Band and Bulldogs Outfitted In New Uniforms Friday

Members of the High School Band and the Football squad made quite a showing at the football game between the Bulldogs and Henrietta at the Bulldog Stadium last Friday night. Loud was the applause as the Bulldogs came on the field, newly outfitted from their bright orange and yellow helmets, sweat shirts, grey pants, yes, even down to the white shoe strings in their new shoes.

Equally applauded were band members as they marched on the field at the half, wearing their snappy grey uniforms, striped with blue, and their cadet caps topped with bright orange plumes, and bearing the Bulldog emblem.

Perhaps there were a few of the oldsters who objected to the variation from the school colors Orange and Black. Maybe because when their children went to school the colors were the same for many years. But this is a different bunch of Bulldogs and a different Band with ideas of their own. They are entitled to the colors they choose just as the ones who picked the Orange and Black, years ago. The majority of the fans out Friday night were glad to see the change and agreed that the uniforms of both the Football team and the Band were those to be proud of anywhere they put in an appearance this season.

W. R. Doty and family, former Burkburnett residents, have returned to make their home here. Recently they have been making their home in Lawton, Oklahoma.

Peanut Boyd Runs 78 yds. for Kickoff Touchdown

Football fans had a preview last Friday night of the 1949 team and were well satisfied with the first performance.

Coach Don Short and his assistant Joe Bob Tyler have been working the boys out only a short time, but the results of the hard work were very evident. Our boys seemed to be in much better shape physically than the boys from Henrietta. At every time-out, which Henrietta called frequently, they asked for the water jug and appeared to be pooped at the end of the game. Burk's boys asked for no water and at the end of the game still had plenty of pep.

Those who came to the game one minute late missed one half of the scoring. On the opening kickoff little Peanut Boyd took the ball and behind good blocking, went right down the center of the field for a touchdown. Try for extra point failed, but the early lead of six points must have had a chilling effect on their opponents.

Following the touchdown the boys from Henrietta received on their own 13 and made a four yard return. In three downs the ball was on Henrietta's 25 and they kicked to Burk's 33, which was returned to the 45 on Burk's end of the field. Several plays and three first downs later the local boys had made their way to within 7 yards of pay dirt. Two five yard penalties, a fumble and no gain at the line put the ball in Henrietta's hands on their own ten yard line. They kicked to their 45 and Burk made a five yard return. Fumbling and recovering on the 45, Burk gained 5 through the line then kicked to the 17. Henrietta made a two yard gain through the line and the first quarter ended.

Second quarter. Henrietta made two tries at the line and then kicked from their 21 to the 39. Burk lost 3, gained 9, lost 5 on a fumble back to the 41, then booted to the 10, which was returned to the 17. In three tries the visitors made 11 yards to the 28 and their first 1st down. In three tries Henrietta still lacked 11 yards for a first so they kicked to Burk's 47. After making one yard at the line, the Bulldogs fumbled on their 41, which was recovered by the Henrietta boys. In a determined effort to score, Henrietta got to the 7 yard line where they fumbled and lost the ball. Burk kicked out to the 31 where the opposing team took over and went to the air. A pass was good for 6 yards, but the next aerial was snagged by Burk who also tried the air. Two incomplete passes ended the first half.

Opening the second half the Henrietta boys received the kick on their own 37 but were unable to make a return. With 4th down coming up and 11 to go they kicked to Burk's 30 with a nine yard return. Burk made 8 yards, but with 4 and 1 to go they kicked to Henrietta's 28 which was returned to the 32. In three tries they lacked one yard and elected to kick to the 40 on Burk's end of the field. Four yards through the line and a pass Keen to Reasoner put the ball on the Henrietta 30 for a first down. A yard loss, an incomplete pass and a 5 yard penalty left the Burk boys 3rd down with 16 to go. They kicked out on the 21. Still unable to penetrate Burk's line, Henrietta was faced with 3rd down and still the original 10 to go. They kicked to the 50 which was returned to the 45. Burk lost 5 with 2nd and 15 to go as the quarter ended.

Fourth quarter—On 4th down Burk lacked 13 to go so they booted to Henrietta's 12. Line plays netted no gain and again the visitors were forced to kick, this time a short one to their own 36. Burk gained 6, then to the 22 for a 1st down. Keen made 13 and a first to the 9. By short gains the ball rested on the one foot line with 4th and goal to go. Keen hit the line and went over for the second counter. Extra point attempt

Palace Theatre Host to Football Boys Tuesday

Louis Littlefair, manager of the Palace Theatre, played host to the foot ball boys and their coaches Tuesday night to see "Down to the Sea In Ships." After the show Mr. Littlefair had the squad on the theatre stage and introduced each one individually, giving name, number, weight and position.

Tex Maney, captain for Friday night's game, and co-captain Donald Pemberton, gave short talks, expressing their appreciation to Mr. Littlefair and to the public as a whole, and stated they expect to win a lot of foot ball games this season.

Thank You
All of us must be guilty of taking our friends too much for granted, until illness or some such inconvenience strikes. It is then that we pause briefly to appreciate the concern others have in our welfare. For all of the flowers, cards, letters and personal visits while I was in the hospital, a mere "thank you" seems entirely inadequate. I sincerely appreciate every kind thought and deed. Thank you!

failed, with the score 12-0 in favor of the home lads. Henrietta received the kick following score, but got into trouble and came up with 3rd down and 17 yards to go. They kicked to the 50 where Burk took over and started a march toward the goal line. They reached the 13 but there they bogged down. A loss of 5 yards, an incomplete pass and another 2 yard loss gave the ball to Henrietta on the 20. Two passes gained only two yards and the third aerial was intercepted by Burk and killed on the 20. Burk lost a fumble on the next play with Henrietta in charge on the 20. They tried a pass which was knocked down and Keen intercepted their next try, leaving Burk in possession of the ball as the final whistle blew.

Carpenter Green Is Snake Killer (?)

Mr. Green, a carpenter from Oklahoma, is well known in Burkburnett, or anywhere in the North end of town, as Carpenter Green the Snake Killer. It seems a week or so ago while doing some work on 8th street, he killed a snake—cut off its head (or so he said) and buried it. Later after boasting of his accomplishments, he took some interested parties to view the remains of the snake. No snake. Crawled off without a head, no doubt.

Chas. Kirsh Calves Top Market Here

Last Saturday another very successful sale was held at the Burkburnett Livestock Sales Barn. Buyers and stock were plentiful and market prices prevailing at large centers that day were topped.

Chas. Kirsh brought in a load of mixed grass fed fat calves which topped the market with a price ranging up to 23c. Mr. Kirsh's calves brought him some $300 more than he had anticipated receiving. In the first place, he underestimated their weight, and second he did not expect them to top the market price. Mr. Kirsh is one of the biggest boosters of the local sales barn and fully appreciates what it means to farmers and stockmen in this area. This week he was at the bank thanking J. V. Brookshear and others interested in the barn, for the way they handled his cattle. He said that in 2 1-2 hours after he loaded them at his farm, they had been sold at the sales barn. There was no shrinkage, he saved several dollars in transportation to a distant market, he received top price here at home and all the time he was dealing with home folks and circulating money here where it does most good.

Sales are held here each Saturday, beginning promptly at 1:30 P. M. Bring your stock here for highest prices and save on hauling to other markets.

JUST COMMON SENSE

The Senate voted 45 to 31 a few days ago to let the Army buy margarine for messes. Nobody needs to be told that margarine is a recognized article of pure food in the best stores throughout every part of the country. Margarine is in fact so good and so well made that it competes with butter. Now, nobody attempts to discount the perfection of good butter. But the good butter people are wasting all their strength to keep first-class margarine off the grocers shelves.

The Washington newspapers all seem to be on the side of the repeal of the restrictions against margarine. Well, Congress has taken sides with margarine and has decided to let the Army buy that food for the Nation's soldiers. The Army also buys for the Air Force. The way Congress is going to bat on the subject seems to prove that the oleo-tax repeal bill will win out in the Senate, despite the bitter fight that has been waged in that branch for long years.

"HELLO," YOU SAY

Where does Hello get you and who does Hello get you, asks the telephone company? Think of the valuable time lost every day by saying "Hello" and then finding out who has answered. The telephone company suggests we save time by saying "Mr. Jones" or even just "Jones". They haven't computed the time lost when, after answering with the "hello" the caller puts you through the third degree with "guess who this is talking". There is such a thing as phone manners as well as phone efficiency. We might improve telephone voices by pleasant overtones, cheery greetings rather than a grunt or grumble. We might start brushing up on our telephone etiquette in Burk Burnett, the next time the bell rings.

CAUTION, NOT PANIC

The recent increase in infantile paralysis over the nation, this summer, has caused near panic in some sections. It is not so here in Burk Burnett, but yet local parents must use precaution to minimize the danger to their children. There are some cities where the polio increase has become dangerous enough to warrant restrictions against children being present in crowds. In one Pennsylvania city, school has not been permitted to open yet. The opening date was first announced as Sept. 6, then moved to the 18th, and now the date is uncertain.

The polio rate has reached its highest peak this season despite attempts to isolate the cause and immunize children against it. They have found that the disease hits an exhausted child rather than a refreshed one. It does not seem to be a matter of good health since some of the healthiest of children have been affected.

Since polio is most dangerous during the late summer and early fall, we must be extremely cautious about children over-doing. Swimming to become overly tired, too long hikes, too vigorous with tennis and baseball. Watch for impure water. Kill the house flies. All and more we should supervise to guard the children's welfare.

Palace Wednesday-Thursday Circus Comes To Town in Republic's "The Red Pony"

The circus comes to town with all its brilliant trappings—right in the middle of the Charles K. Feldman-Lewis Milestone production of John Steinbeck's "The Red Pony," filmed in Technicolor at Republic Studios. The picture will be at the Palace Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

The famous trick circus rider, Poodles Hanneford, and his daughter, Grace, are featured in a riding sequence representing the day dream of a little boy, played by Peter Miles, who sees himself as the circus ringmaster. The Hannefords perform breath taking feats of horsemanship in the best Ringling Brothers tradition with a team of eight beautiful white horses.

Demonstration of Liquid Air Sept. 21 At High School

WALTER EVERMAN

So cold it boils on ice. Yes, and so cold that if you should accidentally dip your hand into the "boiling" liquid, the fingers would be cracked off like icicles. That is Liquid Air which will be demonstrated by Walter Everman at the High School Auditorium, Wednesday, September 21, at 1:30 P. M. He will demonstrate the many remarkable qualities of this treacherous liquid. There will be an admission charge of 15c.

Liquid air is perhaps the coldest substance known. And in addition it has greater explosive powers than TNT. In fact, a small quantity bottled up would blow an entire building to atoms. However, this latter stunt will not be demonstrated.

Mr. Everman is an outstanding entertainer. He furnishes opportunities to laugh much, a thrill every second, and an opportunity to acquire much of scientific information which has wide practical application and interest.

He displays a fine spread of laboratory equipment in his demonstration. He places kerosene in a test tube and by dipping it into the liquid, freezes it immediately into a candle. With the liquid, mercury is frozen into a solid hammer with which spikes are driven into a board. Raw beefsteak, fresh flowers, and a rubber ball, after being dipped into the liquid, are dropped to the floor and shatter like glass.

Of special interest will be the liquid air engine, propelled as a result of the vapor produced by the evaporation of the liquid at ordinary temperatures. The breath-taking moment comes when Mr. Everman, after showing all the treacherous characteristics of the liquid, takes a glassful into his mouth and blows it out as steam.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Peyton and daughter, Pamela of Benavides, Texas, were here last week to attend the bedside of his father, W. D. Peyton, who underwent surgery in a Wichita Falls hospital. They visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Coats.

Looks either automatically, or as a conventional gas range. Also gives you the never-equalled flavor and excellence of famed Dutch Oven cooking

As a conventional range, you'll find many important modern improvements, such as the speedy, heat-focusing, gas-saving Spiral Flame burners. And you'll like the ease of cleaning; range top and burner bowls are stamped from one piece of gleaming white porcelain.

Large oven cooks automatically, or by usual methods. Dutch Oven method cooks a whole meal, automatically, while you're away. Heavy insulation holds heat in — keeps kitchen cool. Only Maytag Dutch Oven Gas Range automatically turns off the gas and keeps right on cooking.

Ground Soggy Following Rains

Although the total rainfall for 1949 is less than that received up to this date in 1948, this traditionally dry territory is almost too wet right now.

Tuesday night and Wednesday morning showers fell almost without interruption. Some two or three inches of moisture falling the latter part of last week had left the ground pretty damp and yesterday's addition left a soggy condition.

Cotton picking, just getting into full swing, will be stopped for some time. Recent moisture has kept cotton foliage green and makes picking very slow.

Oil and Industrial Exhibits Bigger At T. & O. Fair

Iowa Park, Sept. 12—The Oil and Industrial exhibition of the Texas and Oklahoma Fair and Southwestern Oil Exposition in Iowa Park has been greatly expanded this year.

R. E. Lewis of Wichita Falls is now contacting business firms in this area for the purpose of selling space for this exhibit which will be held Sept. 26 - Oct. 1st.

The exhibition was added to the fast growing T-O Fair in 1947 and each year since that time has seen an increased number of displays.

A large number of concerns who have exhibited in previous years will have their equipment on display here this year. Many automobile agencies will also have exhibits here for the exposition.

sonally contacted who desires space for the oil and industrial exposition is requested to contact R. E. Lewis, Rt. 1, Wichita Falls or the T-O Fair office in Iowa Park.

Correction

In the newspaper business, mistakes appear quite frequently, but seldom in one issue do two mistakes happen to one club, person or business. Last week in the Star we made two mistakes in accounts from the Methodist Church. First in naming the list of the Board of Stewards, we omitted the name of Charlie Boyd. Then in the regular Church announcement we stated that the young people would meet with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tevis as leaders. It should have been Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vincent. We are sorry when these mistakes appear but are always glad to correct them when brought to our attention.

Mrs. Ernest Cole of Oakland, California, visited over the week end with her sister, Mrs. Edith McComas and Miss Mabel Roberson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Grace of Fort Worth visited Mr. Grace's mother, Mrs. J. B. Grace last week end.

TIME FOR FAIRS

County Fair time, the annual big week when business and professional folk get together with ruralities to share in neighborliness in the interesting exhibits and programs offered through the Fair Boards. The Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Southwestern Oil Exposition, held each year at Iowa Park, is scheduled to open this year Sept. 26 and run through Oct. 1st.

Attending a Fair is a vacation treat and an educational venture. There is much to learn in the displays of new machinery, achievements in agriculture development, garden projects, exhibits of animals. Of interest to the women, the knitting, fancy work, food displays of canning, preserving, baking. You will find variety shows, band concerts, speaking and other entertainment.

One of the finest things emphasized by the Fair is the work done by the Boys and Girls 4-H Clubs. The theme of the club is "Better Living for a Better World" and through developing the qualities of usefulness, co-operation and leadership, they have built well. Whether the project is raising poultry, beef, swine, sheep, rabbits, crops and vegetables or nutrition, home furnishing, sewing, the members have become better citizens, better farmers. It reminds us that "as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

Grade School Band Gets Off To Good Start

The Band in the Grade school is going to be more emphasized this year. We hope to have a large group of about 50 or 60 beginners, from the fourth, the fifth and sixth grades.

There are about eighty who have expressed a desire to join the band from these grades. Of these there will of course be a few who will not join, but the majority will join if they can get instruments. We would like to ask the people of our town who have second hand instruments laying around the house or who know where they can get second hand instruments to contact the band director at the High school. We do not want you to give them to us if the people with the used instruments have no children who want to take band there will be someone else who will want to buy an instrument and who cannot afford a new one. If we can get this band started it will be as much of an attraction as the Senior band.

This grade band would have been started last year but the director was ill for quite a spell and we didn't get started until pretty late in the school year. So they are going to start right off this year and really push this band. They will be marching at some of the foot ball games so come on out and see what the small fry of the town can do. The children are very interested so if the parents get behind us we will have the largest and best grade school band we have ever had.

Alleys Prepared For Hard Surface

Alleyways between second and third and third and fourth have been graded in the downtown section. After the proper grade was established, a good base of caliche was spread for a base for blacktop. For less than $1.00 per running alley foot, the blacktop can be put on. That would be a cost of only 35c or 40c per foot for property owners on either side of the alleys. A move is under way to get property owners to put up the money for this progressive step. Thus far all those contacted are highly in favor of making the alleys usable in all kinds of weather. The City is indebted to Commissioner Slim Holman, who brought in heavy equipment necessary for doing the grading. Prior to this work, the alleys in some places were all but impassable. In wet weather trucks feared to pull into them. It is hoped this blacktopping can be done before winter, and get those street-blocking unloading trucks off Main Street.

Sure You Haven't A "Blind Spot"?

As I was driving down Main Street last Saturday, another car swung out right in front of me. It turned out to be Buck Blake. He wasn't going fast. It was just that he had something else on his mind at that particular moment.

Buck's really one of the nicest fellows I've ever known. But, sometimes he gets to day-dreaming on the road. He sort of gets a "blind spot" to what's going on about him!

Now, lots of normally considerate folks have their "blind spots."

It could be anything from dreaming while driving or humming out loud at the wheel. From where I sit, it's important to be on guard of your own "blind spots." The fellow has a right to his "blind spot," too—whether it's a taste for a temperance of sparkling beer or a desire to some classical music wants to.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life. The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

... it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organization in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act...

Obviously the railroads cannot be run

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has not and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, train conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating employees," and are the most highly paid all employees on the nation's railroads. Their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

Jam-Filled Coil

Hidden spiral of jam and a candied fruit and nut icing put this coffee cake into the dessert class.

Better allow for seconds when you serve jam-filled coffee cake with its attractive fruit-and-nut studded icing. Make this special occasion bread from a basic sweet yeast dough, using enriched flour for the added B-vitamins and iron it provides. Let dough rest about ten minutes before shaping so that it will be easier to handle. To fashion the coil, roll the dough out to a long thin strip, spread jam over surface, then roll up tightly. Coil the jam-filled roll into a cake pan, putting the sealed edge down. This keeps jam from oozing out and also gives the top of the coffee cake a smooth appearance.

After baking, apply a thin glaze of confectioners' icing to highlight the coil. If desired, chopped fruits and nuts may be pressed into the icing for special occasions. Despite these extras, jam-filled coil makes an economical ending to a luncheon or dinner menu.

|------------------------------------|--|
| 1 package yeast, compressed or dry | 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1/2 cup lukewarm water | 2 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour (about) |
| 1/2 cup milk | 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine |
| 2 tablespoons shortening | 1/2 cup jam |
| 1/4 cup sugar | 1/2 cup Confectioners Sugar Icing |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 2 tablespoons chopped candied fruit |
| 1 egg | 2 tablespoons chopped nuts |
- Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add shortening, one-fourth cup sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add one cup flour. Mix well. Add egg and lemon rind. Beat well. Add softened yeast. Mix well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise until doubled (about one and one-half hours). When light, punch down. Let rest 10 minutes. Roll out to strip three inches wide and one-eighth inch thick. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Spread evenly with jam. Roll up into tight roll. Coil into greased nine inch layer pan, being sure seam side is down. Let rise until doubled (about one hour). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Remove from pan. Glaze with Confectioners' Sugar Icing. Sprinkle with chopped fruit and nuts. Makes one nine-inch coffee cake.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Approximately 2 1-2 miles of terraces are now in process of construction on the N. J. Jacobi farm East of Pumpkin Center. Gilbert Jacobi, son of N. J. Jacobi is now farming the farm and will carry out a conservation program on the farm. A crop rotation will be followed in which will include a legume on approximately 25 acres of the cultivated land each year.

Cecil Longley reports that on one field of 19.6 acres of alfalfa on his farm South of the Wichita River on the Kamay Road he has already harvested 2200 bales of hay and intends to let his cattle graze the last cutting. He has 68 acres of alfalfa on his farm at present. He shipped 7 freight cars of alfalfa to Louisiana this year and 9 last year to feeders in that state. Mr. Longley is a strong believer in alfalfa as a soil improving crop and of the use of irrigation water to insure the production of such crops. He plans to level and border between 25 to 35 acres and plant to alfalfa this fall.

Two terrace outlet channels have been completed on the J. L. Pennington farm of the West Clara Conservation Group. The channels will be vegetated to buffalo, gama and Johnson grass the next spring and terraces will be constructed next summer after wheat harvest if sufficient cover is present in the channels. The personnel of the Soil Conservation Service designed and staked these channels.

Stock ponds have been completed on the Harvey Ramming and the H. C. Osbenhaus farms East and West of Clara.

Irrigation leveling is now being done on 30 acres of the Ruben Parish farm South of Iowa Park, and 40 acres on the Roy Munger farm East of Kamay, and both of the farms now being leveled and bordered will be planted to alfalfa and grasses for hay and pasture.

L. J. Lane is planting one acre to Birdsfoot Trefoil this fall on his irrigated farm which has been leveled and bordered. This is a new soil improving, pasture and hay crop. The District Supervisors of the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District furnished cooperator Lane with the seed.

Applications for Conservation assistance of the Soil Conservation District were received the last three weeks on farms of: J. L. Pennington, Bratton Reeves, Carl Egenbacher, Arnold Holtzen, E. L. Crabtree, Cliff W. Brogden, Hollis Atkinson, R. L. Redin, and Jerry B. Crain, consisting of 4,503 acres.

Sgt. Austin Key spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Key. Austin is stationed at Carswell Base, Fort Worth.

Undulant Fever Is Increasing

Undulant fever or Malta fever, a disease contracted from cattle, goats or sheep which are infected with contagious abortion, is being reported sporadically throughout Texas and the nation, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. This indicates Malta fever to be a public health problem and the attendant need of more general recognition by the public to the disease.

Undulant fever is so called because of the wave-like variations in temperature. The symptoms include rise in temperature, loss of weight and strength—chills, sweats and joint pains. The disease has rather a low mortality rate, but important because symptoms may persist for a number of weeks or even months before normal health and strength are restored.

In Texas, the goat, horse and cows are the usual spreaders of this disease. The germs of undulant fever enter the body thru the mouth or skin. Therefore, care should be used in handling animals known to be infected and dairy products from the same sources should be pasteurized, if used. More men acquire this disease than women and adults seem more likely to have it than children. More cases are found in the rural areas than in the cities.

The true prevention of undulant fever is based upon the detection of the disease in livestock and the elimination of infected stock from the herds. Dairy herds should be tested for Bacillus abortus. This is a task that cannot be accomplished in a short time. Pasteurization of milk will prevent the spread from this source.

MORE VALUE PER ACRE—Cotton is unique in the range and vital nature of the products made from its two products, lint and cottonseed. It produces more value per acre than any other major agricultural crop.—Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas.

Newspaper and Radio Men Guests Texas State Fair

More than 2,000 Texas newspaper and radio men will be guests of the 1949 State Fair of Texas when the $35,000,000 exposition opens Oct. 8 for a 16-day run.

Opening Day is traditionally Press and Radio Day, when the newsmen gather to view the newest wonders wrought by the Fair and to report them to their readers.

Representatives of virtually all daily and weekly newspapers and radio stations in the state will be on hand for opening day festivities.

A number of Oklahoma newspaper men also have been issued invitations.

Most of the weekly newspaper editors who will attend the Fair will wait until they return home to write accounts of the exposition for their readers, but representatives of the big dailies will file thousands of words to their newspapers describing the glories of the 64th State Fair of Texas.

The newspaper and radio men will be guests of the Fair at the Texas-Oklahoma football classic; Spike Jones will give them a special late matinee performance of his Musical Depreciation Revue of 1950 in the Auditorium, and Joie Chitwood's daredevil drivers will entertain them with a program of "planned calamity" at the Grandstand at 8 P. M.

The visitors will have a professional interest in the exhibition of statewide winners in the competition of Texas press photographers. The display will be open to the public for the first time on Press and Radio Day at the Museum of Fine Arts. In between these events, newsmen will find plenty to occupy their time as they nose about among the outstanding commercial exhibits, the top-flight livestock show featuring 26 breeds, the special exhibits at the five Fair Park museums, the million-dollar Midway, and the "new look" poultry and agriculture shows.

THE IMPORTANCE OF
STUDYING THE BIBLE

To know any subject of importance is an advantage. Man, the little time he dwells on earth, cannot find to master all subjects, to study out the details of things of thought. But man should certainly take time to become familiar with the only Book that tells him of his origin and destiny.

Man is a dual being, consisting of the "inward man," the "outward man." Paul, in 2 Corinthians 4:16 says: "Though our outward man is decaying, yet our inward man is renewed day by day." In verse 18 he speaks of the "outward man" as the things that are seen, and the "inward man" as the things not seen, and declares that the unseen man is eternal. Whatever, therefore, pertains to the welfare of this inward or unseen man is of more importance than those things that pertain to the care of the fleshly or outward man. Jesus suggests the difference in the following words: "And be not afraid of them that kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul." (Matt. 10:28).

The Bible was written for the sole purpose of teaching concerning the welfare of the soul, the "inward man." There is no other book to which we may go for the food of the soul needs. No wonder we are commanded to study and understand it. Study the following passages: Isa. 34:16: "Seek ye out of the book of Jehovah, and read."

1 Tim. 4:13: "Give heed to reading."

2 Tim. 2:15: "Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth."

Eph. 4:7: "Wherefore be ye not foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is."

And David, known as "the sweet Psalmist of Israel," "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the wicked, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of scoffers; but his delight is in the law of Jehovah; and on his law doth he meditate day and night." Psa. 1:1-2.

Many more passages emphasize the importance of studying the Bible. Let's heed the warning that we may be among the blessed of the Lord.

An Old Army Game

The time is October 19, 1924. The place is the Polo Grounds, in New York. The event is the Army-Notre Dame game—their twelfth in that great historic rivalry. And they say you can't stop a cyclone... it has to run its course. The cyclone from South Bend, Indiana did just that... it ran through the gallant West Pointers to the tune of 13 to 7.

The Notre Dame backfield stars ripped through the Cadet defense with more speed and power than the Army had ever witnessed... Crowley peeled off fifteen yards... Layden through tackle for ten more... Don Miller around left end for twenty yards... a pass from Stuhldreher to Crowley for twelve yards. All afternoon, it was Crowley, Miller, Layden, or Stuhldreher—ten yards, twelve yards, fifteen, twenty! The Army had never seen such speed and power. The score doesn't reveal it, but this was one of the greatest arrays of fleet backs in football. Crowley, Layden, Miller, and Stuhldreher? Why, they're the famous "Four Horsemen of Notre Dame," coached by the brilliant Knute Rockne! And they'll all be remembered in the gridiron's hall of fame as long as there's any memory of our nation's great game of football.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting
One hundred years ago the U. S. Patent Office issued a patent which helped change the course of history in almost every land on earth. It was Walter Hunt's patent No. 6663 for the "Volition Repeater" and was the first appearance of what became the lever-action repeating rifle.

That few persons associate Hunt with the lever-action rifle is understandable. His idea became practical only after it was refined and suitable fixed ammunition was invented. Today, looking back over the hundred-year pedigree of the rifle that's operated by a lever, this gun holds its own with the more recent bolt and slide-action rifles. Its influence on history was immense, according to arms expert Bill Depperman. Those who claim the Model 73 lever-action was "the rifle that won the West," are quite right. However, Hunt had bitten off more than he could chew. His colonial bullets which he called "rocket balls" were reluctant to perform according to the directions that Mr. Hunt wrote on the label. And lacking a proper cartridge, no lever-action could have worked properly.

From Hunt patents for the lever-action moved through several phases until the repeater was acquired by a Connecticut shirt manufacturer named Winchester. He fought a losing battle to have the rifle perfected. With all the inventive talent lavished upon the lever-action it was still a flop. Then, in a move that is now recognized as a stroke of genius, Winchester gave B. Tyler Henry the job of making the rifle work.

The solution is simple to write down on paper today—Henry's modification was to make the rifle take his new rimfire cartridge. There is considerable dispute about the genius of the first metallic cartridge, but the fact remains it was Henry's 44 flat that pulled the lever-action from a succession of ever-hopeful but ever-failing ventures into a success. Gratefully, Winchester put the lever-action into production as the Henry rifle somewhere around 1862. In 1866, with further modification and a side-loading port, the company presented the first rifle under its own names, the Winchester Model 1866.

The "West-winning" Model 1873 introduced the firm's first center-fire ammunition, the famous 44-40. It was considerably more effective than its predecessors because it could step out and knock 'em over at greater ranges.

Next important contribution to the lever-action came from John Browning in improvements that resulted in the famed Model 1885 single-shot lever-action.

All these lever-action rifles had been made for black powder cartridges. In 1894 the company brought out a sporting rifle for smokeless powder cartridges and a smokeless powder sporting cartridge, the .30-30. This Model 94 is still being manufactured, and it is still America's top deer rifle.

Last year President Truman received the 1,500,000th of the series, which is now headed for the 2-million mark.

Do Profits Rook You?
Profit is a word that folks must utter today only in whispers. In fact, it is a nasty word, the way most people use it. And this is a pity. Actually, the word has in it a great measure of progress and once meant the results of that which was "profitable," or usefully productive. But folks today have twisted their ideas on profit around so that the word indicates to them the ability of business to take advantage of somebody, especially the worker.

Our economic processes are interesting and exciting when you understand them. Without properly understanding the ways of money, trade, and commerce, an unthinking person can become a dupe for every ISM that Dr. Utopia has to offer. It is amazing to me that I find young people and a few old ones, too, so taken in by glamorous ideas that have no basis in fact. Some of these folks dream that profit is loot. They look at profit as lacking in morals and as the worst kind of sin.

Work and Progress
The thing that is directly responsible for human progress and human welfare is work. Work is human energy. Without work, and without the pay that people get for their human energy, progress would be at a standstill. But, there is something else. The tools, the factories, the land, the buildings—all the things men use in drawing upon their human energy—these things are simply human energy stored up for use.

Workers Like Profit
Payrolls and profits: these two items are vital to the well-run business enterprise. Nearly everybody understands already how important payrolls are to the welfare of our economic community. But not nearly so many people understand that profits also are necessary. In fact, it would be impossible to have good wages without correspondingly high profits. Then, a worker whose company makes a profit is well-blessed indeed. Why is that so? Only a business that makes healthy profits can offer steady, good-paying jobs to the community. Only a company that makes sufficient profit can buy modern tools and replace worn-out ones. What worker does not like to operate good machinery? Only a business that makes good profits can afford to plan and to expand its facilities. In other words, all workers who think right about it would want an employer to make good profits.

How to Prosper
Many workers think that wages are paid out of profits. This is not so. Money for the work comes right out of sales and goes directly to payrolls, just as money for profit comes out of sales and goes for the use of tools and the replacement of tools. When profit is high, the chances are that wages will be good. This is nearly always true unless taxes come in and take too large a chunk, or unless the company is so much in debt that profits cannot be used for new tools.

If I were an employee of a company or working in an industry, I would be very much concerned that my employer makes a profit. I would do all I could to make a profit for him. Knowing that my chances of having a good job and of growing with the company would depend upon the success of the whole enterprise, I would work hard to keep my employer "out of the red." Then I would know that my efforts really are building a greater America.
