Big Spring City Council approves 2022-23 tax rate and budget

By ANDREIA MEDLIN
 Staff Writer

The Big Spring City Council held its regular meeting Tuesday at the Council Chambers at 307 Nolan. Following the invocation, the public was given an opportunity to speak on any topic, but none came forward at that time.

The annual budget was first on the agenda. A public hearing is held annually for the public to comment on the city budget and proposed tax rate and was first on the agenda. A call for comment resulted in none coming forward.

Items 7 through 16, Request for abatements for public nuisance was discussed at some length with comment from property owners and code compliance officers who were assigned to each case. PUBLIC HEARING for Consideration and Possible Action Concerning Abatement of Public Nuisance

The properties for consideration of possible action concerning abatement of public nuisance are: 1309 Grafa, 610 E. 12th St., 1006 E. 12th, 1217 Lindberg, 2802 Apache, 209 N. Johnson, 405 Donley, 1100 N. Gregg, 2705 Ann Dr., and 604 NE 10th St.

An order to abate and vacate was passed for nine of the 11 properties. Orders to abate only were passed for 2802 Apache and 604 NE 10th St., due to being the residence of the owners.

The City Manager's report consisted of a reminder that large item pickup will be Sept. 21 in District 3. City Manager Todd Darden also discussed a reinstatement of the Texas Department of Transportation (TXDOT) ordinance that limits truck traffic through town, specifically Gregg St. Trucks that make deliveries will be allowed on designated routes, but over-size or overloaded trucks will be limited to the reliever route due to public safety and road degradation concerns. The motion to make the request to TXDOT was passed.

The meeting's Consent Agenda, consisting of second readings of items approved during previous City Council meetings, was approved. Also, a Final Reading of a Resolution Repealing City Council Resolution 003-2016, "Which Set the Goal of Ending the Euthanization of Homeless Pets; Providing for Severability; and Providing an Effective Date," was approved.

The matter of bids for fencing at the Sandy Creek landfill was untabled, but because it isn't an urgent matter, no action will be taken at this time and the city will take other bids on the project.

The Big Spring Economic Development Corporation annual budget that included the $400,000 match for an anticipated grant for the infrastructure for the I-27 designation, was approved.

The council approved the first Reading of a resolution amending the authorized

By ROGER CLINE
 Managing Editor

A 23-year-old El Paso woman and an 83-year-old Big Spring man were killed in separate Interstate 20 accidents near Big Spring this week, according to reports from the Texas Department of Public Safety.

At about 2:33 p.m. Sunday, Fabian Hernandez, 28, of El Paso was driving his 2006 Toyota Tacoma west on I-20 about two and a half miles west of Stanton when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel and partially crossed into the center median. The report goes on to say Hernandez overcorrected back onto the roadway, causing the vehicle to roll over multiple times.

Ashley Hernandez, 23, a passenger in the vehicle, was transported to Martin County Hospital, where she was pronounced dead by Justice of the Peace Nancy Bradshaw.

Fabian Hernandez was taken to Medical Center Hospital in Odessa in serious condition; while a third passenger – a three-year-old girl – was transported to Covenant Medical Center in Lubbock in serious condition.

According to the DPS report, only Fabian Hernandez was secured by a safety belt. Weather conditions at the time of the wreck were reportedly clear and dry. The accident was investigated by Highway Patrol Trooper Bryce Stanton of Big Spring.

On Monday at about 10:27 p.m., Thomas McCoy Kelly, 83, of Big Spring was killed after reportedly driving his 2015 Dodge Journey west in the eastbound lanes of I-20 about a quarter-mile west of Big Spring.

According to the report, as a result of driving the wrong direction on the Interstate, Kelly's vehicle collided with the 2020 Freightliner tractor-trailer driven by Eric Lee Givens, 34, of San Antonio. Kelly was pronounced dead by Justice of the Peace Angela Griffin, while Givens was not injured in the wreck. Both men were reportedly wearing safety belts.

Weather conditions at the time of the wreck were clear and dry, and the accident was investigated by Trooper Devonte Rolle of Big Spring.

representative empowered to transmit and withdraw funds from TexPool as well as the first reading of a resolution seeking permission to apply for a grant through the Office of the Governor, Public Safety Office Criminal Justice Division for funding of bullet-resistant shields.

An item re-approving the city's investment policy was also approved.

The budget concerning waste water rates was on the agenda. Wastewater rates will stay the same for people who use only up to 2000 gallons which is mostly seniors and those on fixed incomes.

Another item concerning landfill rates was approved. According to the item, the city will now charge a fee to allow a company's commercial trucks to utilize the landfill, rather than charging individually for each truck. Tire disposal fees were changed to $4 per tire, where previously the disposal fee was based on the weight of the tire.

The city's tax rate and budget for 2022-23 were approved, and included a $0.673163 per $100 valuation property tax rate, which is the same rate used in 2021. This rate will increase the Maintenance and Operation budget by $327,709.

In the new budget, the Animal Control Building's capital account was increased by $60,000, to make improvements to the existing building to utilize as an office.

In addition, the Communications account was increased by $10,000 to provide for fiber optic cable so the shelter's computer can be connected to the server.

Also, Signal Systems Revised Budget, was increased by $28,000 to purchase new LED bulbs for the streetlights, specifically on Gregg Street; Code Enforcement/Permits budgets (both Revised and Proposed) were increased by $10,000 each.

Special Services Discounts/Rebates was created to pay for the Infill Program refunds being utilized by local contractors; Department 211 (SAFER Grant) was reduced by $420,413, in anticipation of the completion of the SAFER Grant.

The employees that are being paid out of that Department will be moved to Department 210 - Fire Department in March at the conclusion of the grant.

Since the Planning Department was eliminated, a need was determined to budget for the Contract Planner.

Therefore, $25,000 was added to the Planning Department account. Payscale and incentives were topics of discussion regarding new recruits for new Big Spring Police Department, as well as for retention at the Big Spring Fire Department. A sliding scale to the current pay scale was approved.

The council approved allowing West Texas Disc Golf to rent the Dora Roberts Community Center using city funds provided by hotel tax revenue. An amendment to the item limited the arrangement to a maximum of five years. The Disc Golf tournament is considered a tourism boost and was considered for city support.

The action that was approved reads, "Assistance may be obtained by events without the five-year limitation upon the following conditions: meeting the funding criteria, including THLA guidelines; the funding being used solely to rent City-owned and operated facilities; and with the amount of such rent shall being no more than $2,000. By motion or otherwise, City Council or the CVB board may waive the deposit for such an event. No single program, funding, or contract committing revenues from the hotel occupancy tax with a duration of more than five years may be agreed to on behalf of the city without prior action by city council."

Keep Texas Recycling agreement is a branch of Keep Big Spring Beautiful and is used as a public relations tool to get other businesses involved and because there is a vendor that will buy the cardboard, it will generate income for the city. A budget of $10,000 to purchase a baler and to get started. Issues of unapproved items in the bins has been considered and included in the budget and the motion was approved.

The action on the agenda by a private citizen in regards to a railroad quiet zone was tabled.

During council input. Gloria McDonald encouraged all members to register for Ports to Plains. Council member Troy Tompkins commented that although the item to repeal the previous action in regards to animal rescue, "Although we approved the action, we are still concerned about finding possible solutions to the problem other than simply putting them down." Mayor Robert Moore concurred with the statement.

Council member Maury Smith commented that Big Spring and Texas are "On the move," and, "We ought to be proud of ourselves."

Following a motion, the City Council adjourned.

Ex-deputy gets life for killing ex-wife, stepdaughter, man

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A former Texas sheriff's deputy has been sentenced to life imprisonment without parole for killing his ex-wife, teenage stepdaughter and the stepdaughter's boyfriend.

Former Travis County sheriff's deputy Stephen Broderick, 42, was automatically sentenced after pleading guilty to capital murder Tuesday in Austin in the 2021 deaths of ex-wife Amanda Broderick, 35; stepdaughter Alyssa Broderick, 17; and Willie Simmons III, 18. Broderick rammed his vehicle into his ex-wife's house and shot dead all three people inside.

Prosecutors set aside a possible death penalty in exchange for the guilty plea.

The ex-deputy killed the three during a custody visit with his son, whom he didn't shoot. Stephen Broderick was free on bond at the time of the shooting after being charged the year before with the sexual assault of a child and losing his job as a result.

Stephen Broderick was ordered to wear a GPS tracking device, but state District Judge Karen Sage ordered the removal of the device five months after his release, the Austin American-Statesman reported. Prosecutors dropped the sexual assault charge as part of Broderick's plea deal. Amanda and Alyssa Broderick's family said the dismissal denied justice to Alyssa, who was the victim of the sexual assault.

But prosecutors said they doubted they could obtain a conviction on the charge because the victim was dead.

Sage, who passed the sentence on Broderick, expressed sympathy with their anger.

"I wish I could bring you justice," Sage said. "But the truth is, the loss you're suffering, there's nothing I can do to make that loss go away. It's the best we can do in the system we have, and it's never enough. My heart goes out to you. Three beautiful, wonderful people — I see their lives shine on through all of you. I hope that at some point you can find some peace."

DNA leads to an arrest in 2014 killing of Houston family

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities say newly tested DNA evidence helped them make an arrest in the killings more than eight years ago of a family, including two boys, who were shot in their suburban Houston home.

Feng Lu, 58, who had long been considered a suspect in the case, was arrested on Sunday by police in San Francisco after his arrival from China, according to Harris County Sheriff Ed Gonzalez.

Lu has been charged with capital murder in the deaths of Maoye Sun and his wife Mei Xie and the couple's two sons, 7-year-old Titus and 9-year-old Timothy, the sheriff said in a tweet on Tuesday.

Lu was being held Wednesday at a jail in San Mateo County, California, pending extradition to Texas. Court records did not list an attorney for Lu who could speak on his behalf.

The bodies of all four family members were found on Jan. 30, 2014, in their home in the Houston suburb of Cypress. All had been shot in the head. Investigators said Sun was last seen alive leaving work on Jan. 24.

Lu was linked to the killings after new forensic testing done in January on samples that previously were not able to be identified showed that Lu's DNA was found on a purse that belonged to Xie, according to a probable cause affidavit.

The DNA testing contradicted statements Lu had made previously to investigators in which he had said he did not know Xie or her children and didn't know where the family lived, according to the affidavit.

Authorities have not disclosed a motive for the killings, but according to the affidavit, Lu had unsuccessfully tried to get Sun's help with a promotion at work. Both had worked at Cameron International, which provides products and services to oil and gas companies.

Lu "stated he believed that (Sun) made derogatory comments about him to fellow co-workers ... which may have been the reason he did not get the promotion," according to the affidavit.

Investigators say Lu had bought a handgun a week before the killings and then returned it five days after the killings without the weapon's barrel. Authorities allege Lu gave inconsistent stories about what happened to the gun's barrel. Investigators also allege that bullets Lu had bought with the gun had likely been manufactured on the same machine as the bullet that killed one of the boys, Titus.

SEC full of tight-end talent, led by Bell, Bowers, Trigg

By MARK LONG

AP Sports Writer

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — It's difficult to truly gauge the Southeastern Conference's tight-end talent through two weeks of the season.

There's little chance the same will be said after two months.

The powerhouse league has arguably its deepest and most skilled tight-end group in years. The collection includes big-time playmakers and is sure to produce NFL first-round draft picks such as Kyle Pitts (Florida), Hayden Hurst (South Carolina), Evan Engram (Ole Miss) and O.J. Howard (Alabama).

South Carolina's Jaheim Bell, Georgia's Brock Bowers and Mississippi's Michael Trigg top the list. They're big. They're fast. They're versatile. And they're hardly alone.

Here's a look at the best of the SEC's current crop, five of whom will share a field when South Carolina (1-1) hosts top-ranked and defending national champion Georgia (2-0) on Saturday:

BELL, SOUTH CAROLINA

Bell might be the most multifaceted tight end in the SEC, possibly in the country. The 6-foot-3, 230-pound junior from Lake City, Florida, lines up all over the field. He has four catches for 18 yards to go with 11 carries for 44 more. He also owns the top two receiving games by a tight end in school history: 136 yards against Vanderbilt and 159 against North Carolina.

"He's a freak athlete," teammate and fellow tight end Austin Stogner said. "You can really put him anywhere."

BOWERS, GEORGIA

Anyone who watched the eventual champs play last season should remember Bowers. The 6-4, 230-pound native of Napa, California, burst onto the scene as a freshman, finishing with 56 receptions for 882 yards and 13 touchdowns. He has five catches for 95 yards this year, getting plenty of time off during Georgia's back-to-back blowouts.

ARIK GILBERT, GEORGIA

Arik Gilbert appears to be the odd man out in Georgia's ultra-deep position group. The former LSU starter and the No. 1 tight end prospect in the 2020 recruiting class doesn't have a reception while playing behind Bowers and Darnell Washington. He caught 35 passes for 368 yards and two TDs as a freshman with the Tigers before entering the transfer portal.

He was briefly committed to Florida but ended up in Athens, about 80 miles from his home in Marietta, Georgia. Coach Kirby Smart said Gilbert's lack of playing time has more to do with his practice habits than the depth chart.

"It's really based on Arik's performance," Smart said. "It's not really based on those guys ... That's all based on how he practices and how he carries over to game day."

STOGNER, SOUTH CAROLINA

The Oklahoma transfer landed at South Carolina along with quarterback Spencer Rattler. They already have chemistry, although Stogner has just six catches for 75 yards through two games. The 6-6, 251-pound senior from Plano, Texas, had 47 receptions for 654 yards and eight touchdowns with the Sooners. And he enjoys blocking as much as anything else he does.

"It's amazing; it's an extra O-lineman on the field," Gamecocks running back Marshawn Lloyd said.

MASON TAYLOR, LSU

First-year LSU coach Brian Kelly called the son of Pro Football Hall of Famer Jason Taylor "the No. 1 surprise of camp." Mason Taylor has five catches for 47 yards, including a 17-yarder that set up a late touchdown against Florida State.

"He's been outstanding," Kelly said, adding that Taylor has added 20 pounds. "I've been blessed. I've had some great tight ends. I've got seven of them right now who are active in the NFL. And Mason Taylor is as good as any freshman tight end that I've had."

TRIGG, OLE MISS

The Southern Cal transfer had three TD receptions in last week's 59-3 romp over Central Arkansas, all from inside the 10-yard line. The 6-3, 240-pound sophomore from Tampa, Florida, has nine receptions for 61 yards. He caught seven balls for 109 yards and a score in six games with the Trojans in 2021. He landed in Oxford as part of the package deal with quarterback Jaxson Dart.

Rebels coach Lane Kiffin likes what he's seen from Trigg but wants more.

"There's some inconsistency there because he's a young player," Kiffin said. "He needs to play more consistent because you can see the big-play potential."

WASHINGTON, GEORGIA

No one his size is supposed to move like that. But Washington has rare traits. The 6-7, 260-pound junior is a blocking beast as well as a threat to run by linebackers and post up — or leap over — defensive backs. He has four catches for 66 yards, well on his way to surpass his two-year totals of 17 receptions for 320 yards and a score.

He already created a career highlight when he hurdled Oregon cornerback Bryan Addison in the team's opener.

"Darnell Washington is in the best shape he's been in," Smart said recently, adding the big man can play "harder for longer."

The SEC appears poised for talent at the position for years to come, too.

Texas A&M signed three of the top six tight-end prospects in its ballyhooed 2022 class: Jake Johnson, Donovan Green and Theo Melin Öhrström. Georgia landed the No. 2 guy on the list, Oscar Delp.

Tennessee and Georgia have commitments from the second- and third-rated tight-end recruits for 2023. The Vols ave a pledge from Ethan Davis of Suwanee, while the Dawgs are in line to land Pearce Spurlin of Santa Rosa Beach, Florida.

Texts: Mississippi governor knew of welfare payment to Favre

By EMILY WAGSTER PETTUS

Associated Press

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Newly revealed text messages show how deeply involved a Mississippi governor was in directing more than $1 million in welfare money to retired NFL quarterback Brett Favre.

Instead of the money going to help low-income families in one of the nation's poorest states, as intended, it was funneled through a nonprofit group to Favre and spent on a new volleyball facility at a university that the football star and the governor both attended.

The texts from 2017 show Republican Gov. Phil Bryant, who left office in 2020, was "on board" with the arrangement. The state is suing Favre and others, alleging they misspent millions of dollars in welfare money. The director of the nonprofit has pleaded guilty to criminal charges in Mississippi's largest public corruption case in decades.

The texts were in court documents filed Monday in state court by an attorney for the nonprofit known as the Mississippi Community Education Center. The messages between Favre and the center's executive director, Nancy New, included references to Bryant.

The texts showed discussion between Favre and New about arranging payment from the Mississippi Department of Human Services through the nonprofit to Favre for speaking engagements, with Favre then saying he would direct the money to the volleyball facility at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Favre played football at the university in Hattiesburg before going to the NFL in 1991, and his daughter started playing on the volleyball team there in 2017.

According to court documents, Favre texted New on Aug. 3, 2017: "If you were to pay me is there anyway the media can find out where it came from and how much?"

New responded: "No, we never have had that information publicized. I understand you being uneasy about that though. Let's see being uneasy about that on Monday with the conversation with some of the folks at Southern. Maybe it will click with them. Hopefully."

Favre responded: "Ok thanks."

The next day, New texted Favre: "Wow, just got off the phone with Phil Bryant! He is on board with us! We will get this done!"

Favre responded: "Awesome I need to hear that for sure."

Attorneys for Favre did not immediately respond to a phone message

Wednesday from The Associated Press.

In a July 11 court filing, New's attorney wrote that Bryant directed her to pay $1.1 million in welfare money to Favre through the education center for "speaking at events, keynote speaking, radio and promotional events, and business partner development."

In July, a Bryant spokesperson said allegations that the governor improperly spent the money are false and that Bryant had asked the state auditor to investigate possible welfare fraud.

Bryant served two terms as governor and could not run again in 2019 because of term limits. He earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Southern Mississippi.

New and her son, Zachary New, who helped run the nonprofit, pleaded guilty in April to charges of mispending welfare money. They await sentencing and have agreed to testify against others.

Favre has not been charged with any criminal wrongdoing.

In May, the Mississippi Department of Human Services filed a civil lawsuit against Favre, three former pro wrestlers and several other people and businesses to try to recover millions of misspent welfare dollars. The lawsuit said the defendants "squandered" more than $20 million from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families anti-poverty program.

About 1,800 Mississippi households received payments from the program in 2021, according to the Department of Human Services. A family of three must have a monthly income below $680 to qualify for help, and the current monthly benefit for that family is $260. Payments are allowed for up to five years.

In pleading guilty, Nancy and Zachary New acknowledged taking part in spending $4 million of welfare money for the volleyball facility.

The mother and son also acknowledged directing welfare money to Prevacus Inc., a Florida-based company that was trying to develop a concussion drug. Favre has said in interviews that he supported Prevacus.

Mississippi Auditor Shad White said Favre was paid for speeches but did not show up. Favre has repaid the money, but White said in October that he still owed $228,000 in interest.

In a Facebook post when he repaid the first $500,000, Favre said he didn't know the money came from welfare funds. He also said his charity had provided millions of dollars to poor children in Mississippi and Wisconsin.

The bidding:
West Pass North Pass East 3♠ South 4♥

Opening lead — three of spades.

Self-preservation is a fundamental law of life, and this instinct to survive extends to the bridge table as well. Once a player recognizes that there is a possibility of defeat, he naturally should do everything he possibly can to avoid it.

Consider this deal where South reaches four hearts on the bidding shown, and West leads his singleton spade. East takes the ace and returns the queen. If South impulsively plays the king, he suffers a one-trick defeat. He loses two spade tricks right away and two more spades later on.

But if declarer recognizes the danger facing him at trick two and obeys the normal instinct to survive, he makes the contract very easily. Given the bidding, it is not difficult to diagnose West's lead as a singleton, so South should anticipate the consequences that are likely to ensue if he covers the queen with the king. He knows the king will be ruffed and that he will almost certainly lose two more spades later on.

To safeguard the king, South should duck the queen at trick two and allow East to win the trick. He should also duck when East next continues with the jack. West ruffs the third spade with the six in front of dummy's four, but that is the end of the line for the defense.

Declarer can arrive at the correct play by viewing the problem from an entirely different perspective. He has 10 winners — six hearts, two diamonds, a club and the king of spades — once the ace of spades is played at trick one, and all he has to do to preserve those 10 tricks is to make sure that the king of spades does not get ruffed.

Tomorrow: Test your play.

Today in History: September 15, Birmingham church bombing

By The Associated Press

Today in History

Today is Thursday, Sept. 15, the 258th day of 2022. There are 107 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Sept. 15, 1963, four Black girls were killed when a bomb went off during Sunday services at the 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham, Alabama. (Three Ku Klux Klansmen were eventually convicted for their roles in the blast.)

On this date:

In 1776, British forces occupied New York City during the American Revolution.

In 1789, the U.S. Department of Foreign Affairs was renamed the Department of State.

In 1857, William Howard Taft, who served as President of the United States and as U.S. chief justice, was born in Cincinnati, Ohio.

In 1935, the Nuremberg Laws deprived German Jews of their citizenship.

In 1940, during the World War II Battle of Britain, the tide turned as the Royal Air Force inflicted heavy losses upon the Luftwaffe.

In 1955, the novel "Lolita," by Vladimir

Nabokov, was first published in Paris.

In 1959, Nikita Khrushchev became the first Soviet head of state to visit the United States as he arrived at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington.

In 1972, a federal grand jury in Washington indicted seven men in connection with the Watergate break-in.

In 1981, the Senate Judiciary Committee voted unanimously to approve the Supreme Court nomination of Sandra Day O'Connor.

In 1985, Nike began selling its "Air Jordan 1" sneaker.

In 2001, President George W. Bush ordered U.S. troops to get ready for war and braced Americans for a long, difficult assault against terrorists to avenge the Sept. 11 attack. Beleaguered Afghans streamed out of Kabul, fearing a U.S. military strike against Taliban rulers harboring Osama bin Laden.

In 2006, Ford Motor Co. took drastic steps to remold itself into a smaller, more competitive company, slashing thousands of jobs and shuttering two additional plants.

Ten years ago: Four days after the deadly attack on a U.S. diplomatic outpost in Benghazi, Libya, al-Qaida in the Arabian Peninsula called for more attacks on U.S. embassies.

The State Department

ordered non-essential government personnel and family members to leave its embassies in Sudan and Tunisia and warned U.S. citizens against traveling to the two countries. The National Hockey League locked out its players at 11:59 p.m. EDT; it was the league's fourth shutdown in a decade and one that would cost the league nearly half its season.

Five years ago: North Korea fired an intermediate-range missile over Japan into the northern Pacific, its longest-ever such flight. A bomb partially detonated on a London subway car, injuring 51 people. (An 18-year-old Iraqi asylum-seeker was convicted of attempted murder and sentenced to a minimum of 34 years in prison.) Harvard University reversed its decision to name as a visiting fellow Chelsea Manning, the former soldier who'd been convicted of leaking classified information. The Cleveland Indians saw their winning streak end at 22, an American League record, as they lost 4-3 to the Kansas City Royals. NASA's Cassini spacecraft disintegrated in the skies above Saturn after a journey of 20 years; it was the only spacecraft ever to orbit Saturn and sent back images of the planet, its rings and its moons. Character actor Harry Dean Stanton died at the age of 91.

One year ago: California Democratic Gov. Gavin Newsom emphatically defeated a recall aimed at kicking him out of office. SpaceX's first private flight streaked into orbit for a three-day trip carrying two contest winners, a health care worker and their rich sponsor. Olympic gold medalist Simone Biles told a Senate panel that the FBI and gymnastics officials turned a "blind eye" to USA Gymnastics team doctor Larry Nassar's sexual abuse of her and hundreds of other women. President Joe Biden announced that the United States was forming a new Indo-Pacific security alliance with Britain and Australia.

Steers defense shines in comeback win over Monahans 24-20

By PATRICK GONZALES

Herald Sports Writer

The Steers improved to 2-1 on the season with a comeback win over Monahans at last Friday night's homecoming game. The Steers beat the Loboes 24-20 in front of a large crowd.

While the Steers came away with the win it wasn't a pretty one as the Steers offense struggled for most of the game. The Steers defense deserves most of the credit as they battled the entire game.

"It was ugly tonight, it was back and forth the entire game but hats off to our defense they kept us in the game and they're the reason we had a chance to win the game at the end." head coach Cannon McWilliams said.

The Steers defense gave up 20 points in the game but Monahans earned very bit of those points. The Steers defense did not give up the big plays like they did in the first two previous plays and made the huge stops when it mattered the most.

Despite the offensive struggles coach McWilliams said he is proud of the way his team kept competing. "It's good to win ugly, it's good to win games like these and at the end of the day we're all one unit and every now then one side is going to have pick up the other and we saw that tonight with our defense." McWilliams said

The first half of the game was low scoring as it ended with the Steers leading 9-6 heading into halftime. The Steers defense set the tone in the first quarter as they stifled the Loboes offense from the get go.

With 2:59 left in the first quarter, Steers linebacker Keyshaun Woodruff sacked Monahans quarterback Cheno Navarrette for the safety to put the Steers 2-0.

The Steers offense struggled to get any momentum going to start the second quarter as the Loboes defense was able to contain them. The Loboes offense got the first touchdown of the game midway through the second quarter to give them the lead 6-2.

The Steers offense answered back with its first touchdown of the game on the next possession. Facing a long fourth down, Steer quarterback Gavin Padron connected with Steer wide receiver Zeyire Franklin on a 39-yard pass for the touchdown. The extra point attempt was good thanks to kicker Eli Cobos which gave the Steers the lead 9-6 heading into halftime.

The second half of the game saw the Monahans offense gain some momentum as the Loboes scored twice in the third quarter to give them the lead 20-9 heading into the fourth quarter.

Heading into the fourth quarter down by 11 with 7 1/2 minutes left in the game, the Steers offense finally connected for its second touchdown of the game.

Left, Steers receiver/linebacker Zabian Urias lays a huge hit on Monahans receiver Samarius Cooley early in the game. The Steers defense played a huge role in the Steers homecoming win over Monahans coming from behind to win 24-20 in last Friday nights game. With the win the Steers improved to 2-1 on the season and will travel to Sweetwater this Friday to take on the Mustangs in the historic Mustang Bowl.

Coahoma's balanced offense and defense too much for Kermit en route 51-21 victory

By STEVE BELVIN

Contributing Sports Writer

KERMIT - In getting its second win of the season the Coahoma Bulldogs showed a balanced offensive attack and a defense that forced five turnovers in a 51-21 rout over the Kermit Yellowjackets.

While running its record to 2-1 Coahoma rushed for 224 yards and passed for 188. Quarterback Boyd Cox shows big gains in his first year of high school football. Coach Chris Joslin is gradually putting more responsibility in the youngster, and he is implementing ways to get the ball to his playmakers like Austin Perkins, Billy Bailey, Jaidyn Vineyard, Isaiah Eleda and Tristen

Guerrero.

The Coahoma defense isn't quite a "shutdown defense" but a bending but don't break type of deal. Kermit took the fight to the Bulldogs by scoring on its first possession early in the game.

Coahoma promptly answered back with a 47-yard scoring pass from Cox to Guerrero. The defense got into the act the next series. Linebacker Braiden Boaz picked up a Kermit fumble and ran 90 yards for a touchdown.

Along the way he got a good block downfield from a hustling defensive end Nick Tuttle. It halted a possible Kermit scoring threat. One could say it was a 14-point turnaround. That was the game changer and Coahoma rolled after that.

Coahoma's Tristan Guerrero heads to the end zone for his first of two touchdowns of the game after catching a pass from Boyd Cox during the Bulldog varsity football game against the Yellow Jackets in Kermit on Friday, Sept.9th. The Bulldogs beat the Yellowjackets 51-21 to improve to 2-1 on the season. Coahoma will face C-City this Friday.

On Coahoma's next offensive possession Cox and Guerrero hooked up again for a 32-yard scoring play, giving Coahoma a 21-7 lead after the first quarter

Early in the second quarter, Isaiah Eleda finished and started the next Coahoma scoring drive.

Eleda picked off a Jeremy Salazar pass at the Coahoma 36. Eleda would then score on Coahoma's first offensive play after the pick, bursting up the middle for a 64-yard scoring run.

From that point Cox threw touchdowns passes to Landon Wells and Bailey, concluded by a 19-yard scoring run by Perkins and a 38-yard field goal by Reagan Chapman. The Bulldogs will face the 0-3 Colorado City Wolves on the road Friday

Steer quarterback Gavin Padron connected with wide receiver Donavyn Hilario on a 5-yard touchdown pass. Steer wide receiver Derrick Walleck caught a pass from Padron to get the two extra points cutting the Lobos lead down to three.

The Steers defense were able to stop the Lobos offense again on the next possession to give their offense the ball back. Facing a fourth down again with 2 1/2 minutes left in the game, Padron found running back Kaviem Ford open in the end zone for a 23-yard touchdown pass. The extra point attempt was good thanks kick Eli Cobos giving the Steers the lead with under two minutes left in the ball game.

The Steers defense once again made a huge play with 19 seconds left in the game and the Lobos threatening to score caused a fumble to seal the win for the Steers.

Per coach McWilliams, the Steers will look to clean up its mistakes as they get ready to take on the Sweetwater Mustangs this Friday in Sweetwater's Mustang Bowl. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

"We're looking forward to playing over there in the bowl its always, Sweetwater is always competitive regardless of their record. Coach Lucas has done a great job over there and like always we just have to continue to get better and work hard this coming week on not turning the ball over," coach McWilliams said.

Forsan starting its 2022 season strong with 3-0 start.

By PATRICK GONZALES

Herald Sports Writer

Forsan won it's homecoming against Stanton last Friday beating the Buffaloes 34-14

Last year the Forsan Buffaloes had one of its best seasons in years thanks to a strong group of upper-classman. The Buffalos lost that group this past year due to graduation leaving everyone asking the big question, Can the Buffaloes repeat last years results coming into this year?

Well I believe that question has been answered. Forsan is now 3-0 to start its 2022 season and they are looking every bit as good as last years team.

The Buffaloes got a huge come from behind win over Howard County rival Coahoma in the annual Howard County Bowl to kick the season off.

Forsan then got a huge win over Post in week two, beating the Antelopes 41-15. This past Friday, Forsan hosted the Stanton Buffaloes for its homecoming game and again Forsan took care of business as they rolled to another win with the final score of 34-14.

Forsan wasted no time in taking care of Stanton as they got off to a quick 27-0 lead through the first three quarters of the game. Forsan would finish the night with 235 yards of rushing, 53 yards of receiving for a total 288 yards of offense.

Forsan was led again by it's strong running back corp with Kevin Kligora leading the way again. Kligora would go on to finish the game with 102 yards rushing and a touchdown on 12 carries. Forsan's Grant Roma also had 73 yards on six carries and a touchdown as well.

Forsan's Brycen Cervantes also contributed a rushing touchdown as well while quarterback Cade Wallis completed 5 out of 9 passes for 53 yards, one touchdown to Weston Layman and one interception. Wallis also had 36 yards of rushing as well.

Forsan's Brooks Wright highlighted Forsan's defense as he returned a fumble 27 yards for a score.

With Forsan now 3-0 they will head to McCamey this Friday Sept. 16 as they get ready to take on the Badgers and look to improve their record to 4-0 on the season.
