Q—What percentage of teacher's contracts in the SISD are for more money than last year?

A—Eighty-six percent of the teachers employed by SISD received raises. The average raise was $1,083, an average increase in salary for most teachers of some 4.3 percent. It should be noted that this does not include state mandated raises through career ladder.

In Brief

Found guilty

NEW YORK (AP) — Hotel queen Leona Helmsley was convicted today of tax evasion for charging personal expenses to her businesses but was acquitted of the most serious charge against her, extortion conspiracy.

She was found guilty of 33 of the 41 counts on which she was tried. The counts on which she was convicted related to evading $1.2 million in taxes from 1983 to 1985.

Mrs. Helmsley showed little emotion while the jury foreman read the verdict, but occasionally shook her head.

Her co-defendants, former aides Frank Turco and Joseph Licari, were convicted of assisting in the tax-evasion scheme. Turco, who had been charged in the extortion conspiracy, was also acquitted on that charge.

Visit from TDC site selection staff to be Thursday or Friday

Snyder economic development committee members Wednesday were awaiting notification of the visit by the Texas Department of Corrections staff site selection committee.

Roy Baze, chairman of the chamber's EDC, was told Tuesday that the site team would be in Snyder either Thursday or Friday.

Larry Kyle, director of TDC industries, is the site team leader for the West Texas area. Kyle told Baze Tuesday that a schedule of visits is being developed and that a specific time would be announced before the visit.

Kyle said it likely would be Thursday or Friday, and that all reports from the various site teams are due in Huntsville by noon on Sept. 7.

Kyle was the team leader in 1987 when a three-man team visited Snyder prior to making the short list and prior to Snyder's being selected as a site for a 1,000-bed facility.

A total of 46 proposals have been submitted for the construction of at least three 2,250-bed facilities and three 1,000 bed units.

July 31 was the deadline for submission of proposals, and Snyder's application is for the 1,000-bed facility which is proposed on the 579-acre site donated to the TDC in December, 1987.

The process for selection outlined earlier by the TDC calls for a short list of 28 towns based on the site visits by the TDC staff.

Towns on the "short list" will be further investigated by two committees to be formed from the new Texas Criminal Justice Board which will be named by Gov. Bill Clements.

The Department of Criminal Justice was approved in the regular legislative session and will see expanded responsibility for not only TDC, but Pardons and Paroles, Probation and Texas Youth Council.

Following the site tours by board members, a final decision is expected at the board's regular meeting in November. Funding for the construction program will be subject to a Nov. 7 state-wide amendment election to approve the sale of bonds for prison construction.

State expects to end fiscal year in black

AUSTIN (AP) — State government's no longer operating in the red.

Comptroller Bob Bullock says the state will wind up the 1989 fiscal year Thursday with a positive balance of about $300 million. That's up from the 1988 ending balance of $113 million and the second year in a row no deficit has been left at year's end.

Petition seeks roll-back vote

A citizen who suggested a tax roll-back election at the Aug. 15 county budget hearing, said Wednesday that a group of Scurry County citizens is circulating petitions for such an election.

Scurry County commissioners court has proposed a tax increase for 1990 which exceeds eight percent, making the proposed rate subject to a roll-back election.

Leland McCarty, who lives southwest of Snyder, said the group is making rapid progress toward obtaining the required 902 names necessary to have the election to block the tax increase. McCarty, who made numerous critical comments concerning county spending at a public hearing, said he would pick up a voter registration list from the county clerk's office Wednesday or Thursday, to ascertain that the names on the petition are all registered voters.

State law gives the tax protest group 90 days after commissioners approved the tax rate on Aug. 18 to submit a valid petition representing at least 10 percent of the voters who were registered for the last county-wide election here last November. The county would then have another 90 days to hold the election.

Even if an election is held, the new tax rate will go into effect. Should the roll-back election be successful, the county would then have to refund tax amounts above the roll-back level.

"We are floating petitions, and we're awful close to having enough numbers," McCarty said. "We feel like with a tax increase of that size, the voters ought to have the final say.

"If they want to tax themselves, that's fine."

The commissioners court has approved an increase from 29.66 to 39.80 cents per $100 in valuation, and the roll-back would be to 34.75 cents. Revenues from the half-cent county sales tax kept the rate from rising automatically to 39.94 this year, to offset falling property values and produce the same amount of tax revenues, County Judge Bobby Goodwin said Tuesday.

County Auditor Linda Franklin said Wednesday that rolling the tax rate back to the break-even level "would have a tremendous effect" on the 1990 budget, bringing about a $430,216 decrease in revenues.

"The only department having a budget close to that large would be the hospital, and there is always the coliseum and park and the Senior Citizens Center," she said. "We would be cutting out many of the services that the people of Scurry County have enjoyed up to this time."

She noted that the county-owned Cogdell Memorial Hospital's subsidy has been increased from $360,000 to $560,000 for next year and that the Senior Center would be getting $80,000 from the county.

"I doubt if there would be anybody who wasn't affected in some way," Franklin said. "But if that is the will of the people, then that is what will be done. We will certainly do whatever the majority wants."

The feller on Deep Creek says, "You know you're getting old when breakfast in bed is a necessity, not a luxury."

If you think there's not a generation gap, just listen to today's language. To understand modern English, it is helpful to have a guide to fashionable phrases and acronyms.

If you deal with agencies of government, you will find abbreviations for most every situation. Such, however, is not confined to the public sector. Panhandling has become routine in major cities, and locals have coined a new term for people on the street asking for money. It's Yubbies, which stands for young urban bums.

"State of the art" has replaced "new and improved." Both ought to be outlawed. A telephone pitch artist is now called a telemarketing agent.

A library is no longer a library, it's a learning resource center. Remember the good ole days when the gal in the front office was simply a file clerk. Now she's an information retrieval specialist.

We heard about a guy who died in a hospital. A young doctor completed the deceased patient's chart by saying the man had not fulfilled his wellness potential.

Revenue enhancement is a nice word for new taxes, and a working mother is now on the mommy track. It's no longer a stereo or radio, but a sound system.

A bank is not just a bank, but a financial center. A store may not be just a store, it may now be an emporium. A guy who tried to influence legislation was known as a lobbyist, but now he's a political consultant.

The head of a corporation used to be the president, but now he's likely the chief executive officer or CEO. The same company used to have a business manager, treasurer or VP for finance, but now he's probably a chief financial officer or CFO.

The changing language really came home when we overheard a second grader say, "chill out." We learned that means "stay cool" which used to mean "be calm."

Unemployment rises after May's low of 5.8

Unemployment figures for Scurry County jumped to their highest mark since January, according to the Texas Employment Commission's estimates for July.

The unemployment rate was 8 percent, up from 6.9 percent in the previous month. Statewide, the unemployment rate was 7.3 percent, up from 7.1 in June.

The 8 percent July employment rate was the second highest this year in Scurry County. The highest was in January, at 8.9 percent. Monthly figures included 6.1 percent in February, 5.9 in March, 6.8 in April, 5.8 in May and 6.9 in June.

Scurry County's 8.0 percent is based on TEC estimates of 8,523 individuals employed and 743 unemployed but seeking employment. Those figures combined equal a civilian labor force of 9,226 of which 743 is 8 percent.

In July, the TEC estimated that 8,592 from a labor force of 9,231 were employed. Some 639 individuals were seeking employment.

Bryan-College Station received the state's lowest rate — 5.1 percent. The highest rates were recorded in McAllen, Edinburg and Mission and were 16.3 percent.

Borden County had a July unemployment rate of 8.4, with See UNEMPLOYMENT, page 10

925 enrolled so far at WTC

Western Texas College Wednesday morning reported a total enrollment of 925 students to date, with registration to continue through Sept. 8.

Dr. Duane Hood, dean of student services, noted that the total so far of 600 full-time students is already over the final total of 579 last fall.

Last year, a total of 1,027 students enrolled for the fall semester, based on a count following the final registration date.

Classes began Wednesday at the college.

Shooting spree ends with man's suicide attempt

MERIDIAN, Texas (AP) — A man suspected of fatally shooting three people, including a Waco police officer, was captured after he crashed his car into a parked truck during a chase in what authorities called a suicide attempt.

The incident began Tuesday when Waco Police Sgt. John Bobby Vicha and his parents, John and Zelda Vicha, were shot to death at their home in Axtell, northeast of Waco.

Zelda Vicha was found in the garage of her home in the community of 105 and her husband was found in a back room, McLennan County Sheriff Jack Harwell said.

Justice of the Peace David Pareya said officer Vicha's parents, both believed to be in their 60s, had been shot in the head.

Waco Police Sgt. Steve De La Rosa said that Waco police broadcast a description of Billy Wayne Coble, and the car he was driving and said the man was wanted on charges of capital murder and aggravated kidnapping. Officers were not told that one of the people had killed Vicha.

Authorities theorize that officer Vicha was shot to death between 5:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. Tuesday and then someone shot his mother and father to death. The man then went to a nearby home and tied up Karen Coble and her three children.

Axtell resident Chad Stanley, 16, told authorities he went to the Coble home to see his 16-year-old girlfriend when Karen Coble came to the door.

Stanley said he and two friends later returned to the Coble home and found his girlfriend, her sisters, ages 14 and 10, and Sgt. Vicha's 10-year-old son with tape over their mouths and their hands tied behind their backs.

"We got them out of the house because they said he was coming back, and he said he was going to kill himself," said Stanley.

Dear Abby

Happy Ending to 25-Year Marriage Takes the Cake

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Abby is off on a two-week vacation, but she left behind some of her favorite letters taken from her best-selling book, "The Best of Dear Abby.")

DEAR ABBY: I will never again say that a letter in your column is too unbelievable to be real. Listen to this:

My husband and I recently attended the 25th wedding anniversary party of a couple we have known for years. It was a beautiful dinner party at a club for about a hundred guests.

Around midnight, the husband said that he and his wife had an announcement to make. They stood arm in arm, and he said, "We've had 25 years of marriage. Our children are married now, and there is no longer a reason to go on pretending our marriage is a success. It has been a failure for many years, so we've decided that while we are both young enough to enjoy life we're getting divorced. It's nobody's fault. It's mutual and friendly, and we hope you will continue to be our friends." They kissed each other and danced together as the band played, "Good Night, Sweetheart."

Can anybody top this?
WAS THERE

DEAR WAS: I hope not.

DEAR ABBY: How about a letter from a "winner"? My married lover left his wife for me!

I was told that I wasn't breaking up anything; his marriage was dead long before he even met me. His wife had gotten fat. I was married too, but I assured him that my marriage was also over — my husband had gotten dull and boring.

So I divorced my boring husband and he divorced his chubby wife. Oh, yes, we both had children, but we explained that we were in love and when they were older they would understand.

Our marriage was a dream come true. No more lying and sneaking around. At long last we were legally man and wife for all the world to see.

Our apartment was filled with modern furniture and old-fashioned guilt. And plenty of doubt and mistrust.

Two years later he was meeting someone new. I told him he was a liar and a cheat. He said it took one to know one.

And by the way, he's gotten a little dull and boring, and I've put on a little weight.

A WINNER

DEAR ABBY: I am an Italian man, age 34. I am medium build and am told that I am good-looking. I drive a sightseeing bus by day, so I speak a little English. I am single and would like to correspond with an American woman between the ages of 30 and 60.

She doesn't have to be beautiful, but I want one who has a steady income and owns a late-model American automobile.

If you know of a woman who would like to correspond with me, please ask her to send a picture of the automobile.

VITO IN NAPOLI

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who just celebrated her 21st birthday. On this occasion my boyfriend took me out to dinner. He doesn't drink much and neither do I, but before dinner we each had three martinis. During dinner (just to celebrate), we split a bottle of champagne. After dinner, we each had four brandies.

Did I do wrong?
BLONDIE

DEAR BLONDIE: Probably.

DEAR ABBY: What's the difference between a wife and a mistress?
BESS

DEAR BESS: Night and day.

Everything you'll need to know about planning a wedding can be found in Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send your name and address, plus check or money order for $2.99 ($3.39 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Consumers still have confidence in generic drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer advocates and physicians say there's no reason to doubt the safety and effectiveness of most generic drugs, and consumers appear to be heeding that advice.

"I don't think there's panic in the streets. I think they're concerned," said Harold Cohen, editor of the trade publication Drug Store News-Inside Pharmacy, referring to drug consumers.

Cohen, who has been visiting pharmacies in St. Louis, Phoenix and Washington D.C. for the past week, said Monday he saw few customers switching from a generic to a brand-name drug.

Disclosures of fraud and corruption in the Food and Drug Administration's generic drug division have tainted the agency's reputation and cast doubts on the industry as well as the safety and efficacy of generic medicines.

But consumer advocates and physicians say the concerns are overblown.

"At the present time, there's no evidence that any generic drugs out there in the pharmacies lack safety or effectiveness," said Dr. Sidney Wolfe, head of the Public Citizen Health Research Group.

Dr. Ray W. Gifford, a trustee of the American Medical Association who is also an internist at the Cleveland Clinic and a clinical pharmacologist, agreed.

"What we've seen in the past few weeks is regrettable, but I don't think it reflects all generics and it really hasn't changed my prescribing habits," he said.

However, Gifford said, most physicians already insist on brand-name drugs for certain hard-to-treat conditions, such as congestive heart failure.

"There doesn't seem to be a surge of phone calls or people bringing back bags of drugs," said James Krahulec, vice president of government affairs for Rite Aid, the nation's largest drugstore chain.

Police chief suspended by city officials

CANADIAN, Texas (AP) — A Texas Panhandle police chief who was suspended because of a dispute with city officials over a drug dog who wouldn't perform properly has resigned, city officials say.

Canadian Police Chief Phil Taylor announced his resignation Monday, City Manager Dean Looper said Tuesday.

Taylor cited unhappiness with his department's budget as the reason for his resignation, Looper said.

"He's announced for some time that he was going to resign," Looper said Tuesday. "He cited his reason for resignation as dissatisfaction with police budgetary projections for the next fiscal year."

City Council members suspended Taylor with pay last week during an investigation into his handling of a drug dog purchased for the city a year ago.

Private donations totaling $6,000 allowed the city to acquire Axel, a specially trained 3-year-old German shepherd.

City officials have been unhappy with the dog's performance, pointing out that in one test incident, Axel was unable to respond to the presence of drugs in a car even when shown the items.

"We feel Taylor's handling of the dog has not been satisfactory according to the contract," Looper said. The city manager said the dog is now in Austin, where his potential is being evaluated, and the animal may be sold.

The dispute over the drug dog, he said, played a role in the chief's decision to resign.

ninth trick for declarer in that suit. Unfortunately for declarer, East was Mike Lawrence. Having recently written a book on card combinations, including problems for the defender, Mike made the killing play of the 10 of clubs. If declarer put in the queen, West would win the king and continue with the jack. If declarer played low, East would hold the lead and continue with a second club through the A-Q. Going up with the ace would not help either, since South would have to try for an extra heart trick eventually, and East would win the king and lead through the queen of clubs.

Yes, I know there are many club holdings in which this play won't help the defense. But in most of those cases three no-trump is going to play well in any event.

A departure from fourth-best

By James Jacoby

In standard bridge one leads fourth best from suits that are not trump, even in the middle of a deal, though of course it's common sense to lead high from a bad suit just to prevent partner from thinking you hold a significant honor. But there can be other reasons for departing from the norm.

When South reached three no-trump, West selected the jack of spades for opening lead. South ducked in dummy, and East won the king. Many defenders would now switch to a low club, but notice the poor result. Declarer would duck, and West would win the jack. If West continued with another club, it would be into the A-Q, and declarer would have time to play to the spade ace and take a diamond finesse. He would then make three diamond tricks, three spades, two clubs and a heart. If West won the club jack and switched to a heart, declarer would take dummy's ace and finesse in diamonds. Now West might lead another heart, but that would set up the

Dentist fixes chipped tooth

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — A Russian prima ballerina went to the dentist for a filling, but came away with a fan.

Yulia Makhalina, a member of the Soviet Union's Kirov Ballet, went to Dr. Stuart Green's office about a week ago to have a chipped tooth fixed.

When she tried to pay her bill, Green balked, saying he was honored to help a rising ballerina with her dental problems. She persisted.

Green said he thought of his 6-year-old daughter, Janae, a ballet student. So he asked for a pair of tickets.

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 66-year-old female and received a treadmill with a pulse monitor for Christmas. For the first 18 to 20 minutes, my pulse stays at about 135, then it drops to 120 or below. Is something wrong with my heart? I'm about 30 pounds overweight and like to work out for 30 minutes.

DEAR READER: When healthy people engage in progressively strenuous exercise, their pulse rates rise in conjunction with the level of activity. This is the basis for the stress test, which monitors the patient's cardiovascular system during increasingly difficult exertion. Under these circumstances, the heart rate will gradually accelerate until it reaches a peak — beyond which the pulse will not increase — and the person experiences exhaustion.

In your case, you are probably not pushing yourself too hard on the treadmill. If you're like most home-exercisers, you're not reaching the point of exhaustion; rather, you're exercising at a comfortable rate and checking your pulse. Your drop in heart rate may be due to adaptation.

As your body becomes used to a certain level of activity, your muscles are warmed up, your metabolic needs are being adequately met and your heart — paradoxically — has to work less hard than it did when you began. This is a normal physiological response. Thus, your pulse decrease may reflect healthy heart muscle.

On the other hand, it is possible that you are overdoing it. When an unhealthy heart is stressed with exertion, both the pulse and the blood pressure may fall. This could be an early indication that the coronary circulation is inadequate for your needs — in a phrase, you may have arteriosclerotic heart disease.

Based on the limited information you have provided, I cannot judge the situation. I believe you should have a stress test. Under close medical monitoring, your heart's reaction to exercise can be measured using a cardiogram read-out while you're on a treadmill.

Ask your doctor to examine you and perform the necessary tests to make sure that your workout is appropriate. If, as you say, you are 30 pounds overweight, you would probably feel more comfortable (and exercise more easily) if you lost weight. Therefore, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Weight Control Through Calorie Control." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Ringo Star tries to block album's release

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A group of Nashville studio musicians are disputing a claim by Ringo Starr that he and they were drunk when the former Beatle recorded an album in Memphis two years ago.

Starr has sued to keep the album under wraps, saying he was suffering from alcoholism when it was recorded, and that the recordings are not up to his standards. A Georgia judge has blocked the record's release pending a trial expected in early October.

Voyager sends back stunning pictures of planet Neptune

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Far in the cold darkness beyond Neptune, a lonely Voyager speeds into the void, dozens of worlds in its wake as it leaves a legacy that may aid the survival of its home planet — a garden island in a sea of space.

What wonders Voyager 2 witnessed as the one-ton spacecraft cruised the solar system, traversing an arch-shaped 4½-billion-mile path in 12 years as it trekked past four planets and at least 56 moons:

In 1979, Jupiter and its moon Io, a hellish satellite of sulfur-spewing volcanoes. Saturn and its graceful rings in 1981. Five years later, Uranus, knocked on its side by some incomprehensible collision. And today, the probe is 5 million miles past deep blue Neptune, with its frozen volcanic moon Triton, once flooded by seas of icy lava.

Such marvels, such sights never before seen by human eyes, were returned to Earth in 81,000 photographs captured by television cameras aboard Voyager 2 and its twin, Voyager 1, which explored Jupiter and Saturn before hurtling toward the stars.

And what, one may ask, did these humble Voyagers, these piles of 1960s electronics, do for their human masters, for the American taxpayers who paid the $865 million to propel them to the outer planets?

"The immediate benefits of Voyager's pictures of Neptune and Triton and their wealth of scientific information is to stimulate our intellects and to nourish our souls," said Bruce Murray, president of The Planetary Society and former director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

"But surely over the coming generations those arcane facts will become relevant to our destiny on Earth, just as earlier arcane facts from Venus and Mars are now considered vital to our destiny."

Cornell University astronomer Carl Sagan said: "If you want to understand Earth, go look at other worlds." From Mariner and the space probe Pioneer, scientists studied how Venus' thick clouds trap solar heat, warming the planet to 900 degrees in a runaway "greenhouse effect." It helped alert scientists to how industrial air pollutants threaten to warm Earth, flooding coastal areas and triggering droughts and starvation.

Sherwood Rowland and Mario Molina first warned of depletion of Earth's ozone layer after using chemical formulas devised to help NASA understand Venus' atmosphere, Sagan said.

At Neptune, Voyager discovered six moons in addition to Nereid and Triton, which were first detected from Earth. It discovered three thin rings of debris and two broad rings orbiting the planet. It found at least six moonlets hidden in one ring.

Voyager detected in Neptune's bluish atmosphere an Earth-size swirling storm called the Great Dark Spot, 720 mph winds, photochemical smog, invisible ultraviolet auroras and cirrus clouds of natural gas casting shadows on clouds far below.

It also revealed two types of ice volcanoes on frosty, pinkish Triton: 1,000-foot-deep craters measuring hundreds of miles across that once produced ocean-size floods of ice flowing like lava, and volcanoes that may be active today, ejecting nitrogen ice 25-miles high at speeds of 560 mph.

Scientists presented new findings Tuesday showing Neptune's weak, tilted magnetic field doesn't go through the center of planet but is offset about four-tenths of the way toward the surface.

Evert wins first round match at her last Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Chris Evert knows where she is headed. Pam Shriver has no idea where she's going.

Evert, the six-time U.S. Open champion who has announced she is playing a major tournament for the final time, won her first-round match before an adoring crowd that greeted her every move with warm applause and cheers. Shriver, not at all sure what she wants to do with her life, was eliminated.

Evert brought a bouquet of sunshine to a humid, overcast day that ended with heavy rain and a suspension of play. Ivan Lendl was ahead 6-1, 7-6, 2-0 against Diego Perez when the match was halted. French Open champion Michael Chang didn't get a chance to start.

But the fans were there mainly to see Evert win her 98th Open match, a record. They got what they sought as she beat Bettina Fulco of Argentina 6-4, 6-2.

"I'm aware of the people's reaction," she said. "I feel that they're a little more supportive because it is my last U.S. Open. "I could get real emotional if I let myself. But I can't do it because I don't want to forget why I'm out there — and I'm not out there for them to clap and praise and thank me for all of the years of tennis. I'm out there to win a tennis match."

"I'm trying to not let it filter in and think about it emotionally." While Evert is fighting the emotions, Shriver is trying to get them flowing again. She was totally uninspired in losing to Larisa Savchenko of the Soviet Union 6-2, 6-3.

"I think in order to beat Savchenko, you have to be really eager and really strong mentally and physically and get out there and want to battle the games out," Shriver said after lasting just 55 minutes against Savchenko. "The emotions of a good effort just didn't get started."

Shriver hasn't gotten started all year, falling from fifth to ninth in the rankings, and is wondering if she can make the commitment necessary to stay near the top.

"I've got to start enjoying myself a little bit, or else in the next six months to a year, I'll seriously start thinking about

Cowboys get Skins' Hamel

IRVING, Texas (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys obtained defensive tackle Dean Hamel of the Washington Redskins on Tuesday for an undisclosed draft choice.

Hamel is a fifth-year veteran who played in 60 games for Washington and started in 17 of them. The 28-year-old Hamel, from Tulsa University, has 122 career tackles and eight sacks.

The Cowboys also announced that they have claimed two defensive players on waivers — linebacker Greg Gilbert from the Chicago Bears and defensive tackle John Carter from the New York Giants.

Gilbert, 6-1 and 225, was a fifth-round pick in 1989 out of Alabama. Carter, 6-4 and 260, was a fifth-round pick in 1988 out of Pittsburgh.

The Cowboys also announced that they cut third-round draft pick Rhondy Weston, a defensive end from Florida; and free agents Eric Brown, a defensive back from Savannah State, and Charles Buchanan, a linebacker who played for Cleveland last year and was picked up last week.

U.S. cagers win

DUISBURG, West Germany (AP) — The United States won its first major men's international basketball competition in three years, beating the Soviet Union 88-80 in the gold medal contest of the World University Games.

what else I can do with my time," Shriver said.

Before the storms hit, suspending seven matches in progress and postponing 14, Martina Navratilova, Jimmy Connors, Stefan Edberg, Andre Agassi, Gabriela Sabatini, Tim Mayotte and Hana Mandlikova advanced.

Today, Lendl was to finish his match, while Evert returned to the court against Elise Burgin. Ironically, Burgin was bumped from the 1988 U.S. Olympic team when Evert decided to play in Seoul.

Also in action today were Navratilova, Steffi Graf, John McEnroe, Mats Wilander and Michael Chang.

Evert admitted she isn't expecting to win her 19th Grand Slam crown.

"I'm not even thinking about winning the tournament. I haven't even played a full year. I'm not really match tough. It would be almost a miracle for me to win this tournament."

The same can be said of Connors, Evert's one-time fiancée who will be 37 on Saturday. The five-time Open winner took a nine-week vacation this summer, gained 16 pounds and decided just 10 days ago to play here.

Connors routed Tom Nijssen of the Netherlands 6-2, 6-1, 6-2 in his 103rd Open match, a record for the U.S. championships. It wasn't much of a test of Connors' capabilities.

"I don't think about things like that," Connors said of his title chances. "I just come out and play the best tennis I can every match. If I continue to win, that's even better."

Houston blows 9-point lead in 10-9 heartbreaker to Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie outfielder Dwight Smith has a good luck charm sitting in his clubhouse locker — a hunk of wood given to him when he was in a hitting slump.

"It's ugly, but I was hitting ugly," said Smith, who hit a one-out single to left with the bases loaded in the 10th inning to hand the first-place Cubs a thrilling 10-9 come-from-behind victory Tuesday.

Chicago had rallied from a

Walls picks Troy as QB

DALLAS (AP) — Cornerback Everson Walls decided to play soothsayer Tuesday, saying he believes coach Jimmy Johnson will pick Troy Aikman over Steve Walsh as the Cowboys' starting quarterback.

"I think it will be Troy, and nothing against Steve," Walls said. "I think he (coach Jimmy Johnson) will pick Troy. "Johnson has to pick between two different styles. There is a lot of pressure on both of them. I think Steve has played well, but Troy will make fewer mistakes."

Johnson has refused to name Aikman or Walsh because "we owe it to the fans who come out to the game to announce it then." Johnson said the lineup that takes the field in a preseason game against the Houston Oilers on Saturday night will be the starters for the regular season.

Asked how they looked in practice on Tuesday, Johnson grinned and said: "Good — they both looked real good."

Aikman was the NFL's top pick in the regular draft. Walsh was the top pick in the supplemental draft by the Cowboys after Atlanta passed on him.

Walls talked on Tuesday like he already thinks Aikman will be the pick. "The coaches have made a big emotional commitment to Troy," Walsh said. "He was touted as the next Roger Staubach."

"I think the competition has been as fair as it was capable of being considering that I reported late."

Can Walsh, who played for Johnson at the University of Miami, look into his coach's eyes and tell what he's thinking?

"Oh, he gives you different reads on different days," Walsh said. "I think we both have surprised the coaching staff. We've both shown we have the ability to move the team."

"I'll be disappointed," he said, "but I'll go along with what coach Johnson says. At least the second guy will get to play. The second guy will get more work than, say, the backup to Dan Marino in Miami."

seemingly hopeless 9-0 deficit in the fifth inning en route to their third win in a row.

"It's got to be our biggest victory so far," said Smith, a lefty who had three RBIs in his first game since he sprained an ankle tripping over a bat "I'm glad I contributed."

But Smith, who replaced Andre Dawson in right in the seventh inning, wouldn't say the game meant Chicago could claim anything more than just another satisfying win.

"When we win with 3 games left and have a 3½ game lead, then you can pop the champagne," said Smith, whose perfect throw to the plate on a single to right in the eighth inning cut down Rafael Ramirez and prevented him from scoring Houston's 10th run.

Cub manager Don Zimmer said he took Dawson out because of his ailing knees.

"Somebody suggested I take (Ryne) Sandberg out and somebody else out, but I said everybody would think we gave up and we got half a game to go. Thank goodness I didn't," said Zimmer.

Houston manager Art Howe said he wished he had been someplace else with a big lead.

"I wished I wasn't in Wrigley Field because I've seen a lot of crazy games here," said Howe.

Paul Assenmacher, 2-3, set the Astros down in order in the 10th to gain his first win as a Cub.

Dave Smith, 3-4, walked Jerome Walton to start the 10th. Walton went to second on Sandberg's sacrifice and to third on Lloyd McClendon's single. Mark Grace was purposely walked to get to Smith.

Houston, which started the day in second place, 4 games back of San Francisco in the NL West, lost for the seventh time in the past eight games.

The Cub rally overshadowed the offensive performance of Ramirez, who broke out of a two-week slump with a grand slam and a team record seven RBIs.

Ramirez' second career slam — the other coming against the Cubs last year — was the only Astro hit in the fifth, when Houston scored five times. Earlier he had a two-run double and an RBI grounder. Ramirez, batting only .194 in the past two weeks, added a single in the eighth. He broke the club record of 6 RBI in a game held by several players.

Houston took advantage of a throwing error by shortstop Shawn Dunston and the wildness of 14-game winner Mike Bielecki to go in front 2-0 in the second without the benefit of a hit.

Bielecki didn't give up a hit until Caminiti singled in the fourth

Drug testing yields only 13 caught; all were suspended

NEW YORK (AP) — The NFL's first-ever suspension of steroid users seems to demonstrate that Commissioner Pete Rozelle's warning last March that the crackdown was coming may have worked.

When the first suspensions were announced Tuesday, just 13 players were caught for using the muscle-building substances. Of those, only Pro Bowl guard Ron Solt of the Eagles was of any prominence.

The number seemed to please even the NFL Players Association, which is challenging the accuracy of the testing procedure and the validity of the suspensions.

"The fact that so few players have been suspended for alleged steroid use indicates that the public perception of the steroid problem in the NFL is greatly exaggerated," said Gene Upshaw, executive director of the union and himself a former All-Pro guard.

Meanwhile, the old drug policy caught two more prominent players — All-Pro cornerback Leroy Irvin of the Los Angeles Rams and tight end Orson Mobley of the Denver Broncos. They were suspended for the final exhibition game and the first three regular-season games after testing positive for the second time for illegal substances.

"It hurts me, it disappoints me, but surprise me? No," Coach Dan Reeves of the Broncos said of Mobley's suspension.

They were the second and third players suspended this season under the policy which set down 24 players in 1988. Tony Burse, a fullback for Seattle, was suspended earlier this summer.

The steroid suspension policy was announced last March 21 by Rozelle and a letter detailing the plan was sent 10 days later to all NFL players. Rozelle said he made the announcement so early to allow time for players who might be using steroids to get the substances out of their systems before training camp tests.

In both 1987 and 1988, 6 percent of the players had positive steroid tests at camp, but no suspensions were imposed.

The percentages were much lower this time, and the warnings seem to have worked, even by the testimony of one of those caught, linebacker Mark Mraz of the Los Angeles Raiders.

"He was very disappointed and very emotional," Raiders coach Mike Shanahan said of Mraz. "He said he was aware of the new policy since April 1. He informed me that he had not been on them since then."

But Coach Lindy Infante of Green Bay, who lost offensive linemen Keith Uecker and Mike Arvey, said the warnings may not have been enough.

"After all that was mentioned about it and all the letters that had gone out and all the notoriety about the decision to test for it and punish the people caught for it, I'm quite shocked that anybody would run the risk of this happening," Infante said.

"I think this proves that there is no guarantee that if you stay off of it for a period of time, you're not going to get caught with some of it in your system because I don't think either of the players are on it now or were on it just prior to training camp. There were traces in there somewhere for it to have shown."

The 13 players from eight teams also include three from the Buffalo Bills — brothers Tom Doctor, a linebacker, and Sean Doctor, a fullback, and linebacker Matt Jaworski.

Others suspended were defensive back Maurice Douglass of the Chicago Bears, running back Vince Amoa and wide receiver Bobby Riley, both of the New York Jets, tight end Vernon Kirk of the Los Angeles Rams, and running back Keith Henderson and nose tackle Rollin Putzier of the San Francisco 49ers.

Irvin and Mobley fell under the policy for illegal substances that took effect last season.

Unlike the steroid policy, under which first-time offenders are suspended, first-time substance violators are treated for their problem and their names remain confidential. Second-time offenders are suspended for four games and third-time offenders for a year.

Tennis group to begin play

Ladies interested in participating in the 10-week schedule of the Snyder Ladies Tennis Association should report to the high school tennis courts Sept. 11 for the opening of practice.

Sixteen slots are available on a first come-first served basis. Anyone signing up after the first sixteen will be placed on a substitute list.

Dues for the association will be $15 and will be payable on the first night of play.

For more information, or to sign up for the league, contact Debbie Dorff at 573-5212.

Spikers host Cooper High

The Lady Tigers volleyball squad will play host to Abilene Cooper Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

Snyder at 5-1 plays its first home game since competing in the Monahans tournament last weekend.

The varsity will play the opening game, followed by games featuring the junior varsity and freshmen.

Friday the varsity is off to Pecos for tournament action there. The JV will travel to Denver City to participate in their volleyball tourney.

The Lady Tigers will be out of town again Tuesday as the varsity, JV and freshman units travel to Plains for a 5 p.m. match.

They finally return home to begin district play Saturday, Sept. 9 for a 2 p.m. contest with Pecos.

SHS boosters to host meal

A covered dish supper is on tap Thursday at the Towle Park Pavilion as the Snyder All-Sports Booster Club will introduce the athletes from the volleyball, tennis and football teams as well as the coaches.

The meal gets under way at 8 p.m.

Susan Kiker, spokesperson for the group calls the event, "an effort to bring our community together with our athletes and show our support."

"So bring a covered dish," she continued, "and meet your Tigers and Lady Tigers."

The Cincinnati Bengals, the losers in the Super Bowl, led the NFL in team rushing in 1988 with 2,710 yards.

with one out. Craig Biggio doubled Caminiti to third and both scored on Ramirez' double to put Houston ahead 4-0.

Two walks in the fifth inning sent Bielecki to the showers. Reliever Dean Wilkins walked the bases full and Bill Doran scored on a passed ball. Biggio walked with two outs, setting up Ramirez' slam to left, his fifth 1989 homer.

Against new state helmet law...

Motorcyclists plan protest

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — A Texas-based motorcycle rights group is expecting more than 3,000 bikers across the state to participate in a parade this weekend to protest a mandatory helmet law that takes effect Friday, organizers say.

Under a law adopted by the 71st state Legislature last spring, motorcyclists will be required to wear protective helmets or face a $50 fine.

"This is all about freedom of choice," said Walt Ward, assistant district coordinator for American Bikers Aimed Toward Education. "We're adults and we should be able to make up our minds. Apparently (legislators) don't think adults in Texas are able to make up their minds on what they want to do."

Bikers in the Parade of Protest will leave sites across the state Friday and Saturday carrying flags and wearing black armbands to symbolize "the mourning of another freedom lost," said Executive Director H.E. "Sundance" Mitchell. The group won't wear helmets, he said.

Chapters from Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, Abilene, Houston, San Antonio and Longview will meet in Llano County on the river below Buchanan Dam where they will hold a rally and plan strategy.

"We are exercising our constitutional right under the First Amendment with organized parades to draw public and government awareness to the real problems of motorcycle safety and the current disregard of motorcyclists rights," Mitchell said in a statement. "We are inviting all concerned riders in Texas to participate with us."

Mitchell contends that wearing helmets does not necessarily lead to decreased deaths or injuries in motorcycle accidents.

Theft investigated

Sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft of more than $500 in jewelry from Tricia Rosas of Arah Rt.

The victim told officers at 11:20 a.m. Tuesday that the jewelry, a $350 golden wedding ring with a diamond and a $160 gold watch, had been missing for a week and a half.

Texas Animal Health office will re-locate

On September 1, the Area 2 office of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) will be moved 30 miles north, from Paducah to Childress. Area 2 includes Scurry County.

The Area 2 office will be located at 204 Avenue B NW, Old Bank Building; Childress, Tex. 79201. Or call (817) 937-6125.

TAHC, with main headquarters in Austin, is the state regulatory agency responsible for controlling and eradicating certain contagious or dangerous livestock and poultry diseases.

Jimmy Dusek, DVM, is Area 2 director and the only state-employed veterinarian for a region that covers 32 West Texas counties, including a portion of the South Plains and North Central Texas.

Dusek's staff includes clerk Kim Allen. He is assisted in management duties by two field supervisors—Mack Tiner in Graham, and James Russell in Floydada. Five animal health inspectors are assigned throughout the area to work at nine cattle and swine sales at eight sale barns each week. They check health certificates, tag livestock, issue permits and keep records on animals sold and transported.

The inspectors also fulfill duties for the agency's most widely known effort, the brucellosis program. Brucellosis, a contagious, bacterial disorder, can cause cows to abort, deliver weak calves, or provide less milk. Cattle infected with the disease must be slaughtered, and the herd they came from is quarantined until the other cattle pass a series of blood tests. (Meat from the infected animals is safe to eat.)

Conference for peace is on verge of failing

PARIS (AP) — A peace conference on Cambodia is on the verge of failure and the three warring factions are preparing to decide on the battlefield which group will have the upper hand in future talks, officials say.

"We are deadlocked here because the military situation is not decisive," said Ek Saraywath, a spokesman for Prince Norodom Sihanouk, who heads one resistance group. "If there is no result on the battlefield, there is no result at the negotiating table."

Delegates from 19 nations were to meet today for the last time in the monthlong conference to issue a final statement, which was expected to suggest the gathering reconvene in Paris at a later date.

A morning session was delayed until after noon, however, while delegates met informally in small groups.

Fiscal

government finances. We've got money in the bank and we can pay our bills," Bullock said Tuesday.

The past two years have been a sharp contrast to 1986 and 1987, when the oil price collapse helped drag the state budget into the red.

The state's 1986 ending balance was a negative $231 million, and the state wound up fiscal 1987 some $745 million in the hole.

Oil prices plunged from near $30 a barrel late in 1985 to less than $10 by mid-1986. That collapse sparked a major economic downturn in Texas, with the real estate and banking industries both falling into trouble.

Faced with a deepening deficit, the Legislature in 1986 raised taxes by about $1 billion, and in 1987 Gov. Bill Clements wound up signing the largest tax increase in state history — nearly $6 billion.

Bullock said this year's positive budget balance is due to the state's rebounding economy and to the 1987 tax hike.

He said that, technically, the $300 million is not a budget surplus because it represents funds that are earmarked but not yet spent. The ending balance could have totaled more than $600 million, Bullock said, but lawmakers elected to pay some major state bills before the end of the current fiscal year.

State tax collections for the 1989 budget year will have totaled $12.9 billion, a 4 percent increase over 1988, he said. Most of the gain comes from increased sales tax collections, which have jumped 11 percent from 1988 to 1989.

Natural gas, motor vehicle and hotel-motel taxes also showed solid 1989 gains. Natural gas collections were paced by strong industrial demand and rising prices, while the other levies were the results of increased auto sales and a booming tourism industry, Bullock said.

The comptroller said he remains optimistic about the Texas economy and state financing, noting that lawmakers wrote the 1990-91 state budget without any new taxes.

In addition, the improving state fiscal condition will allow a number of temporary, two-year taxes enacted by the 1987 Legislature to expire over the next two years, saving Texans about $520 million.

Vehicle towed after accident

One vehicle had to be towed from the scene of a two-car collision at 11:57 a.m. Tuesday at 30th St. and Ave. V, police said.

A 1986 Cadillac driven by Lester Liggett of Rt. 1 was in collision with a 1981 Ford station wagon driven by Clyde Reynolds of Rt. 3, after which the Cadillac was towed.

The only other accident investigated Tuesday was discovered at 6:25 a.m. outside Luna's Restaurant on the East Hwy., where a portable sign owned by Snyder Signs had been hit and damaged by an unknown vehicle and driver.

Police said the dollar value of the damages had not been estimated.

Pool at WTC to open soon

The Western Texas College swimming pool will open on Sept. 5, Mike Harrison, pool director, has announced.

Community residents who would like to swim may purchase a swimming pass for $50 per person or $150 per family. This pass will be good for the duration of the fall semester. They may prefer to pay a single admission charge of $2 per session.

Hours for lap swimming in the pool will be 6:30-8:30 a.m. or noon to 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. Open swimming hours will be 7-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Persons interested in swimming classes and aqua aerobics classes may register for these during semester registration now underway.

The opening of the pool was delayed past the opening of the fall semester due to repair and renovation work being done, Harrison said.

Call 573-8511, ext. 283, for more information.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR WASTE DISCHARGE PERMIT RENEWAL

IPOLLO ENTERPRISES, INC., 3109 Avenue U, Snyder, Texas 79549 has applied to the Texas Water Commission for renewal of Permit No. 02696 which authorizes a discharge of treated wastewater effluent at a volume not to exceed an average flow of 5,000 gallons per day from motel, restaurant, and convenience store facilities. The plant site is 400 feet east and 500 feet south of the intersection of U.S. Highway 180 and the service road of U.S. Highway 84, southeast of the City of Snyder, Scurry County, Texas. The effluent is discharged into a 4-inch pipeline; thence to an unnamed tributary of Deep Creek; thence to Deep Creek; thence to Big Sulphur Creek; thence to the Colorado River, Segment No. 1412 of the Colorado Basin. All determinations concerning effluent limits required to meet in-stream criteria, antidegradation, uses and criteria for unclassified receiving waters and all other conditions of the proposed permit are considered preliminary and subject to additional review and/or revision.

The Executive director of the Texas Water Commission has prepared a draft permit which, if approved by the Commission, will specify conditions and limitations generally the same as those currently enforced by the existing permit except that provisions have been added to require the permittee to tie into the City of Snyder sewage treatment facilities as soon as possible and no later than October 1, 1989. It is proposed that the expiration date of the renewed permit be specified as midnight, one year after date of Commission approval.

Legal Authority: Section 26.028 of the Texas Water Code and 31 TAC Chapter 305 of the Rules of the Texas Water Commission.

No public hearing will be held on this application unless an affected person who has received notice of the application has requested a public hearing. Any such request for a public hearing shall be in writing and contain (1) the name, mailing address and phone number of the person making the request; and (2) a brief description of how the requester, or persons represented by the requester, would be adversely affected by the granting of the application. If the Commission determines that the request sets out an issue which is relevant to the application, or that a public hearing, would serve the public interest, the Commission shall conduct a public hearing, after the issuance of proper and timely notice of the hearing. If no sufficient request for hearing is received within 30 days of the date of publication of the notice concerning the application, the permit will be submitted to the Commission for final decision on the application. Requests for a public hearing on this application should be submitted in writing to John J. Vay, Assistant Chief Hearings Examiner, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13067, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512)463-7905. Information concerning any technical aspect of this application can be obtained by writing Steve Schrader, Wastewater Permits Section, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13067, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512)463-8201. Issued this 1st day of August, 1989.
