The statistics listed below have been documented. Since the Democrats took over from EISENHOWER eight years ago the policies in the Agriculture Department have been those authorized by the KENNEDY-JOHNSON official terms in office. We have lost more than 800,000 farms in America. We have lost more than four and one-half million farmers. But during the same span of years, we have added in excess of 20,000 workers to the payroll in the Department of Agriculture. The number of farms is down 20 per cent. The number of farmers is down 29 per cent. But the size of the Agricultural Department is up 23 per cent.

BOBBIE HEDRICK and wife have been visiting relatives and friends in Martin County. They live in Arizona. A natural talent owned by BOBBY but heretofore unknown by his friends made the private display of some of his art work a big surprise. I knew BOBBY was a man of ability and good judgment but I did not know he was a budding artist with a flair, according to none other than DE GRAZIO, for the personalized style. The paintings I viewed all dealt with faceless Indian. Maybe BOBBY will arrange for a public showing of his works of art on a return trip to Stanton and Martin County. I hope so.

I like to read a small four-page newsletter distributed by Kerr Paper Company. Most of us have heard of the renowned SACHEL PAIGE, legendary black baseball player. OLD SATCH says he lives by six rules. In his own inimitable language his rules are as follows: (1) Avoid fried meats which angry up the blood. (2) If your stomach disputes you, lie down and pacify it with cool thoughts. (3) Keep the juices flowing by jangling around gently as you move. (4) Go very lightly on the vices such as carrying on in society. The social ramble ain't restful. (5) Avoid running at all times. (6) Don't be back. Something may be gaining on you.

It is interesting to note that the majority of the units to be returned from the war zone in Viet Nam are made up of southern boys. It would be silly to suggest that this is not a troop integrated war. But as in past conflicts, anytime a war is going on the men from below the Mason-Dixon Line are always found in the forefront of the battalions. It is also nice to know that our leaders in Congress back our military leaders in their planned campaigns and not a single word of criticism that might injure the spirit, morale, or thinking of the fighting men has been uttered by a southern solon. The list of 20 units to be pulled out of the war zone first has been released. The 650th Medical Detachment, Birmingham, Ala.; the 978th Unit from Ft. Smith, Ark.; the 950th Unit from Lexington, Ky.; the 378th Medical Detachment from Memphis, Tennessee; the 312nd Unit from Winston-Salem, N. C.; the 472nd Unit from Rockville, Maryland; the 319th Transportation Company from Augusta, Georgia; Headquarters Company 336th Ordnance Battalion, Little Rock, Ark.; the 173rd Quartermaster Company, Greenwood, Miss.; the 313th Medical Detachment Unit from Richmond, Va.; all outfits from below the Mason-Dixon Line will come home. Stanton Native Serves Last Tour Of Duty At Webb

WEBB AFB, Texas — Following more than 27 years of service, including duty during three wars, Chief Master Sergeant Eudis Gregg is serving his last Air Force assignment within 20 miles of where he enlisted for that career Nov. 18, 1941.

A native of Stanton, and a graduate of the high school there in 1937, Sergeant Gregg recently arrived at Webb to assume duties as the T-38 T-100 line chief, 3560th Organizational Maintenance Squadron. It is the second tour of duty here for the chief master sergeant, both in response to his own requests.

Sergeant Gregg is responsible for insuring that every one of the 89 T-38s is operationally ready at all times. He is in charge of 145 men that service and maintain the T-38s on the line.

The sergeant started his Air Force career with basic training at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and completed aircraft and engine school at Chanute AFB, Ill. Following one year's duty as an instructor at Goldsboro, N. C., he was assigned in Eglin AFB, Fla., where for seven years he was engaged in maintenance work on experimental fighter aircraft. The 1943-1950 assignment was interrupted only by a six-month temporary duty assignment to Alaska.

In mid-1950, Sergeant Gregg was assigned to Korea, where he served until January 1952, with the 7th Squadron, 49th Fighter-Bomber Wing. His maintenance duty while at Taegu was mostly on F-80 and F-84 aircraft.

Upon his return to the United States, the sergeant served three years at Sioux City, Iowa. Assigned to the 37th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, he worked on F-86 D Fighters. Then in 1955, Sergeant Gregg reenlisted for duty at Webb. For five years he served with the 3560th Flight Line Squadron here, working on T-33 T-Birds.

Between 1960 and 1963 Sergeant Gregg served with the 48th Tactical Fighter Wing in Lakenheath, England. For his duty there the sergeant was awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal. The first oak leaf cluster followed for duty as line chief of the bomber-cargo section in a weapons testing unit at Eglin AFB. The sergeant served at Eglin during that tour from 1963 to 1966.

Assigned to Vietnam in 1966, Sergeant Gregg served with the 1st Air Commando Group for four months. For another eight months he was a member of the field maintenance squadron for the 37th Tactical Fighter Wing at Phu Cat. It was for this latter duty that Sergeant Gregg received the Bronze Star.

The sergeant married the former Caroline C. Carson of Des Moines, Iowa. Their son Peter, 22, and his wife are currently serving with the Peace Corps in Bolivia. Peter is a graduate of Drake University with a major in sociology.

Several of Sergeant Gregg's brothers and sisters still live in towns in this area. His mother, Mrs. Cressia Gregg, presently lives in Abilene.

The Stanton Reporter
Stanton, Texas

Dear Neal:
Attached is a photograph of me and twelve participants of the "Government-in-Action" Youth Tour, sponsored by the rural electric systems of Texas and coordinated by the Texas Electric Cooperatives. Altogether eighty-five young people from Texas are participating.

In the picture on the back row, second from the left, is Miss Eva Ledbetter of Stanton. Eva and the other participants were winners of speech of essay contests dealing with the subject of rural electrification.

The trip to Washington is designed to be both educational and enjoyable. The group arrived in Washington on June 9, and will leave on June 15. They will arrive home on June 17. While in Washington, the young people have been visiting the White House, the Capitol, the Library of Congress, the Supreme Court, the Smithsonian Institution, and other points of interest.

On June 11th, the group gave a reception honoring the Texas Congressional Delegation in the Rayburn House Office Building. I visited with the young people and told them about my work in Congress. I invited them to my Capitol office and I took them on the floor of the House of Representatives.

The members of the Youth Tours have been fine emissaries, and I thought I would send you the attached photograph. Most of the people in the picture are from our area. Best wishes.

Sincerely,
George Mahon.

This year the day's festivities will start off with the traditional downtown parade, held at 10 a.m. on Saturday morning. The parade will feature floats, and entries from local clubs, organizations, merchants, riding groups, and several out-of-town entries.

All old timers are encouraged to register at the Old Settlers headquarters in the building next to the post office in downtown Stanton.

At 1:00 p.m. the annual 4-H Dress Revue will be presented at the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Company. 4-H girls will model outfits that they have sewn. Preliminary judging of the garments will be at 11:00 a.m. at the county courthouse.

In the afternoon, a local rodeo is planned, with members of the 4-H Horse Club and the Martin County Sheriff's Posse participating.

Then at 8:00 p.m., the catered barbecue will be held at the City Park. Following the barbecue, the main program and memorial service will be conducted. Various prizes will be given, and visitors from the longest distance will be introduced. Other traditional events, such as the youngest child present, and the oldest person to attend the function, will be announced.

Mrs. Hall has announced a meeting of the Old Settlers Reunion committee will be held June 30, at the Martin County Library at 8:00 p.m., to finalize the reunion plans. All interested persons living in the community are invited to attend.

District Court Finds Gonzales Guilty Of Charge

Teolilo (Duffy) Gonzales, found guilty June 10 of armed robbery and his punishment fixed at 15 years, has not announced his plans for appeal.

However, Gonzales did not waive the customary 20 days respite between conviction and sentence, and court attaches believe the man plans an appeal.

He was tried before a Martin County jury in the 118th District Court with Judge Ralph Caton presiding.

The defendant was under indictment for armed robbery in connection with an episode of March 28, 1968, when he allegedly held up a Dawson County deputy sheriff and robbed him of his pistol and car keys.

Clifton Melvin Holland, charged with DWI second, was fined $100 and sentenced to jail for a year. The sentence was probated.

Delbert T. Friday, charged with DWI second, was ordered to serve 45 days in the Martin County jail.

The jurors who tried Gonzales were excused from further duty as no other cases were ready for jury disposal.

Some 1,800 4-H'ers from throughout state participated in the annual event.

Big Bend Park Celebrates 25th Anniversary

Big Bend National Park celebrated its 25th anniversary Thursday, June 12.

Acquired from public and private land and presented to the National Park Service by the people of Texas, the park was dedicated June 12, 1944. It is the seventh largest national park in the United States.

A total of 708,000 acres was deeded to the National Park Service in 1944, and the state had earlier appropriated $1.5 million for purchasing land. During the early days the park suffered from a severe drought and visitor facilities were nil. Only 2,564 persons visited the park in 1944.

Today the park is reached by good paved roads and there are two large campgrounds, trailer courts, lodging for 200 persons, and a visitor center headquarters. Various activities are available.

A special program was presented at the Basin Amphitheater at 9:15 p.m. on June 12, to commemorate the Park's 25th anniversary.

The average age of the 14,680,000 World War II veterans is 49.3, the VA reports.

They must have completed high school or submit a certificate approved by the Texas Education Agency showing an equivalent educational background. Grassroots Opinion

PETALUMA, CALIF., ARGUS-COURIER: "A considerable amount to talk is being heard in Washington circle these days about tax reforms... closing loopholes... But—as everyone who has sweated through Form 1040 can testify — there is another brand of taxation that needs a closer inspection and some reforming. This is the complicated, thoroughly confusing income tax form and the gobbledygook that is included in the instruction sheets."

LITCHFIELD MINN., INDEPENDENT-REVIEW: "Institutions of higher learning, have become too available and too easy to attend. Twenty years ago, even ten years ago going to college was a privilege and an honor. More young people were unable to attend schools of higher learning than those who could. Today with all of the scholarship, increasing number of schools, anyone who wants to go to school can do so, in fact it seems that many go who actually don't want to go. It would seem that the privilege of learning is no longer a privilege but now a place to demonstrate and riot. Although the unruly are very much in the minority they do cause enough disturbance to slow down the process of education."

ST. PAULS, N. C., REVIEW: "(Former) President Johnson left office with a recommendation that big pay increases be approved for congressmen, cabinet members and other government officials. At the same time, he suggested that labor should help fight inflation by not asking for big wage increases and that industry should exercise restraint in raising prices in the interest of helping to stabilize the economy. In other words, everybody should join in the fight against inflation except a favored few in government who should be exempt."

Fresh Fruits, Melons Go To Markets

It's fresh fruit and melon time at Texas markets. Increased supplies and lower prices are evident, reports the Agriculture Department.

Cantaloupes, watermelons, and peaches are being featured at many points. Lower wholesale prices are noted on cherries, grapes, peaches, bananas, and watermelons. Vegetables with lower price tags include cabbage, okra, field peas, and peppers.

First shipments of fresh fruits include fair supplies of apricots, blueberries, red and black grapes, plums, and Texas peaches.

Higher wholesale price tags are on sweet corn, cucumbers, endive, greens, lettuce, radishes, and squash.

Egg prices are slightly higher, but still attractive. The consumer incentives to serve milk and all dairy products generously now when supplies are heavy. You'll find dairy food specials.

Turkey and other poultry are in good supply at attractive prices. Red meat supplies are ample at prices about the same as 17 years ago, but some higher than we have become accustomed to.

Allergy Sufferers

Keeping your home as dust-free as possible will afford relief to allergy victims in your family. Other helpful aids include the replacement of dust-collecting cloth curtains with glass-fiber curtains and the use of low-pile or washable rugs. Finished interior walls of the home should help the allergy victim.

Backed-Up Sewers

Backed-up sewers — resulting in flooded basements — can leave infectious germs on basement walls and flooring, in addition to the always-present danger from electricity in the floodwater. Reduce the hazards of germs to your family by washing the basement with a solution containing hot water, a strong detergent and disinfectant. Also, destroy food or food containers exposed to contamination, including fresh fruits and vegetables, foods in cardboard containers, bags, screw top containers and bottles, and meats. Canned food in sealed containers may be salvaged if they are thoroughly washed and disinfected.

Housing Tip For Mobile Families

Finding a suitable place to live perplexes the moving family.

Would-be home buyers may be wise to rent Mrs. Jane Berry, extension housing and home furnishings specialist, until they learn about cost, value, and features of housing in various areas.

Housing affects job satisfaction, good family relationships, and tolerance of family members, points out the specialist.

Where supply of available housing is low, the prospective homeowner should not feel compelled to buy "anything that's available" just to have a roof over his head.

Renting and the inconvenience of another move could well be worthwhile if it means getting the right house in the right location at the right price, Mrs. Berry stresses.

Prospective home buyers need to concentrate on getting good value, even if it means purchasing slightly more than they need or can afford. A banker, lending institution or private appraiser can provide information on the value of the property. The selling price should be closely in line with the appraisal.

Congenial neighbors, attractive house and yards, and good schools are qualities most families look for in a place to live.

When a job or circumstances demand frequent moves, the Texas A&M specialist suggests buyers invest in a house with at least three bedrooms to insure quick resale. Look for good construction and adequate plumbing and electrical capacity. Check also on the annual cost of heating and cooling the house, cost of taxes, water and electricity, she adds.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

MARTIN-HOWARD-MIDLAND SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

Jack Buchanan, Bob Cox, Bernard Houston, Larry Shaw, Bobby Howard.

Conservation and resource development is tied to an important part of growth, according to Ernest Haner, range conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Stanton.

A proper mixture of resources, people, and investments, results in job creation, higher disposable income, higher quality food and water, better homes, schools, highways and community facilities. Resource planning must be long range and based on a sound evaluation of existing physical, social, and economic conditions. In planning, the needs of agriculture, industry, business, and other interests of the people that are in keeping with accepted land uses. Resource capabilities must also be considered.

Adequate soil and water information is vital during planning, as the basis of choosing land uses. At the present time we have adequate land for all purposes. In determining the most appropriate uses of land, we need to be selective.

A good conservation program will provide the things industries are looking for in a community, such as a dependable water supply, flood control measures, housing, a good school system, and recreational facilities. Many industries have remained in the community only when assured by local leaders that pro-

Texas growers and A&M research and extension specialists will handle other speaking and discussion panel arrangements, Larsen said.

Living Screens For Outdoor Privacy

It's not too late to plant a shrub border or screen if balled and burlapped or container grown plants are used, says Everett Jones, extension landscape horticulturist. The plants will require some special attention, he notes, but otherwise they should make good progress even with the late planting.

Screwworm Situation At A Glance

Some leveling off of the number of screwworm cases was noted in May, but livestock owners are advised to continue to use good preventive practices. Eradication program officials advise checking and treating all animal wounds and spraying herds.
