"The Other Love" Gripping Romance Earns Plaudits

The pen of Erich Maria Remarque has been responsible for some of Hollywood's greatest motion picture endeavors and his latest novel, reaching its first audience through the medium of the film since it has not yet been published in book form, meets the standards of his earlier works.

"The Other Love", which will open next Tuesday at the Palace Theatre through United Artists release, is a stirring story of a hopelessly ill concert pianist and her final fling at romance.

Barbara Stanwyck enacts the pianist with considerable authority, making of her a poignant character whose struggle to accept the inevitability of her fate moves even the most cynical. As her doctor who also loves her, David Niven plays with restraint and deftness, while Richard Conte, the gambling playboy, brings to the part a grave but buoyant intensity which sweeps the audience much as it did the heroine.

In supporting roles, Joan Lorring, Gilbert Roland and Maria Palmer do superbly workmanlike jobs, lending authenticity to their parts of the patient who slips out of the sanitarium at night for a clandestine drink, the Monte Carlo croupier whose fancy is caught by Miss Stanwyck, and Huberta, Miss Stanwyck's nurse.

The church nursery is open for all services. A capable attendant is in charge. This nursery is equipped with a germicidal lamp to kill air borne bacteria. The room and the toys are kept disinfected and sanitary. Workers wear sanitary white uniforms. Our church bus covers the town bringing people to all regular church services. Watch for this blue bus.

Neely and daughter Charline of Salinas, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard West and son Roger of Lost Lunas, New Mexico; and Mrs. Gertrude Breedlove of Sialoam Springs, Arkansas.

Measles Plentiful In Burkburnett

Quite a few Burkburnett students, mostly from the lower grades, are out of school this week, due to the measles.

According to Ralph Davis, superintendent, there were one hundred and twenty-one absent Tuesday. The average daily absence is between 30 and 40. Some of these may be due to colds and other diseases, but for the majority, measles seem to be the reason.

Guy Willis Back

Monday morning, Jan. 3, Mrs. O. B. Wofford was alarmed by her little dog "Pat" barking. Thinking someone was at the door, she looked out and saw a pick-up with a saddle on it, and discovered it was Mr. and Mrs. T. Guy "Pappy" Willis, moving back to Burkburnett. You will find them down on 1st St.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis say they liked Oklahoma fine, and they were on a nice little ranch with lovely people, but they had left their most prized possessions here, membership in the First Baptist Church, the Masonic Lodge, and their box at the Post Office. In their estimation, Burkburnett is the best town in Texas.

Shoppers Like Second Monday Trades Day

Burkburnett merchants are looking forward to Second Monday Trades Day, January 10th.

To make things inviting for shoppers, bargains galore are offered on every-day, quality merchandise. Some stocks, carrying too many items in certain lines, are cutting prices to the bone to balance the stock.

The Second Monday held in December met with immediate approval by shoppers who were delighted with merchandise offered at low prices.

With all merchants co-operating, Second Mondays in Burkburnett will grow to overshadow the traditional Saturday crowds. One reason Second Mondays are finding favor is that shoppers get more attention because stores are not so crowded and parking space along the streets is easier to find.

Take advantage of the offerings and pleasant shopping conditions this, and each Second Monday. You will find the merchants and their clerks pleasant to deal with and your savings on purchases will amount to several dollars during the year.

Read the ads in this week's Star for bargains in items you need every day.

That was followed by two musical numbers by Mrs. Henry, the first of which was one hundred years old, and was played from one of Mrs. Henry's grand mother's books of music. The last number was a late composition selected from "The Etude Music Magazine." The program was closed with selections of Steven Foster songs.

WHAT COMES NEXT

The holiday season over, tissue and ribbons smoothed and folded away for another Christmas, cards listed in the little black book, the calendar turned to a crisp new page, the shouts of "Happy New Year" have died. What is ahead for us? As a man in China's tribulations on our hands. There will be plenty of new problems to add to the carry-over from 1949. But at least, we won't be bored with the sameness. Weather, economics and society aren't generally monotonous and tedious. The variety sometimes gives us an increased headache, but we still have fun, find time to relax, since even weather, economics and society has its compensations.

THE INAUGURATION

President Truman's inauguration will take place on January 20, but the celebrations will last for a week, from January 16-23.

The turnout for Mr. Truman's inauguration will probably be the biggest of all. About 750,000 people are expected to come and cheer the man who scored one of the greatest upsets in political history.

Mr. Truman himself is anxious to start his new term with a bang-up affair. He hopes it will not be too plush or too expensive for people to enjoy. What he wants, he has said, is a "real people's inauguration."

THE PEOPLES GOVERNMENT

J. E. JONES

Washington, D. C.—President Truman denounced the 80th Congress in strong language. He said of its activities were detrimental to the country.

Harry Truman is in the saddle and his own party will rule the 81st Congress. The Congress will probably extend social security to cover people of all ages.

The President will ask for assistance from the Government for communities needing low rent houses for families in the lower income groups.

Just what will happen about taxation nobody knows. But everybody knows that it will be necessary to tax people to the limit in order to carry on our National and international programs.

In view of the fact that the number of jobless workers is rising the President will have to bring employers and workers closer together and use his powers, as he did in the railroad strike, to keep the wheels going round in order to save our American economic system.

Boosts in salaries for Federal Government employees, from the lowest branch to the salary of the men in the White House is approved by the Commission headed by the former President Hoover—which means that Federal salaries will be raised. Incidentally, it may be assumed that several million of the common people of the Nation will regret this new extravagance—but of course they will stand for it.

The President and Congress quarreled all through the year 1948 but in the new session the Democratic majority will support the President and very likely most of his plans and programs will be carried out. Nevertheless, the opinion prevails that labor disputes and strikes are likely to be handled the way F. D. R. handled them when he turned on the heat with the Wagner Act.

Egg Gathering A Pleasant Chore

While other daily tasks in and around the laying house may become tedious with time, there is one chore that remains a pleasure to nearly every flockowner. That choice is egg-gathering.

Lugging a heavy basket from the laying house back to the store room can be a source of real satisfaction for the poultryman. The heavier the basket, the better he likes it. A noisy laying house, filled with the sound of cackling hens that are producing lots of high quality eggs, gives most poultry raisers enough satisfaction to atone for the worry and long hours of work they have put in, caring for the birds.

Some poultrymen, however, may be finding that gathering eggs isn't such a pleasurable pastime as we have pictured. And the reason for their lack of enthusiasm undoubtedly is that their hens are not producing enough eggs to bring in as much profit as would be expected normally.

When this is the case, a check on the flock will probably reveal that there are a considerable number of hens in a production slump. This poses the problem of how to get the poor layers back into high production.

Perhaps it is a matter of deficient diet. Try increasing the amount of laying mash consumed, at the same time giving less grain to the flock (the reduction should be about one pound of grain per 100 birds per day.) Another good practice is to pass through the pens several times a day, stirring the mash with the fingers and arousing the birds' curiosity. This encourages them to eat more. Some raisers feed mash moistened with milk or water; they find that the change arouses a response in the layers' feeding habits.

Many successful producers use a good tonic or regulator to whet birds' appetite. Such stomachic treatments are available in commercial form and are easily administered by simply mixing in the mash.

Such means may bring about the desired end for you—that of bringing in full baskets, once again.

A TONIC FOR POULTRY

Dr. Salisbury's AVI-TAB is just that—an excellent tonic-appetizer that helps give birds a "lift." The 12 active ingredients of AVI-TAB step up sluggish digestive processes, stimulate appetite. Mix AVI-TAB in mash—feed 10 days each month. Economical to use. Try Dr. Salisbury's AVI-TAB with your flock now, and watch for results!

Watch Your Kidneys! ... Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

DOANS PILLS ... Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Dutch Forces Overrun Indonesia; Peace Feeler Offered China Reds; U. S. Stand Settled If War Comes

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

WAR IN INDONESIA... Describing the offensive as "police action" against Indonesian terrorists, the Dutch government managed to invade the Indonesian republic by land, sea and air in time to enable Dutch troops to spend Christmas on Java.

DUTCH PUSH: Into Indonesia ... The young Indonesian republic was fallen on evil days. Dutch troops raced through Java and Sumatra in a bloodless occupation, threatening the remaining important centers of the republic.

DUTCH MARINES had forged to the outskirts of the Republican army's only oil center on Java. Other Netherlands forces, in a lightning thrust through western Sumatra, were within 40 miles of the chief Republican city on that island.

Decrying charges of war and invasion, the Dutch termed their activities "police action." Well ahead of their time-table, the Dutch had effected advances with practically no bloodshed.

International diplomats turned eyes toward Washington where the United States had been formally asked to grant "political and economic" support to the tiny republic.

The Indonesian minister had further asked serious consideration of U. S. cutting off of Marshall-plan aid to the Netherlands because of the Dutch action in the East Indies.

The Dutch announcement on the outbreak of hostilities said: "FOLLOWING a breakdown of informal talks with the republic after its failure to comply with its truce obligations or to reply to the last Dutch note asking for a binding declaration on four essential points, the Netherlands government reluctantly finds itself obliged to take military action against terrorist activities and undisciplined elements in the republic who render any constructive policy impossible."

The Indonesians had some support. An American member of the United Nations good offices committee charged the Dutch had violated the Indonesian truce agreement signed last January after the first abortive war in Java had ended.

U. S. DECISION: All Settled ... If it comes to war with Russia, where will the United States stand? Diplomatic informants had no doubt as to the answer. Their opinion was firm and immediate: The United States is prepared, even in advance of a formal military alliance, to coordinate its military forces in Europe with those of the western European powers in the event of open conflict with Russia.

IF SHOOTING ever starts, these officials said, American forces would come under the general operational control of the western European commander, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, of Britain. Montgomery is chairman of the military staff committee of the western European union.

But these sources added that there is no reason now more than there ever has been to consider that war with Russia is close at hand or unavoidable. In fact, it was said top officials have great hope that the building up of real power in the western world by devices such as the military arrangement for western Europe will discourage the Russians from committing any overt act.

THE COUNTRIES in the western European union, Britain, Belgium, France, the Netherlands and Luxembourg are negotiating now with the United States on more permanent military arrangements. Their embassies are working with U. S. state department officials to draft a north Atlantic region security alliance by which the United States would be committed to help any member nations if any of them were attacked.

POLL-TOPPERS: Mr. Truman ... If there is anything to the adage about he who laughs last laughs best, Harry S. Truman should be chuckling fit to kill himself.

He not only pole-axed the pollsters with his election victory but, snatching a hair from the dog that bit him, he turned up as the "most admired man" in the world, as far as Americans are concerned. And he did it in a poll—Dr. George Gallup's poll, in fact.

PEACE FEELER: To China Reds ... Time really was running out for the Nationalist government of China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Sun Fo, son of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, revered "father of the Chinese republic," was at the helm as premier and had put together a new cabinet. "We have to fight on," he told the cabinet, "until we can secure an honorable peace" with the Communists.

THUS WAS the cat out of the bag. Indications were plain that if nothing could be worked out with Chiang in the saddle, he might be unhorsed and peace brought to troubled China by other hands.

Sun's statement, which could be viewed as a peace feeler toward the Reds, came as the Communists tightened their squeeze on the big northern city of Tientsin.

After his comment about an "honorable peace," Sun added: "I CAN ASSURE you that we will not surrender outright..." Such a surrender, he said, would mean "scuttling" the anti-Communist front and "China would become a second Poland or Czechoslovakia—which I am trying to prevent."

Failure of any enthusiastic reception to Madame Chiang's "help, please" visit to Washington and of the nationalist armies to stem the Communist hordes combined to dim any hope for survival of the present nationalist regime.

GOOD NEWS: About Food ... Out of the welter of news of bad things that might happen, came good news of food—among them report of prospects of lower prices reduced in 1949.

FOR INSTANCE, various food authorities predicted that increased food supplies would reduce to some extent the cost of setting the nation's tables in the coming 12 months. Comments to this effect were forthcoming from the annual food-industry-review issue of the National Grocers' bulletin, a publication of the National Association of Retail Grocers.

Too, various indexes of wholesale prices showed the food-price level declining. In the grocers' bulletin, Agriculture Secretary Brannan said: "The United States has entered the door of the year of plenty."

In Remembrance

Lesson for January 9, 1949.

JESUS OF NAZARETH was the Unforgettable Man. All our information about him as he lived in Galilee comes from four small booklets known as the Gospels. There was a little more about him in the letters of Paul, and a few additional sayings of his have been preserved in papyrus fragments in Egypt. But the main source of our historical knowledge of Jesus is in these four Gospels. All put together they do not make a big book; but any one of them by itself is a great book.

Who Remembered Him? ... IT BOTHERS some people to discover what scholars have always known, that our Gospels as we have them are based on earlier writings and spoken traditions. But this gives us an even better reason for trusting the reliability of these records. They were not made up for the first time a generation or more after Jesus' resurrection. They go back to the lifetime of thousands who personally knew Jesus.

The farther back scholars can trace the origins of the Gospels, the more historically reliable they are proved to be. Some of the information worked into our Gospels came from personal reminiscences; this is the case with large parts of Matthew and John. In the case of Mark, the early story in the church was that as a young companion of Peter on missionary journeys, Mark jotted down the stories which Peter told about Jesus.

At any rate the Gospel of Mark contains just the sort of things that a man like Peter would be likely to remember. Luke himself, a missionary doctor and great friend of Paul, never knew Jesus personally, but lived for two years in Palestine and gathered the materials for his Gospel while there were still hundreds of people there who remembered Jesus well.

WHAT THEY Remembered ... JOHN tells us that it would be impossible to write down all that was then known of Jesus' life. Out of the 400 days (at least) during which Jesus' public ministry lasted, not over 40 are recorded, even in part.

Yet what these men did recall and record is enough to reveal a matchless Person. A fifth Gospel might enlarge our knowledge of Jesus; but it would not greatly change it. Jesus never wrote a book, not even a letter so far as we know; yet such words of his as were remembered have influenced the world.

Jesus' entire public ministry lasted a shorter time than it takes to go through college; yet what he did have had a deeper effect on the world than the work of any university graduate in history. Jesus started no corporation, no formal organization; yet out of his fellowship have grown the greatest institutions in the world.

WHY THEY Remembered ... membered and recorded by his followers partly because they could not help it. They could not forget him and did not want to forget him. One thing is true of all those who lovingly cherished these memories of the Master: they loved and adored him.

No unbeliever ever wrote a Gospel. Pilate wrote no life of Christ. Even if Judas had lived, he could not have written one. Our Gospels were written by men of faith, for the purpose of calling out faith in others. "These things were written that ye may believe that Jesus is the Son of God" (John 20: 31).

In one sense of the word we could write a better Gospel now, for today 19 centuries of Christian experience are behind us, and those centuries are full of the doings of Christ through his church. The four Gospels tell us of what Jesus did in Galilee. But now we can tell the story of what Christ has done in Africa and Greenland and Australia and America. Reading the Gospels is interesting, it is important; but the reading has not hit the bull's-eye if it leave you, the reader, merely better informed than you were.

Drug addiction is a symptom of a basic underlying personality maladjustment, according to the experts, and victims fall into five general classes. These are, in the order of their numerical importance: THOSE WHO become accidentally addicted while taking drugs to relieve psychoneurotic symptoms; psychopathic persons who learn through association with other addicts; persons with real mental illness who feel better while taking drugs, and a minor group with "behavior or character" disorders.

Smile Awhile

Strange Fruit ... Two little girls were being taken away from London, and as a special treat someone had given them a couple of bananas—the first they had ever had. As soon as one child had taken a bite of her banana the unlighted train ran into a tunnel. "Oo, Mary," she said, "have you eaten yours yet?" "No," replied Mary. "Well, don't," added Jane. "They make you blind."

Matter of Opinion ... "Were you ever disappointed in love?" "Yes, twice. The first jilted me, and the second didn't."

Mr. Peabody And Mermaid Made At Weekiwachee, Fla.

Audiences marvelling at the movie wizardry in "Mr. Peabody and the Mermaid," showing at the Palace Theatre Wed and Thursday, will be intrigued to learn that the making of this film was one of Hollywood's most complex undertakings. To complete the Universal-International comedy which co-stars William Powell and Ann Blythe, Producer Nunnally Johnson established a location "settlement" at Weekiwachee Springs, Florida, where most of the sensational underwater scenes were photographed.

Operated Own Ferry
Johnson's location "base force" operated a sawmill, a welding shop, a ferry, a shortwave station, a power plant and a laboratory, which is believed to constitute something of a record for variety and number of enterprises in which a movie company has had to engage.

The producer added a portable sawmill when it was discovered to be cheaper to cut and process timber from the surrounding woods than to have it hauled from Tampa, nearest town of any consequence, which was 32 miles away. The welding shop was used to build and maintain diving bells. The ferry, a rope pull facility, was used to transport crew members across the Weekiwachee River. The short wave radio was set up to keep in touch with Tampa headquarters since the nearest telephone was 12 miles away. The power plant was used to convert and step up the local electric current. The laboratory was used for making film tests on the spot.

"Mr. Peabody and the Mermaid," directed by Irving Pichel & scenarized by Irving Pichel & scenarized by Producer Johnson from the novel by Guy and Constance Jones, has Irene Hervey, Andra King and Clinton Sundberg in prominent supporting roles.

E. Parrack. Mrs. Fred Hunt gave the Devotional, "Gifts Suitable to Give Christ on His Birthday." Gifts were then exchanged from a beautifully decorated tree.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Lavera Netherlain, Lula Smith, Albert Dowdy, Byron Presley, Sybil Stubblefield, Mildred Good Boyd Gilbert, Herman Miller, Grace McClurkin, Woodrow

MENTHOLATUM

THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

"And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people." Matt. 4:23. With Christ there were no incurables. Diseases that were then considered incurable, and that are yet considered incurable, were brought to him—lunatics, total blindness, and palsy—and he healed them. No case of sickness was ever brought to him that he failed to heal.

Christ's healing power was exercised, not primarily as a good health measure, but to convince men of his divinity. He healed men of bodily ailments in order that he might become the physician of their souls. "And it came to pass as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with Him and His disciples. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners? But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, they that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick" (Matt. 9:10-12.)

Jesus meant by this saying, that he was a spiritual healer. He is that today, and it behooves every one to learn how he heals them. It is not a miraculous procedure, as it was when he healed physical diseases. Sin is a spiritual disease, that requires a spiritual remedy. The only remedy that Christ has left in the world as a cure for sin is the gospel (Rom. 1:16.)

Since the cure for sin is the gospel it behooves every one to learn and believe the facts of the gospel of Christ. Believing, we will then apply the cure for our sins by simply obeying the commands of the gospel. The remedy prescribed by the Great Physician, the spiritual healer, never fails.

Sunday School begins at ten a. m. with all classes studying the 7th chapter of Revelation—"The Seventh Seal Opened, and Judgement Poured Out." This is a continuation of studies in the tribulation period. This is a period that takes place after God's people are taken out of the earth. The larger part of the book of Revelation concerns this time. We study only the Bible in our Sunday School—chapter by chapter.

Morning sermon at eleven. The pastor begins a series of sermons for the Sunday morning hour on this general theme: "Distinctive Bible Doctrines To Which Baptists Adhere, Or, 'Bible Doctrines That Mark Our Baptists.'" Such subjects as, "The Lord's True Church—Where Is It and, What Authority Does It Have?", etc." Baptism, what is it? Does it save? If not, is it so important? "The Lord's Supper—Are Baptists Selfish in this Ordinance?" "The Security of the Believer—Can a saved person ever be lost in hell?" "The Total Depravity of the Whole Human Race—Just How Lost is an Unregenerate Man?" These and many more will be announced each week. We invite you to ask any question you wish on any of these subjects as they are announced each week, and honest attention will be given to your question. We believe it matters much what God has said in His Word, and if we can't give you a Scriptural answer, we wouldn't ask you to believe our teaching. Get your questions in before Saturday of each week. This week the subject will be, "Is Tithes and Offerings God's way of financing His work?" Ours is the affirmative. Let me have your questions, with your name, and then come and hear Sunday.

Sunday night at 7:15, after good singing, the sermon will be, "Hiding Your Soul From the Wrath to Come." A timely message you should hear.

Always welcome, neighbor, to our friendly, Bible teaching Church. Ride The Grey Bus to Calvary Baptist.

Questions and Answers about the Telephone Company's Request for Higher Rates in Burkburnett

Q. Why is the telephone company asking for higher rates in Burkburnett?

A. Because Burkburnett rates are too low to bring in enough revenue to pay the cost of furnishing the service.

Q. Is the telephone company operating the Burkburnett exchange at a loss?

A. Yes. During the last half of 1947, expenses of operating the Burkburnett exchange were $5,718 higher than revenues collected for service here.

Q. How about telephone costs? Are they up much?

A. Yes. The cost of everything that goes into furnishing service is higher. Copper is up 105 per cent. Lead is up 240 per cent more than in 1940. A 35-pine pole that cost $6.30 in 1940 now costs us $18.11.

Q. How much is the telephone payroll up?

A. The telephone payroll in Burkburnett is almost eight times as high as it was seven years ago. The growth of Burkburnett has made it necessary that we hire more people to handle the larger volume of calls, and in addition wage rates have gone up.

Q. How long have Burkburnett's telephone rates been in effect?

A. Present rates for telephone service here were established in 1933. At that time Burkburnett had 250 telephones as compared with 950 today. The scope and value of the service has increased greatly in the past 15 years with no increase in rates.

Q. With so much more business, isn't the company's revenue much higher than it was a few years ago?

A. Telephone revenues have increased, to be sure, but expenses have increased much faster. Since 1941, local telephone revenues have increased 184 per cent, but expenses during the same period have gone up 530 per cent. Despite the fact that we have 700 more telephones than in 1933, and are handling a greater volume of calls than ever, the telephone system here is being operated each month at a loss.

Rates established 15 years ago will not bring in enough revenue to pay present costs of furnishing service.

Q. Would it be possible for the telephone company to cut corners and reduce expenses?

A. The telephone company takes advantage of every possible operating economy to keep rates low without affecting the quality of the service. Through these economies and advances in the telephone art we have been able to furnish more and more telephone service here without increasing rates. The telephone company is proud of its record of not having increased rates during these 15 years, although the number of telephones here is almost four times as large, and the cost of virtually everything that goes into the furnishing of service has risen sharply.

Q. What does the rate increase amount to?

A. Briefly, for residence customers, the new rates represent an increase of less than two cents a day. Business telephones will cost about four cents a day more. Rural business and residential service will cost less than two cents a day more than at present.

Charges for various auxiliary telephone services will be increased in relation to higher costs of furnishing them.

Q. What are the telephone company's expansion plans for Burkburnett?

A. The telephone company will continue to enlarge the telephone system here as rapidly as possible to provide telephones for 120 families who are now waiting for service.

The telephone company is at work on an expansion and improvement program for last year and this. Included in the program are 100 more subscribers lines, which will be put into service this year. This is in addition to a project completed here last June which added two local switchboard positions and 220 additional subscribers lines.

A project to expand the network of outside lines and cables throughout Burkburnett is scheduled for last year and this. Some of the new lines already are in service.

Two new long distance circuits to Granfield, Oklahoma, and Wichita Falls are being added to help speed Burkburnett's increasing volume of long distance calls.
