All school students of Burk Burnett and this trade area are eligible. Mail your entry to Post Office Box No. 516, Burk Burnett, Texas, not later than December 21st. Selection and the name of the winner will be published in the Burk Star Dec. 23.

In case of a tie, the letter postmarked the earliest will receive the $25.00 award.

Time To Mail Christmas Items

In purpose, if not appearance, Postmaster Lohofener recalls the officers on those dramatic World War II recruiting posters that reminded passers by, "Uncle Sam Needs You."

The battle, in this case, is against time. Christmas cards and gift packages are arriving at Post Office headquarters far too slowly. As a result, immediate cooperation from the public must be enlisted.

"The big danger is that commercial and incoming Christmas mail may slow-up the outgoing operation. Poorly-wrapped packages have also complicated our work a great deal," the Postmaster said today.

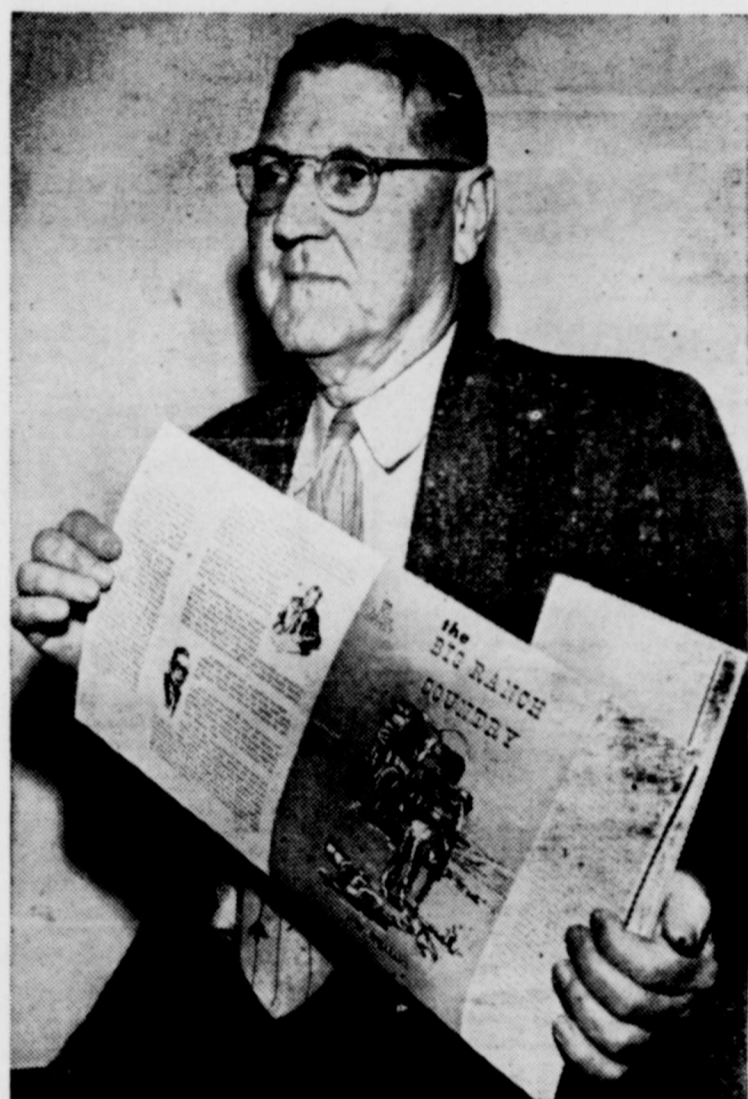

"Mail your Christmas presents for distance states immediately. Christmas cards for out of town delivery should be posted before Dec. 15 and those with local addresses at least a week before Christmas.

But first be sure that each gift is carefully wrapped and tied. Print the complete address, and return address, if your handwriting is at all shaky. We have already been forced to return many Christmas gifts as "undeliverable" for those two reasons.

At present, parcel post is considerably behind schedule. Only Christmas cards are being mailed with some consistency. Gratifying as this is, the Postmaster anticipates still another rush when unexpected greetings breeze in from forgotten friends.

He suggests, "Better pick up a few air mail and special delivery stamps today. It always happens!"

Former Burk Burnett Man Author "Big Ranch Country" Now on Sale

J. W. WILLIAMS, Author

"The Ranch Country," the latest book published in Wichita County is written by a well known historian, Mr. J. W. Williams, better known as Jake. He and his wife, known as Mrs. Jake, taught in the public schools here in the early twenties and later moved to Wichita Falls where he is still teaching.

Mrs. J. C. Adams, a past neighbor of theirs in this city is showing his book which is on display in the window of Adams Drug Store. Each if the books she has on display has been personally autographed by Mr. Williams.

In this book, Mr. Williams is relating a factual account of many journeys by car which lead down the roads thru the big ranch country, right up to the round-up grounds to chuck with the cowboys themselves; to the ranch homes where lived the men who built the great cattle empires; to the Burnetts, the Spurs, the Pitchforks, and the Matadors; and to stop along the roads where ranching history was made. Incident of the past are identified with the very places where they occurred and combined with the living tale of today in this multi-colored story of the cattle business.

Of particular interest to residents of this area, Mr. Williams relates many interesting facts, in story and picture form, concerning the Waggoner Ranch at Vernon, which is now considered to be the largest ranch in Texas. The book was published by Connie Terry of Terry Bros. Printers, Wichita Falls.

Burk Topples Nocona, 48 to 45

Burkburnett's Bulldogs charged to their fourth straight victory here Tuesday night, shading Nocona's stubborn Indians, 48 to 45.

Burk led 14-11 at the quarter, but Nocona moved ahead, 25-23, in the second period. Burk regained the lead, 36-25, after three quarters, and held onto the advantage in a thrill-packed final session.

Dan Owen tallied 12, Keith Patterson made 10, Ray Ady hit nine, Robert Reagan countered seven and Richard Gilbert added six for the Bulldogs. Tommy Useton, Calvin Graham and Eddie Cooper led the Tribe with 14, 13 and nine points.

Nocona won the B game, 38 to 36.

Burkburnett plays Vernon here tonight (Thursday) night. The game was originally slated for Friday.

Christmas Trees Taking Beating On Main Street

Of the four original Christmas trees placed on Main Street by the Chamber of Commerce and the City, only two remain.

The one at avenue B got sideswiped and broken all to pieces. The one at Avenue E was just plain swiped. The ones at Ave. D and C are taking a lot of punishment from high winds and smart-aleck drivers who try to see how close they can sweep by them.

The lighted Christmas trees, along with the strings of colored lights running diagonally over Main Street, give the city a beautiful Christmas effect at night. Light posts along the street have been wrapped with greenery to add to the pleasing effect.

Background Of Roger W. Babson

BABSON'S FORECAST Will Appear In The STAR DEC. 30th

American business has no more inspiring personality than Roger W. Babson internationally known business commentator and investment advisor. An outstanding feature of his philosophy has been his life-long insistence on the importance of religion in business.

Born and reared in an old-fashioned atmosphere of hard work and hustle on a farm in Gloucester, Mr. Babson went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Upon graduating, he turned instinctively to financial and business activities.

His exertions, however, undermined his health; he contracted tuberculosis and he was sent West "as good as dead!" It was while he was convalescing from this dread malady that he worked out some of the possibilities and problems of business forecasting. His weekly releases are used by over 400 newspapers and his financial reports by 20,000 corporations and estates. His research work is carried on by a large staff of workers.

Mr. Babson founded Babson Institute for Men; and in co-operation with Mrs. Babson, developed Webber College for Women, both nationally known educational institutions. Here young men and women may concentrate on the fundamentals of business administration. Later, he founded a Midwestern Institute of Business Administration, located in Eureka, Kansas, the center of the United States. He has been active also in the establishment of another medium of service to the public, the Gravity Research Foundation, located at New Boston, N. H.

Mr. Babson has probably done more than any other man to create among his millions of newspaper readers an interest in simple business problems, and to instill a broader vision in businessmen, enabling them to meet the ups and downs of the business cycle.

BUILDING A COMMUNITY

The men who run retail stores are almost always community builders and all-around good citizens. The reason for this can be found in the constructive business attitude which is an integral part of successful retail management. J. C. Penney, one of the country's leading merchants and head of the great chain store system which bears his name, recently made some remarks which illustrated this attitude. Cut-throat competition is out of date and has been for 50 years, says Mr. Penney. "If a man does a good job his competitor needn't worry him. A merchant who approaches business with the idea of serving the public well has nothing to fear from competition, however much of it there may be. In business as elsewhere we are our own pacemakers.

"There is no better friend to any merchant than a fair competitor, who profits most because he serves best. It is in service that the real competition occurs.

"Always remember that you are building not just a business but a community."

With this kind of thinking being voiced by leaders in retailing, it's no wonder that local merchants generally are good people to have around. And it provides the best kind of guarantee that the consumer is going to get the utmost in courtesy, service, convenience and quality at the lowest possible price.

MORE JOBS AND BETTER GOODS

Anyone who thinks there is too much spread between what farmers get for their produce and what the housewife pays for food at retail would do well to read an article by Phillip W. Porter which appeared in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

His family was away, so he had to do his own grocery shopping. It was his first experience of that kind in many years. He went to a supermarket, and, to put it mildly, he was amazed.

The pleasant surprises were many, from cellophane wrapped meats thru the attractive vegetable displays to the efficient system of handling, charging for, and wrapping the purchases. After a full account of his adventure, Mr. Porter wrote: "What a far cry from the small, dark grocery store of your youth, where you used to swipe pickles out of a big barrel, a cat slept on the counter, and flies swarmed around the sugar bin. You bought stuff in bulk then, at a lower price. Do you want to go back to that I don't think many would answer yes.

"The fact is that all the way along the line, in packing, in freezing, in shipping, in trucking, in selling, more labor is required all the time to deliver more food to more consumers. The new era has made more jobs and produced better goods at about the same price as last year."

That tells the story accurately and it's true of retailing in all its branches, the public demands more service, more variety and luxury items.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

If you are a typical family man who earns $4500 a year and works the usual eight-hour day, the Tax Foundation has some news for you.

Two hours and thirty-five minutes of that day go to earn the money needed to pay your taxes, direct and indirect. That's much longer than you need work to buy your food, almost twice as long as it takes to pay your housing costs, and four times as long as for your clothing or transportation.

It used to be argued that only wealthy people had any particular interest in the tax question, and that the way to meet government costs was to soak the rich. How times have changed. There aren't enough rich people if you took their total income. Today everybody is soaked to the limit. It is the masses of people who have the greatest interest in cutting government spending and tax bite.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. But it wasn't an easy one to carry out. For Chevrolet and General Motors set out with the idea of building the first low-priced car that would do all these things:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
- bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
- bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.
- bring you the highest quality of manufacture and materials.

All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, the skills, the resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new concept? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your own ideas about cars!

Real Show-Car Styling!

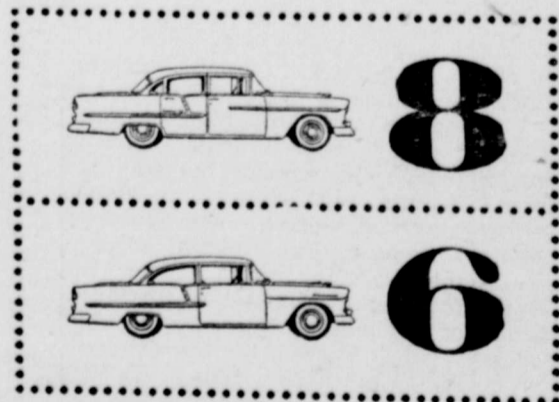

Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile . . . soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you slip inside . . . there's more room for hats and hips . . . exciting fabrics and trim harmonized with the whole car . . . as carefully as a bride matches carpet to curtains.

A Sensational Ride!

You live the new idea instantly . . . you glide . . . actually glide because spherical joints "roll with the punch" of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns . . . turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering.

And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front . . . you get more level stopping. Tubeless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.

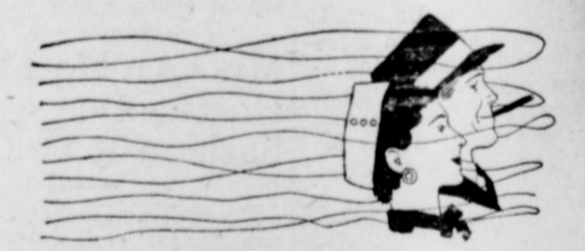

Power Beyond Compare!

You also feel the new idea quickly . . . quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire. You have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive and improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost) . . . you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and powershift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

Missionary To Germany To Speak At Iowa Park

Otis Gatewood of Lubbock, and missionary in Germany will present a report on the work in that country on Monday evening Dec. 13 at 7:30 o'clock at the Iowa Park Church of Christ.

Gatewood was the first missionary from America to enter Germany following World War II. He has worked there for seven years and is the American with the longest time of service in Germany on account of rotation of Army and occupation personnel.

He is now spending nine months in the United States and on an extended speaking tour throughout the southern, western and northern states.

On Monday evening, Gatewood will discuss future plans and encourage other missionaries to go to that country. He is supported by Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock. Other congregations of church of Christ throughout the country are supporting 17 other missionaries in Germany.

Twenty-three German congregations have been established in 18 cities, the latest to be established is in Berlin, thru which missionaries hope to work with some persons behind the "Iron Curtain," and also to help refugees.

In February of this year, Gatewood wrote a letter to the Russian premier explaining his interest in going to Moscow and learning more about a religious group there. He had reports of a 3,000,000 strong group of people who worshipped God similar to the churches of Christ outside the Iron Curtain.

He received no answer from the letter nor from a later telegram, then after a third letter he received an invitation from the Ambassador of the Union of the Soviet Republic, in the German Democratic Republic, for Gatewood to come and talk with him. This had been forwarded by the Soviet Military Mission in Frankfurt.

Now that he has found out he can go to Moscow he will apply for entrance sometime next spring to visit and investigate the possibilities of the church there.

Other than the work among the German people these 18 missionaries serve 14 English-speaking congregations composed mostly of American service men and their families.

SPORTS AFIELD
By Ted Kesting

Fifty million acres of potentially top notch game habitat lies right under our noses. You can't have overlooked the right-of-way of power lines, telephone lines, pipe lines, highways and railroads, but you may have overlooked the fact that these lands can harbor much wildlife.

The people who own or control this land want to get rid of all brush; so do hunters because uncontrolled brush makes mighty poor game habitat. Nine years ago these companies found they could make chemical warfare on brush. But such an approach means that the brushlands instead of being turned into first-class game habitat, are being converted into grasslands, a desert for deer, grouse, pheasants and quail. The chemical sprays destroy brush, but not grass.

In most places, mixed with the original brush, there are a vast number of good wildlife plants; cover of conifers and evergreen shrubs, shrubs and vines that furnish browse in winter and berries in the fall. But after blanket spraying this plant life that is so beneficial to game usually doesn't get a chance to reseed. And the land is pretty much useless.

Here, according to Dr. Frank E. Egler of the American Museum of Natural History, is an example of what could be done: Transmission lines of electric power companies run all across this country. The right of ways vary from 10 to 250 feet wide, and the brush must be controlled to let crews in for maintenance and emergency repairs. Plants must not get in the way of the wires. This calls for a foot trail, or better still a truck trail. A strip 30 to 50 feet wide right under the wires should have no plants that grow more than two to three feet high. Low-brush blueberries and huckleberries, which grow from coast to coast, could be left in this strip while other plants are eliminated. On the overedge of such right-of-ways, the main problem is to keep tree sprouts from growing up into the wires. Out there you can leave blackberries, viburnums, cornels, junipers, plants that make excellent habitat for many kinds of game.

If you and your local sportsman's club are interested in getting the local right-of-way producing more game, and you want professional advice, write to the Wildlife Management Institute, 709 Wire Bldg., Washington 5, D. C.

S-D DAY MEANS SAFE DRIVING IN ALL NATION

S-D Day could just as well be S-W Day.

S-D means safe driving, but safe walking will be almost as important if traffic accidents are to be held to a minimum on S-D Day, Wednesday, Dec. 15.

More than 1,000 pedestrians literally walked themselves to death during December last year, according to National Safety Council figures. December is always the peak month of the year for pedestrian fatalities.

However, on Dec. 15 the walkers as well as the drivers will have an opportunity to prove that accidents don't have to happen if every individual makes a real effort to prevent them.

A nail driven into a tree trunk would be the same height from the ground five years later.

President Eisenhower has proclaimed Dec. 15 as the date for the nation to keep traffic accidents at an absolute minimum for a 24-hour period as proof that traffic accidents can be prevented by individual and community action. The nationwide cooperation program is sponsored by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety.

Children and older persons are most vulnerable as pedestrians. Of the 8,600 pedestrians killed last year about 1,950 were under 15 years and 3,350 were over 65.

Most pedestrian victims are non-drivers who do not understand the mechanics of limitation of driving, safety experts say. Elderly men are most apt to be pedestrian victims.

Early evening hours are especially hazardous for pedestrians. More than a third of the victims were killed between 5 and 8 p. m. in the evening from October to March. About 41 percent were crossing streets between intersections, 25 percent were killed at intersections, and 11 percent were walking in the roadway.

Three easy rules can help make S-D Day, and every day, a safe walking day for pedestrians. To avoid that "run down" feeling:

1. Cross only at intersections and wait for the green light, and watch out for turning traffic.
2. Wear something light or carry a flashlight if you must walk on a roadway at night.
3. Make sure packages, umbrellas or newspapers do not block your view of approaching traffic.

It is possible to leave Wake Island on January 21 and arrive at Midway Island on January 20.

CHRISTMAS

By R. D. Laney

The observance of Christmas is a reminder that long ago some humble shepherds of Judea heard the good tidings of the birth of a "savior, who is Christ the Lord." In early American history Christmas was not celebrated in New England because the Puritans opposed it. They opposed the gaily and merry-making because they regarded that as sinful; they opposed religious observance because they considered that Romish.

And the times were as sorely troubled as our own. During the early Christmas days, a great prosperity was upon the Roman empire. Its boundaries were deep in Asia and to the north and east in Europe. Trade and commerce were fluent and those who were free were prosperous. But there was tension in the land and the morals of the ancient Romans had disappeared. An Orientalism flowed into the Roman society, a rich, softening search for amusement and fun.

The Temple of the Jews in Jerusalem was finally burned by the Romans, all but a wall that miraculously remained a symbol of a glorious past. The Pharisees and Sadducees, the great rabbies and learned men were dispersed some to gather elsewhere to establish academies of learning. But Paul, whose name had been Saul, was abroad among the Gentiles carrying with him the old law and the new, the Natural Law of God, the Ten Commandments and the beatitudes to the weary and heavy laden.

Paul had been a Pharisee and his knowledge was principally rabbinical. He took what had been an esoteric sect among the Jews and preached it to the Nations of the Roman Empire. The people in their uncertainty wanted a god of warmth, a loving god, a Father. What the whole world sought in those troubled times was a religion of the heart, a religion of sympathy and compassion. The need for repentance stirred the Roman Empire and such little men, as Paul and Peter and others like them, conquered the hearts of the people.

For they brought hope for peace not only peace from war, but peace of the heart, peace of the household.

Today the universal spirit of Christmas seems best personified the world over in the ringing of bells. Wherever Christmas is celebrated the chimes ring out the glad tidings on Christmas eve. Small bells in humble missions and great ones in massive cathedral towers from the arctic to the tropics ring and ring the joyous refrains. The history of the nations, the growth of civilization, the spread of Christianity, peace, war, joy sorrow, are told in the ringing of the bells. But there is a message the world over that has a greater effect upon humanity than the ringing of the "tidings of great joy," announcing the birth of the Child in the Manger.

There would be no Christmas without the Christmas tree. It is believed that the Christmas tree dates back to Boniface, an English missionary to Germany in the 8th century. He replaced the sacrifice to Odin's sacred oak by a fir tree adorned in tribute to the Christ Child. German immigrants brought the customs to America. The Christmas tree, so universally celebrated now in the Sunday School and children's services, is the happy home and family festival transferred to the church and given more hallowed and religious connotation. Most of us can remember when a Christmas tree was a pugnate pine or spruce, or one of their cousins from a snow-swept mountain slope. Lots of today's youngsters have never seen an old-fashioned green Christmas, at least in the house.

Yesteryear's tree was aglow with fragile frosted ornaments that appeared every Christmas like old friends of the family. It shone with fat festoons of tinsel and with a star at every top, so high, that one had to have a step ladder to reach it. Most of all, though the tree shone with sentiment. Most of the trees available today are pale substitute for the sturdy spruce that grandfather let you chop down all by yourself and pull home on your sled. An old fashioned Christmas Eve, each year found the familiar tinsel angels hung among the green boughs, twinkling in the candle glow. Nowadays it seems anybody can make a tree, but only a substitute to that of yesteryear.

The basis of Christmas is love, loving its enemies, returning good for evil, love that "suffereth long, and is kind." The true spirit of Christmas in its spiritual significance is unobscured by the mortal claims of mere human festivity, orthodoxy, or commercialism. We see the real universe, governed by God and peopled by his spiritual ideas, and we know that, in truth, all are eligible to partake of the angelic benediction first enunciated at the time of Jesus' birth, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace good will toward men."

Christmas is the reminder of God's great gift, his spiritual idea man and universe, the ambition rivalry, and ritual of our common Christmas seems a human mockery in mimicry of the real worship in commemoration of Christ's coming. The splendor of this nativity of Christ reveals infinite meaning and gives manifold blessings. Christmas comes daily, even hourly, in the divine gifts of well-being. Substantiated by their understanding of the spiritual source of all that is real, they gratefully echo James' words, (James 1:17)

"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow or turning." May your Christmas be a happy one.

Christmas Seals Fight Tuberculosis

Gov. Allan Shivers this week reminded Texas that it is paying a staggering toll to tuberculosis. He gave further emphasis by warning that TB can invade any home at any time.

In an official memorandum designating Nov. 22 thru Dec. 25 as Christmas Seal Month in Texas, the governor said while the death rate is being reduced the disease still imposes a heavy burden in its "wanton waste of human happiness, economic security and community well-being."

He paid tribute to the tuberculosis associations' half century of "organized consistent battle against this disease" and urged "every citizen to aid this fight by buying and using Christmas Seals on all Yuletide mail."

The traditional Christmas Seals which support the work of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county organizations were delivered thru the mails this week.

completed by Ralph Swinford, Jr., 17, of Wichita Falls which he received as state winner of the 33rd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. He helped his community more safety conscious by means of surveys, demonstrations, and other aids under the guidance of W. M. Marshall, his local club leader.

This year he was chairman of the club safety committee, cleared a junk pile, straightened his workshop, filled in a road for hazards. Ralph Ray was broken gates, fences, step ladders and frayed electric cords. He plowed fire lanes along the way.

During six years of 4-H, she refinished furniture, and reupholstered two bedrooms, kitchen breakfast room. For her room she dyed curtains and bedspread, holstered a chair, papered and painted woodwork and added closet shelf. In the kitchen she papered walls, made curtains, painted woodwork and cabinets. FURNITURE DESIGNS KEYED TO TELEVISION

Since the television set is the center of family activity in the majority of American homes today, furniture designers are turning their talents to pieces that adapt easily to the new mode of living. This smart living room group by Kroehler accentuates the versatility of today's furniture. The sectional pieces can be easily rearranged to suit the needs of the occasion. As comfortable as it is smart looking, the sectional furniture is luxuriously built with cotton innerspring construction.

Price Of Poultry Leaves No Profit

Poultry producers are having a hard time making a profit at the present price of eggs in comparison with the price of feed. "I realize the poultry producers cannot do anything about the price of feed, but maybe they can do something about management. Laying hens need plenty of fresh air but chilling drafts can spell trouble. Never close the house entirely," says B. T. Haws, county agent. Open the windows from the top and leave 8 to 10 inches of ventilation even when the temperature drops below 32.

Air drafts are caused by cross ventilation. Check to see that back and end windows which are opened during hot weather, are closed tightly.

Start the birds now on three to four inches of litter and add more as needed. With "built-up" litter, the house stays dry in wet weather and saves time and labor.

Check for leaking water fountains and make sure the birds aren't wasting too much feed. Less waste results if the feeders are only about one half full.

When a bird goes without water, she stops laying. Soil heating cables, electric lights and commercial heating devices are in common use to keep drinking water from freezing.

A hen needs approximately 14 hours of light to keep her stimulated for high production. As the days become shorter production will drop unless artificial light is provided. One tested and proved method, is to use 60 watt bulbs every 12 feet or 40 watt bulbs every 10 feet mounted seven or eight feet from the floor. Shallow dome reflectors will help intensify the light if brushed off occasionally to remove the dust.

Finally, it's probably time to cull again. A good culling every two or three months will keep the loafers out and profits up.

Time To Set Out Roses

Now is a good time to set out rose bushes. However, they can be set in the fall or spring in this area, according to B. T. Haws, county agent. Roses that are set out in the fall become established and the roots start growing in the winter. When warm weather comes, they are ready to start growing.

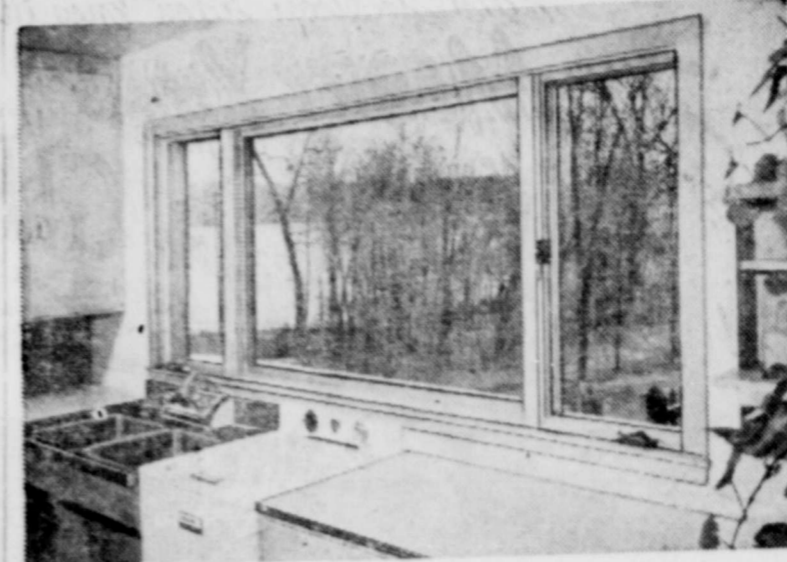

When a rose garden is to be established, or when only a few plants are added to the planting the soil should be prepared in advance and the spot where each plant is to be placed located with a stake. If the soil needs to be completely reworked, this should be done in the fall for either spring or fall plantings.

Rose plants should be set out as soon as they are received. If this is not possible the plants should be unpacked and examined to see if the roots have dried out. If the apogon or other packing material about the roots is dry, it should be moistened and replaced, provided planting is not delayed more than a few days.

When all preparations for planting have been made, the roots of each plant should be carefully examined. All dead or injured growth should be cut off. The top should be pruned if needed. Generally nurseries cut back the tops of roses to about 10 inches before shipping them. Any dead or injured wood should be removed.

When the plants are ready to be set out, take them to the garden with their roots covered. The roots should never be exposed to the sun or drying winds. Failure to protect the roots at this time may result in very poor

A View, Ventilation Too

A beautiful view and all the fresh air she needs make a housewife's day more pleasant in a charming modern kitchen. The ponderosa pine window unit combines a large fixed sash picture window in the center with casements that open out on either side for full ventilation. The natural warmth of the wood windows and cabinets, protected by a clear varnish, adds to the cheerful mood of the kitchen.

Highway Work Set For Next Year

The Texas Highway Commission has announced from Austin the first step which will set up a new program of work for the calendar year of 1955. E. H. Thornton, Jr., Chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, stated that funds for this program are being derived from State sources.

L. B. Dean, District Engineer of the Texas Highway Department at Wichita Falls, has stated that the following State Highways and roads in his area are scheduled for work under this program.

In Wichita County, the following sections of highway were included in the approved program of work.

U. S. Highway 287 from 10 miles east of Wichita Falls to the Clay County Line, a distance of 1.4 miles, to provide for the construction of gravel shoulders.

U. S. Highway 277 & 181 from Burkburnett to Lincoln street in Wichita Falls, a distance of 12.3 miles, to provide for the construction of gravel shoulders.

State Highway 258 from State Highway 25 to US Highway 277, a distance of 11.2 miles, to provide for a level-up course on existing asphalt surface.

State Highway 240 from Wilbarger County line East to Bell loading Dock, a distance of 15.6 miles to provide for the placing of a Seal Coat on existing surface.

FM Highway 387 from 1.0 mile west of Wichita Falls to FM Highway 368 South of Iowa Park a distance of 7.4 miles, to provide for the placing of a Seal Coat on existing asphalt surface.

FM Highway 1177 from US 277 east of the Clay County line, a distance of 6.6 miles, to provide for the reconstruction and resurfacing of present asphalt roadway.

Dean stated that the Highway Commission has authorized the development of this program for the purpose of protecting the investment of the public in the State Highway System.

It was announced that work will begin on these projects just as soon as final planning is completed and right-of-way secured.

COZY ROOM FOR COLLEGIAN!

Cotton bedspreads and matching draperies are slated to be favorites this fall with the college colleen. Lyn Cassidy of Sarah Lawrence picks Bates "Zuider Zee," an enchanting new tulip design, to give a warm, restful look to her dorm room. Muss-proof texture and colorfast washability, so important in the collegian's room, make this cotton spread an excellent choice.

Old House Better Than Ever

Remodeling can do more than make an old house just as good as new. Modern building materials and construction techniques, says American Builder magazine, will often make an old dwelling better than it was when new.

As a test, the magazine followed an Illinois couple in a top-to-bottom remodeling of their century-old farmhouse. Although it was outmoded in both plan and appearance, the house was structurally sound, making remodeling a feasible undertaking. American Builder points out that similar modernization is possible with tens of thousands of other old homes that are basically in sound condition.

The couple expanded the middle section of the house by moving the front wall forward and taking out the old bay window. The roof above this section was raised, improving the proportions of the entire building. Plywood was used extensively.

Old roof shingles were removed and structural plywood laid down as a base for new colorful, fire-resistant asphalt shingles. Usually, asphalt shingles can be applied on top of the old roof material, eliminating the expense of removing the old roof and retaining its insulation value. In this case, the 100-year-old roof deck needed reinforcing.

A new asphalt shingle roof and new siding helped turn this old farmhouse (bottom) into the good-as-new modern home shown at top.

More space was gained, American Builder says, by extending part of the second story out beyond the first floor of the house. The interior was modernized to gain wall space, as well as linen, bathroom, and clothes closets.

The first-floor bathroom was enlarged and made directly accessible to the rest of the house. All the old windows were replaced. The living room was given a large modern picture window, while the other windows are the double-hung type.

Enlistments Quota Basis

Enlistments and re-enlistments are now being accepted on a quota basis for direct assignment to the 10 Infantry Division. The Army's new unit, "Operation Gyroscope," is a plan, according to Major Paul R. Calvary of the 10th Infantry Division, to replace the 1st Infantry Division in Europe sometime next summer. The units overseas to be replaced by like units in the states are to spend their entire careers in the same division, means stability, a permanent station, more settlements, fewer family separations and a greater pride and esprit de corps. Interested persons may obtain information on the new rotation system by writing to the nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station, located at the 215 Federal Building, Burkburnett, Texas.

"Live Christmas" Hoped For By Texas Safety Ass'n.

"I would like to invite every citizen in Texas to join the Nation in a LIVE Christmas Celebration." This Christmas invitation was tendered by Mr. R. B. Roaper of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association...

Mr. Roaper reminded local citizens that "the mixture of last celebrations, office parties, distractions, office parties, distracting holiday sights and sounds, can lead to the sometimes-tragic state of holi-daze."

Mr. Roaper said "holi-daze" is an intangible thing, but is still a very real hazard during this holiday season.

"To make matters worse," he said, "we're in this state of holi-daze" just at the time when winter walking and driving hazards are at their height."

He said the National Safety Council's figures showed that the traffic death toll was usually higher in December than in any other month of the year.

"Motor vehicle deaths" rise steadily from a low point in February, until they reach an all year high in December," he pointed out.

For this reason, he urged all motorists and pedestrians" to be extra alert, and to be certain to continue to observe all common sense safety rules for staying alive in traffic."

Texas State Dept. of Health

Dr. Henry A. Holle, M. E.

"Tragedy season" for the aged may be here again, manifested in the form of one or more catastrophic fires in convalescent or nursing homes, State Health Officer Henry A. Holle said today.

It is only natural that dangers of destructive fire in homes caring for aged people rises in direct proportion to temperature drops during fall and winter months, Dr. Holle pointed out.

Full time use of heating and electrical equipment in these homes, plus the fact that ambulatory patients who smoke are forced inside during cold weather, calls for greater fire precautions.

Dr. T. E. Dodd, in charge of nursing home licensing activities at the State Health Department said every nursing home administrator should insist that local fire department personnel make regular inspections of their premises and operations at least every thirty or sixty days, even though we require each licensed nursing home in Texas to be approved for fire safety.

Dodd added: "In addition to carrying out all suggestions made by the local fire department, each nursing home administrator should have a definite plan that has been practiced and perfected to meet all emergencies caused by fire. Such a plan should be worked out in cooperation with the fire department and all members of the nursing home staff know their duties and assignments and be ready to act at any time.

Jill Bernethy Honoree At Bridal Shower

Among fondest memories of pre-nuptial courtesies was the come and go bridal shower given in Jill Bernethy's honor, Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Frances Reeves. Jill is the bride elect of Joe Hensley of Burkburnett.

In the receiving line were Jill Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. Hugh Williams, sister of the groom. Miss Pat McAfee registered the guests in a beautiful white satin brides book.

The brides chosen colors of pink and silver were carried in the refreshment table decorations. Mrs. Carl Heinzelman served tiny cakes and sandwiches while Miss Erma Smith presided at the crystal punch service.

Approximately 100 guests called between the appointed hours to view a most beautiful array of gifts.
