This is National 4-H Club Week and the Stanton and Martin County clubs are all marking the event with appropriate meetings. In Texas alone, approximately 100,000 4-H'ers from rural and urban areas will pause to take stock of their many accomplishments. Martin County is truly proud of the 4-H groups who have brought recognition to this area. Congratulations go to the leaders and to the members of all 4-H Boys and Girls in Martin County.

National Fire Prevention Week and National Newspaper Week are scheduled to be observed this month. Appropriate messages concerning these two important weeks will appear in the next issue of the paper.

Congratulations to MISS PUG DEAVENPORT on her nomination and election as sweetheart of the Stanton FFA Chapter. I have the honor and pleasure of being an Honorary Chapter Farmer of the FFA and know and appreciate NOLAN PARKER and his FFA charges for the good work they are doing.

My dog strayed from the premises a few days ago and I offered a reward for his return. One afternoon late, REV. RICHARD PAYNE, pastor of the METHODIST CHURCH was up at my house when two boys brought LYNDON home. I paid the reward to the boys and told the preacher his presence in my house probably accounted for my getting the Beagle back. He said: "I get the credit but the boys got the cash." The Methodist of Stanton have a young preacher with a lot of wit, humor and wisdom along with being qualified to preach.

Congratulations to JANE HODGES, daughter of MR. and MRS. JAKE HODGES upon her election as Homecoming Queen Saturday. She is a sweet and talented young lady and her friends are proud of her selection.

The Stanton Reporter will publish briefs about the six suggested amendments to the Constitution before the election in November. It will not be the purpose of the paper to indicate how anyone should vote but to present facts which we hope, will be helpful, in determining whether these amendments are desirable and for the best interest of our people as a whole.

Bulletin

Word comes out of Austin that John Connally won't seek a fourth term. Remember, you read it first in The Stanton Reporter six months ago.

"Preston Smith will be the next governor of Texas," was another of our predictions. Smith is now considered a conservative Democratic clinch for the job.

Connally said: "I'll make a statement shortly." Texas polls have indicated a defeat of Lyndon Johnson if he runs in 1968. The Stanton editor predicted months ago that Bobby Kennedy, not Johnson, would get the Democratic nomination for President.

When informed of the prospective decision of Connally at press time Wednesday afternoon, the local editor said: "With the migration of farmers to towns and cities we don't need BARNs, but more good drops, (SMITH VARIETY) to cure the current colds of the people."

Young people learn in 4-H by project work, demonstration, judging, group action, activities and events, and recreation. The project the 4-H'er selects may be one he is especially interested in. Some of the most popular are: Agriculture, Home Economics, Management, Personal Development, and Conservation.

Much 4-H work is centered around the home and family. The success of a boy or girl in 4-H depends a great deal on his parents. They help him decide on projects best suited to the family or home situation.

The early-day "corn, pig and canning" clubs — fore-runners of 4-H, were started to teach families improved practices in farming and homemaking through teaching boys and girls. The emphasis then was on the project.

Very soon leaders saw that the project should not be the end in itself, but rather a means of working with youth. Projects have changed with the new situations in which young people find themselves.

Amendment No. 1

(Editor's Note: This week we are discussing proposition one on the amendments proposed for our State Constitution. This is simply a public service analysis advanced by the editor.)

You will vote FOR or AGAINST:

"the constitutional amendment allowing counties to put all county taxes into one general fund."

This is a proposal to amend Article VIII, Sec. 9 of our State Constitution, which names the funds for which a county may levy ad valorem taxes and provides that the total levy for General Fund, Permanent Improvement Fund, Road and Bridge Fund and Jury Fund purposes shall not exceed eighty cents. The same section also authorizes an additional fifteen cent ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of public roads, if approved by the voters.

This section formerly set a maximum tax rate for each of the four funds. In 1956 it was amended to eliminate these maximums so long as the total of the tax levies for these four funds made by the commissioners court does not exceed eighty cents on the $100 valuation.

The only change made by the amendment to be voted on in November would be to add the following words: "Any county may put all tax money collected by the county into one general fund without regard to the purpose or source of each tax."

Proponents say that the amendment would allow counties which have excess money in one fund to transfer this money for use by other funds which are short or exhausted. This flexibility would sometimes forestall a need of additional taxes.

Opponents of the amendment express apprehension that, if free and unlimited transfer of money between these four major county funds is allowed, some internal cash controls that safeguard the assets of the county will be lost.

The interpretation and the application of the amendment, if it is adopted, may depend largely on the views of the county auditor or other fiscal officer in each of the counties.

COUNCIL MEETING — When the Martin County 4-H junior council members assemble, as shown above, they quickly get down to business on the agenda.

CLUB MEETING — The members of the Ranchhands 4-H Club as pictured above in one of their projects. Here they are painting barrels. The barrels will be used to collect trash at the 4-H barn.

Every rose has its thorn, every house has its cross and every soul has its sorrow. God has one Son without sin but He has no sons without sorrow. But the suffering sons have been plagued by two problems: What is the design and what is the duration?

David wondered about the design, for he said in Psalm 6:2, "By bones are vexed. My soul is also sore vexed." But nothing comes to a child of God by accident, only by appointment, and that by God's appointment. It is written in 1 Thessalonians 3:3, "That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed ther-unto." When afflictions come, do not say, "What a disappointment!" Remove the letter "d" and its place put the letter "H", and you have "His appointment." And the Lord only appoints that which is for your good and His glory.

David wondered about the duration, for he asked, "O Lord, how long?" An old man of God was asked, "What is your favorite Bible verse?" "And it came to pass," he answered. "But that is not a complete Bible verse," corrected his friend. "No," he answered, "but it is a comforting verse. It teaches me that the suffering does not come to stay, it comes to pass." The grass is always greener after a rain. How are you after a stormy affliction comes to pass?

Bible Comment—

Fellowship With God

Man, by nature, is afraid of God. When Adam first sinned, he should have gone immediately to God to beg forgiveness and plead for mercy. Instead he hid from God so that God had to come and look for him, as it were, calling: "Adam, where art thou?" (Gen. 3:9). Many people who consider themselves as good, morally, of those about them, or better, nevertheless feel utterly out of place in a place of worship, where believed spray and praise God together. This is because in their heart of hearts they know that they have "sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23). Such, however, may come to know, love and enjoy God through faith in Christ. He was Himself "God manifest in the flesh," come to earth in love to pay for our sins on Calvary's cross, so that we might have "redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1-7). Concerning those who respond in grateful faith and trust in the crucified, risen, glorified Lord for salvation, the Apostle Paul says: "Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; by whom also we have access by faith in this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in the hope of the glory of God" (Rom. 5:2). Peace with God, and the fellowship which naturally follows is the most precious treasure the human heart can contain.

Philosopher Finds One More Problem To Worry About — A Million Busted School Windows

Dear editor: There are so many new crisis turning up almost daily throughout the world, like hurricanes and floods and strikes and car wrecks and international squabbles and crime waves and abuse of the language like calling that zone in South Vietnam de-militarized when the greatest accumulation of firepower in the history of warfare is concentrated there and being used 24 hours a day, that there are times when I'm not sure I want to see a newspaper turn up out here on this Martin County grass farm, but nonetheless a fresh north wind blew one in yesterday and sure enough it was up to standard. According to it, school buildings this past summer throughout the country were subjected to record-breaking vandalism.

For example, in Chicago 90,645 windows were broken in school buildings, 36,525 were broken in Washington, 25,400 in Los Angeles, over 100,000 in New York, and untold thousands in smaller schools around the nation. Hardly a town or city escaped, and one estimate put the total over a million busted windows.

At the same time, this paper reported that there is a definite shortage of good pitchers in both major league baseball divisions, and it makes you wonder where the schools are falling short. Are they putting up buildings so close to the ground and so thick with windows a boy gets no aiming practice at all in throwing a rock through one?

You break out millions of window panes and not produce a single good pitcher, and you can see something is seriously wrong with the school system.

We didn't have one-tenth of one per cent as many windows broken out when we had one-teacher schools and we had lots better pitching. A boy had to make his aim count in those days. Nowadays any punk can break one.

I don't know what the answer to this problem is, but that doesn't embarrass me. I don't know what the answer is to any of the other problems. Nonetheless, a million broken window panes a year sure seems like a problem we could do without. It looks like one crisis leads to another. With winter coming on, where will we get enough pillows to stuff in that many broken panes?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

U.S. Cotton Cutback Due

The government expects a further sharp cutback of the U. S. Cotton carryover for the current crop year with the prospect of stock falling slightly below the seven million bales before next year's cotton is gathered.

This would amount to a 22 per cent greater reduction in unused cotton than the 4.5 million bale curtailment last year and would put stocks at the lowest level in 14 years.

A major factor in the lowered carryover prediction is the 1967 crop estimate of just under eight million bales — the lowest in 46 years — resulting from reduced planted acreage, bad weather and heavy insect damage that have dropped indicated national yield to 460 pounds per acre.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has this information in mind and the cotton advisory committee's recommendation for a 13.5 million bale crop for next season as he readies his announcement — with a few days — of the 1968 cotton program.

Combined domestic consumption and exports of cotton for the current crop year are still estimated at a little under the 1966-67 total of 14.1 million bales. Exports are expected to equal last year's 4.7 million bales, thanks to ample American supplies and lower

The grab bag: today we take up a great number of subjects, none of which is worth stretching into a story by itself and all of which are worth worrying about from time to time.

Among inventions sorely needed is black salt. This would be mainly for roadside restaurants, where the visitor is unfamiliar with the caliber of holes in the salt shaker. You recognize the need for this invention if you have ever been in such a place and have wondered whether any salt was coming out of the shaker.

DEFT DEFINITIONS — As happy as a 5-year-old boy watching his little sister being spanked.

I wonder if, somewhere in this great land, there isn't a football team whose members put on their pants both legs at a time. I suspect there is, and the news is being hushed up. No football coach of my acquaintance has ever made it through the season without telling his boys: "OK, team, we know this is a tough bunch we're facing tonight. But remember, they're no better than anyone else. They put their pants on one leg at a time, just like you do."

There is a distinct possibility that animals talk. I do not know whether they converse in English or some other language, but English is as likely as any. This being the case, their talk must surely have some similarity to ours.

All of which is to say that animals may have the following descriptive phrases:

- A lamp-necked goose.
- A man-toed pigeon.
- An alligator crying man tears.
- A chicken whose writing looks like people scratches.
- There must be more.

This last item out of the grab bag is grabbed off Bill Hill, who writes for the Herald in Everett, Wash. He suggests that these are the days of wine and neurosis. The newsman's lament:

"If I attend a meeting, I'm being nosy. If I don't, I'm not interested. If I write an in-depth story, it's too long. If I condense one, it's incomplete.

If I take sides on an issue, prices for shorter staple cotton.

I'm prejudiced. If I don't, I'm a coward. If my suit is clean and pressed, I think I'm a big shot. If it isn't, I look like a movie-land newspaperman. If I've been on the job a short time I lack experience. If I have been around awhile, it's time for a change. If I don't stop and talk (deadlines, you know), I'm too big for my britches.

If I do, that's all I've got to do anyway. If I ask for advice, I'm incompetent. If I don't, I'm a know-it-all. If I make a mistake, I hear about it for weeks. If I don't, I never hear about it. If I accept a social drink, I'm an alcoholic. If I don't, I'm antisocial.

If I express my opinion, I want to run the show. If I don't, where did I go to school?

Is I misspell your name, you never forget it. If I don't, you didn't read the story.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Last year thousands of young wives filed a joint return with their husband for the first time and eagerly looked forward to getting their first joint tax refund check. However, when Internal Revenue checked the young wife's name against the Social Security Number computer file, the computer said: "I don't know Mrs. Jones." She forgot to tell Social Security that she had a new name — so Internal Revenue wrote the young wife a letter and eventually got her new name and held old Social Security Number together, but she had to wait on her refund check.

SHS News

By PUG DEAVENPORT
Class competition, spirited pep rallies, and the crowning of a new Homecoming Queen were all a part of the enthusiasm of the 1967 Homecoming activities of SHS climaxed by the Stanton - McCamey football game Saturday night.

Senior Jane Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Hodges, Stanton, was crowned 1967 Homecoming Queen Saturday night during the half-time show. Mike Hall, a 1966 graduate of Stanton, was her escort. Runners-up included: Junior Linda Adams escorted by David Hicks, 1966 graduate of SHS; LaWanda Gaspie, sophomore nominee, presented by 1967 graduate Danny Fryar, and freshman candidate Sandra Chandler, accompanied by Allen Springer, 1967 graduate. The queen was selected by Stanton-Courtney Exes.

Friday of Homecoming Week revealed the appearance of VIP (very important player) signs placed on the lockers of the football team, by the cheerleaders. School was dismissed at 2:40 that afternoon to enable students, both boys and girls alike, to gather wood for the bonfire. At 7:45 a large group of junior high and high school students gathered at the junior high building for a snake dance. Led by football captain, Steve Hall, the group twined its way to the downtown stop light for a short pep rally. At 8:30 the action switched to the area behind the Vocational Agriculture building, where the bonfire was held.

Activity and preparation began early Saturday morning, with members of the respective classes finishing work on class floats and decorating the gym with signs for the competition pep rally. The third annual Homecoming parade began at 3:30 with the appearance of the class floats, SHS band, Coming Home Queen nominees, the victory bell, and a special float entry from the Stanton Aero Club.
At 4:30 Saturday afternoon found the high school gym packed with students and exes backing the Buffs and boosting spirit at the pep rally. Miss Ruth Love, sponsor of the Pep Squad, welcomed the exes to SHS, and presented the queen nominees. Mrs. Jo Cox, secretary of the Exes Association, announced the decisions of the judges in the float competition. The sophomore and freshman floats tied for third, with the juniors ranking second, and the seniors placing first. Introduction of the team was presented by Head Coach Bryan Boyd. Jimmy Stallings, president of the Exes Association, gave a pep talk. Ricky Corbell, president of the Student Council, announced the result of the "whisper day" activities. Mike Curry was the secret "mystery person," with John Anasatso cited as the 10th person to whisper Beat McCamey to him. John was presented five dollars prize money by the student council. Following yells led by the cheerleaders the presentation of the spirit stick was made. The red, white, and blue stick was given to the group showing the most school spirit. The honor went to the junior class. Judges for the contest were faculty members Miss Love and Coach Joe Cruise.

Following the game, a dance was held in the gym.

Reagan Hits Third Party

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, in a deep south visit which did nothing to diminish his popularity with Dixie Republicans, said Friday a third party entry in next year's presidential race would not benefit the nation.
Reagan, a prime Republican presidential possibility, commented on the possible presidential candidacy of former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama at a news conference prior to an address at a $100-per-plate Republican fundraising dinner.

The handsome ex-actor spoke to a sellout crowd of more than 3,000 persons in Columbia, South Carolina's Township Auditorium. He is second only to former Vice President Richard Nixon as the choice of South Carolina's Republican leaders for the 1968 presidential nomination.

In his speech, Reagan said that like most of those in the audience, he started out as a Democrat "but somehow the Democratic party went away and left us."
"It left us when it switched to so many philosophies and policies we would not accept — the philosophy that Lyndon or whoever the Democratic president may be, knows best."

1967 Commodity Diverted Acres May Be Grazed October 1

Farmers who diverted acreage under the 1967 feed grain and cotton acreage diversion programs (now may, will soon be able to) graze this acreage without losing program benefits, Bob Hill, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced.

Authority was recently granted to ASC State Committees to extend seven months the free grazing period for livestock on lands taken out of production under the annual commodity diversion program. The starting date for such grazing, therefore, will be October 1, marking the end of the period during which the no-grazing provision was in effect under the diversion programs.

Formerly, commodity diversion program lands could be grazed for six months each year, and the "normal" grazing period in Martin County was from November 1 through April 30.

During the intervening five-month period, diverted lands can be grazed only if they are located in an area or county designated as a disaster area by the Secretary of Agriculture because of drought, excessive rains, floods, or other natural disaster. In such cases, Conservation Reserve and Cropland Adjustment program lands also may be used for grazing and the harvesting of hay. Downward adjustments are made in diversion payments to farmers if these lands are grazed or hay is harvested under the disaster provision.

"Extension of the free grazing period," the chairman stated,

"will give farmers an additional month each year for grazing livestock on these diverted croplands. It will permit program participants to clean their fields without the expense of erecting fences between lands on which they have grown crops and those they have diverted.

"In making this move to help the farmer, the department took note of the expanding use of the picker-sheller in corn production which provides for harvesting earlier than was customary under old methods. The net effect of the change is to allow farmers seven months of free grazing for livestock on diverted lands instead of six months."

County farms participating in the 1967 commodity diversion programs number about 725.

Winter cover crop planting area are rye, barley, wheat, and oats. Any of these small grains in a mixture with vetch will furnish more cover than either crop alone. Recommended planting dates for winter peas is Aug. 15 to Nov. 1. Vetch is a winter annual legume that is rated as good grazing, good cover and an excellent soil conditioner. Grazing may be done at any time, provided enough growth is left to protect the land at all times. Generally a 4-inch stubble is left on the ground for legumes, whereas 50 per cent of the growth is recommended for late planted sorghums.

1,250 pounds and 1,750 pounds. Medium textured soils (lilty clay loam) 750 pounds and 1,000 pounds respectively. The pounds of residue decreased as the size of the soil particles becomes smaller.

Some of the crops adopted to this area that produce the desired amounts of residue, are small grains, millet, sorghums, and certain legumes. Tillage operations should be adjusted to leave the amount of residue needed on the soil surface. A one-way disc will reduce it by 50 per cent, whereas a cultivator or a haeme will reduce it by only 15 per cent, compared large sweeps or disc with a reduction of only 10 per cent.

The height of the stubble has a direct bearing on the amount of protection it will give. For example, sorghum stubble one foot high, will protect a strip 10 feet wide. This 1-10 ratio is generally true for all high residue producing crops. By proper management of crop residue we can not only keep soil losses to a minimum, but conserve moisture for the next crop as

That Ache—

Low Back Pain Can Be Helped

Oh, my aching back! How often have you heard someone say that? Or said it yourself?

Backache is such a common ailment among civilized man that there are very few adults who haven't had a touch of it now and then.

Some physicians credit soft beds, soft chairs and other comforts of modern civilization with an increase in the number of persons who suffer from low back pains, says

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

Once called lumbago, back pain is often caused by poor posture, obesity, ill-fitting or inappropriate shoes, a sedentary life, overly strenuous work, or participating in sports. It may also be due to disease not directly relating to the back or to injury or strain.

Low back pain may occur at any age but it seems to bother middle-aged persons most. It occurs in both sexes and in all races, and is more common among people who do work that requires stooping or lifting.

Good posture of the entire body is important in preventing low back pain. Sit with the head, shoulders and trunk erect. When standing, the spine should be straight. Not the military "ramrod" posture, but straight.

A soft, saggy bed and low, soft chairs contribute to backache. Chairs, ideally, should be firm, straight and have the

That said election shall be held under the provisions of the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, and particularly Senate Bill No. 552 passed by the 60th Legislature of Texas, at its Regular Session in 1967, and only resident legally qualified property taxpaying voters of Martin County, Texas (the proposed Hospital District) who own taxable property therein and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, shall be allowed to vote.

The County Judge is authorized and directed to cause said notice of the election to be posted up at the County Courthouse Door, in the Office of the County Clerk, and at a public place in each Commissioners' Precinct in the County, at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of said election. contour of a normal back. A low-heeled shoe is best for standing or walking. High-heeled shoes tend to throw the posture off balance and increase strain on the lower back. Loafers, ballet slippers and sneakers also may lead to backache if worn extensively.

In lifting heavy objects, keep the back straight and lift with knees and thigh muscles, rather than bending over and straining the spine. Like many other ailments, backache may be aggravated by emotional tension or anxiety.

Treatment of backache varies with the cause. When it's due to strain, usually rest, heat and a pain reliever will help. Massage, used in moderation, may help relieve discomfort. Your doctor may also recommend exercise to strengthen the muscles of the back and to improve posture.

Question And Answer

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q — I'm being asked for my social security number by my savings bank. What do they need it for?

A — All payers of dividends and interest are required by law to report payments amounting to $10 or more a year to IRS. The law further requires these payments to be identified by the social security number of the recipient.

Q — When is the next installment due of my estimated tax?

A — The next quarterly estimated tax payment is due September 15.

Q — My former husband gives me $25 a week for the support of our two children. Who gets to claim them?

A — If your divorce agreement specifies $25 a week for the two children, then the payments will be applied equally to each child. In that case, you or your former husband would claim one or both children depending on which of you provided more than half their separate support.

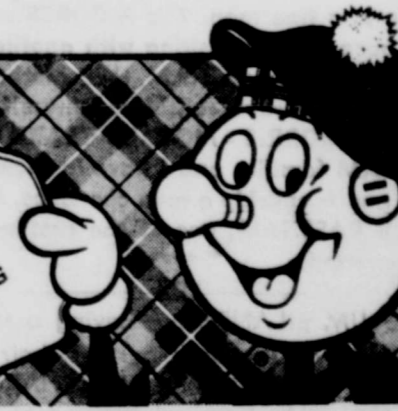

Q — When do I have to get my highway use tax return in?

A — Those liable for the use tax on highway motor vehicles must file Form 2290 by August 31. Copies of the form and instructions for completing it may be obtained by sending a post card to your district office. Ask for a copy of Publication No. 349, "Federal Use Tax on Trucks, Truck Tractors and Buses."

DR. JOE RUPE has joined the staff of HAMILTON OPTOMETRIC CLINIC in Big Spring. DR. ALLEN HAMILTON introduced me to the doctor the other day when I stopped by to visit with him and have my glasses adjusted. He is a native of Commerce, Oklahoma. I like that name Commerce. It is the town of my birth in Texas. MICKEY MANTLE, the New York Yankee baseball star, has the honor of being born in the same city that DR. RUPE was in Oklahoma. I know that DR. RUPE is going to like his new association in Big Spring with the finest group of people I know. Most of Martin County's people are HAMILTON CLINIC clients and have been for years.

TOMMY LOY, my musically inclined Dallas first cousin, trumpet player deluxe, extensive land owner in the Denison-Sherman-Gainesville area and one swell fellow, played the solo before the opening professional football game in Dallas Sunday. TOMMY is the only child of the late LOUIS LAYFETTE LOY, and of MRS. HAZEL LOY of Denison. His dad was my mother's youngest brother. AUNT HAZEL was the only child of the late DR. J.T. LONG, beloved north Texas physician. As a lad, TOMMY started playing a horn. While in school in S.M.U. in Dallas he organized a campus band, the CELLBLOCK SEVEN. He sold this college gag copyright deal to some people who continued to use it. TOMMY was known to the rest of his cousins as the "Golden Boy." He was born with so much money he never had to think about how to make a living. But he did think about it. He has done alright. And his country cousin was not only shocked and amazed but pretty proud of his Denison relative when he rendered his solo before the Cowboy game down there in front of 65,000 people in the Cotton Bowl the past Sunday. I sometimes wonder what I'll hear about next springing out of that family tree on the French side of my mother's house.

CONGRATULATIONS go this week to LT. and MRS. WEEMS WILLIAMS because they are the happy parents of a fine baby girl, SHANNA LEIGH, and the grandparents deserve congratulations too. The new arrival is doing just fine. She is the granddaughter of MR. and MRS. WESLEY WILLIAMS and MR. and MRS. ALTON TURNER. The birth announcement appears in this issue of the paper.

I dropped in THRIFTWAY just before noon Wednesday, opening day of the World Series and O. C. TURNER was getting his tv set lined up to get the game. Most of the menfolk in Stanton were hard to find between 11:30 and 1 p.m. Wednesday. The arm chair coaches were all huddled around a set somewhere watching the Cardinals of St. Louis battle the Red Sox of Boston. I have always been a Cardinal fan—win or lose. Up until the time Atlanta got in the big league, St. Louis was the only team based anywhere near the Mason-Dixon line and being a grandson of Southern Confederates, I don't even have a north room in my house. The last time I saw a World Series was when Detroit met the Cards in 1934. DIZZY and DAFFY DEAN and the Gashouse Gang had no trouble in taking the measure of the Tigers. If the Boston team wins the championship this year, I predict there will no second civil war, because the Cardinals have some great players on "our" team whose ancestors didn't fight alongside my grandpa ESTES for GEN. LEE. But the ancestors of CURT FLOOD, BOB GIBSON, and LOU BROCK, were helping hold the plantation of my granddad together back there in Tennessee under the direction of my grandmother. If the workers could have produced one more load of potatoes, I don't think the Confederates would have lost the war. After all, the South won the battles, but run out of food.

THE great community heart of Martin County reposed again this week when DOYLE CORNER, president of STANTON ROTARY CLUB, collected a huge truck load of clothing for the victims of Hurricane Beulah. The Stanton Church of Christ minister deserves the plaudits of us all.

I had the fine privilege of being in the company of two generations of smart, pretty and charming gals awhile Tuesday evening. I dropped by the home of my former landlady, MRS. FLORA MORRIS, and found her hosting a dinner party and the guests were: MRS. JAY MOORE of Houston, her daughter, BARBARA WILKINSON of Midland, and her baby daughter, CARLA MOORE. BARB'S husband, PETE WILKINSON was present and he is a fine man. The MOORES and WILKINSONS had been in town visiting with another pretty and charming lady, LELA BASSHAM, their mother and grandmother. I have always considered myself an adopted member of the MORRIS - MOORE - CLARDY - WILKINSON-BASSHAM families and I have in them the kind of admiration and friendship a man cherishes. I can prove it by SHELLEY BASSHAM, one of the best men the good Lord ever created.

THE JIM EILANDS are having a storage house built on the back part of their homesite in Stanton. PETE MASHBURN and RICHARD DOGGETT are doing the work. I visited the construction project Monday afternoon and like the idea of having that extra storage space available on the premises. Since the recent fire in my home and with my household goods scattered in various places until the repairs are made, the idea of some extra space appeals to me. I didn't realize the extent of my inventory of possessions until I started unloading storage closets for painting purposes.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has formally announced an amendment to Commodity Credit Corporation pricing policy which will prevent CCC cotton from being sold this year at less than 120 points above the applicable loan rate for given qualities.

The change was made by USDA at the request of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. to prevent current crop cotton, particularly the shorter staples, from being forced into the government loan program.

Previously USDA had sold government owned cotton at a minimum price determined by quotations from the 15 spot markets. That system applied market discounts on short staple cotton to a fixed 22-cent minimum CCC resale price for middling one inch cotton.

And as the market price for middling inch moved upward the increased discounts would have forced CCC's prices on the lower qualities down to, or even below, the loan value.

Under those conditions producers of the short staples would have had little or no chance to sell cotton this year at prices above the loan rate and much of the crop would have moved into the government loan program instead of the market.

Provision for the resale of most upland cotton was set out last year in Announcement NO-C-31, which has now been amended to state that CCC cotton shall be sold at "The current market price as determined by CCC, but not less than a minimum price determined by CCC, which will be in no event be less than 120 points (1.2 cents) per pound above the loan rate for such cotton at the time of delivery."

According to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, this change should mean that all cotton grown on the Plains this year will have an opportunity to find a place in the market instead of going into the government plan.

Production of short staple cotton (below an inch) in 1967 is being estimated at less than 2 million bales while domestic and export consumption should total around 3.5 million bales.

"This will leave room for CCC to sell something more than 1.5 million bales of its short staple cotton without interfering with markets for the 1967 crop," Johnson said.

He points out that last year production of the short staples fell about 1 million bales below consumption but that USDA sold 1.8 million bales from CCC stocks, depriving producers of a possible market for some 800,000 bales.

"This is the kind of thing we think will be avoided this year by reason of the NO-C-31 amendment providing a minimum 120-point spread between loan prices and CCC's resale prices," he stated, adding "and it should mean additional producer income of at least $1 million on the Plains."

He complimented USDA officials on their recognition of the problem and the prompt action taken toward a remedy.

"While the remedial action taken by USDA was not exactly what we asked for, we do think it will move our cotton into the market this year and give our producers a chance to get better prices. And we appreciate USDA cooperation to accomplish this goal."

PCG had asked that the premiums and discounts on all qualities of cotton, as quoted by spot markets, be applied to the market price of middling inch cotton instead of to the fixed 22-cent minimum.

Treatment of carrying charges on cotton that may reach the new minimum resale price was not made clear in the USDA announcement.

But officials in the Department have assured Johnson and others that the 120 point spread between the loan and CCC's resale price will be in addition to normal carrying charges of 15 points per month, beginning in January, 1968.

Those who have questioned the ability of the High Plains to produce long staple, high quality cotton should look at the first 129 bales classed by the Lubbock classing office this year.

Average staple: 1 - 3/32 inches. Micronaire: 99 per cent 3.5 and above with most in the desirable 4.0 to 4.2 range.

This of course does not indicate what the entire Plains crop will be. But it shows what can be done and is probably a harbinger of things to come.

Most of this cotton was either Acala or Del Cerro and it was grown mostly from the Lubbock area South.

But as new varieties are proven and more producers gear operations to producing for premium markets the percentage of short staple cotton grown on the Plains is bound to dwindle.

And those doubting Thomases who have said "It can't be done" will be silenced, once and for all.
