Texas State Dept. of Health

Communicable diseases common to children reach their low point, as to number of cases, late in the summer. Then, when school opens, and children are closely grouped together in classrooms, germs begin to spread, and the increase runs to thousands of cases of illness causing much time lost from school, and untold hours spent in nursing them back to health declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state Health Officer. Some children die and others suffer permanent damage to their health. The real part of this situation is, in a large measure, preventable. If all parents change their indifferent attitude toward such as measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, and diphtheria, and would cooperate with health authorities, common communicable epidemics could be reduced. Dr. Cox says these important ways to protect health of our school children immunize ever child with daily inspection of school children with isolation of those of the suspected disease, sending home those showing signs of illness, pale, sore throat, skin rash, fever or any other condition that apparently needs attention of a physician. Children home who show signs of illness. Call the physician. Let him interpret the symptoms. Readmission to school is based on permission of a physician or health officer. Inspection should be at the beginning of school, mid-year for minor school conditions and head lice, with isolation of all infected children. The development of personal habits in every child is very essential to the health of the child. For the sake of our children their physical health progress in school let's drop roads of needless illness. Give them a fair chance for normal development, physically and mentally.

The members of the Friberg-Cooper church welcome Rev. Gene Sorley, his wife and two small children to the Friberg-Cooper family. Rev. Sorley comes to this church from SMU in Dallas. Rev. Sorley is the new director, following the Rev. C. A. Warden, at the growing Midwestern University at Wichita Falls, of Wesley Foundation. Over 300 Methodists attend school and plans are being considered for new Methodist Student Center.

Rev. C. A. Warden is in charge of the Methodist Student Center and teaches in the Wesley Bible Chair at Arlington State College, Arlington, Texas.

The members of the church had a picnic at the church annex Wednesday sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service in honor of the new pastor and his family, at which time the pastor and his wife was presented a shower of groceries from the members. A large crowd attended.

At the District Seminar at the Wesley Methodist church in Wichita Falls Friberg-Cooper was well represented with Mesdames Troy Hurd, V. C. Lamb, J. H. Meyer, W. L. Doyle, Ralph Higgins, Bobby Stewart, Rex Kolter, Mary Manes, Coke Glass, Frank Krajca, M. A. Turner, A.

Miss Cherry Lynn Kolter and Mr. Merwin Turner attended camp at Bridgeport, and the remainder of the group will go to the Assembly in Dallas. We are happy to announce that not only Methodist students are going but two other young people from this community that are active in the MYF are Miss Jeanell Vollmer and Ralph Ray Swinford and they plan on going to Dallas, too. We are proud of the record of the MYF and their work is good that they won National recognition at Nashville, Tenn., by having their works published in a new Youth Book.

The members of the MYF met at the church with a sack lunch Tuesday night to work on the park, by combining work and play, accomplishments were made toward the completion of the park.

Mr. Morton's farm land is sand and his experience the past few years with Austrian winter peas and alfalfa have been more than favorable the past few years in spite of the extreme shortage of rain fall. Mr. Bryant has also used Alfalfa followed by winter peas has been very profitable and Mr. Bryant was a winner in the soil conservation program this year. Mr. Stine who farms tight lands finds clover is a good legume for his particular land. He followed the clover with wheat which proved to be very profitable. Production and marketing administrator, Mr. Ladd of Burkburnett, also presented Mr. Kolter who has had experience with Austrian winter peas. Mr. Charlie Morrison from the Farm and Ranch Club presented the guest speaker Mr. Dollis Dawson of Houston. Mr. Dawson is not only a vice president of a bank in Houston but is an active farmer warming and operating a 400 acre farm in Harris county. Mr. Dawson stated during his speech that during the past few years, due to oil, federal spending and constant National emergencies that the farmers have been able to sell without advertising and that there are farmers today that have been born that never have seen a depression, that for the years past the farm products have been in demand, and needed a great supply, but the law of supply and demand have met now, and by planning wisely and selling wisely, there is no need for a depression. Since farming is the largest industry, the law applies to farmers first.

but sooner than one would think it reaches industry fast. Modern for and land, a present day farmer not only has to be a good Christian and have a lot of faith but he also has to acquire knowledge in conserving his land by raising as much as possible on as small amount of land as possible, chemistry and the knowledge of valuable chemicals to be used on the farm, soil conservation, raising of legumes is the answer, and to stay on the farm in years to come, a farmer will have to take advantage of every possible measure such as help from your county agent, PMA office, soil conservation service, vocational agriculture teachers, and your local experiment station. In the past 40 years there has been the equivalent of 22 average Texas counties washed into the Gulf of Mexico. Texas cannot stand much of that, but the farmers of Texas are doing a good job with farming at the present and the continuation of this will eliminate any more land leaving either by sand storms and washing away, by planting and planning legumes. In the year 1910, there was four hundred million acres in cultivation in the state of Texas, in 1950 only 2 percent more than 1910. The farms lost 8 million people, but the farmer is still staying up with the demand. The farmers are doing a good job. Mr. Dawson expressed his appreciation for such a nice group of local farmers who attended the meeting, and each person benefited greatly by hearing Mr. Dawson. A colored quartet from Wichita Falls sang several refreshments were served by the Chamber of Commerce of Wichita Falls.

Burk Is Chief Foe of Favored Childress 'Cats

With eight offensive starters and four defensive regulars returning, Coach Bob Tyler's Burk Burnett Bulldogs have been tabbed as the leading challenger for defending champion Childress in this fall's District 2A-3 football scramble.

Burk has received the No. 2 rating from rival coaches despite the Bulldog's loss of End Donald Gee, and all-around performer who paced Burk Burnett to its fine 8-2 won lost record last year.

Coach Tyler, who is assisted by Jim Whitaker, Bob Covington and Jack Robertson, has more returning lettermen, 17, than most of the state's Class 2-A clubs.

Burk's district opponents are Childress, Wellington, Electra, Seymour, Quanah and Olney. The Bulldogs play host to Olney, Electra and Quanah, while their toughest test is expected to be at Childress on Nov. 6.

Burk Leaders
Leading Burk Burnett's single wing attack will be returning regulars Billy Bean, 150 pound wingback; and Donald Knox, 170 pound fullback.

Other offensive starters of last year who will answer the roll call on Sept. 1 are Blocking Back Lloyd Muhlhouse, 170; End Richard Ragsdale, 146; Guard Wendell Hale, 200; Tackle, E. C. Mann, 170; Tackle Don Prescott, 178; and Center Judson Wright, 153.

Defensive returnees are Back-End Kenneth Richardson, 180; Back Walter Schroeder, 160; Guard Jack Sites, 150; and Tackle Gary Bean, 190.

Other Lettermen
Burk also will build around lettermen Gerry McCabe, tailback, 148; Joe Randall Bryant, tailback, 145; Jay Felty, end, 137; Dale Boren, end, 150; and Jack Wright, end-guard, 143.

Coach Tyler lists as his best newcomers; End Howard Fleming, 150; Guard Danny Kinnett, 158; Guard Teddy McDowell, 185; and Tackle Joe Musgraves, 160.

Only losses suffered by the Bulldogs last season were to Seymour and Quanah. Non-conference foes this year will be Jacksboro, Holliday, Henrietta and Nocona.

Burkburnett's 1953 Schedule:

- Sept. 11—Jacksboro
- Sept. 18. At Holiday
- Sept. 25—Henrietta
- Oct. 2—At Nocona

Q—I recently converted my GI insurance to a 20-year endowment policy. At the end of the endowment period, would it be possible for me to get monthly payments for the rest of my life?

A—No. Monthly payments for life would not be permitted. However, you could elect to receive the proceeds for a limited number of months, with equal payments being made each month. You could choose from 36 to 240 months, in multiples of 12.

Q—I figured that I'm eligible for 36 months of Korean GI Bill training. But I want to take a four-year college course. Could this be done?

A—It probably could. The average college year runs for nine months. Four such college years would amount to 36 months the extent of your entitlement.

Q—I'm drawing a monthly disability pension. Some time ago I bought a house, and now I plan to sell it at what I hope will be a profit. Do I have to figure the proceeds of the sale as income, in determining whether my annual income falls within the limits of the law?

A—You're only required to consider the profit as income, for pension purposes.

Q—I made out a check for my monthly GI insurance premium and mailed it to VA. However, I forgot to sign the check. I'm afraid my insurance is going to lapse before I can get another check off to VA. Is there anything I can do about it?

—Yes. So long as you can present evidence to the VA that you have enough money in the bank to cover the premium, VA will allow you an additional 31 days to pay your premium. The 31 day period begins from the date of VA's letter to you, notifying you of your error.

There is no reason why the government should be engaged in the manufacture of rubber, the operation of barges and tugboats, the distribution of electric power, in making industrial loans, or in scores of other activities which our history suggests can be better carried on by the people themselves.

NAILING DOWN THE FACTS

Statistics are sometimes tricky and confusing but they can help us keep our feet on the ground by nailing down facts as contrasted with fallacious notions.

For example, do you think beef prices are sky high? If so, factual data released by the American Meat Institute should prove both surprising and interesting.

Production workers in manufacturing industry are now able to purchase nearly twice as much round steak and rib roast for the wages earned for one hour's work as they could during the heights of the great 1929 boom.

Furthermore, except for the period from May 11, 1942 to October 15, 1946, when OPA ceilings resulted in such widespread black market operations that it was impossible to quote reliable and realistic national average prices or consumption figures, beef prices today in respect to wages are the lowest in history.

To make a concrete comparison, the typical factory worker in 1914 had to work about an hour to earn enough money to buy one pound of round steak. Now, figures developed from official government sources show, his hourly earnings will buy him 2 1-5 pounds. The situation is similar with other popular cuts of beef.

Beef prices have gone up—certainly. But wages have gone up faster. And, of late, beef prices have been dropping while wages have continued to rise.

FALSE LIBERALISM

Liberalism is one of the greatest and most honorable of words. But few words have been so misused and abused.

In the light of that, this excerpt from a recent speech of Herbert Hoover's is well worth remembering: "It is a false liberalism that expresses itself by federal operation of business in competition with the citizen. It is the road not to more liberty but to less liberty. True liberalism is found not in striving to spread bureaucracy, but in striving to set bounds to it. True liberalism seeks all legitimate freedom, in the confident belief that without freedom, all other blessings are in vain. Liberalism is a force truly of the spirit coming from a realization that economic freedom cannot be sacrificed if political freedom is to be preserved."

WE MUST PRODUCE MORE FOOD

The population of the United States is soaring. At present the increase runs to 7,000 persons a day. Government experts predict a 20 per cent population jump in the 1950-60 period alone.

These people must be fed—and fed, for the most part on what can be produced on our croplands, which the 1950 census put at 336,349 acres.

The experts also say that if our present living standards are to be maintained through 1975, it will be necessary to bring 100,000,000 more fertile acres into production. Yet even optimistic forecasts hold that only 50,000,000 currently unproductive acres can be cleared, drained, irrigated and improved by 1975. We are presently bringing in only 2,000,000 acres a year and more than half of this is offset by the expansion of cities, towns and industrial areas.

The meaning of these forecasts and figures is clear. Unless we are to suffer a decline in living standards, we must get more and more food and fiber from our productive land. And that means the intensified application of scientific production practices and better land utilization. Fortunately, that is not a visionary goal. Farmers and land owners are practicing conservation farming on an ever-increasing scale and in a manner that would have been impossible a few years ago. The best conservation and land use practices require machinery that was non-existent fifty years ago, but which is now standard farming equipment.

The agricultural future of the United States, and of the world for that matter, lies in maximum use of power-driven implements by farmers and ranchers who realize that the machine—rather than a futile search for new land—provides the solution to feeding our expanding population.

(Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, writing from Washington, gives a weekly report on happenings in the National Capital as they affect Texas and Texans.)

A logical division of Texas into four water supply problem areas is made in the Bureau of Reclamation's appraisal of the State's water situation. These are the High Plains area, the Pecos Valley-Trans Pecos area, the Central area, and the Gulf Coast area.

The High Plain and Gulf Coast area and the Red Bed portion of the Central area have major water supply problems, as defined by the Bureau. CANADIAN RIVER PROJECT In the High Plains, the Canadian River project holds the answer to the problem of supplying sufficient municipal and industrial water—combined, of course, with effective use of available ground waters. A conflict between State and Federal laws is at present holding up this project. It is of the greatest importance that the conflict be resolved as soon as possible. In the Red Bed portion of the Central area, the Bureau reports that while the problem is serious, municipal and industrial water supplies can be provided by multi-city developments using a common water source. Such developments are seen as being well within the capabilities of local or State financing. Although water resources are limited, they are said to be adequate to supply foreseeable municipal and industrial requirements.

GULF COAST AREA
It is the Gulf coast area that has the greatest water supply problem. The problem involves municipalities, industries, and irrigation projects. Its solution, according to the Bureau's appraisal, will require an integrated, inter-basin project of great magnitude. This project would be designed to supply all water requirements of the entire area from common facilities.

Under the Bureau's plan, 12 million acre-feet of reservoir space ultimately would be provided on Gulf Coast streams.

The program would call for the movement of water, through the system of reservoirs and distribution facilities, from the eastern section of the area—which has a surplus of water—to the southwestern section, which has a marked water deficiency.

LONG-RANGE PROGRAM
Now, this is, of course, a long range program. The Bureau suggests that the development be carried on by stages over many years, units of the overall plan be installed as they become needed.

It is a program that would require close cooperation between the State and Federal levels of government.

It is a program that would recognize water supply rather than flood control—important as that is—as the basic water problem in Texas. The program calls not only for far sighted planning but also for new concepts of planning.

EFFECT ON STATE INCOME
Clearly, the proper use of our water resources deserves to receive most careful consideration. We cannot escape the fact that per capita income in Texas still below the national average. It is considerably below that of the Western States which utilized their available resources to bring about tremendous industrial expansion. Time continues to pass—and 85 per cent of our potential water supply, year after year, runs off into the Gulf is lost to us. That is the situation we must change. Our economic future depends on our success in solving our water problem.

Parking's a pushover with Ford Power-Steering

It's a brand new Ford "Worth More" feature—costs up to $40 less than any other power steering in its field and it's the newest and finest power steering.

With one finger, while the car is standing still, a woman can turn the steering wheel. No longer will rough road ruts "throw you". Should ever a tire blow out, power steering assistance helps you to keep safe straight-line control. Ford Power Steering does up to 75% of the work; and it has a more natural "feel" than many others. You don't have to change your driving habits radically. The steering gear ratio is the same as without power steering and the hydraulic system gives you just the right assistance when you need it.

No change in driving habits! You could drive off in a Ford with Power Steering with absolutely no radical change in the way you ordinarily drive a car. . . . just a lot less effort!

"Wheel Shock" reduced! With a hydraulic "cushion" between your steering wheel and the front wheels, Ford Power Steering noticeably reduces "wheel shock" on rough roads.

Parking is a pushover with Ford Power Steering. In fact, all driving is a lot easier and so much more relaxing. You can easily turn the wheel with one finger while the car is standing still.

You're safer! Even if a front tire should blow out, Ford Power Steering comes to your assistance . . . gives you the "muscle" to keep the car under control. That's really extra security!

YOUR FARM BUREAU-

BY MARYE ECKELKAMP

Every county Farm Bureau in Texas setting up a committee for the express purpose of finding and disclosing to the public the facts on this situation. I'll go even further and say we should add committees on the state and national level. We not only owe it to ourselves, but to the rest of the nation. Many of our city neighbors still believe that the farmers and ranchers are the cause of their high grocery bills. They are not aware that we now are getting only 44c of every food dollar compared with 55c less than 18 months ago.

If, as food manufacturers claim, the prices are rising because of the price of labor, then they must bear the blame not the farmer. There can be no claim, that the drought has brought any increase. Beef, wheat etc., are selling at the lowest market price in years.

The time has come for the men of the land to take a hand in the situation in an effort to give ourselves and the general public a break towards lower prices. No one else is making much of an effort to lower the nations grocery bills.

For safety's sake watch the car behind the car in front of you.

Back To School

The youth of our state have reached that time of year when they all start watching the calendar. The girls are probably happier about it than the boys, but regardless of the reception awaiting it in the minds of the youngsters, the opening of school will soon be here.

The beginning of another school year means many things to us all. To the parent, it signifies that the child is growing up and may not remain a child much longer. To the child, school means both work and play mixed with joys and disappointments. To the adult population it means that the future citizens of tomorrow have gone back to the task of preparing themselves to assume responsibilities of the adult world which will soon be thrust upon them.

The opening of school brings another thought to our minds, although most of the citizens of our state will remain complacently unaware of it. There are now 759 empty chairs that were occupied in the classrooms at the beginning of school in Texas last year. Where are they this year? These children will not come in late, they are not at home sick, or visiting out of state—they are dead!

759 school age children in Texas died last year as a result of accidents. The accidents were of various types: traffic, home, recreational, and others, but all of them claimed a life.

Think of that for a moment: did you know any of them? Will you know any of the approximately 800 who will die this next year? They will die, you know—unless you do something about it. Don't stop reading and look around you and say WHO ME? You are the one. It is your responsibility just as it is the responsibility of each and every one of us. Safety cannot succeed unless it comes from the individual.

The Texas Safety Association wants to help you prevent this needless loss of life. It is not an impossible task, that is, unless you refuse to help.

What would you do to save the life of a child? Will you join the Texas Safety Association in its fight? You can help by doing these things:

1. Educate your children in safe practices before they reach school age. This means more than just to cross a street. Stop and think of the hazards around the home which you haven't mentioned. This is not a big job, but it cannot be accomplished in one sitting.
2. Find out if your local schools teach safety education, driver education and first aid. Safety Education and first aid can be integrated into a child's instruction from the first grade on up. If your schools do not offer these courses, find out from your Superintendent just what you can do to help. If they are offered, find out how they can be supported.
3. Work to get safety patrols for your schools, not only for street crossings, but in the buildings, on the grounds, and on the school buses.
4. Work with local service and civic clubs to support the traffic safety program carried on by your police department and traffic courts.
5. Take an active interest in your child's activities, and as they broaden in scope, teach, in a positive way, the safety "know-how" which the child needs.

If we, as thousands of individuals, will help in this work by doing these few things, then progress will be made.

If you do not help, then another 800 Texas children will die for lack of help, just as they did last year and the year past. There may be one change though—your child may be one of them!

World food production outside Russia and China has been increasing faster than population, according to the World Food Council of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. For the past three years food production has increased about 2 percent annually, while population has increased only 1.4 percent.

A Legal Holiday

Labor Day—"A Legal Holiday, decreed by Congress, in honor of the working class of the United States." Many people look upon this holiday as the last opportunity to take advantage of summer recreation. As a result of this, thousands of American families take to the highways in route to their favorite retreat for one last weekend of fun and relaxation before the fall and winter months.

Regrettably, down through the years, this holiday has actually been the last holiday for many of our fellow citizens. It was not their last because of natural causes—they are dead today because of accidents. Accidents caused by carelessness, either by themselves or on the part of someone else.

Don't stop reading now—this isn't a sermon. If you are interested in safety you don't need a sermon, if you are not interested, you would not take time to read it.

The object of this article is to give you some practical tips from the Texas Safety Association which if you will heed them, will help to bring you and your family home safely after another Labor Day weekend.

You may go picnicking, if so, keep these tips in mind:

1. Make sure that all members of your family are able to recognize poison oak and poison ivy.
2. Choose a picnic site that offers a smooth, safe place for the children to play.
3. Strenuous games are fun for the children, but before you join in, remember that you are not as young as you once were—don't over exert yourself. If you and other members of your party want to go swimming then remember:
  1. Stay away from deep water unless you are a strong swimmer.
  2. Know the area before you go in—many unseen hazards can be hidden beneath the surface of the water.
  3. If there are no expert swimmers in your party, then confine your swimming to areas that are supervised by life guards.
  4. Allow ample time between eating and swimming.

In all probability you will take to the highways in your automobile at some time during the holiday period. If you travel by car, remember that the highway will be congested and those conditions mean danger. Protect yourself with these suggestions.

1. Obey all traffic laws and ordinances.
2. Drive at a reasonable speed. Crowded conditions call for speeds below the legal limit.
3. Allow adequate rest periods if you plan to drive long distances.
4. Remember that alcohol and automobiles don't mix.
5. Crowded and erratic holiday traffic is hard on the nerves, temper and disposition, but don't forget that a "blow-up" on your part, can mean a smash up with an oncoming car.

The Texas Safety Association wishes you a safe and joyous holiday. A safe holiday is a happy one. Keep these safety tips in mind so that you and your family will be hale and hearty on the Tuesday after Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gage have returned home from a two weeks vacation in south Texas and east Texas and Old Mexico.
