REMEMBER A JOKE

Perhaps you read about an American delegation that was to go to Denmark to instruct them in how to get under way, since liberation, to produce food. Shortly after its liberation Denmark began to furnish Britain and American forces in Europe with Butter, Eggs and Bacon, and in large quantities too. The Danes were allowed by the Germans to keep their stock since it meant feeding the Germans. In this way, about a month after being free, Denmark started her old-time shipment of food stuff to England. This Denmark is a quite small piece of country, remember, and many an American state would engulf it many times over. And we should send a delegation to tell Denmark how to produce farm goods, especially butter, eggs and bacon. Evidently she has some system of agriculture that has restored her in a hurry to assume a place in the production market. Maybe they should send a delegation from Denmark over here.

THE BEST CROP

We talk big, around Burkburnett, about developing our resources, of larger crops and more dividends. A development of the crop of 4-H Clubs pays mighty fine dividends, in case you didn't know. These active organizations are found all over the country. Club members are busy with learning along lines such as home economics and preservation, home furnishings, livestock and crop production which takes in projects in beef heifers, purebred dairy, pig, rabbit, colt, sheep, poultry. Add the Victory garden projects and you can see why the 4-H Club members value their education through counsel and expert guidance. We can always lend a hand to the work of this organization. Take the maintainence of their summer camps, for example.

DEAR IN MIND

It takes public opinion to bring about punishment of war criminals. There are complaints heard around Burkburnett of the slowness in bringing these criminals to court. As happens in all cases dealing with law and order, when the public becomes disinterested in the cases themselves, the prosecution is apt to be slow in doing anything. It has happened before that the American people quickly forget

• This is the spot in a certain home where a good electric refrigerator once stood. Like the old adage, "you never miss the water until the well runs dry," this electric refrigerator withstood misuse and abuse for many years. It got none of the care such a valuable appliance deserves.

Finally the inevitable happened. It quit, a victim of the usual malady-lack of care. A vacant spot is the only reminder of the many years of faithful (but unappreciated) service it rendered.

Fortunately, this unhappy result of carelessness hasn't occurred very often, but it does happen. The moral to this little story:

German crimes and became indifferent enough to allow the guilty to escape punishment. We should take immediate and prompt action before our memories fail us again. The Allies, in their court to try these war criminals, should proceed to demand a reckoning. Do something before somebody starts to organize a committee to protest against the mistreatment of our enemies and asks that we subscribe to a cigarette fund for their sakes.

ISAAC'S HERITAGE

LESSON TEXT-Genesis 24:10, 15-20, GOLDEN TEXT-I have a goodly heritage.-Psalm 16:6.

The ordinary things of life become extraordinary when we recognize in them the outworking of the plan of God. Our lesson presents one of history's sweetest love stories. It would be worth reading just for that reason, but it is also the account of God's hand in the carrying forward of His promised blessing on the seed

For a long time it seemed that there could be no fulfillment at all, for Sarah and Abraham had no child. Then by a miracle, God gave them a beloved son.

Isaac's remarkable deliverance in the hour when it looked as though he might be taken from his father (Gen. 22:10-12) was like bringing back one who was dead (Heb. 11:18,

He grew into manhood, and Abraham, good father and faithful ser. She vant of the Lord, determined that his son must have a godly wife. Sc in accordance with Oriental custom he sent a most trusted servant back cape. So many women are in to their homeland to choose a bride her position now that it seems from their own kindred.

The altogether charming story unfolds in our lesson as we see I. A Faithful Servant (v. 10).

Full instructions from Abraham and an oath that he would not take a bride for Isaac from among the Canaanites, prepared the servant for his journey. Taking with him a goodly caravan and rich presents from his master, he set out on his

There is much to learn here about the need of parental concern, and their interested action in helping young people to find the right mate. We see the importance of avoiding "mixed" marriages, especially those between a believer and an unbeliever.

We see the need of constant dependence on God, for only He has the wisdom and the knowledge of human hearts which can properly join two lives together. In our day when marriage is so carelessly and casually contracted, these matters need special emphasis.

II. A Fair Damsel (vv. 15-20). To be good to look upon is certainly a desirable thing in a woman, but it has been far too much exploited in our day. Notice that works all day, cooking, cleaning, while Rebekah was very fair, she gardening. She adores the children,

The tender scene of their meeting, and of the love which welled up in their hearts at first sight of one another, needs no comment. We do need to say that unless America gets back to real love marriages, our nation is destined for disaster. Matrimony based on physical attraction, improper emphasis on sex, or on convenience, will never be able to meet the stress of modern life. Love can and will do it, especially where those who thus ove one another first love God.

"Instead, nothing is right. My father-in-law is a fine old man, but so close that a light left burning or a faucet left running will give him a chance to scold for hours. #### ENDURING CRITICISM

Sometimes little nagging annoyances loom like grave hardships. It depends a lot on the viewpoint. Helen, for instance, can scarcely bear her lat. She is a soldier's wife with two small children. They are living with his parents in a big country house. The old folks pay all the bills, and do a good deal of the work. Helen has only to take care of herself and the children, and to help a little with the general house-

But what wears on Helen's nerves is the constant criticism from her parents-in-law. They are thrifty so a fault, hardworking, and old fashioned. Her father-in-law raises a fuss about waste-lights left burning, soap used in excess, food thrown away-and keeps nagging for hours. Her motherin-law makes pointed suggestions about rearing the children, saving money for the future, dressing plainly, and so forth. This is day in and day out. There is nowhere Helen can go, as she is dependent, having no means excepting her government allotment. It would be difficult for her to get a job, or find an apartment. She would have to place the babies in a nursery, too.

What About 'Americanism'?

WNU Washington Bureau 621 Union Trust Building. TOW wide and how deep is your Americanism? Will it embrace our new concept of national life, including the good neighbor policy and tolerance here at home, as fixed by our foreign policy?

oes your Americanism contempla a protection of your religious beliefs by recognizing the right of others to their religious beliefs? Does it tolerate and respect the rights and opinions of others? Does it follow the basic chart we have set down for world peace and international . . that world peace and the good neighbor policy cannot succeed unless the peoples of the world WILL that we have peace and live together as good neighbors?

These questions have been raised by the senate hearings and debate on the ratification of the charter of the United Nations. They were raised also on the first pronouncement of James F. Byrnes, new secretary of state, after he took his oath of office. He said:

"The making of an enduring peace will depend on something more than skilled diplomacy, something more than paper treaties, something more even than the best charter the wisest statesmen can draft. Important as is diplomacy, important as are the peace settlements and the basic charter of world peace. these cannot succeed unless backed by the will of the peoples of different lands, not only to have peace, but to live together as good neighbors." And that means that we must start here at home at being good neighbors, one to another.

We were an intolerant, bigoted nation 26 years ago. We kicked the Versailles treaty and the Covenant of the League of Nations overboard. Our Americanism then was in the narrow sense . . . we thought we could live within ourselves, self-sufficient . . . apart from the rest of the world. As a result of this attitude of intolerance, all sorts of "isms" and movements grew up in our national life . . . neighbor was arrayed against neighbor . . . social distrust and unrest festered.

"Today," concluded the new secretary of state, "there can be no doubt that the peoples of this warravaged earth want to live in a free and peaceful world. But the supreme task of statesmanship the world over is to help them to understand that they can have peace and freedom only if they tolerate and an, who helps endure the burning respect the rights of others to opinanxiety she must feel for her son, ions, feelings and ways of life which they do not and cannot share.

"Who so loseth his life servatives represented the East and shall find it" is just as true today the populous centers of the North. Today the pendulum swings the other way with representatives, generally, from the West and Midwest the pillars of conservative thought, while such men as Aiken of Vermont, White and Brewster of Maine, Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Tobey of New Hampshire, and others from the larger cities become the supporters of liberal thought.

In the cities, the influence of labor unions, no doubt, has caused a swing from conservative to liberal and given impetus for reform from the industrial East and North. And so the picture presented indicates the future will see the mass thinking of the large areas of population pitted against the individual thought of the small towns and the rural areas

The purest form of Americanism today is found in the rural sections of the nation, and if the present tendency toward decentralization of population and industry is carried through, as it will be, the influence of the small town and rural community will be felt more and more on the national life of the nation. The experiences following the last war should be a warning that there is no place today in this pure Americanism for the forms of intolerance and bigotry which polluted the body of our social and political life during that period.

The World, the Peace and Andy Gribbin

An important thing about Andy Gribbin's education is that his whoie early life is spent in learning the essential business of cooperation, of getting along with fellow-beings.

First, he has to learn how to fit into his immediate family, learn the give-and-take necessary to get along with brothers, sisters, elders.

Then, after a few years, his world enlarges, he is sent to school. Pretty soon he learns how to spell C-A-T. But about this same time he learns something much more valuable, which is that he mustn't pull the cat's tail because a cat is a being, and therefore entitled to certain inalienable rights.

He also learns that 1 plus 1 equals 2. But much more useful is learning that 48 equals 1, that 48 states make 1 nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for

As Andy grows up his world will continually expand. At church, at school, in business. And through it all will run the theme of cooperation, of getting along with people of different religious, political and economic beliefs; with people some of whom he doesn't even like.

But—the tragedy of world PREPARED BY THE WAR ADVERTISING COUNCIL

An increasing number of the world's leading thinkers is certain that unless a remedy is found for the evils which afflict mankind, the human race is headed toward self-destruction.

But there is a remedy as new as it is old and as true as it is tried. This remedy is not to be found in political formulas. It is not the product of economic or sociological thought. It goes deeper than these things, it cuts to the quick and deals with the source of evil.

What is this wonderful remedy? Here it is: Repent of your sins-Believe in the Lord Jesus

Good mechanics are economists. Whether a workman is a competent millwright or a graduate mechanical engineer, he is an enemy of lost motion. And lost motion is a menace to prosperity, serious as fire. When an engine is running idle it is only wearing out. When a machine is driven with its brakes on, the waste is even more damaging; property is injured and energy

What is true of a mechanical assembly is true of a human organization in this respect. The owners of a farm or the stockholders of a corporation are no penny richer for having a crew that works hard all day doing nothing. Work is necessary on a farm; sweat and calluses are only incidental; it's the crop that brings in the money and pays the men who till the land.

Production Pays Prosperity results from work but not from all work. Prosperity results from productive work. Peocrease the yield might as well be resting. The man who figures out a way to increase yield without extra labor is the best man on the job. He works with his brain; knows enough to stop lost motion, to take precautions against fire and the

In England there is a magazine called The Economist. It is Britain's leading financial publication. It is read and respected by business men and financiers generally. Just recently it has been running a series of articles entitled "A Policy for Wealth." The articles have shown why England is poor; that is, why the English people must put up with low living standards.

Deserve the Best

A large and respected group of Americans often say "Mother England." The British are a proud and industrious people and the Americans respect them. The British well understand how to enjoy and appreciate life's good things. They deserve to live as well as anybody but they don't. What's the reason? Well, here's what one writer for The Economist, looking back at 1943, has

"Industrial efficiency, as measured by production per head, was roughly similar in Great Britain and Germany while in the United States it was more than twice as great as in the other two countries." The statement is that of Dr. Leon Rostas, based on serious study of authentic records. Now there is a movement on foot in England to double her productive output per man by 1972.

Lest We Forget

No longer ago than 1943, when America and England both had full employment, our American workers were twice as well off. They were producing enough to live twice as well as the British. About that time Britain was investing only 3% of her income in equipment for additional production. It was like a woodman saying, "Why buy a file?"

A dull saw pulls easier." The British point to Americans and say, "Look! They work less, earn more and live better than we, all because they encourage more investment in tools to produce more goods per man." Now England wisely plans to encourage larger investments to obtain greater production per man-hour, higher wages and higher living standards. Unless we adjust today's tax laws, we will be poor, watching the British produce and prosper in 1972.

Fleets Rake Japan as Big Three Parley Points up Peace Talk; Senate Moves for Global Unity

Frightened by invasion of U. S. marines of island off of Okinawa, Jap women are put at ease by Lt. H. P. Barrand of Stamford, Conn.

Keep Going

While the nation's capital buzzed nese homeland and the Allied fleets kept up the bombardment of Nippon's sprawling coastline.

Scorched by Allied fire, the Japs still refused to come out and fight. Propagandists were seeking to calm the populace with the assertion that HOME FURNISHINGS & APPLI, the U. S. and British attacks were designed to feel them out and they would strike at the proper time.

Reportedly in the possession of Mr. Truman, the American surrender conditions supposedly include the relinquishment of all military equipment; the disbandment of Jap forces; destruction of war industry; supervision over enemy shipbuilding, manufacture and port facilities, and punishment of war criminals.

FARM NOTES...

Though supplies of chicken and turkey will increase seasonally from now until fall, demand is expected to remain unusually strong for the remainder of 1945, reflecting scarcity of meat, a high level of consumer purchasing power, and large army procurement. #### HARD WORKERS:

More Meat

In line with its policy of providing extra meat and other foods for persons engaged in hard physical labor, OPA announced that miners would be granted additional meat rations starting in August.

OPA action followed the walkout of 10,000 miners from Illinois pits, climaxing a series of strikes throughout the country. Leaving their jobs after their leaders declared they "can't dig coal on lettuce sandwiches," the Illinois miners demanded an extra meat ration of 50 red points per month.

Though 1,500 foundry workers in neighboring localities joined the alization of meat rations.

This is a personal message to a few irresponsible American women, who do not realize the headaches they are causing some of our Commanding Officers-by causing heartaches to our fighting men. . . . This message was suggested by Government and war leaders who apparmatter-and here it is. A fighting man is only as good as his fighting heart. . . And inside his heart he carries the woman he loves. . . . Anybody in the armed services-from the hard-boiled top sergeants to the understanding chaplains-will tell you that a fighter can best protect our country when the woman he loves is protecting his heart. . . . It is the source of a soldier's greatest strength-and it is also the possible source of his greatest trouble.

This means that a certain, thoughtless, small percentage of American women must do their duty to their country-by giving their absent fighting men more consideration. . . . It is an extremely sad occurrence when a telegram arrives in some American home-with the news that an American fighting man is a casualty. . . . It is also sad when an American fighting man-on a firing line-receives a letter telling him that his affection for the woman he loves is a casualty back home. . . . Think that

A Washington paper, reporting that Joe Kamp and Ed Rumely were trying to have Congressional indictments against them dismissed, quoted their counsellors as saying were addressed to the House sergeant at arms and not the defendants " Oh, don't change the subject!

Many soldiers are writing this reporter because they do not understand the GI Bill of Rights. . The U. S. Gov't owes its fighting forces the same thorough education in their civilian rights that it insisted upon-in their military duties. . . . The American people expect each fighting man to get as much assistance under the GI Bill of Rights as that fighting man gave service under the articles of war. . . . This Gov't owes it to each fighting man to bring as much attention to his return to civil life as it put forth to bring him as a civilian into the armed services. . . , If the Gov't is able to seek out a deserter to punish him-it ought to be able to seek out its heroes to reward them.

Each fighting man is entitled to expert advice at Gov't expense. . . . This is more than simple justice. It is sound national policy.

It is easy to understand why the officials (responsible for the transportation of our returned men) had them ride in coaches while prisoners of war rode in Pullmans. . This excerpt from a soldier reveals that higher-ups give more consideration to prisoners. Look: "Gallbach, Austria: Yesterday I saw something that burned me up. I went for a ride along the Alps and saw German soldiers who had surrendered (120,000 in all), who had never been put in a prisoner's cage. Instead. they were living in the best hotels, swimming, sun-bathing, riding vehicles and probably got their gas from us men; they had all the American ciggies and food they wanted. They also carried small arms, such as pistols, rifles and machine gats. Can you imagine that? This through the courtesy of the American 7th Army. Maybe I'm on the wrong side!"

This is a short and ugly story about a war hero. His name is Cpl. Edward Majeski of Hastings, Minn. He was the first soldier from the 1st ward of that community to leave for combat duty. He served 4 years in uniform-most of that time in actual combat overseas-18 months of which he suffered in a Nazi prison camp. . . . He was wounded. . . . When he returned to Hastings there was no crowd at the station, no cheering, no bands, no or confetti shower, no paper flags. No nuttin'. Only this 'greeting' from a storekeeper, who had the police hand Majeski a summons and complaint. . . . Corporal Majeski was fined $10 and court costs for riding a bike on a Hastings sidewalk. . . . Whew!

Pay-Cut

Last year at this time I enjoyed the acquaintance of a business man whose salary was $50,000 a year. I looked upon him with a great deal of admiration and respect for several reasons. He earned what he has with hard work and know-how. His employees, numbering above ten thousand, call him Uncle Frank.

Last week somebody showed me a page of a pocket-size magazine published for the employees of his company and I read with grave interest that his pay had been cut. That was news by anybody's standard; most people are getting raises in pay these days. What's more, this man's pay-cut is big. It amounts to more in a year than most men

His Own Words

"I insisted that the board of directors reduce my annual salary from $50,000 to one dollar," the signed statement said, "I have not been receiving net anywhere near $50,000 a year for working. . . . Only $309.36 was left for my use out of my 1944 wages. . . . Why should I permit the company to pay out $50,000 a year to benefit me by only

Let me make haste to say that I am not sorry for Uncle Frank. He will be all right; he has some other money. I am not worried about his employees either. The faithful work- cause is eliminated, the body stops ers among them will be able to concern is over men who, next year or the next, may hunt jobs and not sale at find them; jobs Uncle Frank would like to offer but can't.

Inside Figures

Here is another enlightening passage from his statement: "Perhaps you wonder why my net realization from wages has been so small. The answer lies in the extremely high income tax rates which apply to my wages, added as they are to my other income, and to the fact that I must pay not only federal income taxes but also state income taxes."

This man is not the only big-company official in the country who has cut a lordly income to less than 10 cents a month. Why do they do it? Because their big salaries benefit them so little and cost their firms so much. My young friend who started last fall to work his way through college, running a steam dishwasher four hours a day, realized more net from his salary than this $50,000 executive.

Who Is Injured?

Men who cut off big salaries have other income. That's why their tax rates are so high. That's why they can afford to spurn a salary. But if they must decline the proceeds of their own invested earnings, one thing is sure: They will not invest further earnings to start new ventures or expand old ones. Investments in business are not safe, never have been. Any investment is a

Men with money invest it only when they believe, to the best of their judgment, that it will pay reasonable returns. Now they are sure of only one thing: Nearly everything an investment earns will be taxed away from them. Will they invest in new enterprises? No. Then where will our returning service men find work? Unless present tax laws are changed soon, they will find it on a huge W. P. A. to the disgrace of our free America.

Dogs Like It Rough

There is no chance of your dog getting pink tooth brush if he has his way about it. Recent research at Purina Mills has revealed that dogs definitely prefer food that is coarse and rough.

Through 14 generations of dogs, Purina research has been concentrated in the taste, smell and nutrition values of dog food. When a researcher at Purina decided that the "feel" of a food in the dog's mouth had a lot to do with the dog's enjoyment of eating, the idea was put to test.

Feeding tests on the Purina Research Farm verified this theory. They proved that dogs prefer food in a coarse form. When given a free choice between the two forms dogs ate four times as much of the coarse food as of the soft, bland food.

Care For Eggs During Summer

Summer weather puts an ad ded - burden on the poultryman in his attempt to produce a quaiity egg.

Being careless in handling eggs during summer months will result in lowering their quality -and means the poultryman will be forced to take a lower price for them when marketed.

Collect the eggs often during hot days and keep them in a cool damp place while awaiting shipment. Do not pack them while they are still warm.

Try Hot Water Plus for Acute Distress-Pain After Eating

Perhaps the greatest cause of distressing stomach upsets is excess stomach acidity.

If the thousands of unfortunate people, who suffer from socalled dyspepsia, acid indigestion, food fermentation, sour stomach, flatulence, gas or other stomach distress brought on by excess acid would drink slowly after each meal half a glass of real hot water containing one spoonful of NEUTRACID they can usually obtain almost unbelieveable relief in a very few minutess!

laty Reduces Mortgage Debt

trailroads as well as for individuals, today is the ght and patriotic time to save . . . to reduce mortgage ebts...to protect against the future. It is just as ound and satisfying to the owners of a railroad as it is to a home owner to free himself of burdensome mortgage debt.

The Katy has backed this firm conviction with approximately $40,000,000 of its mortgage bonds purchased, retired and cremated since December 31, 1941-a 43% reduction in mortgage debt within four short years!

Reduction of mortgage debt is interest saved. With the retirement and cancellation of

OURI-KANSAS-TEXAS

$40,000,000 of bonds the Katy has reduced its mortgage interest charges approximately $1,900,000 annuallythe equivalent of lower operating costs.

To effect such savings is to run a railroad more economically and efficiently. Any thrifty property owner who has watched his mortgage diminish will readily understand that sound financing goes hand in hand with sound management.

With its financial house in order, the Katy faces the future with strength and confidence-better able to build for and serve the greater needs of the growing Southwest-and better able to protect the interests of its owners, the stockholders,
