Jo Ann Thomas - Jerry Lee Thomas Married In Home Ceremony

Miss Jo Ann Thomas of Burk became the bride of Mr. Jerry Lee Thomas of Randlett Saturday evening, January 28th in a double ring ceremony conducted by Rev. Wm. Wilhoit, minister of the Church of Christ, in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crossley. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Thomas of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Wedding music was provided by Miss Blanche Butler, pianist and David Hooper, vocalist. Candles were lighted by Miss Billy Jane Smith of Odessa, Texas.

The ceremony was performed before a background of greenery intermingled in pink gladioli. A white rug outlined the altar space and white candles in branched candelabra lighted the space on either side.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and uncle. She was attired in a beautiful gown featuring a lace bodice with ballerina length skirt of white tulle over satin. A tiny cap covered with orange blossoms held in place her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a white bible topped with pink roses, buds and white ribbons. AN EDITORIAL Qualifications of a Commissioner

A great number of people were asked what they believed the duties of a County Precinct Commissioner to be. Not one questioned mentioned his duties on the Commissioners Court. They seemed to think his duties and responsibilities started and stopped with maintaining the roads in his precinct.

The Commissioners Court is composed of the four precinct commissioners and the County Judge. This court is the governing body of Wichita County. All expenditures of the county pass through this court. The Commissioners Court is responsible for hiring every county employee. This body also sets the salary of every county employee, including those holding elective offices, such as County Judge, County Attorney, County Tax Assessor-Collector — all county employees. This court appoints the Juvenile Probation Officer and his board. It estimates the county's income for the year and sets up the budget.

Commissioners sit in with the county equalization board, principally to check on industrial valuations to see that they in line with other county valuations. The commissioners court is the last resort of appeal for those who feel that the equalization board has not dealt with them fairly.

All right-of-way purchases are made by the commissioners court.

The General Hospital is controlled by the commissioners court. So is the County Farm. All expenditures for maintenance and equipment is handled through the court. The purchase of a $1.00 item or a $10,000 X-ray machine for the hospital must be ok'ed by the commissioners court. All county welfare is handled by the commissioners.

The county's business is big business. The budget each year runs well over $1,000,000.00!

Commissioners carry two bonds, one as commissioner and one as a member of the commissioners court.

The money allotted to each precinct, based on tax valuations, car registrations, etc., is handled by each individual commissioner pretty much as he sees fit. Where, when and how he builds or maintains roads in his precinct is left up to him. If he foolishly wanted to buy a $50,000.00 piece of road machinery he didn't need, the other commissioners would try to talk him out of it, but if he had the money available and wanted to, he could still make the unnecessary purchase.

The election Saturday is by no means a popularity contest or a time to vote for a friend because he is a friend. It is a time to decide which candidate is best qualified for the position and who can best assume the responsibilities which will be his.

Cubmaster Thanks Banquet Helpers

Sincere thanks and appreciation go to all who helped make the Cub Scout Blue and Gold Banquet such a success.

Special thanks go to Preston Dairy and Taystee Bread Co.

H. L. Connell, Cubmaster

AN ECONOMY SUGGESTION

Does the fact that we have law enforcement officers on state and local levels imply that all citizens are law violators? Certainly Not!

Neither do laws requiring publication of financial statements by governing agencies, or open meetings of governing bodies, or that public records be open to public inspection imply that all government officials are corrupt. Yet many office holders resent and resist efforts to enact such laws because they say they are a reflection on their honesty.

Actually, such laws would be a protection to honest officials, just as the policeman is a protection to honest citizens.

Lack of an adequate police force tends to make people careless and they often do little things they would not do if an officer of the law were close at hand. Like speed laws, for instance. Isn't it surprising how much more carefully people drive when they see a highway patrol car parked by the side of the road?

Laws requiring publication of financial statements by tax-spending agencies of the government are chiefly beneficial as a preventive measure. Few officials will unlawfully expend money if it has to be reported publicly. Most officials will weigh carefully what might be only an unwise expenditure if they know it is to be printed for all to see.

Officials move more cautiously in transacting government business when their meetings are open to the public, or when minutes of their activities are subject to public inspection. This makes for better government, for sounder thinking and planning in government. It just about puts the occasional corrupt official out of business.

It was reported during the Duval County investigations that financial statements made to Austin authorities showed that hundreds of dollars had been paid carpenters for repairs on school buildings. Until the investigation began, Austin had no way of knowing these were not legitimate, but it was revealed during the investigations that the carpenters had not done any work and had not received any payment.

How long would such practices have continued had the school districts been required to publish financial statements in local newspapers? The carpenters would have revealed the fraud immediately, of course, but more important — it never would have been attempted if publication had been required.

That's why Texas needs laws requiring that public business be made public. That's why Texas voters should demand that legislative candidates make known their attitudes on such measures during this campaign year.

Shall We Regulate The Corner Grocer?

One of the most effective editorial discussions of the current natural gas problem appeared in the Saturday Evening Post of January 21, under the striking title "If Gas Producers Can Be Regulated, So Can the Corner Grocer."

These producers were not under federal regulation until June, 1954, when a Supreme Court decision gave the Federal Power Commission regulatory jurisdiction. They are not, as the Post makes clear, anything resembling a monopoly, there are 8,000 of them, with none producing as much as five per cent of the total. And from the customers point of view, Post says, regulation will hurt their interests by bringing about higher rates, for the reason that it will cut down on volume and "a smaller number of consumers will have to bear the transmission and distribution charges."

Then the Post says this: "The regulation of producers of natural gas is the first example of regulation of a competitively produced commodity. It would hardly be the last. Natural gas is more often than not intermixed with oil production. Could we regulate the gas and not the oil from the same field? Then why not coal, lumber, iron and on right into a complete statist strait jacket?"

This point is infinitely more important than any other involved in the gas controversy. If Congress refuses to free natural gas producers from dangerous and needless regulation, it will establish a precedent of ominous character. If Congress does free the producers from regulation, it will resoundingly affirm its faith in a free competitive economy. 3

SUNDAY SCHOOL CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN MARCH 14th
The Sunday School campaign
"Convoy 700" will commence on March 4th and run for 12 weeks.
A goal of 700 in Sunday School on March 4th has been set and over 600 have already signed cards reserving a reservation on the "Convoy 700" for that date.
This campaign will continue for 12 weeks during which time we are striving for an average attendance in Sunday School of 651. There is a department and class for every age group and a clean sanitary nursery is provided for all services. We cordially invited you to attend our services and urge everyone not enrolled in any Sunday school to come and reserve a place on "Convoy 700" March 4th.
The First Baptist Church is already feeling the effects of this great campaign under the leadership of their new pastor, Bro.
Leroy Meyers, and the members are elated over the growth of the Sunday School, with an average attendance so far this year well over 500.
Mr. and Mrs. Willard Mills and three children of Ft. Worth have just recently moved to Wichita Falls to make their home. Mr.
Mills is employed with the US
Geological Survey Co. Mrs.
Mills is the former Peggy Dot

YOURS TRULY Becoming a columnist is something new to me. It is feared that this column be used to carry items of local interest as well as general topics about the Telephone business. Until we become more accustomed to this new medium of expression we beg the indulgence of our readers and probably the editors too—at our efforts. (In newspaper business the word "we" is substituted for "I" when used editorially, so I'm—er—we're told).
Here in Burk Burnett the time is approaching when interesting and even exciting events will be taking place at the telephone exchange. When the peak moment arrives the habits of the entire community will be changed out three seconds time. During the coming year we attempt to keep you informed about the progress as well as our proposed timetable.

MIGHTY MITE
In the telephone business, we must look beyond today and into the future for new ways to improve service. And the Bell Transistor, a new electronic gadget, is one of the most exciting developments in many a day.
It is so new that it was an unknown word in my vocabulary not so long ago. But the Bell Transistor is in use in telephone operation already in a few places, helping Distance operators to dial direct to distant cities.
Invented by telephone scientists, the Bell Transistor consists of a tiny piece of metal sprouting a dozen of hair-thin wires—is the first practical replacement for many present vacuum tubes. But it can do many things that a vacuum tube cannot do, and takes far less power to do it. It can, for example, amplify sound waves a million times their original strength. Transistors don't get hot, won't burn out, and have a life expectancy of many years.
Many transistors—an ordinary thimble will hold a dozen—are also helping modernize the communications field. They are being used in radio and televisions, hearing aids, military equipment, and in many other electronic devices.
The telephone company is proud of its mighty mite.
A good reason. More than anything else, the Bell Transistor represents another step forward in a continuous effort to bring you the best telephone service possible.

CALL BY NUMBER
You know, there are a number of expressions which used to be just "telephone lingo", but have now become familiar terms to everyone who uses the telephone.
The first came "Long Distance" which people learned to associate with calls to other towns. Now you've adopted
"Call by Number" as a familiar term. That's good news and for you, too. By placing your calls by number every time you make a Long Distance call, you're really saving time. Calls go through twice as fast. Talking about Distance, anytime is a good time to call your family ends just to keep in touch. Why reserve Long Distance calls for holidays or special occasions? Make Long Distance a habit at your house—it's the most personal way to keep in touch.
How about calling tonight? Remember: Rates are lower after 6 P. M., and all day Sunday.

Co. Women Give 12,000 Hours to Cancer Society Aid

Some 12,000 woman-hours are volunteered annually by Wichita County women in a "good neighbor" gesture that few know about.

Some eight women are members of the home visiting group of the Wichita County American Cancer Society. They are homemakers, mothers, grandmothers, church and club workers, all busy with their own interests. Yet they take time out each week for this "good neighborliness."

Mrs. Madell Ellis, RN, representative for Burkburnett on the executive committee of the Wichita County ACS unit, explained the home visiting program, which is only one of the many activities of the service program, the compassionate side of the American Cancer Society's three sided program, research, education and service.

Mrs. Gordon T. West of Wichita Falls is chairman of the ACS's home visiting committee whose members call regularly at the homes of patients whose families are in need of some non-professional help and moral support.

This includes sitting with the patient while family members rest or go out for some relaxation; running errands; assisting in household duties and other services which will cheer and comfort the cancer patient and his family.

Wichita County is the only county in Texas with an active home visiting group which is now two years old. Each member must take approximately 12 hours of special instruction before participating in a home visiting program.

Other groups in the service program are transportation. Mrs. William Stokes, chairman; gift and loan. Mrs. Sam Quicksilver, chairman; nursing, Miss Gwendolyn Groves, chairman; dressing Mrs. Lewis Harbison, chairman. All are residents of Wichita Falls.

Another ACS service is the tumor clinic, directed by Dr. Bailey R. Collins. The clinic provides facilities for patients to obtain free medical consultation and recommendations.

Members of the transportation committee take patients to and from the clinic, hospital or other departments for treatments. They also deliver dressings.

The gift and loan department is maintained for patients being cared for in their homes who need sick room articles. Mrs. Quicksilver named such supplies as hospital beds, wheel chairs, bed linens, gowns, suction pump bed pans and similar items as are loaned to a patient for as long as needed, then returned to the ACS center to be re-loaned to another patient. Mrs. Quicksilver expressed gratitude to the citizens of this community who have donated the supplies which make this service possible.

Tailor made dressings are provided for specific patients according to Mrs. Harbison, chairman of the dressings committee. She explained that all types of surgical dressings are made for cancer patients.

In some instances, Mrs. Harbison stated, "the number of dressings supplied to terminal cancer patients would have cost the patients family $30 to $40 per month if the dressings had been purchased on the usual commercial market. This is a considerable amount to many people whose resources have been depleted through the cost of treatment and care of the patient during a long drawn out chronic illness."

Through the volunteer nursing committee, some specialized services may be obtained. Administration of glucose, assistance in tubal feedings and other services approved by the attending physician are provided by the volunteers in this group headed by Miss Groves.

Officials of the Wichita County ACS unit emphasize that the service program is designed as a gesture of the "good neighbor." All cancer patients in Wichita County are eligible to receive service from the ACS upon approval of their physician.

Approximately 350 residents are diagnosed as new cancer patients each year in Wichita County. By making its services known the ACS hopes to reach these people and show them that, like "good neighbors," we want to help, said Mrs. Daniel Muenster, ACS executive secretary.

Mrs. Muenster explained that assistance may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Ellis, Burkburnett ACS representative, or the ACS Information Center at 1302 Ninth Street in Wichita Falls, Phone 3-2253.

One of the best ways to save consistently on your food bill is to plan your weekly menu in advance and to shop once a week.

Take advantage of your grocer's weekly specials... Buy foods in season! ... When you make out your shopping list save yourself extra steps by grouping the items you wish to buy as they appear by department on your grocer's shelves. ... That way you won't miss the necessary staple foods you have planned to buy and new food items and specials will be easier to find.

Try shopping between the rush hours ... you'll find a good selection and leisure time to compare food values.

Remember, new packaging, canning and freezing methods make these foods higher in initial cost but more economical for each serving. You'll find less waste to these new foods. Many times there will be cooking instructions on the package that will save precious minutes. Frozen fruits and vegetables, ready-prepared meats and individual entrees will pep up your menu plans, too!

WENDELL GOINS

If I do not get to see you in this campaign for commissioner of this precinct, please accept this as my solicitation of your vote.

I have lived in this precinct for thirty years. I am a graduate of Fairview High School and have received three years of college education in engineering. One at Hardin Junior College and two at Texas Technological College of Lubbock, Texas.

I was lead scout in the United States Army. I saw combat duty with the Third Infantry Division, and was wounded in action.

Since my discharge I have devoted my time to active work with mechanics, machinery and office management. This previous experience will help me with the precinct's business which is largely the buying and using of machinery and financial management of the county with due respect for the tax payer and citizens of precinct two. I will devote all of my time to the betterment of this precinct.

I sincerely believe that I can make you a good commissioner, and will appreciate your influence and your vote in the special election to be held Feb. 25th.

Bond Set For Negro In Burkburnett Shooting

A Burkburnett Negro is in county jail under $2,500 bond posted on an assault to murder charge filed after another Burkburnett Negro had been hit in the face with pellets from a shotgun fired here Saturday night.

Harold Bishop, 24, was named in the complaint filed Monday and bond was set by Judge H. M. Newman.

The victim of the shooting, Abraham Brown, about 40, is in satisfactory condition in a hospital in Wichita Falls. The blast from the shotgun ripped away Brown's right eye, several teeth and part of the right side of his face.

The shooting occurred about 10 p. m. Saturday outside Carter's cafe in Burkburnett. A 410 shotgun was used in the shooting.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 2 Save Money with the Right Form

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The government provides two forms for individual income tax returns. If you choose the wrong one, you may automatically cut yourself off from many possible tax savings.

The easiest way to file is to use the simple Form 1040A. It's a card the size of a check, which anyone can fill out if he is able to write his name and address and a few other simple facts. You just send it in with your withholding slips and the government takes care of the rest. If you owe more tax than was withheld you will get a bill for the difference. If more was withheld than you owe, you will get a refund check.

The tax rules permit you to use the card form if your gross income consisted only of wages, dividends or interest totaling less than $5,000, and if you did not have more than $100 of gross income apart from that listed on your W-2 withholding slips.

Stop, Look, Listen

Before deciding to use the card Form 1040A, you should consider these facts:

1. Your tax will be figured from a table which allows you a deduction of about 10% of your income instead of itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest paid, medical and dental expenses, etc.
2. There is no provision in this form for filing as the "head of a household," as a "surviving spouse," or for claiming special credits for dividends and retirement income.

If you are sure that these two points would not cost you any tax savings, and your income is within the limits for filing a Form 1040A, you might as well use this simple card form.

If you decide to use the regular Form 1040, you still have the choice of itemizing your deductions or using a standard deduction which generally amounts to about 10% of your income.

- You are likely to save by itemizing your deductions if you:
1. Own real estate.
 2. Had unusual medical expense.
 3. Had deductible child-care expense.
 4. Suffered losses from fire, storm, accident, or theft.

5. Made fairly large contributions.
6. Had certain expenses in connection with your work, as explained below.

Business Expenses

If you are in business for yourself, you can deduct your reasonable and necessary business expenses on separate Schedule C before arriving at your adjusted gross income on page one of the tax form. This still leaves you the choice of itemizing your other deductions or using the 10% standard deduction.

If you are an outside salesman, the same applies except that you should attach a list instead of separate Schedule C.

Other employees are entitled to a deduction for unreimbursed expenses in connection with their work, but expenses other than those listed below can be deducted only if all deductions are itemized instead of using the 10% standard deduction:

1. Transportation expenses in connection with your employer's business, including fares and automobile expenses. (Expense of commuting are not deductible in any case.)
2. Meals and lodging while traveling away from home for your employer.

Form 1040 has been rearranged this year, so that although it still contains four pages a taxpayer whose income was entirely from wages needs to use only the first one or two pages. Pages 3 and 4 are for other types of income and for computing the special credits for dividends and retirement income.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

World Day of Prayer Observed Feb. 17th

World Day of Prayer service was held Friday, Feb. 17, at 2:30 p. m. in the Wesley Room of the First Methodist church. The theme: One Flock, One Shepherd. Approximately forty-five representatives from the different churches were in attendance; with the program being led by members of each. Those presenting the program: "The Call to Prayer and Praises, Mrs. J. H. Cecil, First Christian Church; Affirmation, Mrs. C. C. Taylor, First Christian Church; Penitence and Intercession, Mrs. Fred Ferreaez, Church of the Nazarene; Thanksgiving, Mrs. O. E. Melton; The Offering, Mrs. Raymond Schuette; general program chairman, Mrs. R. L. Gragg, all of the First Methodist church. Benediction was offered by the Rev. Felix Kindel.

Special music presented by Misses Edna and Joy Eidson of the Calvary Baptist church who sang "Praise Him"; Mrs. Jeannie Tyler, First Methodist church sang "His Yoke is Easy" and Mrs. R. H. Henry assisted at the piano.

World day of prayer was observed in 124 countries in 1955 and approximately 20,000 communities in the United States. Each year the national World Day of Prayer committee offers a service prepared by authors from one of the co-operating countries. This year the service came from Cook training school for Indian Christian leaders, in Phoenix, Ariz., a school which receives a part of the World Day of Prayer offering each year. Our offering this year, in the amount of $25.34, will take its place with the offerings from the other countries and then be disbursed to thirty-eight different institutions to further God's work.

It Doesn't Cost Any More To Be SURE HOWARD CLEMENT

Central Christian Church

Corner Avenue D and 2nd St. Rev. Thomas W. White, Pastor

Bible School—9:45
Morning Worship—11:00
Sermon, "The Gift and The Giver".
Evening Service, 7:00 o'clock. (Acts 6).

Jesus said in the Beatitudes (Matt. 5-8), "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God". First, what does purity insinuate? Purity is another word for cleanliness, a word which implies the absence of transgression. The "heart" referred to had reference to the soul or spirit of man and not to the physical muscle that pumps blood. With these things in mind let us re-read the verse. "Blessed are those who have clean spirits, for they shall be in the presence of God".

But where does a person see God? We cannot behold Him with the eye as we do people. Then where do we see Him? First, we can see him in nature. Who gave order and life to plants, animals, and humans? Who set the sun, moon, planets, and stars in the heavens so that they move yet do not collide? Who made man a miraculous piece of machinery that he is? We see that a Christian, or believer, sees God then everywhere. For John declared, "All things were made by Him and without Him was not anything made that was made".

Finally, when we drop this robe of flesh and stand before Him, in person, we shall see Him as He really is. The principle of the matter is, when we reverse the statement, "Condemned are those filthy of heart, for they shall never see God", we reverse man's condition with God. For only the pure in heart shall see Him. And the only one who can cleanse the heart is our Saviour.

Grade School News

"A Happy Family Reminds me of a baseball team, with Mom pitching, Pop catching, and the kids fielding, with everyone taking a happy turn at bat."

In these words a 13 year-old boy summed up his answer to the question, "What do you think makes a happy family?" — a question recently asked more than 1500 school children in neighboring communities of New York State. What is a typical comment? Did their answers show that the family is a strong and going concern, or that it is losing ground?

The essays of the 7 and 8 year olds in the second grade, focus on the concrete satisfaction of the family life: a picnic in the park, the "surprise" Daddy brings home, cake on the week ends, popicles after school, staying up until nine o'clock once a week, holiday celebrations, the family pet. But these youngsters are ready to give as well as to get, to judge by their frequent comments, "I like to help my mother," and "our home is happy because we help each other. The short compositions of these second graders, express another telling theme; the do's and don'ts of their parents. Time and again they say: Do what your mother tells you to, mind your manners, don't talk back, don't argue or fight, eat everything on your plate, don't tattle, get plenty of rest. These behests seven and eight year old children seem to accept as, a matter of course, and pass them on as a material ingredient of a happy family life, probably influenced by the fact that a parent substitute, their teacher, is present.

We have had a most exciting week doing our school work, playing out in the nice sunshine and getting all of the nice valentines. It was real exciting to see all of classmates receive all of those valentines and to see the expressions that flashed across their faces as they read the funny sayings and looked at the pictures. We will all be glad when next Feb. 14th gets here and we can have more fun.

February is a month full of real excitement and exciting Holidays. Back on the 12th we heard stories of Lincoln and the great things that he did for the country. We were very fortunate to see and hear many stories of the Great Rail Splitter.

On the 22nd of the month we will pause and remember the very exciting deeds of the First President of these United States. He helped in freeing this country from the British and helped to chart the course of State and was the first Pilot.

News From The Congress

By FRANK IKARD

The most far reaching event in our lifetimes undoubtedly has been the development of atomic energy. The scientists that originally worked in this field pointed all of their energies toward the building of weapons of great destruction even though all the time they were much more concerned with the peaceful uses of the power that they had unleashed. It has been only recently, however, that much time and effort have been devoted to developing peaceful uses of atomic energy. Recently the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy named a committee of distinguished citizens to appraise its peaceful use. Their report has recently been leased and it is interesting to note that while there will undoubtedly be a great increase in the use of atomic power for generation of electricity and other forms of energy, it is not contemplated that it will replace the fuels that we now use such as coal, oil and gas but that it will just supplement them. Also it is fantastic to realize that we are on the verge of using this miraculous new power for great advances in medicine and preservation of food, and in the field of agriculture its uses are almost unlimited. It is unfortunate that so much time, money and brain power must go into the working out of processes of mass destruction when if the same efforts were devoted to working out ways to harness atomic power for peaceful uses, we could undoubtedly within two or three generations build an entirely new and much better way of life.

So far in the race between the East and West for the development of effective weapons that would use the atomic and hydrogen bombs, we in this country have been able to maintain a substantial lead over the Russians; however, of late, there has been much disturbing talk about the fact that the Russians are fast closing the gap in our lead over them. This was brought into focus recently when the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for the development of guided missiles resigned in protest over the present program of development in the Defense Department. The reason for the Assistant Secretary's resignation was the fact that at the present time, the Defense Department is not spending enough of its appropriations on expanding its research in the field of the development of inter-Continental missile which is the last step in the so-called "push button warfare."

Oscar McBride For Commissioner Precinct No. 2

OSCAR McBRIDE

TO THE VOTERS IN PRECINCT 2, GREETINGS:

I suppose the first question you would ask would be why didn't I get the appointment like Mr. Holman got it. There are several conditions different now than they were then. And just because the big interest in Wichita Falls is against me is no reason for me to believe that the people of Burkburnett are. We think we appreciate Mr. Holman's labors in the court on our behalf. But until such time that we get a yes man for Wichita Falls in that office we don't know how much.

If you own taxable property in Wichita County, think before you vote; and do not vote as though this were a popularity contest.

If I am your choice, I will appreciate a vote of confidence. If not, vote for the man you think can and will represent you in the court.

If I am elected I will never be guilty of betraying your confidence for a price. I will carry out Mr. Holman's plans on projects started for his administration.

I am sure he was pleased with the help he had at the time of his death. So under this appointment there will be no changes made regardless of the propaganda you might have heard to the contrary.

I will buy all equipment, materials, fuels, etc., that can be had in Burkburnett. I will pledge myself to assist the old age pensioners and anyone else who might be in need. I am not for spending county money on projects that only a few will benefit from. My interest will be for the people of precinct 2 and the majority of the people of the county at large.

Regardless of who wins this election, may there be good will among the candidates in the campaign.
