Burk Inspection Fire Prevention To Be Held Oct. 15

Promptly at nine o'clock Wednesday morning, October 15th, a swarm of inspectors from the West Texas and North Texas Divisions of the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association will assemble to inspect mercantiles, churches and schools for latent fire hazards.

Each team of two inspectors will be assisted by one of our own Volunteer Firemen and a Boy Scout.

This inspection is sponsored by the local Fire Department under Chief J. F. Kelley, the Chamber of Commerce and all civic clubs.

In the evening a Chuck Waggoner feed will be given, to which all of the citizens will be invited. The feed will be held at Town Hall, probably fried or barbecued chicken, with plates selling for $1.00.

The results of the inspection will be reviewed and an address by Chief W. Grady Burns of the Dallas Fire Department will close the day.

Boy Scouts to Assist
The organization of the Boy Scouts will be of great assistance in making the coming Town Inspection a success. They will accompany the teams of inspectors and firemen in their rounds.

Experience has shown that the Scouts who participated are very adept in locating fire hazards and are quick to call the inspectors' attention to such violations.

The Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association, North Texas Division, are so well impressed with the help of the Scouts in inspection work that they would not undertake the job unless they could be assured of the Boy Scouts' participation.

Fire Hazard Inspection to Be Made Here Oct. 15

Two Wichita County communities—Burkburnett and Electra will conduct an all-out blitz on blazes Oct. 15 and 16 when members of the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association make a fire hazard check of all public and mercantile buildings.

Virgil F. Hooks, Jr., of Dallas, President of the North Texas Division of the Fieldmen's Association, said that 40 trained fire hazard "detectives" will check Burkburnett on October 15 and Electra the following day. The inspections of the two cities will be the 24th and 25th such fire hazard checks of Texas communities since the Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association began their public service town inspection program in 1949, Mr. Hooks said.

Every public and business building in both communities will be visited by an inspection team made up of two trained inspectors from the Fieldmen's Association, a local fireman and a local Boy Scout. Each potential fire hazard will be marked with a red tag and each tenant or building owner will receive detailed suggestions on removing the hazards.

The following farmers in the Iowa Park Work Unit area had conservation plans approved: Albert Brockriede, H. H. Bege-man, and Raymond Haynes, all of Electra; J. D. Kirkpatrick, and J. E. White of Wichita; Edgar Sizer of Burkburnett; W. T. Miller, K. T. Goetze, Earl L. Denny, George L. Krohn and L. L. Sternadel of Iowa Park.

Wouldn't we save a lot of time if so much time lost in hurrying wasn't wasted?

Rodeo Casualties Not to Interfere With Tonight's Show

Aubrey Rankin says the rodeo arena will be sprinkled down for tonight's show, to eliminate as much dust as possible. Work on the grounds has been going on this week, fences repaired and gates hung, broken down by rough cattle and horses.

New on the program tonight will be a boot race, and other events for business men who don't want to compete with the cowboys who have had much more experience with riding, etc., from the chutes. Small awards will be made to winners of the special events.

Bullrider Owen Injured

Up until last Thursday night Duke Owen thought he was a good bull rider, just like he was years ago. After coming out on a twisting, bawling critter which dumped him in front of the chutes, he realized he had lost the old rhythm. Duke has been in bed since last Friday, and in the hospital since Monday. He is suffering from severe pains in the left hip, thought to be caused by a bruise. Owen has turned in his spurs, at least for a few days.

Last week Troy Mills came out on a load of bucking dynamite, and after the first two or three jumps, he decided to unload. However, the wild cow had other ideas. Each time that Mills went up in the air, it seemed he would hit the ground but the cow would bounce right back under him and toss him up again. Checkerboard Gillis, big hat, spurs, chaps and all, tried his luck at Old Speck. On the second jump he looped the loop and landed in a rocking chair position.

New Rat, Mouse Poison Is Deadly

Farmers and townspeople will find Warfarin to be a slow but sure rat killer, County Agent Joe Bradley stated today, when talking about the county-wide rat control program slated for Monday, October 6th under the direction of the Wichita County Farm Bureau. Cooperating are the 4-H Clubs, Veterans Agriculture classes, Home Demonstration clubs, Vocational Ag. (FFA) classes, and all Chamber of Commerce of the county.

Unlike most poisons, it takes several days for Warfarin to work. Rats and mice need to eat only a small amount each day for about five days before death occurs. The poison is practically odorless and tasteless. Once rats start eating it, they continue to do so until they expire.

Mr. Bradley asserts that Warfarin can be used safely on farms if reasonable precautions are taken to keep it out of the reach of livestock and pets.

Orders for Warfarin may be left at the Farmers Co-op. Gin or the Chamber of Commerce office in Burkburnett.

Farm Bureau Helped Save On Road Building

Texas Farm Bureau Federation, working in cooperation with other groups such as County Judges and Commissioners Association and Rural Letter Carriers, "saved" millions of dollars for rural road building purposes in Texas for the years 1951 and 1953, through a vigilant and active program of work carried on while the 1951 State Legislature was in session according to T. H. Eckelkamp of Electra, president of the Wichita County Farm Bureau.

Legislation was introduced, Eckelkamp said, that would have taken from the counties every penny of the road bond assumption money, which is expended by the Commissioners Courts in the counties, and would have discontinued the appropriation provided under the Colson-Briscoe Act, which is used by the State Highway Department to build farm-to-market roads. The movement led by the Farm Bureau specifically saved $7,300,000 in road bond assumption money for the State of Texas each year, and $15,000,000 Colson-Briscoe funds.

Bulldogs Better Says Local Fan

By Bill Flanagan
A greatly improved ground attack supported by a hard-hitting, charging line, told the difference last Friday night as Coach Joe Bob Tyler's Bulldogs whitewashed a game Henrietta eleven 19 to 0 on the loser's field.

Donald Knox and Bowden Maben and Jerry McClure consistently ripped the Bearcat line for large gains. Knox countered for the Bulldogs early in the second period on a short plunge through the line. With two minutes left in the first half Bowden Maben swept his right end behind a horde of blockers for ten yards and pay dirt. The try for extra point was good and Burk led at half-time by 13-0.

Late in the third quarter a pass to Donald Gee in the end zone scored six points for Burk. The play was good for 19 yards and ended the scoring for the night.

The Bulldogs were mostly improved on defense as Muhling-haus, Mann, Schroeder and Prescott played most of the game in the Henrietta backfield.

The victory was the third in a row for Burk, as the competition gets tougher with each game.

Friday night, October 3rd, the Bulldogs meet Archer City on the local gridiron. Game will start at 8:00 o'clock.

BENEFICIENT-NOT BAD

Speaking on a Chicago Bar Association panel, the head of the Midwest's largest oil company said that big business in America is beneficent, not bad—and that "small businessmen are today much more worried about big government than about big business." He branded as "utterly and completely without foundation" the charge that economic concentration is increasing in this country. The fact is that there are more small enterprises now than ever before. In the last 16 years alone, the number of American businesses has increased by 1,000,000, and new enterprises are being born at the rate of 1,000 per day.

These are truths which need wide circulation at a time when big business has been selected as the whipping boy by all the left-wing elements, including many who occupy important positions inside the government. Big businesses exist for, and only for, the reason that we couldn't get along without them. To take the oil industry as an example, a single pipe line 780 miles long involves an expenditure of $100,000,000. A refinery large enough to be reasonably efficient, with a capacity of 30,000 barrels of crudet a day, now costs about forty million dollars—and many of our refineries are much larger. Obviously, small business couldn't handle such jobs as these.

But that doesn't mean that big business calls the tune and bosses the economy. There never was a time when there was more room for the small business—or when so many small businesses were operating, growing, and filling a need. The biggest problem the small businessman faces today is the murderous burden of taxation—beside that, the problem of big business competition is insignificant.

STOCKHOLDERS CREATE JOBS

We hear much about the importance of labor, which is quite as it should be. But we hear little about the importance of the stockholder—the man or woman who makes labor's jobs and living standards possible.

As an example, take the food and grocery manufacturing industry—an enterprise which serves almost every American family every day of its life. A study was recently made of 25 representative companies within the industry, ranging from the large to the small. In the majority of cases, there are more stockholders than employees. For the group as a whole, there are 586,150 stockholders and 309,073 employees—close to a two-to-one majority. And 52 per cent of the stockholders are women.

Moreover, these stockholders aren't a bunch of bloated male and female plutocrats, who sit back and rake in fat profits. In the case of one of the largest corporations in the group, 93 per cent of the stockholders own less than 100 shares and more than half own less than 25 shares. The companies average a profit of something like 3 cents on each dollar of sales—which hardly looks as if the consumer was getting a gouging.

In short, the stockholders, the people who create jobs, are just as important to our national life as the workers, the managers, or any other group. If we discourage investment by unfair and punitive taxation, or in any other way, we will simply dry up the sources of the money which is the lifeblood of the economy. Then labor will be hit hardest of all.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Tucker of El Paso, Texas, visited in the home of his brother, M. C. Tucker this week. Mr. Tucker is known to quite a few Burk residents as one of those men with a cap on, at the International Bridge, who comes out to look in your car for bottles of perfume, hair oil, counterfeit money, undesirable citizens, etcetera. He has been in the Treasury, Justice, and Secret Service Department of the Government for many years and recently retired at the age of 70. At that time he was given a banquet by over 200 friends and fellow employees, and presented with a purse of $70.00, one dollar for each year of his age. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker are touring North and East on business and pleasure.

"Lure of Wilderness"

Technicolor Adventure Set In Georgia Swamp Stars Peters, Hunter, Smith

"Lure of the Wilderness," new Technicolor outdoor adventure film photographed in the Georgia Okefenokee Swamp and starring Jean Peters, Jeffrey Hunter, Constance Smith and Walter Brennan, arrives at the Palace Theatre Sunday Monday.

Based on a story by the late Vereen Bell, a native Georgian who gave his life as a Naval officer off the Philippines in 1944, "Lure of the Wilderness" narrates the tale of a young girl forced to live with her fugitive father in the treacherous swamp for eight years and is suddenly faced with the bewilderment of returning to civilization. Almost completely primitive, she is more at ease roaming the alligator infested swamp with a bow and arrow than facing the outside world. How her father and a young Georgian who falls in love with her bring her back to civilization provides the drama and suspense of the story.

We suppose the adman's child starts its prayer with "Give us this day our daily Honeycrust, Even-Baked, Whole Wheat Bread."

Return From Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Martin and Mrs. Sam Wood have returned from a very colorful and interesting two weeks' vacation. They took a trip to Old Mexico through El Paso and spent two days there among the sights of the beautiful open markets and then journeyed on to Alamogordo, New Mexico, and spent the night there where the white sands are the highlight of the town. The next morning they enjoyed a western breakfast in the city park, celebrating the Atero County Fair.

From there they went to White City, N. M., and visited the Carlsbad Caverns. They started home on Saturday and arrived here to finish out their two weeks fishing in Red River. They were accompanied on the fishing trip by Sam Wood and report they had lots of good luck in catching several kinds of fish. All in all it was a wonderful two weeks.

Competition is the life of the OIL BUSINESS

The demand for oil increases every year. Americans need more oil for more automobiles, for more airplanes, more ships, more high speed locomotives and more of many things besides.

And just as one merchant competes with another for your business, oil companies compete for it, too—for the gallons of gasoline and quarts of motor oil you buy; to supply the ships, the locomotives, the industries, the airplanes.

The competition is intense, and it spreads throughout the industry. Oil companies compete with each other to find and produce more oil. Pipe line companies vie with each other to develop low cost transportation. Refineries compete to supply more and better oil products. Salesmen compete on the basis of quality products and the service rendered.

It's a good thing, this competition. It's the life of the oil business; it keeps the industry vigorous, progressive, enterprising.

But its chief benefit is to you and other Americans. Competition within the oil industry discovers and develops a natural resource necessary not only for modern living but to national defense. It supplies you and the country with continuously improved petroleum products; today, two gallons of gasoline do work that required three in 1920, but the gasoline costs no more than it did then.

Mr. Harry Dodson Burk Burnett Star Burk Burnett, Texas Dear Mr. Dodson: Hoping that you will be among the guests of the State Fair of Texas on Press and Radio Day, October 4, I am writing to extend you a cordial invitation to visit the Chance Vought display, to see our Texas-made F7U Cutlass, and to meet some of our people. Our exhibit will be located near the General Exhibits Building at the head of the Esplanade. This is the first time we have been able to exhibit the Cutlass at the State Fair. Texas now ranks second only to California as an Aviation center, and more than 50,000 Texans are employed by the aviation industry. During the day, I plan to be at the Chance Vought booth part of the time as will representatives of various departments of our company who will be glad to answer any questions you may have about the Cutlass of the aircraft industry in Texas. CAMERA TOPICS

By T. T. Holden

COLOR PICTURES EASY TO TAKE

The tremendous upsurge in the popularity of color photography in recent years is due to the remarkable technological advances in film and equipment and to the decreased costs of color film. A good color photograph is something you must see yourself in order to appreciate its beauty. And the process has become so simplified at the picture-taking end that even a beginner can make good color photographs in a short time. One of the best and least expensive cameras for making good color pictures is the 35 mm. Color shots made with this camera cost less than 17 cents apiece. The film is processed for you by experts at the factory and comes back mounted in individual cardboard slides. These pictures are called transparencies, and may be projected on a screen and/or made into color prints. Inexpensive hand viewers are also suitable for viewing these transparencies. The price of good 35 mm cameras range from around $40 to $250 and up, but for everyday family picture-taking, a camera that sells for about $40-$50 will deliver excellent results. And these cameras are almost as easy to use as a box camera. A "35" equipped with a range-finder simplifies picture-taking and prevents film wasted on out-of-focus shots. The actual shooting of color film differs little from black and white. A slightly longer and more accurate exposure is necessary, and one must avoid or fill in deep shadows with a flash or reflector. Beginners sometimes try to get too much color in one picture, too, with detrimental results. It is usually better to keep the number of colors at a minimum.

Fire Inspection And Program Set For Wed., Oct. 15

Wednesday, October 15th, has been set aside as a city-wide fire inspection day, with a parade in the morning and a chuck wagon feed that night.

Meeting in the City Hall last Thursday, J. H. Speed, secretary-treasurer, and Frank O. Long, assistant secretary of the North Texas Field Club, and Frank Kelley, local Fire Chief, Leon Carver, W. A. Roberts, R. M. Davis, C. R. Chambers, Cliff Wampler, Ray Hill and Harry Dodson completed plans for the Fire Inspection day.

The parade at 8:30 A. M. will be headed by the High school band, the Burkburnett Fire Department trucks, and followed by other paraders to be announced later.

From 10 A. M. to 3:00 P. M., school children from the grade school through the high school will meet for short talks by a noted fire prevention expert, and will also view films pertaining to fire prevention.

Prior to the inspection day, blanks will be distributed to all home owners through the schools and other sources. The school child that returns the greatest number of these blanks, properly filled out, will receive a $10 award, and the one returning the second largest number will receive a $5 award. The awards will be made following the chuck wagon feed during a short program, when a noted expert will bring a brief fire-prevention address.

During the day, inspection teams will inspect all downtown business houses, seeking fire hazards. When a hazard is found, a red tag will be tied to or near the hazard, stating the nature of the hazard. No inspections will be made in the residences. Each resident is supposed to make his own inspection and properly fill out the blank which will be picked up by a school child.

The inspection scheduled for Wednesday, October 15, does not in any way have any connection with basic insurance rates. The purpose of the inspection is to eliminate as many fire hazards as possible in an effort to save human lives, as well as property. All the work is on a voluntary basis. Local Firemen and Boy Scouts will assist the inspection teams, and no effort will be made to force anyone to correct any hazards that may be found.

At 6:30 the chuck wagon feed will be held at Town Hall. Each person is to pay for his own meal, with the price probably not over $1.00. Following the feed will be a short program and awarding prizes to students returning the most inspection blanks from residences.

Mrs. Gilbert has a shipment of Madonna Lilies that should be planted now.

WICHITA-WILBARGER Soil Conservation NEWS

A dry year such as this offers its lessons that all can see by the signs on the land. There is some subsoil moisture in the soil of Henry T. Wolf, S. C. D. cooperator, farming 2 miles north of Iowa Park. How does it happen you ask? Wolf explains that his method is one of stubble mulching wheat land immediately after harvest and after each measurable amount of rain this operation is repeated. Get it into the soil, reduce evaporation and destroy plants that use water.

Wolf has land that also needs terracing and contour cultivation but this has been delayed because as he stated, "I just didn't like terraces." Now Wolf is terracing all his land that has natural grass outlets on which to outlet terraces. Wolf visited some of his neighbor's farms that had channel type terraces constructed on their farms and found that they most nearly fit the land and a farmer's equipment.

The field not having a natural outlet will have a grassed waterway established before terracing. Jack Walsler, District Supervisor from Punkin Center, has suggested that more success in getting grass to grow in recently shaped waterways would be had if 2 inches of topsoil were placed in the waterway. A method of construction will be used that will accomplish this, after which it will be

Grade School News

We have been very busy this week going to football games, the fair and studying our lessons. We had another very exciting event for several of the boys and girls who attended the Ringling Bros. Circus at Wichita Falls on the 25th. The circus was very much in evidence in most all of the rooms on Friday after the circus. Each child that attended the circus had many exciting stories to tell about the strange animals and acts of the clowns.

We have enjoyed going to the Texas-Oklahoma Fair over at Iowa Park and seeing the exhibits that we helped make. It was very interesting to see our exhibits along side of those from other schools.
 We would like for you to know Mrs. Sargent, the home room teacher of Section 4-1. Mrs. Sargent came to us this year from Fox, Oklahoma. The Fox School District has the distinction of being the largest district in Oklahoma. It is a very wealthy school district and we feel very fortunate in securing Mrs. Sargent as one of our teachers. The children in her room are very proud to have her as their teacher, and want you to know her.

Uncle Sam Says

We're seeing the old year out this week. For those of us who've held on to our Defense Bonds, it was a prosperous year indeed. Help make 1952 a prosperous year by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. This time next year you can say to yourself, "I now own U. S. Defense Bonds. I've saved all that money, and I've helped Uncle Sam with it, too. Am I lucky!" But it won't be luck at all, just the application of common sense.
