During the past four years he has established and built up a number of congregations in that section. He worked with one congregation almost two years or until it became strong enough financially and financially to be self supporting. He has made sacrifices for the cause of Jesus Christ. As a result of his sacrifice and humility he has been very effective. He is truly done an outstanding work. We are glad that we can invite you to hear a man with the ability and character possessed by Mr. Smith. We firmly believe every sermon will do you good.

WHEN MY BABY SMILES AT ME' GRANDEST SHOW FOLK STORY YET RABLE, DAILEY AT THEIR BEST

Betty Grable and Dan Daley, that wonderful team of "Moth-ore Tights," have been sought together in another story about show business that is human warmth, dramatic appeal and song-and-dance excitement is even grander than its memorable predecessor.

The picture is "When My Baby Smiles At Me," which 20th Century-Fox has photographed in color by Technicolor, and which opens Sunday at the Palace theatre. This is the story of how people as they really are, old in the on-stage, back-stage and off stage life of a couple who tried to climb the ladder the big time—together.

Briefly, When My Baby Smiles At Me is the dramatic love story of the devotion of a beautiful risqué soubrette—in the days when burlesque was at its best—married to a loveable and dependable comic, with a story packed with honest emotion, the color and excitement of the flamboyant world of the stage, and the give and take drama of show business itself.

Betty Grable's singing, dancing and acting are at their peak in her portrayal of 'Bonny Kane' while Dan Daley reaffirms his status among the screen's most loved and refreshing stars, with an expert performance as her husband. June Havoc is Betty's chorine girl friend; Jack Carson is on hand, playing a typical burlesque comic; Richard Widmark is Betty's patient suitor; and Humphrey Bogart is seen as a sympathetic stage manager.

PLEASANT DREAMS

We devoted January to the study of the New Year's almanac, but we get more of a thrill in reading the seed catalogue in February. Close the mind to outside storms and play with visions of tall corn stalks, radishes the size of pumpkins, lettuce the height of palm trees, potatoes the dimensions of Maine and strawberries as large as teacups. What a dream for winter nights in Burk Burnett. What joy in looking at pretty pictures of lima beans and verbenas, scallions and scabiosa, cauliflower and calendulas. Next time you go down to stoke the furnace, give a hungry glance at the spade, rake and hoe, stored in the basement. Even the lawn mower looks good in winter weary eyes.

HELP US

A death every minute comes from that leading killer in our land, the heart. Ailments of the heart and blood vessels take the life of one out of every three Americans. Fortunately, more money is appropriated for research to reduce heart disease. There has been satisfying results in combating rheumatic fever, high blood pressure, heart ailments caused by bacteria, hardening of the arteries. Climate and environment have an effect upon the heart. What we need is more education on this subject, give assistance in helping heart sufferers find proper work to be self-supporting, know health rules. Let us be "heart" conscious.

LEADING WITH OUR CHIN

In the President's inaugural address, we are given a pretty bold program for playing fairy godfather to the under-developed areas of the world. The raising of living standards for half the world's people, would not be for profit. It is suggested that since the U. S. is the biggest "have" nation, we might use our resources, forces, native skills, to make the lot of the "have nots" a happier one by our gifts. Our national economy would be affected, without doubt, and such a policy of help would need the co-operation from the people in under-developed areas. Will our national economy stand any more strain. Will the "have nots" want to be told what they must do to merit our gifts. Our benevolence might backfire like when we tried to save China, remember?

CHICK CHATS

Every Egg Counts When Feed Is High

Your laying flock must produce a lot of eggs these days just to pay for the expensive feed they consume. With feed prices at such a high point and other expenses at parallel levels, each layer will pay her keep only if she utilizes feed efficiently and produces eggs at a high rate.

Now is a good time to take stock of your management program. Perhaps you're forgetting a thing or two—things important enough to have a detrimental effect on your flock's production. Suppose we list a few of the management factors generally considered necessary to encourage high production.

Handle Hens Gently

Handle hens gently. Throwing hens off nests or roosts, kicking them out of the way, or any other type of rough handling will disturb production and may even stop it if the hens are injured. When in the henhouse, move slowly and deliberately, without exciting the flock. Work on a regular feeding schedule. Anything that prevents the flock from getting feed and water at their accustomed time hinders egg production.

Give the birds plenty of fresh clean water. About 2 1/2 gallon waterers per 100 birds is right.

There should be one nest to every 5 hens, and each nest should be well-filled with clean nesting material to reduce the number of cracked and dirty eggs.

Check Body Weight

Failure to maintain body weight while laying may mean an untimely molt so weigh a few of the same birds every week or so, to check the condition of the flock.

Cull continually. It doesn't pay to feed birds that produce at a low rate. Use good laying stock. A hen laying 250 eggs a year uses about half as much feed per dozen eggs as a hen laying 100 eggs a year.

Dirty eggs spoil more quickly than clean ones, and are less attractive to buyers. Keep your produce clean and cool.

Use artificial light in the henhouse to make it possible for the flock to eat more and lay more.

RATS COST FARMERS millions of $$$ each year. Get rid of rats this sensational new way—use Dr. Salsbury's RAT DEATH Cptains (Antu). Kills common brown rats surely, economically. Stop in for Rat Death today.

Avi-Tab

When production is off and layers seem run-down, a good tonic may be needed. Use Dr. Salsbury's AVI-TAB to pep up lazy layers. Just mix it in mash and give 10 days each month. Also for convalescent birds. Economical. Ask for AVI-TAB.

Wichita County Farm Bureau News

The Farm Bureau Clinic was a great success. It was held in the Holt Hotel in Wichita Falls, Feb. 3, 1949. Representatives were present from 16 counties. Wichita led with 18 and Wilbarger was second with 14. Appearing on the program from Vernon was Mrs. Myrtle D. Negy and Mr. J. A. Scofield, District Agents with Extension Service.

The meeting opened with the singing of "The American Farm Bureau Spirit" led by Mrs. Katherine Sue Banks and Mrs. Thelma Gay, accompanist. In the "Battle of Sexes," contest on parliamentary procedure the wives won over their husbands—the contestants were the Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Newman of Goodlett and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton H. Herren of Rule, Texas. The ladies were presented with American Farm Bureau pins and the men booklets on parliamentary law. The contest was conducted by Austin A. Crowover of Waco.

The highlights of the meeting was the address by State President J. Walter Hammond of Tye, Texas.

The Wichita Co. organization is having a directors and workers meeting Tuesday night at the Baptist Church basement in Iowa Park. Plans will be made to contact all Farm Bureau members and give them the opportunity to enroll with Blue Cross Hospital Service before March 15th. Supper will be served at the meeting Tuesday night under the direction of Mrs. Geo. Lewis and Mrs. John Wesley.

Reported by Mrs. John Wesley, Secy.-Treas. of Wichita County Farm Bureau.

Mrs. O. A. Nichols is ill at her home this week.

Scout Program Is Interesting

"Boys will be boys," they say. But we're sure you'll agree they'll be better, friendlier, happier boys if they're in the ranks of the Boy Scouts of America. For 39 years, the Boy Scouts have made an increasing contribution to a better America through a well-planned, up-to-date program to meet boy's interests.

It's a program of adventure that appeals to every boy, when he knows about it. And there's the rub.

Many a boy of 12 or over still needs to be informed of the exciting activities of Scouting. Many a parent needs to find out the enjoyment to be derived from helping boys find themselves through Scouting. Many a civic institution should look into the merits and advantages of sponsoring a Troop of Boy Scouts.

For these reasons we're taking the opportunity — during Boy Scout Week to fulfill our obligation as an information-medium by reminding you of your responsibility to the boys of America — the men of tomorrow!

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bunstine will spend the week-end in Edmond, Okla., with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bunstine and Mrs. Jack Bunstine. While there, they will attend the 50th wedding anniversary of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Griffin.

Aubrey Landrum left Thursday for Los Angeles after several months here visiting his brother, Wallace and family.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

(by Congressman Ed Gossett)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5, 1949—Subcommittee No. 1, of the Judiciary Committee of the House of which I am a member will hold hearings next week on J. H. Res. 2. This is my resolution to abolish the Electoral College. This is the amendment which has been referred to throughout the country as the Gossett-Lodge amendment. It will be debated and discussed throughout the nation this year in many study clubs and in many schools and universities. It will be my purpose to see that the hearings are full and complete on all phases of this subject. Such hearings, when completed, will be published in book form and will doubtless become something of an historical document.

The National REA Convention in New York City was attended by more than 35,000 registered delegates. Some three hundred Texans attended. Most members of Congress, including myself, had breakfast with a large crowd of these Texans on Friday morning as they were returning from the New York convention.

All of us perhaps have some peculiarities and eccentricities. I have just finished talking to Congressman Clare Hoffman, of Michigan, whom I have known for many years. Congressman Hoffman has his suits made without pockets in the trousers or the coat, and of course, no cuffs on the trousers.

The world at this time is afflicted with fear and pessimism. Because of a good many gloomy letters I have received, I want to repeat in this week's letter some quotations carried last year on the subject of pessimism. Pessimism is a disease of age, not of youth. Our country is too young to succumb to the defeatists' philosophy. History will record that each generation has had many smart men who despair of the future. In 1800 Archbishop Wilberforce said, "I dare not marry. The future is so dark and unsettled." In 1837 Queen Adelaide of England stated, "I have only one desire — to play the role of Marie Antoinette with bravery in the coming revolution." Then in 1849 the great Prime Minister of Britain, Disraeli, declared, "In industry, commerce, and agriculture there is no hope." In 1851, just before his death, the Duke of Wellington remarked, "I thank God I will be spared from the consumption of ruin that is gathering around." And in 1875 another great Prime Minister, William Pitt, said, "There is scarcely anything around us but ruin and despair."

In Harpers Weekly in October, 1857, there appeared the following: "It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—not in the lifetime of most men who read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time."

In France the political caldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty; Russia hangs as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more closely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection, and with its disturbed relations in China. It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel an indifference—which happily, no man pretends to feel—in the issue of events.

"Of our own troubles (in the United States) no man can see the end."

One of the most often quoted statements of our late President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, is "we have nothing to fear but fear itself." While this, of course, is not literally true, it reminds me of an old Arab folk tale. Pestilence once met a caravan upon the desert—way to Bagdad. "Why asked the Arab Chief, "must you hasten to Bagdad?" "To take 500000 lices," Pestilence replied. Upon the way back from the City of the Caliphs, Pestilence and the caravan met again. "You deceived me," the Chief said angrily. "Instead of 500000 lices, you took 50,000!" "Nay," said Pestilence. "Five thousand and not one more. It was Fear who killed the rest."

Grupe Opposes Basic Science Bill

Dr. L. George Grupe of San Angelo, vice-president of the International Chiropractors Association, charged here today that enactment of a basic science bill now pending in the Texas Legislature would give the State Medical Association a "life and death" grip on all forms of treatment used by practitioners of the healing arts.

"The Basic Science Bill is still just as unsatisfactory to the people of Texas now as it was two years ago, four years ago, or six years ago," Dr. Grupe said. "The State Medical Association is desperate this year to establish a medical monopoly—so desperate that it has cloaked its usual legislation in a new name in an effort to deceive the people."

He pointed out that the legislation the medical association is seeking is called a minimum standards act this year.

"It is the same Basic Science Bill the people of Texas through their representatives in the Legislature have rejected time and time again."

"The State Medical Association is still demanding that practitioners of all healing arts approach the question of disease, causation and correction from the same point of view—that all should be masters of certain medical subjects from allopathic points of view."

"The chiropractor does not, and never has, claimed to be a general practitioner of medicine. He is a specialist, who believes that many ailments originate in the nervous system of the spine and can be corrected by adjustments."

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Butts left Thursday night for Almagordo, New Mexico, to attend funeral services for Mr. Butts' sister.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Caffee and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browning attended the Boyd-Kennedy wedding in Denton Tuesday.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Landlords Rebel Over Rent Curbs; Russians Set up Anti-ERP Program; Israel, Egypt Sign End to Fighting

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

REBELLION: Among Landlords. Chest out, muscles flexed, truculent of attitude, members of the American Property Owners association in 20 cities threatened wholesale eviction of tenants in protest against rental control bills now in congress.

AN OFFICIAL of the organization, composed chiefly of owners of small property, said in Tulsa, Okla., 600 to 1,000 eviction notices would be mailed to Tulsa tenants advising them to vacate within 60 days. Similar action, he said, was expected in Chicago, Houston, Kansas City, Detroit, St. Louis, Fort Wayne, Grand Rapids, Danville, Ill., and other cities.

The eviction notices affected rent-controlled housing and included houses and apartments. Business units are not under rent control. SPEAR-HEADING the Tulsa movement was a retired Baptist minister, the Rev. Wallace J. Murphy, executive-secretary of the 200-member Tulsa property owners organization, and an honorary president of the national association.

The Rev. Murphy termed two rent control bills now before congress "intolerable," and said, "we refuse to operate so long as rental controls are on." Owner of considerable property in Tulsa, the retired clergyman asserted, "we don't intend to serve under slavery which would take away the right to control our property. It is not enough that we must rent our property at a loss—now they want to fine us and put us in jail.

Landlords appeared mainly incensed because pending rent curb measures would be giving the federal housing expediter right to control evictions, extend rent control periods, provide triple damages for overcharges on rent, and permit fines up to $5,000 and a year in jail for convicted violators.

OBSERVERS WONDERED if landlords weren't letting their wrath becloud their judgment. For, under existing law, which doesn't expire until late March, landlords are prohibited from doing exactly what the Rev. Murphy and his associates plan to do.

The Tulsa incident was merely fuel to the flame of belief that if rent curbs are not maintained, the question of housing for those who cannot afford to buy homes would become even more difficult than it is at present.

RUSSIANS: Coming to Tow?

Messrs Joe Stalin and the politburo, so long and so vocally derisive of everything the western world has or offers, were subconsciously paying that world the sincerest form of flattery—imitation.

The Russians had come forth with their own version of ERP, alphabetical symbol of the Marshall plan for aid to Europe.

AS THE EAST'S answer to the European recovery plan, Russia had organized the economic council of mutual assistance for cooperation with five of her neighbors, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

The purpose, as outlined from Moscow, was "the exchange of experience in the economic field, the rendering of technical assistance to each other, and the rendering of mutual assistance in regard to raw materials, foodstuffs, equipment, etc." Russia, with her vast resources, obviously was to be the key nation in the council.

The Kremlin held the door open to other nations. The announcement said, "other countries of Europe that share the principles of the council and wish to participate in broad economic cooperation with the aforementioned countries," may join.

THAT MOSCOW was considering the Marshall plan when its six-nation council was formed was evident in a Russian charge that the ERP interfered with the sovereignty of nations, and that the U. S., Britain, and "certain other countries of western Europe" were boycotting the six nations in trade.

The Russian action may prove to be the vital error in the Soviets' program of expansion. If the system fails to function, it will serve only to spotlight the efficacy of the Marshall plan and the superiority of the western nations in equipment and ability to keep European commitments.

HURRY-UP MEASURE

Priority Ordered for Rent Curb Bill

Speed was of the essence. Rent controls had to be safeguarded swiftly. So, into the senate hopper fell an administration bill calling for broader and tougher rent controls for another two years. The bill, authored by Senator Maybank, (D., S.C.) and, in the house by Representative Spence (D., Ky.) would continue controls through March 31, 1951, and would

New Leader

Li Tsing-jen, China's nationalist vice-president was holding the reins of organized government following Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's departure from Nanking to clear the way for a Communist-directed peace.

PEACE DOVE: Hovers in East

Hovering wings of the dove of peace were becoming faintly audible in the Holy Land dispute.

Israel and Egypt signed a permanent cease-fire order and armistice talks were still going on after recent difficulties.

THERE WERE even more significant developments looking toward final peace in the long controversy stemming from the partition of the Holy Land to make the area available as a place of settlement and nationalization of Jews.

Great Britain had capitulated, and with the British lion on its side, the new nation of Israel held the two most powerful nations in the world committed to its support.

Other nations were falling in line to recognize the Jewish state. Indications were that with the trend apparently fully in motion, Arab opponents to the Israeli state would soon be standing completely alone in their opposition.

SHOULD THAT condition eventuate, Israeli seemingly would have nothing to fear, inasmuch as its armies already have proven a match for Arab forces.

Bible students and others religiously inclined would be quick to see in the developments the beginning of fulfillment of the old prophecy that the Holy Land would one day be returned to the Jews, that they would one day become a nation again, with their own flag, their own land, their own government.

SURPLUSES: Curbs Are Sought

Fearful of large surpluses of wheat and cotton, the government was studying moves to prevent this contingency.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan outlined to a senate agriculture committee plans to hold down this year's cotton and wheat crops.

Brannan's plan called for serving notice on wheat and cotton farmers that the 1949 crops they plant will not be considered part of their average production in figuring any future acreage allotments. This means growers could plant fewer acres without being penalized later by proportionate acreage curbs on their crops.

Under present law, if acreage controls are renewed, the average acreage planted by a farmer in the five previous years is the amount he is entitled to plant.

Many officials felt that might induce many farmers to plant as much as they can in order to have the maximum possible acreage when and if controls are clamped on.

Brannan's plan, assuring the farmer of no restrictive penalties through curtailment of acreage, was seen as a possible curb on any excessive planting.

About as large a winter wheat crop as possible already has been planted and a committee member declared cotton farmers are preparing to plant an "extra large crop" to get benefit of present high support prices.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D., Okla.) of the committee which heard Brannan, said legislation to back up Brannan's proposal would be offered in congress.

BIBLE SPEAKS. International Union Sunday School Lessons. By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN.

SCRIPTURE: Mark 2:1-3:6. DEVOTIONAL READING: Luke 11:37-46.

Inevitable Critics

Lesson for February 13, 1949

ONCE UPON a time, so the old story goes, there was a chameleon, a lizard that can change its color to match whatever it stands on. They put him on a black cloth and he turned black; on a red tablecloth and he turned red; on a green billiard table and he turned green. Then some mean person set him down on a Christmas necktie and the poor little thing exploded. This is a parable of the person who tries to please everybody. It can't be done—and it ought not to be tried.

Dr. Foreman

Jesus Christ himself did not please every one. Not even a perfect personality can be 100 per cent popular. Not that Jesus enjoyed rubbing people the wrong way. There was nothing perverse about him. He was deeply, sincerely friendly, and to lose any friendships must have been more painful for him than for us who are so selfish. Nevertheless he did make enemies, he had his critics; and his followers may expect no better.

Misunderstanding Motives

ONE POINT on which Jesus met terrific opposition was his attitude toward the Sabbath. Repeatedly he or his disciples would do things on the Sabbath which (as Jews then understood the law) were quite wrong.

It was just that sort of thing that Jesus ran into, more than once. His enemies misunderstood, or at least misrepresented, his motives.

They claimed that he was "blasphemous," that is, that he was deliberately making light of God's law. The truth was that he was acting by God's highest law—the law of love. Helping people in need was more important than keeping the letter of the Sabbath law. Jesus' example may help us here. If our best motives are misunderstood, we have a right to explain ourselves, as Jesus did; but we are not obliged to change our ways to please those who persist in misunderstanding us.

Stepping Out of Bounds

WHEN Jesus healed the man with the palsy, it was not the cure his critics found fault with, it was his first saying "Your sins are forgiven." "Who can forgive sins but God alone?" they said. In short, the Pharisees thought—some of them perhaps sincerely—that Jesus was stepping out of bounds, pretending to do something that he had no right to attempt and no power to accomplish.

Now Jesus did have both the right and the power to say what he said to that sick and sinful man. And he made no apologies for going beyond the limits his critics set for him.

So we too may sometimes be accused of "biting off too much," of going beyond our powers or capacities. Our critics may be right, you know, though Jesus' critics never were. But how often they are wrong! If Lincoln had listened to his critics he never would have left his backwoods law office; they did not think him fit to be president. If the Wright boys had listened to their neighbors, they never would have flown an airplane, for who would have thought a couple of bicycle mechanics could do what so many scientists said was impossible.

Are you sure you are right? Then go ahead, in God's name!

The Company You Keep. JESUS' friends got him into trouble, as Mark shows us. For one thing, some were the "wrong sort" like Matthew the tax-collector. Then his friends had an unconventional kind of religion, they actually seemed happy about it instead of gloomy like some of John's disciples. And to make matters worse, his friends "broke" the Sabbath laws much as Jesus did. All in all, Jesus' critics complained that Jesus' friends were a bad lot, and they judged him by the company he kept. But Jesus knew his friends better than his enemies did.

He never gave up or loosened a single friendship on his critics' account. Some of his friends gave him up, but he never gave them up.

Household Hints

In ironing cotton sheets and pillowcases, use warm water for sprinkling because it penetrates the fabric more quickly than cold water.

Do not use too hot an iron or use too much pressure when ironing the folds of sheets. This results in weakness at the line of the folds and finally causes cracking of the sheet along these lines.

In removing stains from sheets and pillowcases, special methods should be used for the various types of stains. Lipstick usually comes out when bleached in hot, sudsy water. If it refuses to come out, the stained part should be bleached with hydrogen peroxide or Javelle water. If breakfast-in-bedders have spilled coffee or chocolate, the spots will usually wash out in hot sudsy water. To remove fruit stains, pour boiling water through the stain. If it is stubborn, bleach with hydrogen peroxide or Javelle water. To remove iron rust, apply a solution of oxalic acid and rinse thoroughly.

It is not necessary to iron Turkish towels. Ironing may mat the loops and make the towel less absorbent.

To make fudge squares uniform in size, pour the fudge in ice cube trays which have been greased with margarine. The fudge hardens quickly and each piece is uniform.

New towels should be laundered before use for better absorbency and sanitation.

Household Hints

In ironing cotton sheets and pillowcases, use warm water for sprinkling because it penetrates the fabric more quickly than cold water.

Do not use too hot an iron or use too much pressure when ironing the folds of sheets. This results in weakness at the line of the folds and finally causes cracking of the sheet along these lines.

In removing stains from sheets and pillowcases, special methods should be used for the various types of stains. Lipstick usually comes out when bleached in hot, sudsy water. If it refuses to come out, the stained part should be bleached with hydrogen peroxide or Javelle water. If breakfast-in-bedders have spilled coffee or chocolate, the spots will usually wash out in hot sudsy water. To remove fruit stains, pour boiling water through the stain. If it is stubborn, bleach with hydrogen peroxide or Javelle water. To remove iron rust, apply a solution of oxalic acid and rinse thoroughly.

It is not necessary to iron Turkish towels. Ironing may mat the loops and make the towel less absorbent.

To make fudge squares uniform in size, pour the fudge in ice cube trays which have been greased with margarine. The fudge hardens quickly and each piece is uniform.

New towels should be laundered before use for better absorbency and sanitation.

This Home-Mixed Cough Syrup Is Most Effective

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. Or use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Then get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It makes a real saving because it gives you about four times as much for your money. Never spoils. Tastes fine. This is actually a surprisingly effective, quick-acting cough relief. Swiftly, you feel it taking hold. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen anything better for quick and pleasing results. Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way. Scruggs-Haley Service Is Read

An impressive double ring ceremony was read January 21 to unite Miss Mary Jo Haley and Raymond Scruggs.

The rites were read at the home of the officiant, Harry Hemmery, minister of the Highland Heights Christian Church in Wichita Falls, in the presence of close relatives.

Medical Prices Will Increase

Shortages always raises prices The Texas Medical Association, by restricting enrollment in Texas medical schools to barely enough to replace deaths and retirement has cut down our supply of doctors, especially in our rural areas, thereby causing a shortage and higher fees for service, while 3,000 pre-med students find the gates barred against them.

The same medical association now plans to get control of the supply of all competitive healing professions, so they can cut off replacements in these healing professions and make the shortage even more acute and thus raise the prices higher than today.

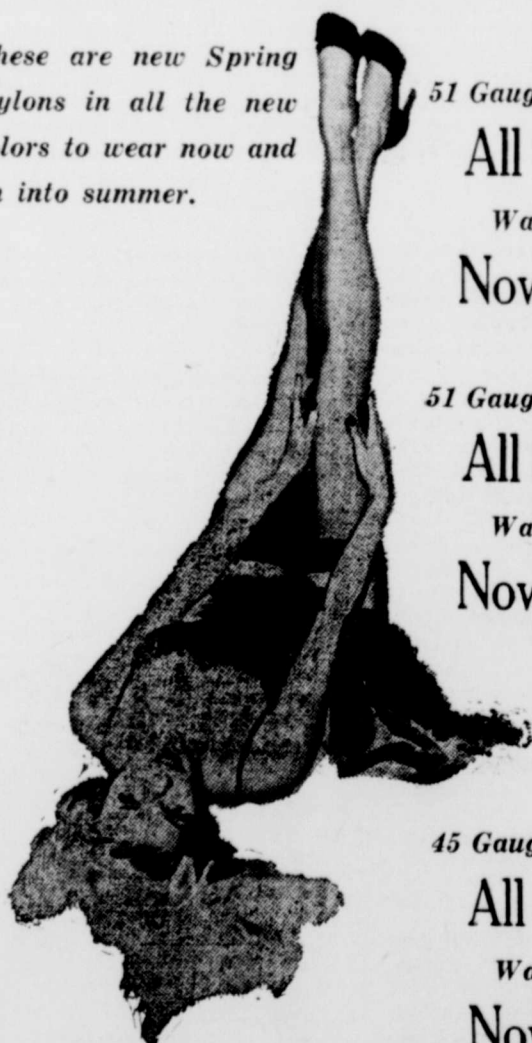

The Basic Science Bill S. B. 63 is designed to give the Medical Association complete control of all branches of the healing arts and it is being pushed by unlimited funds and a high-priced lobby. If we, the people, do not write, phone or visit our senators and representatives, we will have this infamous legislation forced upon us.

This is a call for action. If you want to know the names of your legislators, phone this newspaper. Address letters to them at Capitol Station, Austin. Stop that Basic Science bill. Write, wire or phone today.

Mounted Dancers Get Big Ovation At Fort Worth

of the best advertising Burkburnett's way was lived when the Mounted Dancers Performed for at the Fort Worth Fat
ow and Exposition Jan.
6th. From all accounts riders received the plause of any feature
ow. They showed before om every state in the and several people from ions.

far as could be learned, not a person left the coliseum until the Burk group put on their show and cleared the arena.
Since most of the riders depend upon their jobs for a livi-hood, it was quite a sacrifice to take off for more than a week to appear in the show. Their love of riding, and their love and devotion to their home town is about all they receive from boosting Burkburnett by their appearances. True, they were paid for the Fort Worth show, but that barely met expenses of keeping the horses and eating.
More people learned of Burk-burnett during the Fort Worth show than any other single instance since the oil boom many years ago.
Dow Estes, best caller in the nation, accounts for a good portion of the Burk Dancers' popularity. His smiling personality plus his knowledge of square dancing and how it can be executed on horseback, does much to keep the group in perfect time in the arena. Dow, tax-assessor-collector and school bus driver, probably made the greatest single sacrifice to appear at Fort Worth. Without him the group would be decidedly handicapped.

Those who made up the Burk delegation are: Newt and Frances Crane; C. A. Morgan and Frances Faye Sparks; Ellis and Joella Gragg; Brack Preston and Mignon Durrett; Hugh Preston and Beth Brookshear; Aubrey and Dixie Rankin; Wendell Goins and Jean Wyatt; Doc Goins and Louise Benering; Arthur Jenkins and Georgia Sullivan, flag bearers; Chas. (Chuck) Goins, utility rider, and Dow Estes, caller.

THE HOME TOWN REPORTER
IN WASHINGTON
WALTER SHEAD, WNU Correspondent

Appraisal of Truman

IN APRIL of 1945 your Home Town Reporter attended the first press conference given by Harry Truman as President of the United States. Probably more reporters were packed into the oval room at the White House at that press conference than ever before. We wrote, as a result of that conference, our appraisal of the man and said, "you may be assured that the country is in safe hands," that "Harry S. Truman is a humble man, God-fearing, knowing his capabilities," "Oftimes," we wrote, "the responsibilities of the office of President itself brings out unknown qualities of leadership and statesmanship in a man elected to that office."

A year later, in May of 1946, we attempted to give you our impression of the President after his first year in office. We had watched him battle against almost insurmountable odds. That column said—"This reporter believes that in the year the President has been in the White House he has grown—grown as any average American man would have grown. He has built up no halos, no traditions, no myths, no superman, he remains an average American who is growing up to his job."

Today, four years later, we look back upon our first impression of the President with satisfaction. We believe the country is still in safe hands, that the President is still a humble man, and that the office has brought out those hidden qualities of leadership and statesmanship which the entire nation recognized during his epoch-making presidential campaign this last fall. We believe he is still growing in stature, growing up to his job.

While the President may or may not have proved to business that it has nothing to fear from his administration if it will keep in step with 1949 instead of 1929, his state of the union message proved beyond doubt that the President had lost nothing of his "liberal democracy," that he still felt in his "fair deal" he must carry out the pledge he made to the people in his very first message to congress back in 1945 when he said, "The forward looking people of America may be assured there will be no relaxation in our efforts to improve the lot of the common people."

The voice was snarling and loud. I held the phone receiver away from my ear as the tirade poured out: "Yes, sure, they'll ask for postal increases if for no other reason than to punish those newspapers who opposed the dirty dog that was selected here. This administration will penalize everybody and maybe they ought to. I would like to see about 10 to 20 million of them penalized. I'd like to see that many walking the streets, penniless and hungry. Sure I mean it. The people are not honest. They don't know what's good for 'em. They can't govern themselves. I ought to vote to give 'em everything this guy wants and then vote against all the appropriations. The people are not interested in anything you try to do right."

That, folks, came from a congressman who got enough votes to be re-elected, and he also publishes a newspaper. Insofar as this reporter is concerned, he doesn't deserve to be either a congressman or a newspaper publisher.

One gentleman in the senate, an able one too, is pretty quiet these days. He hasn't much to say and says that quietly. He is Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas. Remember? He called upon President Truman to resign to make way for a real democrat so the party could be saved.

Seeking An Issue

Swashbuckling, bumbling Sen. Homer E. Capehart of Indiana is casting about for an issue. He stacked the "jury" in his committee on investigation of the basing point ruling of the interstate commerce commission and the subsequent affirmative decision by the supreme court. So his investigation by the senate small business committee amounted to little or nothing. Now he says that because the democrats increased the ratio of democrats to GOP on the senate foreign relations committee, bipartisan foreign policy is dead.

Another Lobbyist

Former Sen. John A. Danaher of Connecticut has resigned his position as director of the Republican senatorial campaign and has again registered as a lobbyist for Revere Copper & Brass, Inc. Arthur R. Barnett also has resigned his position with the GOP national committee to re-affiliate as a lobbyist for the National Association of Electric Companies.

Opening a gate valve to tie in a new pipe line.

6 GOES INTO 18 Hundreds OF TIMES

Yes, in hundreds of locations on the United Gas system, pipe lines of two to twelve inches in diameter have been "tied in" to main transmission lines measuring from eight to 24 inches in diameter. Some of the smaller lines bring additional gas to the system, adding new sources of supply for our customers. Some take gas out of the system, which means dependable natural gas service is provided for still more homes and factories. In many instances, it is necessary to make the connection without interrupting the flow of gas through the main line, a process pipeliners call "hot tapping." This is one of many functions of the United Gas organization... all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued dependable supply of natural gas to our customers.

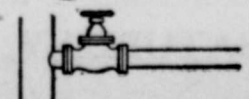

Cutting a hole from two to twelve inches in diameter in a pipe full of high pressure natural gas is "touchy" business.

A short stub of pipe is welded to the side of the line before the hole is cut. To the stub is connected a gate valve and a machine that extends a long-shafted bit through the gate valve to the side of the line to be entered.

The bit cuts a circular section from the larger pipe and removes the section through the gate valve.

After the valve is closed, the "tapping" machine is removed, the new smaller line is flanged up to the valve, and the line is ready for service.
