9/11 Memorial slated Sunday at Spring Creek

Herald Staff Report

Life has changed many times, many ways over the years, but nothing impacted us more than the events that transpired 21 years ago in New York City when the World Trade Center was attacked by members of Al Qaeda.

We still feel the loss of the thousands that died, but none more-so than the first responders. While the attack was almost 2 thousand miles away, it effected all of us and has given us a new appreciation for those who run to the fire while the rest of us run away. There were Big Spring citizens that were in the city on vacation and many more traveled there to help with the aftermath.

In remembrance of those that were lost in the attack and the thousands of Howard County soldiers that were lost since that fateful day, the 16th annual 9/11 Memorial Ceremony will take place at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 11, the Spring Creek Fellowship at the Spring Town Plaza.

"Once again we will gather to not only remember those who have fallen, but those who sacrificed for our freedom, for our protection, for us," Vietnam Veteran Mike Tarpley, D.A.V. Sr. Vice Commander and event organizer, said. "For the past 15 years we have been coming together as a community to honor those families who lost loved ones, and this year we encourage the community to join us for year 16."

The ceremony will still include recognition of those, from Howard County, who lost their lives in wars following the Sept. 11 attack. The ceremony is projected to last less than an hour, and the community is invited to attend. Those attending will gather inside the sanctuary at Spring Creek Fellowship. According to Tarpley, this year the Big Spring High School Band and Choir, Howard County Sheriff Office, Big Spring Police Department, Big Spring Fire Department, Boy Scouts, and the Cross Roads Young Marines will be offering their support in the ceremony as well.

Movies vs. TV: BSHS Homecoming

This is Homecoming Week at Big Spring High School, and students and faculty are dressing up to celebrate the event. While Tuesday's costumes focused on "Nerd vs. Jock," students on Wednesday dressed up as characters from their favorite movies or TV shows. Shown above (l-r), Zoe Shaw dressed as Betty's mom in the series "Riverdale," Spencer Patterson as the mechanical dinosaur in the Batman animated series, Nienna Melton as a member of Slytherin House in Harry Potter, Coach Eric Tuttle as Rip from the series "Yellowstone," Fashion Design teacher Steph Poffenberger as "Pirates of the Caribbean" - Captain Jack Sparrow, Library Aide Hilary V. Payne as "Major Payne," and Principal Mike Ritchey as a character from the series "Duck Dynasty." At right, Brooklyn Castro dressed as Woody from "Toy Story." Thursday's costumes will feature "Fancy vs. Casual" dress, while Friday will let students choose to support the Steers by dressing in black and gold.

370 new words and definitions added to Merriam-Webster

Special to the Herald

Today Merriam-Webster announced the addition of 370 new words and meanings to its iconic dictionary. Some of these new terms, like shrinkflation and metaverse, have recently been in the news; others, like yeet and janky, are more lighthearted. All have met the dictionary's criteria by demonstrating sustained and widespread use. None of this, to cite another new entry, is sus: the English language is always changing and expanding, and the dictionary's mandate is to chronicle it.

A number of the new words surged into use via social media. These include yeet, slang for "throw" and also "used to express surprise, approval, or excited enthusiasm;" sponcon, sponsored content that looks like a typical influencer post; and virtue signaling, something people may be accused of if they display their attentiveness to political or social issues instead of taking effective action.

The tech world brings us the futuristic metaverse, but also the earthy meatspace ("the physical world and environment especially as contrasted with the virtual world of cyberspace") and the throwback dumbphone, a device lacking advanced features.

Business and economics provide the newly prominent shrinkflation (which occurs when a product's amount or volume is reduced but not, alas, its price) and a pair of terms describing those who don't save money in unconventional ways because they are unbanked or underbanked.

If such words cause anxiety, some relief may be found in dawn chorus: "the singing of wild birds that closely precedes and follows sunrise especially in spring and summer."

Food-related newcomers include that seasonal object of love and hate, pumpkin spice. Also new are omakase, referring to a series of sushi selections "according to the chef's choice," and mojo, a definition to savor: "a sauce, marinade, or seasoning that is usually composed primarily of olive oil, garlic, citrus juice, and spices (such as black pepper and cumin)."

Sus, slang for "suspicious" or "suspect," joins other informal words including janky ("of very poor quality; junky"), and the gaming-fueled pwn—"to dominate and defeat (someone or something).” And television has made its impression too: Galentine’s Day, from Parks and Recreation, and the slang verb MacGyver (“to make, form, or repair something with what is conveniently on hand”), are both new entries.

Younger dictionary fans also get words to appreciate. The dictionary welcomes cootie catcher (“a child’s toy that consists of paper folded into four pyramid-shaped parts that are manipulated by the fingers to open and close with each part having a flap that can be unfolded to reveal an answer to one’s question about the future”), plushie (“a toy covered in plush fabric and filled with soft material”), and—cute alert!—hoglet, a British word for a baby hedgehog.

“Some of these words will amuse or inspire, others may provoke debate. Our job is to capture the language as it is used,” says Peter Sokolowski, Editor at Large for Merriam-Webster. “Words offer a window into our ever-changing language and culture, and are only added to the dictionary when there is clear and sustained evidence of use.”

Sarkisian trek from Bama built pipeline to aid Texas rebuild

By JIM VERTUNO

AP Sports Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Steve Sarkisian left his job as an Alabama assistant to be the head coach at Texas in January 2021 and quickly blazed a 735-mile trail from Tuscaloosa to Austin for others to follow.

The core of his offensive coaching staff made the trek and a handful of players looking for fresh starts or more playing time have been trickling in ever since. Sarkisian has three top assistants who were on the Alabama sideline when the Crimson Tide won the 2020 national championship.

Is he building Alabama West? The early returns — a 5-7 season in 2021 — have so far been rather un-Bama like.

Sarkisian and the Longhorns (1-0) have a chance to make a statement Saturday. The No. 1

Crimson Tide (1-0) play on the road against their future SEC opponent, which is hoping the success Sarkisian experienced in Tuscaloosa can finally rub off in Austin.

Sarkisian often credits Alabama's Nick Saban as a major force in restoring his coaching career after he was fired at Southern California midway into the 2015 season and went into alcohol rehabilitation treatment.

Working under Saban first as an analyst in 2016 and then returning as Alabama offensive coordinator in 2019 and 2020 allowed Sarkisian an insider's view of what Saban demands from his staff, as well as what he could demand from himself.

Sarkisian has said quite frankly that Saban saved his career.

"I owe so much to him, and I will never, ever forget that he and Ms. Terry have been tremendous in my life and my wife's life and what they've done for us on and off the field, I owe them a great deal," Sarkisian said at Big 12 media days in July.

The praise continued this week as Sarkisian prepared to face his former mentor for the first time from the opposite sideline.

"We could be up here for hours talking about things that I learned from him ... and what he's done for guys like myself," Sarkisian said, also recalling the sting of Saban's rebukes when something went wrong.

"If he's yelling at you, you probably didn't reach a level of expectation. When you can meet his expectations, you are doing something right," Sarkisian said. "I loved my time with him."

And when it was time to build his own staff, Sarkisian wanted assistants forged from the same fire that shaped him.

Texas offensive line coach Kyle Flood, special teams and tight ends coach Jeff Banks and quarterbacks coach A.J.

Milwee all followed Sarkisian from Alabama to join his rebuild.

This group of coaches left a program that won eight Southeastern Conference championships in the 13 years since Texas last won the Big 12. Alabama has won six national titles since 2009.

Their first season in Austin produced the program's first six-game losing streak in 65 years. "Patience" was the word around campus.

Saban this week praised his former assistant and has called Sarkisian one of the finest coaches he's ever had on his staff.

 Opening lead — three of diamonds.

Most errors in bridge are caused not by a lack of knowledge or skill, but rather by lazy or careless thinking. This is equally true for both offensive and defensive play.

Consider this case where West leads a diamond against three notrump. East wins with the ace and continues with the queen, which also wins. Then, having run out of diamonds, East shifts to a heart.

Declarer wins and drives out the ace of clubs. West cashes the king of diamonds, and South scores the rest, losing three diamonds and a club.

Analysis of the play reveals that the contract should go down one. Instead of allowing his partner to win the second trick with the queen of diamonds — which seems the natural thing to do — West should overtake the queen with the king and continue with the eight of diamonds. If he does this, the defense eventually scores four diamonds and a club.

There is no good reason other than carelessness for West's failure to overtake the queen at trick two. True, East might have held the A-Q-x of diamonds, in which case overtaking would cost West a trick, but it could not cost him the ultimate goal of setting the contract.

For practical purposes, West can feel certain that three notrump will be defeated if he overtakes the queen, and that the contract will probably be made if he ducks the queen. That is certainly reason enough for overtaking. But to make this play, West must have his mind on the game at trick two and not allow himself to fall into the trap of following low mechanically.

Steers bounce back big with huge win over Lubbock High 51-26

Above, Steer senior running back Kavien Ford scores the first touchdown for the Steers in the first quarter of the game against Lubbock High last Friday night. Ford would finish the game with 179-yards rushing, 49-yards receiving, and three touchdowns in helping the Steers get the win over the Westerner's 51-26. Ford and the Steers will look to keep its winning momentum going as they get set to host Monahans for homecoming this Friday at Memorial Stadium. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

Herald Sports Writer

The Big Spring Steers got back on the winning track as they rolled to a huge 51-26 victory over Lubbock High last Friday night at Memorial Stadium.

The Steers offense once again put on an impressive show as the Steers finished the night with a total of 529 yards total offense enroute to the win over the Westerners.

Steer junior quarterback, Gavin Padron once again put up some impressive numbers as he finished the game completing 27 out of 30 passes for 359 - yards with two rushing touchdowns and three touchdown passes.

However, it was senior running back, Kavien Ford who stole the show as he dominated the entire game. All game long Ford's run game plagued Lubbock High's defense as they struggled to come up with an answer in stopping Ford.

Ford would finish the game with 179 - yards rushing on 19 carries and three touchdowns in the game. In addition to his rushing yards, Ford also had 49 - yards in receiving as well, bringing his total yards to 228 for the entire game.

"I'm feeling good right now, my lineman helped a lot so really I'm thankful for them." Ford said about his performance in the game. "I felt like we came in really prepared this game, that game we lost last week really made us want to get better and come back and play harder than last week and just improve overall," Ford added.

Steer head coach Cannon McWilliams also praised Ford's performance "I think he stole the show tonight." McWilliams added "Once he gets a head of steam he's just tough to tackle but again that goes back to his work ethic, he deserves it, he works hard and he's a good kid." McWilliams added.

Both McWilliams and Ford agree though that the offensive line really stepped up in this game. "I was really impressed with our offensive because they controlled the line of scrimmage and it all starts up front." McWilliams said. "It opened up a lot of things offensively for us by controlling the line of scrimmage," McWilliams added

On the defensive side the Steers had an overall better game as they limited their mistakes this time around. "I was also really impressed with our defensive line again they controlled the line of scrimmage and made it difficult for their good running back to get rolling so a great job on their part." McWilliams said.

Just like in their first game against Pampa, the Steers offense wasted little time in getting things rolling. Kavien Ford would help put the Steers on the board first with his first touchdown of the night. The extra point was no good and the Steers would finish out the first quarter leading 6-0.

To start the second quarter, senior wide receiver/defensive back Zeyire Franklin made a huge play intercepting a Lubbock High pass taking over on Lubbock High's 40 - yard line.

On the ensuing drive, Ford again would run it in for his second touchdown of the night putting the Steers up 12-0 a little over midway through the second quarter. The Steers defense would come up big again stifling the Westerner's offense resulting in a punt to give the Steers great field position.

With six minutes left in the second quarter, Ford would get his third rushing touchdown of the night followed by a successful extra two-point attempt with the pass to Ricky Escovedo giving the Steers 20-0 lead before halftime.

After the kickoff, Lubbock High made a huge pass play on it's drive to put the Westerner's on the board before halftime, making the score 20-7 heading into halftime.

In the third quarter, junior quarterback Gavin Padron would go on to score the Steers next two touchdowns ending the third quarter with the Steers leading 32-14. The Steers put it away for good in the fourth quarter thanks to three touchdown passes from Padron to Steer receivers Donavyn Hilario, Zeyire Franklin, and Ricky Escovedo to seal the win for the Steers over the Westerners.

The Steers who are now 1-1 on the season will look to continue its momentum again this Friday at 7 p.m. when they are set to host Monahans (0-2) for homecoming.

STEERS OFFENSE AND DEFENSE SHOW IMPROVEMENTS

Coming off of a tough loss in week 1 against Pampa, Steers head coach Cannon McWilliams knew that if his team wanted to win games then they needed to clean up its mistakes on both sides of the ball. The Steers did just that as they came away with a huge win over Lubbock High last Friday night beating the Westerner's 51-26. "We had to reduce the penalties overall and the big thing for our offense was to make sure we were set and not having our receivers jumping offsides," McWilliams said after the game. "Defensively we stressed that we cannot give up the big plays, they gave up one big play tonight, but we cut down on it tonight. Overall we got better, but as always there are things we have get better at," McWilliams added. The focus this next week, per coach McWilliams, will again be correcting the mistakes made and working on special teams.

RUNNING GAME WILL OPEN DOORS FOR STEERS OFFENSE

If you were in attendance last Friday night then you saw what a huge game senior running back Kavien Ford had. Ford finished the game with 179 - yards rushing and 49 - yards receiving with three touchdowns to go with it. Coach McWilliams acknowledged that run game played a huge role in opening up the Steers passing game and will look to take advantage of that especially with a strong running back corp that includes Ford, Leroy Johnson, and Phillip Martinez.

BIG SPRING STEERS VS MONAHANS LOBOES (HOMECOMING)

The Steers are now 1-1 on the season and will look to keep its winning momentum going this Friday as they get ready to face the Monahans Loboos for homecoming. Monahans will come into the game 0-2, but make no mistake the Loboos will be looking to spoil the Steers homecoming festivities in Friday's matchup. The Steers offense will look to keep its momentum going early on and late in the game while the defense will have a big task in keeping Monahan's quarterback in check.

"The biggest thing overall is stopping their quarterback," McWilliams said of playing Monahans. "He throws the ball well enough, not that he can't throw, but the biggest thing is he is tough to tackle. He's not overly big but he's got good feet and runs hard, He's just a competitor and as long as he's at quarterback he's going to keep them in the game," McWilliams added.

"We're not going to stop him all game, but we have to bottle him up and again not give up the big plays." Kickoff for the game is set for 7 p.m. at Memorial Stadium this Friday.

BIG SPRING HERALD PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

Big Spring's Kavien Ford

The senior running back had a stellar game last week against Lubbock High as Ford was one of the contributing factors in the Steers huge win over the Westerners. The Lubbock High defense did not have an answer for Ford's impressive run game as he dominated the defense relentlessly for the majority of the game. Ford would go on to rush for 179 - yards on 19 carries and had three touchdowns in the game. In addition to his rushing yards, Ford also had 49 - yards in receiving as well, bringing his total yards to 228 for the entire game!

Coahoma's Austin Perkins

Coahoma's Austin Perkins had huge game last week against Sonora, as the Bulldogs earned a tough win against the Broncos. Perkins, who is a key component of the speedy receiver corp for Coahoma finished the game with 129 - yards receiving on 5 passes and 2 touchdowns. Perkins would help seal the game for the Bulldogs when freshman quarterback Boyd Cox connected with Perkins for a 50-yard touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

Forsan's Kevin Kligora

Forsan's win over Post last Friday night was in part thanks to it's solid running back group. Kevin Kligora who had a stellar game in Forsan's come from behind win against Coahoma in the Howard County Bowl in week 1 once again led the way for Forsan's win against Post. Kligora would finish the night with 89 yards rushing on 12 carries and 1 touchdown in the Buffaloes win. Kligora also had one interception in the game.

The Bulldogs bounced back from a tough loss against Forsan in Week 1 to get the win over a tough Sonora team last Friday night. The Bulldogs won 31-27 and will look to keep the momentum up as they head to Kermit this Friday to take on the Yellowjackets.

COAHOMA - This time the Coahoma Bulldogs finished the job. Unlike last week when the Bulldogs blew a two-touchdown fourth quarter lead in a season opening loss to Forsan, the Bulldog dominated the fourth quarter to get a hard earned 31-27 win over the Sonora Broncos at Bill Easterling Stadium. Trailing 27-24 going into the final quarter, the Bulldogs scored the winning touchdown early in the fourth quarter on a 50-yard touchdown pass from Boyd Cox to Austin Perkins. After that the Coahoma defense made several key stops and the offense, behind the hard running of Isaiah Eleda, played ball control and wore the Sonora defense down. Billy Bailey sealed the deal with an interception on Sonora's last possession. "I'm especially happy with this win considering how we finished the game last week," said Coahoma Coach Chris Joslin. "That was a hard football game last week. But we went to work and eliminated our mistakes and made the most of it. I don't think I could be prouder of these kids." The Coahoma defense came up big in this one, forcing five Sonora turnovers. Sophomore defensive back Mikey Hernandez had an interception and the ever-present Perkins picked up a Sonora fumble and returned it 17 yards for Coahoma's first score of the game. The Broncos were somewhat snakebit, losing three fumbles in their first four possessions. The other possession it scored on a 65-yard scoring pass from Jamie Buitron to Hector O'Bannon. Buitron and O'Bannon were Sonora's main weapons. Buitron led all rushers with 140 yards. In addition to his touchdown catch O'Bannon carried 14 times for 85 yards. For Coahoma, Eleda was workhorse on the ground, finishing the night with 95 yards on 22 carries. He shouldered the running attack with Jaiden Vineyard missing the game with an injury. The Bulldogs also unleashed the two quarterback tandem of Cox and Bailey, which kept the Broncos off balance. Cox was effective in the air while Bailey had some key runs in the fourth quarter to help seal the deal. "In addition he threw a touchdon pass to Perkins. "We got some turnovers early and that helped put us at ease," Joslin said. "We held it together." Coahoma will be on the road Friday when it takes on Kermit.
