Martial law orders increased in China

BEIJING (AP) — Premier Li Peng appeared in public today for the first time since the military launched its bloody invasion of Beijing. The government issued new martial law orders demanding that student leaders surrender.

Li gave a rousing speech to hundreds of soldiers inside the Great Hall of the People. "You've worked hard, comrades," he told them.

Li's speech was shown on television after hundreds of military trucks roared into the city center with new supplies. Busloads of foreigners, fearing new violence, rushed to the airport to catch emergency flights out.

The occupied capital's streets were relatively calm.

Li is believed to be among the leaders who pushed for the military crackdown that ended in the weekend massacre of hundreds of unarmed civilians as troops cleared Tiananmen Square of pro-democracy protesters.

He had not appeared in public since May 25, five days after declaring martial law in the capital, and his appearance indicated hardliners may have prevailed over leaders who opposed turning troops on the citizenry.

The student protesters had demanded Li resign for declaring martial law after weeks of pro-democracy protests, primarily in Beijing.

The martial law orders issued today called the leaders of independent student and union groups "important members of the counterrevolutionary turmoil." It demanded that all members of the groups, leaders of the pro-democracy movement smashed by the military, turn themselves in to police.

The order appeared to suggest the government was planning large-scale arrests of activists who led the movement for a freer and less corrupt China.

Radio and television gave telephone numbers for people to call to report those who stood up against the military takeover of the city.

In a continuing propaganda campaign supporting the harsh military actions, national television repeatedly showed footage of crowds attacking soldiers and burning vehicles during the crackdown in Beijing on Saturday night and Sunday.

It showed gruesome shots of three soldiers who were burned to death.

Teacher appraisal alternate method on trustee agenda

Trustees for the Snyder school district will discuss Thursday alternatives for the "second appraisal" of local teachers next school year.

In addition, the board is to consider where home games for the Snyder High School boys' basketball team will be played during the 1989-90 season.

Both items are listed on the agenda for the regular June meeting of the board. Trustees will meet at 6 p.m. for an executive session to discuss personnel, then convene in regular session at 7 p.m.

Regarding teacher appraisals, the board has discussed contracting with a group or individual "outside" the local system to perform the state-mandated second appraisal of teachers.

In the past, this task has been performed by the district's testing coordinator and curriculum specialist.

The change is being considered since trustees have discussed combining the duties of these two staff positions into one. If this occurs, administrators have expressed the opinion that the teacher appraisal duties would have to be assigned elsewhere.

The so-called "second appraisal" consists of an assessment during the fall term of all district teachers, one which serves as a backup for "primary" teacher evaluation conducted by campus principals.

During the spring term, another round of second appraisals is required for teachers who have not been selected for Level II on the career ladder.

Also Thursday, trustees are expected to decide on the site for next year's home basketball games for the Snyder High School boys team.

During a work session May 30, several members of the board said they felt a change back to the local high school gymnasium would "bring the crowd back into the game."

They were referring to the large seating capacity of the coliseum, where home games have been played the past several years, and the difficulty of filling this area with spectators.

Larry Scott, head basketball coach at SHS, is expected to offer his opinions regarding the change at Thursday's meeting.

Other agenda items which the board will consider include:

—A budget amendment related to the maintenance department.

—Policy updates as recommended by the Texas Association of School Boards related to academic achievement areas.

—A resolution supporting the effort to expand the TDC's Daniel Unit to a 2,000-bed facility.

—An addendum to the district's "technology program" which deals with the proposed addition in the years ahead of a closed circuit television channel for the district which would broadcast educational programming.

—Bids for janitorial supplies, cafeteria equipment and copy paper.

—Summer purchases from the 1989-90 school budget, items required prior to the actual approval of the upcoming budget.

—Out-of-district transfers both in and out of Snyder ISD for the Local Jaycees win new chapter honor

Snyder Jaycees won 24 awards, including the Milestone Award as "Outstanding New Chapter in the State," during the recent statewide Jaycees convention in Austin.

The local civic club will participate on the basis of three of these honors at the national Jaycees convention next week in Memphis.

In addition to winning the state new chapter honor, member Rudy Garza was named most improved Jaycee in the state, winning the Melvin B. Evans Memorial Award.

The chapter also won second place in population division No. 4 for community improvement.

These wins qualify the chapter to advance to the national level of competition.

Also at the state contest

Stuart McCoy was named the outstanding director in division 4, and Danny Engle won the George O. Wilson Award as one of the top 10 Jaycee presidents in the state.

Garza took first in the "Outstanding Chairmen" contest for his supervision of the chapter Christmas shopping spree for underprivileged children. He also won third place in the Top Recruiter category.

At the state meet, the chapter won first place in single projects for its Christmas tree sales; the 1988-89 Blue Chip Award; first for financial management; first for fourth quarter growth; third for its Christmas tree lighting contest; first for the White Buffalo Days concession stand; sixth place overall in its division; the Big Tex Award for membership recruitment and other honors.

Students 'top' U.S. satellite classes

By JANA HARRINGTON
SDN Staff Writer

Seven Hermleigh High School students and one Ira student have been identified as top pupils in the nation in a satellite-transmitted instruction program offered to more than 750 rural school districts in 29 states.

The local students are enrolled in the Texas-based TI-IN Network, which offers such "specialized" instruction as astronomy, marine science, psychology, sociology and foreign languages.

TI-IN is one of several programs designed to teach via satellite-transmitted television classes. All students at schools across the nation view "class" at one time.

Like a regular classroom, pupils can ask questions and communicate with the instructor using long distance telephone calls. When a call comes in, a teacher can immediately tell where the call is coming from.

Students can see their instructors, but instructors cannot see their pupils.

For smaller school districts, the cost of establishing the satellite instruction program, estimated around $8,000, is viewed as an economic alternative to a fulltime teacher salary.

Hermleigh students who were identified among the top students include April Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Blair, and Lucy Mireles, daughter of Ted Mireles. They were named among the top pupils in astronomy.

In the marine science class at Hermleigh, Misty Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Moore, and Crystal Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Church, placed first. RexAnne Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Reynolds, and Tisha Crumly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Crumly, tied for the third place designation.

Andrea Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, headed the art history area. She and April Blair also were named first in the German class.

In Ira, Julie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Williams, was first in French.

Hermleigh offered 18 to 20 different subjects on their TI-IN connection. Each student had a slot in a class which was paid for individually. According to Hermleigh Superintendent Jerry See SATELLITE, Page 11

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Abe Lincoln was ugly, dressed weird and had little musical talent. Today, he could have been a rock star."

Jack Martin, who lives northeast of Snyder near Ennis Creek, enjoyed last week's moisture but observed a strange weather phenomenon.

On Thursday night, his land was hit hard by marble-size hail with drifts up to four feet deep. Friday and Saturday, temperatures were in the high 80s with strong south winds. Nevertheless, the hail still had not melted by Sunday morning.

Folks enjoy the outdoors this time of year, but many Snyder residents are experiencing pesky black birds that know little fear.

Not only are they noisy, but they're messy. To date, nobody has given us a formula for sending 'em down the road short of chopping down the trees.

Last year the grackles came and stayed for a couple of weeks, but this year they have been here for more than a month and seem busy building nests for the duration.

Sunday, at Western Texas College, we observed at least 1,000 of the black birds on the student center building. Any suggestions for dealing with 'em would be appreciated.

One solution is to borrow Ann Galyean's cat, if its tastes aren't already spoiled.

Ann, who works in the WTC business office, told about a family cat who likes to catch birds and other varmints and then show them off to family members.

It's not unusual for the cat to appear at the back door with the prey in its mouth. The family heard the cat recently, and went to the back door to see what it had brought up.

The proud feline had a real prize. In its mouth was a piece of meat complete with fresh marks made by a neighbor's outdoor grill.

Ask Us

Q. — When will Snyder ISD notify the teachers qualifying for Level III of career ladder?

A. — School officials say it will be later this summer, possibly by late July.

In Brief

Tornado hits

GROSSE TETE, La. (AP) — A tornado swept through a block of businesses and trailers early today, and several people were reported killed.

"There are several injuries, several fatalities," said Kathy St. Angelo, wife of Police Chief Aubrey St. Angelo. "I can't confirm how many, how many fatalities, how many injuries. From what I understand, a whole block was laid out. It's pretty bad." St. Angelo was unavailable, she said.

Our Lady of the Lake Hospital in Baton Rouge said about 10 injured people from Grosse Tete had been brought there.

Sheriff's deputies said they could not confirm anything except that a tornado had hit Grosse Tete, a town of about 750 situated 15 miles west of the capital.

She said she watched the twister approach along an interstate highway between 6 and 6:15 a.m.

At least two tornadoes also touched down in Baton Rouge, authorities said. No serious injuries were reported.

MIG- crashes

PARIS (AP) — A Soviet MiG-29 fighter crashed and exploded today at the Paris Air Show, but no injuries were reported on the ground.

It was not immediately known how many people were aboard the plane or whether they survived the crash.

The fighter was making its final pass over Le Bourget airfield before landing when two pieces came away from the aircraft and it plunged to the ground and burst into flames.

The officer added that the money and checks had been substantially recovered.

The case was reported cleared at 2:37 p.m. Wednesday.

Officiating Friday will be Rev. John Dorn. Burial will be at Snyder Cemetery under direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

He was born Sept. 26, 1921, in the Ennis Creek Community to the late Mr. and Mrs. P.A. Mebane of Snyder.

Mebane graduated from Snyder High School in 1941 and volunteered for the Air Force in 1942. He served as a gunner on B-24 bombers in North Africa and Italy.

Returning home from the war with injuries, Mebane married Evelyn Berry, his high school sweetheart, on July 4, 1944.

He was a farmer in Scurry County and served three terms as county commissioner from 1960 to 1972.

He and his wife have been active in the Union United Methodist Church for many years.

Mebane was preceded in death by his older brother, Doyle.

FBI hunting fugitives back to 1967

by The Associated Press
Three allegedly killed or robbed for radical causes. One was accused of killing a police officer. One was charged with poisoning his estranged wife's drink and one with bludgeoning his family.
They are six FBI fugitives wanted longer than John Emil List, the church-going accountant authorities say was arrested in Virginia last week for the 1971 fatal shootings of his wife, mother and three children in Westfield, N.J.
As in the List case, investigators are hoping to pry these fugitives from their new lives.
They follow leads, thicken files, contact colleagues around the world and prepare their cases as proposals for the television show "America's Most Wanted," the fugitive showcase that prompted a tip leading to List's arrest.

List, who claims he is Robert P. Clark, faced a hearing today in Richmond for extradition to New Jersey.
The FBI maintains a file of about 100 long-term fugitives, including the 10 most wanted, deemed worthy of special attention. Most of these cases have reached dead ends.
"There becomes a time when you're literally down to publicity," said Thomas Bush, northeast supervisor for the FBI's fugitive unit in Washington, D.C. "You've done every kind of record check you can do."
If such long-term fugitives have anything in common, it's a "different kind of personality" that allows them to cut all ties with relatives and their past, said Bush, who has been chasing fugitives for a decade.
The oldest case on the books is perhaps most tantalizing for law enforcement officials.

Joseph Michael Maloney went to his estranged wife's house one day in 1967 in Rochester, N.Y., for their son's fifth birthday party. The next day, June Fisk Maloney went to a hospital feeling ill, and died a few days later.
Police allege Maloney served his wife an orange juice cocktail poisoned with wood alcohol.
"It was an especially horrible death," said Monroe County District Attorney Howard Relin.
Maloney was arrested but escaped from a hospital while undergoing psychiatric tests and moved to Ireland, apparently in the early 1970s. He changed his name to Michael O'Shea, married and fathered two children, authorities said.
He was under surveillance for 11 years in anticipation of an extradition treaty with the United States, Irish authorities said. In 1985, he was arrested but Ireland's high court overturned the treaty and Maloney was freed. Relin said recent reports have placed the 53-year-old former handyman and builder in Canada.

Relin now is seeking help from "America's Most Wanted."
Another case being prepared for the program is strikingly similar to the List case.
William Bradford Bishop Jr., 52, a former foreign service officer, is wanted for the 1976 bludgeoning deaths of his wife, mother and three sons at their home in Potomac, Md., an affluent Washington, D.C., suburb.
Bishop, like List, is well remembered in his old community.
"You mention Bradford Bishop around here to anyone who's a long-time resident — they'll know," said Montgomery County Police Officer George Ludington.

DR. GOTT PETER GOTT, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What are steroids and what is it about them that causes all the bad effects we've been reading about lately? Is there anything good about them?
DEAR READER: Steroids are naturally occurring substances made in the body. They help balance the body's chemical reactions and, in the proper quantity, are necessary for health.
Supplemental steroids (by pill or injection) play an important role in treating diseases. For example, steroids such as cortisone and prednisone reduce the body's immune response, our ability to produce an inflammatory reaction. Therefore, they are used for a variety of conditions characterized by excessive inflammation, including autoimmune diseases (allergies to the patient's own body), arthritis, colitis, asthma and so forth.
Despite their proven benefits, these drugs cause unwanted side effects when used in large doses or for extended periods. These effects include cataracts, diabetes, osteoporosis, mental changes, alteration of facial characteristics, bruising and susceptibility to infection, to mention a few. Therefore, cortisone (and similar drugs) should be used only under close medical supervision and as specific therapy for certain diseases.
Other types of steroids affect the body in different ways. For instance, they promote muscle growth, alter sexual characteristics or cause positive nitrogen balance, as a way to enhance the buildup of tissues. These consequences help particular disease states, if the drugs are administered by trained medical personnel.
Many of the problems you have read about, such as the illicit use of steroids by athletes, stem from the self-administration of potent, muscle-building compounds by people who are not versed in their use. Such people take steroids for cosmetic — not medical — reasons or to increase athletic performance. The practice is unhealthy. Like cortisone, these drugs have side-effects, including disruption of growth patterns in adolescents, liver inflammation, personality changes and (possibly) premature heart disease. Difficulties arise because the steroids are being used improperly, for the wrong reasons.

To sum up, all steroids are powerful alterers of body chemistry. They are not harmless. However, they have valuable medical benefits when used appropriately.
DEAR DR. GOTT: I am 12 and have a friend the same age. I know it's wrong, but three or four times we've played with each other's privates, if you know what I mean. I feel dirty afterward, but always want to do it again. Are we normal or does this mean we are gay?
DEAR READER: Boys and girls your age often experience a period of sexual exploration before they sexually mature. This activity is normal and does not ordinarily indicate that such children are gay; rather, it is temporary behavior that is soon outgrown by heterosexuals. I would not label it "wrong." You do not have to feel "dirty." You may be, as my mother used to point out, going through a "stage."

Of course, some homosexuals discover at an early age that they prefer sexual behavior with members of the same sex. However, to my knowledge, most experts would agree that the activity you describe is usually experimental and common to 12-year-olds. Don't worry about it. To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Where to Find Sex Information." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

ticularly bad dummy, he might have had little play for four spades, but a six-card major suit plus an A-K on the side is enough to gamble the game. And dummy was quite adequate.

Declarer took the ace of hearts and immediately cashed the ace of spades. When West showed out, declarer had to hope for good fortune someplace other than in trumps. So declarer played a club back to his king and led the 10 of diamonds. West won the ace and continued with the jack of hearts to dummy's king. The king of diamonds allowed South to shed his losing heart, but he still had to lose two more trump tricks and a club.

To make the contract, declarer must come to his hand with the king of clubs and continue by cashing the ace of clubs. Then he can lead up to dummy's diamond king. West wins the ace but cannot take a club trick. When West continues with a heart, declarer wins in dummy, plays king of diamonds shedding a club, and then ruffs a club. He can now return to dummy with the other high spade to get rid of his losing heart on a good club.

It seems unnatural to set up a club trick for the defense before leading up to the king of diamonds, but that is the only way the contract can be made.

La Leche League is ABWA club feature

Judy Cave, La Leche League leader, was the featured speaker May 18 for the Deep Creek Chapter of American Business Women's Association.

Introduced by Mae Cole, Cave's background includes EMS experience, defensive driving instructor, Sunday school teacher and work in Dr. Cooper's and Dr. Dillaha's offices.

La Leche League teaches and supports mothers in the art of breastfeeding and nurturing their families. Begun 33 years ago, the organization now has some 9,000 leaders in 43 countries.

The league is made up of mothers helping mothers in child rearing. The first goal of the group is to provide women with knowledge about breastfeeding. Cave stated raising young, caring individuals is a profession and should be approached with as much care as any important career.

Members provide 24-hour, seven-day telephone counseling for new mothers to share frustrations, fears and triumphs in mothering.

La Leche League meets each second Monday of the month at 10 a.m. Nursing babies are welcome to the meeting. Anyone interested in nursing a new baby or learning more about family nurturing is invited to call Cave at 573-7844.

Brenda Clark with Travis Flowers was the vocational speaker. She is involved with all aspects of wedding planning.

Pam Dortch offered the invocation at the session.

Wedding vows go beyond contract with two people

NEW YORK (AP) — Do law and marriage go together as much as love and marriage?

Yes, because marriage is a contract — not only between two people but between the couple and the larger society, says Cele Lalli.

"It's not unromantic to learn all you can about the laws that affect marriage," says Lalli, editor of Modern Bride magazine. "After all, we love with the head as well as the heart."

The current issue of the magazine highlights some of the differences between marriage lore and marriage law.

For example, marriage is not an entirely private matter between two people. Marriage is a contract between two people and the government, since the legal status of the union can't be altered without the consent of the state. The landmark Supreme Court decision explains: "It is an institution in whose maintenance and purity the public is deeply interested. For it is the foundation of the family and society, without which there would be neither civilization nor progress."

Don't for a minute believe that a woman has to take her husband's name to ensure the legitimacy of their children. Assuming the husband's name is a custom in the United States, not a law. If a bride retains her maiden name, neither the child's legitimacy nor birth certificate will be affected since the mother's maiden name appears on this in all cases. However, some states may request clarification if the child is not to carry the father's name.

Not everything taken into the marriage becomes joint property. The Married Women's Property Acts assure a woman the right to own property and maintain financial independence without her husband's control. Sole ownership is, of course, relinquished as soon as any assets are placed in a jointly held account.

And, if you think that each partner is responsible for his half of taxes due on a joint return, you're wrong. The law states that each partner is responsible for the entire debt. Each partner also is responsible for the return's accuracy.

So, says Lalli, "discuss all the issues, legal and otherwise, that concern you" before you say "I do."

During 1964-80, Latin America had an uninterrupted economic expansion that saw the region's gross domestic product (GDP) grow each year by at least 4 percent, according to the Inter-American Development Bank. The bank said that because of the slowdown in the '80s in nearly all the countries of the region, the 1987 per capita GDP was lower than in 1980.

B&PW ends year

Business and Professional Women's Club met in the home of Fay McCollum for a dinner meeting to conclude the year. Patsy Brown assisted in hostessing the event.

New recipes and new kitchen appliances were featured. A favorite was a stir-fry prepared in a wok by Ruby Butts.

Butts gave a report from the chamber of commerce concerning the community and Ethel Mae Sturdivant gave a report of Martha Ann Woman's Club activities.

"Serving Others" was the theme for the club year.

Was Galileo wrong? Some scientists today suggest that a mysterious, previously unknown natural force may counteract gravity, making objects fall at different, not the same, rates of acceleration.

AIDS researchers report...

Progress reported toward vaccine

MONTREAL (AP) — The first AIDS vaccine tested in the United States on humans triggered their immune systems into action, raising hopes that one vaccine may protect against many forms of the AIDS virus, researchers said.

One top U.S. researcher said he is optimistic enough to recommend wide testing of the vaccine.

"We are making progress, and I think we will be able to make a vaccine eventually," said Dr. Clifford H. Lane, head of AIDS vaccine testing at the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases.

The vaccine is a synthetic copy of the outer coat of HIV, the virus that causes AIDS in humans. The goal of such vaccines is to warn the body's immune defenses about what the AIDS virus looks like. Then, if all goes well, the body's sentinel blood cells will quickly zero in on the virus and kill the invader if it somehow gets into the bloodstream.

In the study, those who received the vaccine produced microbe-attacking T-cells that recognized different strains of the AIDS virus, Lane said. Since the virus has mutated into many related forms, some doctors have worried that a vaccine that works against one variety of the virus might be useless against others.

neutralizing antibodies. In another report, Dr. Scott D. Putney of Repligen, a biotechnology firm in Cambridge, Mass., said his group had identified the single tiny region of the virus' outer coat that can prompt these killing antibodies.

He and some other scientists believe that small fragments, rather than the whole coat, have a better chance of serving as a vaccine. And while not sure that it will work, he said, "I'm certainly more optimistic than I was a year ago."

Lane's report was one of several on potential vaccine strategies presented at the week-long Fifth International Conference on AIDS.

Lane said he did not think the men in the initial study received large enough doses of the vaccine to produce neutralizing antibodies, probes produced by another branch of the immune system — the so-called B-cells — that target viruses for destruction.

Many researchers believe that for a vaccine to work, it will have to trigger the production of such

The initial human testing of this approach, carried out on 115 homosexual men who were not infected with AIDS, was intended primarily to see if the vaccine is safe.

However, Lane said he will recommend that the next stage of testing be started to see if the vaccine actually protects people from AIDS infection. In the comparison study, a large group of people at risk of AIDS but not infected would randomly be given either the vaccine or dummy injections.

Despite the encouraging results reported Wednesday, many important questions remain about whether this — or any — vaccine can keep people from catching AIDS.

Similar vaccines have failed to prevent AIDS virus infections in chimpanzees.

Man's Body Is His Temple; He Prays It Remains Intact

DEAR ABBY: Having read the letter in your column urging people to donate their organs after death, I am appalled by the piece entitled "To Remember Me" written by Robert Test. It was positively gruesome!

The author was asking that his body be dismembered so that it is no longer a body — in order for others to live a fuller life.

As many others do, I consider my body as the temple that God built to house my soul. It was not meant to be cut to pieces at death as if it were an old radio or some other non-living structure.

As far as I'm concerned, that letter was totally depressing.

T.G. HAYES, CLIFTON, N.J.

DEAR MR. HAYES: I cannot believe that the God in whom I believe would object if a blind person were to regain his sight through a cornea transplant, or that a dying baby were to miraculously survive following a liver transplant.

I am sorry that you found that letter depressing. Perhaps if someone you loved had had years added to his or her life due to an organ transplant, you would have a more tolerant view of donating organs after death.

DEAR ABBY: In the middle of April, I saw a movie on television called "A Deadly Silence." It was about a 16-year-old girl who paid somebody to kill her father. She was a victim of incest, and she feared for her little sister.

Abby, I, too, am an incest survivor. My father was very religious — and nobody ever suspected a thing. The incest started when I was about 3 or 4 and lasted until I was 18. I remember hiding under the bed so my father wouldn't find me.

I never told anyone because I didn't want my dad to get arrested, or my parents to divorce. I never went to counseling. I never even knew any was available until I saw that movie. I thought I was alone in this. I suppose I probably should go, because my feelings are starting to surface in my relationship with my boyfriend. I am 22 years old now and living away from home and supporting myself.

To this day, my father has never said he was sorry. I wouldn't go back home for a million dollars.

Abby, please tell kids whom to report this to if this is happening to them, too. I'll bet there are a surprising number of them.

Thanks for listening. I didn't know who to write to, but I've always read your column and thought maybe you could help me. You did just by listening!

ANGRY AND HURT

DEAR ANGRY: "Just listening" is not enough. You need to resolve your feelings of anger and resentment. Counseling is available. Call your county family service agency or your local mental health association. How sad that you did not know that any child who is being molested by anyone — family member, neighbor or stranger — should immediately tell a trusted adult, a teacher, counselor or policeman.

Adults who have not come to terms with themselves after having been sexually molested as children will forever suffer from feelings of low self-esteem and unearned guilt.

DEAR ABBY: About 10 years ago, through your Operation Dear Abby, I started writing to a young Marine named Nick Carpenter who was stationed in Cuba. We became great friends and I wrote several times a week for 10 months.

Then he took a leave and came to visit me. We became engaged during his visit, and on Feb. 27 of this year we were married in Camp Lejeune, N.C.

I don't think either of us could be happier. Thanks, Abby. I would never have met the great guy I married if it hadn't been for you.

Videotape not shown during trial

HOUSTON (AP) — There was a packed courtroom for the final day of testimony in a $48 million lawsuit filed by a Houston woman who was secretly videotaped while she had sex with a friend, but the videotape was not shown.

Testimony ended Wednesday with defense lawyers attempting to show that the woman who filed suit against a former boyfriend and three of his friends was considered promiscuous among her high school crowd.

Susan Leigh Kerr, 23, filed the suit against Dan Boyles and four of his friends, alleging that they videotaped her while she and Boyles had sex in 1985.

Boyles, a recent University of Texas graduate, has admitted that the tape was later shown at fraternity gatherings at the school.

Ms. Kerr obtained the videotape after learning that it was being shown at the university.

Chi-Sox find the bats to defeat Rangers, 6-4

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The Chicago White Sox didn't look like the worst team in the American League.

They collected 15 hits off 5 Texas Rangers' pitchers in a 6-4 victory and did it without pregame hitting practice because of heavy rains.

It was the most hits in 20 games for the White Sox who won their 4th game in 12 outings.

Chicago is last in the AL West with only 21 victories.

Three White Sox hitters, Ron Kittle, Ivan Calderon, and Ozzie Guillen had three hits each.

The hitting outbreak came a night after the White Sox collected only three hits of Texas' Kevin Brown.

Ken Patterson struck out Rafael Palmeiro to stifle a Texas rally in the seventh inning and earned his third victory against no losses. Bobby Thigpen got his 10th save.

The loser was Cecilio Guante, who dropped to 3-3.

Texas manager Bobby Valentine said he never thought of going to ace reliever Jeff Russell after Chicago roughed up Guante, who gave up three runs in the eighth inning.

"Russ had pitched the last two nights so I didn't want to use him," Valentine said. "It was just one of those nights and a tough one to lose. They got a lot of hits. They deserved to win."

Texas' Cecil Espy was the Rangers' lone offensive bright spot. He had a homer, double and a single in the eight-hit Texas attack.

The White Sox hope to earn a split of the four-game series tonight when they send Eric King (4-7) against Nolan Ryan, 6-3.

Martha Saunders of Big Spring, closest to the pin. Matthies also had the longest drive. The annual tournament was sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association. (SDN Staff Photo)

Astros 3, Padres 2

(AP) - Mike Scott won his 10th game and Houston defeated San Diego at the Astrodome.

Scott, 10-3, gave up two runs on seven hits in seven innings.

Walt Terrell, 4-7, allowed three runs on seven hits in his third complete game. The Astros overcame a 2-1 deficit in the sixth when Glenn Davis hit an RBI triple and scored on one of Terry Puhl's two doubles.

Shockers stun Florida State

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) - Florida State bullpen ace Ricky Kimball thought a rain delay was just what the top-seeded Seminoles needed to break Wichita State's momentum with the score tied and the bases loaded in the eighth inning. He was wrong.

After a delay of nearly an hour, the Shockers' Eric Wedge blooped a two-run single to center to break the tie and Florida State's 12-game winning streak as Wichita State kept its national title hopes alive with a 7-4 victory.

Wedge, a catcher drafted by the Boston Red Sox, had four RBIs to force a rematch Friday between the Seminoles, 54-17, and fourth-seeded Shockers, 66-16. The winner of that game will play for the NCAA title on Saturday against Texas or Louisiana State.

"I thought I threw a good pitch to Wedge. He's just a big strong guy and he hit it," Kimball said.

Florida State had beaten Wichita State 4-2 in the Series opener on Sunday and another victory would have guaranteed the Seminoles a spot in the title game.

Shockers relief ace Jim Newlin pitched the last two innings, striking out four to earn his 18th save.

Wedge helped the Shockers to an early 3-0 lead with an RBI grounder in the first inning and a run-scoring double in the third.

But consecutive doubles by Rob Bargas and Buddy Cribb sparked a rally that tied the game in the sixth.

The Shockers opened the top of the eighth with three consecutive hits, including Mike McDonald's bunt single to load the bases. It was McDonald's second hit of the game and led to the suspension when Kimball slipped on the wet grass and was unable to field the ball.

Wedge's hit after the break made it 5-3. The Shockers, who finished third in last year's Series and were second in 1982, added a pair of runs on sacrifice flies by Pat Meares and Todd Dreifort for a 7-3 lead.

Florida State cut the margin to 7-4 when Bargas and Cribb opened the bottom of the eighth with consecutive singles and Bargas scored on Brian Gilliland's hit with no outs. But Newlin came out of the bullpen to strike out

LA hopes to add more Magic when series resumes tonight

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. (AP) - In times of trouble, the Los Angeles Lakers turn to Magic Johnson.

It's that time again.

The Lakers lost one of their top scorers, then lost their intensity and the first game of the NBA Finals to the Detroit Pistons.

With starting guard Byron Scott sidelined at least through tonight's second game of the best-of-7 series, Johnson, who took just 12 shots in Tuesday night's 109-97 loss, must pick up the slack.

"I have to do more and be more assertive," he said. "I have to take more than 12 shots. I have to step up."

That prospect scares Detroit guard Isiah Thomas, who led all scorers with 24 points in the opening game.

"Some people have a nuclear bomb, but they don't have a guy in control who will push the button," he said. "These guys have a guy in control who will push the button. That's not good for Detroit."

Los Angeles coach Pat Riley said he expects "MVP play" tonight from Johnson, the NBA's most valuable player.

"He knows we need more from him now, more leadership and more strength," said Riley, who also needs better play from others.

James Worthy made just six of 18 shots and scored 17 points, tying Johnson for team scoring honors in Game 1. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar had eight points and played only 14 minutes. Michael Cooper, who started for Scott, finished with three points.

"We have to play as a team more now than ever and not get into ourselves," Riley said. Johnson "definitely has to give us more, as does James, but we really have to play better as a unit in all facets of our game, period."

On Tuesday night, Detroit went ahead for good at 20-18, led 55-48 at halftime and by 20 points late in the third quarter. The margin ranged from 13 to 21 points after that.

"Their intensity level will definitely be better in Game 2," Detroit's Bill Laimbeer said. "I don't think they knew what to expect from us after their (eight-day) layoff" following the Western Conference Finals. "Game sharpness and game intensity (are) very hard to maintain during any kind of layoff."

The Pistons also beat the Lakers by 12 points in the opener of last year's title series. But Los Angeles won the second game the same margin and went on to take the series 4-3.

The situation is much different this year as the Lakers seek their third consecutive title.

The Pistons, who hadn't been in the Finals since they moved to Detroit in 1958, now have that experience.

The Lakers don't have Scott, their most dependable outside shooter who had 24 points in Game 2 last year.

He suffered a partial tear in his left hamstring during Monday's practice. His status will be re-evaluated before Sunday's third game in Los Angeles, but he said Wednesday the injury would have sidelined him for at least three weeks if it occurred during the regular season.

Graf in Open finals

PARIS (AP) — Defending champion Steffi Graf, pushed to the limit by the tournament's youngest player, outlasted 15-year-old Monica Seles 6-3, 3-6, 6-3 today to reach the final of the French Open.

Seles, an unseeded Florida-based Yugoslav with smashing groundstrokes on both her forehand and backhand, gave Graf her toughest match in a Grand Slam tournament for over a year as she forced the West German into a stream of errors.

Going for the lines on almost every point, Seles stopped Graf from getting into her usual attacking groove and stayed with the world's No. 1 player until 3-3 in the final set.

High risk industrial plants identified by EPA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency today identified more than 200 industrial plants in 37 states that it says release enough toxic chemicals to pose a severe cancer risk.

Risk estimates for those exposed are a thousand-fold greater than the cancer risk level most policy makers consider acceptable, said Rep. Henry A. Waxman, who released the figures.

Waxman, chairman of the House Energy and Commerce environment subcommittee, cautioned that the list could change later because the figures are preliminary. Nonetheless, he said, the numbers represent a "stunning demonstration of the urgency of the public health threat" from the now-unregulated toxic emissions.

The estimates assume a 70-year lifetime exposure to the con-taminant at the maximum exposure level.

Waxman coupled release of the data with introduction of legislation to control toxic releases from industrial sources and motor vehicles; prevent accidental releases; protect the Great Lakes, which have been seriously damaged by airborne toxic chemicals; and control emissions from small businesses.

Waxman wants to incorporate the legislation into a comprehensive clean air bill that also would address urban pollution and acid rain.

The figures show that 205 facilities pose cancer risks for the most exposed individuals that may exceed 1 in 1,000. Forty-five of these facilities have maximum individual risks of greater than 1 in 100, and one has at least a 1-in-10 risk.

In comparison, when ordering cleanup of toxic waste dumps, the EPA tries to reduce potential cancer risks to 1 in 100,000, or less.

The new estimates represent evaluations of the maximum individual cancer risk that might arise from the inhalation of a single toxic air pollutant from an individual facility. The estimate does not indicate the risk for the entire population in the community, because not everyone would suffer the same exposure.

For example, a risk estimate of 1 in 1,000 means that one person out of 1,000 could be expected to contract cancer from maximum exposure to a single pollutant.

The EPA said the new, preliminary list is the first of its kind, although Waxman noted that two previous studies found cancer rates two to four times the national average near some major chemical facilities.

Deadly twisters race across North Texas, 5 injured

By The Associated Press

A half-dozen twisters ripped through homes and a school, injuring at least five people, as strong storms spawned by an upper-level disturbance raced across North Texas.

A tornado watch was posted early today for 19 counties in South Central Texas, including the metropolitan Corpus Christi area, and another 17 counties in the southeastern part of the state, including Houston.

The National Weather Service said moist, tropical air welling up from the Gulf made conditions ripe for twisters.

Four people were injured about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday after a twister hit the Gary community in Panola County on the Texas-Louisiana border. The tornado, which some witnesses described as a mile wide, destroyed several homes near the intersection of Farm-to-Market Roads 1970 and 999.

One resident was reported trapped in his home for about an hour after the tornado ripped it apart, sheriff's deputy John DePresco said, adding the injuries were not serious.

"We won't have any exact numbers until early tomorrow, but we estimate that between 15 and 20 homes and other structures were destroyed in about a mile-wide path," he said late Wednesday.

Another resident, Mark White, barely escaped his mobile home before the tornado tossed it about in the air.

"We heard the noise and decided to get out of the house," White said. "We were sitting in the car on the highway, looking back, and saw trees flying in the air and our trailer rolling along — over and over."

Witnesses said a tornado also struck an elementary school and two businesses at Coppell in Dallas County, causing one minor injury. Investigators later said the damage could have resulted from straight-line winds.

Woman, young boy treated after mishap

A 29-year-old Snyder woman and an 8-year-old boy were injured in a two-pickup collision at 2:22 p.m. Wednesday in the 2100 Block of 41st St.

Lynda Garcia of 112 Ash St. and Robert Jorgensen of 203 36th St. were taken by Snyder EMS Ambulance Service to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where they were treated and released.

They were passengers in a westbound 1982 Chevrolet pickup driven by Jose L. Costilla of 2104 41st, that was in collision with a 1976 Chevrolet pickup driven by Ernest G. Hollis of 2110 41st.

Police said the Hollis truck was backing out of a private driveway when the accident occurred.

In what officers described as a hit-and-run accident, the identity of an unknown driver was being sought in a two-vehicle collision at 4:29 p.m. Wednesday in the 4000 Block of College Ave.

The unknown vehicle was reportedly a "non-contact" vehicle that investigators characterize as a contributing factor in the wreck.

Other vehicles involved were a 1983 Chevrolet driven by Dory C. Collazo of 1009 Ave. U and a 1987 Ford pickup driven by Stephen R. Roberts of Box 581, Snyder.

A second accident in the 2100 Block of 41st was reported at 8:05 p.m. Wednesday, when a 1983 Chevrolet pickup driven by Keith D. Rushing of 2108 41st struck a parked 1980 Ford belonging to Melissa Doty of 3723 Ave. U.

GARY OVERMAN

Overman gains top honor at Como-Pickton

Gary Overman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred "Freddie" Overman of Como, former Snyder residents, has earned the top honor of valedictorian of the 1988-89 senior class of Como-Pickton.

His over all average was 95.7 and he was a member of the National Honor Society for three years.

While in high school, Gary participated in track, football, and band for four years, one-act play three years and he also served as a library aide.

In addition, he served as assistant drum major, basketball team manager, a student member of the junior advisory board of Sulphur Springs Loan and Building and represented Como-Pickton at the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation leadership seminar.

Gary plans to attend Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky. and major in Christian education with possible minors in music or computer science.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overman of Snyder who attended a special recognition service for the seniors at Sulphur Springs United Methodist Church as well as the baccalaureate services which were held May 28 at the First United Methodist Church in Como.

Gary played the recessional and processional for the baccalaureate.

Commencement exercises were held on May 30.

Other grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Potter of Ft. Myers, Fla.

EPA splits states in half, with different rules for same city

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of filling up the car in Texas may soon depend on whether the gas station is east or west of the 99th longitude.

Sen. Phil Gramm says new Environmental Protection Agency regulations are creating "absurd situations" in Texas because gas sold west of a line bisecting the state must meet higher volatility standards on June 30 than gas sold east of the line.

The EPA says the regulations are designed to reduce smog by limiting gas fumes that escape during the hot summer months, when evaporation rates rise. And because West Texas is hotter than East Texas, West Texas gas must be less volatile.

Under its regulations, the EPA says West Texas begins at a line that runs straight down the state, from the Wilbarger-Wichita county line on the Oklahoma border through Brownwood to Falcon Dam in Zapata County.

"To some bureaucrat in Washington, that looks like a nice line. But the problem is that the distribution system in Texas for gas does not recognize logic. It's based on least cost and greatest efficiency," Gramm said Wednesday.

"I'm asking the EPA to go back and employ some rules of practicality," the Texas Republican said. "The Lord did not set down the 99th longitude, mapmakers did. And what we've got to do is set out some rules of reason. There is no reason Brownwood is split into two gas zones."

Because the 99th longitude runs right through Brownwood, Gramm says the cost of gasoline will be more expensive on the city's west side. And in Uvalde, a filling station there must now buy its gas from an Abilene refinery 220 miles away, rather than getting from a San Antonio refinery 70 miles away, Gramm said.

"By setting a higher standard for gasoline west of the 99th longitude ... western service stations will have difficulty getting supplies of gasoline because most of the refineries are in the east," Gramm told EPA administrator William K. Reilly in a letter this week.

"Because these refineries east of the line can no longer distribute their gasoline to western service stations, the potential for gasoline shortages in West Texas is great," Gramm told Reilly.

EPA says it didn't draw the line for the volatility standards in Texas — it based its decision on boundaries drawn years ago by the American Society of Testing and Materials, an organization representing the petroleum and auto industries and the scientific community.

Under the ASTM's boundaries, refineries and gas stations were supposed to be complying voluntarily with ASTM-set standards for volatility in their regions, said Don Zinger, EPA assistant administrator of the office of mobile pollution sources.

Highlights of the trip, according to Riggan, included sight-seeing in Tokyo and bargaining with merchants in the markets, bazaars and alleys of Hong Kong. Riggan also had the opportunity to tour the fishing village of Aberdeen on the South China Sea, the island's oldest settlement and largest "floating population." Here, thousands of people spend their entire lives aboard Chinese boats and ships, rarely touching dry land.

"The trip was a wonderful learning experience for me," Riggan says. "It was amazing to observe the contrasts within the Orient-modern industry and politics rubbing shoulders with the ancient Chinese traditions."

In addition to seeing the sights of Tokyo and Hong Kong, representatives also attended numerous business meetings and seminars sponsored by American Funds and Colonial Funds.

Riggan joined Edward D. Jones & Co. in 1981. He has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture Education and is a member of the Rotary Club.

Edward D. Jones & Co., founded in 1871, is one of the largest financial-services firms in the nation with more than 1,450 offices in 38 states. The company's nearly 1,500 investment representatives specialize in low-risk investments such as mutual funds, insured tax-free bonds, certificates of deposit and the common stock of companies with histories of solid management and sound growth.
