By NEAL ESTES

EDITOR NEAL ESTES of The Stanton Reporter has received his tenth invitation to speak to a West Texas audience. This time the editor will talk to a group in Coahoma.

A lot of us remember CHRIS BLOCKER around Stanton back in the days when we used the old golf course just east of town. CHRIS is the grandson of MR. JOHN BLOCKER of our city and has a host of other relatives and friends here in Martin County. We picked up an interesting item about him from BILL HART'S column in the LUBBOCK AVALANCHE - JOURNAL Tuesday morning. Here is what HART said about BLOCKER, who is now on a pro-golf tour: "Things are looking brighter for former Texas Tech golfer CHRIS BLOCKER on the pro tour as he has won money in the past two weeks. He won right at $700 at Oklahoma City and yet he was under par every round going into the 17th. CHRIS picked up $236 in Memphis, Tennessee. It looks like CHRIS BLOCKER is on his way to the big money some of these days. We certainly hope so and wish him well."

JIM ELAND was by the office Tuesday to advise us that BRENDA DYSON, MIKE SPRINGER and MRS. STANLEY REID were in Washington, D. C. this week enjoying a trip sponsored by CAP ROCK ELECTRIC. BRENDA and MIKE went on the trip in a recently CAP ROCK or COOP sponsored contest and JUNE REID went along as the adult chaperone and nurse. MRS. REID has been a top registered nurse for many years. We know they are enjoying the trip and will look forward to having some pictures in the paper next week from Washington.

We urge all subscribers to look over the column, LIBRARY LINES, in this issue of the paper. They have something good going over for them for young and adult minds. Go by and sign up now with MRS. CAFFEY, our efficient librarian.

If you are one of the taxpayers who through no fault of your own are having trouble in Baltimore, Maryland getting the proper credit for your deduction and if you haven't written up there lately to find out how your account stands, do it today. Social security numbers are all they have to go by. Inexperienced clerks in Maryland can mess your account up quickly. For instance, if you have been working with one company for years and suddenly you start getting correspondence about "what your name is, who your parents were and where is your social security number" you had better start writing Washington, your Congressman, both Senators and if you know anyone over in the U. N. be sure and send them a note too. You'll need all the help you can get to straighten out why some person or computer made an error in shifting your account number around. Of course, it is entirely possible that the person responsible for sending in your social security reports hit the wrong key on the typewriter. If he did, you're in dutch. That number has to be correctly reported. Insist on seeing a copy of the return mailed by your employer in the future. Otherwise, you don't know whether you have any credit in Baltimore or not. In the meantime, write directly to Baltimore today — don't wait — don't hesitate, but do it now. It might take you ten

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

The month of June is National Recreation and Park Month. It is an excellent time to remind ourselves that the ancient saying, "All work and no play..." is still very sound advice.

Everyone knows that recreation is important, but all too often we become so busy with work and home duties that we forget to play. Every parent knows how important play is to the young child. Through play, he gains physical strength, develops physical skills, and establishes warm relationships with his parents, brothers and sisters, says Today's Health Guide, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family. But the values of play and recreation are not restricted to the young. All ages need relief from boredom, relaxation from tensions and the self-fulfillment found in recreation. Recreation is not all physical activity. Recreation may range from active physical pursuits to quiet activities, such as reading. It includes both solitary activities and those with groups. It may range from cultural and educational pursuits to trivialities. Many agencies — governmental, voluntary, and religious — offer recreation programs. Many of these are fine, but the home still remains the most important center, not only for recreation itself, but also for developing lifelong recreation interests, skills and tastes. The possibilities for home and family recreation, combined with the neighborhood parks and other play centers, are almost unlimited. Each family will have its own special tastes. Some of the fundamentals are books and read-

U.S. To Drop Million Bombs On Viet Nam

The United States plans to produce about a million bombs for the Viet Nam war during the final third of 1966, it was learned today.

The massive output of explosives is expected to be achieved after newly established production lines reach peak capacity in early fall.

Already fresh supplies of a new low-drag, 500-pound bomb are being turned out. The first became available in April, sources said. This bomb has a fin which retards its plunge to earth and gives low flying planes more time to escape the blast zone.

This month, the Air Force will begin receiving the first 750-pound bombs manufactured in a decade. These are used extensively in raids by B52's recently equipped to carry as many as 64 per mission.

Bible Comment—

Faith And Good Works Must Go Hand In Hand

In the Epistle of James, there is a profound plea for plain, honest, practical living. There ought to really be a great deal more of it in the church and in all relationship of Christians with the world. We have had no right even in our thought, to separate faith and works. Faith is primary and basic, but faith and works go together, and until we relate faith to character and conduct we do not come to understand what Christian faith is.

James, like Paul, emphasizes, the fact that God is the source of all goodness. From Him comes every good and perfect gift, and with Him there is no variableness or shadow or turning. His love and His grace are abiding, and every man who in faith accepts the obligations of the Christian life will find the power of God

Philosopher Takes A Wry Look At Proposal That 4-Year-Olds Belong In School

(Editor's Note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw has heard of the latest educational proposal. His letter this week indicates.)

Dear editor: According to an article I read in a newspaper which a bunch of high school kids threw out of a car as they drove by Martin County grass farm the other day whooping and hollering over the start of their summer vacation, a special committee sponsored by the National Education Association has come out with the proposal that all children ought to start school at age 4.

The committee reported that there are over 8 million four- and five-year-olds in this country, they're capable of being taught and they ought to be in school. Add two grades below what's now the first grade and get these kids off the streets or out of their backyards or play men in August. This figure is considerably above the levels asked for the other summer months. The Pentagon asked the Selective Service to provide 15,000 men in June — lowest of the year — and 26,500 in July.

The 32,600 inductees called in August will be assigned to the Army, The Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force sought no men.

The Pentagon said the August call "is in accordance with the planned military strength to support Viet Nam requirements" after allowing for projected losses, enlistments and training capacity.

Dirksen Raps Poverty War

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois lashed the antipoverty program as disastrous and called on President Johnson to begin a thorough reappraisal immediately.

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford, Jr. of Michigan joined in the condemnation, but the administration's poverty chief, Sargent Shriver, fired back that the criticism was politically motivated and is largely groundless.

The GOP congressional leaders scored the program at a joint news conference. Their springboard was a report by eight House Republicans that Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stone had as their guests recently, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stone, Jr. and Mary Kathryn, from Stillwater, Oklahoma, and also Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fuqua from Dallas.

Nine thousand pedestrians were killed by traffic in this country last year. Many because they believed they had the right of way.

claimed abuses, scandals and mismanagement were destroying the drive against poverty.

Dirksen praised the report and declared: "I have seen nothing in a good number of years that will so alert and alarm our people as to the reckless course the Johnson-Humphrey administration has now clearly laid out before us."

Library Lines

MRS. R. H. CAFFEY Librarian

Library Hours: Monday 1-5 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 1-5 p.m.; Saturday 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.

The Reading Club program is off to a good start, but many boys and girls haven't been in to check out any books yet. There is always room for more in this "Club."

The rules again are: Any boy or girl four through 14, may belong to the Reading Club. To become enrolled, they may check out as many as four books at one time, read them and when they are returned, make a brief report on them and the titles will be entered under their name. The ones who finish 12, will have their name on the honor roll and as they continue to read, the number will be listed by their names. On August 27, all who are entitled to a certificate will be presented with those and have their pictures made for the paper.

I want to commend the Preceptor Mu chapter for helping the library in another way. They have been helping with the sale of the old books by keeping them downtown and offering them for sale along with the Rummage Sale they have. The entire proceeds from the sale of the books goes to the library, so this is just another service among the many that this group has rendered the library.

Water Toll Races Past '65 Shocker

Skyrocketing water sports fatalities accelerating the season's grim rate ahead of the 200 casualties pace last year, prompted the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to make an "in between" report as a safety precaution.

Ordinarily, the department informally tabulates the water recreational deaths every two weeks, but reports for one late May week alone reached 19 drownings from assorted causes.

This increased the total to 73 for the season, six deaths ahead of the mark this time last summer.

The sordid statistics reflected several fatalities from school picnics, traditionally being held at school's end.

Thirteen of the 19 drownings reported to the department involved youngsters 17 or under. Three 14 year-olds perished; one 11; one 12; one 13; one 15; one 16, and one 17.

Ten of the latest victims were involved in bathing accidents and five in boating mishaps. Three were fishing. An eight year-old, on an overnight river fishing trip, stumbled on the bank and fell to his death in the Brazos River.

The worst single tragedy occurred when a Kaufman man, his 11 year-old daughter and a four year-old niece, drowned when their boat capsized in a lake. A Dallas family fishing trip was marred when a four-year old boy fell into White Rock Creek and his aunt drowned trying to save him.

Six of the latest drownings were along the coast, mostly from undertow. These involved three 14 year-old, one 13 year-old, one 12 year-old and a six year-old.

The department noted that upcoming June usually is the most treacherous to water recreationalists, that is statistics-wise.

MUSIC CLUBS

Hold Meeting In Midland

The board meeting of Twelfth District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, was held June 3, in Midland at the home of the district president, Miss Rebecca Stiles, with members from Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, and Stanton attending.

Business pertinent to carrying on the affairs of the district for 1966-1968 was discussed, including plans for the Annual District Conference, to be held in Stanton, October 21 and 22.

Those attending from Stanton were Mrs. R. O. Anderson, president of the Stanton club; Mrs. Glenn Brown, State Junior Councilor, chairman; Mrs. James Jones, district chairman of "Folk Music"; Mrs. Arthur Wilson, district treasurer, and chairman of "Stillman - Kelly Scholarships."

Sul Ross State College has been designated as a test center for administering the National Teacher Examinations July 16, according to Dr. Daniel W. Graham, associate professor of education at Sul Ross.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers are applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the National Teacher Examinations along with their other credentials are eligible to take the tests. The tests are prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

The designation of Sul Ross as a test center for these exams will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the tests with candidates throughout the country who take the tests, Dr. Graham said.

At the one-day session, a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Education and General Education, and one of the 13 Teaching Area Examinations which are designed to evaluate his understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

Bulletins of information describing registration procedures and containing registration forms may be obtained from Dr. Graham, or directly from the ETS, Box 911, Princeton, N. J.

Each candidate will receive an admission ticket advising him of the exact location of the center to which he should report, Graham advised, emphasizing that registrations for the exams must be forwarded so as to reach Princeton by no later than June 17. Candidates for the Common Examinations will report at 8:30 a.m. on July 16, and will continue, after lunch, until approximately 3:10 p.m. The Teaching Area Examinations will begin at 3:15 p.m., and should conclude at approximately 5:20 p.m.

Farm And Ranch Review

Researchers at Texas A&M University's Plant Disease Experiment Station in Yoakum, are on the brink of developing a jointless tomato.

A jointless tomato is the dream of big-time tomato growers, since it can be mechanically harvested. The idea is to eliminate the joint on the stem located about an inch from the fruit.

On ordinary varieties, when the tomato is picked, a stem remains on the fruit. The stem punctures other tomatoes and causes rapid spoilage. The stems must either be removed by hand or during processing.

Dr. A. L. Harrison, plant pathologist at the A&M field unit, has been selecting tomatoes which have the jointless characteristics. He has one in breeding stock now — still just a number — but it shows promise, he says.

At a recent field day, Harrison demonstrated to visitors that the tomato cannot be picked from the vine and leave the stem on. It comes off every time, since there is no joint to break, he said.

Work is being carried on at A&M field stations and on the main campus at College Station. The researchers are optimistic that before long a jointless variety will be ready for release to Texas tomato growers.

Texas A&M University and the U. S. Department of Agriculture are teaming up in an attempt to control the pecan weevil by making the bug's love life a sham.

It's the same biological trick that has been played so successfully on the screw-worm fly in Texas and other states. Male flies are sterilized by exposure to atomic radiation and then turned loose by the millions to mate fruitlessly with the females.

The same system will be tried on the pecan weevil, which often causes heavy losses and damages market quality of pecans in Texas and other areas despite control efforts with insecticides. A&M researchers also plan to investigate chemical sterilants — compounds that can possibly sterilize the weevils by spraying pecan trees.

Noteworthy shifts are taking place in the beef market, according to a recent talk here by Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Uvacek was speaking to the National Advisory Commission on Food and Fiber.

For years cattlemen have aimed at producing Prime grade carcasses to get greatest profit. But today, with increased emphasis on cutability, the lower grades of Choice and Good may be worth more, said Uvacek.

He said in the Southwest there is a noticeable shift toward a heavier weight slaughter calf. At the same time, in the North and East, the shift is toward a lighter weight heavy beef carcass. But, he said, both of these trends are for Good and Choice grade carcasses. The beef carcass of the future may be somewhere in between — about a low Choice quality.

There is a strong demand for low Choice carcasses already, he said. The word "Choice" itself has some merchandising ability, and of course, the grade designation has a value, too.

In the past, he said, feed grains have been in surplus, so the trend was to feed as much of the grain through an animal as possible. The picture now, however, has almost reversed itself, and we can possibly even see some feed grain shortages developing.

This means the emphasis will shift from marketing grain through the animal to feeding the most efficient animal possible.

The type of animal that is efficient in the feedlot, and produces a desirable type of carcass at the least cost, will be the animal of the future. This will be a meat type steer, the A&M specialist said.

The industry trend toward the goal of this light weight low Choice carcass also conforms with the standards required to get the federal grade, he concluded.

Draft Call Is Sounded For August

Possibly you will be one to marry in August or be privileged to enjoy a typical summer vacation season, but 1,636 men, your friends and neighbors will be answering the August draft call in Texas.

Morris Schwartz announced the quota this week.

The August call for men far exceeds the call for either June or July. In July 1,284 men were called in in June 712 were called.

War contracts have also been stepped up and the last quarter in 1966 will find the munition plants running at a pretty rigid clip.

Earliest copper mine in the United States was the Simsbury or "Old Granny" mine at Granby, Conn.

'Wetback' Arrests Are Increasing

The number of Mexican nationals arrested in nine southwestern states and deported to Mexico has increased by about 33 per cent this year over the same period in 1965, U. S. Immigration and Naturalization officials report.

Spokesmen for the federal agency said that 4,233 Mexican men were arrested and deported in April, 1965, compared to 6,741 in April this year. Figures for March showed a corresponding increase, they said.

Of those apprehended this year, they said, only 1,582 in March and 1,960 in April were found working in agricultural jobs.

Officials said no specific explanation for the marked increase was available, but they noted that population pressure at the border is increasing, that there has been a drought in some Mexican areas, and the American farm labor disputes may have prompted more to enter the United States.

Carr Tapped As Top State Attorney

Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr was today named the nation's "Outstanding Attorney General" by the National Association of Attorneys General at its 60th annual convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

By unanimous vote, the assembled attorneys general of the fifty states awarded Carr the Wyman Award which is presented each year to the attorney general "who has done more to advance the objectives of the National Association of Attorneys General to help make the United States a better place for all in which to live."

The announcement of the award was made by the presidents of the national association, Louisiana Attorney General Jack P. Gremillion. The award, highest honor that the nation's attorneys general can bestow upon one of their members, was first initiated in 1957. Last year's winner was Clarence Meyer of Nebraska.

People with rent property in Stanton constantly face a problem. They must still pay taxes but they must also realize that the government is also providing low-rent units as a competitive step to their rent operations. You can't take all profit out of rent property and you must keep it up. Some folks want all the gravy, do nothing to plow back any of the money in improvements for the tenant and then expect to rule over or control their tenants habits. It just can't be done. Slavery is over and gone. A renter has his or her rights too. Rents for residential property in Stanton are so low now that I can find seventeen houses or apartments right now for rent at bargain rates. $30 is a good top price for furnished apartments here in this city. You don't believe it? Well, would you believe that you can get a brick duplex in a few days for about $40 bucks with a lot of built-in advantages and with good, fresh, landscaping too?

Highway Informational Seminar Roswell, New Mexico June 3-4

The growing cooperation between New Mexico and Texas was carried one step further when the New Mexico Highway Commission and the Roswell Chamber of Commerce invited Senator H. J. "Doc" Blanchard of Lubbock, Texas to appear as a panelist at the New Mexico Highway Informational Seminar on June 3 and 4, 1966 in Roswell, New Mexico. Senator Blanchard appeared with Senator J. Penrod Toles of Roswell, New Mexico and distinguished panel of New Mexico Legislators. Numerous high state officials from the New Mexico Highway Commission and other outstanding leaders of New Mexico, including Lieutenant Governor Mack Easley.

The principal theme of the Seminar was the improvement of highways and other related matters dealing with financing, construction and maintenance. Senator Blanchard has just recently concluded conferences dealing with the proposed water lands of the Western States of which New Mexico is a member.

Senator Blanchard said: "I was extremely pleased to be the only person from outside New Mexico who was invited to appear at this outstanding Seminar. It is my hope that by working with these outstanding people from New Mexico, that we can find solutions to many of our common problems, including highways and water. I hope that Texas will soon set fit to invite many of these outstanding men to similarly orientated sessions within the State of Texas."

One reason students cheat in school, according to an article by Nancy Bowden in the Farm Journal, is that the parents keep after the students to make good grades. This was the reason given in 62 per cent of the cheating cases students confessed to in a survey of 100 Virginia schools. Reason behind the increased pressures from parents for good grade is the desire to have their children go to college. So cheating has become big business — and a major concern in 70 per cent of the schools surveyed. Other reasons for cheating were: Pressure to conform and laziness.

Administration Raps Automakers

The Johnson administration accused the automobile industry Friday of trying to delay and undermine the effectiveness of federal safety standards for new cars.

The attack coincided with a presidential appeal to governors for help in speeding congressional action on the administration traffic safety bill.

Mr. Johnson met at the White House with a delegation of governors who had come to Washington for traffic-safety consultations among themselves and with administration officials.

"The need for national safety standards is urgent," he told the delegation. "Every day wasted is a day in which more lives will be wasted. Every day lost puts us that much further behind. So I ask you to work with us in moving this badly needed legislation forward."

Gov. Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, chairman of the delegation, reported afterward that "we are in agreement with the President" both on the need for federal standards and on the urgency of congressional action.

Among the seven governors here for the consultations, he said, only George Romney of Michigan appeared to have reservations. Romney has said the bill should be revised to give the states a major role in devising the standards and final authority in enforcing them.

The administration's criticism of the auto industry was set forth in an 18-page letter to the Senate Commerce Committee by Deputy Attorney General Ramsey Clark. Clark analyzed a series of industry-proposed amendments to the pending legislation and registered strong opposition to nearly all of them.

Formal clearance of the letter by the Budget Bureau gave it the administration's official stamp of approval.

Clark contended that the proposed amendments were likely to delay the establishment of safety standards at least five years and severely impair the federal government's authority to devise effective regulations and enforce them.

The deputy attorney general was particularly critical of an industry amendment to give the Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission, an interstate agency, primary responsibility for drafting standards. The secretary of commerce would have final authority to promulgate the standards or to establish standards of his own initiative if the commission failed to act.

Clark characterized the proposal as a "scheme" that involved possibilities of great delay.

He was equally critical of criteria that auto standards would have to meet under another industry amendment.

He said some of the proposed criteria were "overly restrictive" while others "appear to be unnecessary and can serve best to breed pointless litigation."

Clark expressed strong opposition to other amendments on grounds that they might give the industry "implied immunity" from anti-trust laws for some safety-related activities, that they would require "unnecessarily cumbersome and time-consuming" procedures for court appeals, that they would provide inadequate penalties for failure to comply with standards and that they would "limit the power and discretion of the secretary in a number of undesirable ways."

The delegation of governors had a brief conference with Mr. Johnson after a morning meeting with Farris Bryant, the director of the Office of Emergency Planning, and administration officials concerned with the traffic safety problem.

Hansen reported that the governors were concerned mainly with the development of strong state laws on such matters as driver licensing, motor vehicle inspection and safe standards in highway construction.

American Legion Boys State Meeting Slated

High school boys, seven hundred and fifty strong, will converge on Austin June 11 for the 1966 session of American Legion Boys State, sponsored by The American Legion, Department of Texas, Waggoner Carr, Chairman of the Legion program, has announced.

The popular Legion program will be in session on the campus of the University of Texas from June 11 to June 18, Chairman Carr said. Sessions will move to the State Capitol on Friday, June 17, where the newly elected officials will govern for the day.

The first Boys State program was held in Austin, June 10, 1940, with 108 boys attending. The program has steadily grown in size until the present ceiling was reached in 1965.

Boys State in Texas can be thought of as a mythical 51st state, where each citizen participates in the program of "learning by doing." When a boy arrives at Boys State, knowing no one and little more about Boys State itself, and works himself up to holding a state office, he can truthfully and honestly say he has learned by doing.

The American Legion in forty-nine states will sponsor Boys States where boys who have just completed their junior year in high school will study the organization operation, and political processes of state government. Youths will participate in the organization of political parties, campaigns, elections, and the enactment and enforcement of their own laws within the mythical state.

"Boys State is one of the outstanding youth training programs of the Americanism Commission of The American Legion," Chairman Carr stated. "Not only do the youths learn more about the functions of government but also they see the importance of the role played by each citizen in discharging his basic citizenship responsibilities. They soon discover how the quality of government is related directly to the active interest of each citizen."

Keynote speaker for this year's program will be Dr. H. Roe Bartle of Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Bartle, a former mayor of Kansas City, has received numerous academic degrees and has been honored by ten foreign countries for his efforts in the cause of freedom. Dr. Bartle, who is sometimes called America's number one speaker is, by popular demand, a repeater from the 1965 session. His address is scheduled Wednesday evening, June 15th in the Student Union.

A Governor's Ball will climax the week's activities at the Student Union on Friday night.

Expert Gives Steak Buying, Broiling Tips

Need ideas on how to select quality beef steaks for broiling?

Now that vacation is at hand, there'll probably be more opportunities for backyard cookouts and get-togethers with family and friends. To assure tenderness, quality and flavor in beef steaks, be willing to pay for a little fat and choose from the top three grades — prime, choice or good, suggests Mrs. Gwen Ciyatt, Texas A&M University extension consumer marketing specialist.

The sirloin is the largest and most economical broiling steak. It is cut one and 1/2-inches thick, it will serve four or more people. The porterhouse is the largest short-loin steak, and when cut one and one-half inches thick, it will serve four people.

The T-bone steak is smaller and contains less tenderloin than the porterhouse. When cut one inch thick, it weighs about one and one-half pounds and serves two persons. The smallest steak in the short loin is the club steak, which contains no tenderloin. When cut one inch thick, it weighs about a pound and serves one.

Rib steaks are cut from the loin end of the ribs, and contain the rib-eye muscle but no tenderloin. They are the least expensive of all broiling steaks.

All of these steaks are recommended for broiling if they are cut from prime, choice or good grade beef, Mrs. Ciyatt says.

Vet Benefit Bill Effective June 1

The VA Regional Office in Waco has received more than 4,000 applications for educational benefits under the Veterans Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966 which was unanimously passed by Congress and signed into law by the President on March 3, 1966. This new GI Bill, which became effective June 1, provides for educational opportunities for veterans who have had more than 180 days of active duty since January 31, 1955.

The bill also includes those still in service who have had at least two years active duty since January 31, 1955. According to Jack Coker, manager of the Regional Office, more than 21,000 applications are expected in the Waco office during the next twelve months. The Waco office serves 164 counties in Texas covering approximately the Northern two-thirds of the state.

Under the provisions of the new GI Bill veterans with no dependents are paid $100 per month, those with one dependent $125 and those with two or more dependents $150 for full-time training. "Allowances under the bill are only intended to assist veterans financially and in most cases will not cover all the high costs of education," Coker explained.

"Veterans planning to go to school under the new GI Bill also should have enough money of their own to pay all entrance fees and room and board for at least a month," Coker said.

Veterans who do not have ready resources for getting into school should begin investigating possible loans or part-time employment, Coker suggested.

Admission to colleges and universities is no longer a simple matter of sending an application, the VA official went on.

"Nearly all of them now require entrance examinations and aptitude tests," Coker said. "Since these tests are only offered a few times a year, veterans should contact their schools now and make arrangements to take the tests."

Brown Bankers Face Estes For Sentencing

Two former officers of the defunct Blanket State Bank have entered guilty pleas to charges of mail fraud and misapplication of funds and false entry in connection with the bank's records.

Senior United States Judge Joe Ewing Estes said he would sentence Morris Ray Hill, 32, and Richard William McDaniel, 26, at 9:30 a.m. June 23 in San Angelo.

Both from Brown County, Hill is former president of the Blanket bank and McDaniel was cashier.

John Day, Ore., Eagle: "Labor unions across the country haven't received the most favorable publicity due to the New York transit and national railroad tie-ups. Each struggle has cost U.S. citizens millions upon millions of dollars, and finally, the government had to step and stop it. The government is realizing that some of these labor disputes in certain industries can be most detrimental to the security of the United States."

jeatives, veterans may consider practically all colleges and universities, the VA manager said, but avocational or recreational type courses are banned under the new GI Bill. This includes flight training except in institutions where such instruction is credited toward a degree.

"The new GI Bill also does not authorize apprentice type training on-the-job or on-the-farm," Coker said.

Application forms to establish eligibility for training under the new GI Bill are available at the VA Regional Office at 1400 North Valley Mills Drive.

Camping Season Calls For Good Outdoor Manners

This is the season for outdoor living. Are you and your family enjoying the wonders of nature by picnicking, camping or motoring?

If we act like responsible Texans, all of us will be able to enjoy the natural beauty of our state.

Our parks, forests and roadsides are our vacation outdoor living rooms. If some of us are careless, all vacationers will suffer, adds the specialist.

Careless vacationers destroy lake, streams and campsites with discarded rubbish. Plants and animals may be killed by this careless disregard by vacationers. Careless campers may start ruts and erosion by driving off the roads provided for their use.

You will be a good citizen if you follow good outdoor manners when vacationing.

- 1) Keep a trash bag in the car, and use it.
  - 2) Carve a stick, not a tree.
  - 3) Leave the flowers and plants for others to enjoy. They will die if you pick them, anyway.
  - 4) Keep a safe distance from wild animals.
  - 5) Be careful with fires. Douse the campfire an extra time.
  - 6) Drive on roads.
  - 7) Curb the urge to throw things into the water or off high places.
  - 8) Leave the wonders of nature and history where they belong. A souvenir grabber is stealing from future generations.

Texas Water Development Board To Meet In Lubbock

A two-pronged meeting of the Texas Water Development Board has been scheduled June 17 in Lubbock.

The first phase of the meeting, said Joe G. Moore Jr., executive director of the TWDB, will be devoted to West Texas in the Texas Water Plan while the second portion will be an official meeting of the board. Both meetings will be open to the public.

A team from the Texas Water Development Board, headed by Moore and John Vandertulp, chief engineer for the TWDB, will discuss the Texas Water Plan, keying their remarks largely to West Texas, the High Plains, El Paso, and the Trans-Pecos section of the state. # Shepperd Calls Tourist Development Meet June 15

John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has called a special meeting of experts in tourist development at Kingsland, Texas, on June 15 to help the WTCC further develop a tourist business which last year saw 4 million visitors pour an additional $250 million into the economy of West Texas.

Texas' foremost authorities on tourism are being invited to Kingsland, in the Highland Lake country, to help the West Texas Chamber develop a new program of work on tourist development and contribute their ideas and suggestions, Shepperd said. The WTCC president has set up nine of these special idea and planning sessions during June, several of them scheduled at lakes, recreational or historic sites.

One will be in a 110-year-old restored home near Cleburne. The other sessions will deal with industrial development, water resources, agriculture, state affairs, education, petroleum and chemicals, national affairs and information. Shepperd said, "We are on the threshold of a really big tourist business in West Texas, and we are ready for it. Tourism is the most lucrative field for development in West Texas, and we are asking these experts to show us how to develop this resource. There are 58 major water reservoirs in West Texas, plus scores of smaller lakes where thousands of pleasure boats provide recreation; there are 16 state parks in the area plus our national parks, shrines and historic sites; 970 official historical markers and 77 historical museums which attracted more than 6 million persons last year. There are 32-160 air-conditioned hotel or motel rooms, with 428 swimming pools. There are 42 art galleries, 10 full-size zoos and countless other tourist and recreational attractions.

cutives; oil company executives interested in tourist development; travel agency representatives; travel editors, and highway association leaders.

The Kingsland meeting will open at the Highland Lakes National Bank at 10 a.m. on June 15 and will feature a lake tour during the day. Harlan Bridwell of Bridgeport, chairman of the WTCC Tourist Development Committee, and Jack Smartt of Crane, vice chairman, will preside at the meeting.

Dressing Tips For Vacation Time Listed

The vacation season is a time when dressing correctly for each activity is important to people of all ages.

This means hitting a happy medium between being over-casual and under-casual. Either extreme can affect one's acceptance by other vacationers, and in turn, one's enjoyment.

It's wise for you to check in advance with the clothes customs of the place or places you plan to visit.

By selecting clothing that can be mixed-and-matched, it is possible for you to "take a little, and have a lot."

Men will want to select accessories such as shirts, ties and socks that go with all clothing colors they take on the vacation trip. It is smart, too, to pack as much washable and-wear apparel as possible.

Vacationers will want to avoid selecting all of their sportswear in the new bold and bright colors and designs. People will remember these vivid patterns much more readily than they will garments of more sedate colors and fabrics.

While carefully chosen clothes will not necessarily make your vacation trip a success, dressing right for each occasion will enable you to enjoy the funtime period more.

J. Edgar Hoover's report to the Attorney General on the past year of FBI work puts the government once again on notice that the Communist Party is alive and kicking. Its membership is up 10 per cent or more, Hoover says, from the 10,000 reported a year ago (probably an under-estimation), and recruiting activity has been greatly encouraged by recent Supreme Court decisions.

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

It was a pleasure to purchase a flag here Monday from the AMERICAN LEGION and ROTARY CLUB sponsored sale. The flags, we hope, will be displayed here in Stanton and throughout Martin County on Flag Day, June 14, and on all appropriate occasions. There is nothing this nation needs more now than to learn over and over again the lessons of freedom. Don't fail to fly your flag. Of course, the great banner we know and love as Old Glory, representing the Union, should be hoisted first. Then if you desire fly your Texas Flag.

THE GREAT PLAINS CAPROCK SINGERS will hold their annual convention in Stanton this Saturday and Sunday and headquarters will be at Cap Rock Cooperative. Announcement of the meeting was made by J. LAWRENCE DEEVERS, president of the association. The session will be devoted to the memory of the late MIKE ANDERSON who served as secretary-treasurer of the group since it was organized until his death. We wish to join others in the community in welcoming this fine group of singers to Stanton and the thoughtfulness of the program planners in dedicating the 18th session to MIKE is especially appropriate.

WHILE a great American patriot in uniform was strolling through space Sunday a man named JAMES MEREDITH was strolling boldly toward Mississippi on a march. MEREDITH walked a mile or so and then motored back to a comfortable bed in Memphis, Tennessee where he was the guest of a NAACP official. He resumed his walk Monday after going back to the point he stopped by car. A few minutes later three reports from a shotgun in the hands of an unemployed white man broke the silence of the sultry day and MEREDITH was wounded. The attempt of MEREDITH'S life was stupidly silly. Nothing is ever gained through violence or murder. We have all learned that lesson since the assassination of the late JOHN KENNEDY.

DAVID LAWRENCE has advanced an idea for bringing peace in Viet Nam without the United States losing face by withdrawal. He suggests the United Nations handle the entire matter. Through the U. N. arrangements could be made with Red China and Russia to cease giving aid to the aggressors in North Viet Nam and then the U. N. could call for the withdrawal of American troops in Viet Nam. LAWRENCE continued: "The whole settlement would then be supervised under international auspices for an indefinite period." MR. LAWRENCE is as anxious as any of us for an honorable peace and under his plan the United Nations would have grounds to justify its continued existence. If it has ceased to serve as a peace keeping organization, then it has ceased to serve any purpose at all.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

A meeting on the Cotton Research and Promotion Act, H. R. 12322, will be held in Lubbock on Thursday, June 9, at the KoKo Palace, beginning at 12 noon. Lunch will be served courtesy of the National Cotton Council and all cotton producers and interested businessmen in the area are invited.

H. R. 12322 is the Act now being considered in Congress which would provide for a referendum of producers to authorize a uniform collection of $1 per bale on all U. S. cotton. Producers not wishing to participate would retain the right to request and receive a refund of the assessment.

Funds would be used to mount a greatly expanded research and promotion program for cotton in an attempt to reverse the trend of cotton's declining share of the fiber market.

Disposition of the funds collected would be in the hands of a Cotton Board appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture from a list of nominees submitted by approved state and regional cotton producer organizations across the belt. The actual projects undertaken in the program would be decided on and contracted for by a beltwide cotton producer organization governed by producer delegates chosen in much the same manner as CPI Trustees are selected.

The program for the meeting will be presented by Clifton Kirkpatrick, director of field service for the NCC, Memphis, Tennessee, and Earl Younts, NCC District field man, Lubbock. Also attending from the Memphis NCC office will be Emmett Robinson, Assistant Director of Public Relations.

Instrumental in calling the Lubbock meeting were Roy Forkner of Lubbock, chairman of the Cotton Producers Institute Steering Committee on the High Plains, and Howard Alford, also of Lubbock, members of the CPI Board of Trustees.

According to the letter of invitation sent to cotton leaders throughout the High Plains area the theme of the program will revolve around four questions:

1. Does cotton need additional research and promotion and if so, how much?
2. Does research and promotion pay dividends for cotton?
3. Can farmers themselves operate and administer the Research and Promotion Act effectively?
4. What is the next step?

NCC officials are emphasizing that this is a completely new presentation, different from any that has been made in the area, and they join other cotton producers in urging all producers to attend.

The prepared program is expected to last about 45 minutes, after which whatever time is necessary will be devoted to answering producer questions.

Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., said this week: "There can be no doubt as to the importance of this meeting. The fate of the cotton research and promotion program being proposed will have a profound effect on the future of cotton production on the High Plains. And since that fate will eventually be decided by the individual votes of producers, they owe it to themselves to become as well informed as possible on the issue."

Forkner, who is also chairman of PSG's Board, emphasizes the critical nature of cotton's present situation by saying "In all the trials that cotton has undergone over the past 25 years or so, I cannot remember a time when the need for positive action was so urgent, and every Plains farmer who intends to continue in cotton production should be present for the meeting June 9."

Officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service are reminding the area farmers that June 10 is the deadline for requesting and paying the fee for the ASCS acreage measuring service.

It is the farm operators responsibility in 16 of the 23 High Plains counties to measure and report his crop acreages to the county offices not later than August 15. In the remaining 7 counties—Borden, Briscoe, Cochran, Dickens, Gaines, Howard, and Motley—acreage will be measured by ASCS personnel as in previous years.

The 16 counties are included in a "trial run" effort to reduce USDA operating costs by letting farmers measure their own acreage and then certify to the accuracy of their measurements.

Originally the penalty rate for insufficient diverted acreage or for over planting of an allotted crop was four times the diverted acre payment rate. This has been reduced to twice the diverted acre payment rate, but it still is a severe enough penalty to warrant extreme care on the part of producers to make sure of correct measurements.

After August 15 no cotton or feed grain acreage can be plowed up to avoid the penalty or get in compliance. And there is no tolerance allowed for error.

For those who do not wish to chance an error in measurement (the ASCS measuring fee is $5 per farm plus 4 cents per acre, and $2 for additional "plots" after the first one.

Two notes encouraging to prospects for U. S. cotton exports are found in recent Foreign Agriculture Service reports from South America.

Cotton production in Brazil is down about 2 million bales this season, about 10 per cent under average production for the past five years. And the FAS report predicts "reduced exports of raw cotton for Brazil over the next several years, as the nation's growing textile industry steps up consumption of this fiber and Brazilian farmers switch over to more lucrative crops."

Since Brazilian cotton competes with U. S. cotton in nearly all foreign markets—principally West Germany, the Netherlands, Japan and Hong Kong—this is good news.

The report states that while other factors are also important, reduced cotton prices in world markets have definitely influenced the outlook for lower production in Brazil.

And the same is true of Columbia, where farmers are expressing considerable pessimism about the outlook for any expansion of cotton production. Here the cotton crop has been smaller than the preceding season for the past three consecutive years.

This decline in production is expected to increase the

Lyne T. Barret Drilled First Oil Well In Texas

The problems of raising money to make a profitable enterprise out of Texas' first oil well—drilled 100 years ago are revealed in a biographical booklet on Lyne T. Barret published Saturday by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Publication of the booklet is one of a number of projects slated by the association to honor the pioneer oil man whom petroleum historians credit with drilling the first Texas oil well near Nacogdoches in 1866.

Written by Frank X. Tolbert, Dallas historian and newspaperman, the story which is based on some of Barret's correspondence and business papers, discloses the great optimism and disappointments surrounding this first attempt to create a Texas oil company. Barret obtained some $5,000 worth of machinery from operators in the then - young Pennsylvania oil industry to develop the oil leases he held.

However, following the second well, which failed to produce, his source of capital dried up. Correspondence indicates that Barret attempted to swap Texas land to the Pennsylvanians for further assistance, but they were not interested. Mrs. Barret was reported to have inherited a great deal of land.

Tolbert wrote that after trips forth for additional financing failed, Barret apparently never drilled another well, although he did live to see the development of great fields at Beaumont and other places in the southeastern section of the State. He had written letters prior to the drilling of his own well near Nacogdoches describing a venture planned in Hardin County.

Phrases from the letter indicate his optimism: "The great excitement of this age is oil. This region of Texas will be wild upon the subject in a few months. . . a man and the money have already gone north to buy the necessary machinery to search the bowels of the earth for oil. . . None doubt that oil will be found. . . What is the use of toiling and struggling with aching brains and weary hands for bread when gold so temptingly invites you to reach out and clutch it?"

Unfortunately for Barret, according to the Tolbert account, the man who drilled the first Texas oil well was unable to "clutch it."

"After he gave up his oil operations," Tolbert wrote, "Barret ran a mercantile store at Melrose and managed his wife's farms."

Moyers Just Can't Watusi, Say Baptists

Presidential aide Bill Moyers should apologize for doing the watusi, some of the demonstration's members believe, because "Baptist just don't like for their preachers to dance," the official publication of the Texas Baptist Convention said Friday.

Moyers, a Texan and an ordained Baptist minister, recently was photographed dancing. The picture was published nationally.

The Texas Baptist Standard said in an editorial, "vast numbers of church people do dance and think it is all right, but very few of them want their ministers to do it."

"The public will always think of him (Moyers) as preacher. He just can't do some things others do."

The editorial said the publication had been deluged with protests over the Moyers' incident.

The Southern Baptist Convention Radio - Television Commission was to present Moyers with a Distinguished Communications Medal at its meeting under way in Detroit.

The Texas Baptist Standard said later the presentation was canceled when Moyers withdrew from the convention program.
