AAA Texas: Statewide pump price average decreases again

Some metros experience jumps as crude oil costs fluctuate

Special to the Herald

The statewide gas price average in Texas is $3.18 for a gallon of regular unleaded fuel, according to the AAA Texas Weekend Gas Watch. That price is three cents less than on this day last week and is 37 cents more per gallon compared to this day last year. Of the major metropolitan areas surveyed in Texas, drivers in El Paso are paying the most on average at $3.36 per gallon while drivers in McAllen and San Angelo are paying the least at $2.99 per gallon. The national average price for a gallon of regular unleaded is $3.70, which is five cents less when compared to this day last week and 52 cents more than the price per gallon at this same time last year.

The Texas statewide gas price average fell for the 13th week in a row as the price of crude is impacted by conflicting headlines. Some cities, however, have seen pump price av-

ing oil prices relatively in check are continued concerns for an economic slowdown in the face of inflation and rising interest rates. On the other hand, energy prices remain elevated with the ongoing war in Ukraine. Ultimately, the retailer sets the price consumers pay at the pump.

"The crosswinds in the oil and gas market remain strong and conflicting," said AAA Texas spokesperson Joshua Zuber. "Overall, the market has been pricing in an economic slowdown in the face of inflation while the energy industry continues to factor in supply worries with the war in Ukraine."

Drivers in Texas are paying the third lowest gas price average in the country, according to gasprices.aaa.com. Meanwhile drivers in California are paying the most at $5.44 on average for a gallon over regular unleaded.

Howard County Fair on tap this weekend

By AMANDA DUFORAT

The Howard County Fair is this weekend at the Howard County Fair Grounds.

Something old, something new and a whole lot of tradition is coming back with the Howard County Fair this weekend. Young and old alike will have a reason to attend; baked goods, photography exhibits, arts and crafts, tons of shopping, car shows and live music is just the tip of the iceberg.

"Every year the fair board keeps going bigger and bigger. This year they added a 25x40 permanent covered stage, along with a 120 x 120 pavilion built last year," Jim Koerber, with Scars Entertainment, said.

The Fair will officially open at 5 p.m. Friday with the carnival rides, food vendors and a Joyful Season shopping. Goat roping begins around 6 p.m. as well as Karaoke under the Pavillion.

"This year, the carnival has more rides and could be described as the best carnival Big Spring has seen. Families are encouraged to come on out and enjoy all aspects of the fair," Derek Wash, Howard County Fair Board, said.

All those who have long believed the mullet should make a comeback can enjoy the 90s Mullet/Dress Competition at 6:30 p.m. and stay to see who will be the champion of Karaoke. The Dueling Pianos will end the night with a 9 p.m. performance.

"The Dueling Pianos has created much excitement. They are from Howl at the Moon, which is the same company that is at the Riverwalk in San Antonio. They always prove to be a good time," he said.

Saturday events will begin at Noon as food vendors open up with more Joyful Season shopping opportunities. The Dance Gallery will host the first performance of the day and carnival rides will start up. According to the schedule of events, this year beginning at 4 p.m. kids will be able to show off their rodeo abilities at the Kid Rodeo. Goat Roping will return for a second evening of events at 6 p.m. Entertainment for the night will feature Blackhawk and Diamond Rio.

"We are excited to bring Diamond Rio and Blackhawk back

Keep Big Spring Beautiful

Organization nominated for recognition

Herald Staff Report

Keep Big Spring Beautiful met Tuesday, Sept. 9, at Howard College.

The organization is providing 150 gift bags for participants of the Ports -o- Plains conference.

The sold out event is being held at the Settles Hotel Oct. 24 and will consist of members from Canada to Mexico.

The conference is the first one that has sold out and there are people on the waiting list to attend future conferences.

The treasurer's report had $90 in donations with $69,764.85 in the coffers. "But don't think we're rich," said treasurer Jim DePauw. "$55,620 is reserved for the gateway." With that in reserve KBSB has $14,104 available.

The Big Spring High School Interact Club will help with Love Our Lake on Oct. 4, and the Cub Scouts to help clean the Kids Zone on Sept. 27.

An update on the gateway revealed that there is a stall on the project due to some equipment issues at TexaStone Quarry.

The Back to School Bash was deemed a big success and a lot of school supplies were distributed at the event.

The next meeting will have a City of Big Spring Code Enforcement officer Nick Reyna and employees for a question and answer session. In other news, Howard Soil and Conservation District nominated KBSB for Friend of Conservation by Judy Terelesky.

The nomination will be voted on at the Howard SWCD #243 spring meeting. The next KBSB meeting will be held Oct. 3, at noon in the Howard College Cactus Room.

For more information call Tammy at 432-935-0057.

- American Legion Post 506 will hold a Fish Fry Saturday. Delivery will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., while dine-in and carryout service at 3203 W. Highway 80 will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Plates are $10 each. Everyone is welcome.

- Shannon Clinic Big Spring hosts drive-through flu shot clinic Friay, Sept. 30, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the parking lot of the clinic at 2503 Gregg Street.

Flu shots will be available for patients of all ages; families are encouraged to come together to receive their vaccines. The clinic will accept and file insurance, or patients may pay $35 per flu shot. High dose flu vaccines are available upon request and will cost $80. Patients are asked to bring their insurance card. No appointment is necessary. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends that people receive their flu vaccine as soon as the vaccine becomes available in their community. Vaccination before December is best since the timing ensures that protective antibodies are in place before flu activity is typically at its highest.

The flu shot is approved for people ages 6 months or older, including healthy people as well as those with chronic medical conditions such as asthma, diabetes or heart disease.

For more information, please call Shannon Clinic Big Spring at 432-606-5178.

Migrant buses dropped off by Texas near VP Harris' residence

By ASHRAF KHALIL

Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two buses of migrants from the U.S.-Mexico border were dropped off near Vice President Kamala Harris' home in residential Washington on Thursday morning in the bitter political battle over the Biden administration's immigration policies.

Texas Gov. Greg Abbott has been busing migrants out of Texas to cities with Democratic mayors as part of a political strategy this year because he says there are too many arrivals over the border to his state. Arizona Gov. Doug Ducey also has adopted this policy, and Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis also got in on the act recently. It was first dreamed up by former President Donald Trump.

Abbott tweeted that he'd sent the buses that arrived Thursday: “We're sending migrants to her backyard to call on the Biden Administration to do its job & secure the border.”

About two dozen men and women stood outside the U.S. Naval Observatory at dawn, clutching clear plastic bags of their belongings carried with them over the border, before moving to a nearby church. Harris' office had no immediate comment.

The steady flow of migrant buses has caused a scramble in Washington, with Mayor Muriel Bowser calling for federal intervention and a coalition of NGOs forming to handle the new arrivals, backed by a grant from the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

This coalition has become accustomed to wildly divergent levels of coordination between the Texas and Arizona buses.

Tatiana Laborde, managing director of the international relief agency SAMU First Response, said the buses from Arizona come with detailed manifests of passengers and their nationalities, coordination on arrival times and medical personnel aboard each bus.

“They don't want to just dump people here,” Laborde told The Associated Press last month.

In contrast, she said, the Texas buses arrived chaotically. They only hear from charitable groups on the Texas end that a bus carrying a certain number of people has departed. At some point about 48 hours later, that bus drops off riders at Washington's Union Station.

Thursday morning's surprise drop-off outside Harris' residence suggests governors like Abbott were looking for creative new ways to make their political point — with the District of Columbia as the playing field.

Domingo Garcia, president of the League of United Latin American Citizens, called the move “inhumane” and accused Abbott of “using human beings, babies, families, as political pinatas”

Speaking to reporters outside Harris' residence, Garcia said the two busloads of migrants from Texas were “dumped like human garbage” in Washington on Thursday. He also said many of the migrants were being “tricked into signing these releases,” — something both the Texas and Arizona governments have denied.

He also called for both Republican and Democratic politicians to come together around, “a bipartisan solution to fixing our broken immigration system. I agree that it's broken.”

After migrants seeking asylum cross the U.S.-

Mexico border, they spend time in a U.S. Customs and Border Protection facility along the border until they are generally released into the U.S. to wait out their cases. Republicans say Biden's policies encourage migrants to vanish into the U.S.; Democrats argue the Trump-era policy of forcing migrants to wait out their asylum cases in Mexico was inhumane.

DeSantis flew two planes of immigrants to Martha's Vineyard on Wednesday. And last week, Abbott sent about 75 migrants to Chicago.

Bowser has requested a National Guard deployment but was rejected by the Pentagon; the deployment was opposed by the NGOs, who called it an unnecessary militarization of a humanitarian issue.

Last week, Bowser declared a limited state of public emergency over the migrant issue and proposed forming a new Office of Migrant Services with $10 million in funding. The proposal comes before the D.C. Council next week.

London mourners brave 9-hour wait to say goodbye to queen

By JILL LAWLESS and MIKE CORDER

Associated Press

LONDON (AP) — Thousands of mourners waited for hours Thursday in a line that stretched for nearly 4 1/2 miles (7 kilometers) across London for the chance to spend a few minutes filing past Queen Elizabeth II's coffin while she lies in state. King Charles III spent the day in private to reflect on his first week on the throne.

The queue to pay respects to the late queen at Westminster Hall was at least a nine-hour wait, snaking across a bridge and along the south bank of the River Thames beyond Tower Bridge. But people said they didn't mind the wait, and authorities brought in portable toilets and other facilities to make the slog bearable.

“I'm glad there was a queue, because that gave us time to see what was ahead of us, prepared us and absorbed the whole atmosphere,” health care professional Nimisha Maroo said. “I wouldn't have liked it if I'd had to just rush through.”

A week after the queen died at Balmoral Castle in Scotland after 70 years on the throne, the focus of commemorations was in Westminster — the heart of political power in London. Her coffin will lie in state at Westminster Hall until Monday, when it will be taken across the street to Westminster Abbey for the queen's funeral.

Buckingham Palace on Thursday released details about the service, the first state funeral held in Britain since the death of former Prime Minister Winston Churchill in 1965. Royalty and heads of state from around the world are expected to be among the 2,000 people attending, with a smaller burial service planned for later Monday at Windsor Castle.

Late Monday, the queen will be buried in a private family service at Windsor alongside her late husband, Prince Philip, who died last year.

The guest list for the state funeral is a roll-call of global power and pomp, from Japan's Emperor Naruhito and King Felipe VI of Spain to U.S. President Joe Biden, French President Emmanuel Macron and the prime ministers of Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Canadian Prime Minister Trudeau — who first met the queen when he was a child and his father Pierre Trudeau was Canada's leader — said the queen was “one of my favorite people in the world.”

“Her conversations with me were always candid, we talked about anything and everything, she gave her best advice on a range of issues, she was always curious, engaged and thoughtful,” he said at a special session of the Canadian parliament in Ottawa.

After a day of high ceremony and high emotions on Wednesday as the queen's coffin was carried in somber procession from Buckingham Palace, the king was spending Thursday working and in “private reflection” at his Highgrove residence in western England. Charles has had calls with Biden and Macron and has been speaking to a host of world leaders.

Prince William, the heir to the throne, and his wife Catherine, the Princess of Wales, visited the royal family's Sandringham estate in eastern England on Thursday to admire some of the tributes left by well-wishers.

The couple walked slowly along metal barriers as they received bouquets from the public and chatted to well-wishers. Other royals fanned out across the U.K. to thank people for their support, with the queen's youngest son, Prince Edward, and his wife Sophie visiting Manchester and the queen's daughter Princess Anne in Glasgow.

On Wednesday the queen left Buckingham Palace for the last time, borne on a horse-drawn carriage and saluted by cannons and the tolling of Big Ben, in a solemn procession through the flag-draped, crowd-lined streets of London to Westminster Hall.

Charles, his siblings and sons marched behind the coffin, which was topped by a wreath of white roses and the queen's diamond-studded crown on a purple velvet pillow. The military procession underscored Elizabeth's seven decades as head of state.

Her lying-in-state, meanwhile, allowed many Britons to say a personal goodbye to the only monarch most have ever known.

It's also a huge logistical operation, with a designated 10-mile (16 kilometer) queuing route lined with first aid points and more than 500 portable toilets. There are 1,000 stewards and marshals working at any given time, and 30 religious leaders from a range of faiths to talk to those in line.

Monica Thorpe said she walked for two hours to get to the back of the line and join the queue.

“People were just walking and walking and the policemen were like ‘Keep going, keep going.’ It was like the yellow brick road,” she said.

Archbishop of Canterbury Justin Welby, the spiritual leader of the Church of England, wore a high-visibility vest emblazoned with the words “Faith Team” as he spoke to mourners. Welby, who will deliver a sermon at Elizabeth's funeral on Monday, paid tribute to the queen as “someone you could trust totally, completely and absolutely, whose wisdom was remarkable.”

People old and young, dressed in dark suits or jeans and sneakers, walked in a steady stream Thursday through the historic hall, where Guy Fawkes and Charles I were tried, where kings and queens hosted magnificent medieval banquets, and where previous monarchs have lain in state.

After passing the coffin, most mourners paused to look back before going out through the hall's great oak doors. Some were in tears; others bowed their heads or curtsied. One sank onto a knee and blew a farewell kiss.

Keith Smart, an engineer and British Army veteran, wiped away tears as he left the hall. He had waited more than 10 hours for the chance to say goodbye.

“Everybody in the crowd was impeccably behaved. There was no malice, everybody was friends. It was fantastic,” he said. “And then, to come into that room and see that, I just broke down inside. I didn't bow — I knelt to the floor, on my knees, bowed my head to the queen.”

First Church of the Nazarene

Organic Outreach-As followers of Jesus, we're called to share our faith with others. We want to share the love, grace, and Good News of Christ with those around us. Most of us don't question the "what" or the "why" of outreach, but many struggle with the "how." Join us this Sunday as we continue our new series discovering how we can naturally share our faith and organically integrate outreach into our everyday lives. Let's learn to live with Kingdom impact!

NHCA Garage Sale: We will be hosting a huge garage sale on Saturday, Sept. 24, here at NazFamily Church. All of the proceeds will go to support New Hope Christian Academy. Contact us if you have items you would like to donate. Thank you!

Prime Time Fellowship: Our Prime Time Ministry (55 and older) will be starting their first Sunday fellowship lunch in October. Invite a friend, bring something to share, and enjoy great food and fellowship together.

College Age Connections: We are forming a college age fellowship at NazFamily Church. If you are 18 - 25, join us for food, fellowship and fun on the first Sunday of each month. This month we will go bowling together. If you want to know more, you can contact us at church@nazfamily.org.

Alpha: Got questions? Life is full of questions. Some are relatively trivial: What should we have for dinner? What are we going to do this weekend? What should we watch? But then there are the deeper questions of life: Why are we here? Why do bad things happen to good people? What happens when we die? The Alpha Series is a 12 week study designed to help us explore the deeper questions of life and faith. We will be exploring these questions on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. We hope to see you there. Awakening Revival: I love to hit the snooze button. It is so much easier to go back to bed than to face the day. However, hitting that snooze button can also result in missed opportunities. "You snooze, you lose!" How many of us are snoozing through our day, our week, our life completely closed off to the presence of God in our daily lives? Too many of us live in a comfort induced coma, we are spiritually sleepwalking. God is calling us to wake up! Join us for an exciting Awakening Revival this Oct. 19 to 23 with Dan Bohi and Jim Williams. We will also have special music with Chad and Marti Jones and Clint and Lauren Bratcher. Mark your calendar now, you won't want to miss it.

Crestview Baptist Church

At Crestview Baptist Church, we believe the most fulfilling pursuit is not entertainment, gimmicks, or programs.

The most fulfilling pursuit for a follower of Christ is to know Christ and His Word, so that we may live for him.

If you believe that, please come and worship with us! Sunday School starts at 10 a.m., Worship begins at 11 a.m., and our Sunday and Wednesday night meetings are at 6:30 p.m.

We embrace the 1689 Baptist Confirmation of Faith.

Come and be with us at 2305 Gattsville Rd., Big Spring.

Grace and Truth

"For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ." John 1:17

The greatest hoax and theological myth which has been perpetuated upon believers for centuries is the following - grace must be balanced with the Law. And so, when the hoaxers talk about balancing the grace of God with the Law of Moses, they use verses like John 1:17. What are these false teachers trying to do? They are trying to make it to where grace is not a license to sin. However, when we mix the Law with grace, we ignore one important Bible fact - the Law doesn't make us sin less. The Apostle Paul says that, by the Law, is the knowledge of sin. The Law does not justify nor sanctify us.

Grace doesn't need to be balanced, because grace is never out of balance. If grace were ever in need of balancing, the only thing which could possibly accomplish this would be more grace. John 1:16 says that we have received grace for grace, because the only thing that can balance grace is more grace. Moreover, truth always points to grace. If truth doesn't point to grace for grace, then truth is not truth.

And we know this because John 14:6 says that Jesus is the truth. To receive grace for grace is to receive grace for truth, and truth for grace, for without grace, we could never receive nor believe the truth. Jesus is the truth. Therefore, we need grace to receive the truth (Jesus). Jesus is the truth because He is the end of the Law for righteousness to all who believe. The truth is that Jesus delivered us from the curse of the Law by His death on the cross. It is humanly impossible to receive the truth that Christ is the end of the Law without His grace.

Jesus is full of grace and truth. The truth is that - therefore by the deeds of the Law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the Law is the knowledge of sin. The truth is that - therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the Law. This truth can only be true in, through and by Jesus, who is full of grace and truth, for without Jesus, grace is not grace, and truth is not truth.

Reflections

This column was previously sent in 2017. We are in Texas with my wife's sister who is in last stages of cancer. Our middle son, age 44 suffered a mild heart attack yesterday. This is part of life's journey when you reach your mid 70s. I have not been able to write a new column this week. Some of you have started publishing my column since 2017. Many of readers would have missed it in 2017, and hopefully those who might remember will appreciate the reminder to pray.

TINSLEY

Thanks for your prayers.
By Bill Tinsley
September 16, 2022

Prayer is often our last resort, the final step in a hopeless situation. We refer to it with such phrases as "he doesn't have a prayer," or "there is nothing left to do but pray." But it is perhaps the most important aspect of our human condition.

We share many attributes with the animal kingdom including instincts for hunger, reproduction and survival. Other animals provide care and nurture for their young. Some construct elaborate shelters whether nests, caves, or tunnels. Many have complex social systems. But no other creature has the capacity to communicate with the Creator and to pray. Only man is endowed with that gift.

I have never met anyone who complained that they prayed too much. But I have known many who wish they had prayed more. In our most desperate circumstances and in our finest moments, we cry out to God in prayer. The greatest gift we can bestow upon another human being is to pray earnestly for them.

Some understand prayer as a psychological exercise merely benefiting the one who prays. But Scripture affirms that there is more at work when we pray than we imagine.

Jesus prayed. In fact, He rose early in the morning before sunrise and sought solitary places where He could spend time alone in prayer. Occasionally he prayed all night. He taught us to pray, not as a public display to impress others, but in secret where "your father who sees in secret will reward you openly." (Matthew 6:6). He taught us to pray constantly with discipline and determination. His prayer life was so powerful that his disciples asked him to teach them to pray.

Prayer is not a matter of reciting particular words or repeating religious rituals. God looks on the heart. He hears the person who is convicted of guilt and feels unworthy to lift his eyes to heaven. And God hears those who humbly seek to do His will, "The effective prayer of a righteous man," the Bible says, "can accomplish much." (James 5:16)

The mystery and the miracle of prayer resides not in us, but in the One who created us and founded the vast universe that we have only begun to explore. We are not cogs in an accidental machine that grinds its way toward extinction. We are created in the image of God and our very nature hungers for His presence. He has endowed us with personality, intelligence and freedom. He desires our company. He listens and He invites us to pray.

"Ask," Jesus said, "and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives, and he who seeks finds, and to him who knocks it will be opened. Or what man is there among you [who], when his son asks for a loaf, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, he will not give him a snake, will he? If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give what is good to those who ask Him!" (Matthew 7:7-11).

Jesus is the Reason for Living

Why do you get up on a morning you don't have to go to work somewhere? Why eat when you aren't hungry? Why go someplace you don't really want to go? Why go to work when you don't enjoy your job? There are lots of whys in this world to think about.

But when Jesus is your reason for living, everything changes in perspective and purpose. What is my purpose for getting up when I don't have to go to work somewhere? When Jesus tells me to get up, it's time to get up. He has a reason for me to get up, get dressed, eat a good breakfast, and be ready to follow His leading.

Why should I eat when I'm not hungry? God gave me a body to be His temple. If I don't eat properly, I will get sick and not be able to follow His purpose for the day.

Why should I go some place I don't really want to go? God directs my path into places where the lost are. He knows the steps I take. He will make the path plain after I get on the path He has for me. The rewards in Him are greater than any I can make on my own.

Why go to work when I don't enjoy my job? Jesus first, others second, yourself last, is the only way I can find joy and enjoy whatever task God sets out for me to do. He brings people into my workplace to witness to. He directs the lost to me so I can help them enjoy life in Jesus.

The so many whys of life have all their answers in Jesus Christ. He allowed me to be born in the family where I am. He allowed me to find Him as Saviour. He allowed me to follow Him wherever He leads on a daily basis. Now when I let Him lead me the success in life is not always monetary. It is filling an innate need to let Him show me the reason for life as He sees fit.

I may not always like what He is doing, but I must, must, must trust Him that He knows what's best for me. So I'll go on trusting Him whate'er befalls me. I'll keep on keeping on until He calls us Home.

Then, oh then...I'll understand each step I took on earth, and know it's because He loved me enough to show me His pathway.

There is nothing to fear in following His way. There is no peace but His peace. There is no joy but His joy. There is no reward worth anything but His reward. He is my reason for everything I do, because it's His glory I seek. When I get to Heaven, then I will know the reasons why.

Something to Think About...

"Whatever you do or say, do it as a representative of the Lord Jesus." ~ Colossians 3:17

My dad is on the verge of retirement. All of my life he has owned and operated a heat and air business in western Oklahoma. It is the end of an era. Every summer, growing up, whether I liked it or not, my brother and I were working for my dad. I spent time in blazing hot attics and crawling under houses. I was often covered in fiberglass insulation, dirt, and sweat. It didn't take long for me to determine that wasn't the career path for me.

I was recently thinking about those summers I spent working in the family business. We lived in a fairly small town, and it was pretty obvious we were the owner's sons. When we pulled up to someone's home in the company van, wearing the company shirts, we were representing not only our father's business, but also our family. If we did a sloppy job and didn't clean up after ourselves, or worse if we started fighting with each other in their home, our words, attitude and actions would reflect poorly on our dad's business and our family. Our father could be the best heat and air repair person in the country. He could be generous, kind, and respectful, but that person would only associate our father and his business with our behavior.

God has invited us into His family in Christ. He invites us into an intimate relationship with Him. We call Him "Abba", Father. We are His children. He has associated His name and reputation with us. He has put us to work in His business of reconciling the world and restoring all things to Himself. Our words, attitudes and actions are a reflection on Him and His family. As Billy Graham once said, "We are the Bibles the world is reading. We are the creeds the world is needing. We are the sermons the world is heeding." Whatever you say or do this week, do it as a representative of Christ!

"We are therefore Christ's ambassadors, as though God were making his appeal through us. We implore you on Christ's behalf: Be reconciled to God." ~ 2 Corinthians 5:20

Will We Follow God or the World?

Christians are accountable to love and pray for their family, and friends, and against evil everywhere, but unfortunately, many have lost the enthusiasm and the burden to ask God to set them on fire for His glory. If Christian leadership is afraid to declare war against Satan and evil strongholds and principalities, how can they be inspired or have the faith to become a living sacrifice for God?

When there is no difference between a spiritually blind world and those who claim to be God's front-line warriors, society falls deeper into spiritual darkness.

The gospel of Jesus Christ is what God uses to prick the conscience of those who are spiritually lost, and His disciples are accountable to pray for the sensitivity to know when a divine appointment is being arranged. When Christians become distracted with their plans and pleasures, prayer is neglected, and we know when conviction and the reverential fear of God are ignored, sin increases and becomes bolder. This is exactly why Satan and his demons spend every moment trying to prevent Christians from seeking God's instructions and accomplishing His will.

Mankind has always been under attack from the kingdom of darkness and many different evil spirits are working overtime trying to weaken and distort the strength, honor, and faith of Godly men and women who are called by God to stand and engage in spiritual warfare for divine truth. Look around and notice that most men are spiritually anemic and filled with fear and carnality which is a disgrace to God's plan for them to be strong leaders for His glory.

This deception is intended to hinder those who are called by the Lord to be the head of the family and role models for their children. The church laughed at people like Milton Berle and Flip Wilson, but it's not funny now, as it was all a plan to plant a seed of accepting perversion. For those who are commanded to take up their cross and follow Jesus, we must be careful with what we accept as normal. The dark side is very subtle and uses a progressive repetition to slowly convince the masses that good is evil and evil is good. The idea is to program the human conscience to embrace the tsunami of lies and propaganda that is intentionally attempting to remove God from our culture.

The vision of the world continues to advance toward global control and we know it will be very difficult for many to resist the temptation to follow this system. I ask that we consider examining and preparing our souls today for serious choices we may face tomorrow. The lines are drawn and each person will decide which kingdom they are going to stand with. Matthew 6:24 states there are only two. Those who love the world will side against God and hate Him, and those who love God and embrace

His truth will be hated by the masses. Jesus said in John 15:18-19, "If the world hates you, you know that it hated me before it hated you. If you were of the world, the world would love its own. Yet because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you." Who do we love? "Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him" I John 2:15.

My family has told stories about how my great grandfather would walk down the hill behind the house in the evenings and they could hear him weeping and travailing in the spirit to God. He and his wife were God-fearing people who raised 14 children on a small farm and depended on God for everything. How many people do you know who spend time on their knees desiring above all things to have a broken and contrite heart? The Bible says in James 5:16, "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man accomplishes much." Fervent means intense and this desperate determination to know God is the only way anyone will be able to endure to the end.

Called!

LUDINGTON

What does it mean to be full of the Holy Ghost? As I recall Stephen in the Bible was full of the Holy Ghost the day that Paul held the coats of he people that martyred Stephen as the bit him and stoned him to death.

But being full of the Holy Ghost he prayed for them and that God would forgive them.

Acts 7:56 Stephen being for the Holy Ghost gazed to heaven and saw the glory of God and Jesus standing at the right hand of God.

Then he nailed down and cried out with a loud voice Lord do not charge them with the sin. And when he had said this he fell asleep.

Acts 9

Paul blind and converted. Many feared Paul because had the authority he have to punish anyone that called on he name of Jesus Christ. After being filled with the Holy Ghost a sight restored.

A chosen vessel of God, yes.

God said I said well I will show him how many things he must suffer for my name sake.

You can't hold to the plough and look back. Plow in hope, don't look back.

Get serious about your relationship. With God. Make a choice to fully surrender.

My point is if you want to be full of he Holy Ghost or be a chosen vessel there is a price o pay, these are a couple of examples, think and pray about.

Acts 5

And he said who are you Lord? And the lord said. I am Jesus whom you are persecuting it is hard for you to kick against the goads.

So he, trembling and astonished. Said Lord what do you want me to do?

In the Lord said to him arise and go into the city and you will be told what you missed.

Paul did not eat for three days and he didn't see it for three days.

Going against God resisting God is like kicking against the bricks.

So if you hear Him knocking just say Lord what is it you want me to do.

As Paul did.

By PATRICK GONZALES
Herald Sports Writer

Last Saturday both the Big Spring boys and girls cross country teams competed in the Lubbock Christian U-Chap XC Invitational. The Steers finished second overall as a team against a strong field of runners. The Lady Steers finished tenth overall.

While the Steers didn't get the win this meet they competed very well and more importantly improved their times overall. All of the Steers runners set new personal bests in the 5K race as each runner improved their time 30-seconds to a one minute.

Leading the way for the Steers again was senior Adrian Solis who placed 3rd overall in the varsity 5K race. Following close behind Solis was teammate Isaac Gonzales who finished 5th overall.

The remaining Steers finished as follows: Diego Rios (8th place), Kevin Quezada (38th place), Michael Perez (41st place), Jordan Mitchell (48th place), and Augustin Salgado (54th place).

The Lady Steers finished 10th overall as a team in the girl's 2 mile race behind district rival Andrews. The Lady Steers did finish ahead of another district rival, Levelland.

Freshman Bergan Pinkley led the way for the Lady Steers as she placed 8th overall. The rest of the Lady Steers team placed as follows: Luna Jimenez (44th place), Kandace Gonzales (82nd place), Elaina Arredondo (87th place), and Nadia Cruz-Gonzales (161st place).

Both the Steers and Lady Steers cross country teams will compete in Lubbock again this Saturday in the Lubbock ISD Invitational. The meet will be held at Mae Simmons Park. The girls are set to run at 10 a.m. and the boys at 10:30 a.m.

RESULTS: LCU U-CHAP INVITATIONAL

STEERS XC 2ND PLACE - TEAM OVERALL 83 POINTS

- 3rd Place - Adrian Solis 15:43
- 5th Place - Isaac Gonzales 15:45
- 8th Place - Diego Rios 16:26
- 38th Place - Kevin Quezada 17:15
- 41st Place - Michael Perez 17:21
- 48th Place - Jordan Mitchell 17:31
- 54th Place - Augustin Salgado 17:35

LADY STEERS XC 10TH PLACE - TEAM OVERALL 382 POINTS

- 8th Place - Bergan Pinkley 12:37
- 44th Place - Luna Jimenez 13:40

- 82nd Place - Kandace Gonzales 14:37
- 87th Place - Elaina Arredondo 14:41
- 161st Place - Nadia Cruz-Gonzales 15:52

STEER XC RUNNERS SET NEW PR'S

The Steers cross country team did not come away with the team win this past Saturday for the first time this season but they did accomplish something more important than placing first, they improved their time by A LOT! All of the Steer runners improved their times tremendously when they competed this past Saturday and Head Coach Brandon Clemmons was excited about the results. Per Coach Clemmons he was proud of how his team competed overall but was more excited and proud of the fact that his runners set new PR's at this meet. Every Steer runner this past Saturday improved their time by 30 seconds or more and that is a good sign that the Steers cross country teams are improving as the season progresses.

#3 STEERS SET TO FACE #1 CANYON

This Saturday the Steers will run in the Lubbock ISD Invitational and the meet will be important for the Steers for two reasons. The first reason is the Steers will get the opportunity to run in the Region I meet for the first time this season and getting familiar with the course will help out later in the season. The second reason and probably the most important is the Steers will get the opportunity to face off against Region I rival and the No. 1 team in the state for Class 4A, Canyon. The Steers are currently ranked third in the state and this race will be a preview of the Region I meet come late October. Per Coach Clemmons, this race will be a good test for his team and will also serve as a gauge to where his team is at in the season and where they need to improve on.

Today in History: September 16, GM is founded Today is Friday, Sept. 16, the 259th day of 2022. There are 106 days left in the year.

Today's Highlights in History:

On Sept. 16, 2001, President George W. Bush, speaking on the South Lawn of the White House, said there was "no question" Osama bin Laden and his followers were the prime suspects in the Sept. 11 attacks; Bush pledged the government would "find them, get them running and hunt them down." On this date: In 1630, the Massachusetts village of Shawmut changed its name to Boston. In 1810, Mexico began its revolt against Spanish rule. In 1908, General Motors was founded in Flint, Michigan, by William C. Durant.

In 1982, the massacre of between 1,200 and 1,400 Palestinian men, women and children at the hands of Israeli-allied Christian Phalange militiamen began in west Beirut's Sabra and Shatila refugee camps.

In 1987, two dozen countries signed the Montreal Protocol, a treaty designed to save the Earth's ozone layer by calling on nations to reduce emissions of harmful chemicals by the year 2000.

In 2007, contractors for the U.S. security firm Blackwater USA guarding a U.S. State Department convoy in Baghdad opened fire on civilian vehicles, mistakenly believing they were under attack; 14 Iraqis died. O.J. Simpson was arrested in the alleged armed robbery of sports memorabilia collectors in Las Vegas. (Simpson was later convicted of kidnapping and armed robbery and sentenced to nine to 33 years in prison; he was released in 2017.)

In 2013, Aaron Alexis, a former U.S. Navy reservist, went on a shooting rampage inside the Washington Navy Yard, killing 12 people before being shot dead by police.

In 2016, after five years of promoting a false conspiracy theory about Barack Obama's birthplace, Republican Donald Trump abruptly reversed course, acknowledging that the president was born in America, but then claiming the "birther movement" was begun by his Democratic rival, Hillary Clinton. (While the question of Obama's birthplace was raised by some backers of Clinton's primary campaign against Obama eight years earlier, Clinton had long denounced it as a "racist lie.")

Ten years ago: In appearances on Sunday news shows, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Susan Rice, said there was no evidence that the attack on the U.S. diplomatic outpost in Benghazi, Libya, was premeditated. But Libya's interim president, Mohammed el-Megarif, told CBS he had no doubt attackers spent months planning the assault and purposely chose the date, September 11.

Five years ago: Tropical Storm Maria, which would batter the Caribbean as a powerful hurricane, formed in the Atlantic. California lawmakers voted to move the state's presidential primary up by about three months to March, a move that would force candidates to mount expensive campaigns earlier.

One year ago: Health officials said the state of Florida had surpassed 50,000 coronavirus deaths since the start of the pandemic. A new study released by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention linked the COVID-19 pandemic to an "alarming" increase in obesity in U.S. children and teenagers. A report published in JAMA Ophthalmology suggested that vision problems increased among Chinese schoolchildren during pandemic restrictions and online learning. Jane Powell, a star of Hollywood's golden age musicals, died at her Connecticut home at 92.

Building the Mystery

There's something wonderful about keeping the secrets of your own little world and revealing yourself on a need-to-know basis. The solar opposition to Neptune suggests you cultivate a fantasy in the minds of others by leaving room for mystery. Don't rush to reveal or discover information. Let things unfold in their own time.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Avoid people who require you to constantly assert yourself; they'll wear you out. It's not always possible to choose your team, but when you have a choice you'll go with kind, communicative, skilled people with a strong work ethic.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). There is more than one way to be the best version of yourself and there are also multiple paths to creating the life you want. Avoid thinking in absolutes. Be willing to try different methods and walk new paths.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Don't worry too much about what to want; just pick something to stick with for a few weeks. Experimentation is part of being an exciting, open-minded person. You'll commit when you're ready. Resist pressure from the outside.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You've no problem finding interesting things to do or coming up with creative options. The real question is, (SET ITAL) what's worth doing? (END ITAL) Where should you focus your energy? For now, the best idea is the one you can complete today.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Though you'd like to plainly tell the truth, the situation may be smoother with a dance on the fine line between diplomacy and lying. Your conscience tells you the difference, but your social acuity allows for a wide margin.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You seek vitality and engagement. When you get problems instead, consider that they may be an opportunity to gain exactly what you're looking for. You are never more engaged as you are when you're solving something.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You can't please all the people all the time, and today all those people seem to be in your family. They'll be more critical of you than you deserve, but this is your chance to work on believing in yourself. Do your own thing.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). No one got popular striving for excellence, though plenty of excellent people are popular indeed. You'll put your head down and do the work without a worry about those who might consider themselves your competition.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You don't speak to win. Winning hardly ever happens through speaking anyway; it happens through the feeling people have when they interact with you. You let your ears guide you instead of your mouth.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). It's safe to open up about some things, but not everything. You'll pick and choose. The one who will help you solve your problem is near, but you won't be able to tell who it is until you start talking about what you need and want.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Good boundaries will cut out a ton of problems. Because you're clear about what you're interested in, what you want and what you're willing to do, people get you. They know how to approach you and what to offer you.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Your vision for the future is expanding. Don't be afraid to really go for this bigger version. You're ready. You'll attract other talented people who will help you exceed the previous limitations.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Sept. 16). You learned long ago that social interaction is never only what it seems like on the surface. This year you'll use your social acuity to rise in influence. You'll be repaid for past kindness and be given unexpected boons. You'll find hidden treasure in the form of a person who makes your life easier, lovelier and more exciting. Libra and Scorpio adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 1, 4, 44, 28 and 31.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Aranda brings up 'The Boss' as example for No. 17 Baylor

By STEPHEN HAWKINS

AP Sports Writer

WACO, Texas (AP) — Baylor coach Dave Aranda used Bruce Springsteen's approach to his live performances as an example to his players about always having energy and great execution. He then had to tell the older teenagers and young 20-somethings who is "The Boss."

Aranda wanted to remind the 17th-ranked Bears (1-1), who play their final non-conference game at home Saturday against Texas State (1-1), not to view things as just being routine. Whether that be the actual game, a midweek practice or off-field work.

"There was a quote that (Springsteen) had, about how he doesn't see concerts as just a routine. He sees it as a renewal, and he talks about how he's playing 'Born to Run' however many times," Aranda said. "Each time, it's a new time because there's someone bringing somebody for the first time that listened to him. ... And it's like, you never know whose first time it is. You never know the impact that you make."

Baylor is coming off a double-overtime loss at future Big 12 foe BYU, a game in which the Bears had 14 penalties — after none when beating the Cougars at home last year. They also averaged only 2.9 yards on 52 rushing attempts, their most in Aranda's three seasons.

The Bears were unranked when they grinded out a 29-20 win at Texas State in last year's season opener. Since becoming an FBS team in 2012, the Bobcats are 0-9 vs. Top 25 teams, and lost those games by an average margin of nearly 34 points.

RUNNING "SQWIRL"

Starting running back Taye McWilliams is questionable for Baylor after leaving the first half of the BYU game when he took a hard shot to his chest.

Craig Williams, the fifth-year junior nicknamed "Sqwirl" limited by injuries to eight games before this season, had a career-high 17 carries against BYU. He could be heavily involved in the running game with Qualan Jones this week.

"I'm never gonna turn down any carries," Williams said. "I'm sure everybody in the room is ready to go out there."

DOYLE'S PENALTY

Baylor will play the first half without starting middle linebacker Dillon Doyle, who was penalized for targeting in the fourth quarter against BYU. The former Iowa transfer started Baylor's last 25 games.

That targeting call came when when BYU running back Lopini Katoa was hit in the open field when trying to catch a pass.

"Dillon, he's kind of heartbroken about it," Aranda said. "It's one of those things to where you slow it down, you can see him leave his feet, you could see the launch and all of it. ... It's hard when a guy is up high and he's coming down low."

SCARY SCENE

Texas State cornerback Chris Mills will be on the sideline but won't play after a scary collision with a receiver in the win over FIU last Saturday night. Mills was motionless on the field and taken off the field on a cart after players for both teams gathered for a prayer.

"Just thankfully, he's all great," Bobcats coach Jake Spavital said. "You know, he wants to play, but I keep telling me we need to sit this one out."

Spavital said Mills has gotten "great reports" from doctors and was with the team all week.

"He's the same happy-go-lucky kid," Spavital said. "It's just crazy how he didn't even know what happened."

CENTURY CALVIN

Calvin Hill has rushed for at least 100 yards in three of his last four games for Texas State, including a career-high 195 yards on 28 carries against FIU.

"Calvin started giving us a spark in that third, fourth quarter," Spavital said of the 5-foot-8, 185-pound Hill, a fourth-year sophomore with 16 career starts. "He's a pretty dynamic player in space."

AFTER MIDNIGHT TO PRE-NOON

The Bears will kick off their non-conference finale just after 11 a.m. local time. It comes a week after their game in Utah that didn't end until after midnight — at 1:19 a.m. Texas time, specifically — and the team didn't get back to Waco until close to sunrise Sunday.

"I'm fine with whatever they give us," said safety Devin Neal, who leads the team with eight solo tackles. "I'm ready to work whenever, I kind of like to look at it that way."

No. 24 A&M hosts No. 13 Miami after upset by App State

By KRISTIE RIEKEN

AP Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — This was supposed to be the year Texas A&M finally took the next step and contended with Alabama for the SEC title.

Instead, last week's 17-14 upset at home against scrappy Appalachian State sent the Aggies tumbling from No. 6 to No. 24 in the AP Top 25 and took some luster off Saturday night's matchup against 13th-ranked Miami.

Now the Aggies are looking for ways to move on from that stunning loss and salvage a season that started with so much promise.

Senior receiver Ainas Smith had a simple message to his teammates this week to try and get Texas A&M back on track.

"(Don't) let one loss define us," he said.

Coach Jimbo Fisher took the brunt of the criticism for the loss with people questioning him losing to an 18 ½-point underdog from the Sun Belt Conference at home while earning $9 million a year.

"We did not execute to the level we needed to execute to win the game," he said. "I'm very disappointed in how we played and how we did. We had opportunities to win the game and should have played much better. We have to practice better, play better and execute at a higher level against a very good football team."

The Hurricanes opened the season with two wins, and new coach Mario Cristobal isn't changing his approach this week despite the idea that a victory over Texas A&M would be a nice signature win in his first season at the school.

He preaches a simple style: get better every day, win the week, move on to the next, ignore the noise.

"The affirmation is what you put on film," Cristobal said. "That's your resume. We really focus on being internally driven and gearing everything towards that. Because everything outside of that, all the noise, the fluff, it ain't going to help you when you're playing against really good football teams in clutch situations."

Miami opened the season with Bethune-Cookman and Southern Miss, and Hurricanes quarterback Tyler Van Dyke insists that there was no peeking ahead at Week 3 while prepping for those opponents. But earlier this summer, yes, Texas A&M was on his mind.

"This is the team I was probably studying the most, watching their spring game, watching some film from last year," Van Dyke said. "Once the season started, we didn't really watch much film on them, obviously focusing on the other two teams we played before. We watched a good amount of film earlier in the summer."

The Hurricanes are eager to see what game-night atmosphere at College Station is all about. If attendance on Saturday night tops 90,000 — both of Texas A&M's games this season have exceeded that — then it would be one of the nine biggest road crowds in Hurricanes' history.

"When you're growing up and you're playing college football, you want to play in games like this," Cristobal said. "You recognize their tradition, and you respect it, them and their program and you can't wait for the opportunity to find out where you are as a program."

JIMBO VS. MIAMI

This will be the ninth time that Fisher coaches against Miami. The previous eight were all during his time at Florida State; Fisher and the Seminoles won the first seven of those meetings, before Miami prevailed 24-20 in 2017. Fisher and Cristobal have never gone head-to-head as head coaches.

QUARTERBACK QUESTIONS

Texas A&M QB Haynes King's job could be in jeopardy after he managed just 97 yards passing with no touchdowns last week as he failed to move the offense effectively. Fisher said he was evaluating the position and would consider a change right after the loss.

THE SERIES

Miami is 2-1 against Texas A&M, winning at home in 2007 and then at College Station in 2008. Texas A&M's win was in 1944, a 70-14 victory — still the most points ever allowed by the Hurricanes, who threw a school-record seven interceptions in that contest. The Aggies are scheduled to visit Miami on Sept. 9, 2023.

HELLO, AGAIN

Miami RB Henry Parrish Jr. played for Mississippi last year, and had 58 yards on nine carries for the Rebels in a 29-19 home win over Texas A&M. "I've heard they have the biggest stadium in SEC football, 100-and-whatever thousand fans they have," Parrish said, adding his recollection of Texas A&M's defense was this: "Really fast."

OFF THE ACHANE

Texas A&M running back Devon Achane scored both the team's touchdowns last week after scoring on a 26-yard run and a 95-yard kickoff return. It was the seventh multi-touchdown game in the career of Achane, who is also a sprinter on the school's track team. He leads the SEC and ranks second in the nation by averaging 48 yards a kickoff this season.

RANKED VS. RANKED

Texas A&M has gone 3-2 in its last five games in which both teams were in the AP Top 25 poll. Miami is 3-12 in its last 15 ranked-vs.-ranked games, 1-11 in its last 12 such games played at road or neutral sites.

No. 21 Texas moving on after loss, now faces tough UTSA

By The Associated Press

UTSA (1-1) at No. 21 Texas (1-1), Saturday, 8 p.m. ET (Longhorn Network)
Line: Texas by 11 1/2 according to Fanduel Sportsbook.

Series record: First meeting

WHAT'S AT STAKE?

Texas earned national praise for a close loss to powerhouse Alabama. A solid win keeps momentum going for the program before the Longhorns head into the Big 12 schedule A loss blows it all up. UTSA made a statement with last season's 12 victories and Conference USA championship. A win at No. 21 Texas would be the biggest in program history. The Roadrunners didn't start playing football until 2011.

KEY MATCHUP

UTSA's patchwork offensive line vs. Texas' defensive front. Injuries have forced the Roadrunners to play musical chairs at tackle and now they must protect quarterback Frank Harris against a big, physical Longhorns defensive line that played its best game in years against Alabama.

PLAYERS TO WATCH

UTSA: Wide receivers Zakhari Franklin and Joshua Cephus are a dynamic combination for the Roadrunners. They both average more than 110 yards receiving through the first two games and give Harris multiple options on every play.

Texas: All eyes are on the whoever is at quarterback. Starter Quinn Ewers is likely out with clavicle injury. Backup Hudson Card is hobbled with a high ankle sprain. That could leave Texas with unheralded third-string Charles Wright and a steady dose of tailback back Roschon Johnson running the Wildcat formation.
