Hurricane Hugo pounds South Carolina

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Hurricane Hugo slammed into this 300-year-old city of antebellum mansions with winds of 135 mph today, leveling dozens of buildings and peeling others open "like a can opener." At least five people in the Carolinas were killed. "There's just destruction everywhere," Mayor Joseph P. Riley said after a 6:30 a.m. tour of his ravaged city. "We have on our hands a degree of physical destruction that is unprecedented in anyone's living memory." After a direct hit on South Carolina, Hugo weakened and was downgraded to a tropical storm at 6 a.m. by the National Weather Service. At 9 a.m., the center of the storm was just north of Hickory, N.C., at latitude

36.2 degrees north and longitude 81.5 degrees west, and winds had diminished to 60 mph. Further weakening was expected as Hugo moved northward at 25 to 30 mph through North Carolina on a path that would take it into the Virginias,

Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania. It was expected to reach New Jersey and New York on Saturday. At least 700,000 people were without power in the Carolinas, officials said, including 200,000 or 85 percent of the customers in Charlotte, N.C., which felt Hugo's wrath even through its 200 miles inland. The blackout canceled today's session of Jim Bakker's fraud and conspiracy trial in Charlotte. Details were still sketchy about (see HUGO, page 8)

Unemployment rate drops to 7.6 percent

Unemployment figures for Scurry County dropped slightly after experiencing their highest mark since January, according to the Texas Employment Commission's estimates for August.

The unemployment rate was 7.6 percent, down from 8.0 in July, according to the TEC. Statewide, unemployment was 7.2 percent, down marginally from 7.3 percent a month earlier.

Unemployment across the United States was figured at 5.1 percent for August.

Scurry County's 7.6 percent is based on TEC estimates of 8,677 individuals employed and 710 unemployed but seeking employment. Those figures combined equal a civilian labor force of 9,387, of which 710 is 7.6 percent.

In July, the TEC estimated that 8,592 from a labor force of 9,231 were employed. Some 639 individuals were seeking employment.

Scurry County's highest rate of unemployment in 1989 thus far occurred in January and was 8.9 percent. Monthly figures included 6.1 percent unemployment in February, 5.9 in March, 6.8 in April, 5.8 in May and 6.9 in June.

Borden County had an August unemployment rate of 7.6, down from 8.4 in July. According to TEC estimates, there were 471 employed out of a possible work force of 510.

Unemployment figures for the other five counties surrounding Scurry were:

NOLAN — 8.2 percent, based on a work force of 8,272 with 7,593 employed and 679 seeking employment.

MITCHELL — 9.8 percent, based on a work force of 4,142 with 3,736 employed and 406 seeking employment.

FISHER — 5.2 percent, based on a work force of 2,440 with 12,312 employed and 128 seeking employment.

STONEWALL — 2.8 percent, (see TEC, page 8)

Event continues through Saturday...

Fair opens to large crowd

The Scurry County Fair had a better-than-average opening day Thursday, and the crowds are expected to keep coming today as it builds toward its traditional crescendo on Saturday.

Fair association president Kent Mills said this morning that he has no way of knowing what the attendance is, however, because no admission is charged. "In this place, you could guess and miss 'em by a thousand," Mills said, referring to the inside of the county coliseum, where the fair booths and stage are.

There is a carnival midway on the parking lot west of the coliseum, and numerous events are being held in the coliseum's agricultural annex, on its east side.

Mills said Friday night attendance is usually off somewhat because of competition with a Snyder High School football game but that it should be greater this year because the school has an open date, although both Ira and Hermleigh will be playing.

Students at Western represent 99 counties

Scurry County accounts for about one-third of the students enrolled at Western Texas College for the fall semester, but the county is just one of 99 represented.

An additional 37 come from states besides Texas and four are from foreign countries.

The total fall enrollment is 1,144.

Students enrolled from Scurry County number 427 students. Mitchell County is represented by 101 students and Nolan County has 98.

Other area counties with 10 or more students are Fisher with 50, Jones with 34, Haskell with 24, Taylor with 22, Stonewall with 19, Tom Green with 17, Runnels with 16, Garza and Lubbock with 15 each, Kent with 11 and Dickens and Shackelford with 10 each.

Fair entertainment opened Thursday with a 7 p.m. performance by the Spanish Folkloric Dancers on the big stage on the coliseum's east side, and the Robert Allen Band played a street dance outside from 8 to 10 p.m.

Piccolo the Clown, from San Angelo, was to entertain on stage at various times this morning and afternoon, and magician Lonnie Chevie Jr. of Abilene will perform at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Sincerely His, a gospel and contemporary music group from Lubbock Christian University, will entertain at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. today, and the Snyder High School Swingers will be on stage for a 30-minute set at 7 p.m.

Local country and rock band Southern Nights will perform from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

A prime fair attraction is always the mule show, which will begin at 7 p.m. today in the ag annex, where the children's "Critters Parade" starts at 7:30.

Saturday's entertainment lineup includes the Senior Citizens Center's Kitchen Band at 3 p.m. and Sunshine Choir at 5 p.m.

Local band Prairie Fire will play from 7 to 9 p.m., and singer Cindy Nix will perform from 9 to 10 p.m.

The junior lamb show and junior steer and heifer shows will be held from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday morning in the ag annex, and the annual horse show will begin there at 1 p.m. A horseshoe pitching contest will start at 7 p.m. Saturday in the annex.

Deep Creek domino tournament finals will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday in the coliseum's Room A, baked goods will be judged at 10 a.m., and a free street dance featuring rock music will be outside from 8 to 11 p.m. Saturday.

Mink—A tranquilizer for women.

Mother—the one who, on Christmas Day, separates the men from the toys.

Mummy—An Egyptian who was pressed for time.

Old Timer—Someone who can remember when it took a lot more onions to smother a $5 steak.

Pedestrian—A man who ignores his wife when she tells him they need two cars.

Practical nurse—One who marries a rich, elderly patient.

Silly game—Any that your wife can beat you at.

Virus—What people get who can't spell pneumonia.

Q—When is the Little Miss Snyder pageant? Who can enter?

A—The pageant is scheduled for Oct. 21 in the high school auditorium and is open to young ladies residing in Scurry County or enrolled in a school district within the county who are one month to 17 years of age. A competition for boys will also be held. Entry blanks and further information are available at the chamber of commerce.

In Brief

Blast

DEAL, England (AP) — An explosion today at the Royal Marines School of Music killed 11 people, injured 22 and left one missing, police said. The IRA claimed responsibility for the blast.

More than 100 rescue workers dug through the rubble of a three-story building that collapsed in the explosion. The blast also damaged or destroyed dozens of homes adjacent to the barracks near Deal.

Eleven people were killed, 22 people were injured and one was still unaccounted for six hours after the explosion, said Chief Inspector Alan Butterfield of Kent police, which was coordinating the rescue effort.

The explosion occurred at 8:26 a.m. in a lounge in the barracks. One of the bands had just stopped playing on the parade ground, said a ministry spokesman, speaking anonymously in keeping with British custom.

Returns $100,000...

Honest maid honored

CLEBURNE, Texas (AP) — Whether she likes it or not, Nancy Carroll has become a heroine of sorts.

The story of the Fort Worth maid who discovered $100,000 at a Fort Worth bank and turned it in — and received no reward at the time — has made its way to the small towns of Vacaville, Calif., and York, Pa., and overseas to Munich, West Germany.

And this week she was honored in Cleburne, where high school teacher Larue Barnes proclaimed the day as Nancy Carroll Day. Police escorted Ms. Carroll to a reception Wednesday morning at Cleburne High School, where a sign outside said: "Welcome, Nancy Carroll. Honesty pays."

Students from Ms. Barnes' class in mathematics of consumer economics gathered to hear Ms. Carroll's story. The students brought food, drinks and long-stemmed yellow roses.

"When we heard about it, we were real excited. There's very few people that would turn it in," said Sandy Brown, 16. "I would have turned it in, but that's a whole lot of money."

Mayor Pro Tem Dale Hannah awarded Ms. Carroll a certificate of appreciation from the city.

"Even though she's a resident of Fort Worth, we're proud to have her in Cleburne," he said. "We have outstanding citizens that we honor at certain times, but this is very unusual."

The reception ended with a presentation by third-graders from Adams Elementary School. Each wrote Ms. Carroll a letter of praise. "We really, really love you. ... I'm so proud of you. ... God bless you," wrote Kevin Webster, 8.

Ms. Carroll, who was overwhelmed by all the attention said she's just trying to keep a low profile.

"Gee, I'm sitting on top of the world," she said. "It's not going to last forever. I'm enjoying it while I can."

Cards, letters and money — more than $700 — have been sent from people with one message: "Thanks for being honest." She has carefully preserved the letters, newspaper clippings and copies of the checks in a new photo album.

An Arlington resident wrote, "When I read the story about you, I cried tears of joy."

A man from Munich wrote, "Nancy Carroll should be acknowledged for her demonstration of what a human being ultimately is." Attached was a check for $100.

A plain white envelope with $25 was left by an anonymous fan at Ms. Carroll's work place.

Ms. Carroll said the praise hasn't come without criticism. Some people have called her honesty plain stupidity.

One woman, with tears in her eyes, told Ms. Carroll she had "passed up her blessing by doing the wrong thing."

Bus mishap...

Death toll hits 19

ALTON, Texas (AP) — This small South Texas town prepared today to bury the first of 19 victims of a school bus accident as investigators try to determine why a truck rolled through a stop sign and rammed the bus into a water-filled pit.

Funerals were scheduled for 3 p.m. today for at least two of the dead students, said the Rev. Frank Gomez of San Martin de Porres Catholic Church in Alton, about 15 miles from the Mexican border.

Investigators Thursday evening combed the accident scene and prepared to examine the vehicles for clues as to what went wrong. Hidalgo County District Attorney Rene Guerra, who visited the scene, said the case will be presented to the next grand jury.

"Presently, there may be some criminal negligence here," he said. "It might possibly be involuntary manslaughter if recklessness can be attributed to the driver or the company."

The bus carrying 81 children was pushed more than 40 feet after being struck by a soft-drink delivery truck that ran a stop sign at about 7:40 Thursday morning. Bus driver Gilberto Pena had picked up the last students when the bus was hit at the intersection just east of Alton.

Pena and four students were in intensive care at area hospitals. More than 50 area residents gathered at the edge of the pit until dark Thursday, many still having trouble believing what happened.

"Half the school was crying," said Rosie Gil, 15, talking to friends at the tragic scene Thursday evening.

She said she knew seven victims, including two from her algebra class at Mission High. David Rayburn with the National Transportation Safety Board said the investigation would include weighing the soft-drink truck and the school bus.

Investigators from the Texas Attorney General's office also probed the roadway and edge of the caliche pit, which had no fence or railing.

Summit date considered

JACKSON-HOLE, Wyo. (AP)

Secretary of State James A. Baker and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze meet today to consider a date for a summit next year and hammer out details of agreements to cut nuclear, chemical and conventional forces.

"We want to preserve and strengthen the improving international environment," Baker said as he arrived Thursday night at this mountain resort for two days of talks and a half-day of fishing.

Shevardnadze told reporters on his arrival aboard a U.S. Air Force jet that his meeting with President Bush at the White House on Thursday was "a good beginning" for the talks.

"We see the emergence of good prospects," the Soviet minister said, although Bush said no summit was likely until near the middle of 1990. "We need some fresh ideas and hopefully the good fresh air of Wyoming will help to bring them forward," Shevardnadze said.

Shevardnadze, speaking to reporters after his meeting with Bush, said, "We have concluded that a summit is necessary. There is no doubt about that."

Bush said in an ABC-TV interview Thursday night that there would be a summit with Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev. Asked whether it would be early next year, he replied, "I wouldn't say early."

Baker said, "We hope to have a general time frame for a summit which we could announce while we're in Wyoming."

A top Soviet arms control negotiator, Viktor Karpov, told reporters that a "deadlock" over Star Wars strategic defenses was blocking a proposed Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty (START).

A senior U.S. official, however, later said, "I don't think it is correct to say there is a deadlock."

The Soviets want the Americans to spell out how they will adhere to an agreement reached at the December 1987 summit that both sides will honor the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty that curbs strategic defenses.

Dear Abby

Son's Friend Enjoys Free Ride on Family Vacations

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEARABBY: We are an ordinary middle-class family. Our older children are married, and we have one son at home who just turned 15.

We like to take vacations, and our son likes to take a friend with him. For the last four years, the same friend has been going with us. (I'll call him Buddy.) We always pay Buddy's way as though he were a member of the family. I'm talking about food, motel room, which he shares with our son, and whatever it costs to get through the gate at some parks.

We never thought about it until this year, but we resent the fact that Buddy's parents have never offered to pay part of the lodging for their son, gas for our car, meals or anything else. They aren't any worse off financially than we are. They never go on vacations, so they aren't able to invite our son anywhere. They always thank us when we bring Buddy home and tell us he'd never get to go anywhere if it weren't for us.

We're not greedy or cheap, but this kid practically lives at our house during the year. I'm not even sure if it's proper to expect anything. I wish our son could have as nice a free vacation as Buddy gets. What are your thoughts on this?

COLORADO QUESTION

DEAR QUESTION: It would be most thoughtful and considerate if Buddy's parents paid a little something toward their son's vacations, but look at it this way: Your son has a compatible companion on his vacation trips, which makes those vacations more enjoyable for everyone, including you. All things considered, it's a pretty good deal for all parties. Especially Buddy.

DEAR ABBY: You missed the mark by a country mile when you admonished an affectionate couple to "control themselves" in public lest some onlookers say, "Why don't you two get a room?" (This couple was married, mind you, and spending the weekend at the summer home of his parents.)

Abby, why should they take their cue from his prudish, uptight parents?

Let me quote Henri Matisse: "Nothing is sweeter than love, nothing stronger, nothing loftier, nothing grander, nothing pleasanter, nothing fuller, nothing better in heaven or on earth."

Which is to say, that to observe a couple holding hands in public, or bestowing a gentle kiss one on the other is indeed a joy to behold, and in this world of ever increasing hatefulness, a welcome sign that there may yet be hope for the human condition.

G.G.L. IN LOS ANGELES

DEAR G.G.L.: "All the world loves a lover." (Emerson)
"Discretion is the better part of valor." (Shakespeare)

"Moderation in all things is the epitome of wisdom." (Van Buren)

DEAR ABBY: Concerning the bride's problem of guests "inviting" extra people by filling in the blank on the response card where it has "number of guests":

When my husband and I married 16 years ago, someone suggested that we send out invitations with the blank on the response cards already filled in. This, we were told, would clear up any confusion as to how many guests were expected.

Well, in our case, it didn't work. One couple crossed out the "2" we had filled in and made it "3" because we had "forgotten" their young son.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 30-year-old female. I've had diabetes since I was 7. At the age of 17, I developed red spots on my lower legs that were diagnosed as necrobiosis lipoidica. A dermatologist treated me with cortisone injections that didn't provide much improvement.

A dozen doctors, one of whom is a diabetic specialist, says nothing can be done, yet I'm tired of blue jeans and knee socks in the summer to avoid people staring at the unsightly spots. Do you have any suggestions?

DEAR READER: Necrobiosis lipoidica diabetorum is an uncommon skin disorder seen in diabetics. It consists of oval, red plaques on the front surface of the lower legs. These lesions are painless and harmless, but they readily ulcerate, if injured, and can become infected. The cause is unknown, but the skin changes may be due to microangiopathy, poor circulation caused by blocked blood vessels in various body organs. To my knowledge, the condition is untreatable but may improve if the diabetes is brought under strict control.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Diabetes Mellitus." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Our 6-year-old granddaughter is losing her hair. It is coming out steadily and getting worse. She loves fruits and vegetables and is not fond of sweets. Thyroid tests are negative. Her doctors suggest we wait and see. Please help.

DEAR READER: Children often go through stages when they lose excessive amounts of hair. This can result from fever and illness, for example. If your granddaughter is in other ways healthy, I think you can take the doctors' advice to wait for new hair to grow. If, after a few weeks, the hair loss continues, ask for a referral to a dermatologist. The child could have a scalp condition — eczema, for instance — that could cause hair loss and would need treatment.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband's urologist diagnosed him with a malignant prostatic tumor. The doctor did a needle biopsy and IVP test. No other blood work, X-rays or CAT scans were done. What is the proper procedure?

DEAR READER: I believe your husband's urologist followed standard practice by obtaining tissue (biopsy) for analysis and performing an IVP (kidney X-ray) to check for urinary obstruction. Some specialists might have investigated further with a blood count, chemical screening analysis (to examine other substances in the blood), and a chest X-ray and bone scan (to see if the tumor had spread). The urologist may feel confident that he diagnosed your husband's problem at an early stage; therefore, the doctor may choose to wait, before obtaining further tests, and see if your husband develops any symptoms to suggest the tumor has spread. Ordinarily, prostatic cancer is slow-growing and will not cause problems for many months or years.

Because you are obviously concerned about your husband's condition, I urge you to have a conference with the doctor. You can question the specialist about further tests and the danger signals to look for in the future. To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "The Prostate Gland." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Bush promises to veto tax hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush says he'll veto any Democratic attempt to raise taxes for the wealthiest Americans to pay for other tax incentives.

House Democratic leaders outlined on Thursday a tax plan that would raise taxes for the richest 600,000 couples and individuals to pay for new tax deductions for Individual Retirement Accounts. Their plan also includes a scaled-down version of the capital gains tax cut sought by Bush.

In Lubbock...

Mystery shrouds slaying

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Mystery continues to shroud the deaths of a teen-age boy, his girlfriend and her parents in what the police chief and the boy's mother say was an occult-related murder-suicide pact.

Police said Thursday they do not know who fired the shots that killed Jesse and Josie Medlin late Tuesday afternoon. Police appear to disagree whether the occult had anything to do with the slaying of 18-year-old Rebecca Medlin and the suicide of her 16-year-old boyfriend, Eric Freeman, as they made love in a motel room a few hours later.

Freeman's mother, Eve Coleman, had reported to police Saturday that her son had called her to say he and Miss Medlin had signed a suicide pact and planned to kill the Medlins. She also told police Eric was involved in drugs and satanic worship, according to a police report filed Saturday.

Police Chief Tom Nichols said in a news conference Thursday that he believed Miss Medlin was involved in the occult.

"There were ... I'll just call them instruments that you wouldn't normally find in a teen-age girl's bedroom," he said.

But Nichols would not specify what was found in the Texas Tech freshman's bedroom.

Police Col. Ray Huffman said he doesn't know much about the occult, but that he saw no obvious signs of devil worship or other occult activities in Miss Medlin's room or in the motel room where she and Freeman died.

"I don't want to go into what may or may not be in the room," he said. "I didn't see any burning candles or anything. I didn't see any chicken bones or anything."

Huffman said police still are trying to find out how Freeman, a school dropout, and Miss Medlin, a 1989 Coronado High honors graduate who was majoring in business law at Tech, met each other and began dating.

And they want to know why Miss Medlin wanted to kill her parents, and how she apparently enlisted Freeman's aid. Ms. Coleman told police Miss Medlin had written letters detailing how she would kill her parents.

"We don't have any (such letters) in our possession," Huffman said. "That isn't to say there aren't any."

Police found a letter in the house in which Miss Medlin told her mother she loved her.

The grisly story began unraveling about noon Wednesday, when employees of the Stadium Motel across the street from the Tech campus called police after they couldn't rouse the occupants of Room 1.

After removing a chair that was blocking the door, police entered the room to find Miss Medlin on the bed with a gunshot to the chin and Freeman on top of her. He apparently had shot her, then placed the gun in his mouth and pulled the trigger, as they engaged in sexual intercourse, according to police.

A .38-caliber revolver was found in Freeman's hand, a .25-caliber semi-automatic was in Miss Medlin's purse and a .357 Magnum revolver was found in the trunk of her brown Mustang, Huffman said.

Whooping cough hits Alamo City

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Bexar County is undergoing the worst outbreak of whooping cough in at least four years with 35 cases reported so far, making the county second in the state in the number of incidents of the sometimes fatal disease.

Travis County leads the state with 39 cases so far this year. It is the worst outbreak for the Austin area in at least 10 years.

The most recent victim of the contagious bacterial infection in Bexar County was a 2-year-old boy who appeared to be recovering after being diagnosed and treated with antibiotics last week at Baptist Medical Center, Metropolitan Health District officials said.

"Of the 35 cases, 22 wound up in the hospital," said Hector Gonzalez, health district immunization administrator.

Of the 22 hospitalized, 12 had pneumonia and two others had epileptic-like brain seizures as a complication of the disease, which properly is known as pertussis.

"Pertussis swells up the windpipe, and you don't get enough oxygen to the brain so you lack oxygen and you get a seizure," Gonzalez said.

Permanent brain damage, impaired coordination or death can result, although no deaths have been reported in Bexar County for 1989.

"The message here is that parents need to bring their children in on time for their inoculations, and continue them on schedule," Gonzalez said.

The patients, mostly babies and toddlers from the West and South sides, ranged in age from 5 weeks to 4 years old, health officials told the San Antonio Light.

Although many patients were too young to be adequately vaccinated, others could have been but were not, Gonzalez said.

Judge's ruling on life stirs debate

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A judge's ruling in a divorce custody battle over seven frozen human embryos that life begins at conception has inflamed the debate on when life starts.

Abortion foes took heart at the Tennessee ruling Thursday that custody of the embryos could be awarded as if they were children.

Regina Smith, executive director of the Pro-Life Council of Connecticut, called the court's decision "a victory for unborn children."

"This ruling reflects what profilers have been saying for years — that life begins at conception and should be protected by the laws of our land," Ms. Smith said.

But those who support a woman's right to have an abortion called the decision wrong-headed and found it at odds with the U.S. Supreme Court decision in Roe vs. Wade that legalized abortion.

"That may be the personal view of this particular judge, but it has no basis in law," said Kate Michelman, executive director of the National Abortion Rights Action League in Washington. "It also has dangerous implications for reproductive freedom in America."

Blount County Circuit Judge W. Dale Young awarded temporary custody of the embryos to Mary Sue Davis, who wants them implanted in her so she can bear a child. The judge rejected the arguments of her estranged husband, Junior Lewis Davis, who sued for divorce and sought an order preventing implantation.

Child support, visitation and final custody will be decided if a birth results, the judge wrote.

Davis, 31, vowed to appeal to the Tennessee Court of Appeals.

"They are going to force me to become a father against my wishes," he said.

Mrs. Davis, 29, who now lives near Titusville, Fla., said she would wait to try to get pregnant until appeals were over. She said the earliest she would try would be in January.

Charles Clifford, the husband's attorney, said he believed this was the first time a judge declared an embryo a human being. He said the ruling conflicts with the Roe vs. Wade decision, which said that a fetus in the early stages of development lacks legal rights.

The Roe decision "contains some explicit language that says that a fetus, which of course is much further along than an embryo, is not a human being for the purposes of the United States Constitution," Clifford said.

The judge said he believed Roe vs. Wade didn't apply to the Davis case because it dealt with the constitutionality of abortion, not conception.

"From fertilization, the cells of a human embryo are differentiated, unique and specialized to the highest degree of distinction," the judge said. Thus, he said, "Human life begins at conception."

Hedy Weinberg, executive director of the Tennessee American Civil Liberties Union, said there is no consensus among doctors and scientists supporting the judge's conclusion.

The president, interviewed live Thursday night on the ABC-TV program "Prime Time Live," was asked what he would do if Democrats on Capitol Hill succeeded in passing their own tax bill.

"I will veto a rate increase," Bush said. "You heard it for the first time here, but I have sent that signal up to the Hill."

Bush also defended his proposal for a cut in the capital gains rate, saying, "It is not a tax break for the rich." The House Ways and Means Committee approved a version of the president's plan.

House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., said Thursday that Democrats were ready to tackle the tax hike accusations.

"I like how the lines are drawn," Gephardt said. "The Bush proposal gives a tax break for the rich, paid for by the middle class. Our proposal gives Individual Retirement Accounts to the middle class paid for by the super-wealthy."

The Democratic proposal, which House leadership plans to bring before the full House next week, would:

- Eliminate restrictions passed in 1986 so that all workers, regardless of income, could have a deductible IRA plan. The money could be withdrawn before retirement without paying a penalty if used to finance the down payment on a first home or for college education.
- Pay for the IRAs and reduce the deficit by raising taxes on the nation's wealthiest 600,000 couples and individuals.

Under current law, the tax rate for upper-middle-income Americans is 33 percent, but it drops back to 28 percent for those at the uppermost income levels.

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal investigators are turning their attention to the flight crew of a USAir jetliner after cockpit recorders failed to show why the pilot aborted takeoff, causing the airliner to slide into the East River, killing two passengers.

The New York Times and the (New York) Daily News today quote unidentified authorities as saying the co-pilot said the pilot was "mumbling" and "acting irrationally" just before takeoff.

Reports said when the pilot left the plane he refused to speak to investigators on the advice of his lawyer. The pilot and co-pilot have the right to decline interviews, but the National Transportation Safety Board can subpoena them, says NTSB spokeswoman Rachel Halterman.

The Times said the co-pilot gave his report to Port Authority police, but Port Authority spokesman John Hughes said he knew of no interviews that agency police had with the crew.

The NTSB said it hoped to interview the crew today.

The crash of Flight 5050 late Wednesday split the fuselage of the plane, which was headed for Charlotte, N.C. The tail of the plane was partly submerged 10 feet from the runway while the nose skidded onto a trestle that held runway lights.

Of the 59 survivors, including all six crew members, 45 people were injured and eight remained hospitalized as of Thursday, according to USAir.

USAir Chairman Edwin Colodny declined to discuss any possible causes of the crash, saying the NTSB had jurisdiction.

"The captain is taking advice of his own counsel," Colodny said

SHS idle; gearing up for Littlefield

"I don't like open dates," says Snyder football coach David Baugh. "Your team plays better when they're used to playing."

"Last year we played real well after our open date, but I've seen a lot of teams that lose their momentum," he said.

The Tigers are off this week after an 0-2 start to the 1989 grid season.

Week number one saw the Black and Gold crew fall 24-8 to 5-A tough guys, Lubbock Coronado. The second loss for the Tigers was a last-second heartbreaker that could just have easily been a "W".

Game number two, against Levelland, ended with the score 14-13. Snyder scored a touchdown on a 12-yard pass from Toby Goodwin to Mark King with :21 left on the scoreboard clock.

Game officials thought that the Snyder team and King celebrated the score too enthusiastically and called concurrent 15-yard penalties that made the try for point from the Levelland 32, instead of the two yard line.

With those games behind them, the SHS gridders prepare for next Friday's match in Littlefield against the Wildcats.

"We've been practicing against some of the things that Littlefield does, this week," said Baugh.

"We've been trying to concentrate on our fundamentals, though. We've spent a lot of time working on our defensive keys," he continued.

"Offensively, we have spent a lot of practice time on our quick side attack."

Games involving district teams include Stephenville at Sweetwater, El Paso Hanks at Monahans, Vernon at San Angelo Lake View, Plainview at Big Spring, Lamesa at Andrews and Kermit at Ft. Stockton.

Cowboys' QB Walsh seeking swap before trade deadline

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Rookie quarterback Steve Walsh says he hopes the Dallas Cowboys will trade him to another National Football League team in the next three weeks, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported today.

The newspaper also reported that Walsh told them Thursday he would pursue the trade

Boosters sell memberships

WTC's Booster Club is in the midst of their annual membership drive.

Club members are currently circulating applications for membership, as well as applications for donations to different scholarship funds at WTC.

For a fee of $500, members receive the "500 Club" package, which includes 20 basketball game tickets, a family pass to the WTC swimming pool, good Sept. through May, and a booster club membership.

"300 Club" applicants get the same bundle as in the $500 category, except they receive only 10 basketball tickets. The cost of the "300 Club" membership is $300.

At $150, the "150 Club" includes a pair of tickets, the swimming pass and the club membership.

For $100, interested applicants could get four tickets and the membership for the season.

Other packages are available for $50 and $20.

Boosters are also selling WTC jackets. At a cost of $18 each, buyers receive a green, unlined jacket with the WTC logo on the back.

The jackets come in sizes youth through XXL.

Interested parties can call Shirley Fritz at 573-6679 or write the club at South College Avenue, Snyder, Texas, 79549.

Also, scholarship donations are being solicited by the club.

Donors may give to any of a number of funds to aid in the education of Western Texas College students.

For more information on tax deductible scholarship gifts, call the WTC Athletic Office at 573-8511, ext. 283.

possibility later this month when he meets with his agent, Marvin Demoff.

Walsh said he needs to discuss the matter with Demoff because the NFL trading deadline is Oct. 17.

The former University of Miami star said he planned to urge Demoff to fly to Dallas to meet with him and possibly Cowboys coach Jimmy Johnson.

"I'm going to ask Marvin to come out here in a week or so, because I think Marvin knows about some of these things," Walsh said. "For the type of deal Jimmy wants to work out, Marvin is the guy to help do it."

"He's probably one of the few agents capable of pulling off the kind of deal the Cowboys are looking to make," Walsh said. "He's good at that."

Demoff was involved in the trade that sent quarterback Jim Everett to the Los Angeles Rams from the Houston Oilers after he could not reach agreement with Houston on a contract.

Rodeo team at N.M. event

The Western Texas College rodeo team is competing this weekend in a rodeo at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

Three WTC cowboys are in the top three in their chosen events after Friday's first performance.

Tye Roberson has a grip on first place in steer wrestling with an amazing time of 3.8 seconds.

Darrin Cook captured the top spot in the bull riding event with a score of 77.

Another WTC bull rider, Ted Cooley, is in third position with a 69.

Cook, also a steer wrestler, garnered a 17.6 in that event.

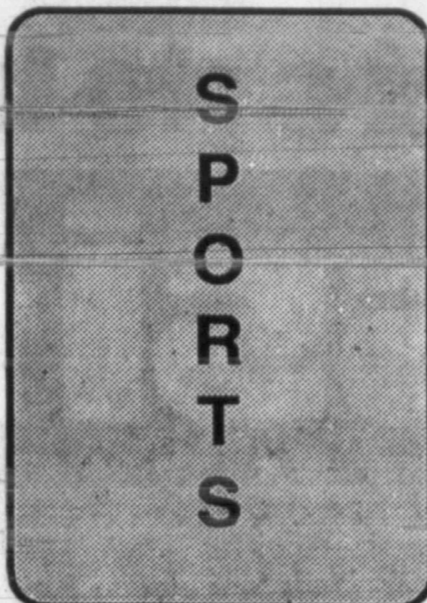

Shane Gulbransen and Shawn Tibbs were bucked off and received no scores in the saddle bronc competition, as did Aaron Perkins in the bareback riding.

Bull riders getting thrown were Steven Moorman and Kevin Wilson.

The only woman attending the event for WTC is Allison Sharp.

Sharp had a 'no time' in the breakaway roping and a time of 28.0 in the barrel racing.

The long go continues today and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The top ten in each event will advance to Sunday's short go, slated for 1 p.m.

Texas at SMU on TV...

Eight SWC teams in action

Odds makers don't believe in football miracles striking the same team twice in one season.

A case in point are the Southern Methodist Mustangs whose "miracle on Mockingbird Lane" last week gave them a 31-30 victory over Connecticut, their first since a two-year NCAA-imposed exile for paying players.

SMU coach Forrest Gregg, who played on three Super Bowl winners, called it "the finest victory

I have ever experienced."

The well-rested Texas Longhorns, who haven't played since Sept. 4, are rated 40-point favorites over the Mustangs, who start 18 freshmen, in Saturday's 12:07 p.m. (Raycom TV) game at Ownby Stadium.

All 23,733 seats have been sold to witness the possibility of the Mustangs pulling off another surprise.

However, Texas isn't Division

1-AA Connecticut.

Texas, which lost 27-6 to powerful Colorado, doesn't consider SMU a 90-pound weakling.

The Longhorns have yet to score a touchdown this year. When he heard how much they were favored, Texas offensive coordinator Lynn Amedee said "Right now we couldn't score 40 points against thin air."

In other games involving SWC teams on Saturday, winless Baylor tries to bounce back from defeats to Oklahoma and Georgia in a 7 p.m. home opener against the Kansas Jayhawks; unbeaten Arkansas and Mississippi tangle again for the 36th time in an 81-year rivalry at Jackson, Miss., in a 6 p.m. game; unbeaten and surprising Texas Tech tries to make it a non-conference sweep for the Red Raiders in a 6:30 p.m. meeting with Oklahoma State at Stillwater; Houston travels to Tempe, Ariz., in a 9:30 p.m. meeting with Arizona State; Texas Christian hosts Southern Mississippi in a 7:30 p.m. game at Amon Carter Stadium; and Rice entertains Southwestern Louisiana in a 6 p.m. game at Rice Stadium.

Odds makers made Baylor a 20-point pick over Kansas; Houston a 7-point choice over Arizona State; Oklahoma State a 5-point nod over Tech; Rice a field goal favorite over Southwestern Louisiana; Arkansas an 8-point pick over Ole Miss; and Southern Mississippi a 5-point choice over TCU.

Texas A&M is the only school in the nine-team league idle.

Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes knows about tough places to play. He has to take the Raiders into Stillwater where Oklahoma State (0-2) plays tough.

"We are going into a hornet's nest," Dykes said.

Snyder loses To Steers JV

Snyder junior varsity gridders travelled to Big Spring Thursday, and took a 41-16 pummeling at the hands of the JV Steers.

"We were, basically, outplayed in every phase of the game," said JV coach Bud Birks.

"We simply have to get back to basics."

Brian Brunson and Daniel Espinosa scored for the Tigers with Jason Rios connecting to Michael Torres for one two-point conversion and Joe Martinez running the ball in for the other.

Snyder will enjoy an open date next Thursday.

Eighth graders battle Bucks for win and tie

Snyder's eighth grade football teams hosted Breckenridge Thursday and came away from the confrontations with a win and a tie.

The "A" team tied the Buckaroos 14-14 and the "B" team bounced Breck 34-6.

"I couldn't ask any more from our kids," said coach Roger Goodwin. "We should have won the "A" game and I take full responsibility for the tie."

"The effort put forth by both groups was tremendous," he continued, "some mental mistakes hurt us, though."

"Next time we line up we will be a different football team because our kids will be well coached on the defensive side of the ball," said Goodwin. "We spent too much time in practice on offense."

"We have a good bunch of eighth grade players," he concluded.

Breckenridge scored first in the "A" game, taking a 6-0 advantage into the third quarter.

Keith Orosco of Snyder knotted the score at 6-6 on a 45 yard TD scamper and Sullivan Daniels gave the Tigers a 12-6 lead midway through the fourth period with a 70 yard scoring run.

Tony Hernandez added a run to tack on the two-point conversion after Daniels' touchdown to give the Black and Gold a lead of eight points.

The Buckaroos scored a late six pointer and added a two-point conversion of their own to pull even with the Tigers as the game ended.

Craig Lang, Mike Bernal, Tony Hernandez, Brad Hart and Jim Pat Griffin were cited by Goodwin as having an outstanding game for Snyder.

Brian Gantt's five-yard run for paydirt opened the scoring for the "B" team. Gantt put the Tigers up by six early in the first quarter.

Spencer Tratree made it 12-0 in favor of Snyder with a 15 yard ramble for six points. Bill Cisneros bulled over the goal line for the two-pointer to make it Snyder 14, Breckenridge 0.

Jesse Lara was the next junior high griddler to score, getting in on a six-yard run. Lara's TD and Tratree's two point conversion that followed gave the Tigers a 22-0 advantage.

The last two scores for the home-townners came on passes from quarterback, Steven Campbell.

Campbell hit Tratree for a 25 yard touchdown pass followed by a Campbell to Brance Pierce scoring strike that covered 50 yards to give SJHS their final tally.

"B" team players singled out for having an excellent game were Steven Campbell, Brandon Waters, Daniel Fish, Richie Morin and Ruben Delao.

The eighth graders travel to Big Spring next Thursday for a tilt with the Steers. The "B" squad will kick-off at 4:30 p.m. and the "A" team gets under way at 6 p.m.

Frosh edge S'water, 16-12

Snyder's freshman grid team defeated Sweetwater here Thursday night, 16-12.

Coach Milton Ham of Snyder said of the win, "It was a good team effort. We won over a good team. The boys played hard through the whole game."

Mike Fields opened the scoring with a 32 yard TD run for Snyder. Santos Gutierrez added a two-point PAT to give the Snyder frosh an 8-0 advantage.

Sweetwater scored right at the end of the half on a 50 yard screen pass to tighten the score to 8-6 at the intermission.

Sweetwater gained the lead with a 60 yard pass play in the third period to set the score at 12-8.

Snyder worked the ball down the field in the fourth quarter with their final TD coming on a 3 yard plunge by fullback Wayland Harrison.

Gutierrez added the two extra points and Snyder regained the lead at 16-12.

The frosh defense made a goal line stand stopping the Mustangs inside the Snyder five with less than a minute remaining in the game.

Snyder's offense took over on downs and ran out the clock to end the game.

The ninth graders host Breckenridge next Thursday with kick-off time slated for 5:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

The "B" team contest originally planned for Thursday in Hamlin has been cancelled.

Ira JV wins 19-6 vs. Trent

It was a good night for the Ira junior varsity and the Haynes family of Ira as brothers Chris and Toby accounted for 18 points in the Bulldogs' 19-6 victory over the Trent Gorillas.

Chris Haynes, usually the Ira QB, was injured early in the contest and Toby came in to direct the team in big brother's absence.

After a short rest, Chris came back in at split end, where he was playing as he pulled down two of Toby's passes for 'Dogs scores and ran one in for six on a fake reverse.

Michael Lathem scored on an extra point attempt on a pass from Toby Haynes to round out the Ira scoring.

Ira's junior high team also took on the Gorillas, Thursday, absorbing a 21-6 loss.

Ira's lone score came on a Tom Sanchez sweep for a 15 yard touchdown.

The Ira JV is idle this week and the junior high squad travels to McCaulley for a 6 p.m. battle next Thursday.

Soccer group raising funds

Players in the Snyder Soccer Association are currently raising money by selling food and gift items to finance new uniforms for next season.

"We are trying to keep the registration fees down and buy new uniforms for the players," said secretary of the soccer association Janet Polk.

A gift catalog from NASCO 21, of Springfield Tn., entitled Incredible Edibles, is available from soccer players and parents.

Gifts range in price from $3.50 to $18.

Soccer players earn gifts for themselves through sales of the items in the catalog.

Gift items may be bought until Sept. 26.

Hugo's destruction is widespread flooding on the barrier islands off the coast, which bore the brunt of Hugo's fury.

In addition to flooding, fires from natural gas leaks erupted in low-lying Charleston, where the first shots of the Civil War were fired in 1861. The National Guard patrolled tree-lined streets, some of which were under several feet of water.

Seventy miles up the coast near Myrtle Beach, the elite vacation retreat community of Garden City Beach was smashed, officials said. It was among the communities under an evacuation order before Hugo hit.

"Garden City for all practical purposes is gone," said M.L. Love, a Horry County administrator who toured the small unincorporated resort town. Love said some larger buildings re-

Car fire

Firemen worked for about 30 minutes to extinguish a fire in the engine compartment of a car Thursday morning in the 2800 Block of Ave. J.

A department spokesman said the vehicle was a 1974 Buick owned by Ginger Lambert. The call came in at 8:45 a.m., and firemen returned to the station at 9:30 a.m.

Van towed

A van had to be towed from the scene of a two-vehicle collision at 5:34 p.m. Thursday at the intersection of the East Hwy. and Ave. G.

A 1985 Ford van driven by Gloria P. Peppers of 3612 Ave. V was in collision with a 1967 Ford Thunderbird driven by Abel Barron of 4018 Eastridge Dr., after which the van had to be towed, police said.

DISMISSALS: Ethel Rudder, Carrie Richardson and baby boy, Eugene Ewalt, Barbara Allen.

Births

Jim and Carrie Richardson are the parents of a baby boy, Wesley Aaron, weighing 9 pounds, 8 ounces, and measuring 23 inches long. He was born Tuesday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Wesley is welcomed home by a brother, Bradley Alan. Grandparents are Lawton and Patsy Taylor and Doris Richardson of Abilene. Great-grandparents are Mrs. W.E. McDowell and Mrs. Orville Taylor.

mained standing on the oceanfront, but otherwise destruction extended "as far as I could see."

As dawn broke, the first reports of deaths from the storm in the United States began coming in as rescuers found bodies in the wreckage. Four people died in South Carolina and one in North Carolina, officials said. Earlier, 26 people died as the storm surged across the Caribbean.

One man died in Eastover outside Columbia, S.C., when a tree fell on a car, and a person died when a residence collapsed in Berkeley County near Charleston. A 9-year-old girl died in a house fire near Myrtle Beach that officials said was storm-related, and Riley said an elderly man was found beneath the rubble of a Charleston house.

A 6-month-old baby was killed in Union County, N.C., when a tree fell on a house, officials there said.

The hurricane passed through the city with winds of 135 mph and gusts even higher, the National Hurricane Center reported. Riley called the hurricane a "disaster of extraordinary dimensions."

Thirty major buildings in downtown Charleston were flattened, houses collapsed all over the city, and several people were trapped beneath a collapsed condominium complex, said Elizabeth Tam of the Charleston County Police.

Police were at the scene, but no further details on injuries was available at midmorning.

The White House granted a request from South Carolina Gov. Carroll Campbell for federal emergency aid.

"It is the worst storm, the worst disaster, I've ever seen anywhere," Campbell told ABC's "Good Morning America." "We've got a lot of people missing. We don't know how bad it

Police won't pursue case

A 46-year-old man was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital emergency room by Snyder EMS Ambulance Service Thursday morning where police investigated an initial report that he had been assaulted.

The man had suffered a swollen jaw and left cheek, along with a large knot on his forehead, a hospital spokesman said.

He was treated and released. Police responded to the call at 10:12 a.m. at 27th St. and Ave. E, but said later that the incident would not be pursued because the man insisted to them that he had not been assaulted.

is." Linda Lombard, head of the Charleston County Council also asked for aid.

"The storm itself was larger than the state of South Carolina," she told NBC. "We need help. We need copters. We need planes. We need medical supplies."

The impact happened at the worst time in terms of flooding. Hugo carried with it a tidal surge, or a wall of water, 12 to 17 feet high that coincided with high tide at 2:13 a.m.

At least 20 boats washed ashore, including a 50-foot craft that washed up on a city street, Police Chief Ruben Greenberg said.

In one Charleston neighborhood, oak-lined streets bordered by restored antebellum mansions were under three feet of water, while the open-air market downtown was flooded with two feet of water. A massive wooden church door was tossed on the sidewalk.

Some tornadoes are likely in North Carolina and Virginia today, the Weather Service said.

Oklahoma minister named pastor of First Baptist

Don Taylor, 37, has been selected as pastor of Snyder's First Baptist Church, and his first Sunday at the church will be Oct. 8. He and his family are moving from Enid, Okla., where he has been pastor of Calvary Baptist Church since 1986. Taylor earned a bachelor's degree in agricultural economics from Oklahoma State University in 1974 before attending Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He completed his master's of divinity degree in 1983, and currently serves as Adjunct Professor for Oklahoma Baptist University. Before his pastorate at Calvary Baptist Church, Taylor served as pastor of First Baptist Church in Seiling, Okla., for two years. Born in Winner, S.D., he grew up in Moore, Okla. He currently serves on the board for the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma. Taylor and his wife, Jean, have three children, Betsy, 15, Amy, 14 and Cameron, 12.

Apostolic church starts revival

The Apostolic Faith Church, 2506 West 25th St., will host a revival beginning Sunday and lasting through Oct. 1. Evangelist will be the Rev. Wayne Wheeler, according to the Rev. Lee Nelson, pastor. There will be special music and inspirational messages.

Lotts to teach here next week

James and Barbara Lotts of Faith Hope and Charity from Jacksonville will be teaching at the home of Robert and Estelle Pierce, 3511 Ave. X, Sept. 29. The public is invited to attend. James is a minister of music while Barbara is an evangelist. The pair will be at the Christian Fellowship Sept. 30, and will have services there on the morning and evening of Oct. 1.

Sunday services are 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. with weeknight services at 7:30 p.m.

Kappa Chi to hold car wash

Kappa Chi of Western Texas College will hold a car wash from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday on the parking lot of the Snyder Daily News. Donations from the car wash will be used for organizational activities.

Giving a bottle to the baby as a pacifier at night is a no-no, according to Beech-Nut Nutrition Corp. Prolonged contact with a sweet solution, such as sweetened water, juice or baby formula, can cause tooth decay.

In Soviet Union...

Religious persecution said to be self-defeating

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet leaders apparently have decided the best way to win converts to atheism is to grant greater religious freedoms, say Western participants in a dialogue between humanists and atheists in Moscow.

Delegates from the International Humanist and Ethical Union and the Soviet Institute for Scientific Atheism concluded that more than seven decades of militant atheism have been self-defeating in swaying Soviet believers from their faith.

"It's my opinion the situation in Poland made the Russians aware that attacking religion may paradoxically support it," Rob Tielman, a co-president of the humanist union, said in a telephone interview from his home in the Netherlands. "By giving freedom to religion... the Russians hope atheism will develop in a more positive way." The July dialogue was the first in a planned series of meetings between Soviet atheists and Western humanists. A Soviet delegation has been invited to the 11th Humanist World Congress in Brussels, Belgium, in August 1990.

Humanists distance themselves from doctrinaire atheism by saying that although they reject belief in God, they stand for human freedom, including religious freedom.

Paul Kurtz, a co-president of the humanist union and a philosophy professor at the State University of New York at Buffalo, said he thinks the humanists receive "an insight others don't get" into Soviet thinking because the Soviets view them as comrades in theology because of their shared skepticism of religion.

Soviet attempts to supplant religion with atheism, ranging from persecution of religious to the introduction of "naming celebrations" to replace bapatism, have failed, Soviet delegates told Western participants.

Under Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, Tielman said, the Soviet Union has decided to take a more practical approach, recognizing that Soviet society needs less-mistrustful citizens if it hopes to enlist them

Baugh to speak at Faith Baptist

Carl Baugh, director of the Creation Evidences Museum in Glen Rose, will speak on the subject of creationism at Faith Baptist Church here Sunday through Wednesday.

Dr. Baugh, a pastor for 27 years, is an international lecturer on scientific creationism. He has directed archaeological and paleontological excavations which have discovered two dinosaurs, 187 dinosaur footprints and 55 human footprints. He will speak at Sunday's 10 in rebuilding its shattered economy.

Kurtz said they were told by Soviet atheists that 2,000 churches have reopened in the past two years, seven new seminaries will open in the fall, and the publication of limited editions of the Bible and the Koran, the Islamic holy book, has been permitted.

a.m. Sunday school classes on the subject, "Did man ever see a live dinosaur," at the 10:50 worship service on the subject "What was the pro-flood world like?" and in the 7 o'clock evening service on "The stars and the planets."

He will also speak Monday through Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Dr. Baugh, a pastor for 27 years, holds a masters in archaeology from the Pacific College of Graduate Studies, where he also obtained his Ph.D.

Declarer apparently has four losers. But a little expertise will make one of them disappear. When West doubled one spade, he was simply telling his partner by means of this "negative" double that he thought their side could compete in one of the minors. East would of course have simply rebid his hearts, but the level got too high when North jumped right to four spades.

Anyway East took two heart tricks and then switched to the nine of clubs. South played the queen, covered by the king and dummy's ace. Declarer drew trumps and played another club. West won and played a third club, ruffed. Declarer took the diamond finesse and then played out all his remaining trumps. Eventually West was squeezed between the diamonds and the high club, and so a diamond loser disappeared.

One might think that East could do better if he played either minor at trick two before cashing his second heart. Not so. If declarer plays correctly, he can always develop either a squeeze or an endplay. But there is one defense, completely unrealistic, that would defeat four spades. If West's opening lead is a diamond, East can lead a diamond back after winning the first heart. Then East can play a club when he wins the second heart. That will leave declarer completely stymied and forced to give up four tricks.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It doesn't look like you'll waste any time or motion performing essential assignments for yourself or others today. When you set your mind to do something, it will be done.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Two heads will be better than one today and this is why you should do extremely well in your partnership arrangements. Collective ideas could be winners.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Through unselfish service and a desire to help others, you are likely to receive rewards today you won't
