Patriotism was popular in Stanton and Martin County on Tuesday, November 11, Veterans Day, 1969. It was good to drive about the business and residential sections of the city and see Old Glory fluttering in the Indian Summer breeze. It was nice to meet cars with burning headlights, marking the day in silent support of the President of the United States and his policy beamed at gaining an honorable peace in Vietnam. It is like THE MIDLAND REPORTER - TELEGRAM printed out editorially Tuesday afternoon. "This surely must be the greatest Veterans Day in a long, long time!"

A press report originating in Atlanta, Georgia, this week quoted DR. W. A. CRISWELL, of Dallas, president of the Southern Baptist Convention as calling for "Arch liberals in the 11 - member organization to get out and form their own church." To this I simply say Amen. If more men of God would devote more time in the pulpits of this nation to preaching the old-time gospel and leave the monkey business of the changing world to the minority crackpots, the country would be a lot better off. Some of the recent trouble has been with meddling men of the cloth toying with established concepts of religion handed down, followed and obeyed by sons and daughter of forefathers for generations with the idea of bringing about radical and drastic changes. Social equality cannot be legislated nor can it be crammed down the throats of individual Christians bent on living their personal lives in a pattern of tradition steeped formats. The strongest application of snowy white bleach won't change the physical or spiritual aspects of the true believer.

The last football game of the current season for the Buffaloes will be played here Friday night when the local team entertains Big Lake. The Wildcats are home as champions already and Stanton is given no chance to win. But it is good to know that our boys have played fairly and well under many handicaps and setbacks this season and our appreciation for their sincere efforts at all times is in order. I wish to take this opportunity of saluting the fine bunch of players who performed gallantly for Stanton High School this season. The entire community is proud of our boys for the display of good sportsmanship displayed before and after every game. Our hat is off to the fine men who served as coaches too. Every coach on the staff has served with honor and distinction and the qualities of leadership shown by them has been worthy of public commendation at all times.

The continuing spell of Indian Summer weather has undoubtedly served too block any epidemic of the flu as was experienced in this section last year. Of course, the pretty weather must go sooner or later but it has been good to have the sunshine bring the extra bonus days to the Permian Basin.

I am happy to report that CHARLEY ECKERT is out of the hospital in Midland following recent surgery and was out Tuesday morning making the usual rounds uptown. CHARLEY is one of our favorite citizens.

Stanton Falls Into Cellar After 20-0 Loss To Ozona

Stanton High Buffaloes remained out of the District 5-AA cellar for two quarters Friday night, but couldn't contain the Ozona Lions in the second half, when they drove to a 20-0 victory over the homecoming - celebrating Buffaloes.

The loss gave the Buffs a 1-8 record for the season, and an 0-3 mark in 5-AA, while the Lions now share the third spot in the district play with idle McCamey, both at 1-2. It was also Ozona's first victory of the season in eight starts.

David Pagan accounted for most of Ozona's scoring, starting in the third period when he caught a 26-yard pass for a TD from David Williams. He booted the extra point to make it 7-0 going into the final stanza.

In the fourth, halfback Ruben Tambunga ripped off 52 yards to score for the Lions, and Pagan again kicked the conversion. Minutes later, halfback Morris Coates scored on an 11-yard run and the try for the extra point failed.

This week Stanton is host to 5-AA champion Reagan County, while Ozona entertains McCamey.

Cattle grazing belly - deep in waving grass, frequent water holes marked by an occasional tall tree, acres and acres of lush grassland dotted with fattening cattle, does that sound like West Texas? The first picture is what everyone wants, but seems like a day dream to many. Well, it is. But look back a few decades, and that is the exact picture presented to early West Texas pioneers. West Texas was once a land of seemingly endless grass. What has happened? First and foremost, man, with him came livestock, then overgrazing and misuses of the land. Finally with continuous misuses of the land, came the brush infestation. Brush that robs every Texan - of precious water that could be used to grow grass, irrigate crop land, or provide a city with cheap clean water. West Texas landscape is being transformed into a scraggly unprofitable mosquito-cloistered wasteland. But the past, in this instance can get repeated. Evidence exists to indicate that with proper application and management and cultural methods, West Texas can be reclaimed from the bushy invaders. With this accomplishment, the 60 per cent of worthless brush can be reclaimed

Philosopher Amazed To Find Russian Women Gossip And Some Men Don't Like To Work

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw claims he's found out something new about Russia.)

Dear editor:

Every once in a while some news gets out Russia through the Iron Curtain that a thinking man feels like kicking himself for not having known without being told.

For example, according to an article I read last night in a newspaper that caught on the north side of my backyard fence - it's a sure sign of winter when newspapers start lodging on the north side of the south side - Russia is having trouble with, of all things, laziness.

A check at one factory showed that the workers, after a hard day on the job, had put in, after you subtract the time spent around the water cooler, numerous breaks for smokes, tinkering with equipment, talking, and such like, exactly three hours of actual production. In another factory, Pravda, the official Russian newspaper, found that only 86 per 280 workers actually put in a full day's work.

You mean to say everybody in Russia isn't born with equal energy? You mean to say some people over there work harder than others, and conversely some just aren't interested in working much at all?

I thought Russian had abolished human nature. I thought they'd proved that any time a man didn't care about working it was bound to be society's fault. Bring in the perfect society and you'll have nothing but perfect men.

Not only are some of the men not enthusiastic about working but, according to this Pravda article, some women are similarly afflicted.

"A healthy woman whose children are grown, should be the shop or factory," the article said, "not sitting around in the courtyard gossiping." It demanded that something be done about it.

I'll tell you, when Russia sets out to stop women from gossiping and some men from loafing, she hasn't got just a five-year plan on her hands. She's got a million-year plan.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Chrysler Corp. reported Tuesday recall of 754 1970-model passenger cars "for inspection and replacement, if required, of inadequately welded wheels."

In addition, Chrysler said, 228 Dodge trucks, including some 1970 models, are being recalled for inspection and replacement, where needed, of nuts and bolts.

The 1970 passenger cars involved are Plymouth Belvederes and Barracudas, and Dodge Coronets and Challengers.

Twenty Dodge 1970 model D200, W200, and M300 trucks are being recalled for inspection of possibly improperly installed rear axle bearing nut retainer locks.

Lord's Prayer Outline Ideal World

When we make that petition, which is the Lord's Prayer, what do we mean by it and what should it mean to us?

One thing is certain, when we make that prayer in sincerity and truth, the Kingdom has already arrived in our hearts and lives. The Rule of Christ, His law of love, and following of His example, give evidence of our place in the Kingdom which is above all kingdoms, and whose King is supreme.

If that rule is firmly established in all hearts, and in all the affairs of men.

It is this yearning and prayer that is so well expressed in the interpreting repetition, "Thy will be done on earth, as it is in Heaven."

There was a time not long ago when Allegiance to the Kingdom of God conflicted with allegiance to most of the kingdom of earth. In too many countries that conflict still continues, or has been reasserted, under cruel dictatorships in which godless philosophies and attitudes are manifest in suppression and persecution.

But today, in such democracies as Canada, the United States, and Great Britain, the evidence of almost revolutionary progress is seen in the fact that such conflicts of allegiance have almost completely disappeared.

If it were not for all the evil that democracy has not yet conquered we might well say: "Would that all nations and people were as we are."

Here, however, evil carries within itself the seeds of despoise we just pray that some as citrus have debuted and day we may realize the kingdom of God in full, in our every act and deed.

Saturday's program is one horse owners will not want to miss and it starts at 8 a.m., Yeates said.

Deer Hunting Prospects Mostly Good - Good fall rains and the resulting green feeding areas will put the deer hunter's skill to a real test, says Chas. W. Ramsey, extension lifeline specialist. He explains that with the abundance of forage, and a good acorn crop, the deer will not be moving around a great deal and the hunter will have to call upon his skills more so than in recent years. The deer are as plentiful as in former years in most areas, he said, and generally are in good condition.

Winter Pasture Use - When considerable growth has accumulated on winter pastures, the amount of grazing can be "stretched" by limiting the time animals have access to the pasture. This can be done, says Neal Pratt, extension agronomist, by permitting the animals to graze the pasture for only one or two hours each day, and then moving them to an area where good-quality hay or grazing on dry forage is available. Another suggestion is to let cattle graze every third or fourth day. The pasture then serves as a protein supplement if high-quality hay and grazing is available during the other days.

The Simple Machine. Ford Maverick. Still $1995***

Our small car has scored a big success. And the reason is simple—solid value. Now, with other car prices going up all around it, Maverick is going its own Maverick way. It still costs $1995* and that's still a small price to pay for a car that's simple to drive . . . simple to park . . . simple to service . . . simple to repair . . . and simple to own.

Simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage.

Simple to park. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. It can nip around corners and slide into tight parking spaces with amazing agility.

Simple to service. Maverick is easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications, too. You save time and money.

Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself like change spark plugs, adjust ignition timing, and more. Fenders and grille can be replaced in a matter of minutes.

Simple to own. The simple machine can start solving money problems for you right now. Check it out at your Ford Dealer's. The price that made it famous now makes it a better buy than ever.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the car. White sidewall tires are not included, they are $22.00 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specially required by state laws.

A CALENDAR OF Fact And Opinion

This policy statement of the National Taxpayers Conference, seems to fit the scene today, according to the Oregon Tax Research: "The independent taxpayer research organizations in 37 states, comprising the National Taxpayers Conference, find that taxpayers across the Nation are impatient, angry, and concerned. . . . The crux of the taxpayer revolt is that taxpayers feel that government is growing at a pace completely out of step with their wishes; it is resisting changes which would produce greater efficiency and a better return for the tax dollar. We suggest that elected representatives remedy this situation by carefully evaluating expensive new programs and eliminating waste in old programs. Such action will avoid expansion of the taxpayer revolt."

A fact sheet on inflation should lessen our nausea when we read the astronomical fees athletes receive when they turn professional, says Buck Herzog, writer for the Milwaukee Sentinel. In 1931, he says, Babe Ruth received a salary of $90,000 from the Yankees, in 1967 Willie Mays was paid $125,000 by the Giants. Who was better off? Herzog points out that on his $80,000 salary, Ruth paid $11,500 in federal income taxes, giving him a take-home pay of $68,500. On Mays' $125,000 salary, only $52,000 was left in take-home pay after federal income taxes. In addition, consumer prices today are about 2.2 times as high as they were in 1931. In terms of purchasing power, Mays' salary was worth only about a third of Ruth's. Today, if Mays were to receive as much purchasing power as the Babe did in 1931 ($68,500), he would have to be paid $454,000.

Stays Fresh Longer

HD Agent Points Out Good Food Buys For Fall

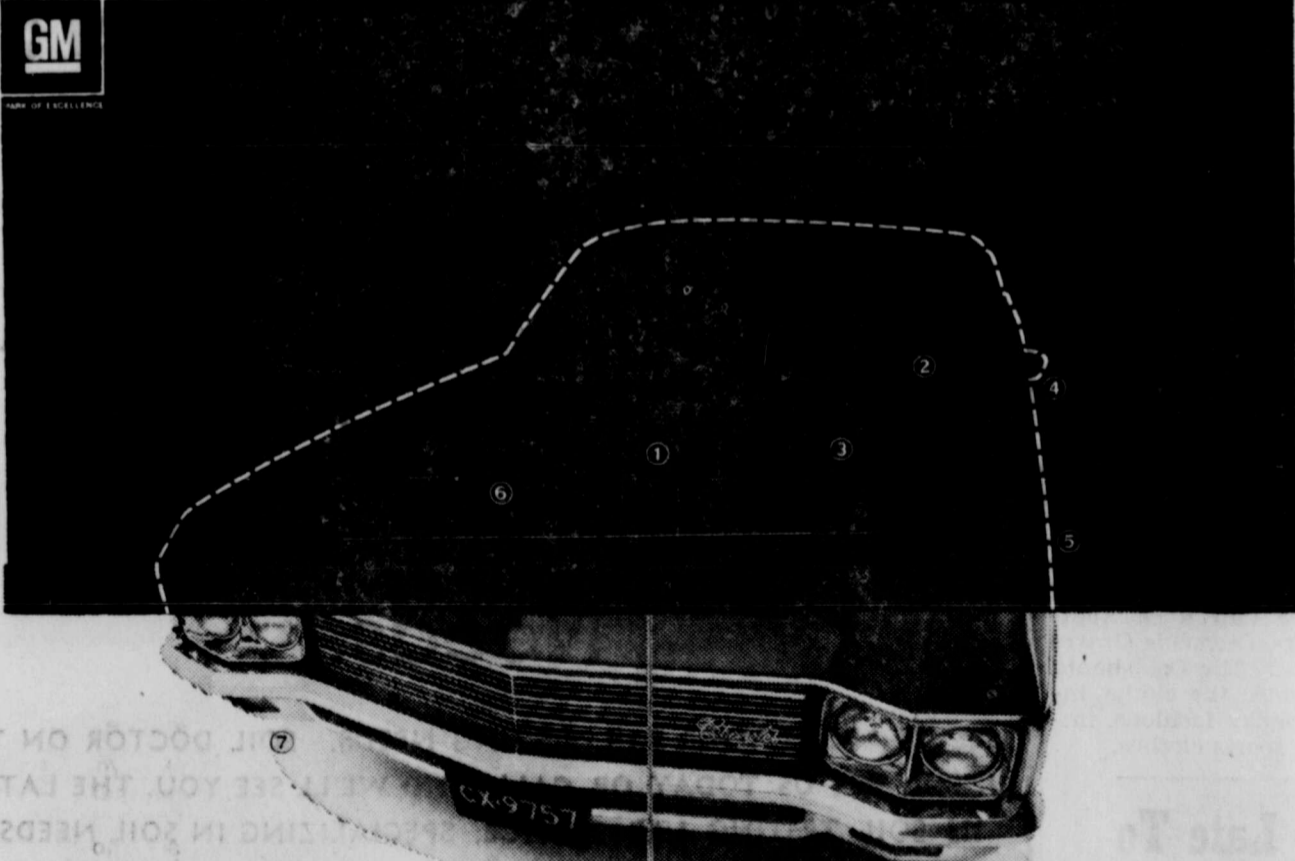

Cooler weather increases appetites and squeezes the family food budget. Here are some suggestions from Mrs. Mildred Eliand, extension home demonstration agent, to help get the most for the food dollar this week.

Pomegranates, persimmons, pineapples, and tangerines are now in markets. Texas citrus have debuted and their supplies will increase in the weeks ahead.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items in good supply at the most economical prices, include apples, bananas, oranges, Tokay grapes, cranberries, potatoes, turnips, cabbage, cauliflower, tomatoes, hard shell squash, and dry yellow onions.

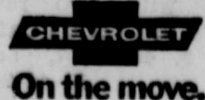

Grapefruit, avocados, and cantaloupes are moderately priced.

The beef market is irregular, reports Mrs. Eliand. The features are a real value. Keep an eye on ads for beef specials; comparative shopping can result in real values, reminds the specialist.

Impala's hidden persuaders:

- 350-cu.-in. engine
A new more powerful standard 250-hp V8 makes the 1970 Impala move with all the more assurance. On good ol' regular gas.
- Anti-theft column lock
A locking system is built right into the steering column. When you take your key with you, you lock not only your ignition but your steering wheel as well.
- Aluminized exhaust system
It simply means that your original muffler, tailpipe and exhaust are going to last longer than you'd probably expect them to. Fair enough?
- Side guard beams
They look like highway guard rails, and they're built into both sides of the car for extra protection in case of impact. Not too many cars have them.
- Inner fenders
Up inside every fender is another fender to protect against slush and mud and help keep your Impala looking young.
- Flush and dry
We build the car so that rain and wash water can run down through the inside of the rocker panels, then out. Air follows to do the drying.
- Full Coil suspension
Huge coil springs at all four wheels are four big reasons why a Chevrolet Impala rides smoother and quieter than a low-priced car has any right to.

On the move.

Pink Bollworms Threaten 1970 Cotton Harvest

Cotton crops in Martin County are heavily infested with pink bollworms at the present time. About 40 to 90 percent of the top crop cotton bolls in most fields are infested with pink bollworms. This late-season build-up of potential overwintering pink bollworm larvae threatens the 1970 cotton crop unless steps are taken now to reduce the overwintering populations.

The pink bollworm is the only cotton insect that passes the winter primarily in crop residue in the field in which it developed. Thus, the removal of as much crop residue from the field as possible at harvest or destruction of crop residue left in the field after harvest greatly reduces overwintering pink bollworm populations.

A good clean harvest is the first step that aids in reducing overwintering larvae. Pink bollworms taken to the cotton gin are destroyed in the ginning process. Cotton crops harvested by stripper usually have little crop residue left in the field; however, piles of green bolls that are often left at the edge of the field should be removed from the field or destroyed in the field by shredding, burning, or burial in the soil.

As soon as possible after harvest, cotton stalks should be shredded. The fall-type stalk shredder is preferred for stalk destruction, since it creates a tremendous suction during operation that lifts up bolls and other crop residue on the soil surface and exposes them to the shredding action. The conventional rotary shredder can be used to destroy the cotton stalks, but it is not as effective as the fall-type shredder in destroying overwintering pink bollworm larvae in crop residue left in the field.

After stalks have been shredded, plowing under of the shredded crop residue aids further in destroying overwintering pink bollworm larvae. Crop residue should be plowed under to a depth of at least six inches. Research work has shown as the depth of crop residue burial increased the overwintering pink bollworm larvae survival decreased. Crop residue should be plowed under as early as possible in the fall or winter to take advantage of any moisture that may be received during the winter. Overwintering pink bollworms do not survive very well in wet soil. These cultural practices can be carried out by every cotton producer, because most of the practices are regularly conducted each year. The only change in these regular cultural practices is the timing of each practice in order to be more effective in destroying overwintering pink bollworms.

These cultural control practices carried out over a county-wide area basis, are the most effective and economical way to control pink bollworms.

County Agent's Column

Some 40,000 Texas ranchers and farmers, including a representative number from Martin County, will be involved in the 1969 state livestock survey.

County Agent Billy Reager said that during the last half of November survey questionnaires would be mailed to the selected livestock producers by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Each should will out the questionnaire as soon as possible and return it in the enclosed envelope.

The reports will be used, explained the county agent, by the state statistician in making an accurate estimate of the cattle, hogs, and chickens on the farms and ranches of Texas.

There are many uses, both in and out of Texas, for this information. We use it here in the county, Reager said, in connection with our program building activities, and in conducting educational programs involving livestock.

The more questionnaires returned, the more accurate will be estimates; therefore, it is important that each producer in Martin County who receives a questionnaire, complete and return it immediately.

Burn Though Green

Ash burns well when it is green because its wood contains inflammable oleic acid. This is a fatty acid constituent of olive oil, and the ash tree belongs to the olive family. Also, wood of the pine family burns when green, due to resin in the wood.

Seeds From The Sower

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

The world is full of the inexplicable and the incoherent. One cannot go through a day without asking, "Why?" For that reason, a man of God said in Psalm 49:4, "I will open my dark sayings upon the harp."

One problem is, "Why did God create sin?" Sin did not have its origin in God. It is not eternal. Sin was first found in Lucifer (Ezekiel 28:14) who thus became Satan. It entered into the world by Adam (Romans 5:12) and man is a sinner by choice.

Another problem is, "Why did God allow sin?" To have a creation without sin would have required creatures without choice. A car will obey its owner, but who wants a car for a companion? God longed for the companionship of a creature with choice, not a machine-made man, even though it involved the possibility of such a creature making a wrong choice.

God solved the sin question by sending His Son into the world to be our Saviour. But the sin question becomes the son question, for God gives man the privilege of making his own choice with regards to his eternal destiny. He asks, "What will you do with My Son?" One cannot be neutral. It is your move.

Farmers Union To Meet In Abilene Dec. 4-6

Abilene will host the sixty-sixth annual convention of Texas Farmers Union December 4-6. According to the officials of the statewide general farm organization, the fact that the Rolling Plains is generally referred to as "Farmer Union Country," assures a large attendance and the "biggest convention in the organization's history." The convention headquarters will be the Windsor Hotel.

An array of interesting speakers and an activity-packed program awaits those farm and ranch families who will attend the convention this year. Among the headline speakers expected to address the convention, are Tony T. Devchant of Denver, president of National Farmers Union; Paul Babe, president of the Alberta Farmers Union, Alberta, Canada; Senator Ralph Yarborough; Fred Heinkel of Missouri, president of Midcontinent Farmers Association; Gordon Tweed, president of Montana Farmer Union, and Ray Novak of Denver, executive vice president National Farmers Union Insurance.

The convention will give priority attention to adopting a state program to guide the policy direction of the organization during the coming year. The first draft of the proposed program, composed of resolutions from the 120 chartered county organizations, will be written by a drafting committee that will meet prior to the convention. Those appointed to the committee are: Jerry Warren, Gorman, Texas; Anthony Paschel, Hereford, Texas; Gerald Goldston, Brownfield, Texas; Kiefer Cauble, Roby, Texas; F. T. Hogan, Merkel, Texas; Paul Alexander, Moody, Texas; Bennie Blissard, Big Spring, Texas; A. J. Wiczky, Richmond, Texas; Bennie Poulson, Crosbyton, Texas; Ronnie Eschberger, Robstown, Texas; Justin Rosenfeld, Waco, Texas; W. E. Ruple, Charlotte, Texas; and David Burgess, Tulla, Texas.

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

The father of a Stanton woman, MRS. JACK ROBERTSON, is responsible for the white, broken stripe on Texas highways. CHESTER V. BARRETT, at a safety meeting of the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company employees in September, 1938 at Jal, New Mexico, commented that the continuous black stripe was so monotonous it caused drowsiness, especially at night. His suggestion to replace the "black snake" was forwarded to Homer Garrison's office in Austin, and subsequently adopted for our present highway system.

JIM GARRISON, New Orleans DA, solidly defeated two opponents in Democratic balloting in the Crescent City the past week. BIG JIM launched the investigation which caused widespread comment in the United States and abroad when he charged CLAY SHAW of New Orleans as the man who helped hatch the plot that led to the assassination of President KENNEDY in Dallas. Many individuals in the fifty states and a great majority of KENNEDY admirers across the waters still think GARRISON had something when he challenged the opinion of the WARREN group appointed by LYNDON JOHNSON to investigate the untimely death of the late JFK. Another recent development in the KENNEDY case was announced last week when former Dallas police chief JESSE CURRY stated in a published book that "LEE OSWALD had never been placed in the building from which the late President was shot by the evidence." Suffice to say, the people of New Orleans think GARRISON was on the right track with his probe and a lot of us are still waiting for the truth to be told about the killing of KENNEDY after just 1,000 days in office.

A man from Abilene, 70 years of age, lost his life last week in West Texas because he dropped his policy on picking up hitchhikers. An 18-year-old youth was arrested in Houston and is being held in Abilene after leading officers to the body of JACK SELLERS, retired city employee in Abilene. SELLERS picked up youthful appearing hitchhiker up between Snyder and Post while returning from a meeting in Lubbock to his home in Taylor County. The genial SELLERS even unwittingly set up his death scene when he stopped to allow the youth to "take a picture of the scenery." The AWOL serviceman put away his camera, pulled out one of three guns he possessed, and deliberately ended the life of JACK SELLERS. Later, the AWOL Marine drove the dead man's car to a point near Robstown where he abandoned it and caught a bus to Houston. In Houston the confessed killer attempted to use the Abilene man's credit card to make a purchase at a large department store and this act of boldness led to his undoing, investigation and arrest. His statement to the Houston police admitting the murder in West Texas followed his arrest. This story should serve to put every motorist on notice not to be guilty of picking up hitchhikers on the highways. I stopped giving hitchhikers rides a long time ago and a lot of other car owners have stopped the practice too. That is one reason so few individuals try to travel by smile and thumb these days on our highways.

An Arkansas poultry firm said Saturday that a powerful pesticide spread on turkey ranches last spring to control chiggers had contaminated thousands of Thanksgiving birds. The Agriculture Department said it had found traces of the pesticide in 90,000 of the company's turkeys. Several news stories have been released from many sections of the country recently concerning contamination of crops of foodstuff through the use of ill advised pesticides. The turkey story from Arkansas is the first of that type I have seen but there is no question about the truthfulness of the tale. Pesticides and other dangerous sprays should be handled with extreme caution.

Dedication services for the new post office buildings in Lamesa and Forson were held Sunday. Stanton has never had a postal building but has depended on a leasing arrangement. The present postal facility here presents a critical parking problem and has for years. The antiquated combination system used to open mail boxes is still in use and despite a recent federally authorized expenditure of some $7,000 to put in a new door and air conditioning, the post office lacks most of the modern equipment. As a postal patron, I do not want to seem ungrateful for the new door at the PO and perhaps it will be allright for me to suggest a dedication ceremony to express appreciation for this improvement.

Texans are preparing to do something to protest the rampant manner in which the long-hairs, Commies, yellow slackers, draft dodgers, unclean degenerates, bums and broads are trying to dictate foreign policy of this great nation from the gutters of the Land by holding Anti-Vietnam Moratorium marches throughout the country. Another such Moratorium Day has been scheduled for this Saturday. Supporters of the government's Vietnam policy, especially the veterans' organizations, are urging citizens to turn on the headlights of their cars, fly the flag and other demonstrate support of the government position. The Veterans of Foreign Wars in Texas call their program "Operation Speak Out" and have set it to extend through the proposed national Moratorium Day on November 15. Washington, D. C. is expected to be the focal point for the majority of moratorium marches. Arrangements have been made to accommodate 500,000 war protesters. The government has ordered 28,000 regular military troops to stand by in case of violence. Government officials have already put a heavy foot down on allowing the mar-

Plans Positive Vote "And I will back him with my vote this week on a resolution to be brought before Congress on his efforts for peace," Mahon said.

The Lubbock congressmen said his mail in general and in the majority favored support of the President on the Vietnam question.

"We all want peace. I believe," Mahon said, "whether we are in Washington or Lamesa."

"I was with the President before he made his recent speech and I was among those lending encouragement to him to make it," Mahon said.

He described the Paris peace talks as a "farce."

"In retrospect, I have found what I felt from the beginning that Hanoi was not sincere in wanting to negotiate for peace," he said.

Mahon described the so-called moratoriums as "confusing."

"I have not had one clear-cut definition of what they are trying to accomplish," he said.

Tech Activity Noted "It certainly is all right for Americans to express their views, but I must add that undercutting our government and resorting to divisive action is something else."

Mahon said he was aware of the moratorium movement all across the nation and especially in his own district at Texas Tech University.

Referring back to the Paris peace talks, Mahon said it is important to all Americans not to overlook the fact that Hanoi has flatly refused to negotiate. Mahon said he spoke in the interest of greater loyalty to our country.

"God help us all not to be deterred from moving forward to peace," he concluded.

(Continued from page 1) The editor marked another birthday Wednesday. Time sure flies and it seems like only yesterday that the candles burned on our favorite coconut cake twelve months ago. In the language of JACK BENNY — it's hard to face a 39th birthday! To those friends who surprised us by remembering that November 12 was our debut day into this glorious world, I simply say, Thank You All.

It was thoughtful of LELIA and SHELLY BASSHAM too bring a platter of fresh catfish over for our supper Monday evening. The fish had been caught by SHELL over near Colorado City and to be privileged to taste and enjoy such delicacy this time of the year was indeed highly appreciated. Thanks a lot good friends.

Short Issues Statement On College

The newly created four-year college passed into law by the 61st Legislature, and to be built in the Midland-Odessa area, has aroused deep concern from their neighbors to the north, according to State Representative, E. L. Short, D-Tahoka.

"My office has had several inquiries pertaining to the location of this college in the queen's contest. Third in the contest, was highlighted by Carlene Walker and several Buffalo football players.

The judges for the parade were Mrs. Tracey Crockrell of Midland, Dr. Martha Madsen of Midland, and Mrs. Harry Wolfson, of New York.

456 Men Will Be Drafted In Dec. From Texas Roll

The December draft call for Texas is 456, down from 491 for November. Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, announced last week.

The October quota of 504 was revised downward from an original call for 1,461 men.

The December quota of 456 is the state's share of a national call for 9,000 men, 7,500 for the Army, and 1,400 in the Marine Corps. Men selected in Texas will enter both services from Dec. 1 through 9, in the same proportion as nationally.

A total of 2,383 is scheduled to be forwarded for armed forces preinduction physical and mental examination in December, to prepare for future calls. Colonel Schwartz said. This compares with to-last few days. The momentum has picked up considerably since Frank A. Erwin, University Board of Regents' announcement last week that the board just might let the 62nd Legislature decide on the location.

The average number of newly elected Legislators each term is 35, and the urban areas are predicting as many as 50 new lawmakers, and their ideas might lean to the own districts rather than West Texas. The appropriations and new tax monies for the creation of this institution of higher learning was not easy to come by and lawmakers of this area were very effective in getting the gentlemen down state to vote favorably, and we are grateful for their assistance.

Representative Short further states that the consensus of the people in Dawson, Gaines, and Andrews counties is that the responsible parties of Midland and Odessa are forgetting, first, that this institution will belong to the people of Texas, and second, the population of Midland and Ector counties does not warrant a four-year college without the population of the surrounding counties.

I am somewhat encouraged, however, to recent telephone calls from both cities, and they believe the site might be finalized in early December.

tals of 3,266 in November, and 8,906 for October.

The order of selection to fill draft calls through December, may be from among examined and acceptable men who are (1) delinquents 19 years old and older, (2) volunteers under age 26 in the sequence in which they have volunteered, and (3) nonvolunteers 19 through 25 years old, single and married, oldest first, with those married after Aug. 26, 1965, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date. In filing the quota for the pre-induction physical and mental examination for December, draft boards, if necessary may go as low as 18 years and eight months of age, oldest first; but no person may be inducted until he is 19 years old.
