Boys Plan Purchase New Fighter

Volunteer Fire- already making plans to purchase a new fighter. The town continues to grow and more are going up here, the fire department continues to expand. To take care of the expansion, more fire equipment will be needed.

Future needs present fire pumper and booster tank. The percentage of present trucks is being replaced. The trucks roll up to the fire house and are brought out. The time it takes to get to a fire can vary. The difference in another larger truck, except a large down, could be handled. The first five minutes of a fire are the most important. A small fire on a small fire can be handled. After a fire all over, tons of water do much to save it. The cost of a 20 per cent credit rating in premiums because of the last year. Firemen are able to keep that and the way Burk Burnett looks like an advisable.

"Flying Missile" First Film Super-Weapon In Action

"secret" label has been stripped from the flying missile, the most revolutionary in recent history, which is "The Flying Missile." Columbia picture starring Ford and Viveca Lindfors, playing at the Palace, Wednesday and Thursday.

Security reasons, the Defense Dept. kept under wraps the development of the missile. Finally, Columbia was authorized to film about the super-weapon. The picture would not aid and potential enemy, for a picture whose primary purpose is entertainment. The missile is a big bomber obsolete. It is guided unerringly by radio waves. If a missile is in the wrong direction, it is made to change course by a radio beam. The flight is so spectacular that it is thrillingly demonstrated in "The Flying Missile." The picture is being shown in "The Flying Missile" at the Palace.

He was among the first group of Flying Leathernecks to be sent overseas for combat duty last August. Following his leave, he will be assigned duty in the States for an as yet undesignated period. Place of his next duty station has not yet been made known.

Two Traffic Lights Being Installed

At long last Burk is going to get two traffic lights on Main Street. Highway Dept. workmen were busy Tuesday and Wednesday digging holes to set posts to support the lights at Main and Ave. D and Main and Ave. C. Those intersections, according to traffic counts, are the busiest in town. Last summer, when the count was made, the engineers decided we did not need a traffic signal light at Main and Avenue B, although the City Commission asked permission to place one there. Just when the work will be completed is not known but it is presumed as soon as the posts are set the supporting wires for the lights will go up and the signals hung on them.

Mr. and Mrs. Clack Treat Fire Boys

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Clack royally entertained the Fire Boys recently when they served baked ham, chicken and everything else imaginable to eat, at their beautiful country home just North of town. Due to the Camp Fire Box Supper and other conflicting events, only half the Department could enjoy the hospitality of the Clacks, but those who did attend are not letting the others forget what they missed. Mr. and Mrs. Clack extended the hospitality in appreciation for efforts of the Firemen in saving a lot of valuable grass land and their fine orchard which were threatened by fire.

Interest Lagging In Elections Set For April Third

Interest in City politics seems to be lagging this week. Very little discussion going on about the coming election of two Commissioners and the $45,000 Water Dept. Improvement Bonds.

What open talk there is about the Water Bond issue is that people realize the need for more water and are going all out to put the bond issue over. Many have not forgotten the water shortage two years ago and certainly don't want to experience a like situation again.

Home Talent Show To Be Presented On March 29th

Dixie Boy Jordan is coming to Burk Burnett on March 29th to emcee a two hour show sponsored by the Current Literature Club.

Approximately fifteen acts have been lined up for this appearance at Town Hall, among them are well known entertainers who have won favor with audiences many times before. There will be some who are appearing here for the first time. We have solos, duets, quartets, sextets, instrumental solos and groups, and dance numbers.

Dixie Boy has been in the entertaining business a long time and is adept at taking our own boys and girls and putting on a smooth, fast moving show, interspersed with many songs, recitations and jokes of his own. The purpose of this show is not only to entertain the audience and make money for worthy projects backed by the Current Literature Club, but to give our own young artists an opportunity to be heard by someone who is in a position to further their ambitions. Dixie Boy picks talent from the surrounding territory for his stage show preceding the Western Barn Dance on Saturday nights.

This is not a contest but we feel that some of the young entertainers will be chosen to participate in these radio appearances. You will be missing a treat if you fail to hear these boys and girls and who knows, you may be missing an opportunity to say of a future star, "I knew him when he was just starting out in Burk Burnett."

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Current Literature Club in advance or at the Town Hall at show time.

Chicken Spaghetti Supper to Be Served by P. T. A.

The Hardin P. - T. Tickets for the supper will be 75c for adults and 35c for all school children. Mrs. Ralph Davis and Mrs. L. Woods are planning the evening's entertainment which will be in the form of a floor show staged at 30 minute intervals so those coming at any time will not miss it.

Lions Bell and Bernethy had charge of the program and presented one of the most enjoyable programs in a long time. Lion Bell introduced Miss Nathalie Foster, who introduced other members of the entertaining group: Barbara Vaughn, Louise Stamps, Billy Love and Hugh Fewin. The singers, accompanied by Miss Kay Morrison, rendered three numbers, "Road to Mandalay," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "To Think You've Chosen Me." A comic number, "So Long," was given by Louise Stamps and Billy Love, with Miss Morrison at the piano.

Farmers Co-op. Gin Spending $75,000 For Remodeling

G. W. Fleming, manager of the Farmers Co-op. Gin, announces the new $75,000 building and expansion program is progressing on schedule. This week the building housing the gin machinery will be completed.

The sheet iron building came in sections, 8x13 ft. and 10x30 ft., already bolted and riveted together, ready to be raised by winch truck and bolted in place. Doors and windows were already bolted in, and the roof will go up the same way.

With the purchase of six lots on the N-E corner of the gin grounds, the gin property now covers one complete block. This will give ample parking space and space for trucks waiting to be unloaded in the rush season.

Everything at the gin will be new when the present remodeling job is completed. New gin building, cotton house, seed house, grinding mill, feed dock, office building and scales. All have been completed within the last three years. All the machinery will be new except, gin stands feeders and press, which were installed new three years ago.

A unique feature of the new building is that all overhead machinery will be swinging in the air, anchored to the steel supports above. Only the gin stands and blowers will be on the floor. This does away with obstacles about on the floor and makes cleaning up easier and fire hazards less dangerous.

C. of C. Drive for Members Started Tuesday Morning

Monday night George McClarity, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce membership drive, called his committee together to map plans for their work. Tuesday workers were out getting pledges signed and placing new 1951 membership cards.

Present plans are to close the drive this week. With few exceptions all 1950 members pledged the same amount for 1951. In one instance Campbell and Stevens on East Main voluntarily raised their contribution 50 per cent, and paid the amount in full, showing their confidence in the organization and going all out in its support.

Sunday School Class Meets In Johnson Home

Members of the Friendship class of the First Baptist Church held their regular monthly meeting Friday evening in the home of Mrs. J. A. Johnson.

She gave a brief outline of St. Patrick's life followed by a scriptural definition of the word Saint. She pointed out by scripture reference how God helps give strength and courage to his saints, makes intercession for us and at last gives us a resting place or home. Mrs. Clark closed her devotional with prayer.

After a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. Will Teal President, Mrs. E. R. Burns, recreational chairman, directed the playing of several active and humorous St. Patrick games.

Mrs. Johnson with group 4 as co-hostesses, served attractive St. Patrick refreshment plates to Mesdames R. P. Thaxton, Don Woodward, Cordie Phillips, Lee Garner, E. R. Burns, O. L. Clark, J. A. Johnson, C. R. Wallace, J. D. Kennedy and Miss Oma VanCleave.

THE OLD ARGUMENT

In a Federal law, enacted in 1901, there was a plan for redistricting Congressional seats, requiring each State Legislature to divide into compact congressional districts of "contiguous territory," containing as nearly as practicable, an equal number of inhabitants. A forward-looking proposal, to this end, is introduced by Representative Celler of New York, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. He goes further and suggests that the House accept only the credentials of representatives elected from districts which vary not more than 15 per cent in size above or below the normal population for a district. The present apportionment of representation means that while the average basis of population figures about 350,000 persons, there are districts with as few as 150,000 constituents and others with 900,000. It is true that each citizen has a vote, which is equal. The inequality comes in the population of each state's division for congressional representation. These "equal" votes are only one-half as important in a district of 200,000 as in one of 400,000, carries only one-third the weight of the 600,000 district.

This subject has been argued and discussed many times and all over the country, with the majority of opinion in favor of putting teeth into a bill through actual reform. There is nothing new about the topic and so far, "the state rests its case."

EXPRESSING OUR SENTIMENTS

A typical small industrial town of 18,000 souls, is Tiffin, Ohio. In Tiffin, 410 men and women, employees of a local hearth manufacturing company, wanted to declare themselves for the American way, for liberty and freedom. They placed a full page advertisement, on their own, in the home town newspaper, with their signatures, expressing their sentiments—and ours. This was entitled and followed: "As Free Men We Proclaim—"

"Our Belief in the divinity of God, the dignity of man and the destiny of our country.
"Our Belief that man shall live by the sweat of his brow.

"Our Belief in a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.
"Our Belief that a man should live within his income and pay his honest debts, and that our government should operate on the same sensible basis.

"Our Belief that under the American Way of Life we already have a higher standard of living than any other governmental system has ever offered—let alone delivered.

"Our Belief that as free men, proud of our achievements and jealous of our rights, there is no place in our midst for communism, fellow travelers and other cranks who by wild accusations and empty promises would lead us down the trail to political and economic slavery.

"Our Belief that it is our duty as free men to speak out in defense of our American Way of Life and to go on record to that end . . . May God be with us."

TREAT ALL ALIKE

At the end of February, a new retail pricing order, known as Ceiling Price Regulation 7, was issued by the Office of Price Stabilization. It affects 200,000 large and small retailers, dealing in clothing, furniture, yard goods, and other basic commodities.

The new order, in the view of retail experts, is generally fair and represents a sincere attempt on the part of OPS to provide a workable regulation. It goes without saying that the great majority of retailers will cooperate fully with its intent and spirit. However, it contains certain specific provisions which could result in a dangerous injustice. This was pointed out by Dr. Malcolm P. McNair of Harvard University when he said, "It is a fact that the Ceiling Price Regulation 7 will have the effect of generally lowering retail margins . . . Furthermore, the regulation permits the Office of Price Stabilization to require retailers to absorb all or a part of price increases that may subsequently be granted to manufacturers. This may easily become the source of serious inequity as the pressure of increased material and labor costs may result in subsequent upward price adjustments at pre-retail levels."

It will be the height of injustice if we attempt to force one group of citizens, the retailers, to absorb the brunt of inflation, while other groups of citizens, including producers, farmers, and workers, are able to adjust their prices and charges and wages to compensate for it. The retailer has no control over prices at wholesale. His profit margin is extremely modest. He must pay the going price for supplies, labor, rents, and everything else. He, like the rest of us, is a victim of inflation—not its creator.

Without going into the merits and demerits of price control as a principle, one thing should be clear—the law should treat all alike, favoring none and penalizing none.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

V-8 TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A" 1951 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

Both Ford V-8 and SIX Deliver more than 25.9 miles per gallon

Grueling 840-mile test proves Ford Economy

Again this year . . . it's high honors for Ford! In the most important economy trial for American stock model cars . . . the famous annual Mobilgas Economy Run . . . A Ford 100-h.p. V-8 equipped with Overdrive took first place competing against all cars in its price class, making 54.587 ton-miles per gallon* and 25.994 miles per gallon. And its companion in quality, the new Ford SIX with Overdrive, was right up there with the winner. In fact, both cars averaged better than 25.9 miles per gallon.

Traditional Ford economy, for the second straight year, has been proved in open competition. Proved on the tough 840-mile grind from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon . . . a course that included city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat and 7,000-foot mountain passes. Ford's Automatic Mileage Maker, standard equipment on all Ford V-8's and SIXES, contributed to this great achievement by squeezing the last mile out of every drop of gasoline.

Why not "Test Drive" the new Ford at your neighborhood Ford Dealer's? There's no better way to be convinced that "You can pay more but you can't buy better!"

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

"It takes a lot of Customers to make it Pay!"

You bet it does, son. You'll make many a sale before your business shows a profit. This is particularly true in the oil and gas industry, where large amounts must be invested in property and equipment. United Gas has invested over $138,000,000 for these purposes in the last five years alone. During 1951 our company plans expenditures of many millions more to enable thousands of additional homes and businesses to share in benefits of low-cost natural gas service.

Betty Grable and Dan Dailey in 1951's Biggest Movie, "Call Me Mister"

Betty Grable and Dan Dailey, the most popular musical comedy team in the movies today, grace the Palace Theatre screen Sunday and Monday. They arrive on the local scene in "Call Me Mister," Technicolor adaptation of the smash Broadway hit of the same name filmed by Twentieth Century-Fox. One of the most successful musical revues of all time, "Call Me Mister" figures to duplicate its hit on the screen. In addition to retaining a number of the highlight numbers, both songs and sketches, from the stage original, the makers of the motion picture edition inserted a batch of fresh material, story-wise as well as from a musical viewpoint. A background of American occupation forces in quaint, flavorsome Japan has been introduced into the colorful and spirited stage counterpart.

Betty Grable, magazine-profiled as the world's most beautiful blonde last year, and dapper Dan Dailey, perfectly cast here as a general GI, gain support in "Call Me Mister" from one of the leading comedians of the day, television and night club entertainer Danny Thomas, whose biggest screen inning this is.

Burk Women Attend Community Council

Mrs. Fred Hunt and Mrs. Gene McCabe represented the City of Burk Burnett at the Community Council for the Sheppard Field Base Hospital Tuesday, March 19th at 10:30 a. m. This Community Council is sponsored by the Red Cross and is composed of representatives from all church, club, school and civic organizations in Wichita Falls, and surrounding towns.

With the united efforts of these organizations many things can be done for hospital patients that the Army Air Force or Red Cross cannot do. Games and prizes are donated. Every Sunday a tea is held. Birthday parties and planned recreation is included in the program. In March Burk's portion was 15 sheets of popular music. Our April portion is hand tools, pliers, wrenches, reamer. If Burk Burnett wants to cooperate in this council work we must have the backing of our various organizations. If you are interested in this community welfare project, get in touch with Mrs. McCabe or Mrs. Hunt, who will further explain the plan and our responsibility.

Area-Wide Easter Sunrise Service

You are invited to join those who will gather at sunrise this Easter Day, in a beautiful outdoor setting near Wichita Falls, to engage in an area-wide service of worship.

Religious leaders of various denominations will conduct the service, which is cordially open to all residents and guests of this area, as a supplement to the regular Easter observances in your own church.

Crestview Memorial Park, where the service is to be held, is located on the Archer City road approximately half a mile from the junction of that road with the Jacksboro Highway. To reach the park from Wichita Falls, one drives out the Jacksboro Highway, which begins at the south end of Scott Street, and turns right on the Archer City cut-off.

It is suggested that you arrive just prior to sunrise, which will occur at 6:31. As you approach the service, you will enter an atmosphere of quiet, filled by soft organ music conducive to meditation.

The horizon, as the sun appears, will be broken only by a barren cross, erected for the occasion to invite reflection upon the event which we commemorate on that day.

There are many who have expressed the desire for Easter Sunrise Services in this area, similar to those which have proved so inspirational and significant in other localities. It is the purpose of this service to fulfill that desire, and, as we celebrate the triumph of life over death as exemplified by the Resurrection, to help deepen our faith in the ultimate realization of the will of God in these troubled times.

Mr. Hill had suffered from a heart ailment for some years, and had transferred the management of the business to his son. He was visiting a brother when the fatal attack came.

Rev. T. M. Jenson Guest Speaker For P. T. A. Meeting

Members of the Hardin Grade P-T A assembled Tuesday afternoon in the grade school auditorium for their regular March meeting. The group was called to order by President, Mrs. Fred Hunt. The entertainment portion of the program was given by Miss Alice Milliken's class. Mrs. Walter Lacy, Leader, presented Rev. T. M. Jenson who spoke on Cultivating in Children a Taste for the Good. Rev. Jenson explained that the parents primarily set the example for the pattern of their children's behavior, and their standards are based on what they see and hear at the home more than anything else. During his informative talk, the speaker illustrated his points with familiar, everyday examples that arise in every home.

In the business session following, the Nominating Committee was named who will submit the names of 1951-52 officers at the April 24th meeting.

The April meeting was changed from the regular second Tuesday to the third, the 24th so as to avoid conflict with the Spring Conference. Reports were given on the chicken-spaghetti supper. The supper will be held April 6 in the grade school cafeteria for reasons of convenience instead of the Town Hall as first planned.

Chairmen for the supper were announced as follows: Menu, Mrs. C. Good; Tables, Mrs. Carl Mangum; Program, Mrs. Lowell Woods, and Mrs. Ralph Davis.

Maxine Gibson In Indian Band

Mixine Gibson, student from Burkburnett at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, is one of 90 or more students playing this year in the University's famed Indian Band.

Latest performance of the band was at the "Cavalcade of Music" musical extravaganza, given March 7 and 8 at Memorial Auditorium in Wichita Falls. A yearly production by the Midwestern Band, the show is a fast-moving combination of musical numbers, comedy, dance routines, and special entertainment acts. Lavish stage settings and special lighting effects contribute a professional effect. Long known for its outstanding performances at Midwestern football games, the Indian Band keeps busy after football season giving concerts for civic groups in Wichita Falls and in surrounding towns and staging several traditional projects of its own. One of these projects is an annual out-of-state tour, usually made at the end of the spring semester.

The daily needs of the American people for oil are at an all-time high. When you add to these the needs of the defense program, you find that U. S. oil production is greater than ever before in history.

The men who search for oil did their part in supplying this record demand 10, 20, even 30 years ago.

But they can't stop now. The search for oil must be continuous, so that the U. S. will have oil for you and your neighbor and for the country's needs in the years ahead. This year's oil discoveries may be producing oil for the vehicles, the flying machines, the industries of the year 2000!

The oil companies look so far to the future because it takes about 10 years fully to develop an average oil field. Then, if production is efficiently managed in accordance with conservation practices, the field continues to produce for another thirty or forty years, or even longer.

This foresight provided the vast quantities of oil required for World War II, and it has established the reserves the nation needs for the emergency of 1951. There is no time, now, to search for the oil we need today; it must be — it is — instantly available.

Spring Clean Your Automobile

Spring cleaning for your car is as important as spring house cleaning, and a "must" if you want continued good performance from your motor vehicle, says E. L. Harrig, manager of the service department, Chevrolet Motor Division.

"Furthermore, spring is an ideal time to have your car inspected for safety factors," said Harrig. "In many states such a safety check is mandatory. Motorists everywhere should make certain that a defect in their car's mechanism will not be the cause of an accident."

The annual safety campaign of the National Safety Council is to be conducted in May, and Chevrolet dealers throughout the country are being asked to co-operate in this drive.

Some of the points to be considered in the spring check-up are:

The body and chassis must be cleaned thoroughly to eliminate results of winter's rigors. Wash the outside thoroughly, above and underneath, to remove deposits left by winter driving. Clean inside, preferably with vacuum cleaner.

Flush and refill the cooling system.

Lubricate all chassis and body points and change crankcase oil if mileage indicates this is necessary. Consult Chevrolet dealer or Owner's Manual for proper grade of oil and lubricants. Check condition of rear axle and transmission lubricants, and change if necessary.

Examine tires for cuts, bruises or worn spots; cross change if driven more than 3,000 miles since last change.

Inspect entire electrical system for loose connections, oil-soaked wires, corroded battery terminals.

For safety's sake: Check steering mechanism, brakes lights, horn, windshields and windshield-wipers.

5 "Don'ts" For Kite Flyers

Five "don'ts" for boys and girls who fly kites were outlined today by J. B. Ady, manager for Texas Electrical Service Company, in anticipation of the opening of the 1951 kite flying season.

As explained by Ady, the five "don'ts" in order of their importance are: First, don't fly kites near electric lines. Second don't use wire or metallic cord for kite strings. Third, don't use wire or metal in the kite frame. Fourth, don't fly kites in the rain, as even wet cotton string could become a conductor of electricity if it was wet, and fifth, don't attempt to remove a kite from electric poles or wires should it become entangled. Call Texas Electric Service Company's office and a lineman will come to rescue it if at all possible.

"The importance on the second "don't" is dramatically illustrated by what happened in a Texas city on March 2 of this year," Ady said. "A father was flying a kite for his son when suddenly a power line burned in two, two-thirds of the city was deprived of electricity, two radio stations went off the air for want of electric power and numerous grass fires were started. Why? The man flying the kite was using a Christmas wrapping cord with tinsel woven in it. The tinsel, being a perfect conductor of electricity, shorted out the power line in which it became entangled. It was nothing short of a miracle that someone was not injured, or perhaps killed."

"Local youngsters who fly kites have been very careful in the past about where and when they flew their kites," Ady stated. "We had a perfect record last year with not one boy or girl being injured and only a few kites demolished. This year, I fully expect that even the number of kites lost will be reduced because it seems that every year, our boys and girls listen more carefully to our warnings and cooperate better in making kite flying safe."

estimated $30,000,000 which provisions of the bill will provide, will be sent to the counties for the building and improvement of rural roads, starting with school bus and rural mail roads. County judges and commissioners will authorize the spending of the money, with specifications to have the approval of a licensed engineer or the Texas Highway Department.

(2) One-fourth, or about $7,500,000 will go to some 700 incorporated cities, towns and villages that are facing serious financial difficulties. They will be allowed to use the money for building and maintenance of streets.

(3) It will insure that the people of Texas, living both in town and on the farm, will get more benefits out of our vast resources of natural gas which are rapidly being expended.

Strong opposition to the Sewell bill may be expected from the powerful natural resources lobby, Hammond predicted. He called on county Farm Bureaus throughout the state, county judges and commissioners, and the folks in the cities to lend support to the measure.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16 1951—The House this week approved one Administration proposal but defeated two others. The House approved the President's recommendation for reorganizing the RFC. This plan sets up a one-man Administrator in the place of a five member board of directors which now runs the RFC. It also sets up a loan policy board and a review policy board. The Review Policy Board would have to give particular study to all loans in excess of $100,000.00.

The House defeated a reorganization bill under which the President could create new agencies or shift old ones almost at will. I voted against this bill, because the President now has authority to reorganize agencies. I do not want him to have authority to create any new and unnecessary boards such as the FEPC. If he needs to set up some defense agency not already authorized, he can ask for the specific authority, which if deemed necessary by the Congress, would of course be granted.

Another Administration proposal which 8 of us Texans opposed, while 12 favored, was a so-called 3 billion dollar defense housing bill. This bill would give the Administration the right to spend 3 billion dollars in building government defense housing and community facilities wherever the planners and spenders might desire. The measure would have been extremely inflationary. Preserving the value of the dollar is now one of our most important problems, and if defense areas become crowded, that is one of the sacrifices and inconveniences necessary. Some defense housing may become necessary, but most of us are not willing to authorize 3 billion dollars worth of same at this time. We already have provisions for military housing and FHA financing of private housing.

The current issue of United States News has some interesting statistics on the value of the dollar. If a dollar was worth 100 cents in 1900, it was worth 77 cents in 1915; 46 cents in 1930; 44 cents in 1945, and 31 cents today. The following table shows comparative prices of some defense items:

Fighter plane,	$53,000 in 1945;	Now $218,000.
Medium bomber	185,000 in 1945;	Now 2,500,000.
Big bomber	629,000 in 1945;	Now 3,500,000.
Transport plane	85,000 in 1945;	Now 514,000.
Heavy transport plane	260,000 in 1945;	Now 1,800,000.
Light tank	39,652 in 1945;	Now 126,029.
Medium tank	47,339 in 1945;	Now 200,000.

Thus, it becomes evident that this country must resort to drastic expedients to restrain inflation and to hold costs down from further skyrocketing.

The Armed Services Committee of the House has at last completed writing and has reported to the House, a Universal Military Training and Selective Service Act. Four amendments adopted in the Committee would: (1) Allow any registrant to demand the right to serve in a segregated unit. (2) Authorize Congress to stop inductions without the consent of the President. (3) Terminate the Selective Service program after three years. (4) Require the release of recalled reservists after one year of service if they are veterans of World War Two.

I especially hope that we will be able to retain the amendment giving an inductee the right to serve in a segregated unit if he wishes. Sometime ago, at the behest of the leftwing groups in this country, the President issued an executive order abolishing all segregation in the Armed Forces. Even most negroes would doubtless prefer serving in colored units. Social and morale problems would best be served by segregation.

Two-Headed Snake Reality

WACO, TEX.—Next time you have a nightmare about two-headed snakes, don't mark it off as impossible.

There is such an animal, according to Bryce C. Brown, professor of biology at Baylor University. The specimen was found by a fishing party on a sandy beach near Port Arthur, and was sent to Brown for addition to Baylor's Strecker Museum.

Brown called the snake "Natrix Erythogaster Tranverse," and described it as "a non-poisonous water snake."

The snake's two heads, each measuring about one inch in length can be moved in different directions at the same time and one can take a nap while the other keeps guard over their body.

The snake has a reddish-gray tapering body with yellow and brown bands which do not completely circle him.

Enlistment In Marine Corps

High School and college students, and recent graduates who have received orders to report for physicals or induction in the armed forces under the Selective Service Act can now enlist in the Marine Corps, Master Sergeant Wayne A. York in charge of the recruiting office in Wichita Falls announced on Monday.

Previously, the receipt of a notice to report for pre-induction physical examination or induction barred a student or recent graduate from enlisting in any branch of the service.

The new order, Sgt. York warned, applies only to high school and college students or recent graduates. Anyone else receiving pre-induction notices still cannot be enlisted, he said. Students or recent graduates who have received only their orders to report for pre-induction physical and mental exams can enlist without reference to their draft board.

Recent graduates or students who have received their orders to report for induction and have had them postponed may have their classification reopened by their draft board in order to volunteer for service with the Leathernecks.

The student or graduate can have his classification reopened by sending a written request to his draft board asking them to cancel the induction notice, so that he can join the Marine Corps. The letter must contain a statement from the recruiting office that the man will be accepted for immediate active duty, Sgt. York added.

"We don't want students to drop out of school to join the Marine Corps," Sgt. York said. "The more education a man has, the better Marine he makes. But if he has already decided to leave school we want him to know that he can enlist in the Corps if he can meet our high physical and mental standards."

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

LIBERAL KANSAS, SOUTHWEST DAILY TIMES: "Overmanning of government agencies and the overlapping of the many new-created bureaus are responsible largely for the poor manpower day-production records. Waste and inefficiency in nearly all government operation now is at an unheard of peak."

OMAHA, NEB., DAILY JOURNAL-STOCKMAN: "Subsidies, no matter what name they masquerade under, have no place in the American way. They are a resort to subterfuge, in which the real cost of living is camouflaged so as to fool the people."

ISLIP, N. Y., PRESS: "Mr. Hoover wants Congress to recover its authority over starting wars by having it exercise control over the nation's purse strings. He doesn't propose repudiations of treaties, or obligations; no retreat, no withdrawal from the position we have taken."

OIL CITY, PA., DERRICK: "The British are trying to narrow their dollar gap. Huh! Who isn't?"

A DISAPPEARING LANDMARK

We usually associate the covered bridge with New England although there are some remaining as landmarks in other sections. As they disappear from the countryside to be replaced by girders and cables of iron and steel, by concrete, we view those few covered bridges that remain, with a degree of nostalgia. One community, needing to replace a worn-out covered bridge, is having the new structure designed on the identical lines of the old, a pleasing gesture that gives distinctive qualities to the scenery and still serves traffic. So often our sense of practicability must overcome our sentiment, which is the price we pay for progression. Our salute to one of memory's gems, the sheltered passage, the wooden bridge whose covered trusses protected timbers, wayfarers and beasts from the weather.
