Friday, May 1, dawned cool, crisp and fair. B. F. WHITE told me early in the day that a customer had been in his place of business with news of a 32-degree temperature reading that morning. It was necessary to get out some heavy clothing and turn the fires back on for a time Friday morning. Perhaps it was one of the coldest May days in the record books. It seems that the oldtimer who advised a few days ago that the winter season would slip right into summer, passing spring up altogether, was right.

Renewal subscriptions continue to come into the office. We have another batch for announcement this week appearing in our house and on another page in this issue. I noted one from BOB and CARMEN WHITAKER who now live in Batesville, Arkansas. The WHITAKERS were in the theatre business here for years. DENVER SPRINGER, Lenorah, was among those valued subscribers renewing this week. The SPRINGER BROTHERS store in the Lenorah community is the official U. S. Weather station for Martin County. It has been our happy privilege to have the cooperation, confidence, and respect of the SPRINGER BROTHERS for years. A renewal check arrived from California. This one was from DEAVENPORT RANCHES out there. The H. W. DEAVENPORT'S are BOB'S kinfolks. In going over the circulation mail I notice a change of address reported by my good friend DEWITT DAVIS, now living in Grand Prairie, Texas, and another from SUE and FRED SCHLOSSER. She is the former SUE MASHBURN, and her husband, a native of Wisconsin, is now stationed at Hickam Air Force Base in Hawaii. SUE and FRED have some of the smartest, sweetest children in the land, and I can prove that statement by their maternal grandmother, MRS. JACK SAUNDERS.

Make plans now to be in Stanton on Monday evening, May 11, to shop the sidewalk sales and to attend the annual pancake affair sponsored by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. A fun evening has been planned for those attending. Bring the entire family to the county hub next Monday evening.

Congratulation is in order for MRS. BOB (Jo JON) COX on being chosen Beta Sigma Phi Woman - of - the - Year. The nice honor was well deserved by MRS. COX. The award was announced and presented at the Founder's Day affair held in Big Spring by local BSP chapters the past Thursday evening.

It seems as if the past school year has gone into the record books all too quickly. Graduation time is approaching. Invitations are being mailed now by the graduating seniors. Commencement exercises have been announced for the evening of May 23. Graduation time is always a happy one for the students who have completed their prescribed years in the public schools. The newspaper sends greetings and best wishes to all of the seniors of Martin County.

FFA Range Team Wins National Honors

The Stanton FFA range and pasture judging team, composed of Mark Hursh, Rickey Mims, Roy Kelly, and Dennis Jones placed sixth in the national range and pasture judging contest in Oklahoma City on April 30. The Stanton team was the only team in the FFA division to win in the top seven teams outside Oklahoma. All other teams in the top seven teams were Oklahoma teams. There were 27 states represented at this year's national range and land judging contest. Mark Hursh was the ninth high individual in the overall range and pasture contest.

The Stanton team, along with from six or seven other states, spent a horror filled night when violent weather hit Oklahoma City about 12:30 a.m. on April 30. The first weather was wind, rain, and small hail, but at 2:30 a.m. a tornado hit the Tropicana Inn Motel, where the team was staying, causing extreme physical damage to the motel, but only shattered nerves among all the guests. Part of the motel roof blew off nearly all the plate glass windows blew out, and a service station and car agency adjacent to the motel were completely destroyed. Forty-one people were injured, streets were blocked, and electricity failed, phones were out for several hours, nearly all cars at the motel received broken windows, windshields, and were struck by flying steel, gravel, and glass. Some were severely damaged by metal and other objects falling.

The FFA pickup had both side windows blown or knocked out, windows in one side of the camper, and a window in the back of it were also blown out. The pickup and camper was hit by flying objects, and paint was chipped by glass, metal, and gravel during the tornado.

It was a long, cold, uncomfortable ride back to Stanton last Thursday night after the award banquet at the national (Continued on page 8)

Pre-School Round-Up Announced

Stanton Elementary School will have its annual pre-school round-up Wednesday May 13, from 2:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m. for children who will be in kindergarten or the first grade next year.

The children will be introduced to a regular school day program, so they can return as veterans in August. This annual round-up is for children who will be six years old before September 1, 1970. All children born before April 1, 1965, from families of low income, or from families having Spanish surnames are also requested to attend this meeting.

It is very important to the school that all eligible children attend this meeting so that we might begin planning next year's program.

Editor's Mail

(Editor's Note: The following letter was written by Mrs. Luralove Stripling, daughter of the late Dee Burleson. Robert D. Burleson was one of the best citizens who ever resided in Martin County. I am happy in the knowledge that Mrs. Stripling was pleased with my comments concerning her late father.)

Dear Mr. Estes,
My aunt sent me a copy of the paper in which you eulogized my father, Robert D. Burleson. I wish to thank you for myself and my brother for I feel when one is said to "have unshakable contempt for sham," a glowing tribute has been spoken.
Sincerely,

Beta Sigma Phi Founder's Day Banquet Held April 30

The Beta Sigma Phi Chapters of Stanton met Thursday, April 30, for their annual Founder's Day Banquet. This was the 39th anniversary for Beta Sigma Phi.

The Holiday Inn in Big Spring was the scene of the annual affair, hosted by Xi Epsilon Delta. Corene Manning, president of the chapter, was mistress of ceremonies.

Members were registered by Lois Powell, and the receiving table was decorated with a "hands" arrangement. English ivy and artificial flowers, made by members of Xi Epsilon Delta, decorated the various tables, with a large centerpiece of carnations and greenery at the head table. The president of each chapter were seated at the main table. The centerpiece was later given as a door prize, and won by Peggie Sorley.

Favors were the artificial flowers, and programs made by members of the hostess chapter. Mary Prudie Brown led the national anthem, and then the members recited the opening ritual. Lois Powell gave the Beta Sigma Phi grace, and then a lavish buffet luncheon was served.

Robbie Graves, president of Mu Lambda, gave the welcome to the pledges, and the response with given by Glenna Mims, pledge to Mu Lambda.

Two other pledges were also recognized, Marilyn Glaspie, pledge to Mu Lambda, and Mary Jane Dillard, pledge to Xi Theta Nu.

Kay Simpson, Xi Theta Nu; Dorothy Smith, Mu Lambda; Mary Katherine Bristow, Perceptor Mu; Tince Ory, Xi Epsilon Delta, and Carolyn Stone, Rho Xi, each gave a brief, often humorous, resume of projects and social events of their chapter activities.

A high point of the program was the annual presentation of trophies to the chosen Girls of the Year of each chapter. Bonnie Faye Sorley, director of Mu Lambda, presented the award to Maxine Kelly. Kay Simpson presented their award to Jo Jon Cox, president of Xi Theta Nu. Nita Graves presented their award to Nona Cain, president of Rho Xi. LaVelle Reid presented their award to Helen Dawson, president of Perceptor Mu, and Bert Schwabe presented (Continued on page 8)

Democratic Returns In This Edition

The Stanton Reporter is publishing a complete tabulation of the Democratic election returns as unofficially reported to the county clerk the past Saturday night.

Returns from the Republican Party were not tabulated because only seven votes were cast here and one voting box was used, according to Joe Mabee, Republican chairman for Martin County.

In the Republican returns it was seven votes for Paul Eggers with his opponent, Roger Martin receiving none. In the Republican race for the U. S. Senate in Martin County, Robert Morris led George Bush six votes to one. Martin was one of the few counties in Texas that provided a majority for Morris. Congressman Bush won handily over the state to gain the November spot against Lloyd Bentsen, who won out over Ralph Yarborough on the Democratic ticket.

Mrs. Doris Stephenson was the best vote getter in the Saturday primary voting with 886 votes.

Farm & Ranch Review

Little Time To Escape — Seven-tenths of a second isn't very long, but it's all the time a farm tractor operator has to do something when his machine starts to rear backwards under full throttle. Within that time, says Henry O'Neal, extension agricultural engineer, he can de-throttle the engine to stop the rearing or try to get clear of the upset. An estimated 450 lives could be saved annually in the U. S., he says, if all farm tractors were equipped with roll-over bars.

It's Different—Baylor County 4-H Club members hold a unique type of livestock show each spring. The program designed by the late Roy L. McClung, Sr. was started to train youngsters in the principles of commercial cattle raising and feeding rather than feeding calves for stock show competition. The calves are raised as feeder-stocker animals instead of show stock. Awards are based upon the profit made per calf, and a record kept, and an oral explanation by the 4-H'er on how his project was conducted.

Double Alert — The first screwworm case in Texas in 1970, was found in Brooks County last week. The nearest known case was some 150 miles to the south in Mexico. Officials of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Laboratory at Mission said this is evidence that the screwworm flies are beginning to move and advised stockmen to double their alert for worm cases.

Philosopher Looks At Inflation, With The Chance He Has Misplaced His Glasses

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mastard Draw tackles inflation this week. It may have gotten away from him).

Dear editor:
I have long known that a farmer, needing a rain, has to be careful where he says so out loud. His neighbor may still be planting and get mad about it, which underscores a sort of unwritten belief that wishing has something to do with the weather.

Of course farmers are just going on, but I have found out, this isn't true of economists. According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, some of the nation's leading economists are trying to wish inflation away. One of them, lighting his pipe with a match from a penny box of matches now costing 2 cents, said "the economy should emerge from this current dip on a path of sustainable growth, with inflation on the wane."

What this means is that if they think pick up he was right, and if they don't, let's talk about something else.

But about the best statement came from another economist who said: "The peak of inflation is past, and prices soon will be rising more slowly."

That's a statement worth picking up in your hand and rolling around and looking at more closely.

If inflation is ending because prices, while still rising, aren't rising as fast as they did yesterday, that's like saying we're getting closer to dry weather because it didn't rain as much this week as it did last week. It's like a fat man's saying his diet is working because he gained two pounds less this month than the month before. It's like a lawyer's feeling good because he got his client 99 years instead of life. It's like a college student teaching the administration a lesson in literature by burning down the library.

The Molotov cocktail, an incendiary grenade, consisted of bottled inflammable liquid mixed with sawdust, used to set tanks on fire during World War II.

Patronize your hometown merchants and save money!

It's like saying automobile pollution is lessening because we're having more wrecks.

I don't see why the economists don't abandon all their theories, get down to bedrock and state flat-footedly that rising prices cause inflation, and that unarguably inflation produces rising prices, and let's all hope the weather is better tomorrow.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mrs. W. T. Wells To Be Honored On June 2

The success of 4-H Club work depends upon adult leaders. They are the key persons in every 4-H Club. Each year the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation recognizes 24 outstanding leaders in Texas, 12 men, and 12 women, one from each of the 12 Extension Service Districts.

Dr. Edward F. Schlutt, Associate State 4-H Club Leader, announces that Mrs. W. T. Wells of Martin County, was selected as the Outstanding Woman 4-H Leader of District 6. She will be honored June 2, at College Station, in connection with 4-H Round-Up.

Mrs. Wells has been Organizational Leader for the Friendship 4-H Club of Martin County seven years. This club has an enrollment of 30 boys and girls, ages 9-17. Under her leadership the boys and girls have maintained interest in community projects, individual projects, and club projects. Each club member is encouraged to complete projects, and work to develop their leadership potentials.

Mrs. Wells has opened her home to the group for many of their meetings. She is never too busy to help any member develop a 4-H project.

Bible Comment—

Evangelism Needs A Personal Touch

Jesus said that the test of discipleship, and the glorifying of God, was in bearing much fruit. "Herein is My Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples."

What does it mean to bear the fruit that glorifies God? Perhaps the greatest form of fruit-bearing is that in which the original disciples were engaged; that of bringing others to Jesus.

That is something in which every Christian should be engaged, and no movements of mass evangelism can be permanently effective unless the spirit and activity of personal evangelism be present and enduring.

From the throngs that attend evangelistic meetings, one may anticipate a number of changed lives. Many changes may not be permanent, but despite the releases, many transformations of newness of life will be lifelong and strong.

But the ultimate success of all such mass evangelism is in its effect upon the churches and normal Christian life. The ultimate power of winning souls for Christ rests with them. Theirs is the task of teaching and guiding the young so that they never go astray or need rescuing. This is a basic form of evangelism.

But with that is the work of creating an evangelistic atmosphere and environment, a constant invitation to all to accept the message of Christ's gospel, and find the new life in Him.

This is one great way of bearing fruit to the glory of God.

County Agent

Don't forget to include in the spring clean up, reminds County Agent Billy Reagor, empty, unlabeled bottles, cans, bags, aerosols, and boxes which were used for insecticide containers and may still contain deadly residues.

These containers, he adds, should be removed from the home since they are a potential source of trouble. A curious child in a few unguarded moments with these containers could become the victim of a tragic accident.

During the spring clean up, make it a first order of business to inventory all of the insecticides used around the home and garden. Remove the containers which are empty, and those with missing labels, advises the county agent. Unlabeled containers are a threat to family members and pets. Don't try to guess the contents. And warns Reagor, don't reuse chemical containers for any other purpose.

All containers should be disposed of in accordance with the rules of safety and local regulations. Bottles and cans should be rinsed with water, and the residue buried. Glass bottles should be broken, and

Texas' Draft Quota 834 Men

Texas' draft quota this month is 834 men, all for the Army, State Selective Service Director Morris S. Schwartz, said today.

The May quota will be filled with men whose draft lottery numbers are 145 or lower.

April's quota was 940, and was filled with men whose lottery numbers were no higher than 115.

Schwartz also said there probably will be a drawing in July to establish lottery numbers for men born in 1951.

Texas' May quota is part of a national quota of 15,000 men all for the Army, Schwartz said.

Why should your electric service company be interested in quail?

Quail are of interest to us at Texas Electric because they are part of one of our experiments to help protect and improve the environment.

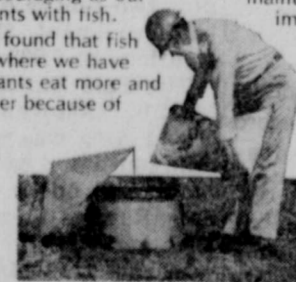

We want to see if we can provide a habitat in suitable areas along our power lines that will attract and support increased population of quail and other wildlife. We started this experiment by setting up a number of feeders, and by encouraging growth of wild plants needed to provide natural foods and cover. Increasing numbers of quail and some wild turkeys have been coming there to feed.

We hope this project will be as encouraging as our experiments with fish. We have found that fish in lakes where we have power plants eat more and grow faster because of the warm water discharge from these plants. Why should Texas Electric care? Because conservation of natural resources and wildlife is vital to maintaining and improving the environment.

And this is part of our job, too.

Methodists Allocate $23 Million For Minorities, Black Education

A black minister describes the action of the United Methodist Church General Conference in allocating $23 million for minority programs and black education over the next two years as "a good first step."

The Rev. James M. Lawson, Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., had asked the conference of the Protestant denomination earlier to turn over $21.5 million to black Methodists for Church Renewal to be used in similar programs.

But Lawson, who is chairman of the renewal group, said failure to allocate the money directly to his organization showed a reluctance to try new ministries.

Conference Adjourns
The conference adjourned after taking the action.

Conference delegates revised the world service budget Friday to allocate $2 million a year for two years to be used for minority group self-determination programs.

Another $4 million a year for two years, obtained through an organized race relations offering, was set aside for 12 black colleges and one seminary associated with the United Methodist Board of Education.

A total of $1 million will be used over two years for minority group scholarships, financed by at least 25 per cent of the annual worldwide Communion Fund Collection. The scholarship fund would be administered by the board of education and the president's Council of the Schools.

Finally, the delegates set up a $10 million higher education loan program to be financed by 10 per cent of the invested reserve of the church boards and agencies, which total about $100 million.

The United Methodist Church, second-largest Protestant denomination in the United States, has about 11 million members in 40,000 congregations.

Country Club News

The Ladies Country Club Auxiliary met Tuesday, April 28, with Mrs. O. L. Snodgrass presiding.

The Ladies Auxiliary was organized to plan socials and fund raising projects for the betterment of the facilities.

Splash Day will be held on May 23. The swimming pool opens on Splash Day. The Ladies Auxiliary voted to provide hot dogs and drinks to celebrate the opening.

The second and fourth Monday nights of each month were night.

Among upcoming events planned were a mixed golf tournament, tentatively planned for May 16 and 17, and putting a volley ball course on the green, slimy look.

Since mosquitoes always develop in water, it would be well to stock your fish pond or lily pond with gambusia top-water minnows, or goldfish. The fish will eat the wigglers.

Anything you can do to eliminate mosquitoes will be to your advantage since, the insects are a nuisance and can cause disease.

A — No. The law and policy state that the policy is not assignable by the insured. When the selection of a beneficiary appears to be an assignment, the VA advises the veteran that it is not acceptable.

CHINESE COOKERY...LATEST CULINARY CRAZE

Chinese food is the current culinary craze among young moderns who have found that it is not only delectable, but economical and easy to prepare. Although Chinese restaurants have been popular since they first opened in the U.S. during the mid-19th century, home-preparation of Oriental specialties is a comparatively recent interest.

Exotic ingredients like preserved eggs and dried tiger lilies are not readily available in our stores, but one of the most important ingredients in Chinese cookery—peanut oil—is found on the shelves of most supermarkets. Peanut oil is essential to the success of the Oriental style of cookery, as well as for authentic flavor.

Lightest of the polyunsaturated cooking oils, Planters Peanut Oil brings out the flavor of foods cooked in it without imparting any taste of its own. In addition, it has a high smoke point, which means it can be held at high temperatures for stir-frying, deep-frying and other Chinese cooking techniques without burning or smoking.

Suggested here is an easy stir-fried combo with typical Chinese flavor in the sauce. It's economical and flavorful—a color-bright addition to menus.

BEEF WITH PEPPERS AND TOMATOES.
1/2 cup soy sauce
1 tablespoon water
1/2 teaspoon sherry
1/2 teaspoon cornstarch
1 pound flank steak
2 cloves garlic, finely chopped

Beef with Peppers and Tomatoes, a typical Chinese-style stir-fried dish, is a color-bright addition to menus. Easy to prepare as well as economical, authentic flavor is achieved with American ingredients. It is served with rice.

3 tablespoons Planters Peanut Oil
2 1/2 cups coarsely diced green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 large tomatoes, cut in wedges

Combine soy sauce, water and sherry with cornstarch; blend. Cut steak into thin slices; add to soy sauce mixture. Sprinkle with garlic. Heat Planters Peanut Oil in skillet. Add peppers and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until almost tender. Add beef, salt and pepper, mix well. Cook until meat is tender, about 15 minutes. Stir in tomatoes and continue cooking until tender. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Seeds From The Sower

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

A mother sent her little girl to bed and reminded her to say her prayers. The next morning she asked, "Did you say your prayers last night?"

"Well, sort of," she answered. "I got down on my knees and began to pray, and then I thought God must get tired of hearing the same old prayer—so I snuggled in bed and told Him the story of the 'Three Bears.'"

While God does not instruct us to recite the same prayer over and over (Matthew 6:7), He does invite us to make our requests known to Him (Philippians 4:6). And when there is the praying mouth, there is the hearing ear.

David understood this, for he said in Psalm 54:2, "Hear my prayer, O God; give ear to the words of my mouth." A transmitter and a receiver! One is useless without the other. God has the hearing ear. Do you have the praying mouth? Because David had it, he found a present help. "Behold," he said, "God is my Helper." Not "was," or "will be," but "is." He had a present God for present grief, a constant Helper for calamitous helplessness. Have you?

Here is help and here is the ever-present and all-sufficient Helper. Your part is to pray. His part is to hear. Trust Him. Whom he hears, He helps!

LBJ Gives His Support To President

Lyndon B. Johnson said this week that as President Nixon deliberates his policy in Southeast Asia he should have the support of "all people who love freedom."

Speaking to some 7,200 Democrats at a fund-raising dinner in Chicago, the former president cautioned that, "I mustn't say too much about foreign affairs tonight."

But he said, "America cannot withdraw from the world. No spot in this nation is more than 30 hours away from Berlin, Tokyo, and Moscow, and from Phnom Penh or Vientiane, or Saigon," he said.

Johnson said that he had listened to President Nixon's television address Thursday night, explaining his decision to send U. S. forces to attack Communist divisions in Cambodia.

"I heard our President's voice last night," he said. "I think our country is getting to know it."

"I hope our President's voice will not be drowned out by other voices that do not know all the facts and do not have the responsibility of making these decisions."

Johnson said the President should have the support of all the people who love freedom and he added, "he has mine." "God knows presidents need it," Johnson said. And I know because I've been there."

Springtime Brings Its Own Safety Hazards

The bluebonnets and other spring flowers are in bloom over Texas, and thoughts of the average Texas home-owner turn to lawn and garden.

As Texans by the thousands begin to putter around their yards, the Texas Safety Association cautions that springtime can bring its own special hazards that cause injury and even death.

The safety group reminds that the first thing to do is get those garden tools in top shape before you start using them. Split, broken, or sharp-edged handles can cause serious injuries, not to mention troublesome splinters.

Insecticides can also be a dangerous part of springtime gardening. Over a billion pounds of insecticides are used annually in the United States. These compounds vary greatly in their toxicity, many are harmless, but some are lethal.

The Texas Safety Association reminds that there are some simple rules to follow to prevent accidents while handling insecticides. The first is to read and follow the directions printed on the product label. Insecticides should be stored where young children cannot accidentally get them. Some chemical sprays require that a person wear protective clothing, since they are very toxic if ingested through breathing or absorbed through the skin.

Insecticides should not be used on windy days. The chemicals could be blown back on the person spraying, or blown into neighboring areas where it is unwanted.

Fertilizers are not generally thought of as dangerous, but they too should be handled with care. Ammonia, nitrates, a common fertilizer, is also used in the manufacture of explosives. Under the right conditions it can be exploded by mechanical shock. Care should be exercised in the storage of fertilizers to prevent dangerous accidents.

Here are some other simple rules to follow that will prevent those troublesome springtime accidents in lawn and garden.

1. Carry any cutting tool with the blade facing downward.
2. Never leave a hoe, rake, or fork lying or standing with the head pointing up.
3. Never leave a scythe or sickle hanging in a tree. Hang them, heads up on a wall.
4. Always cut away from you in using a knife.
5. Use a hatchet or axe with great care. A glancing blow may cause serious injury.
6. Do not use other tools as a substitute for a hammer.
7. Tools not in use should be placed on shelves, in racks, hung up, or otherwise safely stored in tool sheds.
8. Get first aid for any cut or scratch, no matter how slight it may seem to you.

Spur Ranch History To Be Published

A history of Texas' huge Spur Ranch during the time it was owned by a company in London (1885-1906), has been published by the Texas State Historical Association.

"The Espuela Land and Cattle Company: A Study of a Foreign-Owned Ranch in Texas," by Dr. William Curry Holden of Lubbock, is available at $9 per copy from the TSHA, which has offices at The University of Texas.

The ranch once covered half a million acres in Crosby, Garza, Dickens, and Kent counties.

William Wolfskill blazed a caravan route—the Old Spanish Trail—from Santa Fe to Los Angeles in 1830.

Postal Pay Deadline Set For May 14

A dissident group of the National Association of Letter Carriers voted Friday to resume postal strikes if Congress does not enact a promised additional 8 per cent pay raise by May 14.

The vote was taken at a meeting conducted by Gustave Johnson, New York letter carriers official who led the postal walkouts there several weeks ago.

The strikes were ended when postal unions and the Nixon administration negotiated a 6 per cent pay raise which was enacted by Congress. A promised additional 8 per cent is provided in a proposed postal reform bill still pending in Congress.

It was not immediately clear how many letter carriers were represented by the strike vote, but a spokesman of Johnson said it included representatives from New York, New Jersey, Ohio, California, Illinois, Iowa, New Hampshire, Kentucky, Virginia, and other states.

"It's a strike vote, said the spokesman.

Work toward readying a farm bill for House consideration, although greatly slowed by the absence of House Agriculture Committee Chairman Bob Poage of Waco, has not stopped.

Poage left Washington April 25, on an official business trip to Australia and India, after many weeks of trying to get a farm bill reported from his committee before that date.

How quickly the committee can act, however, will depend greatly on what the Cotton Subcommittee does in the meantime. Programs for wheat and feed grain, though far from being satisfactory to all concerned, are now said to be ready for a vote in the full committee.

Both Poage and Abernethy are of the opinion that a farm bill cannot be passed in the House without substantial support from the Administration. So, if interim negotiations and the May 7 meeting produce agreement between the Subcommittee and USDA, the full committee might have a bill ready for the House by the end of May or early in June.

The base loan rate for Middling-inch cotton, Lubbock area, in 1970 is 20.20 cents per pound, same as in 1969. However, significant changes have been made in the price relationships between different grades and staples, reflecting supply-demand condition that existed during the first eight months of the 1969-70 marketing year.

Generally speaking, loan prices for the lower grades of medium and longer staples are reduced. For example, Strict Low Middling Light Spot 15/16 inch cotton in 1970, if placed in the government loan, will enter at 15.95 cents per pound, as compared to the 1969 loan price of 15.35 cents.

Protecting You From Yourself

Strange as it may seem, the motorcycle helmet has become the center of a raging constitutional debate. It came about in the following manner:

A number of states, worried about the soaring rate of motorcycle accidents, have passed laws requiring every rider to wear a helmet. However, these laws are being challenged on the ground that the government cannot force a person — just because it is good for him — to do something he doesn't want to do.

Of course, the government does have a right, under the "police power," to step in when there is danger to others as well. Thus, compulsory vaccination was held constitutional long ago because the disease may endanger not only the person himself but also others in the community.

So far, a few courts have held the helmet requirement to be unconstitutional, on the theory that the individual should be "master of his fate and captain of his soul." As one opponent put it, if the government can go this far, it could just as logically require everybody to be in bed by 10 p.m.

On the other hand, a majority of courts have held these laws valid. They argue that there is at least some benefit to others, because a helmetless rider, if struck by bugs or flying pebbles, may lose control of his motorcycle and cause a collision.

Besides, they add, some safeguarding of the individual is justified, because if he is injured, he (or his family) may become a public burden.

"It is to the interest of the state," said one court, "to have strong, robust, healthy citizens."

Of course, not all motorcyclists are concerned about the fine points of constitutional law. However, they all might take note of a harsh statistical fact: the vast majority of motorcycle deaths are the result of injuries to the head.

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written by former West Texas Chamber of Commerce president J. FIKE GODFREY. The article was prepared for West Texas, the official publication of WTCC and appeared in the March-April issue. In view of what is currently happening on college campuses today, the article could be called almost prophetic. Unless some of the ones responsible for the leadership of our young people reverse the engines and put on the brakes the whole system as most Americans have known it, is destined for a sad ending.)

So What's New?

In portions of the following remarks I have drawn heavily from material of the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce, and I would like to share this and some thoughts of my own regarding the so-called generation gap and its ramifications.

In these tormented times of dissidence, hate, fear and violence among Americans, other storm-winds sweep across our Nation. Winds of doubt, distrust and foreboding, chilling the heart of every American who holds dear the human spirit and love of liberty. Yet even in the querulous climate of national neurosis, there is reason for gratitude and hope. For the least, as well as the most fortunate among us.

The words of the poet Browning — "a man's reach should exceed his grasp; or what's a Heaven for?" — are, to me, as relevant for a nation as they are for an individual.

It is true there has been an alarming escalation in civil turbulence, disorder and lawlessness during recent years. Much of it has involved the so-called protest demonstrations instigated by a small but active minority on the campuses of higher education: the self-styled student radical and revolutionaries who have openly declared war on the over-30 generation, the establishment, and our free society in general.

We are told a major cause for the increasing lawlessness and violence of these demonstrations is the communication and understanding gap between the over-and-under 30 generations. This, it is said, is the principal reason for the frustration, discontent, misconduct and mob action among the youth and the young adults today, for everything from juvenile vandalism and crime to riots, violence and drug-use in the campuses of our universities and colleges.

At this point I am always tempted to reply — "So what is new?" As a teenager and a young adult I and my contemporaries went through a similar communication gap with our parents. My dad and his father experienced a communication gap: I even recall that Adam and Cain experienced a communication gap. So what would you naturally expect between each succeeding generation in a society that is growing, thriving, changing? A generation gap is a fact of life, since time began, as sure as change. So why this particular importance being placed on the generation gap of this time?

At least part of the reason would seem to lie in the confusion, or profusion, of cliches and slogans invented by the relatively small cliques of militant student radicals and their clique of apologists, as justification for any outrage they may choose to commit and their inability or unwillingness to recognize that communication and understanding are by definition and of necessity, a two-way street. All are nurtured and abetted by greed and fear of the national TV networks.

For example, student radicals produce frequently insolvent, non-negotiable demands, by resign; with threats of mob action and violence if their terms are not granted, instantly, automatically and without argument. Simultaneously, they proceed to denounce university or governmental officials for refusing to compromise, which by definition, also is a two-way street.

Similarly, these self-styled revolutionaries insist on their right to free speech, while arrogantly shouting down anyone who dares to exercise an equal right to dissent with them.

In short, they demand capitulation, not communication. And I am certain you will agree it is virtually impossible to achieve effective understanding with those who insist upon a monologue while professing to seek a dialogue.

Certainly our over-30 generation is concerned. Unfortunately, our impatience and disgust with the irresponsible, lawless, and mindless conduct of the radical minority has created, perhaps, an erroneous impression that we are insensible to the hopes, fears and ideals of the conscientiously and constructively concerned majority of young adult today. Certainly too little attention and credit are too seldom given to the great majority of young adults and students. These are responsible members of the under-30 generation and university students who are not unwilling to settle for the status quo, BUT understand that change and improvement in a free society must be accomplished through constructive participation and the due process upon which depend the survival of human freedom and opportunities it provides.

Here are a few statistics of 1969 that are of prime importance but seldom stressed: 96,459,482 men did not commit offenses, 4,896,720 college students did not participate in a campus demonstration, 201,489,710 citizens did not use illegal drugs, and 17,613 baby doctors did not publicly condemn the draft law and protest the war in Viet Nam.

"Boys will be boys" is, perhaps, enough excuse for a harmless Halloween prank, but emphatically no excuse for burning buildings, disrupting a big city's life, interfering with the majority of students who want an

Five women from the five BSP chapters in Stanton were nominated for the award. A story concerning the banquet appears elsewhere in this issue of the paper.

KITTANNING, PA., LEADER-TIMES: "Anyone who has not seen a weekly newspaper, of which there are nearly 10,000, recently, will be surprised how these publications are thriving. Once noted for a paucity of pages and advertising, although always indispensable for the news of their areas, these papers now frequently run to bulky size and advertising volume that would be welcomed to many daily newspapers. Perhaps no newspaper is read more avidly than the small town weekly. It holds reader interest from first page to last, because it tells about the activities of people who live around the corner or on a nearby farm."

BRIDGEPORT, ILL., LEADER: "A newspaper has the right to reject any advertisement," stated Federal Judge Abraham Marovitz in a major decision on the Chicago bench. The publisher of a newspaper has a duty to his public, but also the judge reaffirmed that a newspaper is a private enterprise and cannot be considered a quasi-public entity. "No government can force a newspaper to print any advertisement of news items."

The Name Is "Vega 2300"

Chevrolet took to the sky this week to reveal the name of its new small car due to be introduced to the American people in August. Vega is the name of one of the brightest stars visible from the earth and often is called the 'arc light of the sky.' The 2300 applies to the cubic centimeters displacement of the lightweight overhead cam engine which is one of the unique features of the new car.

The Chevrolet Division of General Motors is confident the all-new small car, built in America to satisfy the changing life styles of American people, will dramatically improve Chevrolet's competitive position and spark an overall resurgence of the domestic auto industry.

The Vega 2300 will come in four different two-door models — a hatchback coupe, a sedan, a station wagon, and a little panel truck.

Watch for the formal announcement of Vega 2300 in August.

Health Hints

FROM BLUE SHIELD

Glaucoma

Glaucoma, a serious eye disease which millions of Americans have without recognizing it, occurs when fluid pressure within the eyeball is markedly increased. Blindness can be prevented in most cases of glaucoma if it is discovered and subsequently controlled. Symptoms include: blurred vision, pain or an indefinite ache in one or both eyes, halos around lights and difficulty with close work despite frequent changes of glasses. Don't ignore the silent possibility of glaucoma. Have your eyes checked regularly by your physician.

Eczema

The new chemicals which simplify homemakers' cleaning chores may also irritate the hands that do the cleaning. Detergents, polishes, floor waxes, and disinfectants can cause eczema, a common skin condition. Intense itching on the back or sides of the fingers is one of the first symptoms along with tiny scattered water blisters. Damaged skin becomes dry, scaly, inflamed and painful, eventually covered by a crust. To relieve itching, hands should be soaked in cool water and allowed to dry by letting the water evaporate. To promote healing, protect your hands with "cotton-lined" plastic or rubber gloves when working with soap or detergents and resist the temptation to apply cream, lotions or salves.

Don't Drink The Water

When rediscovering the outdoors this Spring, don't trust any surface water for drinking. All water sources should be considered polluted. Among the diseases which are spread by contaminated water are typhoid and paratyphoid fevers, cholera and dysentery. Bring along your own drinking water on all your future outings.

education nor supporting our country's vicious enemies. It may well be, as some say, that these people are hardened thugs in the pay of foreign revolutionary groups who want to weaken and destroy America, but whether this is true or not, we think the working, tax paying, respectable Americans who are the ones whose opinions are worth considering, are sick and tired of the trouble makers and do not intend to have much more of it. And the great majority of the young people agree.

It is time for the National TV networks to stop dignifying the immature actions of arrogant, reckless, inexperienced elements within our society by giving them the exposure of prime national TV time.
