New Street Signs Are Appreciated

People all over town are expressing their appreciation for the new street markers bought by the Lions club and installed through co-operation of the City. The beautiful signs, all metal, black letters on white background and mounted on two inch pipe, are a great improvement.

One or two intersections may have been overlooked when the order was made out. An error seems to have been made in one sign by the factory, which leaves an eighth street intersection incomplete. Every effort was made by the committee to get the job just right. But, it had been many years since the streets had markers, and lots of folk didn't know what street they lived on. All in all, the project is one for which the Lions club deserves all the nice things being said about the new markers.

Notice To Band Boosters

Entertainment committees for each band are working toward the 'socials for October. Contacts will be made as to time and place.

A limit of one social per band a month has been voted by the club. A method of financing the social activities of the four bands has been decided upon this year and included in the club constitution. A membership fee of 25c per band student a month is required of the Band Booster member, otherwise you are not entitled to full membership nor voting privileges in the club.

This fee is placed in the entertainment fund for the four bands and its purpose is to allow the parents equal share in expenses. No band student will be excluded from the socials; however, we feel confident each Booster will want to do their part. Your dues are to be paid to your telephone chairman, or in her absence, the treasurer, at the monthly Booster meetings held the fourth Monday night at the band hall, 7:30.

Senior band, Mrs. R. C. Gilbow, telephone chairman.

Seventh-Eighth grade band, Mrs. F. M. McMurtry.

Intermediate band, Mrs. J. K. Hubbard.

Beginners' band, Mrs. Charles Boyd.

These chairmen are to keep accurate records of the social funds and check them into the treasurer, Mrs. D. F. Douglas.

If you are a Band Booster we invite you to membership whether you have a child in the bands or not.

Rain Makes Wheat Growers Happy

The ideal rain, slow and steady, fell here last Saturday night, starting about 7 o'clock and lasting until 5 A. M. Tuesday morning. In all, something more than an inch of moisture fell. On plowed fields, not a drop was wasted. Every bit went into the soil.

A great many farmers had "dusted in" their wheat, hoping for just such rain. Those who had not planted will have seed in the ground soon.

Another light shower, possibly 1-4 inch, fell Wednesday night. Cotton gathering has been delayed, but no damage is expected.

Although moisture extends to a depth of five or six inches, which will sprout small grain and get it up, a lot more moisture is needed to wet the subsoil to a depth of two feet or more to support the growing crop.

Brookshear Buys Interest Sale Barn

Announcement is made this week that J. V. Brookshear has purchased the interest of Doyel Cook in the Burkburnett Livestock Sale Barn, Inc. The transaction became effective Oct. 13.

Mr. Brookshear and Mr. Cook were partners in the venture when it was opened for business in April of this year. In July Mr. Brookshear sold his interest to Cook, and Mr. Paul Pearson became associated with the concern.

Mr. Cook will continue in the livestock business, devoting his time to interests in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, where he is interested in barns.

Mr. Pearson will continue with the local barn, working with Mr. Brookshear to provide stock raisers in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma with a ready market for all kinds of live stock. Highest prices are paid each Saturday when sales open promptly at one o'clock.

The local barn is outstanding in that it is the very latest thing in modern construction and convenience. The building, completely air conditioned, has plenty of ring-side seats for buyers, and lots of other comfortable seats for sellers and spectators. Sellers like the local barn because of accommodations, and the consistently high prices received. Buyers like to come here because of the quality stock offered, and the fast, efficient manner in which it is presented in the ring, onto the scales and back to pens of respective buyers.

Mr. Brookshear and Mr. Pearson extend a cordial invitation to everyone to use the facilities of their barn, where every effort is made to make every customer a satisfied one. Stock may be brought to the barn any day in the week. Water, feed and other care is provided at all times.

Customary charges are made for handling stock through the ring.

Fire Hydrants Get Silver Coat Paint

This week the fire hydrants over town are receiving a new coat of aluminum paint. The face-lifting for hydrants is in keeping with new street markers, which all goes to add to a heater appearance for the town.

THEY CALLED IT BREAKFAST

The National Association of Retail Grocers tell us that today's housewife can't cook the way grandma did, in spite of all the conveniences in the modern kitchen to make the job an easier one. They do add that present day meals, with the exception of breakfast, are better-balanced better planned. With the fancy cook books, the exchange of recipes of favorite dishes, you would figure the culinary art would have far out-distanced grandma's efforts. There is going to be some argument in Burk Burnett on this subject.

A survey shows, that except in the farming areas and the Middle South, our morning breakfast would make grandma ashamed of us and grandpa weak from hunger. A piece of toast, glass of fruit juice, cup of coffee, all hastily gulped, wouldn't have been a starter in the old days. Adding an egg and a strip of bacon wouldn't help much. Then, breakfast was the most important meal of the day. It started folks off with energy to do a whale of a job. Ask an old timer, and he will describe platters crowded with ham, eggs, hot biscuits, fried potatoes, country butter, home-made jam and jelly, pots of coffee, thick cream and very often, pie. There were pork chops, side meat, fish, all accompanied by potatoes, of course.

We live differently, dashing through breakfast to catch a bus, a train, getting autos out of garages, finding parking space. Breakfast is not taken leisurely. A heavy meal, in all the rush, would cause indigestion, you say. And also, what about the box tops on cereal cartons, for prizes, if we listened to grandma.

More Than Meets The Eye, Taxpayer

Surprising how ignorant some of us are, on the subject of taxes. We pay them, count the cost, grumble, but don't fully understand them. The Commerce Department reports the total tax paid to Federal, State and Local government, for the fiscal year, amounts to $362 for every man, woman and child in the U. S. A. man checks his last tax bill, finds he paid less than the $362 for each member of his family, and figures the difference was met by somebody else, perhaps big business, perhaps real estate.

There are hidden taxes, we overlook. When we buy clothing, pay rent, purchase groceries, we pay indirect tax. The income sales, gasoline, cigarette tax we recognize, but forget the tax we pay for bus ride, phone call, electricity and water. The more one buys, the more tax is paid. When prices rise, taxes increase. So, if you add your tangible tax, plus indirect tax, you may find you come closer to the $362 a person, than you realized.

Wichita County is participating and expects to have at least fifty workers making a house-to-house canvass on Friday, October 22.

Pace as chairman of the entire undertaking for the county.

A resolutions committee consisting of Wymore Downing, C. A. Morgan, and Mrs. M. L. Hines was appointed by the president to draw up suggestions to be submitted to those present at the county-wide meeting he fires week in November, and whatever is adopted there will be sent on to the state convention the following week.

Those present Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evert and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Minick of Burk Burnett; Wymore Downing and G. R. Rigby of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. M. L. Hines, Lee Trim, Hill Spruiell, T. J. Pace and Walter Scott of Iowa Park.

Report of the Community Party

The auction sale and community party at Devol Tuesday proved a success for all concerned. The City Hall was filled; the ladies of the community, not club members, as well as all the members, had contributed articles to the sale. A program was presented by the attendance at an early hour. Then Mr. E. N. Miracle acted as auctioneer for the opening of the sale, assisted by the president, Mrs. Frank McClendon and Mrs. Stofor. All articles being disposed of, games were provided for the men while the ladies arranged refreshments of homemade pies, cakes and coffee. Everyone evidently had a good time, as the question the next morning as friend met friend was: "Didn't we have fun?" Well, anything that draws a community together is fun.

The club is a local institution as well as being affiliated with the County, State and National organizations of Women's clubs. Then comes the International organization of Farm Women, which just completed their International convention, held in Oklahoma last week.

So, while we have to take the jokes of our husbands, we know they are back of the club, and appreciate the support given the club by our town officials, and the people of the community. The proceeds were fully satisfactory and bespeak the generosity and good will of our peo-

2. When should lights be turned on laying hens?

3. How much should a cow produce a year to be a money maker?

1. It is probably not necessary until the last six weeks or two months of the growing period. Such a separation makes the birds more docile, they grow better, and there is less bruising or skin-tearing as the result of fighting.

2. Lights should be turned on when the days begin to get shorter than 12 hours, in order to provide a 13 to 14 hour day. November 1 is the usual starting date, but it will vary according to the latitude.

3. According to the Program for Dairy Cattle published by the Ralston Purina Company, in general any mature cow which can't give 300 lbs. of butterfat a year will never make much money. Many cows giving less than this, though, could reach this money-making point if fed properly balanced rations in the right amounts. Here is what 300 lbs. of butterfat a year equals in milk:

Guernseys	22 6,500
Ayrshires	25 7,500
Brown Swiss	15 4,500
Mixed Herds	27 8,000
Holsteins	30 9,000

Origin of Mascara

Woman's oldest manufactured beauty aid, according to a Hollywood make-up man, is mascara. This material is known to have been compounded by the Egyptians as far back as 4,000 B. C. Inspection of feminine portraits of that time, as presented by wall paintings in modernly unearthed tombs, leads one to suspect that the glamor gals of ancient Egypt were highly comparable with those of today.

WHIZ: Rocket Plane

It wasn't the sort of subject that Stuart Symington cared to be very specific about, but the air secretary did hint in an Air Force association speech that the U.S. X-1 rocket-powered research plane might have blasted through the air at a speed of from 800 to 1,000 miles an hour. SYMINGTON MADE this startling semi-disclosure in an off-hand manner. Enumerating achievements of the air force during the past year, he made mention of "an airplane flying hundreds of miles faster than the speed of sound, which is 760 miles per hour at sea level."

AS ORIGINALLY designed, the X-1 was supposed to reach a speed of 1,107 miles an hour at 40,000 feet altitude and 1,700 miles an hour at 80,000 feet.

AS FAR AS is known, only two X-1 type planes now are in operation by the government—one by the air force and the other by the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

Five other X-1 models are on order, and a new and drastically different design, the X-4, is awaiting trial flight.

Big Lift: To Berlin

Despite the smug Russian belief that Berlin could not be supplied from the air, the American air lift to the blockaded German capital has been spectacularly successful.

DURING THE first 90 days of the great aerial portage American transport planes flew more than 200,000 tons of food, fuel and medicine into Berlin since the Soviets clamped on their blockade in mid-June.

Air force headquarters at Wiesbaden said its planes had flown more than 15 million miles, through good weather and bad, along the narrow air corridors from the western zone of Germany to keep the heart of Berlin's isolated western sector beating.

IN THE FIRST 90 days 28,846 flights were made, with the air cargo including 125,008 tons of coal, 68,142 tons of food and 7,748 tons of other necessary items.

A typical 24-hour period in the air lift has about 400 flights carrying more than 3,000 tons of supplies into the besieged city.

Exports: Up or Down?

Predictions by the department of agriculture that U. S. grain exports during the current crop year may top last year's record by nearly four million tons was expected to give rise to a cabinet tiff over how much grain should be shipped overseas.

There are two schools of thought. Charles F. Brannon, secretary of agriculture, favors increasing exports to prevent possible surpluses in the U. S. that might lead to an expensive price support program.

SECRETARY OF Commerce Charles W. Sawyer, on the other hand, insists that grain shipments should be cut to a minimum in order to keep food prices down in this country. He argues, also, that Europe would be better off to use its dollars for industrial machinery rather than food.

According to the agriculture department, the world's big exporting countries probably will have about 10 per cent more grain to spare this year than in 1947-48 when exports topped 34.6 million tons.

THE DEPARTMENT added that the U. S. "is again likely to provide nearly half of the total world trade."

Last year the United States exported slightly more than 15 million tons—nearly 45 per cent of all the grain exported.

PEARY: Left a Note

A United States expedition to the Arctic last summer found documents left there in 1905 by Rear Adm. Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, a recent state department announcement has disclosed.

The brief report contained no explanatory details. It said: "As is usual on northern expeditions, Peary's notes found in the cairn were replaced by appropriate documents."

Life and Law

Lesson for October 17, 1948

YOU, friend reader, probably know less about what is in the books of Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy than any other part of the Bible. These are the sections mostly filled with laws—"Thou shalt not." You either skip these entirely or you say to yourself, "Well, that has nothing to do with me." If so, you have been missing one of the most interesting sections of the Bible.

Some of these old laws are dead; but even a mummy can be interesting. Call them dead if you like; you still can learn a great deal about the times and the minds, and the customs of those far-off days by reading the laws which governed people's daily lives.

But it is hardly fair to call them dead. Rather, they have been honorably retired. That is to say, they were admirable laws in their time and place, and God's will was learned through them.

The Living Soul of Law

THERE are two ways of looking at any law, or you might say there are two sides of every law, the inside and the outside, the soul and the body as it were. The body, the outside, is the letter of the law; the inside or soul of the law is the spirit or principle of the law.

The body of a law, like the body of a man, lies; it is not intended to live on and on. But the soul of the law (if it has one; some don't) lives forever.

Take, for instance, that law in Lev. 19:10. The body of it, the letter, says: Do not be efficient in getting in your crops. Leave some wheat in the field. Leave some grapes on the vine.

Today that sounds rather stupid, on the face of it, and no good farmer would pay attention to it. But look at the spirit of that law: the wheat and the grapes were to be left for "the poor and the stranger." There was then no Red Cross, no bureau of displaced persons, no traveler's aid, no family service, no social security, none of our many modern agencies for the underprivileged. Those who had property were bidden to have a care for those who had none.

The duty of society to see that no one starves, the duty of all to help those in need, that is the living soul of this law, and it still breathes in laws of the 20th century—laws of old age assistance, maternity assistance, pension plans and so forth.

The living soul of the Old Testament laws can be expressed this way: The love of justice and the justice of love. The best and wisest laws today are those which give this same spirit its fullest and most practical form.

Jesus' Last Word

THE Jews figured out that there were in all 613 separate commandments in all the laws combined. They used to have interesting debates as to which of all the 613 commandments was the most important.

They came to Jesus with that well-worn question. Jesus quoted only two laws, one from Deut. 6:5 and the other from Lev. 19:18. Love God, love your neighbor, he said. All the other laws depend on these two.

To this day, Christian thinkers are not entirely agreed as to just how far Old Testament laws may be binding on Christians. But all are agreed on two points: The basic principle of these laws is always good, and that fundamental principle is love.

Love Is Not Repealed

THIS is what Christians mean when they say that the laws of God are eternal. We do not mean that every law between the covers of the Bible can and should be used as the law of our land today.

What we do mean is that the spirit of these laws is immortal, for the spirit is love, and love never has been repealed.

Show me a law which helps the strong at the expense of the weak, a law which encourages cheating and selfishness and fighting, and I will show you a bad law. Show me a law which encourages and helps men to deal fairly with one another and to live together in peace, and I will show you a good law. Every law that helps you love your neighbor is a good law; indeed there is something divine about it, for God is Love.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

For each 7 eggs she lays, she becomes only one additional pound of feed. In other words, a bird which produces 210 eggs a year eats only 20 pounds of feed more than a 70-egg a year producer.

Eats More, Lays More
While the bird with the vigorous appetite may eat slightly more during the day than sluggish feeders, she is really a far more economical bird because she lays more eggs in ratio to the amount of feed she consumes.

A flock of 40 per cent production consumes about 24 pounds of feed daily. A flock of 70 per cent production eats about 30 pounds of feed in the same time. But it takes less feed to get a case of eggs out of the 70 percenters.

Good feeding and good laying can be regulated by the flock owner. How he feeds and what he feeds can determine the profit or loss the flock will show.

Make a special effort to keep every part of your laying house sanitary. You yourself may be guilty of spreading disease when you enter the house with dirty boots or bring in contaminated feed sacks or crates. There are countless other ways for infection to enter the house so it's up to you to be on the watch every day.

Make sure there are no cold drafts in the building for they may weaken the birds' resistance to respiratory infections or possibly other diseases. At the same time, the ventilation should be good enough to assure a supply of fresh air.

How to Celebrate Your Wedding Anniversary

The "Dutch" Millers celebrated their Tin Wedding Anniversary Saturday. Everything had to be tin. Folks even ate off tin plates, and drank coffee out of tin cups.

When it was time to drink a toast to the "bride and groom," out came the final touch: ice cold beer in cans. And come the Millers' 15th anniversary (Glass) I expect we'll be toasting them with sparkling beer in bottles!

And I couldn't help thinking that there was a lesson for married folks in the way Dutch and his missus have got along together — in their policy of live-and-let-live, with never a criticism of each other's differences in taste.

From where I sit, it's due to two things: Temperance — as that moderate preference for beer suggests, and Tolerance — for their own differences of opinion — and for the tastes of others, whether applied to beer, to politics, or how to celebrate an anniversary.

NATURAL Gas RECOVERED FROM NATURAL GAS

Loading a tank car with liquefied petroleum gas.

The gasoline in your car may once have been natural gas! Yes, modern methods of processing raw gas as it comes from the well provide a cleaner, better gas for your use, and, from some gas, recover valuable liquid hydrocarbons which might otherwise be wasted. Some of these products of the gas well are kerosene, motor fuel and bottled gas for the farm and home. Recovery of liquid hydrocarbons from natural gas helps to meet the growing demand for petroleum products, and provides increased income for land and royalty owners.

Processing of gas is one of many functions of the United Gas organization... all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued dependable supply of natural gas for our customers.

UNITED GAS . . .
Serving the Gulf South

"Well" gas from the well is passed through a separator which removes condensed liquids and foreign matter. In a series of processes, condensate is broken down into motor fuel base, kerosene and residual oils. The gas passes through absorbers, fractionators, and distillation equipment which recover natural gas, ethane, propane, and butane. The denuded gas moves through a dehydrator to eliminate water vapor. Natural gas is placed in pipe lines for movement to market. Natural gas is blended with base motor fuel to produce "premium" and "regular" grades of gasoline.

The New Testament Church, assembling around the Supper was one of most important items of their In fact, it seems this was the central part of their to God. In Acts 20:7, we read this, "And upon the of the week, when the disciples came together to bread, Paul preached unto them." This statement in- that their principal purpose in coming together was around the Lord's Table, and the preaching of the secondary consideration. The church today around the Lord's Supper in the same man- ship around the early church in order to be the New Testament Let us consider some thoughts in this matter.

elements of the Supper were unleavened bread and the wine, and each person ate the bread and drank of the wine. Many churches today do not use un- bread; others use some element other than the of the wine. The members of some religious bodies par- of the bread, and the preacher or priest drink the of the cup. These elements and practices are not of the apostolic age; therefore, the churches who converted the Supper are not New Testament Church-

There is not the slight- of authority in the New Testament for the ob- of the Supper on any day of the week other than day. We cannot be the Lord's church today and fail at the time designated in the New Testament.

churches today have their communion service on day of the week, but, instead of following the example, they have their annually, semi- quarterly or monthly. We have every evidence, the New Testament and secular history, that the church met around the Table on the first day of every God told the Jews to remember THE Sabbath day, they understood Him to mean each Sabbath day. Cardinal Scouts At Seymour

Fred Hawn and C. A. (Runt) Marr, St. Louis Cardinal scouts are in Seymour today, (Oct. 14) to conduct the try-out camp to be held at Fair Park Field at 11 o'clock this morning.

The Cardinal System, which has sent more young players to the major leagues than any other baseball organization, is in search of young playing tal- ent to bolster the rosters of its minor league clubs for many seasons to come. Players aspir- ing to careers in professional baseball and who are between 17 and 23 years of age, are in- vited to attend the camp and permit the Red Bird scouts to appraise their abilities.

Players should bring their own gloves and baseball shoes.

Those who have uniforms are asked to bring them along, as the Cardinals do not supply this type of equipment for their trial camps. The Cardinals will pay all expenses incident to attending the camp for any players signing contracts. Daily sessions will get under way promptly at 11 o'clock each morning, with these two experi- enced professionals of the Na- tional Pastime watching every move of the players as they go through their drills in running, fielding, hitting and throwing.

Is Your Child's Education Complete?

So you are going to educate that child of yours. Fine! But you owe him more than "reading, writing, and arithmetic." Someone has said: "An uneducated thief will steal a piece of coal; an educated thief will steal a railroad."

To train a child's mind without regenerating his heart is as dangerous as putting a loaded gun into his hands. You are increasing his capacity for evil.

The primary duty of Christian parenthood is to bring the children God has given us to a living faith in Jesus Christ, their Savior. "These words which I command thee this day shall be in thine heart; and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children."

Are you setting your child a Christian example? Have you taught him that "the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom"? Have you spoken to him about Christ and His salvation? If not, our church—its pastor and its people—stand ready to help you. We would be pleased to have your child enrolled in our Sunday School where nothing but the truths of God's Word are taught by trained teachers. Sunday School and Bible Class at 10 a. m. and Divine Wor- ship at 11 a. m. (Town Hall).
