Jenkins Pledges He'll Be Working Congressman

Walter Jenkins this week announced he would be a candidate for Congress from the Thirteenth District and told voters that his "one-and only" promise is to be a Working Congressman.

At his home in Wichita Falls, Clay County, said he had given up his position as Administrative Assistant to U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson to make the race for Congress from this District.

Jenkins mentioned Congressman Ed Gossett, who has resigned, as "one of the hardest working men in Washington." "To do the job right, you have to work hard," Jenkins said. "and that is what I intend to do. I don't promise to make a lot of speeches. I don't promise to turn Washington upside down overnight. I only promise to work hard—and to be on call, 24 hours a day, to work, as best I can, for everybody in the district I have lived in all my life."

Jenkins has lived in Jolly, Decatur, and Wichita Falls, where he was a reporter for the Wichita Falls Record News and an accountant for the State Highway Department. During World War II he served overseas in North Africa, Corsica, and Italy for nearly two and one-half years.

Jenkins announced that he would begin immediately to visit over the district on a "dawn to bedtime schedule," and that he would be ready to answer "any and all questions," on where he stands.

Jenkins is married and has four children—Beth 4, Walter 2-1-2, and twin sons, John and Joe, who were born last election day, November 7th.

"I will do my best to represent 100 per cent of the citizens in the Thirteenth District and not just the special interests," Jenkins said.

"My wife and I have carefully thought and talked over the matter of my becoming a candidate. We are both firmly convinced that the people of the Thirteenth District will reward faithful service. We place our future and the future of our family, in the hands of the voters in the district where we were both born and have lived all our lives."

The meeting got under way with Byron Presley's suggestion to erect a hugh graph, listing each club. The graph will show from time to time how much money each club has donated toward the Youth Center. This suggestion was put in the form of a motion and approved by the Council. Next, each member present was given a list of individuals and business establishments, from whom he was to seek contributions.

This is not just a fly-by-night thing, it is something that we need in Burkburnett. Let's all dig deep in our pockets and help this Youth Center.

New Pumping Unit Is Scheduled To Arrive July 19

There is definitely a water shortage in Burkburnett. It is not the fault of the citizens for they voted bonds in the amount of $45,000.00 for improvements to the Water System. It is not the fault of the City Council—they placed orders for needed equipment in February, months before the bonds were voted. Maybe the hold-up could be charged to the Korean situation and the scarcity of some materials, especially motors and all metals.

Relief Promised July 19th

Manufacturers, who previously promised 90-days delivery, which would have been about May 20th, now definitely promise delivery of one large pump and motor July 19th, some two months later than expected.

Everything that could be done to furnish sufficient water under existing circumstances has been done. Every drop of water that can be forced through the lines with the smaller units is being pumped to town every day—500,000 to 600,000 gallons; but that is not enough to meet the demands. The lower pump station (Prescott) and the gathering facilities are being put in shape for service. The new line to that source of supply has been completed for some time. Water from this source could be pumped to the Central station any day, but pumps there are not large enough to bring it on to town.

You are asked to bear with the situation until the new equipment arrives. DO NOT wash your cars, water grass in your yards or unnecessarily use any water that you can do without. If your air conditioner does not have a circulating pump, cut the overflow, or pure wastage, down to the very minimum. Save every gallon you possibly can. If everyone will co-operate in conservation, no one should be completely out of water at any time. With so many new homes in town, and new lawns just getting started, the impulse is to pour the water on the grass to make it grow. Just be patient, and soon, we hope, there will be enough water for all the thirsty grass and shrubs as well as absolute necessity use.

Couple United In Simple Rites

The Methodist parsonage in Burkburnett was the scene of nuptial rites performed Saturday evening, June 23rd, to unite Mrs. Zala Dodson and Mr. George Byerly, both of this city.

The impressive ceremony was read by Rev. T. M. Jensen, pastor of the local Methodist Church, in the presence of relatives and close friends.

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Byerly is the very efficient Society Editor-Bookkeeper of the Burkburnett Star, a position she has held for six years. After writing hundreds of wedding reports, parties, club meetings, etc., she found the task of writing up her own wedding too great. The above was all that would come out, she says. Ye Ed suggested that in writing up the event, she could use fictitious names for the bride and groom—the Linotype operator could insert the proper names—then proceed as she would in writing up any wedding. That didn't help either, it seems. Mr. Byerly is the local wholesale agent for the Magnolia Petroleum Co. For a wedding trip they returned Mr. Byerly's parents to Port Arthur. They had come up for the Rodeo Celebration and remained over for the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Byerly are making their home on Sheppard Road, across from the Rose Lawn Addition.)

Letter of Thanks To Casey Logan

DEAR CASEY: As you probably know, our raffle of the horse and saddle during the Boom Town Celebration was a big success. As a result of this raffle, we have already been able to donate $500.00 toward the Youth Center.

To show our appreciation to you, we hereby select you as the Honorary Man Of The Month, for the month of June.

What Price Conservation?

Along with the President's letter to the government manpower chiefs urging, in fact ordering them to institute policies of rigid conservation that will be an "example" to the rest of the country, comes news that the White House will send to Congress shortly a proposal for Federal hospital benefits for all citizens past the age of 65, when the voluntary hospitalization plans generally expire.

If such a demand lines up in any shape, manner or form with the word "conservation", there's something wrong with our dictionary. You just don't open up another set of books for 150,000,000 accounts without manpower!

Give Us Our Daily Soap Opera

"Almost every home in America had a radio in April, 1950, about one out of eight had a television set, and four out of five had mechanical refrigeration", reports the Census Bureau in its first report on the 1950 census of housing.

In 1950, 94 per cent of homes had electricity as compared with 79 per cent in 1940, 85 per cent had kitchen sinks, half cooked with gas and about half had central heating, according to the report.

Which might indicate that we would rather listen to the radio than wash, cook, or even keep warm.

Why Are They Loose Now?

Around about the Fourth of July, the eleven convicted Communist leaders, whose final appeal was denied by the Supreme Court by a six-to-two decision, will finally go to jail. While this seems a most appropriate time for it, we still wonder what they're doing loose at this moment. A mere pickpocket gets prompter service from our corrective institutions. Apparently, it pays to be really dangerous.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

SANTA PAULA, CALIF., NEWS: "The public may relish price wars, as the people in New York have shown, but unless we miss our guess the reciprocal throat slashing among dealers isn't likely to go on very long. The free enterprise system is based on profit and you can't make a profit on large scale selling, at, or below, the cost price. The price war, however, has proved that the dollar isn't dead, but it isn't likely to live so high again for a long time to come."

BEREA, OHIO, ENTERPRISE: "The paper work required of small manufacturers and store keepers is just about impossible. With labor being given constant pay raises in defiance of controls, the little men are told they can roll their prices back . . . and pay the increased help out of profits. Small wonder that these small purveyors have in great numbers flatly refused to comply with these onerous and voluminous directives. Yet all government needs do to spawn more government is to say that refusal or inability to comply with bureau decrees is unpatriotic, against the defense effort, and its position is unassailable."

SALAMANCA, N. Y., INQUIRER: "It has been the experience of the taxpayer that the more money a governing body has to spend the more they will spend and come back and ask for more."

TELL CITY, INDIANA, NEWS: "This business of interfering with the cattle industry is pure monkey-shine business."

Managing Poultry In Summer Months

Summer management of growing birds takes on added significance at housing time. It is then that the good, or poor, management practices are in evidence. It is then that the poultry raiser either houses a healthy, vigorous flock of layers or finds a rundown, poor conditioned group of birds on hand. Whatever the condition of the laying flock, it is greatly influenced by the management the birds receive during the summer months.

Because it takes sound management to keep growing birds in healthy surroundings, a raiser has many important duties to perform during the summer time. These duties are extremely important to the welfare of the flock.

Management Practices

- To mention a few, the poultryman should:
1. Provide plenty of range for growing stock.
 2. Provide enough succulent green feed.
 3. Separate cockerels and pullets early so that the more promising pullets will have additional room.
 4. Fatten and sell the undesirable cockerels and pullets.
 5. See that the range flock has access to shady areas.
 6. Clean waterers and feeders daily.
 7. Provide birds with clean, fresh water at all times.
 8. Move the summer range shelter at regular intervals.
- In addition to the above management practices, a poultry-raiser should be alert for sources of poultry disease.

Sources of Disease

One of the first considerations is contaminated water. Areas where water stands, or open waterers where birds may deposit filth and manure are definite threats to poultry health. To avoid contamination, spade up holes and ditches and fill them in with dirt. Also clean waterers daily and keep them filled with clean fresh water.

Soil contamination is also a source of disease. Birds should be ranged on land where no chickens have been allowed for two years.

Another threat is the insect problem. Grasshoppers, mosquitoes, flies, and dung beetles are known to be intermediate hosts for tapeworms. Raisers should spray the premises regularly to keep down the insect population.

Some diseases are spread through mechanical means such as shoes, feed sacks, wild birds, dogs, and by contaminated feeders and waterers.

doesn't make an ocean...

In the Gas Business, too IT TAKES MANY SOURCES OF SUPPLY

One creek doesn't make a river, nor one river an ocean.

In the same way, one joint of pipe doesn't make a natural gas pipe line. It takes thousands of joints to form the gathering lines which move gas out of the field; it takes thousands more to construct a main transmission line; and still other thousands to build a system of distribution mains and service lines.

When gas supplies from more than 200 fields are available to meet the needs of such a system... and when more than 400,000 homes and industries are being served from that system... then you have United Gas.

Always, United Gas is planning and building for tomorrow; building to assure adequate supplies of gas for our customers of today, and of the future.

THERE'S PLENTY FOR YOU AND INDUSTRY, TOO

After 22 Years Military Service He's Going Over

Sheppard Air Force Base — A 40-year old Air Force Master Sergeant from Mineral Wells is finally going overseas after 22 years of military service—all in Texas! With the mere exception of one year, that is.

He is Master Sergeant Joel R. Halbert, now a resident of 602 East Third Street, Burkburnett, and stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base. The sergeant, husband of Mrs. Mary V. Halbert and son of Mrs. S. B. Halbert of East Mountain, Mineral Wells has been at Sheppard since it was reactivated in 1948.

Halbert first enlisted in the Cavalry in 1928—when it was traveling on horses instead of in tanks. At that time he was stationed at Camp Wolters at Mineral Wells and served variously as a stable sergeant, veterinary sergeant and in several other jobs. After his tour there, he went to Harlingen, and then to Laredo. He was later assigned to the Army Air Corps in 1939 and was stationed at Kelly Field, San Antonio; Lackland, also at San Antonio, and then at Sheppard.

With the exception of one period spent on recruiting duty in Cleveland, the sergeant has never been stationed outside of his home state. And now, while he's leaving the United States, he's not leaving North America, for this month he will leave for Alaska.

Sergeant Halbert served as sergeant major in the adjutant's office at Sheppard at the time of his departure this week.

"The armed forces today are not what they used to be," the sergeant declared. "They lack much of the color and ceremony of years gone by." And Sergeant Halbert is sure that nothing will ever replace the horse cavalry for colorful ceremonies.

School Teachers Are Still Scarce

Elementary school teachers continue to be the scarcest commodity on the education labor market, it was reported by Dr. Hob Gray, Teacher Placement director at the University of Texas.

Second greatest demand is for librarians. In high schools, English teachers are needed. Many requests have been received also for counselors and for teachers of women's physical and health education.

Some people are fenced off from success by their own railing.

Raymond Shaffer Goes Under Knife Saved By Burk Star

Raymond Shaffer attests to the wonderful healing powers of news from home:

"I have a two-fold purpose in writing you at this particular time: to thank you all sincerely for seeing to it that the STAR reached me at the time of my recent crisis, and to advise you of my change of address.

"It seems I inadvertently failed to check my horoscope on the 13th. Nevertheless, by 1:00 P. M. the next day, I was the unfortunate victim of an appendectomy at St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco. . . . My personal friends were quick to inquire what I needed, and I was just as quick to reply, 'to heck with radio, books, flowers and chocolates, just bring me my Burk Star!' Thus I was saved from the horrible fate of being unable to read all about Burkburnett, my friends, et cetera, and I am indeed grateful to the entire staff. Thank you."

Farm Safety Week Spurred by High Accident Rate

Farm workers had an accidental death rate more than twice as high as workers in non-agricultural industries in 1950, the National Safety Council reports.

The 1950 death rate for farm workers was 57 per 100,000 workers, while in non-agricultural industries the average death rate was 22.

The Council's announcement of the occupational death rates gave emphasis to plans for the eighth annual National Farm Safety Week, proclaimed by President Truman for July 22 to 28th.

Highlights of the Council's announcement are shown in a report on accidents to farm residents were:

- 1. Farm toll hits 15,500. Total farm resident deaths from accidents were 15,500 in 1950. Injuries totaled about 1,300,000.
- 2. Farm home deaths totaled 3,900, with approximately 550,000 nonfatal injuries.
- 3. Motor vehicles killed 6,300 farm residents in 1950 and injured 220,000 more.
- 4. The total of farm work deaths was 4,300, which accounted for more than 25 per cent of the nation's occupational death toll for 1950.
- 5. Public non-motor vehicle deaths, such as drownings, took the lives of about 1,600 farm residents.

On the basis of these figures, the Council said that one of every 10 farm residents in the United States will suffer a disabling injury from an accident in 1951.

Farm and safety leaders throughout the nation are mobilizing for National Farm Safety Week with the theme, "Adopt Safe Practices." Attention is being called to the heavy farm accident toll and the safe practices which will prevent death and injury from farm hazards.

Familiar Signs Often Ignored

Back in Caesar's time a writer of wit and wisdom named Publilius Syrus realized that "familiarity breeds contempt." He didn't have traffic accidents in mind when he wrote it down, but the truth of his words hold true today in the attitude of motorists toward signs and signals.

The National Safety Council points out that familiarity with traffic signs, signals and regulations in any territory frequently traveled apparently dulls a driver's alertness and makes him a potential accident victim.

Most Mishaps Near Home That partly accounts for the fact that nearly three-fourths of fatal traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the driver's home, according to the Council.

To impress drivers with the meaning of all signs and signals, the Council is sponsoring a "Signs of Life" program in August.

The Council says there are five basic shapes of highway signs. Round signs warn of a railroad approach, while the cross-buck is a danger signal near the tracks. The eight-sided or octagonal sign means stop. Diamond-shaped signs warn of possible danger, such as curves. Oblong signs state the

The Cow That Can "Run Dry"

Sandy Johnson showed me his Jersey cows last week. It was a warm day and they were all under the trees near a watering trough.

And darned if one cow wasn't pumping water into the trough! It's a fact—she'd raise the pump handle with her nose, and use her throat to push it down again.

"That's Mabel," Sandy explained as she moved away. "Sometimes they drink that trough dry, and she's learned how to fill it again. But she doesn't know her own strength—turns the place into a swamp if we don't watch her."

From where I sit, Mabel is the only one who sometimes knows where to stop. Able to accommodate 18,000 men, it was erected in only three weeks' time in the midst of bombed-out buildings which once formed a gigantic German air base. The camp has its own telephone system, bus ties, chapels, theatres and other recreational areas. Life in Mannheim, situated on the Rhine River and one of Germany's largest industrial centers, is bright despite heavy war damages.

Permanent stations for the Fourth Division, now part of the Seventh Army, commanded by Lt. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, have not yet been announced.

S-Sgt. H. J. Brown
In Honolulu, T. H.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Brown recently had a letter from their son, H. J. Brown, Jr., who is now stationed at Hickam Air Force Base, Honolulu, T. H. "The first night out the water was pretty rough, but the rest of the time was nice sailing. The weather here is excellent; doesn't get below fifty in the winter, they say. I have a good job here, am on the pre-flight crew, and I'm in charge of my crew. We have C-54's. So far as I know now, I'll be stationed here for three years; have to get 36 points this trip and we get one point a month here. Well, it's now chow time, so guess I'd better go eat a bite. I work nights and sleep and get other stuff done during the day. I sure would like to hear from my Burk friends."

M-Sgt. W. W. Elrod
Still In Korea
99th Field Art. Bn.

With the 1st Cavalry Division U. S. Army, in Korea—(Delayed) A Burk Burnett, Texas, man is on the Korean battlefield with a field artillery battalion of the 1st Cavalry Division that has consistently helped smash Communist mass attacks.

He is Master Sergeant Woodrow W. Elrod, husband of Mrs. Althea D. Elrod, Route 1, Burk Burnett, who is a member of the colorful 9th Field Artillery Battalion, one of the first howitzer units to be committed to action in Korea in July, 1950.

One of the four artillery battalions in the famed Cavalry Division, the 99th gives close support to the infantrymen of the 8th U. S. Cavalry.

While supporting the 8th Cavalry in North Korea last winter, Sgt. Elrod's battalion was trapped in the tragic Usan encirclement where newly-entered Chinese Communists outflanked the entire regiment.

It was at Usan that the 99th wrote a chapter of gallantry in military history. Heroic, selfless "99ers" fighting from all sides, stood by their guns throughout the battle, protecting the withdrawing infantry.

In recent action Sgt. Elrod's battalion helped in crushing the Chinese Reds ill-fated spring offensive. The battalion inflicted casualties on the Chinese by the thousands.

Recent Bride Is Complimented With Shower Party

One of the prettiest bridal showers of the season was the one honoring Mrs. Leonard Randolph, the charming and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Revier in the beautifully decorated Wesley Bible Class room of the Methodist Church on last Friday evening, June 22nd.

The new bride made a very attractive picture amid the setting of gorgeous flower arrangements enhanced by the long table covered with a lavender linen cloth, a beautiful centerpiece and two crystal punch services with individual white cakes decorated with pink roses and green leaves.

Sue Douglas, Judy Willingham, Patsy Morgan and Charla Sue Thompson sang that lovely and appropriate ballad, "Those Wedding Bells Are Breaking Up That Old Gang of Mine," accompanied by Nathalie Foster. Then Nathalie sang a beautiful solo accompanied by Patsy Morgan.

Paula Garland gave a very winsome and clever reading entitled "They Usually Do." Mrs. O. E. Melton paid tribute to Grace for her leadership in the Methodist Church and its organizations during the years of her growing up and then presented the beautiful shower gifts to her, assisted by the other hostesses. Anne Payne and Beverly Wyant served the punch and Beverly also presided at the beautifully appointed bride's book, a gift from an aunt, Mrs. Paul Revier of Comanche, Oklahoma.

The guest list included approximately 135. Attending from out of town were: Mesdames Henry, Jack and W. B. Grace, L. E. Junell, D. D. Shores, Jess Jeter, Mary Rigby, and Misses Peggy and Pearl Jeter.

Hostesses for the affair were: Mesdames Jimmy and Tom Boyd, J. M. Patterson, E. V. Roderick, C. M. Thompson, W. C. Gage, S. M. Butts, Lewis Cashwheeler, Winford Henry, A. A. McKinnis, Joe Nichols, J. Melton, Maxine Creel, and Misses Barbara Sue Jones, Anne Payne and Beverly Wyant.

Friendship Class Has Social Thurs.

The Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church held their regular monthly social Thursday, June 21 in the home of Mrs. Will Teal, class president, with group 3 as co-hostesses.

After refreshments the class sang, "Living for Jesus," led by Mrs. J. A. Johnson. Mrs. Jim Ady led in prayer. Mrs. J. B. Wright, Stewardship vice-president, gave her report. Mrs. H. D. Smith gave a report for group 3 and Mrs. R. P. Thaxton, reported for group 1, in the absence of Mrs. Agnes Boyd. Mrs. R. P. Thaxton, class teacher, brought the Devotional services from Luke 19-10. Using "Lost" as her theme, she pointed out how Courage, Hope, Youth Ideals, Faith, Joy, and all material things, could be lost, yet Jesus serving as our compass could restore all these to those willing to trust his leadership.

Mrs. Elmer Burns, Fellowship chairman, introduced Mrs. Hugh Preston, who gave a humorous reading followed by the much loved one, "Lots of Living" given in her competent and impressive way.

Those attending were: Mesdames Will Teal, J. C. Adams, R. P. Thaxton, Elmer Burns, J. A. Johnson, J. B. Wright, H. D. Smith, C. D. Mullins, A. W. Coles, J. D. Kennedy, Jim Ady, Hugh Preston, Hattie Buchanan, and Miss Oma Van Cleve.
