By MRS. E. E. CLACK
Burkburnett members of the High School 4-H Club are making final plans to enter the annual dressmaking revue scheduled for May 7th at Reagan Junior High School in Wichita Falls. The county-wide contest is the second annual event open to 4-H Club Girls who have selected clothing as their individual project.

Each entrant is to submit a garment she has made herself. After the garment is graded upon construction, the 4-H girl will model the dress in the Revue. Scoring in the dress revue will be done on a basis of suitability of the material and pattern to the girl and to the use for which it is planned. In addition, each 4-H girl is graded upon her choice of accessories and her own poise in modeling her ensemble.

Winners in the junior and senior divisions will receive appropriate prizes along with their blue and red ribbons. The 4-H girl with the highest score receives an all-expense trip to Texas A. & M. College and a chance to compete in the State dress revue.

Judges for the contest are Miss Ann Blakeney, instructor in Home Economics at Hardin College; Mrs. Pearl Coffman, home demonstration agent in Archer County; and Miss Rita Nell Baldwin, Home Economics major in Hardin College. Miss Baldwin of Wilbarger County is the 1948 winner of the State 4-H Girls records contest and a trip to the National 4-H Camp in Washington, D. C. In addition, she attended the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago last year.

The Burk Burnett High School 4-H Girls Club meets twice each month with Mrs. Vee J. Howle, assistant home demonstration agent of Wichita County. Mrs. Howle holds her degree in Home Economics from Texas Technological College.

Working closely with Mrs. Howle in planning for the dress revue entries from Burk Burnett are the local club officers, Anita Wolfe, president, and Mary Jean Henderson, secretary.

Value of rains which have fallen here since Sunday afternoon is hard to estimate. Farmers have been saying we needed rain right now to fill out wheat and now they have it.

Prospects of a bumper crop in this area are very evident. Some say wheat looks better now than any previous year.

This week some fellows were down from Kansas and they are very optimistic about the local outlook.

White Elephant Sale Going At Corner Drug Store

One of the biggest White Elephant sales ever staged in Burk Burnett is being thrown at the Corner Drug Store Thursday, April 28th.

From their page ad on the second page of this week's Star one might think that bunch at the Corner Drug has gone flat dab goofy trying to give away hundreds of articles. A check with Geo. McClarty assures us Clark Gresham was not entirely off the beam when he wrote that ad. Thursday morning he was up and about, still able to recognize friends he has known for 25 years, and to all appearances is rational at times.

Original selling price of some items is entirely forgotten. Geo. says all they want out of the stuff is just a little storage to help pay the insurance.

Read their ad, and no doubt you will find many, many things you will want to own worse than the Corner Drug does.

The items being offered are all first class merchandise. It has just been in stock too long and they intend to move it one way or another.

They had a very enjoyable and interesting trip visiting the Alamo in San Antonio, San Jacinto in Houston and points of interest in Beaumont and Orange, while in South Texas. They report fishing was fine in Lake Charles, La., and although a little late in the season, the famous 17 mile Azalea Trail was still beautiful. They agree though, that home is the best yet.

Chest Specialist To Speak Friday In Wichita Falls

Dr. Elliott Mendenhall of Dallas, noted chest specialist and president of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, is to be guest speaker for the Wichita County Tuberculosis Association on Friday evening at 7:30 on April 29th. Miss Margaret Hall, executive secretary, expressed the hope that a representative crowd from Burk Burnett will attend the meeting. Miss Hall pointed out that Dr. Mendenhall's "vast information on the subject will appeal not only to doctors and nurses, both registered and practical, but also to educational groups, civic and service clubs and to individuals who are interested in preventing the spread of this "catching" disease that is older than the history of man." How We Licked The Parking Problem

For a while it looked like we'd have to put up parking meters. Folks working in town—including some of the store owners—were taking up all of the space along Main Street.

Farmers coming in to shop never found a place to park, and sometimes had to lug stuff a half mile or so. Some started to do their buying in other towns. Finally, store owners and farmers had a get-together—with the result that the empty field near the depot was fixed up for all-day parkers.

Now farmers get their shopping done comfortably, and the merchants have a better place to park than they had before. Just took a little friendly co-operation to make everybody happy.

From where I sit, most differences can be ironed out by just talking things over—maybe with a cup of coffee or glass of beer—and seeing the other person's side of it. Next time you have a problem or a little difference to settle, why not try just that?

Mrs. R. A. Lincoln Will Review Best Seller Book

Mrs. R. A. Lincoln will review "The Big Fisherman", by Lloyd C. Douglas, at the Central Christian Church, Thursday night, May 5th at 8 o'clock.

This is a novel of the time of Christ and of the life of Peter. Bits of a love story are noted, but it gives the life of Christ in His every day living. Mr. Douglas is claimed by many to be the best living author. He has gained more popularity in the Big Fisherman, than any of his previous writings, including The Robe, which reached its 8th printing two months ago. According to the New York Times, The Big Fisherman has been a best seller since last fall.

Mrs. Lincoln studied the novel and book reviewing with the late Mrs. J. C. Burney of Wichita Falls. We know Mrs. Lincoln's ability as a book reviewing artist. She has appeared before the Standard and 22 Clubs in Wichita Falls, and many are welcoming this opportunity to hear her review this great book.

The public is cordially invited and urged to attend this review. There are no tickets being sold, but a free will offering will be taken.

Employment Commission Helps Workers

Workers in 1949. "Other states," Purcell said, will also look to Texas for a greater number of workers to harvest crops. With this thought in mind, it would be well for farmers in the Wichita Falls area to review their labor needs for one of Texas' greatest agricultural years. Farmers should make their needs for workers known to the TEC far enough in advance so that sufficient labor will be available when the harvest season rolls around," he said.

According to Purcell, most of the farm areas in Texas have peak seasonal periods when there are more jobs than there are local workers. He added that a comparatively small portion of the state has enough labor on a year-around basis and that the situation has existed for years. As a result, large numbers of farm workers annually migrate from their home communities to other areas to help harvest the crops.

One of the most important jobs the TEC's Farm Placement Service, is the direction of these migratory workers. They must be distributed over the state to meet the need of farmers without creating a surplus in one place with its resultant shortage in others, the TEC's office manager said. He repeated that now is the time for wheat farmers to take stock of their farm needs for this spring and summer work and inform his farm labor office located at 723 Tenth St., Wichita Falls.

Farmers needing combines should advise the TEC office of the size, and type (self propelled or drag type) machine. If they expect to follow the wheat harvest to other sections of the state, or to other states, they should advise the TEC office in order that they will be placed on a machine list to be kept posted as to needs for combines in other sections of the wheat growing belt.

"Please send another bottle of Liquid Garlic, also send a bottle to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Hulda C. Dutton, 45 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Mass.

"I have some good reports to make on the effectiveness of garlic used. Mr. Turner, Texaco dealer here, has taken two bottles and is much better; his blood pressure down about 60 points. Mrs. W. F. Nelson, San Benito, who was in bad shape, is also very much better and her blood pressure down considerable. This garlic works, and you are doing a fine job of producing it for the benefit of those suffering from high blood pressure or heart trouble."

Garlic Extract Bottled In (Bond?) Mineral Wells

Mineral Wells can boast of the only plant in the country that makes a liquid garlic extract for medicinal purposes, by a cold process, and which retains all the elements contained in the original garlic bulb. This is the Texas Liquid Garlic Company, located at Camp Wolters, adjacent to Mineral Wells, and operated by Owain Roberts.

Mr. Roberts' father, W. S. Roberts, bottled garlic in the East and sold it throughout trade channels prior to coming to Mineral Wells—and has had some ten years experience in the garlic business.

Garlic strongly stimulates the appetite and acid secretion of the gastric juices and so prevents flatulency or gas formation. This vegetable also promotes peristaltic action and so tends to relieve inflammatory conditions of the intestines and also cramps. Garlic is frequently recommended for the eradication of intestinal parasites and recently has been prescribed by some doctors for cholera.

Besides this, garlic has a beneficial effect upon mucous membranes, especially in the upper air passages of the lungs, nose and throat and is, therefore, prescribed for singers and speakers.

Many physicians are said to have used it with good results in cases of pulmonary consumption. Garlic has a diuretic action.

"IT'S ABOUT TIME! I'VE BEEN WEARING
THIS 62 YEARS"

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Arranging subjects naturally makes for pleasing pictures when you take snaps of small groups.

Group Subjects Naturally

NEW camera subjects are more popular than groups of relatives and friends. Yet I know few which seem to give the casual snapshotter greater trouble.

Seemingly even wise picture-takers, who rarely fail to make good snaps of single people, fail to make interesting, well-composed pictures when confronted with a group shot. Too often they fall back on the old business of lining their subjects up in a row, facing the camera.

Actually, group pictures can be as interesting as any individual shots when they are skillfully done. But you must start by grouping your subjects naturally. People just don't stand shoulder to shoulder, backed against a wall, unless facing a firing squad!

Today's picture is a good example of a simple means of injecting life into a shot of three people. You'll notice that two of the group are standing and one sitting, that the heads of the three subjects do not make a straight line, that two of the subjects are close together, the third a little bit removed. All these things tend to keep the picture from becoming monotonous.

Another trick that adds to this shot's effectiveness is that the group is concentrating its attention in one direction. This gives the picture unity. And, with the spacing of the subject, it helps establish a major center of interest.

Above all, such a grouping is natural and not forced in any way. And with a little forethought it's easy to obtain natural groupings. The same three people, for example, might be seated on a flight of steps. One on one step and two on a step below, looking up at the other who might be saying something to them.

Incidentally, you'll find that one of the surest ways to better your group snaps is to have someone either talking or showing something to other members of the group. This gives the picture interest which it lacks when every subject faces the camera—interest every picture needs to be effective.

DAIRYMEN YOU CAN USE DDT

The Federal Security Agency and the Department of Agriculture issued the following statement on April 5, 1949 after a meeting of the principal government agencies concerned with the utilization of DDT in the national and international health and economy.

"A number of statements have been published during the last several days which have misled and alarmed the public concerning the hazard of DDT as an insecticide. . . . The Food and Drug Administration HAS NOT prohibited the use of DDT in spraying dairy cattle and barns. . . . There is no justification for public alarm as to the safety of the milk supply from the standpoint of contamination."

New K-F "Traveler" Is Two Cars In One

SOMETHING NEW in the automobile industry is the "Traveler," a lower-priced '49 multi-purpose sedan being introduced by Kaiser-Frazer dealers. To all appearances it is a conventional four-door model. But the rear seat cushions fold away and the entire back opens to provide access to more than 130 cubic feet of cargo space. When not in use as a carry-all, the "Traveler" is a deluxe, six-passenger family sedan. The cutaway-view shows how the seat cushions and hinged rear panels function.

MEMO To Mrs. Housewife
NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING WASHINGTON, D. C.
By Anne Goode

First things first, and we think that right now is the time to write your representatives in Washington, urging them to vote for repeal of discriminatory margarine legislation. And if your state prohibits yellow margarine, contact your state legislators and ask them to do something about those taxes, too.

Before handling fish, rub your hands well with salt which helps to remove odors more easily. . . . That goes for onions, too.

Here's a leftover dish that steps into company class: spread well seasoned mashed potatoes with a mixture of real mayonnaise and finely diced green pepper and onion. Top with grated cheese and bake in the oven till potatoes are heated through and cheese is melted. So tasty!

Use a small magnet to pick up stray pins and needles in your sewing basket. Prevents pricked fingers.

Pick-up your basic black dress with accessories in the Springtime mood. Bright bunches of flowers and matching gloves give a lovely lift. Or a fetching scarf lends dash. . . . No need to mention what a hat does for the ego.

Speaking of Spring, new kitchen aprons are a sign of change of seasons. And did you know that old bed sheets can be converted into the most pert little numbers? Just dye them with all-purpose dye and trim with buttons or bows and you can have several for the price of a few packages of dye.

Sylvester Says:

"Do you believe I'm Santa Claus?"
I'd like to deliver this house to you at low cost, but—

About $2500. of this $10,000. house is tax costs. Since 1939 about $1,250. in taxes have been added to the cost of this house."

Senator Byrd of Virginia suggests some places to cut government costs that will save you some money.

Salaries for Federal employees—now 7 billion dollars; grants in aid 2½ billion dollars; in public works underway or proposed—30 billion dollars; yearly interest on trust fund reserves—1 billion dollars.

Meaningless, isn't it, except that it's your money that's being spent, and it's your living costs that are going up.

Oh yes, if all low-income families are housed in public units under present social planner recommendations, it will cost an additional 150-200 billion dollars.

Do you still believe in Santa Claus?

OUR DEMOCRACY by Mat

AMERICANS ALL...

MARCH 29, 1635, THE FIRST SWEDISH SETTLEMENT IN AMERICA WAS ESTABLISHED ON THE BANKS OF THE DELAWARE RIVER.

THE YEARS THAT FOLLOWED, AS MORE SETTLERS ARRIVED FROM SCANDINAVIAN COUNTRIES, THEY MOVED INTO THE NORTHERN PLAINS, WITHIN THE BITTER WINTERS AND HARDSHIPS THAT TURNED BACK THE HEARTY MEN—DEVELOPING, THROUGH TOIL AND PERSEVERANCE, ONE OF OUR MOST PRODUCTIVE AND VALUABLE FARMING COUNTRY. FROM OUR EARLIEST DAYS, AMERICA'S GROWTH AND PROGRESS HAS BEEN ADVANCED BY MEN AND WOMEN FROM OTHER NATIONS—LIKE THE SCANDINAVIANS—HAVE COME HERE IN SEARCH OF LIBERTY AND OPPORTUNITY... AND STAYED TO MAKE THEIR OWN INDIVIDUAL CONTRIBUTION TO THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

LOOKING AHEAD

Worker's Dilemma

Whether to ask for another raise in 1949 is a question now vexing our unions. Shall they go on through the year without asking for another raise? Some unions are saying it will be bad business for the nation's workers to insist on another round of increases. Others, recalling that raises have been obtained three years in a row, insist that labor keep it up and demand another raise.

How's the way to answer this $64 question, so that the American workman may have the $64—and much more? Because it makes sense that any sound gain made by American workers will be a gain for the entire nation, I favor whatever will have the greatest long range benefit for American workers.

Consider the Facts
People who have their facts straight know that any substantial rise in wages must be followed by a jump in prices. This is elementary fact-and-figure economics. If we could have another wage boost with the rise in prices it would bring—and the nation would keep on buying—that would be one thing. But there are strong indications that won't work again.

Pipelines of supply to consumers are beginning to fill up. The public is refusing to buy as it has for five years. Consumers are getting more price conscious. Many manufacturers are even now finding it hard to market what they produce. Some are already compelled either to decrease hours of operation or lay off workers.

Danger Signal
If a wage boost now would result in more unemployment and lower wages in the long run, would labor unions demand the increase? No, they would not. Yet that is exactly what would happen, if we should crowd the entire economy toward a depression. There are certain serious danger signals.

Here is a sample. On January 29 a Cleveland utility company awarded a contract for two generators to a Swiss firm. They cost $1,140,000 which was nearly $500,000 less than bids of three American firms. The Cleveland company had to accept the foreign bid, despite protests by American companies and by American workers.

The Safe Way
Now that Europe is beginning to get into the market, it will be seen that America has no monopoly on manufactured goods in the world markets. Competition there is just beginning, and it will get tough aplenty. Wage increases that push up prices, besides making more trouble just now in the home markets, would make it hard for America to compete in foreign markets. Foreign production will also continue to invade our home markets.

Since living costs are already definitely going down, and since a wage increase would be very bad for the industries we work for, and would endanger our jobs, I'd say let it go by. If we can keep present wage levels, and let prices come down, that will mean a real raise for everybody. That way, not only union members, but everybody will have their standard of living raised a full notch.

The Strangest Story Ever Told

Herbert Hoover was at one time President of the United States. He had just about as much trouble as other Presidents. In private life he has paid little attention to politics.

When Congress asked him to make an examination into top affairs of the Government of the United States he came back, and arose to new heights. Believe it or not, Hoover and his committee made an exhaustive study to find out what is wrong with the American Government. They reported that the Government is being run on a very extravagant and wasteful method and we are spending billions of dollars to carry on Military, Naval and Air Force Programs. The whole Administration and Congress in Washington agrees with Hoover.

It is the first time since he was defeated for reelection that Herbert Hoover has been acclaimed.

A Threat to Family Newspapers

There are bills pending in the House and Senate of the United States, which if enacted into laws, would hit the publishers of Family Weekly and Daily Newspapers in communities of from 3,000 to 5,000 population, below the belt.

Congressman Russell V. Mack of the State of Washington has gone to bat for the publishers of Family Newspapers. He has taken up the question of price boosts of publishers' postage rates with the Post Office Department and he says that the rates that have been asked for in the bills before Congress are a serious threat to publishers.

The present rate of newspaper postage for city delivery within a county is 1 cent per pound. The proposed rate is 4 cents per pound. Rural delivery within the county is free. The proposed rate is 1 cent.

These figures indicate that the proposed rates would add up to a boost of 500 per cent and probably 700 per cent.

In the opinion of Congressman Mack more increases of rates on editions of newspapers carrying a profitable amount of advertising could give postal authorities the power to revoke the second class mail rate to publishers.

The statement made in the House of Representatives in protest of this threat to Weekly Newspapers prompted Congressman Mack to notify the publishers of Washington State just what they are up against. He says that the high cost of reading would be as disastrous as the high cost of living.

Our publishers everywhere are up against a real proposition that the lawmaker declares "would weaken the 10,500 Weekly Newspapers of our country and bring financial difficulties to most of them."

Why not write to Congressman Mack and back him up?

K-F Sedan Has Features of 4-Door & Station Wagon

New Six-Passenger Model Looks Like Conventional Auto. But Is Leads a Double Life As Station Wagon

Kaiser-Frazer Corp. is introducing a new lower-priced six-passenger automobile which combines the carry-all features of a station wagon with the comforts and appearance of a deluxe four-door sedan.

Identified as the Traveler, the model is one of two 1949 Kaiser "utility" models designed for the one car family which needs supplemental transportation for business or recreational use.

Priced well below standard sized station wagons and most conventional sedans in the 123 1/2 inch wheelbase class, the Traveler retails at the factory for $2,088. The Vagabond, a luxury companion model styled for the "estate wagon" field, is scheduled for production later in the spring. The multi-purpose adaptability of the utility models is gained from two major functional design features without sacrifice of six-passenger comfort and four-door sedan styling.

One feature is an improved collapsible seat arrangement which allows the rear passenger cushions to be folded away in 10 seconds to convert the car for cargo handling.

The other feature, new to the auto industry, is the design of the rear of the car. Instead of the single trunk lid of conventional sedans, the Traveler has two large hinged panels which enable the owner to open the entire back of the sedan from floor to roof.

The lower section drops downward to provide a tailgate. The second panel, which includes the bi-rod rear window, is hinged from the roof and opens upward. With both panels open and seat cushions folded, a spacious cargo area of 130 cubic ft. is accessible for easy loading.

George Byerly left Friday afternoon for Port Arthur, Texas, to be with his father who is ill.

Sylvester Says:

"Here's one key to low-cost housing—but who wants to use it?"
 Even the house in front of the backhouse can be easily prefabricated, if you care for outdoor plumbing. But you can't produce a lot, a foundation 6' deep, underground plumbing and water connections to the street; a paved street or a sidewalk, in a factory. In fact, you can't even factory-build the hole under the backhouse.
 The modern, ordinary comforts, conveniences and land—the essential nature of any American home — account for about 1/2 of the cost of the house even though more and larger parts of the house are being factory fabricated and shipped.
 Americans are no longer satisfied with 4 rooms and a bath. That's why we have the highest standard of living in the world for the average citizen. In fact, 9 out of 10 of the world's bathrooms are in American homes, according to latest compiled international figures.

Socialism and Taxes
 Can high taxes take us down the road to socialism? Yes, a whole lot farther than most people think. Top economists are pointing right now to danger signs that affect you and your job. With taxes having long ago neared the "breaking point," it is just possible that unwise legislation for more spending and more taxes could upset the nation.

The plight our nation is in right now, because of a tax load that requires more than a quarter of every dollar of national income, was apparent in the President's recent message. Mr. Truman stressed the need for high steel production and for expanded facilities. (Steel output is hitting new all-time peaks—even better than war-time highs.) It would be the part of the federal government to build plants and produce steel, if private industry did not, Mr. Truman said. For this, who would put up the capital?

Contradiction?
 Obviously, you would. By paying taxes. When government goes into business, the effect is to spend money, not make it. That has been proved too many times. But on the face of it, Mr. Truman's proposition—that the government get into the steel business—is nothing more nor less than socialism pure and simple. Continuing, Mr. Truman said there must be $4 billion in new taxes, mostly from corporations. The contradiction of it all makes food for serious thought.

With one breath the government thus orders business to "plan for steady, vigorous expansion," and with the next proposes taxing policies that will make it impossible for industry to have funds for expansion. Despite already high taxes that make capital timid, the steel industry has somehow reached enormous production levels. But more taxes remain a dangerous threat. What Congress does about taxes this year may have great influence on the production of the future.

Incentive Destroyer
 Heavy taxes are a certain hindrance to production, and hence to prosperity and national well-being. More than any other one factor, taxes can smother initiative. They destroy incentives to get ahead, to save, and to invest. Taxes take at least half the total income of all persons with incomes of $5,000 a year or more. This group represents only one-tenth of America's families, but it is from this group that the bulk of risk capital must continually flow into new enterprises.

A Plague of Taxes
 That high taxes are now keeping funds away from business enterprise is a sobering fact. Figures will show that in the eight-year period from 1940 through 1947, individuals cut back their holdings of corporate investments by nearly a billion and one-third dollars! Taxes do prevent savings for investment.

Be assured that if the federal budget takes $42 billion from the people, the price of everything from bread to shoestrings will contain its share of that multi-billion dollar figure. That is why government spending must interest you. The more government spends, the more it must collect. And government has nothing, except what it gets from the people. Then when people pay, incentive is in grave danger. The Gargantua that can overthrow America is "Big Government." This destroyer feeds on taxes.
