Summary of Events, Texas-Oklahoma Silver Anniversary Fair, Sept. 28 - Oct. 3

For a Fair famous for "firsts" which the T-O Fair has earned a name in recent years the 1953 show will present for the first time an Open Pleasure Horse Show. Designed to appeal to the hundreds of owners of fine horses whose interest in the appearance and ability of their animals, with breed registry of minimum importance, the new department will present a ten-event program which will be a tribute to the horse and horsemanship of the Southwest. With everything from a Grand Entry competition to a barrel race, the Pleasure Horse Show will appeal to every horse lover—and will provide a showplace for every horse owner. The Open Show will occupy the first three days of the week long program, with the traditional registered Quarter Horse Show filling in the last three days.

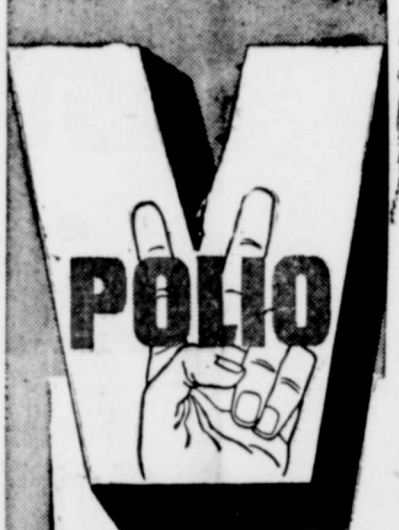

A salute to our neighbors South of the Border will be another of the featured "firsts" of the Silver Anniversary Show. The Republic of Mexico Day is added to the long list of special days for the event. Program details are in the hands of representatives of the Mexican Government and area residents of Mexican extraction, with festivities scheduled to occupy Saturday of Fair Week.

The "Windup" of Fair Week will be a grand one, according to plans announced recently for the Saturday night event—the Battle of Songs, featuring the vocal groups whose artistry has brought new meaning to singing in recent years, the songfest will be a source of real enjoyment to operators and performers alike in the Auditorium rings with conditions of favorite songs of the area.

The area's stockmen justifiable pride in the giant Hereford cow, which annually displays millions of dollars worth of the most exactly bred beef animals on the face of the earth. The Hereford Show attracts breeders from many states and has become a regular stop on the show circuit of most of the big breeders. Housed in a comfortable, well-ventilated barn, the Hereford Department provides the largest single item in the huge Fair purse, with a total of more than $5,000 being given as awards.

But the stockmen of the future, too, have their place in the scheme of things at the huge Fair, for their Junior Livestock Department has shown the largest growth of any single Fair Department since its inception only a few short years ago. With the Fair's big junior Livestock Barn bulging each year with prize animals which 4-H and FFA members have raised as projects, the Junior show gives valuable hints on showmanship and livestock production not to be found anywhere else. The exceptional interest shown by 4-H and FFA members from both Texas and Oklahoma is a tribute to the work done in this department by those whose efforts have been directed towards its betterment, and the foresight of the youngsters who see their future in this area.

One of the truly outstanding portions of the program for each year's fair is the day when Fairgrounds is turned over to the people whose work and planning made possible the many fine things we enjoy in our two-state region today—our Pioneers. The Pioneer Day program annually attracts thousands of visitors who call the Fair area "home". They come from everywhere—some of them making annual trips of hundreds of miles, to join the folks during the day of music, food and friendship. The comrades of many years of acquaintance is renewed during the day's festivities, and entertainment is served up galore, as is the food during the annual Chuck Wagon Feed.

Lions Club

Meets Each Tuesday Night at 7:00 O'clock at Town Hall
Roy Magers introduced Bill Cauthorn as a new member.

Pat Patterson and John Rigby brought the program. Pat introduced Curtis Cook, Editor of the Wichita Falls Record News, who brought his annual report to the club on world affairs. Cook gave the following reasons for Russia's recent peace overtures: 1. Realization that the United States has developed the H bomb, in addition to perfection of atomic bombs. 2. All is not well inside Russia. There is at this time one of the greatest struggles for power among Russians who would like to be rulers. 3. Chaos and rebellion in the satellite countries. Editor Cook stated there is a possibility of a united Germany and a united Austria in the near future... if Russia shows a willingness to co-operate in present UN meetings.

Next week Ted Roark and Ralph White will bring the program.

Education Exhibits At 1953 T-O Fair

FACTS ABOUT OIL PRICES

A while ago the chairman of an important House committee asked what justification there could be for any increases in the price of oil products. The president of an oil company came before the committee and answered the question.

He pointed out that there had been no general increase in crude-oil prices in almost six years, and that the 1952 average was less than in 1948. In the meantime, labor and other unavoidable costs have gone up sharply. Another big and unavoidable expense jump has taken place in exploration work. This particular company spent more than $43,000,000 last year on holes that turned out dry and worthless, and the average cost of each producing well ran to $106,000, a figure 29 per cent greater than in 1948.

Going on, he said that the government has asked the oil industry to create and maintain a domestic reserve capacity of 1,000,000 barrels a day as a national security measure, and this has been very expensive.

Finally, it is a matter of record that the industry's net profits have increased but 3.3 percent since 1948, even though refining capacity has been increased to an enormous extent in the intervening years.

This does not mean that a round of major oil price boosts is expected. It does show that the industry can hardly be accused of exploiting the public. In truth, it has shown great and commendable restraint in price matters.

NATURAL LAW

Many a scholarly article has been written describing the workings of the supply-and-demand system. But you needn't be an economist to understand the salient feature of the system as it affects the consumer. Under it, the price of any commodity in the free market tends to rise when supply is short, while the price tends to decline when supply is heavy.

Beef provides us with an excellent practical example of what happens. A year or so ago a combination of factors—the government's misguided arbitrary controls being one of the foremost—caused the supply of beef to be insufficient to meet the demand. As a result, prices for the popular beef cuts ran at high levels.

Since then, the situation has virtually reversed itself. Controls are a thing of the past. The nation's cattle population recently reached an all-time high of nearly 94,000,000 head—a jump of 22 per cent since 1949. Inevitably, marketings of beef animals were heavily increased and beef cuts of all kinds came into abundant supply. As a consequence, retail beef prices have been running some 20 per cent under last year's levels.

As time goes on, beef prices like all other prices will go through more up and down cycles, depending on the supply-demand situation of the moment. The prices, in other words, aren't "fixed" by human judgement or decision. They are established by natural law.

SHORT END OF THE STICK

Two years ago Congress amended the capital gains tax law to provide that the homeowner who made a profit on the sale of his house wouldn't have to pay a tax on that profit if it was invested in another home within a year.

That brings up a $64 question which can be phrased in these words: Why shouldn't the capital gains law be further amended to give the same treatment and consideration to investors who transfer their money from one security to another?

At present, the investor—whose savings, in the form of stocks and bonds have made our magnificent industrial machine possible—is the victim of severe inequalities when it comes to taxation. His dividends, if any, are subjected to double taxation. And if he decides to sell a stock on which he has made some profit in order to buy another stock he likes better, he must pay up to 25 percent of that profit to the government.

One bewhiskered argument is that this injustice is felt only by rich capitalists and speculators, whom no one need worry about. But that simply isn't true nowadays. One third of all the stockholders in this country have annual incomes of less than $5,000, and an additional 44 percent make between $5,000 and $10,000. And careful survey indicate that 90 percent of all transactions on major stock exchanges are of the investment type, and only an insignificant portion are undertaken by traders who make a business of constant buying and selling.

One basic duty of government is to treat all types and classes of taxpayers as equitably as possible. That certainly isn't being done in the case of the investor.

Summary of Events Texas-Oklahoma Silver Anniversary Fair Sept. 28 - Oct. 3

SUBMITTED BY
Ted Overby, Manager
T. Leo Moore, Public Relations Director

A week's program of outstanding features, many brand-new, is in prospect for the big Silver Anniversary Celebration of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair in Iowa Park beginning September 28. Planned as a monument to a quarter century of progress in the two states it serves, the 1953 Texas-Oklahoma Fair will open with one of its new features when its Silver Anniversary Queen is crowned Monday evening, Sept. 28, in the Air-Conditioned Main Auditorium. To be selected from nominees sponsored by civic organizations thru out the Fair area, the Queen's Coronation will be the signal for a round of festivities including a Coronation Dance on Monday night, and the presentation of a group of gifts and prizes to the winning contender; including a Scholarship to Midwestern University. The selection of the Queen will be made on a basis of advance tickets sold by the sponsoring organization against the position of the nominee's home town. This campaign will culminate in the announcement of the identity of the Queen during the Coronation.

PARKER'S SUPER MARKET

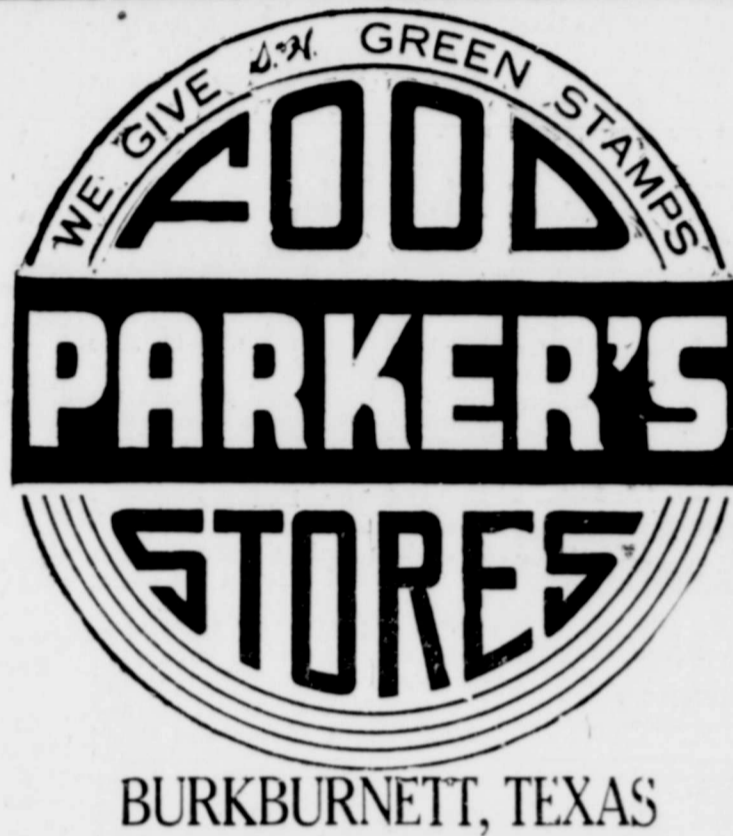

ARMOUR WEEK

Easy Does It For Summer

Our stores abound with quick and easy to prepare foods. At every display you'll find suggestions for menus to lighten your kitchen duties and give you more time for fun with the family.

A typical Food Super Market, including Parker's, stock over 3,000 items, on its shelves and display cases, but the typical newspaper ad is seldom able to include more than 100 items. This is only a small sampling of a store price policy. Therefore, as useful as they are, newspapers do not tell the whole story. That is why we repeat: visit your Parker Food Stores ... it's the total you save that counts.

Your Senator Reports

by LYNDON B. JOHNSON

(Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, writing from Washington, gives a weekly report on happenings in the National Capital as they affect Texas and Texans).

TEXAS FARM PRODUCTION AS AFFECTED BY WATER PROBLEMS

The Texas farm economy is vitally affected by the fact that our State now uses only 15 per cent of its potential water supply. The remaining 85 percent runs off into the Gulf of Mexico and is lost to our State.

At present, some 3,700,000 acres of land are cultivated under irrigation in Texas. Production from this irrigated acreage accounts for 40 per cent of the gross Texas farm income from harvested land.

GROUND WATER REPLETION

Two-thirds of the irrigated acreage is based upon ground water resources. These resources are being gradually depleted by irrigation water demands. Production from this land therefore cannot logically be considered a permanent part of the future agricultural economy of Texas.

The picture this presents is clear and unpleasant.

Texas faces an eventual substantial reduction in farm income unless ground water irrigation can be replaced with irrigation using surface waters. Present rates of Texas farm income can be maintained only if new irrigation, based on reliable surface water supplies, is brought about.

CAN BE DONE

The appraisal of the Texas water problem by the Bureau of Reclamation declares this can be accomplished. But, the report cautions, this replacement of ground water irrigation by surface irrigation represents one of the primary water supply problem in Texas.

FOR CAPTURE WITH CAMERA

The return to "readin' and 'ritin' and 'rithmetic" is recorded in a simple scene that tells a story at a glance. Moments like this—eventful and fleeting—can be caught with camera to live again for time to come. Some of the best picture possibilities, ready for the taking, are right around the home. A scene like this one may be found literally on your own doorstep.

If the surface water supplies of Texas were fully utilized, we could bring another million acres of land under irrigation. At the same time, we could meet the vast water requirements of our expanding industry and the water needs of our growing municipalities.

MUST FEED MORE PEOPLE

The Nation needs the food and fibers produced on the land already under irrigation in Texas. With a continuing expansion of our economy, the Nation also will need the food and fibers that could be produced on the additional million acres of land susceptible to irrigation if full use were made of our State's potential water supplies.

Where we feed four persons today, we must feed five by the year 1975. Where we used 462,000,000 acres of farmland in 1950 we will require the production from 577,000,000 acres in 1975. The potential added production from Texas will be badly needed.

NATIONAL PROBLEM

So the water problem in Texas, particularly as it affects our agricultural production, is not simply a state problem. It is a national problem as well.

It is a problem that must be solved by Federal-State cooperation.

The Bureau of Reclamation appraisal is firm in concluding that only a relatively small proportion of Texas' water requirements can be permanently supplied from ground water at a reasonable and predicted cost. It follows that most of the State's water supplies eventually must come from surface sources— from that 85 percent of our potential water supply now allowed to drain off into the Gulf.

Texas and the Nation cannot afford to allow such a loss to continue.

 Questions and Answers

Q—I want to take training under the Korean GI Bill, but the only way I can reach my goal is to take courses in two different schools at the same time. Would this be possible to do?

A—Yes. Concurrent enrollment and attendance at two schools is permitted under circumstances such as yours. But you'll need monthly certifications of training from each of the schools you attend.

Q—I'm planning to enroll in college under the Korean GI Bill this fall, and I want to know if I could get a part-time job in the evenings to supplement my monthly GI allowance. Also would my allowance be reduced if I get a job?

A—There are no restrictions on veterans getting part-time jobs to add to the monthly allowance they receive while going to school under the Korean GI Bill. And they'd receive the same allowance regardless of how much money they earned on the side.

Q—If I interrupt my Korean GI Bill schooling some time within a month, would I receive my GI allowance for that entire month?

A—No. Your GI allowance would be discontinued as of the last date of attendance in school. It would not be paid to the end of the month.
