TODAY'S MOTHERS

A sentimental people, Americans have always been inclined to allow their emotions to influence much of their activity. One of our contributions to sentiment and emotion is the observance of Mothers Day. Here, if not more than in any country, should we exhalt motherhood and pay tribute to the woman's place in the advancement of our nation and the principles for which it stands. There has been a change in the generations of the status of motherhood. Mother moves from the home into the business and professional world. She who assumed a hardy role in the conquering of a wilderness, takes a prominent place in the arts, sciences, letters, politics, industry. No longer the "silent partner", woman has a role in the center of the stage and merits the spotlight. As a majority of the voters, the women may have political power, if they choose to use it. Women own between 60 and 70 per cent of the wealth of the country. Women in offices and factories, make up one-third of the country's labor force. They dominate 80 per cent of our national buying power, have 60 per cent of all savings accounts, inherit 80 per cent of the life insurance policies. Forty per cent of the country's homes are held in women's names.

Through the weakening of the institution of marriage, the-American wife is said to be rapidly losing the security of the position of mother and householder. This is the most important role of woman and the one in which most Burkburnett men admire her. Love and understanding is the essence of motherhood. The sacrificing, struggling, meeting adversities and cross-currents of family life, is as much of a job as any held by women. Mothers Day is a tribute to this role.

O. W. Prechel Is Outstanding Soil Conservationist

Also attending the banquet were Mrs. Prechel and Karen Flo, and J. V. Brookshear.

More Than 1,500 Attended Opening C. H. Parker Store

The newly re-decorated C. H. Parker's Grocery held their formal opening Monday, with approximately 1,500 persons dropping by to view the beautiful store and to convey their best wishes to the manager, Henry Hall and his employees.

Many lovely floral arrangements were noticed throughout the store, sent by friends. A non-carbonated Orange beverage was served all who attended the gala opening.

On hand to greet the guests were such Company officials as Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Parker, Garnet Parker, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lindsey and Mr. and Mrs. John Ebner. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark and employees of Store No. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Oliver and employees of No. 28, Buster Tidwell and employees from No. 27, Duane Hathcock and employees from No. 17. Also on hand were Clarence Newsome and employees from Bowie, and employees from the Electra and Iowa Park stores.

Nothing has been left undone to make this one of the most modernistic of the Parker Stores. New lighting and new floors were noted, as were the different arrangements of the meat counter, shelving and displays to make this store the most convenient of its kind anywhere. It is truly a store Burkburnett can be proud of.

INCREASED CAR PRODUCTION

The Automobile Manufacturers Association reports that passenger car output has stepped up one-third since the beginning of the year. Apparently there is unprecedented strength in the market for new cars for the reason that there are nearly 13 million cars and nearly 2 1-2 million trucks over ten years old that are due to be replaced.

Believe it or not the records show that there are more people than ever before who can afford motor vehicles, and employment is up 20 per cent and the population of the U. S. A. has risen 13 million since 1941. In short, America is riding on-high!

RADIO AS A SUBSTITUTE

Washington D. C. has had a strike which left the Capital without daily newspapers. Can you imagine how John Q. Public and the political masters of the Nation rushed to radios to listen to broadcasts? For four days all agreed that the radio is not a real or satisfactory substitute for newspapers. In fact if you have to go without the newspaper and listen to the radio you'll find that the "substitute" isn't worth your time. The power of the press cannot be substituted by radio commentators. Just put that down as a certainty.

Prof. K. T. Goetze Writes About Storm At Aspermont

Prof. K. T. Goetze, formerly of Burk Burnett but now band master and music director in the Aspermont schools, writes a very interesting and humorous letter describing the recent storm that swept that area.

It seems the Prof. was a little hesitant about seeking the security of a storm cellar, so when he did finally decide to go underground, he found all the doors closed. He says he would try to open a door and the people inside, thinking the wind was tugging at it, would just hold it that much tighter. He never did get into a cellar, but miraculously escaped injury.

On another occasion, the Prof. was giving a recital when the lights went out. When they came back on, the house was empty. Everyone remembered the storm and cleared out.

Mrs. H. S. VanCleave and Oma left Wednesday for Shreveport, La., where they will spend two weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. S. VanCleave. They plan to stop for a few days in Ft. Worth.

Where do we get the money? . . .

During 1948, the Humble Company spent about $138,000,000 to help provide the oil you and other Americans needed in that year of unprecedented demand, and to develop the oil resources which will provide the oil you need not only today, but next year, the year after — 10 or 20 years from now. The 1948 investment by the entire oil industry was approximately 2 billion dollars. That is a lot of money! Where did it come from?

The larger part of it is reinvested profits. In other words, American oil companies have such confidence in the future of their industry in this country that they have plowed their profits back into the business, just as a farmer plows under a good green cover crop.

And for the same reason: the farmer thus assures the continuing fertility of his soil; the oil companies assure the continuing success of their business . . . the security of the jobs of their employees, a continuing supply of oil for your needs, the immediate availability of oil for national emergencies. The major portion of profits made in the oil country stay in the oil country to develop its resources, and to supply a market for its industries. In the last 10 years, over half of all the profits of oil companies have been reinvested in the business.

HUMBLE

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

In 1948, Humble's investment in exploration and production was $110,000,000; investments in refining and research and in marketing, plus Humble Pipe Line Company's investment in pipe lines, amounted to about $28,000,000. All this money came from earnings retained in the business.

NEWS LETTER

Congressman Ed Gossett
Sen. Phillips, Secretary

Washington, D. C., April 30. The House continues to work on the Lesinski bill which repeals the Taft-Hartley Act. This bill and amendments thereto probably will be debated next week. All kinds of amendments are being brought on the floor of the House to make the House vote for the Lesinski bill. The bill is sponsored by the Administration and for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. The President has threatened to withdraw his support from Democratic members who didn't support the bill. It is hoped that members will vote their honest convictions without fear of punishment or hope of reward. When the bill is passed, the House can be bluffing or bluffing will then in peril. Each session of Congress there are introduced approximately 10,000 bills and amendments. It might be interesting to note bills introduced on a typical day. On one day there were introduced the following bills: H. R. 4226, to amend the Civil Service Act to provide coverage for certain legislative employees; H. R. 4227, to provide for national cemeteries in Georgia; H. R. 4228, (Connecticut Valley Authority) to establish a Connecticut Valley Authority to provide for unified water control and resource development on the Connecticut River, its tributaries, and watershed; to prevent floods, encourage agriculture, stimulate industrial expansion, develop lowcost hydroelectric power, promote navigation, increase recreational possibilities, protect wildlife; and for other purposes; H. R. 4229, to amend District of Columbia Alcoholic Beverage Control Act; H. R. 4230, (Federal Aid to Schools), to provide Federal aid to elementary and secondary schools for transportation, library facilities, textbooks, visual aids, recreation facilities, school health programs, etc.; H. R. 4231 to reserve certain land on the public domain in Utah for addition to Goshute Indian Reservation; H. R. 4232, relating to Osage Indians of Oklahoma; H. R. 4233, issuance of stamp commemorating 60th anniversary of American edition of Izack Walton's Compleat Angler; H. R. 4234, to amend the National Service Life Insurance Act of 1940; H. R. 4235, naming veterans' hospital at Fresno, California; H. R. 4236, to promote economic recovery of Blackfeet

Indians and better utilization of resources of Blackfeet Reservation; H. R. 4237, to amend act regulating practice of optometry in District of Columbia; H. R. 4238, regarding unclaimed animals in District of Columbia pound; H. R. 4239, to amend the Federal Airport Act to reduce from 75 per cent to 60 per cent the amount of appropriation available for grants for projects; H. R. 4240, (School Health), to provide for development of school health services for prevention, diagnosis and treatment of physical and mental defects and conditions; H. R. 4241, to authorize Secretary of Army to make allowance in lieu of markers for certain graves; H. R. 4242, to give former owners of certain Government real property a right to purchase such property if and when it is offered for sale; H. R. 4243, to provide annuities for certain remarried widows of certain persons engaged in construction of Panama Canal; H. R. 4244, (School Health), (identical with H. D. 3942); H. R. 4245, (school health) identical with H. R. 3942; H. R. 4246, to raise the limit on individual postal savings accounts to $5,000; H. R. 4247, to amend section 2136 of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to drawback on the exportation of tobacco, snuff, cigars, and cigarettes; H. R. 4248, to permit partially disabled World War II veterans to reenlist in armed forces, including Coast Guard, for limited duty; H. R. 4249, to transfer the trawlers Alaska and Oregon from RFC to Fish and Wildlife Service; H. R. 4250, relating to promotion of World War II veterans in postal field service; H. R. 4251, to amend the Communications Act to allow the FCC to purchase land for radio monitoring stations; H. R. 4252, identical with H. R. 4249; and H. R. 4253, and H. R. 4262, private bills.

This is just an average day's quota of bills. Multiply this by the number of days Congress is in session and you get some idea of the legislative case load with which each member of Congress must struggle.

Integrity and Contracts

One of the qualities in human beings that our civilization today needs so desperately is integrity. What is integrity? The word comes from a Latin term which meant "untouched" or "whole." That's about the way it is today. A man who has integrity is so morally sound that he is not to be touched—in a way that will affect his honesty and uprightness.

Many labor-management disagreements would disappear, if we honestly would undertake to solve them with each side of the conference table keeping its integrity. If each party to an agreement keeps his word—that is integrity. It used to be said of a neighbor I had: "His word is his bond." That's the kind of neighbor this world needs. It will require integrity from each one of us, if this world is to become a better place.

An Example

Let me illustrate—with a labor-management example. Less than a year ago, the General Motors "cost of living" wage agreement with United Automobile Workers was acclaimed as a solution to the frequent wage battles that upset our industrial communities.

Under terms of the contract GM can raise or lower wages according to government statistics. As living costs rise or fall in reports of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the company can adjust wages accordingly. While the formula did not rule out wage increases for other reasons, it was an honest attempt to solve the cost-of-living problem.

Pay Cut Due

Last year under the contract GM employees got a flat 6-cent hourly raise, plus a "cost of living" increase of 3 cents. What are the prospects this year? Employees are in line for an increase not related to living costs, but under the formula will get a pay cut of 2 cents because the Bureau of Labor Statistics index of living costs has gone down. The effect would be to hold wages at about the same levels as last year.

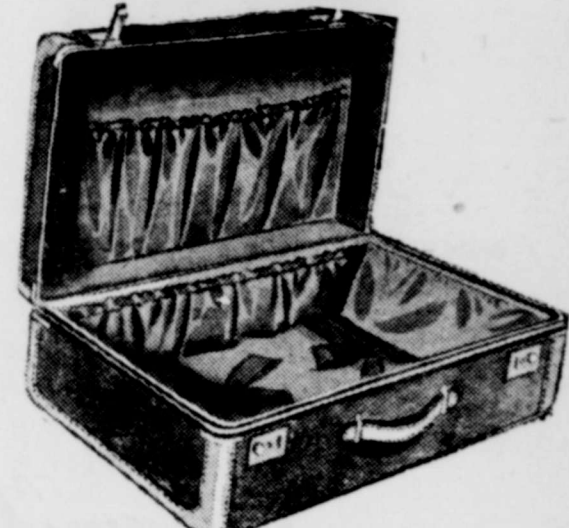

Employees still would have the advantage of the decline in living costs. However, according to a recent Associated Press dispatch, a GM local in Cleveland wants to reopen the contract, which has more than a year to run. This local of 2,500 workers wants UAW headquarters to block the carrying out of the contract. According to the AP story the local's president said that workers' living conditions "ought to be of greater meaning than the sacredness of a contract."

Moral Issues

Moral issues are involved when you talk about breaking contracts. As against a pay increase of two or three cents, a contract should have plenty of sacredness. What is involved is integrity. The contract was made in good faith. It has more than a year to run. If it does not meet the needs of the UAW, the parties will have determined this by the time for expiration. There are few human relationships that have greater meaning than do contracts. The courts of the land expect contracts to be kept. Good neighbors are made by men who keep their word. This applies to groups as well. Good citizenship requires integrity.

New members are being added every Sunday and visitors are coming in large numbers. Our enrollment has reached the highest number on record, 751. The Lord blessed us with 594 in attendance last Sunday. Our teachers believe the Bible, teach this Blessed Book and love it. You'll like our Sunday School. Come this Mother's Day and let's have a great crowd of people studying the Bible together.

10:50 A. M. Mother's Day service. Sermon: "An Unusual Mother." Honor Mother this Sunday and serve the Lord by attending this service. Our services are spiritual and Christ centered.

7:00 P. M. Training Union for all ages. This is our training period for more efficient Christian service.

8:00 P. M. Evening Worship. Sermon: "A Great Woman." A Bible message delivered with compassion and love for the souls of men. We rejoice in the crowds that attended both services on last Sunday. The Spirit was present and decisions were made, not by human persuasion, but by the Spirit's appeal. Three joined the church upon profession of faith and baptism. Five were baptized at the close of the evening service.

Wednesday 7:25 P. M. Officers and Teachers meet in monthly meeting, followed by Hour of Power service.

Ride our church bus if you have no way to attend. This is a free service to all. Watch for the blue bus. Regular route is covered every Sunday morning and night and Wednesday night. The nursery is open to care for all babies and little children at every regular service of the church. A capable attendant is in charge.

Recent Bride Is Shower Honoree

The Wesley Bible Class room of the First Methodist Church was beautifully decorated with iris and other spring flowers for the lovely bridal shower honoring Mrs. Leroy Mosher of Wichita Falls, the former Miss Betty Wright of Burkburnett.

Mrs. B. M. Cropper and Mrs. O. E. Melton greeted guests at the door and names were secured for the guest book by Miss Veta Mae Lassiter.

Miss Ida Mae Wright, sister of the bride, served punch from a refreshment table covered with a floor length aqua cloth, and centered with a large arrangement of pink and white carnations. She was assisted by Mrs. Paul Browning and Mrs. Henry Prunzing.

Entertainment directed by Mrs. Melton, featured Kay Morrison in a piano solo, and Mrs. W. J. Lacy in a violin solo accompanied by Maxine Creel.

Mrs. Julia Boyd conducted a clever contest on matrimony. Mrs. Lacy, winner, was presented a lovely gift which she in turn presented to the honoree, who also was given a delightful assortment of lovely and useful gifts.

Hostesses for the affair included: Mesdames Julia Boyd, B. M. Cropper, H. W. Prunzing, F. L. Pilkenton, Carl Morrison, Paul Browning, J. M. Patterson, R. L. Gragg, W. J. Lacy, A. A. McKinnis, Leslie Tuel, Will Elkins, C. E. James, R. D. Bevier, H. C. Gilbert, O. E. Melton and Joe Nichols.

Approximately sixty ladies made up the guest list.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my thanks and sincere appreciation to my many Burkburnett friends for their kindness to me during my recent stay in the hospital. I am truly grateful for the beautiful flowers, lovely cards and your kind visits.

MRS. H. M. DAY

Mamie Browning Honored at Party Mon., April 25th

The lower auditorium of the First Baptist Church was a scene of spring itself as 125 guests and hostesses assembled, honoring Miss Mamie Browning bride-elect of James Mason, Jasper, Alabama and Sheppard Field, Miss Corrie Stewart received the registration of guests at the bride's book. The honoree's chosen colors of spring pastels were reflected throughout the room from the baskets of huge white iris and pink weigela to the trellis intertwined with formosa and pink carnations before which the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Wylie Browning, were seated. Two pink cupids stood their guard with their bows and arrows from the center of the trellis.

Mesdames Janice Vincent and Mary Frances Northcott presided at the beautifully laid refreshment table as Miss Blanche Butler played softly throughout the refreshment period.

Highlight of the room was the hostess table covered with Quaker lace upon which was placed a set of colorful pottery and by which stood an end table and beautiful lamp, compliments of the hostesses.

Mrs. Fred Fewin presented the program via original verse based upon highlights of Mamie's life and accompanied by Miss Butler at the piano. Mamie's birth was proclaimed by Christine Suttles singing of Brahms' Lullaby and brother Bill Browning in a humorous skit. Her first piano recital, by Carolyn Clements, School Days, sung by Sue Douglas and Sydney Gamblin. Recognizing Mamie as director of Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church, a quintet in robes: Corrie Stewart, Nathalie Foster, Vivian Suttles, Christine Suttles, and Ruth Smith, sang the choir theme song: I'd Rather Have Jesus and to be Like Jesus.

Heralding Mamie as the Lion Sweetheart, Christine Suttles sang the Sweetheart song, Will You Remember, from Springtime.

The era of courtship was presented by a team: Charis Sue Thompson, Charles Caffee, Sue Douglas, Bill Gilbow, Shirlene Richards, High Fewin, Judy Williamson, Mike Harms, Pat Morgan and Bill McClarty, singing Forever and Forever. At the conclusion, the team formed an aisle from the stage to the honoree and a miniature bride and groom, Pamela Duke and Grady Grizzle, walked slowly as the quintet sang Some Sunday Morning. After presenting Mamie with gifts, the tiny bride and groom led the recessional.

Misses Betty Mills and Katherine Beckham resumed hostess duties in presenting many lovely gifts with unanimous wishes of happiness for Mamie and James.

The end of the journey for four of the 200,000 persons for whom IRO, in less than two years, has found new homes and new futures. The road was long; it led through concentration camps, separation, hunger and fear to a far-away country with new people and customs. But the family is together at last and hope lives again.

Note of Appreciation

I would like again to thank my many friends in Burkburnett for their thoughtfulness to me during my recent trip to the Clinic. Especially do I want to thank Mr. Rigby and Mr. Gilbert for their kindness. For everyone of you who assisted me, for your lovely flowers and sweet cards, I am indeed grateful.

FARM FACTS

Q. What can be done to prevent sores from mashing their pigs?
A. All farrowing houses of every type should have a guard rail around the sides and back of the individual pen used by each sow and her litter. This rail should be 8 to 10 inches from the floor and 8 to 10 inches from the wall. Guard rails are of great value in keeping sores from rolling on their pigs.

Q. How much space is needed in the brooder house for baby chicks?
A. The Ralston Purina Company's Research Farm recommends not more than two chicks per square foot during the first six weeks. Pulllets in confinement up to 20 weeks should have two to three square feet per bird and those on range need about 1 1/2 square feet of house space per bird. Three to 3 1/2 square feet is recommended per hen. Crowding retards growth and causes uneven development.

Q. How much fresh water does a dairy cow need?
A. A cow should drink a minimum of about five gallons of water for each gallon of milk she produces. Even when dry, dairy cows need a regular supply of clean, fresh water.

Send your questions about livestock or poultry problems to FARM FACTS, 817 South Eighth Street, St. Louis 2, Missouri. Questions will be answered without charge, either by mail or in this column, as a service of this newspaper.

Monster Lon Cheney Endures for His Art In Pictures

Lon Cheney, the Hollywood actor who specializes in the role of characters you never meet in a picture, will tell you that the disadvantages of his profession are many. He has to be in the picture for the entire length of the picture, and he has to be in the picture for the entire length of the picture.

Cheney's six foot four inch, two hundred and twenty pound frame was swathed from neck to toes in more than four hundred yards of specially processed gauze tape. His gruesome facial make-up set Cheney back three thousand years in an up to date background for his role in Kharis.

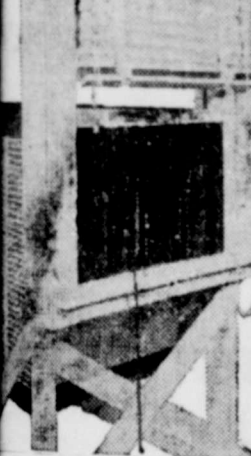

Seated before an electric fan between camera shots, the star fixed a baleful look on his visitor with his one visible, sinister eye. "This stuff burns to beat the dickens, if it isn't kept cool," he snarled. "I have to sit in front of a fan to keep it from burning a hole right through my face."

It isn't easy, even for Hollywood make-up experts, to achieve an effect of such great age, and to accomplish that purpose it was necessary for Cheney to submit himself to an unusually unpleasant facial coating. The results, however, as seen in "The Mummy's Ghost" are sufficiently blood-curdling to satisfy Cheney's many fans.

Elmer G. Johnson, President of Harlingen State Bank, Harlingen, Texas, writes on Feb. 20, 1948:

"Please send another bottle of Liquid Garlic, also send a bottle to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Hulda C. Dutton, 45 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Mass.

"I have some good reports to make on the effectiveness of garlic used. Mr. Turner, Texaco dealer here, has taken two bottles and is much better; his blood pressure down about 60 points. Mrs. W. F. Nelson, San Benito, who was in bad shape, is also very much better and her blood pressure down considerable. This garlic works, and you are doing a fine job of producing it for the benefit of those suffering from high blood pressure or heart trouble."

Tiny Tot Circus Grade School 12th

Come! Relive your childhood dreams of that fascinating Saw Dust Trail with the 2-3 section of Hardin Grade school at the Grade school auditorium, May 12th, about 8 P. M.

The greatest of all shows in the world today, The Tiny Tot Circus, will exhibit for your pleasure and approval the most wonderful and remarkable living animals, daring feats of skill and intelligence, a stupendous aggregation of wild beasts, in short, the most unique and hair-raising performance ever presented before a civilized audience. The show had to be reduced to a one-ring act for this occasion, on account of the size of the place in which it is to be given. This wonderful collection of animals and performers has been gathered from all parts of the world and Iowa Park, Texas.

Laugh with the funny little clown folk. See the height at which the wonderful slack wire walkers risk their lives! Don't miss the strong man, fat woman, snake charmer. Siamese twins, wild people, and entertaining little pickaninnies. No circus would be a circus without the elephant, monkeys, bears, lions and giraffe. You will enjoy the high-strung sensitive little circus ponies that require careful handling. If you miss those singing cats from Siam, you'll be sorry.

Our only request is, if you do come, please maintain a boisterous silence during the performance. Loud laughing and crying will disturb the audience and terrorize the pupils and the Parents Association. Proceeds towards buying play equipment and paying animal costumes used in circus.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Winkles and son, Leona, of Wichita Falls, relatives and friends in

Party Honors Irma Ned Riley On 6th Birthday

April 22, Irma Ned Riley was six years old and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Riley, helped her celebrate her birthday by entertaining a group of her friends in their home. Arrangements of pink and white spring flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the party rooms. The refreshment table was centered by the pink, white and green birthday cake and a green container held pink and white flowers on the buffet. Mrs. A. C. Aulds assisted in making this a very happy party for all the children. Mrs. M. W. Majors was Irma Ned's special guest and was presented a lovely corsage by the honoree. Each little guest was met at the door by Irma Ned and thanked for his gift. A full program was planned and the children played games and contests for an hour. Movies of the children at play outdoors were made. How the Blue Bonnets Got Their Name was the title of the story by "Mother" Majors. The huge cake with six lighted candles was brought in. Irma Ned made her wish and blew hard, while the other children sang Happy Birthday to You, Irma Ned. Novel refreshments featuring a toy engine of ice cream and birthday cake were served the group. Plate favors were balls and jacks for the little girls and humming lariat for the boys. Invitation list to the party included: Jan Carey, Jimmy Holly, Diane Buckner, Mike Morris, KaRene Davis, Tony Aulds, Pat Kay Creel, Shirley Reynolds, Diane Brookshier, Judy Hofacket, Scotty Carey, Dorothy Reynolds, Mur Ann Elliott, Randel Hamner and Glen Veach.

Colorful County Fair Scenes Enliven "Dear to My Heart"

Trotting races have again become a great American passion and pastime. Log cabin quilts are being stitched again. The pleasant reek of prize stock pens rise annually under gala flags in the County Fairs in every one of the United States. Merry-go-rounds and thrill-ride machines, popcorn stands and cider mill shooting gallery and dance pavilion exert their ancient spell at the County Fairs. Moreover, the County Fair is a focal point and highlight in Walt Disney's "So Dear to My Heart," color by Technicolor, picturing the life and adventures of a rural boy of a generation ago, interpreted in cartoon and live action at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday. The Pike County Fair, in Brown County, Indiana, as Sterling North describes it in his book from which the Disney picture is derived, awards a prize blue ribbon to the young boy of the story for making a champion of a discarded little black ram lamb, thus "doing the best he could with what he had" to conform the theme of the story.

County Fair scenes, with all their color and excitement, culminate a clash of wills between young Jeremiah Kincaid and his austere but lovable Granny Kincaid, whose problem was to raise the boy.

The action, predominantly by living players, although there is some cartoon animation to embellish the main narrative, is centered upon Bobby Driscoll, Disney's 11 year old star, as the ambitious, headstrong farm lad; Beulah Bondi, as the pious but practical grandma; Burl Ives, as the village blacksmith who sings half a dozen new songs especially written for the picture; Harry Carey (in his last role) as a shrewd judge of livestock and human nature, and Luana Patten, the devoted comrade of Jeremiah in all the boy's adventures.

Hundreds of extra players bring authentic atmosphere and interesting bits to the action. The story of fond recollection is told via the voice of the man who was the boy—out of his family album and scrapbook, in animated cartoon treatment. It is rich in music as well as humor and tenderness and the nostalgic note of the American scene of a recent yesterday.

DANGER OF NEGLECT

How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation? (Heb. 2:3).

This passage of scripture sets forth the folly and guilt of neglecting to obey the gospel. Sometimes people realize their lost condition when it is too late. Then they begin to regret themselves. They frequently become desperate. They then feel danger as they have never felt it before. They then feel that they did not do anything about their soul's salvation because they were not conscious of the dangerous situation. Outside the pardon God offers, upon the terms he offers it, there is no hope for the sinner. Jesus says, "I am the way, the truth, and the life, and no man cometh unto the Father but by me."

Sinner friend, you should not let an opportunity pass for the gospel of Christ. When you have heard it and understand it you should not delay to obey it. (Heb. 5:8-9). Your response to your obedience is dangerous. Now is the time to respond in preparing to meet God. The Bible is full of warnings and admonitions concerning the danger of neglect. We should live so that if we were suddenly called to depart this life we would be ready to go. Now is the time to be making arrangements to that end. Hold ourselves in readiness there will be no regrets when the summons comes.

I plead with you, sinner friend, hear the gospel of Christ, believe in Christ, repent of your sins (Lk. 13:5), and be baptized into Christ (Gal. 3:27).

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Now is the time to clean up your boats. If your outboard is a fairly recent model, it probably won't need extensive repairs, writes boating authority Willard Crandall, but the appearance of the craft can be spruced up if scuffed, worn spots are fixed. If no new coat of paint is needed, give it a good cleaning job. Be careful not to use too powerful a cleaning agent. Try plain water or soap and water first; scouring powders should be used with discretion.

A clean, solid, dry surface is the first essential to a good paint job. That means sanding and the more sanding between coats, the better the job. Paint while the air is dry. If you are outdoors, it's best to paint only in the middle of a dry day; if possible, one reasonably warm after several days of dry weather. Avoid painting in the direct sun, and in wind that can blow sand and dirt all over the job.

Use only marine paint with any wood hull and follow the directions. Small boats that are in salt water only during actual use need no special bottom paint, but those left in while idle must have an anti-fouling paint on the bottom. Launching the boat before copper-bottom paint is entirely dry makes it more effective.

Plywood boats should ordinarily have more paint, or varnish, than other types. A final coat of marine enamel or spar varnish will give almost any boat an attractive glossy appearance. About the only reason for following enamel with varnish is to protect the enamel from scratches. A final coat or two of varnish is recommended for almost any boat in regular salt water use.

Varnish, and the last coat of enamel, will look better if "flowed" on, not vigorously brushed on. Don't varnish a surface too hot or too cold, and don't shake or stir the varnish, for that will only fill it with bubbles.

A natural finish hull should be free from discoloration before more varnish is added. If sanding won't remove discolorations, use varnish remover. Some bad cases have to be scraped down to bare wood. Never use a blow torch on a natural finish hull—that only blackens everything. Any repainted surface that is to receive varnish should be well washed, then completely dried and finely sanded first.

ADDING THE Smell THAT MEANS SAFETY

You can't see it...you can't smell it. Natural gas is odorless and colorless as it comes from the well. In the interest of safety, a telltale odor must be added to your gas as it enters the local distribution mains. Small quantities of a special type of liquid are added to the gas, so even the smallest leak may be discovered.

The odorization of gas is one of many functions of the United Gas system...all of which have the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued safe, dependable supply of natural gas to our customers.

Three general types of odorizing equipment are used on United Gas lines. One is the "drip" or "injection" type, by which small quantities of malodorant are introduced into the gas to add the smell that means safety.

The second type, comparable in action to the kerosene lamp, is one in which a wick carries the odorant into the flow of gas. This is commonly used to give "individual" protection to one consumer or a small group of consumers in suburban areas.

A third type is the absorption odorizer that serves small towns. Part of the gas passing through the line is detoured through a tank where, like a sponge, it absorbs sufficient malodorant to odorize the remainder of the gas.
