Lions Club to Sponsor City House Numbering

House numbering, a project which has been discussed at the Lions club numerous times, was definitely undertaken Tuesday night by the members. The action was taken in an effort to get city mail delivery extended to parts of the city not now served.

Many people have hesitated numbering their homes because they were not sure of the correct number. A committee from the Lions club, Harry Dodson and C. R. (Dick) Chambers, working with Postmaster A. H. Lohofener will work out the correct number of each house in town. This project will require quite a bit of work, but should be completed within the next two weeks.

When the project is worked out, residents will be notified how they can find out their correct number, and will be encouraged to purchase and put up these numbers. It will not be an expensive procedure. A house can be numbered for as little as 15c, or more elaborate numbers may be bought.

According to a Postal Inspector here this week making a survey on the extended mail service, his recommendation will depend upon whether or not a city-wide house numbering campaign is completed. Another deciding factor will be the addition of street markers where none exist now. The Lions club is also undertaking the job of buying additional street markers. Wayne Chambers, C. R. Chambers and Harry Dodson compose the committee to arrange for additional markers. The club has already spent over $600.00 for beautiful, permanent street markers. The City assumed the expense of erecting the markers.

1st Baptist Church Revival Continues

Revival services at The First Baptist Church will continue through Sunday, April 23. Rev. Bob N. Ramsey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Cookeville, Tennessee, is preaching great Bible messages. Mr. Geo. McLellan of Dallas, is leading in the soul-stirring song service each day. Services are being held at 10:00 A. M. and 8:00 P. M. daily. Prayer groups are meeting at 7:30 P. M.

The Sunday School is trying to reach at least 825 in attendance for 9:45 this Sunday morning. This is the enrollment of the school and if the attendance is reached will probably be a record for attendance in this city. Great number of visitors have been going out this week in the interest of the revival and this Sunday School attendance. The pastor and members give a most cordial invitation to everyone who is not attending any Sunday School to come this Sunday and help reach this record attendance.

Attend every service of this old fashioned revival.
T. Lynn Stewart, Pastor

Industrial Boom In Gulf South

One out of every five dollars in contracts awarded for industrial construction in the entire United States last year was let in the Gulf South.

That is the record of industrial expansion in this part of the country and was told in a United Gas advertisement appearing in the next issue of Time Magazine.

Quoting statistics compiled by Engineering News-Record which included only projects costing $68,000 or more, the ad points out that contracts were awarded in 1949 for $201,000,000 of industrial buildings in the area served by United Gas—Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and the areas around Mobile and Pensacola.

The Gulf South total far exceeds contracts awarded in the traditional industrial centers of the nation, half again as much as in Pennsylvania, New York, and New Jersey combined, and more than five times the awards in all of New England.

The ad is one of a series which United Gas has been publishing for more than 11 years to encourage industry to locate in the Gulf South.

Following its appearance in the April 17 issue of Time, which will be distributed about April 14, the two-color page ad will appear in the April 24 issue of Newsweek, April 28 in the United States News, May 6 in Business Week, and in the May issue of Manufacturers Record. It will occupy almost a full page May 16 in The Wall Street Journal in black and white.

The six publications will reach more than 3,000,000 readers, many of whom are the decision-makers of industry. Engineering News-Record, source of the statistics, is a well-known McGraw-Hill publication which obtained its figures from verified reports or resident local reporters all over the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny McDonald and Ben L. are visiting relatives here.

Board Canvassed Election Returns April 6th

Coming as a surprise to many in Burkburnett, voters last Thursday, April 6, voted by an overwhelming majority of nearly three to one for the $275,000 bond issue for the Burkburnett Independent School District. Just before the election, quite a bit of opposition to the bonds was voiced. Just where the opposition was at voting time is not quite certain.

The vote was 293 in favor of the bond issue and 99 against. There were 397 ballots cast in the election, but five were disqualified by the judges because of mutilation.

The Board of Education met in regular session Thursday night, April 6th, and canvassed the election returns and elected the following members: C. A. Morgan, president; George McClarty, vice-president; C. E. Lundberg, secretary.

The Burkburnett Independent School District, located in the Northeast portion of Wichita County, contains an area of 127 square miles including the City of Burkburnett and the Sheppard Air Force Base. The population for 1950 is officially estimated to be 6,000. The scholastic enumeration is 1,044.

Bids on the bonds will be accepted soon, going to the highest qualified bidder.

Plans now are to proceed with plans for the building with the building contract to be let as soon as the bonds are sold.

"Cotton" Moffett Talks to Lions About Cotton

Roy Magers presented Senator Geo. (Cotton) Moffett of Chillicothe, who spoke to the Lions Club Tuesday night on "Cotton". The Senator, who was instrumental in getting a bill through the Texas Legislature to establish a Cotton Research Committee to find new and better ways of utilizing cotton and cotton products, had several samples of cotton products discovered by the Committee. His talk, very instructive and interesting, was cut short to allow those who wished to attend the revival meeting at the First Baptist Church.

In this week's Star, under the heading AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS by Senator Moffett, more may be read about cotton and the Cotton Research Committee.

MAN MAKING RAIN

Human attempts to make rain will no doubt lead to a whole new set of laws to govern the "seeding" of clouds by rain-makers. Clouds that may bring water to dry crops or cities where watersheds are low, may result in the postponement of outdoor building, call off baseball games, reduce shopping. Then will come complaint after complaint which will lead to laws for public protection. Already in a case of planned rain-making in Nevada, officials of Utah threaten to take legal steps to prevent it, because of watering Utah crops. We already have laws to govern water irrigation rights and if rain-making develops into as successful a system, we will have laws to control those seeded clouds.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION

Man defends himself against disease and in order to maintain good health he exercises certain precautions, educates himself on the manner of well-being. He campaigns against the spread of disease and stumps for science to effect a cure.

April is named Cancer Control Month, but fighting cancer is an all-year job. Facilities for the treatment are more effectively distributed than ever before, due to the money raised by various funds, dedicated to the cause. Many deaths from cancer have been prevented because of early diagnosis and treatment, through detection and research. Cancer detection clinics have provided the means of bringing help to those who avail themselves for such a service. Cancer can be either cured or arrested if cared for in time. Medical science fights with the best and latest weapons yet devised, but it needs the public's co-operation to succeed in reducing the cancer scourge.

IT PAYS TO BE POLITE

To reward sales people for courtesy, some firms have bonuses, some customers use "tips". Courtesy is supposed to be a part of a person's make-up as is honesty, is considered essential in a gentleman and gentlewoman. A child is trained to be courteous with the learning of "thank you" and "please". Courtesy is not always easy, especially when needed in dealing with the public thru the medium of selling. Salespeople are daily called upon to face exacting circumstances where being sympathetic and attentive is a drain. The woman who tries on scores of hats and doesn't buy, who tries on shoes and shoes and is "only looking", who tries shoes and shoes and "will look around", tests a clerk's patience. Courtesy is an important factor in business, to the store, the shopper, but especially to the salesperson. Courtesy can be its own reward without tips and bonuses to repay it. Courtesy brings satisfied customers and that brings more business and more business should mean advancement for the courteous salesperson. We have long felt that tipping has helped to break down courtesy in service. An employer should pay help enough that they need not depend upon the customers gratuity to meet the salary. This tends to make courtesy something that is purchased through charity. Courtesy is a part of every job, not a tap that is turned off and on as running water, only when it is going to pay off.

Five "Don'ts" For Kite Flying Kids

Five "don'ts" for boys and girls who fly kites were outlined today by Jim Ady, Texas Electric Service Company manager. He cautioned parents to warn their children about the dangers of flying kites near electric wires and declared that few youngsters realize the dangers in this innocent pastime.

His five "don'ts" are:

- "Don't fly kites near electric lines.
- "Don't use wire or metallic cord for kite strings.
- "Don't use metal or wire in the kite frames.
- "Don't fly kites in the rain. Even a wet cotton string will carry electricity.
- "Don't try to remove a kite caught in wires.
- "Youngsters who fly kites have been careful in the past and we've had no serious mishap in years, but each year, over the nation, there are many cases of injuries, some serious, to kite flyers.
- "If a kite gets tangled in the wires, don't try to get it down by climbing a pole or using a long stick. Call the electric company and a lineman will rescue the kite if it can be saved."

Lida Jane Hayden Is Bride Of William S. Wood

On April 10, a double-ring ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Rock Creek Parish, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Lida Jane Hayden exchanged wedding vows with William S. Wood. The pastor, Rev. Charles W. Wood, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Magruder of Washington. Mr. Wood's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wood of Burkburnett.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an afternoon suit of turquoise satin, beige velvet cloche with shoulder veil and beige satin slippers. Her strand of matched pearls was the wedding gift of the groom. She carried a white prayer book with a corsage of roses and a shower of lily of the valley love-knots.

The matrons of honor were Mrs. Charles H. Gilbert of Washington and the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. William H. Magruder of Milford, Massachusetts. They were attired identically in ballerina gowns of pink taffeta with overskirts and Etons of white organdy embroidered with white daisies. They wore half-hats of pink net trimmed with rosebuds and carried old fashioned nosegays. The mother of the bride was attractively gowned in a dusty rose crepe afternoon frock and wore a matching satin cloche.

Mr. Arthur L. Voorhees was the best man and ushers were the brother of the bride, Mr. William Henry Magruder, and her son, Abbott Hayden.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in St. Paul's Parish House, after which the family and a few close friends gathered at the home of the bride's parents to toast the bride and groom.

The newlyweds are motoring to Burkburnett, Texas, to visit the groom's parents. They will be at home in Houston, Texas, after the first of May.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Douglas and Sue spent the week end visiting relatives in Austin.

Easter guests in the C. C. Gilbert home were: Mrs. Floyd Gladden of Cortez, Colo., Richard Gladden, student at John Tarlton, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of Jacksboro, and Miss Mabel Gladden of Ptst Oak.

Mrs. C. M. Archer visited her family in Frederick, Oklahoma, last week.

Mary Evelyn Sites, student at Denton, visited her parents during the Easter holidays.

Ramblin' Around

By H. C. D.

I was talking with a fellow the other day about the way Burkburnett is growing and what a good town it is. He said it was as big as he wanted it to be. He was well satisfied with everything just as it is. I love Burkburnett. I love its people, but I hope I'm never blinded to needed improvements. I hope that I am never so lazy, or so incapacitated that I will not or can not work for my town, to help it grow and help it get more of the things we like it for. We need, oh, so many things. More streets and sidewalks, more street lights, more business buildings, more little and big residences, more clean alleys, more trees, more shrubs and more pretty yards with flowers. One could go on and on. Satisfied? How could any one be with so much to be done.

Speaking of flowers. I received my first bouquet recently, when I was not in a hospital or otherwise horizontal with some ailment. I am feeling fine, yet I got a nice Easter pot plant. I came up on two Burk ladies near the Cashion corner with a big flat. I changed the tire for them and forgot about it until the next day — The flowers came to the office with a card which simply read, "For changing my tire." That was a very nice way of saying "Thank you." Now to that lady, "Thank you."

Parking on busy main street is improving. A check up and down the main drag shows very little line straddling. The double-parkers are also decreasing partly through their consideration for others and partly because they get embarrassed when a string of cars behind them set down on the horns 'til they move.

How about a guess on the population of Burkburnett? It won't be long until the census figures are revealed, but we still have time for a little guessing game. A VERY NICE GIFT awaits the one guessing nearest to the correct figure. The gift and its sponsor will be announced next week. Just drop a card or letter in the Post Office, Burk Star, Box 306, with your guess. Sign your name so the judges will know who you are. A check will be mailed to you if you win.

No one can deny Burkburnett has made progress in the past two years. In your opinion what are the three best, most needed improvements made? We would like to hear from you.

Along the same line of thought what are the three most needed improvements now? Write in your suggestions. The best will be published with your permission.

The boys and girls who received baby chickens from the merchants of town should get in touch with their sponsors. One of the slips of paper you got listed your sponsor. They want to meet you, become better acquainted with you.

Twenty-seven boys and girls received some 1,350 baby chicks which they will care for and make monthly reports on to their sponsors. This should help bring about some lasting friendships. The merchant is interested in you and your baby chicks and wants to help you with them. Go by and see your sponsor at your earliest convenience.

The clouds this morning are very encouraging in their promise of rain. As we go to press it looks like we may get that much needed rain. Everything is so dry it would take a two-inch falling slowly to get the job done. Wheat, that which the green bugs left, is suffering for moisture. Every living growing thing needs water now.

Methodist W.S.C.S. Met Mon. at Church

The Women's Society of Christian Service met at the First Methodist Church, Monday, April 10th.

The meeting opened by singing, Sweet Hour of Prayer, after which Mrs. Bunstine led in prayer. Mrs. Reger had charge of the program, "Reason for Missions", and introduced the new study book, Missions at the Grass Roots. The first chapter, Where Do Missions Begin? was given by Mrs. Prinzing. "Cooperation for a Christian Nation Today" is our theme, and "Again Pioneers" is the supplementary text. Mrs. Reger gave The Voice of History.

Mrs. Schoch dismissed the following with prayer: Mesdames Reger, Prinzing, Caution, Minga, Rigby, Lawler, Bunstine, Cook, Morris and Schoch.

Mrs. Ida Reynolds of Burk is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. H. Barker in Fort Worth this week.

Underwood - Wood Vows Recited Here Sunday Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wood announce the marriage of their grand daughter, Joyce Laverne Wood to Mr. Raymond Underwood, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Underwood, Sr., of Randlett, Oklahoma.

The couple exchanged vows Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Calvary Baptist Church here, with the pastor, Rev. Ray C. Morrow, officiating.

The couple's only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Underwood, brother and sister-in-law of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Underwood have established their home at 207 Seymour St. in Wichita Falls.

The First Baptist Church invites you to follow the crowd to the Sunday School this Sunday at 9:45 A. M. The Sunday School workers are trying to reach at least 825 in attendance. Help us reach that goal. Get the thrill of seeing great numbers of people in Bible study. Join the large number of people who are coming. Regular classes will be held but will be dismissed ten minutes earlier in order for the people to attend a great evangelistic service.

Mrs. Lois Weller and children of New Orleans visited her mother, Mrs. Dave Holtzen over the week end.

4-H Forestry Champions Know Woodlot Potential

One of 1949's state 4-H Club forestry champions and an advisor examine young pines that started him out on a career. Four-H forestry lessons will later pay dividends in cash crops harvested on well-managed farm woodlots.

As an incentive to local farm boys and girls to turn their small timber tracts into money-making properties, annual scholarships of $300 each are being offered again this year to the 4-H Club forestry project. All 4-H Club members, working under Service supervision and enrolled during the current year in the 4-H forestry project, are eligible to compete for national awards.

As in previous years, top awards will be made on a sectional basis to the boy or girl having the best forestry record in each of the four Extension Service sections of the Nation. In addition to the scholarships, national winners will be given all-expense-paid trips to the 29th National 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago, November 26-30 inclusive. Medals will be awarded to each state winner.

This is the third consecutive year American Forest Products Industries, a national non-profit association of wood-dependent industries, has sponsored the 4-H Club forestry project. In the past two years' competition, eight of the college scholarships and free trips have been won by farm youths from the states of Arkansas, Georgia, Idaho, Montana, New York and Wisconsin, the latter two states having had national winners.

"It is most gratifying to see a surge of interest in forestry being shown by 4-H Club members everywhere," declared Charles H. Lett, managing director of Forest Products Industries, in announcing the association's sponsorship of the scholarship program for 1950. "These young people are learning the basic fundamentals of timber management and the value of the forest to the farm and the nation. Certainly this means greater progress in private forestry management in the next few years, an ever increasing wood supply for the Nation and the world."

The local county extension agent will supply detailed information on the 4-H forestry project and the awards awaiting those who excel in forestry.

There are as many definite color preferences among buying automobiles today as there are climatic variations in the United States. Authority for this is the General Motors "color preference" study, which periodically tests the "color preference" of the south and southwest (Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas), the present liking among car buyers for grey and sand-colored shades with the darker blues and running second in choice. Greens are third with blues what the buying public wants in car colors was dramatized in a series of exhibits at GM's "Mid-Century Motor Show" in New York City.

Question: How can nutritional scours in calves be kept down? Answer: To keep nutritional scours in calves down, watch all these points: 1. Feed limited amounts of milk for 30 days rather than over-feeding on milk.

Question: Why should dairy cows be fed a special ration during the dry period? Answer: It is especially important that the dry cow be fed a special grain ration high in minerals and vitamins, since a high producing cow is unable to consume enough feed nutrients to nourish the unborn calf, produce a heavy flow of milk, and keep up her body.

WATCH FOR OPENING NEW BURK THEATRE

Washington News Letter

(By Congressman Ed Gossett)

Our House Committee on Immigration reports out hundreds of private bills each session. These bills are to adjust immigration matters that cannot be adjusted under existing laws. This week, we had a most interesting case; that of Mrs. Ethel Knauff. Mrs. Knauff was born in Germany. In 1934 she married a Czech and moved to Czechoslovakia. In 1936 she divorced the Czech and went to work for a leather goods firm in Czechoslovakia. In 1938, after Hitler's invasion of Czechoslovakia, she escaped to England, along with her employers, with Czechoslovakian passports. And shortly thereafter she worked for the British Red Cross. In 1941 she enlisted in the Royal Air Force as a WAAF. She was carefully screened by the British Intelligence and had the highly important duty of helping to map bomb targets in Germany. All of her people were exterminated by the Nazis. After the war she was given an honorable discharge and was decorated for her services. She then became a civilian employee of the American Army in Germany. Again, she was screened by Army Intelligence and placed in a highly responsible position. About a year ago she married an American soldier who had a good war record. After being screened by Immigration officials she started for America as a war bride with all appropriate documents. She was stopped at Ellis Island. After being questioned by an Immigration Inspector she was told she could not enter the United States.

To date she has been held for 8 months and has never been told what the charges against her are, or why she cannot enter. The chairman of our subcommittee on Immigration, Mr. Francis Walter, of Pennsylvania, introduced a private bill to permit this American war bride to come into this country. Immigration officials and State Department officials refused to tell our committee why they were going to deport Mrs. Knauff. On Monday we had Mrs. Knauff brought before our committee. In the presence of the Chief Counsel for the Immigration Service and State Department officials, she made an excellent witness in her own behalf. We asked them to question her and they refused. They again refused to disclose the nature of the charges against her. Our committee cannot compel these government officials to testify and we have no way of securing testimony detrimental to Mrs. Knauff. We therefore reported out her bill and expect to pass it through the Congress unless these officials who claim they know something will come before our committee and talk. We have offered to let them testify off the record in Executive Session. This means their testimony would be confidential. Still, they say in effect, "this is none of your business—we will send her back anyway." We feel that even an alien, especially the wife of an American veteran with a good record, has the right to know the nature of the charges against her.

Two cases were argued before the Supreme Court this week which may make history. One was the Henderson case. In this case, a negro has asked the Supreme Court to outlaw the "separate though equal facilities" doctrine. The second is the famous Sweatt case from Texas. This is the case in which a negro seeks to enter the University of Texas law school. The courtroom was filled with negroes. Able negro lawyers supported by the Department of Justice are asking the Court to hold that "separation is discrimination" and violates the 14th Amendment. These negroes contend that if the University of Texas had a negro law school on one side of the street and a white law school on the other side of the street, even though the negro school had better buildings and a better faculty, the mere fact that negroes were excluded from the white law school would be a violation of the law. They are asking the Supreme Court to overrule Texas laws and the decisions of Texas courts. If the Supreme Court decides these cases in behalf of the negroes, then all segregation of races anywhere in the United States becomes illegal.

These cases grow out of hypocritical politics. They are exceedingly dangerous. Politicians in the government have succeeded in outlawing segregation in the armed forces; they have outlawed segregation in public housing; and the Department of the Interior has just announced that beginning this season all of the swimming pools under their supervision will be operated on a non-segregated basis. This week too, the Armed Forces have lifted the quota provisions against negro enlistments. In due time they may mongrelize and destroy the caliber if not the morale of American fighting forces. This is indeed a tragedy for all races. These things would not at this time be happening but for the political power of racial minorities in the big States and in the big cities of the big States. The Yankee politicians in both major parties do these things to get the minority votes in New York City, Chicago, and Detroit. This is one of the compelling reasons why I am so anxious to get the Lodge-Gossett amendment submitted and adopted for abolishing the Electoral College system of electing Presidents. If and when we can effect this reform it will take away the tremendous political advantage these minorities have and will remove most of the drive behind dangerous movements to mongrelize the American people.

Newspapers Get Pat From Doctor

A highly placed state official has given Texas newspapers a pat on the back.

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, veteran of more than 13 years as head of the State Department of Health, called the Texas press a "more potent force in mass public education," and said his department invariably turns in that direction as the first means of reaching the people with information on health subjects.

"Texas newspaper editors and reporters have very consistently shown an awareness of public health problems and have given unstintingly of much valuable space to stories relating to public health," Cox said.

"I can define public health in three words—mass public education," the health official said. "Without newspaper co-operation such education is literally an unobtainable ideal."

Pointing out the custom of rural people to read their local weekly or semi-weekly thoroughly, Cox said he was especially happy that these papers used state and local health department releases.

"It's one of the most valuable services a paper can render its readership, but then maybe I'm a bit prejudiced," he observed.

Radio is an especially valuable outlet for information relating to venereal diseases, Cox indicated, because of the availability of professionally prepared recordings on the subject. More than 100 Texas stations have used the recordings during the past year.

On the same theme, Dr. Cox said well over 600,000 persons have seen the Department produced motion picture short subject "What's the Disease?" in which syphilis information is presented.

AUSTIN Highlights

By Senator "Cotton" George Moffett

Cotton is grown by more farmers than any other crop in the United States and a strong market demand for cotton is necessary for the continued prosperity of cotton farmers and other people in the cotton growing states. If a market could be found for at least four million bales more American cotton each year, an acreage reduction program and its headaches would not be necessary. Thru scientific research, cotton can not only hold its present markets and find new ones, but can also regain some of the markets it has lost to synthetic fibers, most of which have been discovered solely by scientific research.

In 1941, it was my privilege to introduce and pass a bill through the Texas Legislature which established the Texas Cotton Research Committee, a permanent organization which has authority to employ scientific experts to discover new ways of using cotton. Not much was done during the war. Since 1946 definite progress has been made. All of the other cotton states combined have not done as much as Texas. However, the Federal Government has done good work. It is conservatively estimated that scientific research efforts down to this date have either retained a market for cotton that was about to be lost, or have created a new market for at least a million bales of American cotton.

Currently, Texas Cotton Research experts at Lubbock are experimenting with a new high speed tricotton machine which produces five hundred courses per minute. This machine was originally invented by a manufacturer of synthetics but the Texas Cotton Research experts have devised a method of treating cotton yarn so that the new machine can use cotton as well or better than synthetics. This probably will result in cotton recapturing much of the market which it has lost to synthetics in the field of knitted goods. One special advantage of the new machine, aside from its high speed, is that the knitted cotton fabric which it turns out does not ravel even when cut on the bias, and that is a highly significant point, as every housewife knows. This new process may prove to be the most helpful discovery for increasing cotton consumption that has been made in many years.

Texas Cotton Committee experts are also developing markets for non-woven cotton. And among them are the cotton plastic laminates which are suitable for wall boards and panel strips. Another outstanding non-woven cotton product is a highly efficient dust and polishing cloth which has numerous household uses.

The Texas Cotton Research Committee has also developed a new process by which forty-five pounds more oil can be extracted from a ton of cotton seed than by any other known process. Since New Year's Day, 1950, this process has actually been put into operation on a practical commercial basis, and it will ultimately add several million dollars in value each year to the cotton seed produced by Texas farmers.

In conclusion, I would say that just as "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," so is "Continued intensive scientific research the key to broader markets for cotton and permanent prosperity for cotton growers and those with whom they trade."

COCCIDIOSIS TO CHICKS
Coccidiosis — an acute disease caused by one-cell or two-cell coccidia—attacks growing birds on a large scale at this time most frequently occurring in the spring and early summer.

Usually strikes between two and three months old. Climatic conditions have a great influence on a coccidiosis. Wet, warm, changeable weather is particularly favorable to its spread.

Onset Sudden
The form of coccidiosis appears in the flock suddenly. Affected birds may lose appetite, appear listless, huddle near where it is warm, and show other symptoms of infection. The first positive symptom of cecal coccidiosis is usually bloody droppings. These come from hemorrhaging of the ceca (blind intestinal sacs), where the infection localizes.

Chicks with poor gizzards are especially susceptible to coccidiosis. Impacted gizzards are often caused by lack of water consumption. As a result, when food passes into the gizzard it is not properly broken down for digestion. Instead, it passes into the intestines and scrapes intestinal walls, causing extreme bleeding. This is when bloody droppings are likely to be found.

Check Outbreak Immediately
Cecal coccidiosis may spread swiftly through the flock. In the event of an outbreak, the flock owner should act immediately to check the spread. This may be accomplished by giving the flock certain arsenic compounds (such as 3-nitro 4-hydroxy phenyl-arsonic acid) or certain sulfas. Both of these families of drugs have proved effective in controlling cecal coccidiosis.

Sanitary precautions also are highly important in controlling outbreaks of cecal coccidiosis, as well as in preventing them. In either case, the poultry house or yard should be kept as clean and dry as possible.

Water founts and feed hoppers should be kept clean and sanitary. During an outbreak, disinfect them at least once daily. And stir up litter of the house.

Through careful sanitation and management the poultry raiser can contribute greatly to the control of this damaging disease.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Gabby Enjoys Going to The Dentist

One of my molars was giving me a bad time Tuesday afternoon, so I slipped over to Doc Jones, hoping to catch him free. When I arrived, Gabby Jackson was sitting there reading a magazine. I said hello to Gabby and he nodded.

Doc comes out and says I'm next. "Wait a minute," I says. (My tooth seemed to have stopped aching.) "How about Gabby—doesn't he have an appointment?" Doc smiles and says, "Gabby? Why, he's got the finest teeth in the county. He just comes up here and reads the magazines whenever he's in town!"

As Doc went to work he told me that he's glad to have Gabby come up and read magazines... they might not all be fresh off the newsstand, but if Gabby—or anyone wants to while away some time who is he to stand in their way?

From where I sit, this "live and let live" spirit helps make America what it is. If I prefer a friendly glass of beer with my supper and you prefer milk—who's to say one's right and the other wrong?

Baptist Church
Scene For Jones-Cotham Wedding

Simplicity was the keynote of the wedding ceremony read Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church chapel at Burkburnett to unite in marriage Miss Sue Cotham and Dr. George W. Jones. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cotham of Vernon, former residents of Electra. The groom is a son of C. V. Jones of Taft.

Rev. T. Lynn Stewart, pastor, officiated in the marriage rites. For the exchange of wedding vows the couple stood at the altar where white floral arrangements and lighted white tapers provided a nuptial setting of unusual beauty. Miss Kay Morrison, pianist, provided the nuptial medley and the traditional wedding march and recessional.

The bride was lovely in a cocktail-length frock of champagne colored lace with matching accessories. She carried a white prayer book topped with a corsage of brown orchids.

Following the wedding, the couple was honored at a reception given at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. A. Reed in Burkburnett. Mrs. Roger R. Jones of Washington, D. C., sister of the bride, attended the beautifully appointed bride's table to aid in serving the wedding cake.

Dr. and Mrs. Jones departed for an extended honeymoon trip to Mexico City and Acapulco and plan to return to McKinney to establish residence.

In Wichita Falls, the bride recently was honored with a kitchen shower given at the home of Mrs. C. L. Hunn, 2136 Ave. G with Mrs. G. S. Yates and Mrs. C. A. Reed, Burkburnett, sharing hostess duties.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Skipwith and daughters, Betty and Sue of Oklahoma City, and Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sutton and Susan of College Station were Easter visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Skipwith.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young of Lubbock, and Mrs. Pete Duboy, Joan and Barbara Lynn of Tyler, were here for the Easter holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Milford and other relatives.

Our Annual Conference is just a little more than one month away, and we will be making plans for our church for the next Conference Year.

The contractor has begun work on the second phase of our repair program which will include new doors, repair on all windows, fixing the cracks in the brick walls, and caulking all the windows.

If there are those who haven't made a pledge on this repair program who would like to have a part in putting our church in first class condition, they should see Mr. Virgil Brookshear at the First National Bank.

Our church had the largest attendance on Easter Sunday it has had in many years. The balcony was full and chairs were placed in the foyer. Seven babies were dedicated in Christian baptism, and seven people united with the church.

Come to church Sunday. You need the church. The church needs you.
