Stewed, fried pies, any way you fix 'em, they're delish. Thank you, Mr. Clack.

LET'S GET WISE . . .

We've Been Hooked Enough

With the fine record of helping every worthy local project that Burkburnett merchants and business men have, it is regrettable they are harassed by out-of-town solicitors, aided by well-meaning clubs and individuals. Burkburnett has always come through when Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Band Boys and Girls, Red Cross, etc. needed money. In view of that fine record, it isn't right to expect local men to contribute to every outside solicitor who uses high pressure methods to get money in the name and under the sponsorship of some good local organization.

Why go in cahoots with these outsiders and expect your merchants and friends to give the outsiders a hundred dollars or more in order that you get $25.00 or less? The methods used by the high-powered outsiders are similar. They come into town, line up some worthy club or organization to sponsor them, get local people to go around with them and introduce them and make the cause seem worth supporting. Local men will give under those circumstances, knowing full well that only a small percent of what they give will benefit the sponsoring institution.

Recently more than four hundred dollars was collected under the sponsorship of a worthy club for a worthy cause. But, just a little over one hundred dollars of that amount stayed here. The rest went out of town.

Don't sign a contract with these outsiders. If you need money and the cause is worthy, local men will support it without being high-pressured from outsiders. Hundreds and hundreds of dollars have gone out of Burkburnett just this way. If you need a dollar and went to a friend and said: "Give me four dollars. Three dollars to this stranger whom neither of us has ever seen and will probably never see again, and one for me." That same thing has happened on a large scale here many times.

C. H. Millstead of Mart, Texas, was here this week visiting his mother, Mrs. Lewellen Sandler who resides on Pearl St. in Wichita Falls.

Red Skelton Hilarious As Fuller Brush Man

Red Skelton's brand of comedy is not noted for its subtlety, for he is the universal buffoon who aims his broadsides at the whole family and does not disdain to stoop to slapstick, when necessary. And in Columbia's "The Fuller Brush Man," in which he plays the title role, it is no exaggeration to say that Red has one of his best comedy vehicles to date as the door to door salesman!

In the new comedy, which opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre, with Janet Blair costarred, the most amazing things happen to Red when he goes around knocking on strange doors. He gets involved in a murder, is messed up by hoodlums and becomes mixed up with four beautiful women.

The fast-moving comedy in which Red displays his knock-about brand of comedy and speaks his gag-laden lines with finesse, is climaxed with one of the most convulsively funny sequences in a long time. Red and Janet do battle in a warehouse with thugs aided by a host of surplus war gadgets such as rockets, inflated rubber rafts, etc., which adds to the fun.

Don't Drap Kats

The practice of hauling cats out into the country and dumping them near a farm house is certainly not appreciated by the rural residents. Below is part of a letter received this week from a rural housewife:

"Kats, Kats, sacks and wives. As yet there has been no wives, but Kats and Kats, oh yes!

"Why or why do the city folks think that we country people enjoy playing mid-wife to their mother Kats, worse yet, feed them and find homes for them. If they must drop them, why not drop some feed too. We love animals, however we prefer to select our own.

"Think this over, people of the city. I am sure you never have, or you could see the country folks' side."

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bryant Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter, Donald and Jane Ann of Altus, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Garrett, Shirley Ann and Wanda of Charlie; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bryant and Linda and Mrs. J. O. Pitts and LaNell.

Gas Co. Opening Drew Large Crowd

A very large and enthusiastic crowd attended the formal opening of the new office of the United Gas Corp. last Friday afternoon.

W. W. Carter, local manager, welcomed the throng prior to making attendance awards.

H. C. Thompson was awarded a new CP gas range; Mrs. C. W. Carter a 40 gallon hot water heater and Mrs. J. H. Ferguson a radiant heater.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stegall left Sunday to make their home in Gainesville, Texas. Mr. Stegall formerly employed by the Palace Theatre here, was transferred to Gainesville.

DON'T GIVE UP, YET

Sub-freezing temperatures, killing frosts, blobs of frigid air, and parts of the country feel that somebody forgot to close nature's icebox door. But, in the face of such cold waves, winter gives us some lee-way, and we have more of those crispy, ideal fall days. Leaves are rapidly falling, lots of trees are bare right now. But on some still cling the gold, red, yellow, purple and green foliage, to prove winter hasn't arrived as yet. Some of our finest autumn weather comes after that spell of frigid air from the arctic regions, that spills over.

MENTAL ILLNESS

Mental illness is a subject that used to be hush-hush, in the old days. When it happened in a family, it was considered a disgrace, in many instances. We discuss more freely and treat more intelligently today, the dangers and problems of mental illness. It needs great understanding and is a serious disease that is spreading. By being more aware of its meaning, we are learning of the lack of facilities for treatment of those mentally ill. There is much to be done. As complex as is this body, with disorders of lungs, heart, teeth, eyes, limbs, liver, stomach and so on, is it not surprising that the brain is not more often affected? About one-seventeenth of the population of the U. S. is believed to belong in institutions or confined in them. Then, hadn't we better be doing something about it.

Key Newsreel To Film Drama

To obtain less than 600 feet of newsreel film for "The Iron Curtain," a story of modern espionage, Producer Sol Siegel and Director William Wellman looked over 200,000 feet.

Movietone's offices in Europe shipped the newsreel footage to 20th Century Fox from sources not touched heretofore, principally from European newsreel companies.

While Siegel and Wellman needed little footage for the picture, they considered the scenes key ones to the story line of the film which was produced in the semi-documentary technique of "The House on 92nd Street," with Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney as its stars.

Many scenes were filmed in Ottawa, Canada, against backgrounds which figure in the story.

A letter from Roy L. Foutz, former minister of the local Church of Christ, now at Lawton, Oklahoma, announces the time Minister Foutz will be on the radio at Lawton each Sunday morning in November.

"I will be on KSWO, 1380 Kilocycles, from 9:00 to 9:30 each Sunday morning this month. Preston Cotham, minister of the 8th and Lee Church of Christ here, will be the speaker in December. He and I will alternate month by month.

"We are liking here very much and I believe, by trying hard, we will manage to become Oklahoma citizens.

"We are getting the Star regularly and we are enjoying it even more now that we are away from Burkburnett.

Sincerely yours,

Sue McClarty rendered a solo, the first stanza of "O Worship the King," with the other girls joining in on the other verses. Little Sherry Lynn sang, "Jesus Loves Me."

After leaving the school, the girls went to the home of Mrs. Robinson, where they presented the same program. Mrs. O. B. Wofford closed each program with prayer.

Going with the girls were: Mrs. J. W. Allen, and Mrs. Chas. Worley. Girls taking part were: Sue McClarty, Joe Beth Burnett, Corine and Clorene Wallace, Milly West and Ella Ruth Lassiter.

Anniversary of the Reformation

A significant development on the American scene during recent years is the general observance of the Reformation festival. A day which for hundreds of years was celebrated chiefly by Lutherans has recently come to be recognized as a heritage which is significant for all of Protestantism.

This is as it should be. For when Martin Luther nailed his 95 sentences to the door of the Castle Church of Wittenberg, October 31, 1517, challenging the ecclesiastical authorities of his day to a debate on controverted issues, he began a movement which was destined to rediscover the basic truths which had been lost to the world because the Church was not loyal to the Word of God.

Luther taught nothing new. He taught no doctrine which Christ Himself had not taught. But he did insist that men must teach and believe everything that Christ has revealed.

He insisted that all religion must be based on the Bible alone. II Tim. 3, 16. He insisted that man is saved by grace alone, that salvation is one hundred per cent a free gift of God's mercy. Rom. 11, 6. He insisted that man becomes a partaker of this free salvation alone by faith in the atonement of the Savior. Gal. 2, 16. And he insisted that the individual Christian has direct access to the father-heart of God through Jesus Christ without any human intermediary. I Tim. 2, 5.

The Lutheran Church, the Church of the Reformation, still insists on these basic truths of the Bible. It teaches and preaches these truths clearly and constantly because it is convinced that the salvation of every individual depends upon them. We want YOU to have that salvation. Attend our Sunday School and Services at Town Hall every Sunday.

JAPAN: On the Spot

Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, former military governor of occupied Japan, admitted he might have made a mistake in not leaving the Japanese a few guns for their own protection.

IT BOILS down—as most international difficulties do these days—to a matter of Communism and Communist influences inside the country.

As a matter of fact, said Eichelberger, Communist pressure in Japan and the Far East in general may force the U. S. to carry out a limited rearmament of the Japanese.

"I believe I went too far in disarming the Japanese," he said.

"They need a few machine guns and rifles to protect themselves against internal disturbances.

"IF AND when the American army withdraws, the Japanese will have to be given something with which to defend themselves—a strong police force or a small army."

Communist influence in Japan, he said, "is about the same as it is here. They are a nuisance beyond their numerical strength. But it's always the wrong guy that gets the pistols."

ANOTHER GONE:

Nazi General

Former German Field Marshal Walter von Brauchitsch died in the British military hospital at Hamburg, Germany, where he was under guard awaiting trial as a major war criminal.

The British army's announcement of the death did not state the cause. Von Brauchitsch, who was 67 and had been ill for some time, was scheduled to come up for trial in Hamburg in January.

SQUABBLE:

Yugoslavia

Russia continues not only to have great and grievous trouble with the United States and differences of opinion with most of the member countries of the United Nations, but her political rift with the up-start satellite also is growing worse instead of better.

THE TROUBLE originally began within the framework of the Cominform (Communist Information Bureau), the master organization through which Russia controls her satellites, when Marshall Tito said his nation would not bow to the Cominform edict ordering Yugoslavia to make itself a precise model of Soviet Russia in all political and economic aspects.

And in recent weeks the "heresy" of Tito and the central committee of the Yugoslav Communist party has become more absolute and more determined than ever.

THAT holds true despite the fact that Yugoslav Foreign Minister Edward Kardelj has been displaying firm adherence to the position of the Russian bloc in the United Nations general assembly arguments.

WALLACE:

On to '52

Henry Wallace, the incorrigibly incorrect visionary, who stumped the political experts by getting his Progressive party on the ballots of 43 states, now is working hard to keep his party alive for the 1952 campaign.

In a pre-election speech in Detroit he criticized "doubters" who argue that although a new party is needed, it shouldn't be formed until 1949.

WHILE Wallace didn't name any names he obviously was referring to the United Auto Workers, headed by Walter Reuther, who had announced plans to form a "genuine" third party of progressive-minded people after the election.

The UAW leadership had condemned the Wallace third party as a Communist-inspired movement and supported President Truman for re-election.

IN THE waning days of the campaign Wallace was appealing to his followers to stick with him after November 2. "I hope you are with us all the way after November 2," he told one audience, putting heavy emphasis on the word "after."

"You've got to drive it home to the rank-and-file of the UAW, and all labor: 'Where do we go after November 2?'"

But wherever they were going, it didn't look like Wallace would be in a position to do much guiding.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: The Book of Job. DEVOTIONAL READING: Job 23:3-10

Drama in the Bible

Lesson for November 7, 1948

THOMAS CARLYLE, a crusty dyspeptic but a literary artist of no small skill, was visiting a Christian friend. In the morning at family prayers (so the story goes) his host put into his hands a copy of the Bible and asked him to read a chapter. Carlyle opened at the first chapter of Job; read it—read on to the next and the next—and refused to stop reading till he had finished all 42 chapters.

Job is like that. It is a book you hate to put down. In all the Bible it is the outstanding example of the drama; a drama of conflict in which the opposing forces are not people as much as ideas.

The Characters

THE characters at first are three: God, Satan and a man named Job. Job is a good man, in fact God calls him perfect. He is also prosperous, and thereby hangs the tale. For one fateful day God and Satan have a conversation about this man. The Lord inquires if Satan has seen him, and how good he is. Oh yes, Satan says airily, he has seen him, but he does not think highly of his "goodness." He is too well paid for it. He has a large and happy family, and has immense wealth; why shouldn't he be good? Take away his property and he will curse you to your face, Satan sneers.

So God lets Satan work his malice on the man. In a terrible series of disasters, one rushing on another's heels, everything Job has owned vanishes. His children are killed by storm and fire, and Job is left a childless, penniless man. But Job will not complain; his faith in God still does not waver.

So when next Satan reports to God, the Almighty asks again: Did you see my servant Job? He holds fast to his integrity. Ah, yes, sneers the unbelieving fiend. Yes, but he still has his health. He can have another family, another fortune. Make life itself so miserable that he will long to die, and then you will see his goodness vanish, then he surely will curse you to your face.

So God let Satan do his worst—do all you can to him, God says, only leave him alive. And then Job is made horribly and painfully ill. he cannot sleep for the torture of boils covering him from head to foot. Three of his friends come to visit him. For seven days they sit in silence, and then begins a great debate, with Job on one side and his friends on the other: Why must such things be? Why must good people suffer?

Was Job Real?

DON'T ask: Was Job a real character, or a made-up one like Hamlet and Macbeth? It is very likely there was once upon a time some man by that name who suffered in that way, and that he had friends, not too sympathetic, who talked it over with him.

As Hamlet and Macbeth were historical characters, whom Shakespeare used with high art to express profound ideas, so the author of Job may well have used the trials of some man he knew, or knew of, to express truths about a problem as profound and widespread as the human race.

For Job most surely is real: his local name may be Smith or Jones, and he may be living just around the corner from you. Indeed, sooner or later every man's name is Job. Sooner or later, every thoughtful person has to face the tragedy of human suffering: Why must such things be?

Suffering Is Test

THERE is, however, one solution which comes out in the course of the drama. It is not a theoretical solution; that is, it does not altogether answer the question, WHY must men suffer? It does tell us WHAT we can do about it.

Suffering is a test: A test of man's faith and real goodness. "When he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold," Job says. (23:10.) The test of a ship is not the quiet waters of the harbor but the roaring open sea: the test of a man is not comfort but stress and pain.

To have faith in God only when we are well-fed and softly cushioned is not faith at its best. Faith and goodness prove their reality only when they hold together even when torn by the nails of a cross.

 Backward, turn backward—O time in your flight, And make me a child again Just for tonight.
 Men in their more quiet, sober moments want to go back to their childhood.
 Well, we can live our childhood over if we will.
 Maybe not physically, but in simplicity, faith, carefreeness, hope, and the many other things that count.
 The one institution that gives us the freshness of a child is the Church. God will give us the added strength and hope we all need when the load seems heavy.
 Join your friends and neighbors in worship with us. It will greatly help you.

Maybe you read that survey published recently in a national magazine, entitled "Husbands, Wives, and Marriage."
 It showed that among happily married couples, those who criticized themselves outnumbered those who criticized the other person. Among unhappily married couples, it was just the opposite—each one tended to criticize the other.

 As for what made happy marriages, companionship within the home was listed most important of all. And from where I sit, a husband and wife who can spend an evening by the fire—with nothing more exciting than a mellow glass of beer, and a friendly conversation—are a truly well-matched couple!

MARKETING with Marjorie

 If you're serving less meat than you did when prices were lower, you can make up for it by giving extra thought to other foods. Choose your family's favorites at your A&P... and please everybody from Pop to the pup!

SUPER SPAGHETTI
 Even without one meatball, spaghetti can be mighty satisfying... especially when it's A&P's ANN PAGE SPAGHETTI fixed like this: Cook an 8-oz. package according to package directions; drain. Combine 1 1/2 cups (a 10 1/2 oz. can) tomato puree, 1 small onion (chopped), 1/2 cup grated carrots, 1 tsp. celery salt, 1 tsp. sugar, 2 tsps. Worcestershire sauce and 2 tsps. fat. Cook over low heat 5 minutes. Place spaghetti on platter; add 4 quartered hard-cooked eggs and sauce. Serves 4.

CHEESE HIT
 To make sandwiches that supply some of the protein which meatless menus may lack, I use protein-rich cheese. And to make this pinch-hitter for meat score an extra big hit, I team it with MARVEL SOUR TYPE RYE BREAD from the A&P. I've never eaten tastier rye bread, and every luscious loaf is guaranteed fresh. Try it!

PAMPER YOUR POOCHI!
 You can bet your dog won't demand meat if you feed him DAILY DOG FOOD from the A&P. My terrier's tail tells me this nourishing, ready-to-serve canned dog food is dog-gone delicious in Meat, Fish or Cheese flavor. Start pampering your pooch today... vary his diet with all three flavors. Treat him to DAILY DOG FOOD.

"POP-EYE" PLATTER
 Would-be "Pop-Eyes" would be pop-eyed if you were to serve A&P CANNED SPINACH so: Sauté 2 tsps. finely chopped onion in 2 tsps. fat. Stir in 2 tsps. flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. dry mustard, dash pepper. Add 1 cup milk, gradually. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly till thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in 1/2 cup grated cheese; add 3 eggs, slightly beaten, and 1 can A&P SPINACH (2 1/2 cups). Mix well. Pour into greased ring mold. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F., 50 to 60 minutes. Serves 6.

Wichita County Farm Bureau News

From the Office of
MRS. M. L. HINES

Enthusiasm and interest in the organization were evidenced by the 150 members who were in attendance at the annual business meeting of the Wichita County Farm Bureau Monday evening at the Iowa Park school cafeteria when George A. Lewis was re-elected president and eight resolutions pertinent to the progress of agriculture were proposed and adopted.

Serving with Lewis will be George Streit of Electra, vice-president; Mrs. M. L. Hines, secretary-treasurer; and the following directors: A. A. Evert, and C. A. Morgan, Burkburnett; Wymore Downing and Ed Hennig, Wichita Falls; Herbert Detmer and Melvin Pace, Electra; and Hill Spruiell, Lee Trimm, and Gale Lowrance of Iowa Park. By acclamation, and in vociferously approving tones, Mrs. Kathrine Sue Banks and Mrs. Otis Gay were elected musical sweethearts of the county organization.

Six delegates to the state convention in San Antonio next week were elected as follows: A. A. Evert, T. J. Pace, Mont Bowles, Walter Scott, Mrs. Lois

Barbour, and Max Carpenter, with two alternates, Wymore Downing and Mrs. Walter Scott.

A barbecue supper served by the women of the Associated Women's group opened the evening's activities. President Geo. Lewis presided during the business session. Lively singing by the group was led by Mrs. Kathrine Sue Banks, with Mrs. Otis Gay as piano accompanist.

Wymore Downing presented resolutions urging price supports of 100 per cent parity, asking that CCC be given the authority to build storage for grains and cotton, commending the American Farm Bureau for its efforts in co-ordinating agricultural agencies, and proposing a rural road program for Texas. These will be sent to the state convention and presented there for adoption in the ones to be sent to the national organization.

H. G. Cook left Tuesday for Woodland, California to visit his sons, Carl, Dan and Bob. He will also visit a brother, Ben Cook in Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Chloe Mahres, at Las Cruces New Mexico. He plans to be gone about a month.

CHICK CHATS

By Clark Gresham

One among many means of increasing winter egg production is artificial lighting.

The laying hen belongs to no union, but her working days is over when sunlight no longer filters into the laying house. She's ready for the roosts, then and the production of her next egg will have to wait until tomorrow's daylight.

To offset the effect of short fall and winter days many poultry raisers resort to the use of lights, turning them on either early in the morning or at dusk, or both. Enough morning or evening lighting to account for a 13-hour day is considered about right by most raisers of poultry.

Lighting is an important factor because it helps maintain proper body weight, tends to hasten maturity for late hatched pullets, and has the effect of bringing breeders back into production—all these in addition to lengthening the daily feeding and egg-laying period.

If hot weather retards food consumption among early hatched pullets that begin laying in June or July, use lights to prevent the loss of body weight if weight cannot be maintained by any known feeding method. Usually by mid-October lighting should be started on birds that have been in production for some time.

Protect Their Health
Ask your feed dealer what your birds are going to need to keep in high production. See that your flock has plenty of the right kind of nourishment. Make sure there's enough room at the feeders so that each bird can have an adequate ration. Don't skimp on grit and oyster shell. Above all, look after the health of your chickens — a well planned flock will usually be in good condition and their appetites will be on a scale that guarantees good production.

UNITED GAS...
Bridge BUILDER
Yes, sometimes United Gas turns "bridge builder" in the process of laying pipe lines to move natural gas from wells to the homes and factories of thousands of users. Underwater lines are generally used to cross rivers or streams, but occasionally it is necessary to take the pipe line over the river to avoid damage from erosion and shifting of the river bed. United has built several overhead crossings, including one of the longest bridges of its kind in the nation, to assure uninterrupted service to its customers.

This is one of many functions of the United Gas organization, all of which have the ultimate purpose of providing a continued dependable supply of natural gas for our customers.

One United Gas bridge has a suspended section 2,200 feet long carrying a 24-inch natural gas pipe line.

Its towers stand the height of a 14-story building, and its footings reach an equal distance below the ground.

Steel cables as thick as a baseball bat stretch 4,000 feet across the river, unspliced. There are eight such cables, weighing over 200 tons.

More than 6,000 tons of concrete went into the caissons of the bridge, more than 900 tons of steel into the superstructure.

Reverence For God

Throughout the Bible, we are taught that reverence for God is not only commanded but solemnly demanded. In the Old Testament, God gave to Israel, He commanded, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." Ex. 20:3; and the same is taught throughout the New Testament. God is jealous God and He demands our first consideration in all we do and say. If we love people or things of the world more than God, we are highly displeasing in His sight. If we show irreverence for Him, or if we show undue reverence for man or material things, His smile of approval will be withdrawn from us. In summing up his observations in the book of Ecclesiastes, Solomon wrote, "Fear God and keep His commandments, for this is the whole duty of man." Ecc.

Many people irreverence God by taking His name in vain. One of the commandments of the Decalogue was, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain." This is a pitiable condition that many people never seem to get out of. It is a "God" except in cursing and swearing. What a shame it is that the high and holy name of Almighty God should be used in this vile and filthy way.

There are others in the world who would not dare to take God's name in vain; yet they are not showing reverence for God because they are giving names and titles to man which belong to God only. Many men, flesh and blood beings, are called "Father" in a spiritual sense. As the Lord said, "Call no man your father upon the earth, for ye have one Father which is in heaven." Matt. 23:9. Here the Lord plainly condemns the use of the word "Father," especially speaking, except as it applies to God.

There are still others who condemn both of these conditions but who are guilty of the same sin of irreverence. They are called "Reverend." This is found only once in the Bible, and this one passage is to God. Read Psalms III:9. God alone is worthy to be called "Reverend," and the use of this word in addressing any man, regardless of his work or position in life, is highly displeasing and sinful in the sight of our Heavenly Father.

May the Lord help us that we may show proper respect and reverence to Him in whom we live and move and have our being.

Progress Made In School Song Change

Fifty-three names have been turned in saying that there should be a new school song. If you want to change it put your name on a slip of paper and say whether you or for or against it. Drop your slips in the box by the gym door. If a majority of names want to change it we will, but if they don't we won't change it. There are a few names which have been turned in by people who are against changing it.

F. H. A. GIRLS JOURNEY TO STATE FAIR

Eleven F. H. A. girls were at the peak of excitement Saturday morning at 5:45 when they boarded the bus that took them for the first time to the State Fair at Dallas. A gala time was had by all and they enjoyed the fair very much. The girls that went were Mary Ann Moore, Mickey Slabaugh, Elsie Williams, Betty Woods, Peggy Knox, Georgia Hrazdil, Patsy Lundberg, Lois June Pruitt, Elwanda Pruitt, Wanda Ludington, Mrs. Hendley, the sponsor and Beverly Bruce, who accompanied them. They arrived at the big city of Dallas at 9:50 and from there went to the Fair grounds. After many enjoyable hours, all loaded up and went back home, and the girls who were not asleep had a jolly time. The girls, who think Mrs. Hendley is tops for a F. H. A. sponsor, would like to express their gratitude to her.

Uncle Sam Says

Farming is a combination of a business and a home. And you farmers realize that a well-managed business must maintain a financial reserve as security against future needs and emergencies. This reserve is built up during the good years, like this one, when many crops are the biggest in history. It must be in the safest possible form and always available. Nothing meets these requirements so well as U. S. Savings Bonds. You know that Savings Bonds provide more security than cash because they will be replaced if lost or stolen and they also bear interest, paying $4 for every $3 invested, in ten years.
