Announcement

As a businessman of Burkburnett, I am aware of the needs, opportunities, and obligations of this fast growing municipality and am announcing my candidacy for the office of City Councilman in order to fulfill my sincere concern for the further growth and expansion of my TOWN.

I have no formal platform worked out but recognize as the greatest needs for Burkburnett to be: First, expansion of the facilities and utilities for potential Burkburnettites; Second, improvement of the safety rules, regulations, and enforcement of these rules and regulations; Third, improve relations between the citizens of Burkburnett and the personnel of Sheppard Air Force Base. I thank you for your consideration.

Did Councilmen Underestimate Needs?

Quite a bit of discussion is being made concerning the approaching Water Dept. Improvement Revenue Bond election to be held April 3rd, along with an election to select two councilmen.

One question arisen is whether or not $45,000 will give Burkburnett an ample water supply. In recommending the $45,000 figure, Councilmen had every reason to believe the amount would be sufficient for several years. That much spent to improve the present system and supply will just about double the present available supply. That amount will take care of all present demands, plus several hundred more new homes and new families. It was not deemed good business or advisable to ask for more than was necessary to take care of more than a reasonable expected growth.

If Burkburnett should in the very near future reach a population figure of 10,000-12,000, then the proposed Bond issue would be insufficient. When that time comes, though no one can say it will or will not, other arrangements can and will be made to supply the needed water.

SEE WHAT WE MEAN?

The Census Bureau reports that the average family income in the U. S. during 1949 was $3,100, which has been put as "mean family income" by one source. Average sounds crystal clear to us, but what do they mean by "mean?" It is what many families feel their income may be called, appropriately. Perhaps if you smile when you say it "mean" would be a statistic and not a mean of littleness, of scrimping and close buying. A local wit has offered: "It would be more fitting to call it a family mean income and maybe a good family has a higher income." People in other countries would say that $3,100 would make the average American family one of means. Well, if we could buy with this money what we could in 1949, we would be more willing to agree with them.

IT IS A LAW

Those formulators of the Constitution were far-sighted indeed, to have written a document 164 years ago which has served us so effectively through the ages. A stable force to govern rights and privileges, it has been amended only 22 times in these years. The closing days of this past February found the 22nd amendment ratified. It limits the term of office of any President, excluding the present one holding office, to no more than two terms, or from being elected more than once if he had served two years or less of his predecessor's term.

This new amendment has its being in controlling dictatorship, which is well. But it could lead to complications. There are varied opinions as to whether this country would have been better off if Franklin D. Roosevelt had been required by law to leave office during the time of national crises. Regardless of the condition of the country, in peril and panic, a nation at war, the directive will stand. Our hope is that this new amendment will never be tested because of strife. May it serve for the betterment of the people as the main body of the Constitution has served.

WE TAKE PEN IN HAND

We read recently that with the modern trend in all manner of present living, even the style of handwriting has changed to keep pace. No time in accelerated living for the copyplate styling. Printed, block or manuscript type seems to be the fashion. It brings to mind the time, long years ago, when the flowering Spencerian style was taught. The top of the pages of our copy books carried an example of the script and below we found lines for our less beautiful forms. Ours was a wretched imitation. Remember the "push pull" and circles that spread across the practice page, the push and pull being the verticle lines of equal height that were jagged and raw when we finished at the margin, the circles that looked like broken springs when we ended the line. Palmer Method was the name for stylized handwriting that was a thing of beauty before we took pen in hand. Perhaps you recall the instructions about keeping the wrist flat on the desk, the proper way to hold the pen. It may be true that the printing type of handwriting is more sensible, quicker and less space taking, but the flowing style was mighty pretty, if you could do it! In our case, we are pleased to note that it has been said by calligraphers, that the brightest individuals write the poorest hand. And, how ever poorly you write, always remember that your signature is going to look beautiful to somebody when it is signing a check!

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., MAR. 10, 1951—One of the most controversial pieces of legislation now pending in the Congress is called "The India Emergency Assistance Act of 1951." Under this bill we would give to India 2 million long tons of food grains. This is 112 ship loads. During the movement of this grain it would require 2500 box cars a month. India did not ask for this gift of grain but rather sought to purchase. Our State Department thinks we should give it to India as a good will gesture. The Pakistan League of America has filed a brief opposing this gift of grain. This League states that Pakistan has adequate supplies of food grains which India could buy. They claim India is trying to destroy Pakistan through economic boycotts. However, within the last few weeks India has negotiated a trade agreement with Pakistan through which India will receive 325,000 tons of rice and 25,000 tons of wheat in exchange for iron, coal, and other material. Our proposed gift of grain to India will eventually cost us in the neighborhood of 200 million dollars. Opponents of the proposal point out that India produces manganese, mica, and many other critical materials which we need and for which we should trade or barter if we are to ship India grain.

Incidentally, India's troubles seem to be of her own making. I am told that they have 180,000,000 sacred cows, millions of sacred monkeys, and millions of sacred beggars. It is considered a terrible sin to disturb or abuse sacred cows, monkeys, or beggars. If a sacred cow goes into your house you cannot drive her out. If she goes into any of the food stalls, as they frequently do, they can eat up the grain with impunity and must not be disturbed. Indian religion glorifies what, under our code of ethics, would be sexual immorality. Hence, her country has always been overpopulated. If India could reduce her death rate as low as ours and maintain her birth rate, this one country alone would overpopulate our earth six times within a hundred years. Starvation and disease seem to be accepted institutions in that unhappy country. Would our gift of grain purchase their good will; would it serve any useful purpose; or would it simply take 200 million dollars out of our taxpayers' pockets? This is the question.

Of course, India might well say, "Who are you to talk of morals?" Reports this week are that American gambling alone runs into 20 billions of dollars per year. Some authorities claim that we spend more money for liquor than for food. All of history, both sacred and profane, shows that at all times, among all peoples, spiritual and moral decay precedes political and economic decay. Our society will suffer to the exact extent and to the exact degree of moral and spiritual decadence.

Sometime ago, Mr. H. L. Hunt of Dallas, published a most interesting booklet, entitled "Constructive." He suggests that "conservative" has developed an unfair connotation in the minds of the public; that many people regard the word "conservative" as meaning unprogressive and unsocial. The magazine section of our Sunday papers last week carried an article entitled "Capitalism." The writer is suggesting that a new word be substituted for "capitalism" because capitalism, he says has accumulated unpleasant connotations and is regarded by many as being anti-social and a simile for greed and avarice. Thus, we appear to confuse labels. Words are used as propaganda slogans. Welfare state apostles, liberals, have done much to discredit the labels "conservative" and "capitalism." Thus some conservatives and capitalists seek to avoid the unfair aspersions cast upon them by adopting new labels.

These essays on "capitalism" and on "conservatism" remind me of a memory gem I learned when I was in the fourth grade. Such memory gem appears on page 85 of the New Century Spelling Book used by me in 1912. While not entirely apropos, we quote as follows: "Keep a watch on your words, my darlings, For words are wonderful things; They are sweet like the bees' fresh honey, Like the bees, they have terrible stings. They can bless like the warm glad sunshine And brighten a lonely life; They can cut in the strife of anger Like an open two-edged knife."

United Gas System Sets New Records

The United Gas System set new records in nearly all phases of its operations last year, according to the 21st annual report to stockholders released from the Shreveport headquarters of the system today.

Natural gas service was extended to 19 additional communities in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, and 32,400 new customers were added to United Gas lines in those cities and towns and in others previously served, according to the report. United was providing natural gas service to 439 communities at the end of the year.

The company's natural gas sales increased last year more than 85 billion cubic feet, to a total for the year of nearly 596 billion cubic feet.

Union Producing Company, production subsidiary of United Gas Corporation, sold 5,495,000 barrels of crude oil during the year, an increase of nearly 145,000 barrels over 1949. United Gas Pipe Line Company sold more than 153 million gallons of natural gasoline and other liquid products during the year. This was nearly one-third more than in 1949. Average prices received for all liquid products declined slightly during the year, the report showed.

The cost of doing business continued on an upward trend in 1950, showing a rise of more than $12,000,000 over expenses in 1949. A major portion of the increase was due to additional purchases of gas to supply the increased demand and to an increase of nine-tenths of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet in the average unit cost of gas purchased in 1950 over 1949.

Producers and land-owners in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi were paid $30,000,000 for gas purchased in the field or for royalties. This was an increase of some 36 per cent over the total paid in 1949.

Amounts paid to or for the account of operating and construction employees aggregated $20,212,000 in 1950, nearly a million dollars more than in 1949. There were 5,511 employees on the pay roll at the end of the year.

State and local taxes paid by the system totaled $7,774,648 during 1950, which was an increase of $823,433 over the taxes paid in the previous year. Total taxes for 1950 amounted to $14,718,669, nearly $1,500,000 more than in 1949.

Stockholders were paid dividends of $1 per share, which was at the same rate that has prevailed since mid-1947. The remaining 57 cents per share of net earnings were retained in the business.

Nearly $41,000,000 was invested last year in capital expenditures for construction, development and replacements. More than $21,000,000 went into pipe line properties, nearly $10,000,000 into production properties, more than $6,000,000 into distribution properties and some $3,000,000 into sulphur and potash properties.

Insect Control Important In Farm Orchards

By Thomas Bell

It is not known yet to what extent the weather damages farm orchards, especially in some of our easy varieties, but timing a partial crop it is important to control insects, especially the curculio (worms) Brown Rat, Leaf Curl, Scab, and San Jose scale previously not destroyed by using 379 Oil Emulsion.

For peaches and plums, spray No. 1 should contain 3 gallons of liquid lime sulphur or 8 lbs. dry lime sulphur to 50 gallons of water, or use in proportions thereof as needed. This is to control leaf curl and scale not previously killed. This should be done when buds begin to swell.

Spray No. 2 should be applied when one half to two thirds of petals have fallen. This is the first worm spray, second brown rat and scab spray. Use hydrated lime 4 lbs.; Zinc Sulphate 2 lbs. Wettable Sulphur 3 lbs., lead arsenate 1 lb. to 50 gal. of water, or commercial mixtures can be used by recommendations on container. Spray No. 3 should be used 10 days to 2 weeks after No. 2 using the same formula as No. 2.

Spray 4, same as No. 3; 10 days to 2 weeks after Spray 3. Spray 5, for brown rat and scab, 30 days before peaches ripen, use 3 lbs. wettable sulphur to 50 gal. of water.

Peach tree borers are also important insects in the peach orchard. This insect will be noticed when sap begins to come out of tree, especially below the ground surface. Ethylene dichloride can be used about the time the leaves begin to fall until about April 1st.

For spraying a few trees around the house a bucket spray pump may be used. It should be equipped with about 12 to 16 ft. hose. For spraying larger orchards, barrel spray pumps are satisfactory. The pump should deliver 125-175 lbs. pressure and be equipped with 20-30 ft. hose.

For more information on other types of fruit, contact the Vocational Agriculture Department of the High School.

The Cause Of the Crippled Kids

The current funds drive of the crippled children's societies of Texas offers the people of the state an excellent opportunity to add another category in which they are the "biggest."

By the manner in which they respond they can show just how "big" their hearts are.

The money received from the Easter Seal drive will be used to aid children crippled as a result of a number of causes. The name of the Texas Society for Crippled Children means what it says, and where help is needed, the society endeavors to give it.

One of its main efforts is directed toward aiding children with cerebral palsy. Around 8000 youngsters suffer from this affliction in Texas alone.

Cerebral palsy is not a disease. It is a condition brought on by injury to the brain. As a result of that injury, many of those who suffer from it are unable to do so much as stand even with the aid of crutches and braces. Virtually all of them have speech difficulties and cannot talk intelligibly.

Treatment is directed toward educating other portions of the brain to perform the functions of the injured part. Muscular control thus developed results in correction of these difficulties to a degree that those so treated are capable of normal, or near normal, living.

But this treatment is slow. It is expensive. The society must have a lot of money to carry it on. And this money must come from donations such as it seeks in its present Easter Seal promotion. It gets no state funds.

The effort began February 25 and will go through Easter Sunday, March 25. Contributing to it will be investing in human happiness and well-being that will pay rich dividends to all concerned.

Mrs. Sid Gamblin accompanied a group of nine students from Midwestern University to Independence, Kansas last week end to attend the Phi Theta Kappa National Convention. Among the group were Sydney Gamblin and Jean Ann Fulfs. Another student, George C. Deen Freshman, was elected National President of that organization for next year.

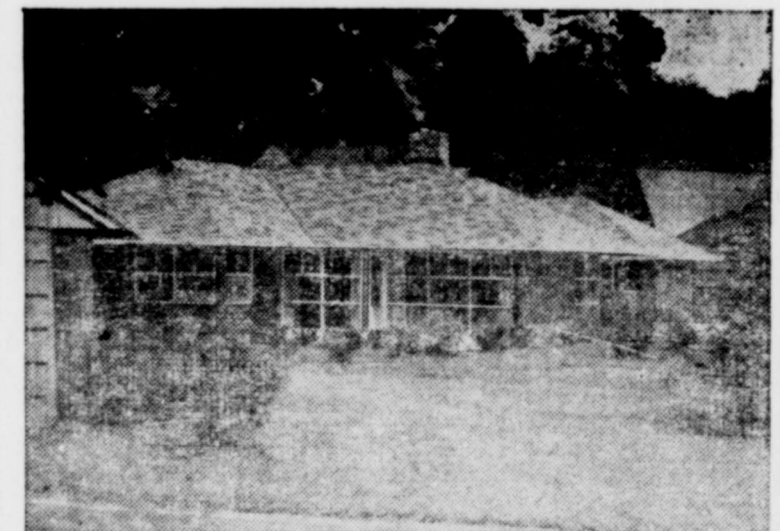

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Stubbs of Amarillo spent last week end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Bradford.

Mrs. George Wallace and son Jerry of Altus, Okla. were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Bradford Sunday.

H. D. Smith, Warren Bollinger and George Byerly were on jury duty in Wichita Falls this week.

Lewis Littlefair suffered painful injuries last week end when he severed the first joint on a finger of his left hand.

Don't Be Afraid to Use Color

Key to the color scheme of this house—one of 750 in the Roslyn Country Club development, Roslyn, L. I., is its blended asphalt shingle roof. Beatrice West, famous color consultant and designer who did the color styling for the development, points out that "color can individualize a single house, or a group of houses, and it can integrate an entire community of houses." Color integration in the Roslyn development is provided by roofs of gray blend and brown blend asphalt shingles.

Most people are "color cowards" when it comes to decorating the exterior of their homes, says Beatrice West, famous color consultant and designer.

Writing in Practical Builder magazine, Miss West explains that people instinctively realize color's power to repel or attract. As a result, they are timid about using color and they follow traditional color concepts instead.

Miss West, who operates her own studio in New York City, is both an interior designer and an authority on exterior color planning. In the last three years, she has color-styled 50,000 homes for more than 160 builders in 20 states; and she also has designed both exterior and interior color plans for hundreds of individual home owners.

She contends that home owners have been passing up one of the most effective and economical ways of glamorizing and lending distinction to their dwellings by failing to use colors to advantage, but she sees hope for the future.

Importance Realized
"At last," Miss West says, "builders are finding out what fashion stylists, automobile designers and others discovered long ago—that color and color harmony is at least as important as design in selling a home. It is as important as a modern kitchen or bathroom."

The color expert points out that builders who realize the importance of color now make provision for color styling in their program, with the result that the complete home has color harmony with itself and its neighbors although maintaining an identity of its own.

Miss West explains that she lets the asphalt shingle roof serve as the color key, setting the color pace for the entire house. She selects blended asphalt shingles because a blend gives the designer wider latitude in the colors for the trim, siding, and for accent, than is possible with a solid color. A blend readily harmonizes with a wide range of colors.

"Color can individualize a single house, or a group of houses," says Miss West, "and it can integrate an entire community of homes. Color is the one common denominator in a house, from the roof to the color in the bathroom fixtures, to the wallpaper on the living room wall, or the accent used on the front door."

Miss Maxine Gibson, Talented Dancer of Burkburnett, a student at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, will appear on the stage at the Palace Theatre Easter Show Variety Show March 23rd. This show is sponsored by the Junior Mothers' Club.

CAMERA TOPICS

By T. T. Holden

The beautiful pictures you can find all around you in the snow is this from the Grallex Photo Contest by Elwood Armstrong.

HOW IS WONDERFUL PICTURE MATERIAL

rather sluggishly, giving exposures longer than the indicated speed. If you keep the camera warm under your coat until you are ready to shoot, this trouble can be minimized. If any controls freeze up or stick, don't try to force them. Let the camera thaw out for awhile indoors, not too near the heat.

If you are planning to do a great deal of photography in extremely cold weather, your camera store can "winterize" your shutter, which consists of a complete cleaning and the use of a very small amount of special lubrication or none at all. Under most conditions this will probably not be necessary, however.

By all means, dress warmly and comfortably when you go out to make snow pictures. Half the fun of making pictures and much of your chances of getting just what you want are gone if you are cold and hurried and anxious to get back to a warm fire.

Methodist W. S. C. S. Meets Monday

The Women's Society of Christian Service continued study of Corporate Worship Monday afternoon at 2:30 in the Wesley room of the church. The topic for the lesson was Christian Symbolism and Arts. Mrs. Reger the leader, led the group of 16 in an interesting and informative discussion.

Mrs. Schoch with the aid of Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. Tuel and Mrs. Patterson, led the Worship service.

Mrs. Patterson led the following call to prayer from Mrs. Frank G. Brooks, President of the Women's Division of Christian Service:

A Call For Prayer
The problems of today are overwhelming mankind and revealing that human resources are inadequate. Believing that "man's extremity is God's opportunity," I call upon all the women in the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild to join daily in a fellowship of prayer.

Let us pour out "a great volume of prayer" focused upon the leaders of our country and the leaders of all nations. Let us pray that those who are making sacrifices of life and of service may feel Christ's presence ever near.

Let us pray for Christian leaders in war torn lands; for missionaries and for native Christian leaders that God will give them wisdom and courage to do His Will.

Let us pray for ourselves that the desire to comfort and help others may be instilled in our hearts.

Let us pray that the glory of our Heavenly Father may shine through a confused world and bring peace in His own time.

Mrs. Frank G. Brooks, Pres. Women's Division of Christian Service.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Boyd, Mrs. A. C. Harris, Mrs. L. H. Edwards and Miss Sue Douglas returned last Monday from Great Lakes, Ill., where they visited the Burk boys at the Navy Training Center.

Commissions Are Received By Judge Tipps

Commissioners for all Wichita County and precinct officials were mailed today by the office of Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd to County Judge Arthur Tipps.

The commissions which bear the signatures of Governor Allan Shivers and Secretary of State Shepperd were issued to persons elected in the general elections. Governor Shivers commissioned those whose names appeared on certificates of election and qualifications prepared by the county judges for the Secretary of State, following the November elections.

State statutes require that the office of Secretary of State send these commissions to each county judge who then presents them to the officials of both the county and precinct. Shepperd's office, which acts as the secretarial arm of the executive branch of state government, keeps official records of all persons elected or appointed to office in the State of Texas.

Those commissioned are as follows: B. M. Dinsmore, county superintendent, Dora Davis, county clerk, Flora Cobb, district clerk, T. W. McHam, county treasurer, James W. McCormick, county attorney, Hammett Vance, sheriff, Jim Robinson, tax assessor, H. M. Newman, justice peace, Charles B. McConnell, justice peace prec. 1, James Frank Lavender, justice peace prec. 4, R. C. Elder, constable prec. 1, A. B. Pearce, constable prec. 4, T. Guy Willis, inspector of hides and animals, S. J. Haynes, county commissioner prec. 4.

Your Health

Too prevalent today is the belief that heart disease is the spell of doom and that one must cease all work and activity. Modern medical knowledge easily disproves this notion, and thousands of case histories bear witness to its falsity. Heart disease, medical science now knows, is not a single ailment. Many troubles can affect the heart—some less serious than others. While some restrictions are necessary, it is now generally true that patients with any form of heart trouble should be active within the limits of their capacity.

Not all persons with heart ailments can continue working at their same pace. Obviously there are those who require bed rest and often a very strict limitation of physical and mental activity. But there are many who can continue working, performing some type of useful or productive activity, without fear that their hearts will suddenly give out.

A person with a mild heart disorder can in most instances perform any kind of job for which his skills qualify him.

No individual with a heart condition, it should be cautioned, should determine for himself whether he is able to work or not and how much work he can do.

Just as there are many who become cardiac invalids because of fear, there are those at the opposite extreme who ignore proper medical advice and subject their hearts to unnecessary strain and abuse by over-activity. Only a competent physician is qualified to say what are the limits of an impaired heart.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Pictures in series such as these have a movie-like quality and add great interest to the family snapshot collection.

Pictures in Series Tell a Story

ONE of the things we all like best about movies is that they can so easily tell a step-by-step story of an activity that is appealing, important, or just plain good fun. Of course, we can't capture the action with our still cameras, but we can make pictures that imply action and, by making them in a series showing the progressive steps in the action, come up with a set of snapshots that tell a story quite satisfactorily.

For most people, children are favored subjects for this type of picture taking, because of the tremendous appeal the picture stories will have in years to come.

The activity on which the series of shots is based can be as limited in scope as that shown in the above pictures of the young miss eating her lunch—or it can cover a more complex activity or a longer period of time.

Recently I saw a series that will in time come to be a most appealing family treasure. The mother who took a series of pictures of her 6-year-old daughter baking a birthday cake for daddy will always be glad that she did.

Her series tells a complete story about a very serious undertaking. The little girl is all dressed up for the occasion in her own best apron and with a towel wound about her head. The pictures follow the whole procedure, from the assembling of the required ingredients to the sticky business of swirling on the frosting and the exacting task of proper placement of the candles. It seemed to me that there was only one shot missing—to make the story really complete, there should have been a picture of daddy beaming with pride and pleasure at his daughter's lovely, even though lopsided, culinary masterpiece.

For a series of pictures covering a longer period of time, although not having the movie-like quality of those previously mentioned, a day in a child's life is always good subject material.

These picture stories not only have family snapshot album value, but will make warmly welcomed enclosures for letters to far-away relatives and friends.

Recital Presented By Dance And Expression Pupils

Paula Garland, dressed in formal attire, gave the Welcome followed by Sherion Smith singing and dancing, "Pretty Baby." Janis Eakins, a very tiny tot of three, gave her rendition of toe dance to "Five Foot Two." Pauline Shaw then danced "I Didn't Slip, I wasn't Pushed." Jimmy Holly in white top hat and tails did a fast tap to "12th Street Rag." Jeane Davis and Gloria Marine dressed in identical Chicken costumes presented the novel number, "Chicken Reel." Drum Major, Woody Elrod and Majorette Sherry McKinnis danced and sang, "Parade of the Wooden Soldier," while standing alertly at attention. LaFaye McDonnell as a dresden ballerina rendered "You Are My Lucky Star," after which Glenda Landis and Judy Woods, also ballerinas, did "3rd Man Theme."

As a break for the dancers, Bucky Teel came forth with "Seeing Things at Night," followed by Judy Smith dressed as a gypsy singing and dancing "Manana."

Guest artists from Electra and Iowa Park, pupils of Jeane Eakins supported their part of the program amply with Francis Cooper leading off as a Golden Ballerina dancing "For Me And My Gal." Johnny Homaker in black and white checkerboard top hat and tails cleverly presented "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Norma Williams as a Hobo did "Turkey in the Straw" and Louise Karney danced a Boogie to "Basin Street Ball." Mrs. Eakins presented the finale for the guests to a fast "Five Foot Two."

Joyce Friedls gave a clever reading, "Ready Made Curls," and as a closing number two unidentified hobos did "Good-bye My Baby."

All in all the program was cleverly presented with each child displaying his or her special talent and ability and was enjoyed by all who attended. The children were surprisingly rewarded by pictures taken by Frank Parker.

Camp Fire Girls Are Celebrating 41st Anniversary

With the coming of spring young people and their hopes assume new importance. This is evidenced by the Camp Fire Girls Birthday week now being celebrated, the Annual Finance Drive for Camp Fire Girls of the Burkburnett District Council, and the Boy Scout Highlight week just completed. But spring also means that we should evaluate a bit our responsibilities to the youth who will so soon inherit the responsibilities for our democracy.

Young and old alike are uncertain about the future—will it bring war or peace? No one can give a sure answer to this last question. But we do know that we are now in a state of emergency, that we are entering a period of intense preparation for a war which we hope to avert by preparedness. While the immediate future may not bring actual war, we are pretty sure that it will not bring real peace, and that our lives must be lived and our work must be done in a war economy and a warlike atmosphere. Such an economy will create problems for all Americans and it will create special problems for women and children.

It is our firm conviction that the work we do in Camp Fire is essential in peace and especially so in times of tension and emergency. The program is designed to give children and young people the feeling of security which comes from belonging; it teaches them to be resourceful and skilled; it teaches them to value freedom and independence; it gives them opportunity for constructive service and the real practice of democracy; it releases their tensions through play, fun, and friendship; it emphasizes for them essential spiritual values—worship, love and friendship, service. These are the qualities that Americans need. As we rush to prepare for physical survival we cannot neglect the spiritual and emotional needs of children. It is, therefore, essential that youth-serving agencies such as Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts use their knowledge, experience and resources for the protection, development and security of children.

But in order for your children to have the opportunities of the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, there must be competent and adequate adult guidance through volunteer leadership. "Everybody Counts" for the Camp Fire Girls. Have you done your bit or given your share to help your daughter enjoy the fruits of the Camp Fire Girls program? Her privilege to participate depends upon you.

Be Sure of Your House Plumbing

If you lease or rent a house, you are entitled to and should demand, for the safety of your family, safe and sanitary plumbing.

If you buy a house which is represented to you as being the latest in design and quality, be sure that you check the part you cannot see, the plumbing system. You should demand that it is what is represented to be. If you have plumbing work performed, be sure that what you want is clearly understood and demand that it be done as you have specified. Require a written proposal and agreement for all major repairs and new construction and then demand that it be done as you have stipulated.

If you own an old home and you have not had your plumbing checked in some time, you should do so without fail. Guard against outdated plumbing and the hazards that accompany same. Watch for defective and out-of-date fixtures. Call only a reliable qualified plumbing contractor to check your system and make necessary repairs. Guard against handymen or transients even if they have a license. Guard against the so-called cheap plumbing job. If the water you drink is pure, keep it that way by maintaining a sound plumbing system.

Above all, no matter whether you are buying a new house, or making repairs on an older house . . . be sure the plumbing has been inspected and passed by a city inspector.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Harwell of Dallas visited here Sunday. Mrs. R. Robinson of McAllister, Oklahoma spent the week end with Dr. and Mrs. Rudy Robinson and children. Mrs. Rudy Robinson and the children accompanied her home for a visit.

Summer Legumes Clover Seed Now Available

For the first time in this area farmers can get both Hubam and Midrid Clover with a low out-of-pocket expense through the Production Marketing Administration plan. The actual cost to farmers on Madrid Clover is only about $10.00 per hundred pounds, and the actual cost of Hubam Clover is $2.75 per hundred pounds. This is possible when a purchase order is secured at the PMA, which pays the balance on these soil building summer legumes. This is the first time that the PMA has made such an offer on these two particular crops.
Madrid Clover, cream of the crop of summer legumes, has a penetrating root system that loosens and conditions soil, and causes soil to absorb more water. Actually, the cost of this PMA program is about $1.50 per acre per planting. Many farmers and ranchers of this area have already applied for their seed. Others have until April 1 to secure seed under this plan.
The best time to plant these two summer legumes is now. Rains have conditioned the soil. Actually, you get two years of growth for the price of one when you plant Madrid Clover, for it is a two year crop. It also furnishes excellent grazing and hay and is comparable to alfalfa. Those interested are urged to contact the county PMA office as soon as possible.
At a meeting of the District Agricultural Workers Council recently in Wichita Falls, professional agriculture workers recommended these two summer legumes as the best in soil building crops due to their large root system. Those persons who plant either Madrid or Hubam Clover or any of the other summer legumes are eligible to enter the summer legumes division of the Bridwell Soil Builders Award program. Those who wish to enter this contest can also get this information at their PMA office.
Mr. and Mrs. Dutch George of Iowa Park visited friends in town this week.

Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District Meeting Held Wednesday

The Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District Supervisors had their regular meeting last Wednesday at Iowa Park. Board members present were H. Flusche, C. W. Bouchland, J. Flusche, and Arthur Ramming. Present also were Bud Harvel, District Conservationist, Bob Crocker of P. M. A., Wichita County, and Fred Parkey, formerly of the S. C. S., now with the irrigation district and county commission. Applications for assistance were approved for Herbert Gensler, Billy J. Johnson in the Iowa Park S. C. S. Unit and for Fred McLaughman, J. C. Pannell, Dr. G. B. Admas, and Annie Mayer in the Vernon unit on 420 acres. Plans which have been completed were approved for W. H. Hall, Iowa Park Unit, and an agreement with the irrigation district known as the Balsh drainage segment was approved. Plans completed and approved in the Vernon Unit were for Jack Mouser, a highway agreement, O. R. Yarbrough, S. Thomas, A. M. Bourland, and Duard Wilson. These plans cover 1,731 acres.
Plans for a field tour to be held in April or May were discussed.
The grass drills which the district have purchased are being put to use by the co-operators. Since the recent rains, D. C. Bridges, Bob Miller, J. C. Crain, Raymond Hirsche, have planted grass and grass mixtures with these drills. These drills are available to co-operators and farmers on a rental basis. If you need the use of a grass drill contact the S. C. S. office at Iowa Park or Vernon for information.
Types of machinery and equipment which the district should make available to co-operators was discussed. It was determined that at the next Board meeting a tentative list be presented. Machinery will be purchased as soon as possible.
