High School Band Will Present Concert In March

The Burkburnett High School Band is preparing a concert for the 4th week in March at the High School Auditorium at 7:30 P. M. The concert will include the numbers to be played at contests in Waurika, Oklahoma, and Denton, Texas. The Oklahoma contest will be on the 23 of March. The Denton contest the one which is the high spot and the climax of the Band's year will be held in April on the 28th and 29th. The solo and ensemble events will be held on the 28th and the Band events will be held on the 29th. The solos, ensembles, and Bands are rated in 5 divisions. They are:

Rating I. The best conceivable performance. (Comparable to a grade of 100).

Rating II. An unusual performance. (Comparable to a grade of 95).

Rating III. A good performance. (Comparable to a grade of 87).

Rating IV. An average performance. (Comparable to a grade of 80).

Rating V. (Much need for improvement).

The Waurika contest is more or less a preparatory contest for the Denton contest and the experience of playing for criticism in Oklahoma will mean much to the Band and to the director when they play in Denton.

The Band has been preparing these contests and concert selections for a month or more and have them pretty well in hand. So be sure and come on out and hear them when they present their concert.

The program for the concert will be announced later. So watch your local paper.

Burk Jaycees Slate Donations of Blood

The Burkburnett Jaycees have volunteered to contribute blood to the blood bank at the Wichita Falls Chapter of the Red Cross.

Five Jaycees made their contributions last Monday, Feb. 20. They were: Chris Morris, Cliff Wampler, Howard Clement, W. P. Boydston, and Jim Frye.

The remainder of the membership will make their contributions in monthly intervals beginning March 20.

Each contribution was a pint of blood.

Ramblin' Around

By H. C. D.

The big cat, the leopard that escaped the zoo in Oklahoma City, is no more. After sixty hours of freedom he returned to his cage, ate a big bait of horse meat spiked with goof balls, turned up his heels and departed for the harp country.

They say he died from pneumonia. Perhaps he did.

I rather believe he died of humiliation. There were spots before his eyes—and he wasn't looking in a mirror or at his lady love. Those goof balls put him on quite a jag. He was tricked—as lots of males are—by food—roped like a common range doggie and dragged into his cage by the tail. It was just too much for a proud cat.

Now they are giving him a second stuffing—this time by a taxidemiist. His fame was of short duration; his fortune a splitting headache from goof balls.

The Jaycees, recently organized here, are really up an' at 'em. They are putting signs up at the principal entrances to the city, telling folks what burg this is and that they are welcome. That's good.

They are doing more than that. They are giving their life's blood for their town. Each one is giving a pint of blood to the Red Cross blood bank at Wichita Falls. In the past it has been hard for Burk to keep their account at the bank balanced. With more than 60 pints of blood to our credit, we will now be able to have our drafts honored immediately.

Double parking on Main St. by trucks may be a thing of the past in a few days. Merchants all up and down the main drag say they don't want the imposition to go on any longer. Now we will get some where. The City Council will be called on to take action. The request will no doubt be acted upon favorably. Truck drivers who have been enjoying such privileges won't like it. But customers to stores who find one truck taking up three or more parking spaces will like to see them put off Main into the alleys where they belong.

Companies having trucks making deliveries here can be notified to instruct their drivers to use our alleys. If the drivers don't comply Big Boy Bartley has hotel space near the water tower.

The Senior C. of C. is not asleep either. Moves are being taken to get building contractors interested here. Contacts have been made with a large building contractor and he says when enough folks are ready he will move in and start building.

A large contractor can't afford to move a lot of heavy equipment in for just a few houses. They operate on the assembly line principle. Now if recent new lot purchasers are ready to get down to business, now is the time to start the ball rolling.

The calendar says the fish will be jumping into the boat for the next few days, but the weather man threatens to do his demerol to keep that from happening. Sometimes I wonder about those fishing cards. How can they tell a year in advance when fish will be hungry.

Grace Lutheran Church Dedicated In Sun. Services

Dedication of the recently completed Grace Lutheran Church building was observed in impressive services held last Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

THESE CRAZY PEOPLE!

A Minnesota farmer sold 160,000 pounds of potatoes to the government at $1.46 per hundred weight, then bought them back for livestock feed at 1 cent per hundred weight. The potatoes never left his farm. This is under the government program to reduce surplus stores that might rot in the bin.

During this last fall and winter our country imported five million bushels of Canadian potatoes, when the native potato market was so over-loaded they didn't know what to do with them. Canadian potatoes cost less here.

Our government has the potato subsidy that buys American grown potatoes to hold up the price. With a surplus of 40 million potato bushels, they will pour a contaminating dye on them, sell them back to the farmer for fertilizer at two cents a bushel. The dye costs one cent a bushel. The same farmer who buys them back, was paid, on the average, $1.10 a bushel.

The consumer buying potatoes at the supported price is the taxpayer who helps the government keep the price up, at least enough above the level of Canadian potatoes that they can be shipped to Louisiana and Florida for less than American grown spuds. Now, if all of this doesn't add up to crazy kind of planning, nothing does. And, with the government's help, farmers will grow another surplus potato crop this year!

The Belittler Gives Himself Away

It takes courage to admire people openly. Craven minds tend to shy away from calling attention to the good points of others for fear of obscuring their own. Have you never heard a woman say, in a tone of thinly veiled contempt, "She's a rather pretty looking little person," or "What a nice little dress you're wearing." Patronizing, belittling, damning with faint praise—don't you know such persons?

These are the women—and men, too—who believe that by patting others on the shoulder with a downward movement they will add enormously to their own stature. And all the time they're scared to death for fear someone will find out how unimportant they themselves are—as if everyone didn't know it. An inferiority sense that tries to escape from its self-torment by belittling others will tell tales every time.

Sarah Comstock in YOUR LIFE

CHERISH THE THOUGHT

A bright columnist notes the fact that the Senate's adoption of a resolution for election of a President shows that "the World do move." Howard Brubaker observes in a magazine article that: "The electoral college system has been a failure only 160 years, and Congress has already begun to notice it."

That scheme is nearly as clumsy and slow in getting a President as the District of Columbia is in getting into the Government of the United States, particularly with the rights of residents to vote.

It might be observed that the Government of the United States is a great big bungling affair.

SO LONG, FEBRUARY

Now we begin to see the effort of nature at work. It began with the flow of sap in the dead of winter, where roots lie in the dark underground. Where much of winter was extremely mild, flowering things have already rushed to proclaim their living cells. The rising sap, the pumping cells, the process of osmosis, brings pressure to bear. Nature pours forth buds and blossoms. The sharp bitterness of cold days will soon go. March will hold an early rising sun. Floods come from swollen rivers accompanying by low mists and edgy air. But February passes and ahead lies the joy of spring donning her floral cap and cape.

This Calls For Some Action

A senator states that there are at least fifty-seven people carrying Communist membership cards, who are on the payroll of our State Department. We cannot be certain that such is true, but it is a statement that should be investigated, a challenge to our Secretary of State. It is for the good of the country that such an accusation should not be passed over as idle chatter, political so-wat. It should be looked into, and if the senator can prove his statement, there should be some rapid removals in the State Department.

Texas Water Code Committee to Meet

Senators Rogers Kelley, of Edinburg, and George Moffett, of Chillicothe, the Chairman of Texas Water Code Committee and the Steering Sub-Committee, respectively, announced in Austin today that the next Regional Meetings of the Committee will be held in Amarillo on March 20, in Wichita Falls on March 21, and in Stamford on March 22. All citizens in Northwest Texas who are concerned with Water Conservation and Reclamation will be given an opportunity to present their problems to the Committee at these meetings.

The Committee has decided to hold two more Regional Hearings—one in Dallas and one in Houston—following the Northwest Texas meetings before May 1st. After that date no more Regional meetings will be held and the Committee will devote its energies to the preparation of its report and recommendations for submission at the next regular session of the Legislature. Several state-wide meetings will probably be held in Austin during the year as progress is made on the report and as particular problems are encountered.

The Committee expects to have its report and recommendations ready for publication by November 15.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

25,550 CHICKS STARTED, 25,144 RAISED

Chick mortality at the Ralston Purina Research Farm is extremely low, records for a calendar year show, when 25,550 chicks were started with 98.41 per cent, or 25,144, raised, it was announced recently.

In one lot of 2,000 chicks moved from the brooder house at 6 weeks of age, the livability was 99.6%. These were fall chicks, generally regarded as more difficult to raise.

Purina researchers in charge of the poultry unit say this record of low mortality was possible only because they used good chicks, followed good practices in management and sanitation, and because the feed supplied was adequate for the needs of the chicks.

The important factor about this record of high livability, Purina officials point out, lies in the fact that experiments in building Chick Startern and Broiler Chow rations have not been handicapped by either disease or mismanagement.

Send your questions about livestock or poultry problems to FARM FACTS, 835 South Eighth Street, St. Louis 2, Missouri. Questions will be answered without charge, either by mail or in this column, as a service of this newspaper.

Model Airplane Club to Meet Friday Night

There will be a meeting Friday night, March 3, at Richmond Jewelry Store at 7:30 for the purpose of organizing a Model Airplane Club in Burkburnett. All those interested in any way in this popular sport are cordially invited to attend. For some time Burkburnett has been coming under the spell of the model airplane hobby. Several boys have built and flown their planes here. A suitable place for the boys to meet and fly their planes is needed. The grounds at the High school have been used, but electric lines and crowded space makes this place dangerous. The sport can be dangerous for onlookers, especially for little ones who do not realize what one of those midgets zooming 150 miles per hour would do to them if they should get hit by one. The planes are built to scale model, and are powered by thimble size gasoline motors which operate on a semi-diesel principle. These tiny motors ordinarily run in sizes from one tenth to nine tenths horse power, and at a speed of from 7,000 to 18,000 revolutions per minute . . . which is really traveling. The speed of the planes varies from around 40 to 160 miles per hour. The planes are controlled in flight by a pair of tiny steel cables, and it requires a lot of skill to fly one. Usually the first few attempts wind up disastrous and the pieces of the plane are gathered up and glued back together, ready for another flight.

The Burkburnett Jaycees met at the Town Hall Monday night, February 27 at 7:00 P. M. for supper. This was the first supper the Jaycees had enjoyed together. Beginning February 27, every other Monday night will be supper night. The Mondays in between will be nights that officers and committee chairmen meet to discuss all business at hand. The members of the band included Pfc. James Hall, Pfc. Theodore "Little" Sharpless and Pfc. Albert Freeman. Cpl. Hammond gave a comedy skit which included the eating of lighted matches and cigarettes. After the entertainment, Tom Wheeler of the Vernon Jaycee Chapter and also 13th District Commander of the American Legion gave an enlightening talk on the Veteran's angle of the Hoover Commission Report.

The original twenty members of the Jaycee Chapter divided into four 5-man teams to solicit memberships. It was agreed at that time, that the team soliciting the most new members would be treated to a free supper. The winning team was honored at this meeting. They were: D. L. Patton, Captain, Wendell Goins, Charles Goins, Braack Preston, Jr., and Ed Smith. This team solicited 16 of the 37 new members.

Cliff Wampler introduced five new members: Dink Hudson, Fred Stone, Robert Sauzek, Glenn Donaldson, and Woodrow Wright. Jaycee President Gene Robertson introduced the standing committees to new membership. Geo. Ingle reported on a Youth Activity Committee project to give a free show for children in Burkburnett up to and including twelve years of age, in the near future. Officers and Board of Directors approved a project presented by D. L. Patton, chairman of the Publicity Committee, to purchase steel sign posts and erect them on the three principal highway entrances to Burkburnett. SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

The difference in a fisherman's luck is often only the difference between a well designed hook and a poor one. The importance of using good hooks, efficiently shaped, and of keeping them needle sharp cannot be overemphasized.

Unfortunately, most anglers judge hooks as they do women — by pretty curves. But commercial fishermen, who cannot afford to indulge in such aesthetic notions, know better. They use mainly hooks with the nearest thing to a plain round bend that they can find, and with the back of the point parallel to the shank.

According to Jason Lucas, whose book on bass is bible to many fishermen, this parallel point is undoubtedly the best for setlines; but for angling, where one must drive home the barb at just the right instant, he prefers a hook with a very slight out point. In penetrating tissue deeply, this is not so efficient as a parallel point — but it starts in faster instead of sliding from the fish's mouth without pricking him.

A hollow point will penetrate better than a spear point. In some hooks, an inward turn of the point or barb gives the illusion of a true hollow point, but it doesn't give as good results. Watch out for that.

When fishing, test your hooks frequently for sharpness by passing the ball of the thumb lightly down behind the barb — not across the top of it. If the point doesn't dig in easily, it is too dull.

For sharpening hooks at home use a small half-round file of "smooth" cut. When out fishing, carry one of the small whetstones made for the purpose.

For that first quick penetration, always sharpen from the inside and sides of the point only. Never touch the back except to remove a "wire edge." However, some people like a very slight wired edge for the first quick start in. Keep the side of your stone or file almost parallel to the tip to make a long, thin point which will, naturally, penetrate much better than a snubbiner point.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

The fence and its shadow in this picture form a beautiful "S" curve to lead your eye right to the distant buildings.

Make Composition Work for You

I've noticed that whenever my photographic friends get to discussing pictures, the conversation invariably gets around to the subject of composition. Just what is this composition thing that is so interesting to camera fans? And how important is it in our ordinary snapshotting?

Composition can be defined very simply as the arrangement of the elements within a picture. When these elements are arranged in a pleasing manner, we have a picture that is interesting to look at. Naturally, then, it is important in ordinary snapshotting. We all want snapshots that are pleasing to the eye.

One of the first rules of composition is this: make each picture tell just one story. If you are taking a picture of pretty little cousin Mary, don't include half the front yard, the neighbor's garage, assorted lilac bushes, and passing automobiles. Move in close to where you get a picture of her. Avoid distracting elements.

Secondly, you'll want to keep your main point of interest away from the exact center of the picture. That spot is the most static position possible. Move it off a little to one side or the other.

If you examine any picture closely, you will notice that it is composed of lines, and masses of light and dark tones. By the manner in which you arrange these lines or masses you can again influence the effectiveness of your picture.

The lines in a picture can be smooth curves, such as created by a hillside fence or a winding stream and these frequently will form the old reliable "S" curve that is such a classic among photographers. Or they can be straight lines such as you might find in architecture. But straight or curved, their function should be to subtly lead the eye toward your center of interest.

With the masses or tones, the principle consideration is to keep them reasonably equalized and properly distributed throughout the scene. If this is done, the eye senses a nice balance and the picture is pleasant to look at.

This brief summary, I believe, does bear out our original contention—that composition is merely a matter of arrangement. And it is arranging that you can do in a matter of a few seconds as you survey a scene or subject in your view finder. If you break composition down into a few workable rules, you're certain to improve the pictures you take.

for our sins and its meaning for us. These hours of worship will begin at 7:30 P. M. The theme of the sermon at the first of these Lenten meditations will be, The Cross calls us to Repentance. If you have no church home in Burkburnett, if you are looking for a church home, we invite you to come, worship with us.

What Does Christ Want Preach

When Jesus commissioned his apostles to preach the gospel. Mark records Him to them: "Go ye into all the world, and preach to every creature." Mark 16:15: Thus they were in their preaching to the things embraced in the gospel. They were not allowed to preach anything not in the gospel. On one occasion Paul said: "For necessity I am compelled to preach the gospel. I might be counted as a fool, but I must preach the gospel. He might preach something else would have placed him in the displeasure of the Lord, for Jesus said concerning the commandments of men." Matt. 23:23 cannot serve God faithfully by preaching just the commandments of men for their sake. If they preach the commandments of men for their sake, their service is vain. Jesus said so, and so it is true.

To preach human philosophy and the traditions of men, therefore, is not to preach the gospel. Such a preacher deceives the hearer and lead him away from the truth. This account the hearer should be very careful to accept in religion. So I am asking you to read the Scriptures and to ask your preacher concerning what he is teaching you. In view of eternity you should be sure your own soul to make this investigation that you are not believing and practicing something unauthorized in the Bible.

Band Observes 1950 Banquet At Town Hall

The annual Band Banquet was given at the Town Hall, Thursday, February 23. The 1950 theme, "Sweethearts Forever," honored Pat Morgan, '50, Arnela Muller, '49 and Francine Johnson, '48.
The Hall was strikingly beautiful in its glamorous dress of gold, green and white. The tables held clusters of greenery and gold leaves with a unique gold heart tree as its centerpiece flanked by white heart candelabras. The highlight of the room was the elaborate stage setting where Sweetheart Pat and her court, Arnela Muller, Francine Johnson, Pamela Stanaland, and Charlotte Johnson were seated. The four attendants were attired in gold and white, wearing sweetheart bonnets and carrying dainty nosegays. Sweetheart Pat was attired in gold lace and net. She was presented a gold and yellow rose bud nosegay by Marlin Parrack and formally introduced. Special guests were introduced by Master of Ceremonies, Leeman Smith, namely: Mr. and Mrs. Max Stanaland, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Don Short, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Morgan, and Blanche Butler, program accompanist.

The invocation was given by Thomas May and a sumptuous dinner was graciously served.
The Love Call, accompanied by Mrs. Tyler, was sung by Sydney Gamblin and Sue Douglas as a sweetheart presentation. The girls also wore identical dresses and bonnets.
Eight heartbeats: Mike Harms, Barbara Sue Jones, Bill Gilbow, Helen Palmer, Jon Bear, Shirleen Richards, Chas. Caffee, and Judy Willingham, delighted everyone with their musical interpretation of Echoes and Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy. Maxine Gibson, as the Dancing Heart, climaxed the rhythmic number.

Cheers and laughter reigned supreme as Earl Mills presented "The Fickle Heart."
A jazz band calling themselves the Racketeers, completely threw the guests into a stage of hysteria with their antics only Spike Jones would envy. The band consisted of Paul Ferguson, Marlin Parrack, Eugene Jenkins, Jim McMurtry, Bill McClarty, and Arnold Story.
To calm the group Pamela Stanaland and Charlotte Johnson sang, Forever and Ever and presented a gold identification bracelet to Sweetheart Pat from the band. Marlin Parrack was formally introduced as band president, and in turn presented Mr. Stanaland a gift in behalf of the band, also a gift to Charlotte Johnson, Band Mascot for three years.

Marlin escorted Pat to the stage front as all stood singing the closing song to her, parody, Girl of My Dreams. Sweetheart of our band we love you, Honest we do, you are so sweet; And if you'll just keep your charms, protect them from harm, your life will be complete. And when you're gone, dear, our Band won't seem the same so please come back again. For after all's said and done, there's only one, Sweetheart of our Band, it's YOU.

Missionary To Speak At Calvary Baptist Sunday

Ten years ago next Sunday, the pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Ray C. Morrow, first came to this church. And tho there was a break of two years in his ministry here, this coming Sunday, March 5th, is set aside for special anniversary services. The part we want to emphasize most, is the featured speaker of the morning services, P. J. Glaser; who, with his wife, is our missionary to Mexico. He will give an account of his work in Mexico, and give God's plan of missionary work. Make plans now to hear this man. You will be profited.
Another special feature of this morning service will be old time organ playing while the choir sings the old favorite hymns. The pastor has tried for a long time to find such an organ, which is antique—and now, thanks to Slim Holman, we have one. Are we going backward? We like it if we are. If you do, come join in this service. There are some real spiritual issues we are trying to call men back to.
The youth choir will have charge of the night song service.
Ray C. Morrow, Pastor

Thank You

The second section of the second grade wish to express our appreciation to the following pupils for singing between the scenes of our annual assembly program last Friday, February 24th: Jan Carey, Pat Kay Inlow, Dona Rose Gibson, Judy Wilson and Judy Hofacket from H 2-3; Mur Ann Elliott and Jeanette Wise, H 2-1; Irma Ned Riley, H 1-2, who acted as flower girl in the "Tiny Tot" wedding.
We also wish to thank the following teachers for their hearty cooperation and help: Miss Wanda Best, Mrs. Murry Rist, Mrs. D. F. Douglas and Mrs. Pauline Evans.
Sincerely, Mrs. Hazel Willis and Pupils of H 2-2.

Basketball Boys Win Bi-District

In a rather complicated play-off between four districts at Denton last Friday and Saturday, Burkburnett won the bi-district championship of Districts 9-A and 12-A.
Burk lost to Bowie in the Friday night game, but came back strong Saturday night to defeat Pleasant Grove of District 12-A. Birdville won the Regional of the four represented districts.
Bowie won bi-district of 9-A and 10-A. Two bi-district champions, a regional champion and Pleasant Grove just went along for the ride.

Water Wells West Of Town Good

In a test of the two wells West of town last week, some 65,000 gallons of water were pumped in thirteen hours. It is reasonable to expect the two wells will produce an extra 100,000 gallons every twenty-four hours if needed this summer. A new chlorinator is being bought to be placed on these wells and should be installed in a few weeks.
City Manager P. A. Wiggins feels that these new wells, together with some more new ones East of town at the water station, will furnish all the water Burkburnett citizens want this summer. Mr. Wiggins said "Tell the folks they may have all the water they want to pay for."

Daily consumption last year in the hot summer months was near 600,000 gallons.
Tom Hamilton has returned from a visit to Hobbs, New Mexico, where he visited his son and wife.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

It's hard to go wrong on a baby picture, for he's cute, no matter what he does.

Effective Baby Pictures

A FRIEND of mine remarked today on a brief news item that he had just seen. "Did you know," he said, "that there were 3 1/2 million babies born in the United States in 1949?" Then he added, "And I'll bet your first reaction is that those youngsters will make 3 1/2 million excellent subjects for snapshots." He was absolutely right.

Babies really do make captivating camera subjects. They don't get stiff and uneasy in front of a camera as so many of their elders do. Whether they are gleeful or unhappy, they are always completely natural. And this, of course, makes the cameraman's job so much easier. With a baby, the only trick is to be ready when he turns loose one of those priceless expressions.

Pictures of the baby can easily be taken indoors, and probably the most convenient method is photo-flash. As you know, flash pictures are almost as easy to take as outdoor snapshots, and that is really a big advantage when it comes to photographing active youngsters.

Some people have worried a bit about the brightness of flash lamps on children's eyes, but such fears are groundless. A flash exposure is about the same as an exposure in sunlight; and, of course, the flash lasts only a small fraction of a second. The only precaution recommended is the use of a transparent screen of some sort over the reflector when the bulbs are being flashed close to the subject. In fact, a handkerchief fastened over the reflector with a rubber band can be used, especially if you wish to soften the light a bit.

By all means, the baby's picture record should be started early. And then, once it is started, it must be kept up with strict regularity. You know how rapidly a baby grows—a week mislaid is a picture lost forever. When the baby gets old enough to sit up by himself, try some of your shots from a low angle—down at baby's level, rather than from above. He will appear much more important in the picture if you shoot it this way. And move in close enough, too. He is tiny; and to show him off to good advantage, you'll want to be up where the camera can really see him.

So, photo fans, if there is one of these new citizens in your family, or even in the neighborhood, put your camera to work. He will be one subject who is just naturally photogenic.

—John van Gulder

Perhaps it should be noted here that the Federal Public Roads Administration considers that Texas has the best system of public highways of any state in the union and counts the Texas Highway Department as being one of the best in the United States.

A good highway system is a mark of progress and most members of the Legislature including myself, intend to favor a continuation of our highway program with special emphasis on Farm-to-Market roads.

Washington News Letter
(By Congressman Ed Gossett)

As predicted in last week's newsletter, the House this week passed the so-called Fair employment Practices Commission bill, (FEPC). The Washington Star headline read: "House Passes Toothless FEPC Bill." While the bill passed by the House was a milk toast affair, it is exceedingly dangerous. Once a Fair Employment Practices Commission is created, it will in some way or another acquire teeth. The agency would be staffed by negroes and radical members of minority groups. They would write administrative rulings and administrative orders and would acquire in one way or another more and more power. The agitation for this legislation has from the beginning been fomented by agitators and trouble makers. The philosophy back of this legislation is totally absurd. It assumes first, that all people are alike and are equal. It assumes secondly, that any segregation is discrimination.

While some good people, of course, favor FEPC, it is curious to note that every communist in America enthusiastically supports such legislation, and of course all of the left wing organizations strongly endorse the movement. When we reach the point where we dictate to a person whom we shall hire and fire, what he shall pay, how and under what conditions promotions are to be made, then our free enterprise system will be as dead as a dodo. What we have left might be called democracy, but it will not be distinguishable from communism.

In this connection, we might note that the Solicitor General of the United States, i. e., the attorney who represents the Department of Justice in matters before the Supreme Court and the Congress, Mr. Philip B. Perlman, is a strong advocate of FEPC. Mr. Perlman is the gentleman primarily responsible for the recent executive order outlawing segregation in public housing projects. He has recently filed briefs in the Supreme Court asking the Court to hold "separate but equal" facilities in Interstate Commerce to be unlawful. His most recent brief is one he filed in the Sweatt case. The Sweatt case, you will recall, comes from Texas. It's the case where a Negro by the name of Sweatt tried to enter the University of Texas. Although this suit is between Texans, and no official business of Mr. Perlman, he interjects himself into the case and files a brief in which he asks the Court to outlaw all segregation in Texas schools. These reds, the professional dogooders, and many misguided idealists contend that even the Negro schools are better and superior to white schools, they still constitute discrimination and should be outlawed. They seek to mongrelize, if not to bastardize Americans.

As this is written the prospects are that the Legislature will finish the job for which it was called within the thirty-day limit established in the constitution for special sessions. The Governor's suggested program for providing the money for the needs of the state's 21 eleemosynary institutions will probably be adopted with only some minor changes. The Governor's program did not call for new sources of taxation. It suggested that increases be made upon many items already taxed, including cigarettes, crude oil, natural gas, sulphur, carbon black, automobile transfers, and gross receipts of utility companies. Texas is still one of the few states which has neither a state income tax nor a general retail sales tax upon everything sold through a store, including bacon, beans and bread. Every state around us has these taxes.

Several attempts have been made to trim down the thirty million dollar Farm-to-Market Road Appropriation passed by the regular session of the Legislature last year. All of these attempts have failed largely because we country boys stuck together and refused to even permit the introduction of these bills to reduce rural road appropriations. The support for these bills came almost entirely from the four larger cities of Texas, led by the Fort Worth delegation.
