreme Court has tied the hands of Washington police authorities to such an extent that vigilante organizations are being formed by private citizens.

Dowdy, a high-ranking member of the House District of Columbia Committee, noted grimly that criminals in the capital have become so brazen that they have "invaded the very steps of the Supreme Court Building."

He said Chief Justice Earl Warren has had to ask guards to escort women secretaries of the court to their cars at night.

"The chief justice's own apartment in the northwest section of the city was burglarized not long ago," Dowdy said in his weekly report to constituents.

Dowdy deplored the fact that a new anti-crime bill for

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Amsler On Wedding Trip To Colorado

After a reception in the Downtowner Motor Inn in Midland Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Gene Amsler left on a honeymoon trip to Colorado Springs, Colo.

Amsler, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Amsler, Midland, and his bride, the former Laveta Larrie Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fisher of Stanton, were married at 5 p.m. in the North Main and Parker Streets Church of Christ in Midland.

Lynn Fisher, Church of Christ minister from Snyder, and brother of the bride, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The father of the bride gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a two-piece white silk linen dress with a veil head-dress and carried a small white Bible with white Phalaenopsis orchids surrounded by white feathered carnations and white ribbon streamers. She also wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Ted W. Ware of San Antonio, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a pink silk sheath dress and carried a colonial bouquet of Happiness roses.

The bridegroom's attendant was Elvis Fisher of San Antonio, brother of the bride. Alvis Fisher of Fort Worth, also a brother of the bride, and Ronald Briley were the ushers.

The church was decorated with a sunburst arrangement of white gladiolus and carnations flanked by two spiral candelabra.

The music was furnished by eight singers from the Golf Course Road Church of Christ. Ted W. Ware of San Antonio, was the soloist.

Mrs. Delos Johnson, Midland, and Mrs. Elvis Fisher and Sherrie Ware of San Antonio, were in the house party for the reception following the wedding.

After their return from Colorado, the newlyweds will reside in Midland. A teacher in the Midland Independent School District, the bride has a bachelor of science degree in education from Abilene Christian College. The bridegroom, who has a bachelor of business administration degree from the University of Texas, is an accountant for Texaco Inc.

Mississippi Methodist To Follow John Wesley

Many members of the Methodist Churches in Mississippi have elected to continue to follow John Wesley, the founding father of the denomination and leading exponent of the Wesley method — the method from which the church gets its name—Methodist.

Some Methodist in Mississippi have formed a new group to help organize churches for members breaking with the church over racial and social matters.

Big Spring State Hospital Payroll Listed At $1,098,371

Payroll for the Big Spring State Hospital for 1964 was well over $1 million, according to a report released Friday by state auditor C. H. Cavness.

The auditor listed the hospital's salary expenditures as $1,098,371 during the year ending Aug. 31, 1964. Local funds accounted for $13,870, a grant accounted for $178, and the balance came from state appropriations.

There were 1,123 patients at the hospital on Aug. 31, and the average monthly patient number was listed at 993. This was 25 more than the average a year ago. The number of employees jumped from 325 in 1963 to 341 in 1964, while the employe - patient ratio was decreased from 1 to 2.79 to 1 to 2.74 in 1964. The average monthly cost of keeping patients rose from $106 in 1963 to $112 in 1964. The employe load at the Big Spring State Hospital is kept below potential cost, through the volunteer services of hundreds of residents of Big Spring, Midland, Odessa and other surrounding cities.

COMBINATION FALLOUT and tornado shelter built into the "cafeteria" (left) of the new Lincoln Elementary School at Alva, Okla., is part of the town's response to its perilous position in the center of the Nation's tornado belt and near major military bases. The $291,000 school is built into a slope so that the first-floor cafeteria is underground on one side and windowless on all sides. The room could serve as a shelter for 256 persons, with a 17-inch slab of concrete and masonry walls reducing radiation to a hundredth of that outside. School Superintendent Earl L. Geis says: "Parents of children in this school feel a sense of security, for these children are sheltered in case of storm or fallout disaster better than can be provided at home." It is one of 34 buildings of various kinds across the Nation described in "New Buildings With Fallout Protection" (TR-27), a Defense Department booklet. Philosopher Joins In With National Beauty Drive With A Few Minor Exceptions

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses beauty this week, in an odd sort of way.)

Dear editor:
I have been reading about a national drive to preserve the natural beauty of this country and I can go along with a good part of it, although first Washington has to understand my definition of natural beauty.

Some people I suppose would consider an electric light pole unnatural, it didn't grow there, but not me. There's nothing more naturally beautiful than a string of poles marching across the countryside toward your house bringing power to an electric water pump to replace a rope and bucket. A rope and bucket may be more romantic looking in a rustic sort of way, but if you want to get completely natural you'd eliminate all hydrants and have everybody cup his hands and drink out of a spring, preferably barefooted.

One of the major goals I understand in the beauty drive is to eliminate automobile junk yards along the highways, or at least screen them from view, and I'd like Washington to know I'm ahead on this. I left a cultivator at the turn-row near a public road 18 years ago when I went to the house to get a drink of water and have now successfully screened it with weeds I estimate to be about 8 feet tall. Furthermore I have not contributed to the junkyard eyecore personally as I am still driving my car. Also, I haven't put up any billboards or rickety hotdog stands, and I don't print newspapers to be thrown out of cars to litter up the highways. You might say I'm in almost total compliance.

However, the is one plank in the beauty program that seems to me outrageous. One of the members of the planning group got a little overenthusiastic and wanted to eliminate sagging fences along the highways. "There's nothing more unattractive," he said, "than sagging wires along a highway winding through the rolling countryside." Well, I'll tell you. Tight their usefulness, but not in the beauty department. The prime purpose of a fence or a banker is not to look at.

I'll tighten the wires on my fence only when my cows get out, or actually when they get out so often my neighbors announce what's going to happen if I don't do something about it, today, not tomorrow. That's the way to get a fence tightened, not through Washington.

You let some official tell you how tight your fence has to be, and his next move will be to tell you what kind and color of cows you can graze behind it. Cows, like Congressmen, are not to be gazed at esthetically. They're to be milked as long as they produce, then turned over to the packers.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

It's goodbye federal excise taxes and hello lower prices! Tuesday marked the big day. PRESIDENT JOHNSON signed the measure cutting many items from the 10 per cent excise list. No more taxes on costume jewelry, cosmetics, luggage, radios, etc. The President could have signed the bill Monday eliminating excise taxes but he wanted to give retailers time to spend the week end marking down stocks. LBJ expects merchants at the retail level to not only take the tax off, which is now illegal to collect, but to mark the price of the merchandise formerly taxed down to match the amount of the excise levy. This would bring as much as a 20 per cent reduction in price on some items. The idea behind the removal of the excise tax in the first place was to create more buying power, more money, more spending and more employment.

The Family Lawyer

"Position Is Everything"

To a certain young housewife, there is special meaning in the adage that "position is everything in life." Injured while shopping, she lost a claim for damages simply because of her position — her physical position — at the moment of the accident.

It happened this way: Standing near the check-out counter in a market, she decided to hand the cashier an extra package she was carrying. She stepped into that cashier's booth, stumbled over an obstruction, and fell down hard.

A rule, a shopper has a favored legal status. Classified as an "invitee" (or "business visitor"), she is entitled to have substantial care taken for her safety.

But that status continues only so long as she stays where she belongs, within the area of invitation. Outside that area, she loses her favored status. Her chance of collecting damages, in case of injury, is automatically reduced.

In the above case, the housewife stepped out of bounds when she entered the cashier's booth. Result: she lost her status and lost the lawsuit that followed.

How far does the area of invitation extend? Farther, of course, than the precise point of purchase. For instance, you are still within its protection while entering or leaving the store in the normal manner.

Thus, in a case involving negligence on the part of a bank, damages were awarded to a man injured while entering through the bank's front door. But damages were denied to a woman injured while entering a restaurant through the side shipping door, obviously not meant for public use.

Suppose you want to use the telephone or a washroom? Does the area of invitation reach that far?

Much depends on the nature of the store. Facilities that would be considered public in a department store may be considered private — for use of employees only — in a dress shop or a pharmacy.

Merchants know they have less legal responsibility in out-of-bounds areas. Often, for that reason, they make less effort to keep the floors safe and the lighting adequate.

So if you should stray, be sure to keep a sharp lookout for hazards. Far better than winning damages is not getting hurt at all.

New Caparol controls weeds in cotton at layby without residue problems in crops planted next spring.

You can spray new Caparol* at layby for control of most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses, without fear of a soil residue carryover to harm crops planted in the spring of 1966. Just apply Caparol after your cotton is up six inches or more and before weeds are two inches high. Spraying Caparol at layby will give you control until your cotton is up high enough to shade out any weeds that may germinate late in the summer. You can even apply Caparol where other herbicides have already been used and you find weeds breaking through. Caparol is easy to handle and apply. Just direct the spray at the base of the cotton plants. You'll get quick knockdown of the young weeds and grasses. Then the action of Caparol continues to control weeds and grasses through the roots as they germinate for the next several weeks.

With Caparol on the job, you won't have weeds to compete for moisture and plant food. And you won't have rank weeds to foul up harvesting... to stain and downgrade lint.

So plan now to use Caparol at layby. It's available through your local supplier.

Mexican Baptist Departmental Convention Slated For Bryan

Reports, sermons and fellowship will characterize the Mexican Baptist Departmental Convention when it meets in Bryan July 12-15.

An integral part of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the convention will meet on the four evenings while auxiliary meetings are scheduled for the mornings and afternoons.

Highlight of the first convention session at Bryan's Baptist Church will be the president's message by Josue Grijalva, dean at the Mexican Baptist Bible Institute in San Antonio. Hugo Ruiz, Fort Worth, will lead a Bible study. Jose Rivas, professor at Howard Payne College, Brownwood, will report on the monthly magazine, El Bautista Mexicano.

Other speakers at convention sessions include Lazaro Garcia, Lamesa; Ramiro Rodriguez, Bastrop, and T. A. Patterson, Texas Baptist Executive Secretary.

Woman's Missionary Union and the Pastors' Conference meet Tuesday morning. The WMU continues in the afternoon while the men's organization, Brotherhood, follows the ministers' meeting. Speaking at the WMU meeting will be W. L. Smith of Dallas and ladies representing young people's missionary organizations.

Jose Flores, San Marcos; J. E. Enriquez and H. B. Ramsour, both of San Antonio, and Robert Garcia, Lubbock, will speak at the Pastors' Conference. Rudy Sanchez, Dallas, will bring the main message to the Brotherhood.

The Sunday School organization will meet Wednesday morning and afternoon, while the Training Union meets Thursday. Speakers at the Sunday School meeting include W. H. Colson, Corpus Christi; W. R. Bumpas, Dallas, and Ramiro Pena, Temple. Conferences for training union leaders are planned.

Tax Man Sam Sez.

Internal Revenue Service often gets a question: "What do you do after April 15?" The good folks at Internal Revenue collect a lot of other taxes besides income taxes. These are excise taxes of jewelry, automobiles, and many other things. These taxes are not paid on April 15 but are paid by the manufacturer or the place of business on a quarterly basis. The income tax may be the big tax, and the most talked about tax, but the tax folks work on hundreds of other taxes throughout the year. The tax calendar is loaded with filing dates and of course the tax returns have to be processed after they come in.

Outdoors In Texas

One of the fastest growing and most unusual outdoor pastimes in Texas today is Indian artifact hunting. It's better known simply as arrowhead hunting.

Since Indian tribes roamed all over Texas at one time or another, there are many likely places to search for relics.

Most of the choice places near populous areas have been picked over by meticulous searchers. But each eroding rain or a farmer's plough turns up new tidbits.

Best-known artifact is the articulate flint arrowhead. But a search may turn up other historic relics like spear points, tomahawk heads or flint knives.

There are two distinct types of Indian relic seekers... the surface hunter and the digger. The former is the most are the most accessible spots common to all part of Texas. Other possibilities are stream beds, bulldozed road right-of-ways, eroded hillsides, broken places in the land, gullies and washes.

A surface hunter can ascertain whether or not a spot is likely hunting ground almost immediately. There will be some evidence of Indian life, even if it is only tiny broken chips of flint, a telltale clue that it has been worked.

Surface hunting is the sport in its most basic form. When a hunter begins exploring beneath the earth it gets somewhat more complicated.

Dr. E. Mott Davis, an archeologist at the University of Texas, does most of his exploring underground, salvaging the artifacts by excavating a particular site. Many of the hobby archeologists also have started to dig and search, and this causes Dr. Davis and other professionals much dismay.

"Many times a person just digs aimlessly, looking for the more choice artifacts," Dr. Davis explained. "In the process he destroys much valuable property which is vitally needed in our work, information that can not be obtained in any other way."

But Dr. Davis doesn't try to discourage the hobbyist who digs in his quest for coveted relics. Rather, he stresses that the person should know what he is doing and understand what he is looking for. Serious hobbyists, he points out, contribute a valuable role in cataloging the archeological history of any specific area.

He encourages the amateur artifact hunter to keep a written record of his discoveries. In this way he actually is conducting an archeological survey, one that the professionals can put to good use when seeking additional information.

There has been such a phenomenal upsurge in Indian relic hunting during the past few years that organizations of persons interested in the pastime have been formed. There are many in different towns across Texas, as well as a statewide group.

Hunting Indian artifacts can be a family pastime both educational and entertaining. By systematically working a site, taking specimens in logical order and keeping accurate records, the hobby collector can build a visual picture of how the Indians lived and something about their habits and personality.

And as Dr. Davis explained, he also can contribute a vital part of the state's archeological study.

Filling Fare From The Sea

Salmon Loaf Supreme makes a delicious virtue out of a necessity, or a preference, for meatless meals. The recipe, as developed by the Borden Kitchen, links pungent good taste with high protein. It's an ever-ready meal since most of the ingredients—canned salmon, nonfat dry milk and dehydrated minced onions—are pantry-shelf favorites.

Salmon Loaf Supreme (Makes 5 to 6 servings)
1 (1 pound) can salmon, well drained
1-1/2 cups liquefied Starlac nonfat dry milk
1/4 cup green pepper, finely chopped
2 eggs, beaten
1-1/2 cups fine dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon dehydrated minced onion
1/4 cup butter or Danish Margarine, melted

Carefully remove bone and skin from salmon. In a mixing bowl combine salmon, nonfat milk, green pepper, eggs, bread crumbs, onion and melted butter. Mix well. Lightly pack into well-buttered 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven about 50 minutes. Remove from oven; let stand on wire rack for 10 minutes to set. With a spatula or knife loosen loaf from sides of pan. Turn onto a platter. Top with Gruyere Cheese Sauce.

Gruyere Cheese Sauce (Makes 1 cup)
1 tablespoon butter or Danish Margarine
1 tablespoon flour
1-1/2 cups liquefied Starlac nonfat dry milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash white pepper
6 (1-oz.) packages Gruyere cheese, cut into small pieces

In a small saucepan melt butter over low heat. Blend in flour. Remove from heat. Gradually add nonfat milk. Cook over low heat; stir constantly until smooth. Mix in salt, pepper and cheese. Cook 20-25 minutes longer; stir occasionally.

Independent Business Views

The nation's independent business proprietors apparently are convinced it costs more than $50 a month to house, feed, clothe, and educate a youngster.

This belief is reflected in the overwhelming majority by which they have voted support in a nationwide vote on H.R. 533, a bill introduced in Congress by Rep. Walter Rogers of Texas.

This bill would raise the personal income tax exemption for an individual, his spouse and each child, from the present $600 to $1,000. The vote taken by the National Federation of Independent Business resulted in 83 per cent in favor of the proposal, 16 per cent opposed and 1 per cent undecided.

The federation analysts report that while a large part of the favorable vote undoubtedly was prompted by the realization that the $600 exemption is unrealistically low, there also is evidence of growing sentiment among the businessmen that the 1964 income tax cut largely was deceptive rather than alleviating the problem of the working and middle class taxpayer.

The continuous year-long field survey also being conducted by the federation shows independent businessmen rapidly growing disenchanted with the 1964 tax cut, due in part to the fact that millions of taxpayers owed additional money at tax reporting time due to under-withholding.

In addition, the continuous survey is revealing the feeling that proposed increases in payroll taxes for Social Security plus increased state and local tax levies will not only absorb any benefit gained by the workers but probably will result in actually having to pay more taxes than before the cut was made in the income tax rate.

Commenting on the result of this vote of independent business proprietors, federation president C. Wilson Harder said: "At one time Abraham Lincoln pointed out the difficulty of fooling all of the people all of the time."

Texas Patrol Opportunities

There are 70 vacancies in the uniformed patrol services of the Texas Department of Public Safety and Col. Homer Garrison Jr., the director, would like to fill them.

The situation presents an opportunity for qualified young men to join the ranks of dedicated career officers in a proud organization whose purpose is to serve and protect the people of Texas.

Colonel Garrison also points out that this is an opportunity for men to further their education while training, and that increased salaries will go into effect on September 1 with another raise scheduled one year later.

Student patrolmen receive some 800 hours of study in 95 subjects, such as highway law, accident investigation, first aid, professional driving, care and use of firearms, and other subjects.

While training at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin, the candidates receive $375 per month. The training course lasts 16 weeks, after which trainees who qualify will become commissioned officers.

Under the recently passed appropriation bill, salaries will range from $453 to $484 per month, depending on branch of service. Patrolmen also receive longevity pay of $10 per month for each five years of service up to a maximum of $50 per month. Promotions are given on the basis of competitive examinations.

Applications may be filed up to July 6, for examination on July 14-15 to qualify 70 men for the next training school starting August 31. Full information can be obtained from any DPS patrolman or the nearest DPS station. Applicants must be between ages 21 and 35, not less than 5 feet 8 inches tall, of sound physical condition and good vision, have a high school education or equivalent, and among other things must be a United States citizen and resident of Texas for a full year prior to application.

Down The Drain

A lot of taxpayer money will go "down the drain" this summer on two long holiday weekends.

"Some $20 million will be spent to humor litterbugs over the Fourth of July and Labor Day holidays," says Allen H. Seed Jr., executive vice president of Keep America Beautiful, Inc.

He estimates that it will cost $10 million to clean up rubbish dumped on U. S. streets, highways and recreation areas over each of the two long weekends.

This national nonprofit organization, dedicated to prevention of littering through public education, warns: "don't celebrate the holidays by littering. Litter costs tax dollars. It also causes accidents, forest fires, and sometimes disease."

The long summer holidays bring out record numbers of vacationists, and consequently create peak cleanup jobs. The work must be done at public expense.

Only people can prevent litter—and that means vacationists and others on weekend trips.

Peanut fanciers with weight problems got good news recently from Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. He announced that U. S. Department of Agriculture research workers have developed a process which puts peanuts in a much lower calorie group.

The process, developed at Southern Utilization Research Laboratory, New Orleans, makes possible the removal of 80 percent of the oil and three-fourths of the calories but leaves intact the peanut's original good flavor and high protein content.

When the new product goes into commercial production, the Secretary said, it should open up new markets for peanut growers, whose production has been increasing faster than consumption.

The procedure is simple. Shelled nuts are brought to a proper moisture content and pressed in a hydraulic press to remove most of the oil, which constitutes about 50 percent of the peanut's weight. The pressed kernels are flat and misshapen, but they return to their original shape and size when soaked in water. Salt, sugar, spices or other flavorings can be added during this reconstruction period.

After the low-calorie nuts are dried, they are ready for eating as is, for roasting or for use in candies and other foods.

Grasshoppers are beginning to appear in many areas of the state, causing damage to rangeland as well as cultivated crops.

Grasshopper control should start when hoppers become noticeably abundant, according to M. V. Meisch and W. H. Newton, extension entomologists of Texas A&M University.

Signs of threatening infestations of young hoppers to crop lands can be found along roadsides, canal and ditch banks, in idle land bordering cultivated fields and in the fields themselves.

Field margins are usually the hatching places for grasshoppers that damage row crops. Early treatment of such areas before the young hoppers move from their hatching beds will reduce the acreage that might otherwise need treatment, say the entomologists.

Insecticides in form of sprays, dusts or baits can be used to control grasshoppers. Sprays give higher initial kills than dusts and continue to kill for a longer period of time.

The prevailing weather conditions of a locality have a great effect on development of many if not most plant diseases, says Wendell Horne, extension plant pathologist, Texas A&M University.

"Growing plants is a scientific endeavor, and one must learn to correlate a number of factors, including weather conditions, in order to achieve a high degree of success," he adds. Temperature is one of the most important climatic factors in plant disease development. Some diseases occur most rapidly in a low temperature range, while others thrive in a warm atmosphere.

For example, cotton seedling diseases is more severe when soil temperatures are lower than normal. However, cotton root rot is most destructive in the hot summer months of July and August.

Moisture is another important element to be considered in plant disease development. Leaf mold of tomatoes, a disease which occasionally occurs under normal field conditions, is nearly always a program in greenhouses where high humidity prevails.

Wind movement also plays a key role in the occurrence of plant diseases. The spores of many diseases and fungi are transported from one area or plant to another by air currents.

Many locally-grown vegetables are coming to market now. The quality is good and the prices are more attractive than a few weeks ago.

Senator Tower Introduces Labor Dept. Bypass Bill

A move to bypass the Labor Department in recruitment of bracero workers has been launched in the Senate by Senator John G. Tower, who has outlined plans to place recruitment responsibility in the hands of state authorities.

Senator Tower, who served for three years on the Senate's Labor Committee, introduced legislation today which says the state officer principally responsible for agriculture will make the final determination as to the number of workers needed to harvest crops.

In the case of Texas, that power would be vested in the Commissioner of Agriculture. Presently, federal immigration law holds the U. S. Attorney General responsible for permitting importation of foreign workers; but the Secretary of Labor must first certify that a labor shortage exists.

Senator Tower noted that throughout this year's citrus and vegetable season in California and Florida Secretary of Labor Wirtz has flatly denied that serious labor shortages existed, in spite of severe crop losses due to insufficient labor. Eventually, and after long congressional and farm industry pressure, the Secretary did allow some limited, temporary admission of foreign workers for California and Florida.

Senator Tower said the Labor Secretary has pledged, in correspondence with the Senator, to work closely with the Texas Employment Commission to "meet the labor needs of Texas growers." Tower placed in the Congressional Record today TEC labor forecasts which predict spring harvest shortages, saying, "In light of the Secretary's pledge, there is real reason to hope that bracero workers will soon be admitted to Texas. However, time continues to drift by, and farmers and ranchers cannot conjure workers overnight. I hope the Secretary will act quickly enough to permit the necessary advance planning by Texans involved."

Senator Tower's legislation would give the state sole jurisdiction over the "finding of a need" for additional workers. The U. S. Attorney General then would supervise immigration.

"Certainly this would be far more equitable," Senator Tower said, "than allowing federal control from Washington. Who is better able to determine the needs of agriculture than those closest to the situation? There's an ample supply of snap beans, cucumbers, tomatoes, bell peppers, hot peppers, eggplant, and new red potatoes. Head lettuce remains in the high price bracket.

Good buys also are to be found on carrots, fresh corn, radishes and green onions, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist.

Cantaloupes of good quality are selling at moderate prices and there's a likelihood of even lower prices in the near future. Watermelon and honeydew supplies are increasing. Other good fruit choices are pineapples, bananas and juice oranges.

Beef prices are about the same as last week. Features will be found on chuck cuts, round and sirloin steaks and liver.

Pork specials vary from market to market, so check ads and meat counters before you make selections. Thrifty buys may be found on boneless pork butts, shoulder steaks and skinless franks.

Some markets are offering special prices on fryers, although wholesale prices are up slightly. Egg prices are attractive now, but an upward trend is expected in the next several weeks.

"It has proved impossible in this heavily-agricultural nation of 190 million people for one federal official to make an almost day-to-day labor need determination in each of 50 states. The labor problems of industry alone are enough to keep the Labor Secretary and his department busy around the clock. "I believe my bill would relieve the present impossible situation while preserving exactly the same goal the Labor Secretary says he is seeking. The use of as many unemployed American workers as possible.

"Certainly my state and all others can be depended upon to give first choice to its own residents and citizens who want this work. But, when there is an insufficient number of local farm workers, as there is and has been all this season, the states would have, under my bill, authority to import additional workers to avoid serious crop losses."

Other details of Senator Tower's bracero bill would require the Attorney General to provide recruitment and reception centers for the workers. The Justice Department would be required to establish and operate reception centers at or near places of entry of workers into the U. S. for the purpose of housing and receiving such workers while final arrangements are being made for their employment in, or departure from, the United States.

The Attorney General also would be required to provide transportation for bracero workers from these recruitment centers outside the U. S. to such reception centers established in this country. The same procedure would apply when braceros returned to Mexico.

Senator Tower said also that a safeguard has been written into the bill to guard against infiltration of subversive elements into the normal flow of bracero workers. Last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckert were hosts to all of Mrs. Eckert's sisters for a reunion visit. Here were: Mrs. Edgar Straach of Coleman, Mrs. O. B. Armarine of Ballinger, Mrs. J. J. Eastman of Midland, and Mrs. A. H. Byxbe, of DelMar, California. Mr. and Mrs. Byxbe remained for a longer visit with the Eckerts.

A lot has been written in West Texas newspapers recently about rattlesnakes and tornadoes. We have contributed our stories to the heap. But one story appearing in a publication a few hours back about rattlers should certainly win the glazed tile bird bath. The guy wrote that the feared reptile was "misunderstood." To me that's like saying a beatnik is a beatnik because his dad was a bum and wouldn't buy a razor. A better example, maybe, is explained by a cunning lawyer to a jury, after a juvenile vandal has killed his best friend, that society was at fault because we didn't "understand." I never want to understand the "misunderstood" rattlesnake. And I know what to do if caught in the path of an approaching tornado without writing one of the poverty program "experts" in Washington.

SENATOR JOHN TOWER is trying to get Mexico to give Texas back the battle flags SANTA ANA took away when his army of thousands slaughtered a handful of patriots at the Alamo. TOWER wants the flag back to go into the Alamo. He says it is a matter of honor. We wonder why in the thunder KENNEDY-JOHNSON, et al, didn't think about that Texas flag when they surrendered better than 400 acres of land to our cousins across the Rio Grande. It was claimed that the river had shifted course. Perhaps it did. Anyway, we Texans want that flag back. And if it has to take another beef rib barbecue at the LBJ to persuade the president of Mexico to return the flag as a matter of honor—then we'll pay for the beef, beans, salad and suds it takes to get the top man from Mexico as groggy as Santa Ana was that day OLD SAM HOUSTON caught him with his "britches down" at San Jacinto.

LEON MATTINGLY was an office visitor this week. He has just finished five years of work at NORTH TEXAS UNIVERSITY, Denton. MATTINGLY and his wife will enter the teaching profession and both have accepted employment with a California school. LEON has made an exceptional record at Denton. We are very proud to have Martin County so well represented in the student group of such a famed college as NORTH TEXAS U.

I send my personal sympathy to the members of the family of the late MRS. ANNIE HERZOG. She was truly of the old school of women who lived dedicated lives of devotion to their homes, their children, their community and their country. Her first love was for her God and she followed an unerring religious code of conduct based on the teachings of her church and her religion throughout her tenure of life here on earth. A good woman has gone home to dwell in the mansion of the Master.

SIX counties, along with Howard County, comprise the 78th legislative district. The smaller counties include Martin, Glasscock, Irion, Sterling, Reagan, and Coke. We read a news story the other day saying that the candidate who took Howard would be the victor in the special race to be decided Saturday. Three candidates are running. All three are from Big Spring. The top man will get the post vacated by the death of ED CARPENTER. Before the legislature meets again in regular session the voters will have time to cast about to screen candidates from any part of the district. The thought has been running slowly but deliberately through my mind that perhaps the residents of Martin, Coke, Irion, Glasscock, Sterling, and Reagan counties are being discriminated against. As LYNDON would say, our voting rights have been put in jeopardy by having been placed in a legislative district with an urban county. In fact, we have taxation in those six counties without any home front representation. I think I'll march. By the time the next regular election comes around perhaps there will come a candidate who can claim the solid support of the voters of the six counties who never have sent a representative from the 78th district to Austin. Could be—sure could be.

WORD comes to us from LARRY NEILL that he has been accepted for enrollment at TEXAS A&M this fall. LARRY is the son of MR. and MRS. BILL NEILL of Tornillo, and grandson of MRS. FLORA MORRIS of this city. He is a recent high school graduate and has dreamed of attending A&M for many years. We are happy that his wish is going to be fulfilled.

CORY WAITCHEL CROCKER, weighing six pounds and measuring 19 inches, made his arrival in Washington, D. C. June 9. He is the son of MR. and MRS. C. W. CROCKER. She will be remembered by friends here as the former LONITA AVERY, daughter of MRS. OGAL AVERY. The paternal grandparents are MRS. S. J. BATTIST of Healdton, Oklahoma and MR. EDDIE CROCKER of Midland, Texas. We send the very best to the young arrival. He picked some fine parents.

BE sure and vote on June 26 in the State Representative's race. Three men are running and you'll want to have a part in picking the man you think best qualified to serve.

Former Buff Coach Accepts Houston Place

Melvin Robinson, who was football coach for the Stanton team during the early 1950's, has accepted the position of backfield coach for the University of Houston. He is married to the former Jimmy Pearl Ashley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ashley of Lenora, and the couple has two children, Vicki 11, and Greg, 9.
