AN INSIDE STORY Harry Truman will be known as the man who didn't want to be President.

Unassuming, modest, in love with his job as senator from Missouri. Harry never wanted to be vice president in the first place. And after he was elected, he dreaded the thought that anything might happen to President Roosevelt. Once, during the campaign, he awoke in a co'r sweat. He had dreamed that Roosevelt had died and he was called upon to assume his mantle. Harry said he never had such a terrible dream before in all his life. Truman had arrived in Speaker Sam Rayburn's office to discuss that awes_me possibility when the call came to hurry to the White House. On Wednesday, the night before, Speaker Rayburn had had a premonition of things to come. Dining with triends, Rayburn said:

"This country is in for a great tragedy, and I feel it's coming very soon. I don't think the President will be with us much longer."

Rayburn's listeners were shocked. When they asked the speaker for an explanation, he replied: "Roosevelt's not a well man."

himself ready for this.

Refusing to be more specific, he turned his head away from the table for a moment and then said "I think I'll have a talk with Harry (Truman) tomorrow. He's got to be prepared to carry a tremendous burden. He's got to get

LESSON TEXT-I Kings 9:1-7, 26; 10: 26-28; 11:4, 11. GOLDEN TEXT-Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord,-Psalm 33:12.

Keeping up with the neighbors is not always a desirable thing, but both men and nations do it. When the last judge, Samuel, had become old, Israel began to demand a king like the nations round about them. Although the rejection of His direct rule over them through His chosen men was a sad development, God permitted them to choose a by the turn of circumstance the king. Saul, their first king, was evidently selected for his appearance and his physical superiority. He began well, in dependence upon God, but came to a tragic end because of > David, who followed Saul, had his failings, but was essentially a man after God's own heart. He wanted to build a temple for God, but because he was a man of war, God decreed that his son, Solomon, who succeeded him, was to build it.

With the reign of Solomon, and all been so bitter and the marines especially with the building of the temple, the monarchy in Israel reached its highest developmentonly, to go down to disaster.

Our lesson opens after the remarkably fine prayer with which Solomon dedicated the temple. I. Dedication Accepted (9:1-3).

God was pleased with Solomon's intelligent and spiritual prayer and the act of dedication, and He hallowed the house of the Lord by putting His name on it and assuring

It is a delightful thing that God is willing to accept at the hands of a man the dedication of either himself or his possessions for God's glory. The Lord is Maker of heaven and we have. And yet He does have need of it, and is ready to use it as we present it to Him.

Our act of dedication results in His act of acceptance and consecration of our talents, our time, our money, or our goods for His glorious service. But God expects His people to continue in devotion to Him if they are to have His continued presence and blessing. II. Consecration Expected (9:4-7), The throne of David was to remain in the lineage of Solomon as long as he and the people of Israel walked uprightly before God. He expects obedience to His commandments, as good as any marine division. He and apart from it He cannot give His

IV. Judgment Decreed (11:4, 11). It would seem that a man who knows the Lord should grow in grace and become even more intimate with God as he grows old. One might expect that the passing of years should mellow and sweeten life. But sad to say, it is often not the case.

"When Solomon was old." he went after false gods. How tragic! Little wonder that one of the saintliest men this writer ever knew prayed constantly as he went on into his eighties, "Lord, keep me from ever becoming a wicked old man." Other old men and women (yes, and all of us) could well pray the same prayer. So it became necessary for God to wrest the kingdom out of the hands of the great Solomon, and Israel goes on to its history of a people divided, of disobedience to God, and of ultimate judgment. Of that we shall see more in the weeks just ahead.

CONGRESS: Tariff Battle

Even as the Republicans' senate steering committee called upon Pres. Harry S. Truman to wish his administration well, a red hot legislative battle loomed in congress over the new chief's reciprocal trade treaty program, with GOP leaders heading the fight to defeat the measure.

First sponsored by Mr. Roosevelt, then adopted as his own by President Truman, the program calls for a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade treaties, with permission to cut tariff rates 50 per cent under January, 1945, levels. Since the original trade treaties allowed a 50 per cent reduction on duties imposed in the Smoot-Hawley bill of 1930, and such cuts were made on some goods, another 90 per cent slash would amount to 75 per cent, in all.

While the 1st and 3rd fought toward a junction with the Russlans, and the U.S. 9th built up strength along the Elbe for an eastward thrust to Berlin, the British and Canadian forces and the U.S. 7th army bore down on the potential German defensive pockets along the

MODERN MINING

Indicated output of 625,000,000 tons of coal in 1944 was attained with about 200,000 fewer workers than in 1918, largely because of extensive mechanization of the mines man output per day in pituminous mines has been raised from an average of 3% tons during the last war to more than 51/4 tons in 1944. This compares with slightly more than one ton per man per day in England, and a little over two tons per man in Canada, it is pointed out.

the nation's future policy. tentative navy plans call for a huge postwar fleet of 5,830 vessels and the scrapping of another 6.094, according to testimony released by the house appropriation committee.

Of the 5,830 vessels, 1,191 would be combat ships, with the remaining 4,639 auxiliary craft. Plans calls for use of 482 of the combat vessels, ranging from submarines to battleships, with the rest laid up for recall on short notice. Of the auxiliaries, 1,794 would be kept active and the remainder anchored for future demands.

Among the 6,094 vessels to be scrapped or used as targets are 337 obsolescent combat ships. The remainder are auxiliaries, including landing craft. In addition, it was disclosed, the navy will have some 66,000 other craft on its hands as demobilization proceeds, with some retained and others disposed of by the maritime commission.

Corporal Richard A. Shingler of Pittsburgh, Pa., won the distinguished service medal for exhibiting a high degree of resourcefulness and efficiency in the preparation and dropping of supplies and medical equipment to isolated survivors of airplane crashes. During 1944, he completed over 10,000 miles of travel in China, using all modes of transportation, including 500 miles on foot and horseback. His outstanding achievements have been instrumental in the saving of 89 crew members.

Decision to terminate production of the B-24s was predicated upon the collapse of the German luftwaffe and the need for heavier, faster bombers like the B-29s for the Pacific war, it was said. The overall cut in output of other planes also will permit concentration on manufacture of aircraft more vitally needed against the Japs, including the new jet-propelled ships. Capable of turning out 462 planes a month at the peak of its operations, the Willow Run factory is owned by the government's Defense Plant corporation. Henry Ford has eyed purchase of the property for production of tractors and other kinds of farm tools after the war.

WATER TREATY: Neighborly Act

In what President Truman hailed as a constructive, business-like proposal undertaken in a neighborly spirit, the U.S. senate ratified the controversial treaty dividing waters of the Colorado and Rio Grande rivers between this country and Mexico.

Of the nearly 150,000 persons who died of cancer in the United States last year, approximately 3,600 were between the ages of 20 and 29. It is true that cancer reaps its highest death toll in the age groups over 40, but it may afflict a person in any age group with equally tragic results-even infants have been known to die from cancer. If treated in the early stages, however, the disease is curable, au thorities point out.

es deals with the White House visitor who remarked: "Mr. President, how in the world did you acquire such patience-with all the bores you neet in a day?"

FDR grimly replied: "You acquire patience after you've spent two years learning how to wiggle your big toe again."

Men who were trusted by President Roosevelt were never frisked when they were admitted to FDR's office. The Secret Servicemen knew his friends, of course. . . . One newly appointed agent, however, took no chances. . . . A newspaper man he had never seen before (and who hadn't held his White House pass high enough for the agent to see) was suddenly jerked out of the crowd swiftly marching in for the press confab. The newspaper man (when he got his bearings again) was irked no end. . . . Later, alone with the President, he kidded about it. "I thought everybody down here," he said, "knew who was on your team!" . . . "Well," replied the President, "it is comforting to know that the boys are careful." "Not so careful," said the visitor, displaying a loaded pistol.

Among one reporter's thrills was hearing him guffaw. When the gag was funny he would howl. The vaudeville comics would call it "a belly laugh." . . . The reporter thinks, too, he is one of the few who ever saw him weep. It happened when ex-Cong. Lambertson and others were criticizing the was records of his sons. . Mr. Rocsevelt was miserable about a letter that came (that morning) from one of them. It concluded: "Pop, sometimes I really hope one of us gets killed so that maybe they'll stop picking on the rest of the family!" . . . When he read it, FDR's lower lip started to quiver, and the tears came.

This Republic is governed by the will of the people. That expressed will has been interrupted by the will of God, in the passing of President Roosevelt

Now, President Truman, the due constitutional choice of the American people, is entitled to the fullest loyalty and cooperation as Commander in Chief.

This is not a time for slackening of effort. On the contrary, this new, unexpected and grievous challenge to the American people is a challenge to Democracy itself.
