One reason why the girls of today are such live wires is that they wear so little insulation.

Yarborough announced a platform of progress including water conservation, drought relief, higher old age pensions, improved schools with adequate teacher pay and adequate retirement pay, adequate classroom space, a youth development program, a juvenile delinquency program based on "broad general humanitarian principles". He said he would take his campaign in person "to the people in every corner of this great commonwealth."

Yarborough made his announcement simply to the press in contrast to the statewide radio and television broadcasts of other gubernatorial contenders.

"Humbly I accept," Yarborough said, "the commission of duty you have given me in tens of thousands of messages, to lead the fight for the good name of Texas."

"The people of Texas want a new state government, free of entangling alliances and partnerships with the outgoing administration. Texas wants a state government free of the policies of the past and capable of independent action."

Yarborough added: "I pledge the people of Texas the restoration of honor, integrity and dignity in their state government."

"To every one of the 683,132 Texans who voted and worked with us in the hard campaign of 1954, I extend my thanks and gratitude. I urge each of you, and all Texans who believe in the triumph of honesty and morality, to join us in this crusade for a new administration in Texas."

Roughly, the route is this: It will follow the railroad from Bacon Switch to the farm to market road some two miles south of town. It then takes a course across the valley to the Y east of the cemetery. Here it will cross Highway 287 with an overpass, follow parallel to the Oklahoma Cut-off road some 440 feet east to the Y at the end of Main Street. Another overpass here takes the route to the present bridge, a four lane span across the river, and connect with the road in Oklahoma on top of the hill at the Y at Henry's curve.

The group went on record as unanimously approving the proposed route.

The Rebekeh Lodge is sponsoring a game night at the Town Hall, Friday, April 20th at 8:00 p. m. Free pie and coffee will be served. Admission is Adults 50c and children 25c. 38-31C

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

COVINGTON, TENN., LEADER: "We feel that labor unions have served useful purposes in the past. However, if they are to continue to serve the best interests of the people, labor leaders must realize that restrictive tactics and 'feather bedding,' produce not more jobs, but fewer jobs in this age of mass production, prefabrication and automation."

OGALLALA, NEBR., NEWS: "Financial statements of the major companies show that the packers, by an almost unbelievable elimination of waste and development of profitable by products, reflects an efficient job at a margin of a small fraction of one penny for each dollar volume of business."

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "The common economic goal of the free world, to discourage communism, is removing barriers to the flow of capital. The opportunities for achieving a stronger free world and at the same time for sound investment are fabulous. By strengthening capitalism abroad, we are strengthening the free enterprise system, which is basic to our own way of life."

PLAINFIELD, IND., MESSENGER: "We do not need to look to the federal government for help. Let's learn again the fine art of taking care of ourselves and our own."

LIBERAL KANS., SOUTHWEST DAILY TIMES: "The higher $1 minimum wage law will have two affects largely. Some layoffs will occur, and higher prices will result in some interstate commerce type articles. Some one must always pay the fiddler."

SALISBURY, N. C. POST: "There is a great deal of talk about falling back on high fixed parity prices. But the unquestionable fact that it was this policy which created problems worse than those it attempted to solve — by encouraging production for purchase and storage by the government, instead of for consumption. We cannot have a sound farm economy so long as surpluses of incredible size keep piling up."

WYTHEVILLE, VA., ENTERPRISE: "We should keep in mind that this country was not established as a pure democracy. It was actually set up as a republic, with the states retaining many sovereign rights and privileges."

WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

The fairly vital question of "How fast is too fast?" is no longer a problem of highway construction or of automotive design, of horse-power or brake effectiveness. It's gotten way beyond that into the speculative realm of the human mechanism and its responses.

As matters stand, the car can take considerably more than the driver. Hence, the differing notions of what speed limits should be: 60 miles an hour on the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Turnpikes, 65 on the Ohio Turnpike and 55 on most of our other super highways. On modern, "trouble free" roads, with wide-swept curves, gentle grades and exceptional range of vision, the steady, uninterrupted pace keeps creeping up somehow as the unaccustomed sense of security slows down the reflexes. As the minutes and the miles go by, the sense of speed diminishes, and with it the awareness of how rapidly slower vehicles are overtaken, and of the distance required for stopping.

"Highway hypnosis," they call it. And at night the conditions are magnified, complicated by oncoming headlights and roadside shadows. "Night vision" varies widely among drivers, and the same person's night-vision may be excellent or poor, depending on his state of health.

But, day or night, if a vehicle on the road up ahead is presumed to be moving when it is actually stopped, the scene is set for tragedy. The very instant a car or truck or bus is disabled on a busy high-speed highway, that vehicle should be so distinguished. Too many truck drivers, for instance, have been killed by oncoming traffic while in the act of putting out or taking in the pot torches, red electric lanterns or portable reflectors required by law. And in the case of a passenger car disabled on the highway, where the law requires no protection devices, the peril is equally great.

The fact is, most of these vehicles, commercial and private, already have the basic equipment for snapping the oncoming driver into alertness and the instinctive reaction to slow down. An auxiliary switch installed in the present turn-signal system or on the dashboard provides four simultaneously flashing lights — one at each corner of the vehicle—that telegraphs the idea of danger and commands automatic response.

This roadside protection—for both the man with the flat tire and those who must pass him, is provided for now in the Uniform Vehicle Code of the National Committee on Uniform Traffic Laws and Ordinances. Simple attachments to convert your turn lights to this double duty are available now. The American Trucking Associations recommend such signals. They may soon be standard equipment on new cars.

The question is: "How much more blood must stain our highways before this flashing "disablement flare" becomes mandatory?"

Grade School News

We are having several cases of Measles developing in the lower grades that have been making for uncomfortable circumstances for the boys and girls. Some of the boys and girls have been very ill and have had severe headaches before the measles would break out. We are hoping that they will all be back in school in a few short days. We are hoping that there will not be anything new to develop that will hold our attendance down.

Our fifth grade classes are very much excited about the program that they are having instead of the Egg Hunt. They have had a very exciting time in preparing for the program and look forward with high enthusiasm to a Four Star production.

Happy Ending With A "Familiar Ring"

Buck Howell says he and his Missus had quite a time at the Stockman's Convention in Chicago. But for a while they had a "breakdown in communications." The phone bell in their hotel room was pitched so low they often didn't answer their calls. "Never knew if it was for us or not," Buck said, "always sounded far off—like it was ringing in someone else's room."

Finally, Buck hit on the obvious solution. He just made a deal with the hotel switchboard operator that whenever she called them she'd use two long rings and a short-party-line signal back home. From where I sit, our familiar routines tend to other ways of doing things strange. That's natural. For instance, if you've always water with your meals, you think it's odd that lots of folks fer a bottle of beer at 4 o'clock. I say you're a right to own customs... but don't mine wrong.

PERFORMANCE TESTS — Gas ranges undergo a series of performance tests for dependability and durability before earning a seal of approval from the American Gas Association. Here an AGA testing engineer checks the performance of an oven thermostat by locating heat sensitive thermocouples in the oven prior to cooking tests.

Because of the revolution brought about in cookery by the new automatic top-burner control, the theme of the spring showing of gas ranges will be "Now it's Time for Tops." Advertising in newspapers, window banners and other advertising media will picture a spinning top with the spinner pointing to a top burner control.

To acquaint homemakers with this new method of cooking, many gas appliance dealers will offer special prices, discounts and trade-in on gas ranges during the spring campaign. Also special terms with low down payments will be offered by some dealers.

Advertising during the two months of the spring campaign also will point to another major feature of the modern gas range. That is the "no hangover heat" advantage of the top-burner control which automatically adjusts the gas flame to maintain the cooking temperature set by a dial. This prevents boilovers and scorching of foods.

Gas ranges ignite instantly and turn off instantly and there is no excess or "hangover heat" to continue cooking or burners that retain heat after cooking is completed. This feature keeps the homemaker cooler.

Numerous other advantages and convenience features are available with the purchase of 1956 gas range models. They enhance the beauty of a modern kitchen and are equipped with new automatic indicators, rotisseries, automatic devices and ovens which are actually cool to the touch.

More and more manufacturers are leaning toward the production of the all-purpose ranges that provide other extra freedoms in gas cookery. Automatic gas ranges on display during the spring showing incorporate functions once performed by many auxiliary cooking devices that occupied needed space in the kitchen.

Features on the 1956 models take the place of griddles, deep-fat fryers, rotisseries, dutch ovens and incorporate other such new features as cool ignition pilots, automatic timers, flodaway burners and full size ovens and regular size burners on small ranges.

The revolutionary thermostatic top burner control this year brings automation into cooking. With this control plain percolators become automatic coffee makers, frying pans become automatic skillets and sauce pans become automatic baking ovens or deep-fat fryers.

The top burner controls automatically and quickly and holds preset temperature until cooking is done. The burner starts by consulting the dial, then dials the exact temperature wanted. The control automatically raises and lowers contents at a constant temperature. The homemaker can get the same precise results of the burner that she got in her oven.

Automatic Gas Ranges of '56 Bring Automation to Kitchen

The most advanced automatic gas ranges ever to hit the retail market will be on display in Burkburnett during April and May when the annual spring showing of new lines is held by gas appliance dealers and Lone Star Gas company.

The 1956 gas range models have been termed by members of the gas industry as the "most improved" line from the standpoint of technical and automatic advances ever produced by manufacturers.

Gas appliance dealers offer numerous attractions for customers. To signal the showing of 1956 gas range lines in their stores, gas appliance dealers will display special window signs. Inside, "mobiles" and other display pieces will point to the new models in floor display.

Numerous dealers will hold special demonstrations to show advantages of modern gas cookery. Some will serve refreshments and offer special gifts to persons who visit their stores.

These tactics result in the violations of our penal code. They are inimical to the individual and collective welfare of our citizenry. The police are pledged to enforce our penal code and to protect the citizenry. Now they must add to their ever increasing daily duties the protection of the public against this type of offender. They need your help. They need it before the "explosion."

Because it is an additional police duty, the President of the United States in 1939 requested all law enforcement agencies to cooperate with the federal government in matters of internal security — subversive activities. This request has been reiterated in succeeding years. Since then, and to the present day, your state department of Public Safety, foresaw the continuing spread your constables have compiled with this request.

In 1947, Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., the director of your Texas Department of Public Safety, foresaw the continuing spread and growing threat of communism, and recognized it as a police problem. Without additional appropriation he established a special detail working out of his office, and assigned that detail to the gathering of information and evidence of subversive activities in the state of Texas. He further assigned it the duty of developing liaison in this field with local police agencies in order to provide them with a central source of information exchange to better protect their interests.

In 1951 the legislature created the Internal Security Section, a division of the Department of Public Safety as a specialized unit in this field of police work. In 1954 Colonel Garrison caused his department to conduct a Subversive Activities Control School; the first of its kind to ever be held in this country. This school, originally designed for the training of its own personnel, was expanded to invite certain local law enforcement agencies to enroll specially selected men. Thus, several of our police departments now have personnel trained in this type of police work.

It must be realized that Texas is of strategic importance in any defense measure. It is constantly expanding industrially, militarily and at an international border area. It must further be recognized that communism, though not the only subversive factor, is the enemy that constitutes an immediate threat.

Tightly organized and disciplined, Communism is allied with a foreign and hostile power; a power that has found that through the Communist movement, it does not have to rely upon those of its own nationality to undermine its enemies. In all countries its followers are constantly schooled into a politically and socially perverted frame of mind.

Our constitution provides us with the means of peacefully and legally bringing about any revolutionary changes desired by the intelligent will of the people. It provides safeguards against changes desired by the totalitarian and tyrannical minded minority. But these safeguards are futile if the people do not understand and cooperate with the agencies created to secure these safeguards. Help them before the "explosion."

FAR EAST SLIDES SHOWN

Mrs. Sidney Askins, general science teacher, branched out from her field to make the study of history a bit more interesting to the science students by showing them slides taken on Korea, Japan, Formosa and Okinawa. Most of the slides depicted life on the islands, transportation, industry and scenes of nature.

EASTER HOLIDAYS

The Easter Holidays were enjoyed by students and teachers alike. Many of the students and faculty found time to attend special Easter Services and Pageants. Some used a portion of the extra two days to visit relatives, take trips to spots of interest and others choose to loaf and take life easy. Some of the answers to the question, "What Easter Means to Me" were as follows: New Dress, No School, A trip to the country, Go visiting but for many the answer was A new way of Life.

Home Service Director Carnation Company

This time of year, strawberries are at their flavorful best. For an easy-to-prepare family dessert, make your Strawberry Shortcake and the topping with Carnation Evaporated Milk. Remember, its double richness and heat-refining make it specially suitable for baking. And don't forget, Carnation is so rich it whips.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

Use your favorite brand of packaged biscuit mix calling for milk, but instead of regular milk, use a mixture of 2 parts Carnation Evaporated Milk diluted with 1 part water. Prepare and bake according to package directions. Split biscuits and fill with sliced, sweetened strawberries. Instead of expensive whipping cream, use Carnation Whipped Topping.

CARNATION WHIPPED TOPPING (Makes 3 cups)

1. Chill 1 cup undiluted Carnation in icecube tray until ice crystals form through the milk (25 to 30 minutes), or place the unopened can on chopped ice for 2 to 3 hours.
2. Pour into bowl and whip until it just begins to thicken (about 1 minute).
3. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and whip until very stiff (about 1 or 2 minutes more).
4. Fold in 2 tablespoons granulated sugar.
5. Serve immediately as a topping for shortcake, puddings, cakes, pies, many desserts.

News From The County Agent
 The confinement method of the replacement laying has certain advantages over the range method and during the past few years has grown in favor of the county poultry pro reports B. T. Haws, county agent.
 The experience and observation of the county agent, says the county agent, that producers who use the confinement method have less loss from parasites, both external and internal; have less labor in land and lower labor requirements; fewer birds lost to predators; and the expense of maintaining a range is eliminated.
 The confinement method is much easier, says Haws, than the range method. The parasites under control are confined to a fairly easy task to give a thorough clean spray to control external parasites but next to impossible to clean up an infected range. The great trouble from parasites comes from the tapeworms and round worms. The in- and out of tapeworms and round worms and all are usually found on a range. The roundworm is picked up by the chicken while eating or drinking. Once the range becomes infected with either, control is difficult.

 Flies can be controlled in a poultry house by spraying and baiting while grasshoppers and beetles would cause no concern. A clean house eliminates the roundworm problem.
 Range shelters almost a must for range rearing, and the use of considerable acreage for range are eliminated when the pullets are confined. The land can be used for pasture or cash crops. Labor requirements are reduced because mechanical equipment can be used in the poultry house.
 Transporting feed and water to the range requires considerable labor and time while both are cut to a minimum by the use of the contrasting method.
 Predatory animals can easily be kept out of a poultry house but on the range, losses can be heavy. Feather picking can be a problem when pullets are reared in confinement but this can be controlled by having the chicks debeaked at the hatchery when they are only a day old, points out Haws. Another factor favoring range rearing is that slightly less feed is required to produce the pullet due to the utilization of green forage by the birds. The cost of planting or maintaining the range, however, in many cases will off-set this advantage, says Haws.
 Finally, he says, a poultry producer should consider what facilities are available and what others will have to be provided with either system before making a decision. Use the system which best fits the over-all plans for the farm and brings in the most profit. Good management will make either successful.

Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District News

Stubble mulching is receiving increased interest among Wilbarger-Wichita SCD Cooperators, according to Fenton Dale, chairman of the board of supervisors.
 Stubble mulching is defined as a farming method in which all of the tillage, planting, cultivating and harvesting operations are performed in such a manner and with such equipment as will keep most of the crop residues on the surface of the soil. Stubble mulching is a year round system of maintaining a stubble mulch on the surface to aid in the control of wind and water erosion, prevent surface blowing, soil seeding, improve water intake, reduce surface evaporation and help maintain organic content in soil. This definition is from the Texas section of the National Catalogue of Conservation Practices, of the Soil conservation service.
 The Amarillo Conservation Experiment station has found that sweep type implements do the best jobs of stubble mulching. Plows designed for stubble mulching should meet these requirements: first, be capable of operating at fixed depth; second have adequate strength for penetration and operation under difficult conditions; third, be equipped with rolling coulters to cut residues and weeds ahead of sweeps to prevent clogging; fourth, effectively cultivate the soil to kill weeds and volunteer crops.

Soil Conservation News

Texas farmers are warned to keep an eye out this spring for an old enemy—the grasshoppers. Early season surveys show the grasshopper threat is more serious this year than in 1955. The Texas Panhandle can expect the biggest threat, but Central Texas is likely to have infestations also.
 This threat is a warning to start early in planning a hopper control program. Early control means less work at less cost while a "wait and see" attitude can result in heavy losses with more acres to treat later in the year. One dollar spent for early control can save as much as $38 in crops and grazing later on.
 Early season methods work best just after the grasshoppers finish hatching. This can be any time from April 1 to late June, depending on the weather. Cold wet seasons delay hatching while warm and moderately dry weather favor it.
 Idle land, field margins, fence rows, ditch banks and roadsides are good places to start. These are favorable habitats for the hopper to lay eggs. And they lay 200 to 400 eggs a season if the female is a migratory hopper.
 To show what you can be up against, if all eggs hatch and young hoppers are permitted to develop into adults, they can average 24 to 32 hoppers to the square yard. Then you're in the middle of a serious outbreak.
 A control program which provides federal assistance is available only in range land areas. In cultivated land, you're on your own. And controlling grasshoppers that originate on your own land is only part of the job. Your place can be overrun by hoppers from nearby areas. Cooperative community action is the best way to solve the problem.

Aerial Application Will Control Oak and Mesquite Trees

Research and practical on the ranch use of chemicals for controlling mesquite, post and black jacks oaks have proved the value of this practice. B. T. Haws county agent says the job can be done more cheaply because less chemicals are needed for the aerial spraying job. Too, in Wichita County ASC will share the cost with the producer.

The county agent lists five points which make for a successful control job. Use the proper chemicals at the right time and amount. Secure qualified personnel with experience to do the flying job. Use chemicals with caution. They are non-poisonous but drift can cause damage to susceptible crops. Rest the treated area after spraying and do not expect a miracle. This is a control program, points out Haws and retreatment may be required but it will pay dividends if properly done.

He recommends that mesquite be sprayed 50-80 days after the first leaves appear. By this time they should be a dark green color. Apply a third of a pound of low volatile ester of 2, 4, 5-T or silvex with a half gallon of disel oil and enough water to make three gallons of spray solution per acre. This can be applied in 60 foot swaths and should cost about $2.30 an acre, a fourth less than last year. A root kill of from 25 to 35 percent may be expected, says Haws and retreatment should be done in from five to seven years.

For post and blackjack oaks, he says to spray after the leaves have fully developed, usually from mid May through June. Use one and a half pounds of 2, 4, 5-T or one and a quarter pounds of silvex per acre in the 3.1 water oil emulsion given for mesquites. Two sprayings in consecutive years or skipping a year is advisable on oak. Under favorable condition a single application may be 85 percent effective. The cost should run about $11.50 an acre for the two treatments. The second application should be either one pound of 2, 4, 5-T or three-fourths pound of silvex an acre. Goats can be used profitably in controlling underbrush on sprayed oak areas

This shaggy dog story has a moral for you-

One day the U.S. Treasury received a letter enclosing fragments (only) of a $50 Savings Bond. The letter came from a distressed dog owner who confessed that his shaggy canine companion had given the Bond a thorough chewing, and plaintively asked what could be done about it. The Treasury wrote right back assuring the unhappy man that his Bond would be replaced upon presentation of satisfactory evidence — and enclosed the proper form to be filled out.

Nothing further has been heard from the man — or from the shaggy dog. (The Treasury is hoping that no news is good news.)

This true story illustrates the safety — the indestructibility of U. S. Savings Bonds. Just remember this. Any of your Bonds that are lost, stolen or destroyed will be replaced by the U. S. Treasury without charge. That's why Bonds are said to be, "Safer than cash."

U. S. Savings Bonds are not only safer than cash, but one of the best investments you can make. You can be sure of the principal, sure of the returns (an average 3% interest when held to maturity) — and sure of the future when you invest regularly in Savings Bonds.

So don't stash cash in sugar bowls and mattresses. Start investing in Savings Bonds today. That's the safe and sure way to save.

For the big things in your life, be ready with U. S. Savings Bonds

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To: E. M. Byers, Wilbur C. Gordon, Walter L. Wood, Sarah Cossairt, and David Mutersbaugh their unknown heirs, legal representatives and assigns, and the unknown owners and claimants Defendants. Greeting: You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 30th District Court of Wichita County at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 7th day of May A. D. 1956, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 21st day of March, A. D. 1956, in this cause, numbered 57323-A on the docket of said court and styled A. E. Reid Plaintiff, vs. E. M. Byers, Wilbur C. Gordon, Walter L. Wood, Sarah Cossairt, David Mutersbaugh, their unknown heirs, legal representatives and assigns, and the unknown owners and claimants, Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: That Plaintiff and Defendants are the joint owners in fee simple of the surface rights and mineral rights of the hereinafter described real estate. Plaintiff, A. E. Reid, owns an undivided three-fourths interest in the surface and mineral rights and in addition thereto owns an undivided one-sixty-fourth of the minerals in and under the hereinafter described property; Defendant, E. M. Byers, owns an undivided one-fourth interest in the surface rights in and to the hereinafter described land, and an undivided 5-128 interest in the minerals in, on and under said land; Defendant, Wilbur C. Gordon, owns an undivided 1-8 of minerals in said land; Defendant Walter L. Wood, owns an undivided one-thirty-second interest in and to the minerals in and under the hereinafter described land; Defendant, Mrs. Sarah Cossairt, owns an undivided one-thirty-second interest in and to the minerals on and under said land; Defendant, David Mutersbaugh, owns an undivided 1-128 interest in and to the minerals in and under said land. That said land is situated in Wichita County, Texas, and is described as follows:

West 40 acres of a tract of 134 acres out of survey No. 9, by virtue of Land Script No. 340, issued to HT&BRR Company, which 134 acres is described as follows: Beginning at a point in the East line of Section No. 9 where the North line of the right of way of the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad crosses said line; Thence North with said East line at 253 feet, pass the Northwest corner of Section 24 and the Southwest corner of Section 23, H. & G. N. R. R. Co. and at 2435 feet, the Northeast corner of said Section 9 and the Southeast corner of Section No. 10; Thence West 4800 feet with the line of said Sections 9 and 10 to the right of way of said Railway; Thence with said Railway line South 63 1-2 East 5312 feet to the place of beginning. That said land is of the estimated value of $1,800.00. Plaintiff alleges that a fair and equitable division of said land can not be made because said property is not of equal valuation, the East part of said land is more valuable than the West portion of the same; that there is some oil production on land located just East of this land which makes it more valuable than the West part, which has no oil production on or near it, which makes it incapable of partition in kind.

That a fair and equitable division of said land among the joint owners of same can not be made. Wherefore, premises considered, Plaintiff prays that Defendants, their unknown heirs, legal representatives and assigns, and the unknown owners and claimants be cited by publication and that this Court order the Clerk to issue citation by publication to be served as provided by law, and that upon final hearing hereof that said land be found to be incapable of partition in kind, and that a receiver be appointed by the Court, and that such land be sold by the receiver at private sale for cash and the proceeds of said sale be divided in accordance with the findings of the Court as to the ownership of Plaintiff and each of the Defendants, or in the alternative, if the Court should decide and find that said property can be divided in kind, that Commissioners be appointed and that the property be divided by them among the respective owners, and that the respective owners be put in possession of the same, and for such other and further relief as Plaintiff show himself entitled to or in equity. If this citation is not date of issuance, it returned unserved. The Officer executing process shall promptly the same according to make due return as directs.

Slim Ducts Save On Installation

When new forced warm-air heating is installed in an existing house, a system that uses 3 1/2-inch-diameter round ducts to carry warm air from the furnace to the rooms saves extensive cutting into walls and the resulting job of room redecoration.

In developing the 3 1/2-inch tubes, the Coleman Company was guided by the fact that no larger size will fit within the standard wall framed with 2 x 4 studs. A 2 x 4 actually measures 1 3/4 x 3 3/4 inches. The 2-inch by 4-inch measurement applies only when the lumber is "in the rough," before it is dressed at the mill.

To install a 3 1/2-inch tube in a wall, a round hole is cut at ceiling level and another at floor level. The tube can be pushed through from one to the other.

Time To Plant Summer Pastures

Summer temporary pastures should form a very important part of the year-round grazing or pasture program on the farm and ranches of the state. B. T. Haws, county agent says good summer temporary pastures just don't happen. They must be planned well in advance and the same care given to seedbed preparation, seeding the right plants and fertilization as is used in connection with other cash crops. Such pastures will permit a resting period for permanent pastures, provide grazing when permanent pastures are on the decline, and provide a means for building up feed reserves. Sudangrass, says Haws, is the best bet in most areas of the state. It can be planted anytime after the danger of frost is past and until the supply of moisture becomes short in the summer. From one to two acres should be planted for each animal unit. Row plantings are best for grazing but broadcast or close drilled plantings will produce the most hay if it is to be cut only once, says Haws.

Row plantings should be made at the rate of 7 to 10 pounds of seed an acre while 20-25 pounds is recommended for broadcasting or close drilled plantings. Staggered plantings made at intervals of two to four weeks may extend the grazing season until late fall. The different plantings should be fenced separately in order to get maximum production, advises Haws.

Two varieties of this old favorite are generally available in the state. Common is widely grown but may be damaged by leaf diseases in the humid regions of the state. Sweet carries some leaf disease resistance and may outyield common in humid seasons.

Haws recommends rotation grazing for getting the most from summer pastures but this should be planned for now. Production can be increased and quality of the forage kept high by rotation grazing. Old stems should be moved after grazing to keep new growth coming. Growth not utilized by grazing should be used for hay or silage. A soil test made well ahead of planting will show what plant foods should be applied at seeding time. Side-dressing with 30 pounds of nitrogen an acre after each time the sod is grazed down or cut, for as long as the plants are growing and moisture is available, will produce big dividends.

But I don't have any secret! The Government knows more about my business than I do. A lot of women are trying to see who can get the most out of an evening gown.
