Food Lockers Now Under New Management

Announcement is made this week that Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. King of Wichita, Kansas, have leased the frozen food lockers from Dr. Carl Morrison and J. V. Brookshear, owners. Mr. and Mrs. King took charge Monday morning.

Mr. King successfully operated food lockers in Wichita, Kansas, for a number of years. Recently he was recognized for his work with his locker in a National magazine. Mr. King has had many years experience in this line of work.

Mr. and Mrs. King invite the patrons of the local locker to come in and get acquainted with them. They like Burk Burnett and hope that the feeling will be mutual.

Mr. and Mrs. King have one son, James, who is a freshman in High School this year.

Mrs. Molly Rose of Dimmet, Texas, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. R. Rose this week.

NEW FURNITURE COMPANY OPENED IN BURKBURNETT

Two local boys, Clark Gresham and Raymond Beavers have opened a new business establishment. The name of the new concern will be Home Furniture Company, located at 211 East Third.

Clark Gresham has been a resident of Burk Burnett for the past fifteen years. He is a graduate of the Thurber High School, class of 1927. He finished the College of Pharmacy at Denver, Colorado, in 1942. For the past five years he has been employed by George McClarty in his drug store. Prior to that time he was employed by J. C. Adams for ten years. Mr. Gresham, wife and two children live at 619 Glendale.

Raymond Beavers has spent all of his life at Clara and Burk Burnett. He was graduated from the Clara High School in 1932. After finishing High School he drove a school bus for a number of years. For the past two years Mr. Beavers has been employed in the local Texas Electric Service Company office as bookkeeper. Mr. and Mrs. Beavers and two children reside at 304 Seventh Street.

The Home Furniture Company will handle General Electric electrical appliances such as electric clocks, irons, mixers and heaters. They will also handle Hamilton-Beach Mixers. Aside from new furniture and appliances, the Home Furniture Company will have a line of the best used furniture available.

Extension Made To Majors Bldg.

Joe Majors is making an 18 foot extension to his building that houses the Majors Variety Store. This runs the building all the way back to the alley.

Workmen have run the foundation and concrete floor. Sides and roof will be sheet iron. Mr. Majors has needed the extra room for some time. When the extension is complete it will be used for storage and unpacking.

Pfc. Lloyd Scruggs On Way Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Scruggs were probably the happiest people in Burk Burnett Tuesday morning. That was when they received a wire from their son, Pfc. Lloyd Scruggs from Guam that he was on his way home by plane.

Monday morning of this week Mr. and Mrs. Scruggs received two letters from their son, one dated April 7, 1944, the other dated June 2, 1944. Both letters were in Lloyd's hand writing and signed by him. These were the first direct messages they had received from their son since he was captured on Corregidor by the Japs in 1942.

Mrs. Scruggs has steadfastly held to the belief that her son would come home. Through the years with only indirect messages about her son, Mrs. Scruggs was always cheerful and looked forward to the day that is about to arrive.

Lloyd was one of the first Burk Burnett boys reported missing in action.

Most Henpecked Man In Town

Some men are henpecked but won't admit it. J. M. Hayworth is henpecked and is not ashamed to admit it.

This week he was out looking after an old setting hen and looked too close. As he peeped over the nest she pecked him by the eye and left a painful wound. The eye was not injured but Mr. Hayworth says it's no fun being henpecked.

Tent Revival Begins Monday Night Sponsored By Calvary Baptist Church Rev. Loys Vess of Denton Preaching

The big looked for event, protracted meeting under the "big top" tent, will be living reality starting Monday night at 8:15. The big 100-foot by 60 foot tent will arrive early Monday morning, and will be met by a group of men who will immediately begin setting it up and getting it ready for the night service. There will be a large speaker and choir platform. If you sing, plan now to be a part of this great choir. The choir will be directed by Homer Hutto of Fort Worth, a man of unusual ability in this field. Many in this section will know him.

Rev. Loys Vess is the evangelist for this old-fashioned revival meeting, and we are anxious that every person in and around Burk Burnett hear this man. We feel that Burk Burnett is fortunate in having a man of his ability in a campaign of this kind. We don't expect him to please everyone, for he is a John-the-Baptist type who hits right down the middle of the road with the truth from God's word. But we certainly do expect many lives to be made better and our town and community profited by his coming. He is not an entertainer, but a mighty preacher of the Word who knows how to make it interest you.

Following is just a sample of a few messages he will bring:

- 1 Up Jumped the Devil.
- 2 The Man Who Went to Hell Came Back and is Alive Today.
- 3 The Earmark of the Hypocrite.
- 4 The World's Last Saturday Night.
- 5 Burned Out But Saved.

These and others you will want to hear. Make your plans now to attend every service. Morning service at ten o'clock.

Body and Paint Shop On Ave. D

O. L. Reel and John Netherlain have established an auto paint and body shop, located at 209 Avenue D, next door to Red's Barber Shop. These men are not strangers to Burk Burnett motorists. They have worked at Barrow-Grace Chevrolet Co., Burk Burnett Motors and Hupp Auto Store garages in the past years.

The shop has equipment for complete paint and body work, and many of the shiny cars on the streets here were put in shape at their shop. They have a color machine that enables them to match the color on any car. In addition to paint and body work, the shop has portable electric and acetylene equipment.

Marion (Mac) Arthur arrived in Burk Burnett last week to begin his duties as Administrative Manager of Tom Britton Motors. Mr. Arthur came here from San Francisco, Calif., where he was employed by Coordinator of Ship Repair and Conversion. He returned to the States in June this year from Arabia, where he had spent 15 months with the Construction Engineers. Prior to his trip overseas Mr. Arthur was purchasing agent for a ship building firm at San Francisco, where he made his home for ten years. Mr. Arthur is unmarried, a Baptist, a Mason and a member of the Lions Club.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Dickey received a wire from their son, Pvt. Leon Dickey, to stop letters that he expects to be home soon. He is now in Panama.

Pfc. Louie R. Dickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Dickey is still in a hospital in France where he underwent an operation for appendectomy.

With the war over efforts are being made to secure an outstanding speaker for the opening day program, and Fair officials expect to be able to make an announcement on this in the near future, according to Dr. Gordon Clark, chairman of Committee Activities.

Sgt. Samuel P. Dickey is now in Germany awaiting transportation home. He will receive his discharge when reaching the states.

Wichita Falls Life Underwriters Banquet At Local Town Hall

B. H. Alexander and Roy Magers, local insurance representatives, were hosts to the Wichita Falls Life Underwriters and their wives at Burk Burnett Town Hall Thursday evening.

The banquet was served by Mrs. Beulah Jackson. The menu consisted of fried chicken and all the many things that go with it, with apple pie a la mode.

Special numbers were two solos by Dr. C. J. Morrison, accompanied by his daughter, Kay. These were greatly enjoyed by all present.

The speaker of the evening was our own Rev. P. G. Hightower, pastor of the First Methodist Church. He brought a very helpful and inspiring message on what life insurance and life underwriters mean to our country.

Mr. Alexander and Mr. Magers asked the Association to make this an annual affair.

City Cafe Has New Owner

This week a transaction was made whereby Ed Bookout became owner of the City Cafe. He purchased it from Tom Pearce who has operated it for the past few weeks.

Mr. Bookout is well known in Burk Burnett as a cafe man. At one time he owned the Palace Cafe, and has really just come back home.

A new double coffee urn has been ordered and is expected next week.

The new owner announces they will specialize in special Sunday chicken dinners, and give prompt and courteous service at all times.

Babe, Lay That Hacksaw Down

Last week Chief of Police W. M. Green had a request from the health authorities at Wichita Falls to pick up a couple of girls thought to be in this town. In a short while they were found and placed in the city jail for safe keeping. That is they were safe for a short time.

Not long after the girls were placed in the bastille, frantic calls for help rang out through the windows. Thick smoke was pouring out from all openings. The doors were unlocked. One of the occupants had been overcome by smoke. They were rescued and led to safety in the nick of time. They had set the bed clothes on fire. When the fire had been extinguished, the captives were again placed behind the bars. That was in the afternoon.

An hour or so later the Chief went to get the prisoners to transfer them to Wichita Falls. The front door of the jail was flat on the floor, and the prisoners had disappeared.

Safety Record O. K. Despite Leg Loss

(The following article was handed to us by Bob Pirtle who lives across the branch in Oklahoma relating one of many of his experiences while in California.)

The complacent attitude of the Safety Department at Lathrop Engineering Depot was knocked into a cocked hat Saturday afternoon when one of the staff members rushed in to report that a crane had cut off an employee's leg.

The victim was Robert Pirtle, Riverbank, 55, an oiler on one of the big 50 ton cranes. In reporting the accident, the staff member said that an eye witness stated that Pirtle was sitting on the platform of the crane when the big cab swung around and Pirtle's left foot was caught in the track upon which the crane runs.

Before the operator could be stopped from swinging the cab, Pirtle's leg, shoe, sock and supporter were lying on the ground. The sound of the leg hitting the ground caused a young woman checker to turn around. At the sight of the leg lying there she let out a wild "eek" and fainted.

The men standing nearby looked as if they were going to do the same until Pirtle in an exasperated voice from his place on the platform said, "Hand me up that damned leg."

Yes, it was a plastic leg he has been wearing for several years and only a few know of its existence. Needless to say, the staff member beat a hasty retreat amid a shower in inkwells, books and desk equipment at the close of his tale.

In a short time order was restored to the Safety Department, which still takes pride on its record of no lost-time accident on the swing shift for a month and a half.

Bob says: "That was one of my many embarrassing moments."

Don't Let Drivers License Expire

Check the date on your Drivers license to see when it expires. If your license is about to expire, make application for a new one at the city Chamber of Commerce office.

Highway Patrolmen are stopping many motorists now to check the expiration date on their drivers licens. If you should be stopped and your license has expired you are subject to a fine.

Senior News

Fifty-eight Seniors have started their last year of high school work with great enthusiasm and with definite plans to make the year one of the best in the history of Burk Burnett High School.

Class officers will be elected within a few days, and plans for putting out an annual will be begun. With the cooperation of the Superintendent, principal, and the other members of the high school faculty the Seniors hope to enlist the interest of every high school student in an effort to have a good annual this year.

The class welcomes Alice Scarborough from Hillsboro as a new member.

The senior sponsors are Mrs. Helen Lyles and Miss Ella Billingslea.

Parents of Seniors are invited to visit the school and learn what their boys and girls are doing. Your cooperation is earnestly desired.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leith spent a pleasant week-end in Houston, where they returned their grandchildren, Kay Frances and Henry Ray Hurd to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hurd. While there H. D. received a wire from his brother, Eucl Hurd, saying he had just landed in San Francisco after two years in the Philippines and is o. k. His wife and parents live at Merkel, Texas.

Is Unemployment A State of Mind?

There is general unhappiness throughout the country over what is looked upon as unemployment ahead of us. The Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion in Washington estimates that the number of unemployed may reach several million by early next spring. Just at present there are reports from all parts of the country of war plants shifting from war production back to the old natural lines. That is just exactly what must be expected by every one of us who take time and pains to study the definitions for the word reconversion.

All those millions of persons who were taken out of industries, shops, stores and offices are needed by employers who gave out jobs before the war. It can't all be accomplished in a jiffy or a few weeks.

Anyhow, heads of some of the greatest business institutions of the United States have a different state of mind

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

THE OREGON TRAIL

OVER THE OREGON TRAIL, MORE THAN A HUNDRED YEARS AGO, BRAVE MEN AND WOMEN MADE THE PERILOUS JOURNEY FROM MISSOURI TO THE PACIFIC TO OPEN UP NEW LAND, FORDING RIVERS, CROSSING THE ROCKIES, ENCOUNTERING HOSTILE INDIANS — THEY MOVED IN CONSTANT DANGER.

DRIVING THEIR CATTLE BEFORE THEM AND CARRYING SEEDS FOR THE FIELDS THEY HAD NEVER SEEN, THESE FAMILIES SOUGHT IN THE GREAT NORTHWEST AN OPPORTUNITY TO ESTABLISH NEW HOMES AND INDUSTRY, AND WITH THEM THEY BROUGHT TO THE GREAT NORTHWEST THE PRINCIPLES AND IDEALS OF NEW-WORLD DEMOCRACY.

about unemployment. This unemployment fear seems to be a state of mind.
There is plenty of work ahead for idle hands to do—to make up for lost time.

Wouldn't You Know

"I can't live on that," declared the former war worker as he refused a job paying 62 cents an hour for women and $1 to $1.15 for men. This sort of thing goes on in Portland, Kansas City and Podunkville, where peacetime jobs are not paying as much as war work and the people are not willing to accept the change. They knew well enough when they received the higher war wages that it wouldn't go on forever, were fully aware that the pay envelope was in for an overhauling when we settled back to the more normal life. This doesn't come as a shock and the worker should have been wisely taking care of this day when his salary was so much higher. Many did have foresight enough to salt away in bonds the surplus just in case. And so while we are busy trying to reconvert and give employment to the most, a few will rock the boat, but wouldn't you know it.

Burkburnett History

As revealed by the files of the Star 10 years ago.

Jo Coffey, who was accidentally wounded from a gun shot when he attempted to transfer a gun from his belt to the pocket of a truck last Friday, is improving rapidly according to the report from the Wichita hospital Thursday at midnight. Coffey was riding in a truck driven by Marvin Spillers, and after a brief conversation with his wife near Cashion, Coffey returned to the truck and was shot through upper left side.

Burkburnett Public Schools opened their doors Monday and 1,035 students marched to the various buildings to register for the 1935-36 session of the institution.

The paving in order to widen Avenue D south of Burkburnett was under way again this week. Previously the Eastern side of the road had been completed, and the Western side of the pavement is receiving several feet of additional concrete. This widened road will give the city a much better approach for the centennial visitors for next year.

P. A. Hogan of Grandfield was in Burkburnett for a brief visit Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Roy Thompson of Henderson, Texas, is visiting her mother, Mrs. C. A. Wheeler of Burkburnett.

Pat Allen, Sheriff of Wichita Co., was in Burk Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Wolf spent last week end in Denton visiting W. D. Barrow and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cope and Virginia left last Friday for Bakersfield, Calif., where they will make their home.

Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Whitlach spent several days last week with her parents here. Sgt. Whitlach is being transferred to Sacramento, California.

W. T. McEntire, S 1-c S. M., who finished training school in Bainbridge, Maryland in June, is now somewhere in the Pacific. He writes that he enjoys the Burk Star and through it hears from the boys with whom he went to school.

Gene Bankhead and Keith Jones arrived home this week for a few days visit after completing their boot training at San Diego, California.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Don't Hang Around a Man's Neck

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"I showed Jerry this letter, and he denied the whole thing. He said that only casual office civilities had passed between him and Arlene."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CAROL NORTH asks me an age-old question. There is only one reply. The question comes to me in a letter that explains that she is 36, has been married for ten years to a man two years younger. They have three children; a boy of eight, twin girls of five, they own their home, have a fine group of friends, club and social interests, and an income that for some reason—Carol's intelligence, I imagine—is adequate. She writes me that until about a year ago her life was one of cloudless happiness.

"I don't mean we didn't have worries and responsibilities," she says, "of course we did. But we shared them, and loving Jerry as I did that sharing made everything sweet. I was so proud to be his wife, to spend his money wisely, to raise his children. I would not have changed places with anyone in the world."

"Last June I began to notice a change in Jerry. It was a very subtle change, but it didn't escape eyes as loving as mine. He was not quite at ease, he was more loving and thoughtful than ever, but curiously abstracted. It made me anxious, but he assured me that he was not worried about business or health, and I tried to quiet my fears.

Office Love Affair.
 "Then I had an anonymous letter, very specific and detailed. Jerry was having an affair with one of the secretaries in his office, a grass-widow 26 years old. She has a boy one year old, who lives with the father, so that while I don't know what the reason for her divorce was, it seems probable she was at fault.

"I showed Jerry the letter, and he denied the whole thing. He said that only casual office civilities had passed between him and Arlene. But a very little investigation proved to me that this was an untruth, and presently he confessed the whole thing. He seemed overwhelmed with shame, and promised to drop Arlene at once.

"This was at Christmas time, and I watched to see the affair end. He did try to end it, becoming very irritable with the children and me at the times when he was not seeing her, and suddenly sweet and considerate when he broke through his resolution and took up with her again. The wretchedness of these fluctuations I won't try to describe; some wives never will know them, the others hate to be reminded of them. Finally he asked me for a divorce, so that he could marry Arlene, but through storms and coldness I stuck to my determination that my children should keep their father.

"Finally he came to me in what seemed to be true repentance. Arlene went away and we were completely reconciled. The joy of being in each other's confidence again

"His vanity is flattered. . ."

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for September 16

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

JUDAH'S CONCERN FOR HIS FAMILY

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 44:18-34.
GOLDEN TEXT—How shall I go up to my father, and the lad be not with me? —Genesis 44:34.

The family is the fundamental unit of society, and is therefore of more importance than the church, the state, or the social order of which it is a vital part. Every force which encourages the breakdown of the sacred relationships of the home and family is set for the destruction of society itself.

Men have too often chosen to go the way of the flesh, and therefore they have disregarded God's plan and purpose. But the home is just as sacred as ever in His sight, and brotherly love still finds a high place among the virtues of real men.

The family comes before us as we continue the study of Joseph's life. As we study it we bear in mind Joseph's dealings with his brethren, who as yet did not recognize him as the one they had sold into captivity. He was bringing them kindly but definitely to the point of real repentance, so that he could show himself gracious to them.

To do so he had brought disaster upon them. Being happily on their way homeward with a new supply of food, they were overtaken and proved to be thieves, and Benjamin, the beloved of their father Jacob, stood condemned to death by their own words.

In that crisis the mouths of the others seemed closed, but Judah, who had really saved Joseph's life (Gen. 37:26, 27), and who had apparently finally come to himself as a man of essential goodness, pleaded for Benjamin's life.

That plea presented a truly sacrificial brotherly love, as he manifested

I. Courage (v. 18).
 Easy rests the yoke of family life as long as all is joyful and prosperous. But when adversity strikes, when sorrow comes, or sickness, or sin, then the true test of devotion is at hand.

It was a brave and manly thing for Judah to stand before the one whom he knew only as the man who was "even as Pharaoh." The circumstances were all against him. He expected the flaming anger of the offended ruler. His brethren had collapsed in despair. It was one of those dark hours which come to every family when someone must demonstrate true love by being strong-hearted and fearless.

II. Intelligence (vv. 19-29).
 We have become so accustomed to accomplishing things by the use of words that we are in danger of substituting speech for action. Even in times of sorrow or need we send a well-worded card or telegram, and regard our mission as accomplished.

Words have their place, but there comes a time when they must be coupled with intelligent action. Crises call for more than a cheerful smile or an encouraging word, much as they may mean in such an hour. We must be prepared by our close contact with our loved ones to speak and act with vigor and assurance.

III. Self-denial (vv. 30-33).
 One step deeper goes the devotion of this man to his father and his brother. He had done no wrong that merited punishment, but evidently his brother Benjamin had been guilty. Had he been of the spirit of Cain he would have said, "Am I my brother's keeper?" and let him answer for himself. Why should Judah suffer for another? Why should he allow himself to be imprisoned in a strange land to save his father from sorrow and his brother from what seemed to be the just reward for his deeds?

Thus reasons the man of the world, but such is not the language of the true brother. He says, "Let thy servant abide instead of the lad as a bondman." Well and courageously spoken!

IV. Love (v. 34).
 Love for father and brother underlies all of the courage, conviction and self-sacrifice of a man like Judah. In his younger years, and possibly under the influence of his brothers, he had failed in that respect, but now his real devotion to his brother was evident.

That affection was a real, powerful and beautiful thing, and yet it is but a faint prefiguring of the affection of the One who "sticketh closer than a brother," who "though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich" (Prov. 18:24, II Cor. 8:9).

Let us improve the opportunity to review our relations with our own family, to determine whether there is aught that is not intelligent and courageous self-sacrifice should do for our own. Concern for family will pay rich dividends, especially in these days of broken homes and disturbed personal relationships. Love will do more than anything else to hold us together.

TRUST DESTROYED

After nine years of happy married life Carol North, 36, became aware of a changed attitude in her husband, Jerry. He seemed abstracted, and although he tried to appear as kind and affectionate as ever to Carol and the three children, there was obviously something on his mind. It wasn't business worry, or ill-health. Carol wondered, until she received an anonymous letter from someone in Jerry's office. It told how he was having an affair with a pretty divorcee, 26 years old.

Carol believes that she should try to keep their home together for the sake of the children. She and Jerry talked things over, and he decided to end the affair. He seemed truly repentant, Carol says, and they hoped to forget the ugly matter. Carol however, is tortured with doubts and fears. She can never really trust Jerry again.

healed my heart of the humiliation and pain I had suffered so long. We had always kept an unbroken front before the children, and they knew nothing of all this; there seemed to be no reason why we should not forget the whole thing.

"But torturing doubts have made me miserable ever since. I find I don't wholly believe Jerry. I don't really trust him. When he gives me some excuse for being away in an evening, or on a Saturday afternoon, I suspect him of starting another affair. If some girl in the office speaks of him I wonder if it is with that girl. I have seriously thought of trying to get work with the same company, but the impossibility of getting domestic help makes that impracticable now. So I am writing to you, to ask you if you think I should trust Jerry, and if I am wrong in my attitude?"

He Will Do It Again.

My answer is, unfortunately, that I think a man who does this once will do it again. His vanity has been flattered by the sweet poison of Arlene's surrender; his sensations have been far too delightful to be easily forgotten. It may be months, it may be years, but he will fail you again.

But that doesn't mean you are wise in distrusting him, spying on him, suspecting him. You are extremely foolish to put your whole happiness in a weak, attractive husband's hands. Live for other things, your lovely children, your friends and studies and interests and amusements—in a word, live for yourself. Take from him whatever friendship, companionship, planning, help you can get—resign yourself to the fact that your idol has feet of clay—is selfish, weak, blind sometimes. The cruellest revenge you could wreak on such a man is to give him his divorce, and let him find out for himself in just what a fool's paradise he is living. But for the children's sake don't do that; just ride out the storm, and realize that no woman can have everything.

Africa Gave Us Gladiolus

The gladiolus is a native of South Africa, where quite a number of species are found growing wild. Some are fragrant, and they vary considerably in size and shape and date of blooming. Yet all of them would look very poor indeed in contrast to even the poorest of our garden varieties, for a great deal has been accomplished by hybridizers in giving fine color and larger flowers. For this reason none of the wild species are cultivated in our northern gardens.

Son of Lassie Filled With Thrills is Grand Entertainment

Here's Son of Lassie, the sequel you asked for—the blessed Hollywood event you've been expecting.

Everyone loved Lassie Come Home and everyone will rave of Laddie, Lassie's beautiful pup, who inherits his mother's looks but not her brains, until—but see it for yourself in gloriously breath-taking Technicolor at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Donald Crisp and Nigel Bruce the latter the Duke of Rudling and the former—the best dog man in Yorkshire, repeat the roles they created in the beloved predecessor to Son of Lassie. Then it was Roddy McDowall as the boy Joe; now it's Peter Lawford, grown up and a member of the RAF as an aerial photographer. Pretty June Lockhart takes over the role of Elizabeth Taylor as Priscilla, granddaughter of the Duke, who is in love with Joe.

Laddie follows his daring young master through many perils: parachuting into danger, leaping into a foaming fjord, chancing a hazardous glacier trail—and they all mean excitement that spells real movie entertainment for the entire family.

Put "Son of Lassie" at the top of your movie shopping list. Showing Sunday and Monday at Palace Theatre.

FACING CHANGING CONDITIONS WITH One Unchanging Policy

We have always followed a conservative policy in the management of this bank and it has worked well for us and our depositors.

Although we are now in the midst of changing conditions, we know that there are certain fundamental principles of safe banking which never change. For that reason we shall continue to tread the old, familiar path which has already carried us so far through the years.

We have learned the value of sound, deliberate action in protecting your interests as well as our own.

YOUR PENNY BANK

WILL PAY THE GAS BILL!

It doesn't take many pennies to pay for all the many uses of natural gas in your home during a whole day. If you divide your monthly bill by the number of days in the month, you will be pleasantly surprised at how little the valued services of natural gas cost you.

Here's an example:
The average family—for eleven pennies a day—cook three meals a day; use all the hot water they need; maintain dependable refrigeration 24 hours a day; and in winter keep their home at a healthful, warm temperature. True, large families pay somewhat more, but even so, for all the additional gas service they receive, they, too, get "their money's worth."

When you consider that gas service costs LESS today than before the war—in spite of our greatly increased costs of doing business—you realize that United Gas Service is truly the biggest bargain in your home.

Grace Lutheran Church

Most people we meet today are not averse to Christ. They rather favor the work of the Christian ministry and would not care to live in a community without a church. A little religion may always be thrown in, so long as it does not seriously interfere with their daily habits, comforts, progress and pleasures.
 But let opposition arise, let sacrifices be required, let a test be made, and the masses will waver like a reed. What is their trouble? They are weak and selfish. They do not really believe in their hearts that Jesus is the Lord and that without Him there is no salvation for a lost and sinful world?
 Our world will not grow better until men accept and believe the latter truth.
 Give the Church and her message of Christ a larger place in your life.

 You are cordially invited to attend the services announced here.

NOW FOR THE TELEPHONE JOB AT HOME

The big war telephone job is nearly done. Now we can turn to the big telephone job here at home—the job of reconverting and constructing peacetime telephone service.

We have a long way to go to catch up with demand for telephone service. More than 240,000 people are waiting for us to furnish them telephones. Serving them will require millions of dollars' worth of new equipment. Poles must be laid. Switchboards and dial equipment must be made and installed.

Big jobs—complicated jobs—take time. Telephone factories are turning as rapidly as possible from war to peacetime production. Telephone people are eager for the job of putting equipment to work. And soon, we hope, skilled telephone men and women will be returning from the armed forces to help with the job.

Some of the 240,000 who are waiting for telephones will get service soon. For others, especially in cities where telephone facilities must be expanded, the wait may still be many months. As new equipment can be installed those who are waiting will be served in their proper order.

You may be sure that all our efforts are aimed at making the wait just as short as possible. We're working as hard as that end as we work to supply the armed forces with vital communications equipment.
