The City Appliance Company will hold its opening to the public Saturday, October 31st. This new enterprise is located at 223 East 3rd Street, or on the corner of Main and Avenue C, in the building formerly occupied by the Weseter Auto Store.

Carl Campbell, owner of the new business, says everything will be ready for the Saturday opening. Extensive remodeling, both outside and inside the building has been in progress for the past two weeks.

One of the interesting features of the Saturday opening will be the Servel Electric Ice Maker, which will be making ice cubes without using trays, and dumping the cubes in a container. Hosts will be on hand to explain the workings of the newest in ice makers.

A Kelvinator Automatic Washing machine will be in operation and women who want to see what it will really do are invited to bring a batch of clothes and let the machine demonstrate what it will do.

Mr. Campbell, who also owns Campbell Auto Supply here in Burkburnett, cordially invites the public and attend the opening of his new store, and to inspect the many appliances on display.

Highway No. 240 To Be Widened Says Mr. Holman

Highway No. 240, leading West of Burk toward Vernon, will be widened to 24 feet, according to W. T. (Slim) Holman, Commissioner of Precinct No. 2. The road will be widened to Bell loading platform, beyond the Doc Goins curve. All the bridges will be widened and the bad curve at Goins will be somewhat straightened out.

The county, Precinct 2 to be exact, purchased the right of way, which is 120 feet. The State and Federal governments will share the road building expense, with the State doing the work. Contracts will probably be let some time in November or December.

At present 4.8 miles of the road from the City Limits West is only 16 feet wide. Eight feet will be added to each side of the present road. The new construction will be concrete.

Additional right of way cost approximately $15,000, or at the rate of $150.00 per acre.

Advertising Pays Says Burk Motors

It is usually the newspaper proclaiming "Advertising Pays," but this week Burk Motors turned the tables and headed their ad, "It Pays to Advertise."

Last week Burk Motors run an ad saying they had too many good used cars. The response was so gratifying that this week they are thanking their customers and telling the world "It Pays to Advertise!"

Burkburnett Man Dies Suddenly Funeral Thursday

Burk Bulldogs Are Conference Leaders

ELECTRA HERE FRIDAY

The Burkburnett Bulldogs are leading the conference play with no losses marked up against them. They lost the first game of the season, a non-conference tilt to Jacksboro. All the other teams in this 2-4A conference have lost one or more games in conference play.

Burk Defeated Wellington

Last Friday night the Bulldogs traveled to Wellington for a conference game and came away victors 18 to 14.

Hosts to Electra This Week

This Friday night the Bulldogs will go to electra to play the team from Electra. The Electra team has shown strength at times and at other times, due to injuries, has appeared weak. This week they are expected to shoot their season's wad at the conference-leading Bulldogs. Electra has never beaten Burkburnett in football, a fact that bothers them no end. They have been angling for Burkburnett for the past three years.

Richardson, injured in the Olney game two weeks ago, is expected to be back in the lineup for Burkburnett this week. He has apparently recovered from a collarbone fracture and bruises.

Childress Is Next

Friday night week the Bulldogs will go to Childress to play the team picked by most guessers at the beginning of the season as the district winners. Olney handed the Childress aggregation their only defeat of the season. Ten Burk bumped Olney to the tune of 20 to 13.

Tickets for the Childress game may be purchased at the local High School prior to Friday noon, November 6th.

Attention Club News Reporters

Quite properly, club news reporters, and the members of the many clubs in town want to have a complete report of their meetings in the local paper. The Burkburnett Star also wants to carry these reports, complete and accurate in every detail.

Due to the length of time it takes to take these reports over the telephone, and the near impossibility of getting all the names correct over the telephone, no more reports will be taken over the phone.

Most every hour of every day there is from one to four or five noisy pieces of machinery running in the Star office. Many of you who have called in will remember the noise in the background. It is very difficult to take lengthy reports under those conditions.

We believe more clubs function in Burkburnett than any other city of like size. Last week the Star carried MORE THAN 40 club reports, plus a host of local happenings items.

We will still take short local notices over the telephone, but bring, send or mail your reports to the office, Box 306. Some reporters will say "But I can't write up the club report." You can. Just give all the facts and our society editor, Mrs. Lola Mae Bailey will add the flowers and other decorations, if such be needed. The most feeble effort you make in writing up a report will be superior to giving it over the telephone.

When sending in a report, always put your name and telephone number on the sheet. And please, oh please, use only one side of the paper. If you are short of paper call by the Star office and we'll furnish you some. The society editor may need to call you to verify the spelling of a name, or she may need to get other details you forgot.

Charles Wayne Counter who is attending Midwestern University was injured in football practice on Oct. 14. The doctor has advised that he will probably be out the remainder of the season.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Whether one reads a country weekly or a metropolitan daily newspaper, it is still apparent that no time in man's history is a free exchange of information more urgently needed than right at this moment at the mid-point of the Twentieth Century as we embark into the Atomic age. The small country weekly has as vital a mission in the life of American citizens as the newspaper that has a circulation and reading public in the millions. We of the newspaper world are doing our best to keep America strong by telling the truth. However, we are finding our readers in a state of apathy in many respects. Why? The answer is pretty remote. It would take a great deal of space to analyze our feelings on the world situation.

But one thing is apparent. Freedom is something easily lost and not so easily won. We must continue to fight for our liberty. Our liberty requires eternal vigilance against encroachments of all kinds.

A truly free press is always in the forefront of those, but the press alone cannot cause freedom to survive. It calls for an informed public which is ever-alert to threats to its freedoms and ever-eager to fight for its rights.

History shows us that freedom is lost wherever a free press is lost. Would-be dictators cannot stand the full harsh glare of publicity — they cannot tolerate truth. The press is the first attacked, and once that is captured or made subservient other freedoms quickly fall and perish.

An "informed press" is a free press, which continually strives to give its readers the truth—all the facts possible about issues which may affect the readers' present and future lives.

Let's face the hard facts: The American people will remain an informed people as long as they have a free press. And they will have a free press only as long as they want it, cherish it and fight for it against all encroachments.

Once they fail to do this, purposely or by default, they will have lost the keystone to all their liberties which then will disappear like snowflakes under a warm sun.

GOODBYE, BUGGY WHIP

The near sighted may bewail that — the airplane shrinks the map and exposes distant havens to quick attack and its wake of destruction, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks told members and more than 500 guests of the National Association at a dinner in Washington the other night. "Such lack of vision has appeared before in history he said." The advent of sail, steam and gasoline also roused regrets among those with limited points of view and little faith.

No doubt Mr. Weeks could have gone further in pressing his belief that the airplane is a greater instrument of peace than of war. Perhaps he restrained himself because of the President's recent crack-down on free wheeling comments on atomic developments. But in any case the night after the dinner celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of powered flight, Radio Commentator Morgan Beatty revealed that space-travel via guided missile is practically here.

The government, says Mr. Beatty, is contracting with Pan American World Airlines to conduct tests expected to prove the pilot-less device is practical for point-to-point transportation. The proving operations, with the rocket-like projectiles under electronic control will be conducted on the Airline's Caribbean bases, and in cooperation with the Radio Corporation of America.

Thus a week-end should soon be ample for that trip to the moon. But it doesn't help a bit in getting from home to work, and we still have the problem of finding a place to park.

DDT FROM THE WHITE HOUSE

It is now official that a government job is not a right, but a privilege.

By executive order, President Eisenhower has cut off the subversive Federal Worker's retreat behind the Fifth Amendment. Any employee of Uncle Sam who refuses to testify before a Congressional committee on the well-worn ground that it may tend to incriminate him, may be summarily fired.

It is important to note that, as a citizen, he may still so testify if he wishes to use his Constitutional privilege. But the Constitution was never intended to offer anybody job protection.

As a matter of fact, it seems pretty silly to think that a Presidential directive was required to stiffen the backbone of a bureau chief sufficiently to fire a worker who refused to say whether or not he was a member of a conspiracy to destroy our country by force and violence.

But we must still wait to see whether even this authority is sufficient to get more of the blattae orientalii (that's latin for cock-roaches) out of the federal wood-work.

FARMER OF AMERICA

In the most moving, the most eloquent, and probably the most straight-from the shoulder speech of his White House career thusfar, President Eisenhower told America's up coming farmers to what they might look forward — in the immediate future, and in the long span of years that lay before them as American farmers and American citizens.

The thousands of Future Farmers of America who jammed the great Kansas City Auditorium to the doors, and who presented an honorary degree, their highest award to the Chief Executive, "Farmer of America," listened thoughtfully and quietly, breaking into applause only occasionally. They applauded when he said: "No one can hate war, crises and inflation more than the farmer." and again when he declared that the formulation of a sound farm policy would be a bipartisan undertaking. "The welfare of farm families knows no politics," he said, "I assure you there will be none in this administration."

In his earnestness, his frank presentation of what he termed "the disagreeable facts" the President displayed new depths and new powers of expression. Specifically, he promised that the price support laws, expiring at the end of 1954, would be administered as written, that the price support principle must be part of any future farm program. But the promise he stressed was that of opportunity — the chance to keep a free government free "If work were a thing of the past," the President told his spell-bound audience, "all the fun and satisfaction in living would be gone."

And with all the intensity and fervor of Winston Churchill in his famous "back to the wall" speech of the blitz days, when he promised his countrymen only "blood, sweat and tears," President Eisenhower told the Future Farmers — and over their shoulders, all the rest of us — that "Only he deserves America who stands ready to give America everything he has."

It was a speech that will be remembered.

Every autumn our High School has a contest to see who can get the most ads for The Recorder — the school magazine. The winner becomes honorary Principal for a day. Skip Roberts won last week, and his first (and only) official act as "Principal" of the school was to announce in a loud, clear voice: "I hereby declare today a school holiday!" Knowing Miss Gilbert, the real principal, it was no surprise to me that she laughed as hard as anybody else . . . and said to go right ahead.

It's the Principal of the Thing!

From where I sit, it's no wonder our youngsters think Miss Gilbert's such a wonderful person (even though they know they'll have to make up that day). Her tolerance, her friendly way with people of all ages reflect in everything she does. For instance, at my house Miss Gilbert prefers tea but always respects my preference for a glass of beer. As a real person . . . in any community, Miss Gilbert belongs at "the head of the class."

Keep Old Stove For Future Use

When you buy a new modern gas range, move the old one to the basement as the nucleus of a secondary kitchen. This is the advice of many home planning experts.

In the basement the old range will come in handy for preparing buffet suppers for guests in the recreation room. The extra range is convenient to when there is canning to do and for keeping gamey food odors out of the living areas of the house.

Some of the newer building materials such as prefinished wallpanels make it easy to remodel the basement into enclosed areas such as recreation rooms, laundries, and the secondary kitchen. These colorful panels which come in sizes up to four feet by twelve feet in dimension are easy to apply to wall and ceiling surfaces in such basement areas to provide attractive and durable wall and ceiling surfaces that are easy to keep clean. Many American families will find that moving the old kitchen range to the basement will be all that is necessary to set a remodeling program in effect that will add many square feet to the useable living space in the house.

A recent report by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association states that for the first eight months of this year 1,431 new gas ranges were shipped, a 4.4 percent increase over the period of last year.

These figures indicate that a surprisingly large number of American families must make a decision on what to do with the old range when they get a new one. The suggestions of keeping the old range and moving it to the basement is a good one that many will follow.

VETERANS Administration Questions and Answers

Q—My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently. As long as he lived, he never had any kind of disability. Would I be entitled to a VA death pension, since my yearly income is less than $1,400?

A—No. The law requires that a World War II veteran must have been entitled to disability compensation, pension or retirement pay at the time of his death. Or, if he served 90 days or more, he must have had a definitely ascertainable service connected disability when he died.

Q—I am now on active duty, and I am covered by a free $10,000 indemnity. If anything happens to me, would it be possible for my family to collect the $10,000 in a lump sum?

A—It would not be possible for your beneficiaries to receive a lump sum payment. Under the law, payments are to be made in 120 equal monthly installments of $9.29 per $1,000 of indemnity.

Q—I've been in service since 1941, and I expect to be discharged in the near future. Would I be allowed to train under the World War II GI Bill, even though the cut-off date passed in 1951?

A—Yes. The July 25, 1951, cut-off date applied only to veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. You would be permitted to start training under the World War II GI Bill, but you should keep in mind that the program ends for nearly all veterans on July 25, 1954.

Q—I am planning to take an on-the-job training course under the Korean GI Bill. I understand the law contains a $310 a month ceiling for job trainees. Does that mean my employer may not pay me more than $310 a month?

A—There is no limit to the amount of money your employer may pay you, while you are taking job training under the Korean GI Bill. However, if your training wages plus your allowance exceed $310 a month, VA must scale down the GI allowance accordingly, under the law.

We are very busy decorating the rooms for the Halloween season. We have had stories of the old witch riding the broom stick and the ruffled up black cat. The old witch has taken many varied forms and shapes upon our bulletin boards. We are sure that they will all turn loose on Halloween night and be riding around seeing what the boys and girls will be doing.

We have had lots of talk about the Carnival on Saturday Night and feel sure that many spooks will show up that night. Just come along and see the fun, but would advise you to stay in the light and not give one of those black cats a chance to grab you from the corner.

Legion Notes
From The Commander
Frye Vaughn Post 264

The American Legion is not unknown to you. It has been a factor in your life for more than a generation. October 20, for the second consecutive year, we have chosen to call "L Day" in honor of the American Legion, our organization begins its 37 year.

It started in Paris, France immediately after the signing of the Armistice, November 11, 1919. The veterans of World War I brought it into being, nurtured it, developed its policies and put their very souls into the tennets upon which it was founded.

That original group, with no precedent to fall back on, developed the American Legion the hard, rough heart-breaking way. By trial and error, the founders of the American Legion laboriously built the foundation.

For more than 20 years the first Legionaires fought in Congress and in state capitals for benefits. There were no hospitals for veterans, no pensions, no place for the sick and wounded veterans and the widows and orphans of those who had died, except to another group of veterans, the American Legion.

For those 20 years, the American Legion was a lone voice in the American political wilderness crying out for preparedness. That voice was heard but not heeded. Pearl Harbor found our country unprepared and another world war started.

Legionaires, many of them, went back into uniforms. Others worked on the home front in every capacity. They were determined upon one thing, however—the veterans of World War II were going to have something to come home to in the way of benefits.

They worked and fought and evolved the GI Bill of Rights and secured its passage.

Our World War II veterans came back to a far different situation than did our World War I buddies who were turned loose with $60, period.

The American Legion had thought its GI Bill of Rights made it possible for the returning World War II and Korean veterans to go to college, to business school, vocational school. It gave him a salary while he was unemployed and looking for work. It gave him fine insurance benefits. The finest hospitals for his recuperation were ready for him. The widows and orphans of those who were not to return were taken care of.

The American Legion did this for the veteran of World War II. Many of those veterans have an education today and have learned a trade or vocation because the American Legion, through the GI Bill of Rights, made it possible.

Some who got those benefits have never seen fit to join the American Legion. Some have even scoffed at the organization as a group of professional veterans.

The American Legion asks nothing in return for its fight for the veterans except the aid of all veterans in these strenuous times which we are now facing. The American Legion has a great program but the immediate one is the acute national defense problem.

Now a third group, the Korean war veterans, are coming back home and into the American Legion. These veterans have problems too and as usual the American Legion is ready and able to help with those problems.

Rehabilitation of our sick and wounded, care of their dependents, our great child welfare program, junior baseball, high school oratorical contest, Americanism, foreign affairs, the list of American Legion activities goes on and on.

I am pleased, as are all Legionaires, that a recent national poll showed the American Legion is the organization in America in which the general public has the most confidence. We appreciate that confidence. We have tried to earn it.

I take this means of inviting all veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean conflict to become one of us in the American Legion. We know where your heart is. You believe in and want to fight for every principle which we advocate. You can do it so much better by getting into our organization and giving us the benefit of your thinking and patriotism.

On behalf of National Commander Art Connell, Department Commander L. E. Page and as (or on behalf of) the commander of our local post here, I extend you greetings and a sincere invitation that you become a Legionaire.

Civilian Defense Director Named

Lt. Col. Steve Marchand of the Texas State Guard was appointed civilian defense and disaster director for Wichita Falls Thursday by Mayor Kindel Paulk.

The Guard Colonel succeeds J. O. Dotson, who recently resigned. Mayor Paulk said Marchand's appointment is part of a plan to coordinate civilian defense with an emergency disaster set-up to function as one group.

"We think that our need of civilian defense is important and it is necessary that we have a sound organization but we believe that by combining it with an emergency disaster program, we will have a better all-around organization and one that will be of real benefit to the county and city," Mayor Paulk explained.

Colonel Marchand is the commanding officer of the Second Battalion, Fifth Regiment, of the Texas State Guard.

Colonel Marchand is a native of Canada. He served in the famed Ladies From Hell regiment of Canadian troops in World War I in France.

He came to Burkburnett in 1919 and lived in this area since then. He joined the Texas State Guard in 1939 as a private and is now a lieutenant Colonel.

He organized a state guard company in Burkburnett and was commanding officer until 1943 and then organized Company D in Electra which he headed until he was transferred to Wichita Falls in 1948. He has lived in Wichita Falls since last December.

As commander of the state guard, he is the liaison officer for the adjutant general's office for the 16th disaster district comprised of 12 North Texas counties.

Col. Marchand said his first plans as head of the new civilian defense and disaster unit here would be to meet with various individuals, the chief of police, sheriff, fire chief and city officials to plan a program.

Some other Texas cities have named Texas State Guard commanders as civilian defense chief. Col. Marchand said this would give Wichita Falls a tie-in with numerous other Texas cities in the event of any serious disaster or defense need.

Shrine Circus At Wichita Falls

Miss Jacobs although standing 5 ft and weighing 97 pounds, commands a herd of charges that tip the scales from 3 to 5 tons and each standing 10 to 12 feet in height, she proves herself the undisputed "Queen" of circusland.

Other thrilling features will include the world famed "flying Malkos" monarches of the air in spine tingling trapeze exploits; the Leecos Tropes, high wire bicyclists; the Belfords, whirl wind acrobatic conclave and scores of thrilling circus dare devils; and army of 22 funny clowns; many colorful spectacles will include "Pirates Pirouettes" "Oriental Moon Fantasy" and "At the Madri Gras" with hundreds of pretty girls, men, women and animals with lavish wardrobes and costly trappings, brilliant electrical effects and produced by the one and only Gil G. Gray.

The world's only herd of Andes Mountain Llamas who perform many difficult feats with a troupe of performing Arabian Camels; the world's only trained "twin" baby elephants will also appear with their little cousin "Baby Dumbo" all are but a few of the many exotic features of America's foremost Shrine Circus and offered at the lowest circus prices of all time.

Last performances are scheduled on Saturday, Oct. 31. Shrine officials say that plenty of good seats are available all thru the week and can be purchased at Spudder Ball park ticket offices.

- Two weeks ago, in this paper, we told you that we had too many used cars. Since that time our sales have been very gratifying, and now with our new 1954 Dodge and Plymouth cars we shall be able to maintain an adequate stock of clean used cars to be offered to you at reasonable prices.
- At all times it has been the policy of the Burkburnett Motors to truthfully represent each used car as it really is, and it is because of this fact that for 34 years people have bought with confidence from the Browning brothers.
- A perfect deal is one in which the answer YES can be applied to these four questions:
  - Is it the truth
  - Is it fair to all concerned
  - Will it be beneficial to all concerned
  - Will it build good will and better friendships

Your Senator Reports

by LYNDON B. JOHNSON

(Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, writing from Washington, gives a weekly report on happenings in the National Capital as they affect Texas and Texans).

Lyndon Johnson Lauds REA Work

Rural electrification is a move ment resting primarily upon the initiative and integrity of farm consumers of electricity, declares US Senator Lyndon B. Johnson in an article published in the November issue of Progressive Farmer.

Since the Rural Electrification Administration was established in 1936, four million consumers have been connected to REA-financed lines, the article reports "In the Southern States," Johnson writes, "the number of farm homes receiving electric power has jumped from 3.3 per cent to more than 83 per cent of the total. In the country as a whole, more than 85 per cent of all farms are electrified. Nearly 300,000 farm families in Texas are receiving electricity through farm cooperatives."

REA cooperatives are more than $50,000,000 ahead of schedule in repaying the $2,700,000,000 lent them to build transmission networks and to buy power from private utilities and Federal hydro-electric projects, according to the Progressive Farmer article. Delinquencies amount to only one-fifth of the amount due.

Declaring that REA is neither a political issue nor "anti-private power" in its concept, the Texas Senior Senator hails its program as "a heartening example of the Government helping people to help themselves."

Rural electrification has made farming both easier and more productive, Johnson asserts in his article, continuing:

"The future of REA is a matter of concern to all of us who have witnessed and participated in its development. The limits of progress in rural electrification have not been reached. More than 16 percent of the South's farms are still without electric service.

Modernization of facilities is far from complete. Existing lines must be 'heaved up' to take care of increasing farm use of electricity.

The article points out the importance of maintaining the authority of REA co-ops to build their own generation and transmission facilities. Weakening of this authority, Johnson warns, would simultaneously increase the need for loans and lessen the cooperatives' ability to maintain their repayment record.

Texas State Dept. of Health

By Geo. W. Cox, M. D.

Note to hunters: Deer season opens November 16. That gives you eighteen days to resolve to take it easy this year with the 30-30 or the shotgun. Look before you shoot, and shoot where you look.

State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox checked statistical tables to day and announced that shooting accidents had claimed the lives of 187 people last year. That's more death than was dealt out by typhoid, scarlet fever, and encephalitis combined for the same period of time.

"It's getting so that hunting seasons are almost as hard on the hunters as they are on the game," the health official commented.

How many of those 187 deaths occurred during the hunting season he didn't say. But with thousands of Nimrods taking to pastures for deer and turkey, it's safe to bet the number was needlessly high.

So why not agree with yourself or other members of your hunting party that this year you will:

Never carry a loaded gun in your car.
Never lay a gun aside unless you personally unload it.
Never carry your gun with the safety catch off.

Never let your finger rest on the trigger, or even inside the trigger guard, until you take aim at the target.

Never point the gun at anything you don't intend to shoot.
Never mix fire water with firepower.

Never drag a gun through a fence. Put it over before you climb through.

Never shoot a gun without first checking to see if the bore is clear of obstructions.

Never shoot at noises in the bush. Remember that when wild life is being stalked it seldom makes a noise that you can hear. Remember, too, that guns can become toys of death for inquisitive youngsters. Unload your gun before you get home.

You Can Do Something About This!

If the roads you drive on are worn out, dangerous, and inadequate for today's traffic—chances are it's partly your fault. And you can do something about it.

That was the opinion of most of the 44,000 Americans who submitted essays in the recent General Motors Better Highways Awards Contest. GM sponsored the contest to stimulate nationwide thinking and discussion about the seriously deteriorating condition of our road system.

Competing for a total of $194,000 in cash awards—as well as a chance to do their bit for better roads—contestants in every state of the Union and the District of Columbia sent a board of judges their ideas on "How to Plan and Pay for the Safe and Adequate Highways We Need."

The thousands of ideas submitted ranged all the way from putting a Secretary of Transportation into the President's Cabinet to requiring drivers to wear illuminated gloves for signaling turns in the dark. But most of the contestants agreed on these three points:

1. There is no quick and easy solution to the highway problem.
2. We need continued and intensified research into highway matters.
3. Most important of all, we'll never get better roads without public support.

As Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, has said: "Highways are built by public authorities. But it's a great deal easier for the public authorities to act in response to informed public support."

The contest demonstrated that there are bound to be honest differences of opinion as to how to plan and pay for better roads. Some contestants thought the federal government should have more power over our highway network; others feared any encroachment on prerogatives of the states. Some favored higher taxes; others said the necessary money would be available if we would end diversion to non-highway purposes of taxes collected from highway users. One contestant suggested raising money for roads by putting the government into the toothpaste business.

Differences can be resolved. The competition showed how deep and widespread is the concern over our highways. And in the opinion of the contestants themselves, it's up to all of us to translate that concern into better roads.

Social Security News

Don't make the mistake of thinking of social security insurance only as old-age protection," Erton F. Tate, Manager of the Wichita Falls Social Security office, cautioned today.

"Because 'old age' comes first in the title of the program, many people overlook the fact that it is survivors insurance, too," he said. "The survivors protection feature of the program is of great importance to the younger worker. While the time when he can retire and get monthly payments is many years away, his widow and children would get monthly benefit payments if anything should happen to him at any time while he is insured under the law," Tate declared.

Tate pointed out that under the survivors insurance portion of the social security program, monthly benefits were being paid to over 1,170,000 widowed mothers and minor children at the end of July. "In many families," Tate said, "social security insurance payments are making it possible to maintain the home and educate the children after the untimely death of the family breadwinner."

Tate said that more than 66 1-2 million workers are now insured under social security. They will continue to have this protection if they work in covered employment or self-employment for a length of time equal to at least one-half the time after 1950 and up to the time they reach the age 65 or die. No more than 10 years covered work is required in any case, however.

Mrs. Zella Elliott Honored With A Farewell Supper

Mrs. Zella Elliott, employee of the Simpson's Laundry, and her husband were honored with a chicken supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Bentley of Randlett, Okla., Friday night, Oct. 23. Mr. Elliott is being discharged from the service and they are going to their home in Tennessee. Zella was a good worker and faithful friend and she will be missed very much by all of us. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Draper and Edwin, Mrs. Evelyn Pannell, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Landes, Patsy Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Bentley and girls, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Simpson.

Lampp-Hageman Recite Vows Midland, Texas

A double ring ceremony uniting Miss Anna Florence Lampp of Midland, Texas, and Mr. Dorace Jess Hageman of Crossroads, New Mexico, was conducted by Rev. R. Luther Kirk Saturday, Oct. 17th at 3:00 p. m. in the First Methodist church in Midland, Texas.

For the exchange of vows, the couple stood before an arrangement of large candelabra with cream tapers banked on either end by huge baskets of cream colored gladiolas.

The former Miss Lampp is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery G. Lampp of Seagraves, Texas. Mr. Hageman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess A. Hageman of Burkburnett, Texas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length dress of russet rose beige lace over candle light taffeta fashioned with a basque waist, three-quarter length sleeves and a v neckline outlined with soft folds of net. The waist was accentuated with a cumberbund of net over taffeta. Her hat was of matching net over taffeta embroidered with tiny seed pearls. She carried a large cream glamma surrounded by buds and baby's breath on a white Bible. She completed her ensemble with brown suede opera pumps.

Mrs. Arthur P. Buchanan of Lubbock, Texas, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor. Her ballerina length dress was of moss green velvet with three-quarter length sleeves, v-neckline, and buffout skirt worn over starched crinoline. The waist was accentuated with a matching cumberbund. Her half hat was of the same velvet and she wore opera pumps of deep russet velvet. She carried a hand bouquet of beige spider mums.

John S. Black of Snyder, Texas, was best man. The ushers and candlelighters were Mr. Gene Lampp of Ralls, Texas, brother of the bride, and Mr. Sid Eason of Midland, Texas.

Nuptial music was provided by Otis Hitchcock, organist, who played a medley of love songs as the wedding guests were being seated. He played the traditional wedding marches and a number of selections including Because, Oh, Promis Me, Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life and the Lord's Prayer was played during the ceremony.

A reception followed the ceremony in the vestibule of the church for family members and attendants. The couple was assisted in the receiving line by their parents.

in Texas and Louisiana, the couple will be at home in Tatum New Mexico after Nov. 1st.

For her traveling attire, the bride chose a gloden beige flannel suit with straight skirt and fitted jacket which buttoned to the neckline. It featured a round collar embroidered with tiny rhinestones and brown beads. She wore a wood velour hat with rhinestone trim and with other accessories in brown with a glamma corsage.

Mrs. Hageman is a graduate of Seagraves High school and attended Texas Tech college in Lubbock, Texas. She is a member of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, having served as chapter recording secretary and vice pres. and city council treas. ### Junior High News

The sale of the Savings Stamps this week dropped. There was about $30.00 worth sold on Wednesday morning. Parents should encourage their children in this form of systematic saving.

All classes have enjoyed and learned from the film strips that we have had shown recently. Some of these were "Who Makes Words," "Political Parties," "What is a Fraction?" and "Flanders."

The dentists of Burkburnett have said that there has been a good response from the school dental examinations which were conducted a few weeks back. It is every parent's duty to see that his child's teeth have attention if such attention is needed.

Many a person's mind has been closed for years, but not for repairs or alterations.
