SAFETY vs TIME

We know that time is one of the most precious things that the Creator allowed us, along with our lives.

Yet, how seldom do we automobile drivers realize how closely time is tied up with our lives?

The Texas Safety Association says: To write a safety rule we use one minute and an hour it takes to hold a safety meeting. We can use an entire week to plan a safety program, then it takes at least a month to put it into operation.

A whole year is consumed to win a safety award, and, believe it or not, it takes an entire lifetime to make a safe driver. But, drivers, it only takes one second to destroy it all with an accident.

How wisely do you spend your time when you are behind the wheel of your car?

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

EVERSON, WASH., News: "Tax-subsidized and tax exempt federal power is being sold below production costs in 27 states in direct competition with private companies that pay all taxes at local, state and federal levels and receive no tax exemption.

JUNCTION CITY, Ore., Times: "This newspaper is definitely for high wages, high standards and high quality of citizens. But we would sort of hate to see our public school teachers get into jurisdictional disputes between states; that might lead to an organization with subsequent walkouts whenever a 'grievance' could be termed a violation of contract."

WOODSFIELD, Ohio, Spirit of Democracy: "Political party leaders and representatives of other groups as well as individuals have a right, under our system of government, to criticize the government, also government officials, but no citizen of our country has any legal right to advocate its overthrow by force or violence or to participate in same."

BLAIR, Wis. Press: "Every government official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar was spent. We hold this to a fundamental principle of democratic government."

THE YEAR OF THE CONSUMER

"This will be the year of the consumer. This will be the year you, as the buyer of everything from autos to houses, from food to furniture, will come into your own. You will be supreme in the market place."

That happy prediction was made by Sylvia Porter, a well known business analyst whose syndicated column runs in many daily papers. She also wrote, "Taxes, prices, supplies, quality, research, competition, advertising, salesmanship — all are moving in your favor."

If all that comes to pass, and most observers in and out of business are in general agreement, it will be for one reason: the working of the supply and demand principle in a free, competitive business world. Due to the unparalleled efficiency of mass production and its equally important ally, mass distribution, practically all shortages have been overcome. Almost everything is available in abundance, as a glance at the advertisements and shelves of stores in every retail field will demonstrate to you. And when that it the case, the consumer is king.

This is true of the free enterprise system only. Every time we make a purchase, we should give that system the tribute that is its due.

THE LIES CONTINUE

At almost mechanically regular intervals, Communists government make alleged "peace overtures" toward the West, and particularly the United States. It'll be easier to believe there is a grain of sincerity in those gestures when Communism stops its campaign of outright, malignant lies against the free nations.

A typical example of this lying is found in Tworczoaz a paper which is printed in Communist Warsaw and which, like all papers behind the iron curtain, is a voice of the government. It said, "Today, a replica of Hitler's Brown House is being erected in the White House and five concentration camps are ready and prepared to swallow all noble spirits. President Eisenhower proudly wears the old uniform of Hindenburg and the next national figure, Senator McCarthy, has already begun to repair a bloody brown rag worn by Hitler."

Does that look as if the Soviets want peace and understanding between the powers?

News From The Congress

By FRANK IKARD

Lately, we have been hearing a great deal about the proposed Constitutional Amendment which would allow eighteen year olds to vote. It has been argued by some that the average eighteen year old of today is a high school graduate, well informed on public issues, and, therefore, capable of voting with intelligence. Others say that since eighteen year olds are called into the military service to fight for their country, that they should have the right to vote. These and other arguments in favor of this proposal are good and make sense; however, in considering this issue, I think we should bear in mind that if such a Constitutional Amendment is adopted, we would be making a very fundamental change in our whole concept of the Federal Government.

Since the earliest days of this Republic, it has been the almost universal thinking that the States and not the Federal Government, were the ones to decide what qualifications of voters should be. Throughout our history, the States have determined the qualifications of its voters, and at least one State now allows eighteen year olds to vote. Of course, the Federal Constitution does provide that the right to vote shall not be denied to any citizen by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. It also provides that the time, places, and manner of holding the election for Federal offices shall be prescribed in each State by the State Legislature, but that the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulation. The courts have held that the Constitution also guarantees to each citizen the right to vote if he meets the qualifications of his State. To give to the Federal Government the right to determine the qualifications of voters would be taking from the States one of their basic and fundamental rights under our system of Government and it would be one more step on the part of the Federal Government in gradually absorbing all of the authority and rights of the States. We have seen the Federal Government's power grow tremendously during the last two or three generations. Most of this authority has been absorbed from the States. For example, at the turn of the century, about 85 percent of the tax dollars in this country were collected by the States, counties, cities, town and school districts and 15 percent by the Federal Government. Now, this fraction has just about reversed itself in that, roughly, 85 percent of the tax dollars are collected by the Federal Government, and the remaining 15 percent is left for the States, counties, towns and schools to operate on. This gradual dry up of source of revenue by the Federal Government has made it necessary for the States and the cities and the schools to come more and more to the Federal Government for financial aid. This aid by the Federal Government is, generally speaking, inefficient, ineffective, and the thing that gives the spark of life to the growing Federal bureaucracy. I hope we can stop this trend in taxation, and I believe that some progress has been made. I hope further that we will not add to the growth of the central government by giving to it the authority to determine the qualifications of the voters of this country. If a Constitutional Amendment should be adopted giving to the Federal Government the right to say who will vote, then it will no doubt shortly follow that every election would be Federally controlled and operated in the way and manner prescribed by Washington.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Alan Bryce of Wichita Falls, and my mother, Mrs. E. L. Ikard, of Henrietta.

Sunday School at ten A. M. with all classes studying the 21 chapter of Genesis, "The Conflict Between Issac and Ishmael, or, The Spirit Lusteth Against The Flesh and The Flesh against The Spirit." All of the Bible, Old and New, teaches you some thing as pertaining to your relations with Christ. The reason we study each book of the Bible chapter by chapter, is that we might hear all that God has to say in the consecutive order in which God gave it. Welcome to our Sunday School. Pete Bryan is S. S. Supt.

Morning preaching service at eleven. The pastor will speak on this subject, "Religion Versus Christianity." Neighbors, we would like for you to hear this plain, frank and scriptural expos-

Night preaching service at 7:30 Special singing and instrumental numbers, as well as good congregational singing. The pastor's subject will be, if the Lord wills, "The Devil's Toboggan Slide to The Lowest Depth of Hell. Now we are not much for sensational sounding sermon subjects, but when you hear this message, you will agree that it is titled correctly. We will show you that Satan and all his satanic system is slipping into hell. And we will make plain to you the way upward. You are always welcome to this friendly church with an open Bible for all people with open hearts and minds. Come as you are and hear God's word as it is.

IT'S A BOY FOR THE TYLERS

The "big moment" finally arrived at 11: a. m. Tuesday for Coach Jo Bob Tyler of Burkburnett.

He became the father of a baby boy, Jo Bob, who confessed at the 2A-3 all star banquet in Childress Monday night that "this is tougher than sweating out a championship football game," was mighty relieved and mighty happy.

LoWannas Were Shown Valentines Of Long Ago

The LoWanna Camp Fire girls discussed plans for a ceremonial during a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of their Counselor, Mrs. Walter Riley. Jo Ann Hervey, President, conducted the business meeting, at which time plans were completed for the table decorations for the Dad-Daughter Box Supper.

Loretta Brocker, Song Leader, practiced the group in their part of the program. The Program Chairman, Irma Ned Riley, introduced the program, which was a study of Conservation. The true story of Smokey Bear was told the group. After a discussion each member joined the Junior Forest Rangers by repeating the Forest Ranger's Pledge. At the forthcoming ceremonial, each girl will receive her Junior Forest Ranger's Kit, in addition to Honors earned. The girls plan to have the Forest Ranger's Pledge as their theme in the ceremonial and each is to prepare her own part. During the informal refreshment period Mrs. Riley told the story "How Come Valentine" and showed the group some lovely valentines which was mailed Mrs. Hubbard in 1895. The girls between these delicate valentines and our modern types was pointed out in appreciation to Mrs. Newell and Mrs. J. W. Allen for giving us to use these keepsakes at the meeting. Mrs. Olin assisted with the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McClintock, children Mary, James and Lynn of Borger, Texas, arriving in the Ralph White this week.

Grade School News

We are happy to have the final tests of the first half of the current school year behind. We can rest a little more with ease of mind now than we could the first few days of January.

We are happy to welcome Mrs. Louise Mullins back into our school system. She came back to us January 15th, and is teaching third grade. The boys and girls are happy to have her back and are doing very nice work.

We also have a new teacher in Section 4-2 of the fourth grade for the last half of the school year. Mrs. Morrison finished her work for a BS Degree at Midwestern on January 23rd and was ready to start teaching here on the 25th. She has had experience teaching in Nebraska. We are very happy to have her with us and wish for each of these new teachers a very happy stay with us. The third six weeks honor roll is as follows:

- 4-1 Mike Boydston, Danny Boren, Karan Burton, Chuck Duke, Perry Hoover, Kenneth Parrack, Jackie Price, Linda Holman, Shirley Reynolds
- 4-2 Margaret Faulks, Edward Hamrick, Phil Hart, Martha Hawhee, Lahoma Johnson, Phillip Miller, Mike Morris, Kenneth Ohern, Ray Dean Shaw, Howard Wooton, Kay Zimmerman

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

A Flash in the Night Pays Off

This flash picture, taken outdoors at night with a simple camera, was awarded a $1,000 prize in the 1953 Newspaper National Snapshot Awards USING your camera and flash attachment outdoors at night may not pay off in a fashion quite as dramatic as the picture above did for the young lady who took it, but it is sure to pay off in interesting pictures.

There is an unusual story behind the picture we've chosen to illustrate today's column. It was made by an 11-year-old girl, using a box camera, and with it she won the $1,000 Grand Prize in the animals and pets class of the 1953 Newspaper National Snapshot Awards.

Patricia Delaney, of Schenectady, New York, was at a camp in the Adirondacks last summer when one evening she spied the baby raccoons huddled together on the branch of the tree. "I thought the two baby coons looked cute, so I ran in to get my camera and snapped them," Patricia explained when interviewed after winning the prize.

I was delighted to run into this picture and the story with it because I don't know of any better way to convince you that flash snapshooting outdoors at night is easy.

Outdoor activities at night—such as skating or tobogganning parties in northern climes, the beach parties in the balmy southland—offer excellent picture-taking opportunities.

There is no difference between taking flash pictures indoors and taking them outdoors at night. The same thing is important to remember—distance. The light of the flash falls off rapidly. These small bulbs are powerful, but obviously cannot light a large area. So watch your distance. Figure it correctly by following the instructions packed with your film or the chart on the flashbulb carton. They'll give you the right answer for the type of film and bulb you are using. —John Van Guilder

Parker's Super Market

Shop At Your Favorite Parker's Food Store

WAIT UNTIL YOU GO SHOP THIS WEEK END!

We've set up a "Memory Lane" in all our departments. Old Favorite Brands and products that have kept you company thru the years.

We can't guarantee that our price on these items will be the very lowest in town, but our prices are fair because we buy right and run our business efficiently. We Are Seldom Undersold. We carry a wide variety of fine foods to choose from. We carry all the reliable old true brands, and friendly courteous service that makes shopping with pleasure.

What have you been reading lately? Look for the moment at our Magazine Racks. Yes, you'll find your favorite magazines in any Parker Food Store. A wide choice of the best in good reading.

COFFEE WHAT NOW!

The coffee story is one which "hits home" to all of us! Will it continue to rise in price? With information we have at hand, gained through food sources, Parker's feels, even with the freeze in Brazil and with the world's present stock on hand, the extreme rise in coffee is unjust.

Parker's is eager to see the price of coffee back to where it should be. We feel that if the consumers throughout the United States would buy less coffee, the price would quickly be brought in line.

Current Literature Met January 22nd With Miss Billingslea

The Current Literature Club met Jan. 22nd in the home of Miss Ella Billingslea with Miss Annie Laura Billingslea as co-hostess.

Mrs. C. R. Chambers, president, presided over a short business session.

Mrs. F. G. Jeffers, president-elect, appointed the year book committee which consisted of Mesdames C. M. Archer, B. Danforth and Francis Kauer.

Mrs. John Brookman presented the program on "Drama and music in Texas." Very interesting talks were given by Mrs. Blake Browning on Theatre in round; Mrs. Roy Magers, Little Theatre in Texas; Mrs. C. M. Archer, Symphony orchestras in Texas.

Delicious refreshments were served to seventeen members.

Club will meet with Mrs. Magers, Feb. 12th.

Howard Fleming Sweetheart Of FHA for 1953-54

The FHA of Burkburnett elected their sweetheart for 1953-54 during a meeting recently. The sweetheart is Howard Lynn Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fleming of Burkburnett.

Howard is a senior student of Burkburnett where he has lettered in football for the past two years. He was voted hardest fighter for 1953-54. He was a member of the track team for two years, played basketball one year, had a part in the junior play and is a member of the FFA.

The two runner-ups for sweetheart were Weldon Gorham and Billy Moyer. Both of these boys were also seniors in Burkburnett High School.

Hardin HD Club Met Jan. 27th With Mrs. Evert

The Hardin Home Demonstration club met Jan. 27th in the home of Mrs. A. A. Evert on West main Street. The house was called to order at 2:00 p. m. with the new president presiding. After song and prayer, roll call was answered by 20 members. We had four visitors present, Mrs. Paul Schroeder, Mrs. Don Peed, Mrs. Joe Dunham and Mrs. Hillis.

During the business meeting, it was voted to make cook books with the recipes to be furnished by the ladies of the club.

The county agent talked to us on planting and growing of foundation shrubs and the selection of the same.

On Feb. 9th there will be a meeting at the Valley farms club house on pruning trees and shrub. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. Sands gave a talk on planting shade trees and soil conservation.

After a recreation period, cherry pie and coffee were served by the hostess to: Mesdames Krusemark, Jacobs, Simons, Leply, Brookshier, Jenkins, Askins, Peed, Hewell, Sands, Blauer, Enderli, Farley, Robertson, H. W. Williamson, May Martin, Rodrick, A. A. Evert, Rinefeldt, Hamilton, Schroeder, Peed, Dunham and Hillis.

Club adjourned at 4:00 p. m. Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John Enderli.

Judging from the number engaged in it, the day must have passed when crime doesn't pay

"I start where the last man left off"

—Thomas A. Edison

Edison, to explain his incessant and tireless reading of scientific journals, technical papers, patents and books, said that he read to avoid useless repetition of old experiments. "I start where the last man left off."

What Edison knew, and perhaps said in an unquoted moment, is that thousands of men would be needed to "start where the last man left off."

"Just wait a little while," prophesied Edison, "and we'll make electric light so cheap that only the wealthy can afford to burn candles." Edison lived to see lamps that gave four times as much light and cost one-fifth as much to buy. And electric lighting has progressed far beyond that.

He recognized that an invention does not end a search. It begins a search.

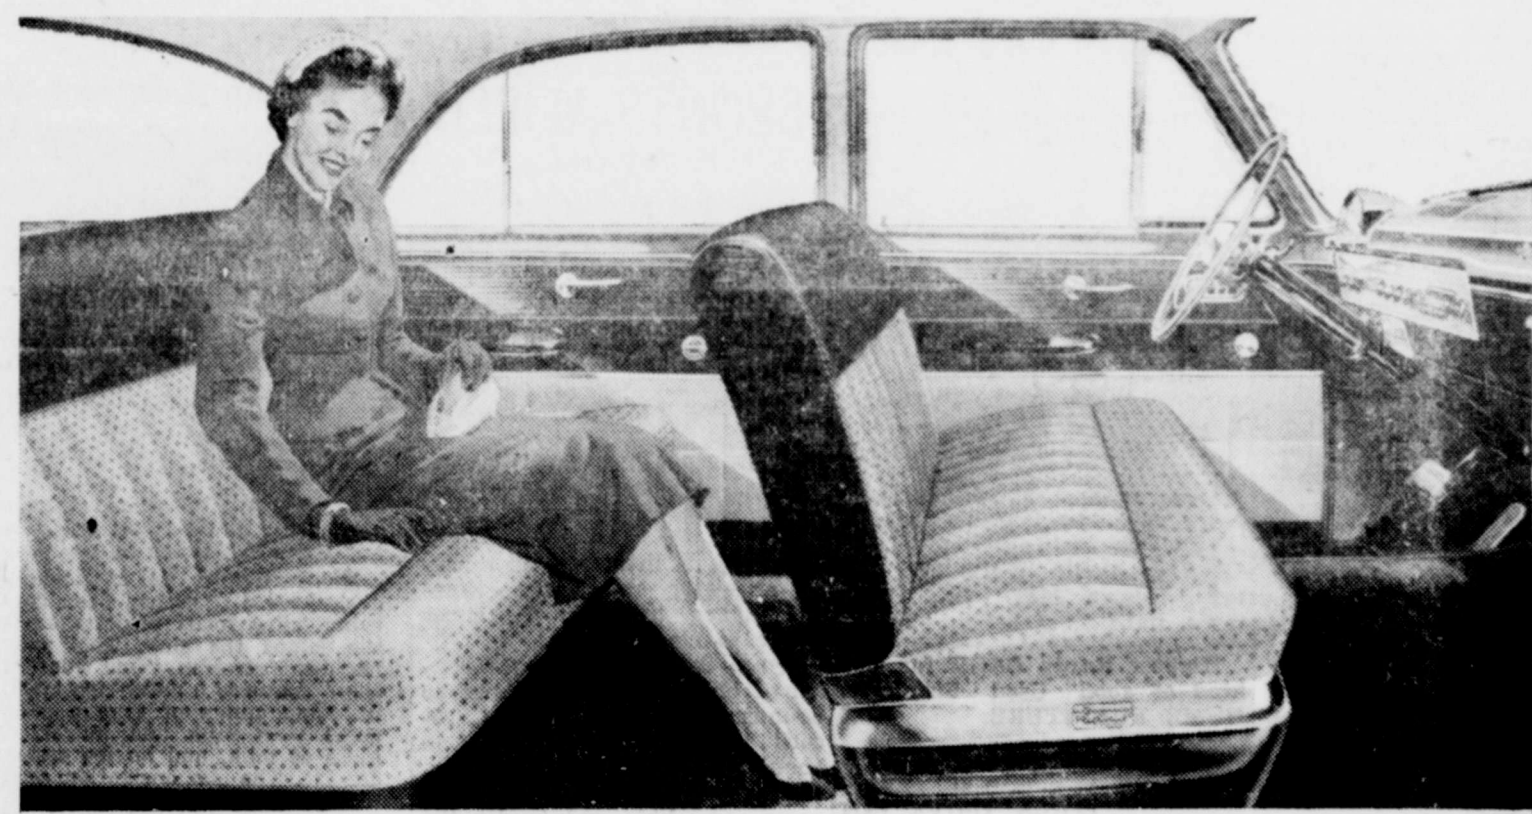

The lamp was a beginning in forcing not only its own evolution but the evolution of meters, fuses, sockets, wiring, power distribution systems, transformers and generating stations.

He lived to see the company that was formed to carry on development of electric light and power evolve into one of the world's most important industrial research centers. Today General Electric laboratories employ several thousand men and women who are seeking new things on widely different fronts.

It is seventy-five years since Edison lit the first successful carbon lamp. He will be remembered for inventions that changed the world. But let him be remembered, too, for inspiring so many men to start where he left off.

VETERANS Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I'm a disabled World War II veteran, and I'm just finishing on the job training under Public Law 16. After I complete it, I'm supposed to get two months subsistence pay from VA. Right now, my subsistence has been reduced because of the wages I receive from my employer. Will my two months' VA pay also be at the reduced rate?

A—No. Your two months' post rehabilitation pay from VA will be at the full rate, regardless of the fact that now you are getting less than that each month because of your income.

Q—I have a service-connected disability that is rated at 20 percent by VA. The other day I went to take a physical examination for commercial life insurance, and was told I couldn't get it because I'm considered totally disabled for insurance purposes. Shouldn't my VA rating be increased?

A—Not necessarily. It could be increased only if it is shown that your service-connected disability increased in severity. For insurance purposes, there may have been other nonservice disabilities which resulted in their finding of total disability. Also, insurance criteria for determining total disability may not be the same as VA criteria for compensation.

Q—I'm a GI Bill trainee and I've just moved. I notified my local VA regional Office of my new address so that I'll continue to receive GI training allowance without delay. I also hold GI insurance. Should I also notify my VA District Office, which is in another state?

A—You should notify your VA District Office of your new address. All you need to do is write your new address on the flap of the premium envelope you receive regularly from VA.

Q—I'm in a VA hospital, and I want to transfer to another one. Will VA furnish me with transportation?

A—VA will provide transportation only if the transfer is approved and determined necessary by VA for medical reasons.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Moose are the biggest of the deer family.

Elk average 600 pounds; the record is 1104.

Smallest deer in the world are pudu; the foot-high midgets live in the Andes.

Black bear average only 250 pounds, big Alaska brown bears about 800.

Safest place in a woods during an electrical storm is lying down under trees which are all equal height.

Putting a little pat of butter in the water when you cook cereal makes the pan 10 times easier to clean.

Lynx, the slightly larger cousin of bobcats, average about 25 pounds, but the largest on record was 44. Bobcats average about 20 pounds.

Liver, kidneys and heart of game are edible and tender the same day the animal is killed and do not have to be aged like muscle meat.

Preferred foods of moose are leaves and twigs of trees like willow, aspen, alder, and birch and they're readily available—after beavers cut them down for their dams.

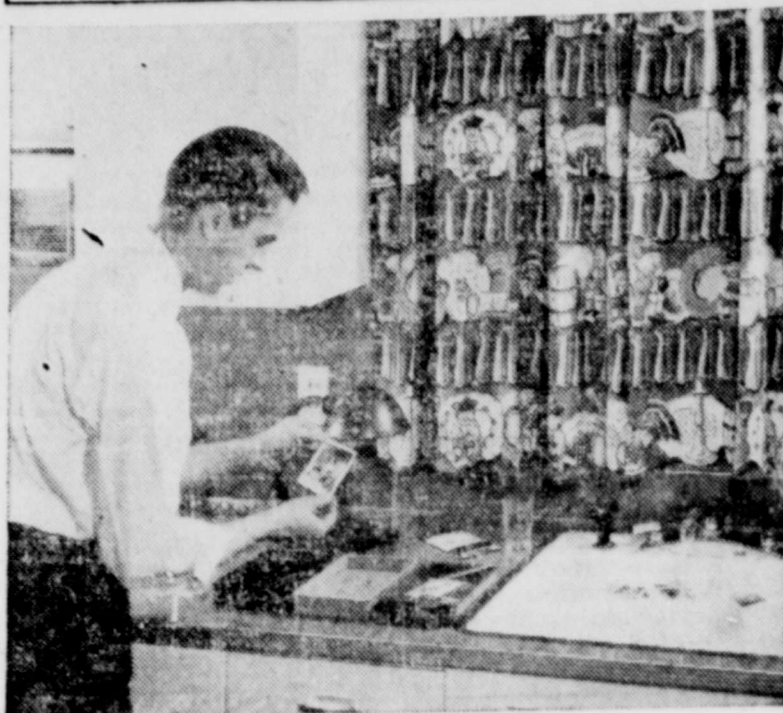

Canned fish and fishery products valued at $306 million and totaling more than 815 million pounds were produced in the United States, Alaska and Hawaii in 1953.

Woods that spark most in the order of their doing so, are white cedar, red cedar, alder, hemlock, balsam, the spruces, soft pines, basswood, box elder, chestnut, tulip, sassafras and willow.

One of the secrets of preparing liver is to serve it hot off the griddle. Cook over a medium flame and when the juice comes to the surface flip slices over and cook for another minute or so.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

A home developing and printing kit and a kitchen in which to use it will bring added pleasure to your snapshotting.

Snapshots and the Kitchen Sink

WE'VE heard of people who tried to include "everything but the kitchen sink" in their pictures. We don't approve of this, but do heartily approve of something you can do with your pictures in which the kitchen sink can play a very important role.

We're talking about your trying your hand at developing and printing your own pictures at home—and we're putting all the emphasis on the kitchen sink so you'll know right away that you don't need a darkroom in order to do it.

Start with a visit to your photo dealer for a look at the various kits that he has to show you. You'll be amazed to find that compactly fitted into a quite small box is everything you need for the operation. Of course, there are detailed instructions for doing it, too.

With one of the kits and your kitchen as a work place, you're all set to embark on an activity that is fun for the entire family. In fact, it is so simple and fascinating that the youngsters are likely to want to take over the entire operation.

Only one step in the procedure calls for complete darkness, and it is one that can be done in a hurry and any light-tight closet is a good place for doing it.

You can do the whole printing operation in subdued roomlight because there is a special kind of photographic paper, called Velite, which can be used under such conditions. This adds to the fun of home printing because everyone can gather 'round to enjoy the thrill of seeing the picture appear as you put the photographic paper into the developing solution.

One minute you have what appears to be a blank piece of paper—and then, almost as if by magic, there's a picture on it. That's what I think is the biggest thrill of the whole thing.

—John Van Guilder

3 Texas 4-H'ers Win National Honors

THREE TEXAS state winners have been awarded national honors in the Dairy Foods Demonstration, Soil and Water Conservation and Farm and Home Safety programs.

Emilee Griffith, 16, of Haskell, a six-year 4-H'er, has been carrying dairy foods projects since she joined the club. This year her demonstration, "One Quart a Day," featured a dairy-rich meal, including cream of tomato soup made with milk and butter, a glass of milk, and an ice cream dessert. The demonstration won first place in the county, district, and state contests. As national Dairy Foods Demonstration winner, she received a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress sponsored by the Carnation Company. Last year she was a member of the first-place Dairy Foods team in the county.

Don Elledge, 17, of Mabank, was a national winner in the Soil and Water Conservation program, receiving a $300.00 scholarship from the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. He used 25 acres of poor land to conduct demonstrations in crop and grass culture, which showed the possibilities of such a venture, according to Sam Mann, assistant county agent. Over three years Don successfully established five-acre hay and grazing demonstrations. He also did some terracing, laid out a waterway, and built a pond. A collection of 213 varieties of grasses is his prized possession, being in demand by the county agents and teachers to train judging teams. His club leader is Floyd Thurmon.

Margie Sellers, 17, of Whitesboro, was winner of national honors in the 4-H Farm and Safety program, General Motors of Detroit, Mich., awarded her a $300.00 scholarship. Trained in the theory and practice of "safety first" through a course in a school cited by the National Safety Council in 1951, Margie turned her sights toward her home and farm, uncovering 12 hazards which she corrected. She took the school's driver course, turning up 17 danger spots at home. Margie distributed 250 safety placards and displayed 10 posters. This year she headed a committee of four club members and placarded 200 hazards on nearby farms, winding up the drive with a big community meeting. Her local leader is her mother, Mrs. C. L. Sellers.

These programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooper-Extension Service.

Girls Meet Olney In Basketball Saturday Night

The basketball girls will journey to Olney Saturday night, Feb. 6 to play their third district game of the season. The girls have defeated Olney once and Electra once. If they can win this game Saturday night, the girls will have won their half of the district. If they win Saturday night, later in the season the girls will play the winner of the other half of the district, composed of Quanah and Wellington, on a neutral court. The girls will have to win two out of three games with this team to be eligible to go to regional. Thursday night, February 11, Henrietta will come to Burk to play a non-conference game. The girls played Henrietta earlier in the season and beat them by a narrow margin in an over-time period.

Thursday night, Feb. 18, Electra comes to Burk for the girls last conference game. When Burk burned journeyed to Electra, the girls defeated Electra by a pretty wide margin. The Burk girls will be out to win this game to add another to their list.

Noted Agriculture Speaker Feb. 10th At Wichita Falls

People of this area will have an opportunity to hear one of the world's top authorities on agriculture when D. Howard Doane appears in Wichita Falls during February. He will be guest speaker during a meeting of the Wichita Farm and Ranch club on Wednesday, February 10, at Midwestern University Student Center, according to Pat Morrison, president. The session will begin at 7:00 p. m.

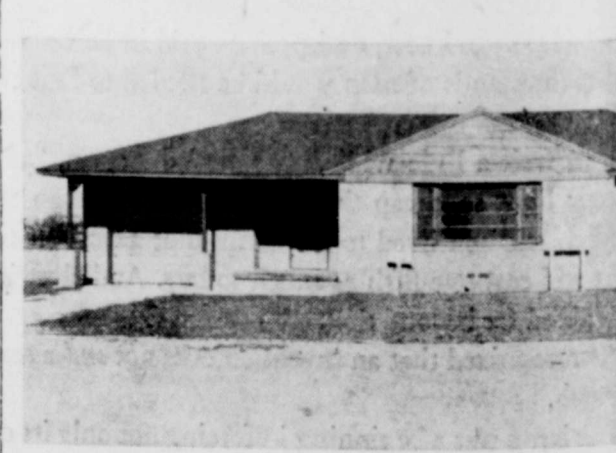

The Farm and Ranch club is composed of more than 360 people in this area who are interested in agriculture. However, Morrison points out, it is not necessary to belong to the group, to attend this meeting.

"We have an outstanding authority in the field of agriculture and we want everyone who possibly can to hear him," Morrison said.

The evening's program will be built around the address by Doane who is founder and chairman of the world-famed Doane Agriculture Service, Inc., described as the oldest and largest organization in the United States. Hundreds of farmers in this area have subscribed to the Doane Agriculture Digest and will be interested in hearing the speaker, Morrison said. Doane is a member of the board of trustees of the National Chemurgic Council, a member of the board of Commerce of the States. He organized the National Joint Commission on Credit which originated the American Rural Appraisal program. Morrison said Doane is owner of a grassland and one 1,000 acre unit devoted to raising and feeding cattle, hogs. He is constantly in testing new ideas in the AAA improvement of agriculture. He is author of several agricultural books, including "Vertical Farming" which is "Vertical Farming" and "Vertical Farming."
