Burkburnett Riding Club Christmas Party Held Recently

A Christmas party was enjoyed recently by members of the Burkburnett Riding Club and their families.

Honorary Mayor, H. D. Smith, officiated as chef on the pecan deer, which was a gift on the occasion by Buster Morrison. The bread was donated by the Taystee Bread Co., of Wichita Falls.

The long banquet table was decorated with the traditional red and green. Scattered up and down between the candles and Christmas decor were the gold and silver trophies won by the club during the past season.

The blessing was asked by the club president, J. C. Hinkle, instead of the usual gift giving to each other, the members brought toys to be given to the needy children and a donation of money which was turned over to the mayor to purchase school tickets for needy children.

Three new club members were welcomed into the group. The trophies which were displayed in the bank window are housed in their own special closed case made to order by P. S. Swinford. The club sends their thanks to Mr. Swinford for this endeavor.

The club has completed plans to go to Amarillo January 19, 1957. The members will serve as pivots in the Beutler-Morley Rodeo there.

Don't forget Burkburnett Day was officially set as February 2nd, 1957, at the Fort Worth Livestock Show.

MISS SHARON RAMSEY IS BRIDE OF JOHN ALAN BROOKMAN

Miss Sharon Ruth Ramsey became the bride of John Alan Brookman Dec. 8th in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brookman.

Rev. Leroy Meyer, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the double ring ceremony before the fire place which was flanked with arrangements of pink gladioli, white chrysanthemums, greenery and tall lighted tapers in candelabra. The mantel was outlined with a white angel in pink foliage.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white brocade princess style street-length dress, featuring a sweetheart neckline. She completed her costume with a matching white hat and a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Lee Bavousett, as matron of honor, wore a beige crepe dress and a white carnation corsage. Lee Bavousett was best man. Carlos Ramsey and Johnny Crane were ushers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. John Brookman, all of Burkburnett.

The reception was held in the Brookman home. The table was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth centered with an arrangement of pink gladioli and white mums. Brass candelabras held white cathedral tapers.

Miss Carolyn Horr served from the crystal punch service. Miss Shirley Moulder served the cake Mrs. J. W. Reasoner presided at the guest book.

Mrs. Brookman graduated from Burkburnett High School, and attended Howard Payne College. She is now employed by the Wichita National Bank.

The groom graduated from the Burkburnett High School, served four years in the U. S. Navy attended Midwestern University and is now co-owner of the Bavousett Magnolia Service Station of this city.

Those from out-of-town attending were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brookman of New Orleans; Mrs. J. L. Mooring, Humble, Tex.; C. R. Stephens of Houston; Miss Frances Miller of Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. Lewis Littlefair of Gainville, Tex.; and Miss Rose Mary Breeden of Wichita Falls.

The couple is now at home in Burkburnett.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to each and everyone for the many kindnesses shown us at Christmas and all during George's long illness. May God bless each of you.

Last Rites Were Held Sunday for Delbert Dickson

Funeral services were conducted Sunday, December 23rd at 2:00 P. M. in the Church of Christ here for Mr. Delbert L. Dickson, 42, of Russell, Kansas, who died of a heart attack Dec. 20th in the Russell City Hospital. James E. Shafer of Borger, Texas, officiated at the service and interment was made in Burkburnett Cemetery.

Mr. Dickson was born June 14, 1914 in Devol, Oklahoma, and moved to Burkburnett in the early 1930's. He was married to Miss Dorothy Maxine Willingham on August 10, 1933 in Frederick, Okla. Mr. Dickson was employed by Kaw Pipe Line Co. for 20 years and had resided in Russell since Sept., 1949.

Survivors include the wife; two children, one daughter, Norma Jean Shafer of Borger; one son, Delbert Lee Dickson, the 2nd of the home; and one brother, Lawrence A. Dickson of Burkburnett.

Pallbearers were O. D. Wortham, V. E. Lagrone, Cecil Taylor, J. C. Hinkle, Jim Anderson, Wm. Nelson.

Those from out of town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Conrad and Mr. Arthur Dickson, San Angelo, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Corr and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Palmer, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dickson, Levelland, Tex.; Mr. Charles Russell Crane, Sr., of Barnsdall, Okla.; Mr. Charles Russell Crane, Jr., Stillwater, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wilson, Borger; Mr. Olen Argo and Mr. Forrest Brown, Lawton; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shafer and Mrs. Truman Covey, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. Julian M. Willingham and son, Spur.

Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Sims are proud parents of a new baby girl born, Monday, Dec. 24th at 6:05 p. m. in the Chiropractic hospital at Carnegie, Okla. The baby weighed 5 lbs and has been named Dawn Celeste.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harms of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Harms and children, Linda and Dean of Waco spent the Christmas holidays here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harms.

School Census Starts Monday January 7th

Annual school census enumeration for all school children living in Burkburnett Independent School District will get underway, Monday, Jan. 7th, thru the home room teachers.

It is urgent that the parents cooperate in the census because school funds are allotted to this district on the basis of school population.

All school children between the ages of 6 and 18 as of Sept. 1, 1957 are to be listed.

The Gilmer-Akin law passed six years ago made average daily attendance the basis for all aid above the minimum, which was a great boon to the Burkburnett Public Schools, but minimum aid still is based on the scholastic population as determined by the enumeration census for this reason, it is important that every child within the age limit be counted in the census.

During the latter part of January, faculty members will make a house to house canvass for any students not reached through the regular home room teacher.

Any parent having a beginning child next year that is not reached by a census taker please call 157 and a census enumerator will be sent.

Babson Prediction Made In The Business-Financial Report For '57

Both presidential candidates in their pre-election speeches promised peace, prosperity and progress. They stated that they must do this in order to enforce the Employment Act of 1946. This is the basis of my Outlook for 1957, tempered of course by Russia.

1. World War III will not start in 1957.

2. 1957 will witness gradually increasing inflation.

3. Manufacturers will be faced with higher costs for both materials and labor.

4. All businesses will be confronted by increased competition, both within their own industries and from other industries.

5. More advertising will be necessary in 1957, both as to numbers and liabilities. Thousands of small concerns will be wiped out. One or two of the largest corporations will face bankruptcy or re-organization.

7. Cost of living will rise slightly during 1957.

8. Most labor unions will hesitate to make public fights for higher wages, but will work for shorter hours, pensions and "fringes."

9. Europe must pay so much more for oil that it will have less money for purchasing other goods.

10. Unexpected events will occur during 1957; however, as a whole business will remain fair, but with smaller profits.

Money Outlook

11. As foreign countries must pay in gold or dollars for oil their industries will be handicapped, unemployment will increase and pressure for aid from the United States will be greater.

12. The Federal Reserve Board will not relax its restrictions so long as we have full employment in the United States; but if unemployment increases we may expect a relaxation. I am very glad Mr. Robert Cutler will again be Mr. Eisenhower's advisor.

13. Owing to the tremendous numbers of employees, suppliers and retailers dependent upon the large corporations, these will be first to receive bank funds.

Many plans for expansions of plants, by both big business and little business, will be postponed. Most corporations will find it difficult to get new short-term money at any price in quantity; while long-term financing will be too expensive.

15. Tight money will cause state, municipal and town governments to postpone plans for building roads, schools and hospitals except in cases where the Federal Government pays most of the costs. This will put a damper on many lines of business.

16. Owing to these increased money rates, state, municipal and town bonds, although tax free, have been declining rapidly in price. Most financial advisers forecast much lower prices for such securities. It is possible that the postponement of such building plans may so diminish demand for such money that these non-taxable bonds will sell at higher prices before the year is out. This postponement may also reduce the price of steel and other materials.

17. The money managers for each corporation, large or small will now arrange their financing needs for two years by either securing the necessary funds now or reduce their requirements.

18. Prices of corporation bonds will not recover so quickly as the non-taxables. I forecast lower prices for most corporations bonds.

19. Many of the smaller and newer corporations will be much disappointed by their inability to secure funds during 1957, except by selling convertible preferred stocks on terms very favorable to investors. It is well to issue such securities when money rates are low because the advance continues for many years not when money is tight as such securities then tie up the borrower for a long number of years at high rates.

20. This means that 1957 will be a good year for investors to switch from low-yielding stocks to attractive bond issues.

Real Estate Outlook

21. Home building, corporate expansion and municipal improvements will decline in 1957. Therefore, it will not be a good year for speculating in real estate.

22. Interest rates on mortgages will be higher in 1957. Loans not "federally" guaranteed will require larger margins.

23. Real estate in large cities will continue inactive with declining prices due to lack of parking facilities.

24. Suburban real estate will continue active, but fewer new houses will be built. Houses will be for sale by executives who have lost their well-paid jobs.

25. Purchasers will give more attention to the size of the lots

The Lowanna Camp Fire Girls of Burkburnett gave a party for the children at the Fowler Home in Wichita Falls Monday, December 10th. Toys were wrapped for each child.

The refreshment table featured a miniature youpon holly tree surrounded by small red stockings which the girls had stuffed with tiny favors and Christmas goodies.

The children were led in carol singing by the Camp Fire Girls.

Favorite fairy tales were dramatized with each child taking part in the acting. The gifts were distributed and refreshments served to the children of the home by the Lowanna girls. This group sacrificed their own Christmas meeting in order to be able to have the party for the Fowler Home children.

Sponsoring Better Government

This newspaper is carrying a series of articles on the Duval County Oligarchy that we think will open the eyes of our readers to the dangers that exist in the never ending fight for freedom of individual rights. Included in this 10 part revelation of graft and corruption are many heretofore unrevealed incidents.

These articles have been written by two New York newspapermen who were able to approach the subject without bias and without political leanings of any kind. One of these men Franz Rosenwald, is a German refugee who was forced to flee from Nazi terrorism. The other, Frederick Hodgson, is a newspaper correspondent and magazine and screen writer.

Their approach to the Duval County story is so different and presented in such style that the reader will be engrossed from the very beginning. Those who saw advance proofs on the series say they could not put the copy down until they had read every article and we believe our readers will have the same reaction.

Throughout the series the thoughtful reader will be impressed with what can happen when people become complacent and negligent about their governing bodies. The reader will be able to grasp the awful significance of secrecy in government and how a cancerous growth of corruption and oppression can develop almost imperceptibly, until the citizens of a county are gripped in fear for their very lives and property.

The concluding articles of this series will show how this reign of terror never could have happened had Texas had laws that make public business public. They will show how 16 proposals for better government being sponsored by the Texas Press Association can complete the cleaning up of Duval County and prevent such a situation from ever arising again in Texas.

We commend this series of articles to our readers and ask that they lend their support to Texas newspapers in their effort to obtain better government in Texas. You can do this by appealing to your representatives and senators to pass these bills when they come before the Texas Legislature.

Just bear in mind that what happened in Duval County could happen in any county in Texas under today's lax laws.

In Deep Enough Now

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is entirely right, we believe, in making it clear to the 14 other Foreign Ministers attending the NATO conference in Paris that the US reserves full freedom to act in defense of its own interests without prior consultation of the North Atlantic Council governing body of NATO.

And secondly, in view of the demand of our NATO allies that we provide them with tactical atomic weapons, we can be thankful that the Atomic Energy Act forbids even the President from supplying or selling such weapons, to any nation. To make possible such a transfer, an act of Congress, which would be hotly contested — is required.

British Defense Minister Antony Head declared that atomic weapons for field use are essential to effective defense against the Red's overwhelmingly superior manpower. But, since we can think of no surer trigger for World War III than ill considered use of such a weapon, we think Dutch Defense Minister Staf has a better idea. He suggested that we supply what is needed, minus the nuclear warheads, to the NATO troops, and withhold the atomic charges until their use is considered inevitable.

There are those who see in Mr. Dulles' refusal to commit the US prior consultation with the NATO allies in all situations justification and support of the unannounced attack of Britain and France on Egypt, and which action the US had condemned. But, in view of his reference in his speech to our defense of Formosa, we presume the reservations he had in mind were outside the NATO sphere.

And, after the experience we have just had with our closest allies, and in view of the further billions the Egyptians fiasco is expected to cost US taxpayers, we should expect our Secretary of State to take extra precautions.

Joker In The Juke

Teen agers and their elders who drop quarters and dimes, and even nickels, in the festive juke box to hear Bing Crosby or Patience and Prudence may be surprised to know they are contributing to the half-billion a year "take" of the big industry. In 1957 the juke box impressarios will place in grills, taverns, diners, drugstores, motels and highway amusement spots some 500,000 machines that will each swallow an average of at least $1,000 worth of coins during the year!

Yet an odd quirk in the copyright law, passed in 1909 before Congress had heard of juke boxes, exempts coin-operated music machines from the customary obligation of paying royalties to the creators of the popular songs they peddle to the public. This strange exemption dates from the "penny arcade" days, when grandpa could clap on earphones, put a penny in the slot and get a load of "Shine On Harvest Moon." Song-writers then made their money from sheet music and regarded the penny arcade as a "plunger" for their creations. But when the upright piano all but vanished from the parlor, the composers looked hopefully to the mechanized music for income. And so far, they have asserted in vain their right to share in the quarters and dimes their music woos from juke box patrons.

A Senate report on the perennial hassle between the operators who wish to continue their legalized poaching, and the composers who would like to be paid for the use of their property, has recently been issued by Chairman Joseph C. O'Mahoney of the Senate Judiciary Copyright subcommittee. He hopes, he said, in an accompanying statement, that this will provide the basis for a compromise between the song-writers and the song-sellers that his group can consider when Congress convenes in January.

Immediately, President Paul Cunningham of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers declared that he would seek a meeting with the operators in an effort to carry out the Senator's suggestion.

The American Bar Association, the General Federation of Women's clubs and the US Government itself, are on record as favoring modernization of the copyright law to put the juke boxes on the same basis as all other commercial music users. After all the juke box exists only to reproduce music that Americans like, well enough to dig down for the torrent of dimes and quarters that cascade through half a million slots.

Justice to the tunesmiths who create that music has been delayed long enough.

MU REPRESENTATIVES HERE
 Dr. Madge Davis and Bill Youngblood, a senior at MU, spoke to the senior class of Burk High School on Dec. 13th. They spoke to them about the advantage, potentialities and activities of attending college. Many questions were asked concerning tuition, ROTC, hours required, majors, etc., by the interested students.

Then Dr. Davis passed out MU bulletins, spring semester schedules, a recent edition of the college newspaper, and a pamphlet of short stories written by MU students. The seniors then had a chance to look over the three 1956 MU annuals.

Student Council Paints Curbs
 Saturday, Dec. 15th, the Student Council of Burk High School had a hard decision to make. To paint or not to paint, that was the question. The final decision was to paint. Consequently, the students of Burk High found the campus surrounding their alma mater, arayed with bright yellow stripes.

The purpose of the stripes is to arrange an even distribution of cars in front of the school. The Student Council did this so there would be more parking spaces. A good job, well done, Council.

FHA Holds Party
 On the night of Dec. 17th, the FHA had a "White Christmas" party at the Youth Center. Each member present brought a gift for a needy family.

Miss Moore and Mary Louise Edison, alternately played the piano, while the group sang Christmas songs. Barbara Shaw read the Christmas Story from the Bible.

The President, Norma Fleming then presented the sponsor, Miss Moore, a beautiful blue sweater set, from the entire chapter. The members then had refreshments consisting of punch and cookies.

The best time to prune your peach tree is during the dormant season. The dormant season is the time the peach tree does not have any leaves on it. Lots of farmers prune their peach trees during January and February.

It is essential that some pruning be done each year. A general rule for pruning bearing trees is to remove approximately one-third of the current season's growth each fall.

Check your peach trees for San Jose scale. For those orchards with a medium or heavy infestation of scale, commercial oil emulsion at 3% strength is recommended. The oil should be mixed with water according to the manufacturer's directions (Caution, avoid, if possible, spraying just before freezing temperatures. Keep sprays well agitated at all times.)

Lice and mange mites are more troublesome on hogs during the cold months of the year. B. T. Haws, county agent, says these parasites should be controlled as soon as they are found. He says local county agents can furnish information on the recommended control measures.

The American housewife, says B. T. Haws, county agent, can be thanked for the improved appearance of poultry offered on today's market. Store sales showed that women prefer a ready-dressed, meaty bird with yellow skin and light pin feathers that eliminate the tedious job that formerly was a part of getting a chicken or turkey ready for cooking. Breeders went to work to help producers meet these requirements and today's poultry is the result.

Bronco, a new attractive, light red-grain oat variety developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA, has equaled or outyielded present Texas commercial oat varieties in adapted areas of the state. It has exhibited more winter hardiness than such varieties as Mustang or New Nortex.

Driver Education Reduces Accidents

Fifty-one percent of the public high schools in the United States now have provided driver education, which the National Safety Council declares is one of the most promising methods to reduce the traffic accident toll.

At the end of the 1948-49 school year, only 29 percent of the nation's public schools offered driver education according to the Council.

Recognition of the importance of driver education has been growing among educators and parents, the Council states with many women's club and Parent-teacher organizations taking the lead.

As an example, the Council cited the top winner in the last Carol Lane award program. The Decatur, Ga., Business and Professional Women's club was instrumental in providing driver education in 11 county high schools.

The Carol Lane Awards are administered by the Council under a grant of the Shell Oil Co. to recognize and reward the achievements of women in support of traffic safety.

The Council announced that the deadline for entries in the 1957 award program is June 15. Named for the women's travel director of Shell, the awards are open to any American Woman, woman's club or parents' group.

Awards in each category are $1,000, $500 and $250 savings bonds, as well as bronze statuettes. Information may be obtained from the Council at 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The case of the irate wife —

ONCE there was a husband who was definitely in the doghouse.

When he came home from work, his wife was no place in sight. But on the table, there were some scraps of paper. Closer inspection proved that the scraps were the remains of his U. S. Savings Bonds.

What happened next between husband and wife is not known, but here's what the record does show. The husband sent the scraps of Bonds to the Treasury Department. And new Bonds were issued without charge to replace his original ones. So all ended happily.

Everything usually does end well when you put your money in Bonds. Here's why. You just can't lose a U. S. Savings Bond. No matter whether it's misplaced, stolen, or destroyed, the Treasury Department will replace it.

Savings Bonds are not only safer than cash, but one of the best investments you can make. You can be sure of the principal, sure of the returns (an average 3% interest when held to maturity) — and sure of the future when you invest regularly in Savings Bonds.

So start investing in safe and sure Savings Bonds today!

For the big things in your life, be ready with U. S. Savings Bonds.

The U. S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks, for their patriotic donation, the Advertising Council and

Richest Treasure Lost, Recovered

Ever heard about the biggest treasure ever lost, and then recovered in the New World? It is one of the strangest and most gripping stories in American history.

The treasure was lost four centuries ago on Padre Island, a narrow strip of gleaming beach which stretches along the almost 115 miles of the Texas coast.

It was found a year later, at least most of it was. Nobody knows the exact worth of the treasure.

But it ran into untold millions. Nobody knows, either how many people knew its curse of death.

But they numbered into the hundreds.

The story dates back to 1553 when Cortez, ruling Mexico with heavy hand, outfitted 20 ships to carry a select group of his subjects and some of the most precious riches of the new world back to Spain.

The vessels set sail from the harbor at Vera Cruz with some 100 persons aboard. They sailed eastward across the Gulf of Mexico, then headed for the Bahamas channel.

When the fleet reached the dangerous passage, swells began to rise and the breeze stiffened. The ships were buffeted by the waves. Three of the vessels, caught in the eye of the storm, were sucked under. Four were driven into port six months later. But the rest were forced back across the Gulf and flung into the bars of the Devil's Elbow, a bend in the Padre Island beach about 40 miles north of this booming resort area on the island's southwest tip.

Only 300 men, women and children reached shore. For six days they rested. Then on the 7th day they awakened to find the beach peopled with naked brown men hideously painted, who brought them food and fire. The new friendship seemed like a miracle, but it turned out to be a living nightmare. Before the meal was finished, the Spaniards were showered with arrows and forced to hunt protection in the dunes.

The defenseless Spaniards, confronted with a foe worse than starvation, began a tragic retreat down the island beach. The flight of the 300, history has named it, and it is one of the most pitiful events ever.

The wind sapped the Spaniards strength and the sun parched their bodies. Sea grape vines tripped them. Sand hindered their footsteps. Gulls screamed around them, mocking the wails of the children. And all around the pitiful little band of humans all stone-tipped arrows, killing them by ones and twos and threes.

Like sad-eyed ghosts, the suffering Spaniards stumbled onward, surrounded by painted demons. For food, they salvaged a few shell fish along the beach at night and shewed the roots of flowers and plants. The only drinking water was dew licked from shrubs and bushes in the mornings.

The devilish Karankawas captured two men, stripping them of their clothes and returned them unharmed.

The castaways, in a last, pitiful gesture, sought to purchase life with their clothes, piling them on the beach hoping against hope that this was what the fiends wanted.

To the contrary the Indians moved closer. Their arrows found the mark at short range, and death came more frequently. Wounded children lay crying to their mothers for help. And the women who dared to stop to care for their young were shown no mercy.

All of the women and children perished before the Spaniards reached their south tip of Padre Island. As the remnants of the group crossed Brazos Santiago Pass, another 50 of their number were lost. Still the pitiful group staggered on, finally reaching the Rio Grande.

There the Karankawas gave up pursuit. But death continued to stalk them. As they started to cross a river in Mexico, they sighted more Indians in canoes. Hiding, they were attacked by swarms of vicious red ants.

As the Spaniards, in agony, dove into the river, many drowned and others were killed by arrows.

Fray Marcos de Mena, who lived to tell the story suffered six arrow wounds. He wrenched the arrows out, even the one in his eye, and staggered on alone deserted by his comrades because of his condition. Later he passed where they had been killed by the savages.

Four suns rose and set as Fray Marcos stumbled forward without food or water. Once, when he fell, he was attacked by hordes of sand crabs and he fought them off as in a nightmare.

Finally he came to the Panuco River, where he saw two men in clothes and without weapons. No naked savages were these, but men of mercy. They placed the good father in a canoe and bore him to Tampico and to safety.

Every treasure story has a happy ending, and the story of the flight of the 300 is no exception.

The happy ending, however, was reserved for the only other survivor of the mammoth shipwreck, Francisco Vasquez, a shrewd thinking grandee with a businesslike brain.

Vasquez discovered something his comrades had overlooked, the fact that potable water can be had by digging holes in Padre Island's sands. He also reckoned, correctly, that a salvage fleet would be sent out to recover the lost treasure.

Vasquez abandoned the flight of his companions and returned to the wreckage of ships on the island beach. Once inside the shattered hulks, he was safe. He had a supply of food, water and ample room to hide if the Indians should come out to investigate.

His hunch was justified the following spring when a great salvage fleet organized and fitted by Don Angel de la Villafana slowly rose on the horizon. Don Angel had learned the location of the wrecks from Fray Marcos' story and from estimates by the captains of the ships which survived the storm.

Vasquez turned out to be the key figure in the recovery of the treasure. He was able to show the salvage crews exactly where the ships went down. When the job was completed, Vasquez, the businessman, received a treasure share as large as that claimed by Don Angel, and he, like a number of other persons in New Spain, got rich off what was destined to be the most successful treasure hunt in the history of the New World.

Background Of Roger W. Babson

American business has no more inspiring personality than Roger W. Babson, internationally known business commentator and investment adviser. An outstanding feature of his philosophy has been his lifelong insistence on the importance of both religion and advertising in business.

Born and reared in an old fashioned atmosphere of hard work and hustle on a farm in Gloucester, Mr. Babson went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Upon graduating, he turned instinctively to financial and business activities in which his father was engaged.

His exertions, however, undermined his health; he contracted tuberculosis and he was sent west "as good as dead." It was while he was convalescing from this dread malady that he worked out some of the possibilities and problems of business forecasting. His weekly releases are used by over 400 newspapers and his financial reports by 20,000 corporations and estates. His research work is carried on by a large staff of experts.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: Minnie Lee (nee Aaron) Pope, Defendant. Greeting:
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable 78th District Court of Wichita County, at the Court-house thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 4th day of February A. D. 1957, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 13th day of October A. D. 1956, in this cause, numbered 58,494-B on the docket of said court and styled J. Weldon Pope, Plaintiff, VS Minnie Lee (nee Aaron) Pope, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: After alleging jurisdiction, plaintiff further alleges that he and defendant were married on or about May 2nd 1952 and continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about August 31st, 1956, when by reason of cruel harsh and tyrannical treatment on the part of the defendant toward this plaintiff without cause or provocation, was of such a nature as to render their further living together insupportable; that there were no children born of this marriage and that there is no community property.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein, and that upon trial hereof, he have judgment for divorce and for such other and further relief, in law or in equity, to which he may show himself justly entitled as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The Officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law and make due return as the law directs.

IN BURKBURNETT
Wednesday Is Double
S. & H. Green Stamp Day
WITH THE PURCHASE OF
$3.00 OR MORE OF MERCHANDISE

If two of our buyers hadn't been with us for some 10 years, we'd give them the choice of selling this SILVER BELL OLEO at the corner of 8th and Scott Streets, or taking their "walking papers." When they purchased this oleo for Parker's Food Stores they thought they had made the buy of the year . . . Here it is Dec. 26th, the year is almost over, but we've still got boxes and boxes of oleo. We're tired of looking at it, but you'll find it a bargain at 20¢ PER POUND.

We also have a lot of fat we want to put in our HAMBURGER to sell for 33c per pound.

But we have a little good meat for the Grand Kids to eat — To sell for 45c per pound.
(Some Folks Call This Ground Steak)

We had DROMEDARY DATES left over and don't want to carry them in stock until next Christmas — so we offer you a 6½ oz. package of 1956 DROMEDARY DATES FOR 19c.
(Any Bugs Have Been Removed)

We have CARNATION TOPIC and FAIRMONT MELLORINE (square packages), all flavors, that has been frozen so hard that there is nothing left for us to do but sell it 3 (½) GALLON CARTONS FOR $1.
(ALSO HAVE CROOKED HANDLED BROOMS TO SELL)

In looking over the stores, I have found a bunch of canned goods that should of been sold years ago. I want these items sold for 10c EACH. Pick them out. Don't blame us for what you get.

We're making a "New Year's Resolution in advance of 1957 Parker's are resolving to sell OSAGE PEACHES No. 2½ cans at 25c per can, actually below our cost. We thought when we bought these . . . we'd set the world on fire and you'd all come rushing to our stores. We figure the only thing to make you rush is this unheard-of price of 25c.

FIRST OF THE YEAR SPECIAL

BE LUCKY — — EAT BLACK-EYED PEAS — — ARROW BRAND — — ONE-POUND CELLO. PACK 15c
OR KITCH-N-KRAFT NO. 300 CAN — — FRESH CANNED BLACK-EYED PEAS AT 2 CANS 23c
WE WILL PRACTICALLY GIVE YOU THE HOG JOWLS TO COOK THEM WITH. ONLY 17c POUND

We have some 6-oz. jars of Instant MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE. These jars are glass and we are afraid they will get broke so we are offering them for $1.39 per 6-oz. jar.

While in the freezer, I found some more stuff frozen too hard and we don't have time to thaw it out. So we will sell (frozen, I mean frozen) SNOW CROP ORANGE JUICE, 6 - 6-OZ. CANS FOR $1.00.

Don't forget you might need SCOT TISSUE toilet paper. We again bought too much of this item and to help move it we thought if offered at 2 ROLLS FOR 19¢ you might be interested in taking some off our hands.

If the weather is what we think it is going to be, we also thought you might be interested in IRELAND'S CHILI . . .
(WE UNDERSTAND IT'S MADE FROM DEAD COWS)
We have eaten it and enjoyed it. You can do the same for, 51¢ buys a number two can.

Somebody goofed, and we find an overstock of BRISK TOOTH PASTE in the giant size tubes. It doesn't have a very pretty wrapper on it, but it's just about a gift at the low price of 53¢ Giant Tube.

We wish we could afford to give you "TRIPLE GREEN STAMPS" when you purchase Pet Milk at the low price of 2 TALL CANS 25¢. We can't, but we think at this price, you won't be worrying us about Green Stamps.

Some of you boys need Tomato Juice now . . . if not now, after New Year's evening. We want to help you by selling you what we have on hand at a price you will love. 46-oz. cans of LIBBY'S TOMATO JUICE for only 33¢ a can.

We fell flat on our face when we ordered all this STOCKTON TOMATO CATSUP. We're still "facing" the problem of what to do with it . . . We figure at the price of 13¢ - 12-OZ. BOTTLE, you'll be able to stock your shelves and we can get off the ground.

Come out and buy these "Cats and Dogs"—You'll be making terrific savings! We'll be unloading our warehouse and save paying taxes on these items! Also save our store help of taking inventory of goods January first. Yours Sincerely . . . "CY" PARKER

To The Drivers Of North Texas

Once again we approach a holiday season and once again some of us will forget who's birthday we should celebrate. Some of us will get full of alcoholic spirits and forget the spirit of Christ. Once again many of us will get in our cars and get out on the streets and highways and forget the rights of others, yes even forget common courtesy, and cause sorrow and suffering to our fellow man. It is ironic that we should celebrate our Saviors' birth by having a week or more of slaughter on our streets and highways. We, of the Texas Highway Patrol, wish all of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and pledge that we will leave no stone unturned in our attempt to make your holiday season a safe one. Patrolmen in this district will work longer hours and we pledge that the potential killer on our highways will get no mercy from us. We will arrest the speeder and the drinking driver wherever and whenever we find him. Each year these drivers have persisted in carrying out their grim task of slaughter during our December holiday season. This year again we pledge to the careful law abiding driver, that we will do all in our power to help you be here Jan. 1st, and out of the hospital. Please help us every way you can in order that we may do our job. Slow down, and keep your mind on your driving and leave off the alcohol when driving and stand a good chance to be well and happy Jan. 1, 1957.

Texas Farm Bureau

The Texas Farm Bureau led the nation with the largest gain in membership of any of the 48 states in the American Farm Bureau Federation Loys D. Barbour, sec.-treas., Texas Farm Bureau announced upon his return from the 38th annual convention held in Miami, Fla., Dec. 10-13th.

Barbour stated that ten counties in District 3 received citations from the American Farm Bureau for reaching their quota in 1956. These counties being Archer, Baylor, Hardeman, Haskell, Jack, Stonewall, Wilbarger, Wichita, Young. The Southern Region consisting of 13 southern states lead all other regions in percentage of gain in membership in the AFBF according to Barbour.

The convention Program included such outstanding speakers as, Chas. B. Shuman, Pres. AFBF; Roger Flemming, Sec. Treas. AFBF; Honorable Styles Bridges, US Senator from New Hampshire; Hon. John F. Kennedy, US Senator from Mass.; Wheeler McMillen, Exe. Director, Commission of Increased Industrial Uses of Agricultural Products; Pat Greathouse, vice-pres., International Union, United Auto, Aircraft and agricultural implements workers of America, UAW, Detroit, Mich.; Carrol Shanks, Pres., Prudential Insurance Co. of America; and Cole O. Parker, President, National Association of Manufacturers.

1956 figures show 1,587,107 farm families are members of AFBF. According to Barbour,

State Farm Bureaus accepted a 1957 membership quota of 1,644,896 farm families, with a slogan of "Forward Together." in 1957

Texas Farm Bureau members will join with members from all over the nation during the next session of Congress in attempting to amend soil bank legislation to carry out Farm Bureau policies.

Many specific Farm Bureau recommendations are included in the Agricultural Act of 1956. However, at Miami Beach, Fla. Dec. 13th, delegates to the American Farm Bureau convention approved the following recommendations "in order that the soil bank may make a maximum contribution to the solution of our surplus problem:"

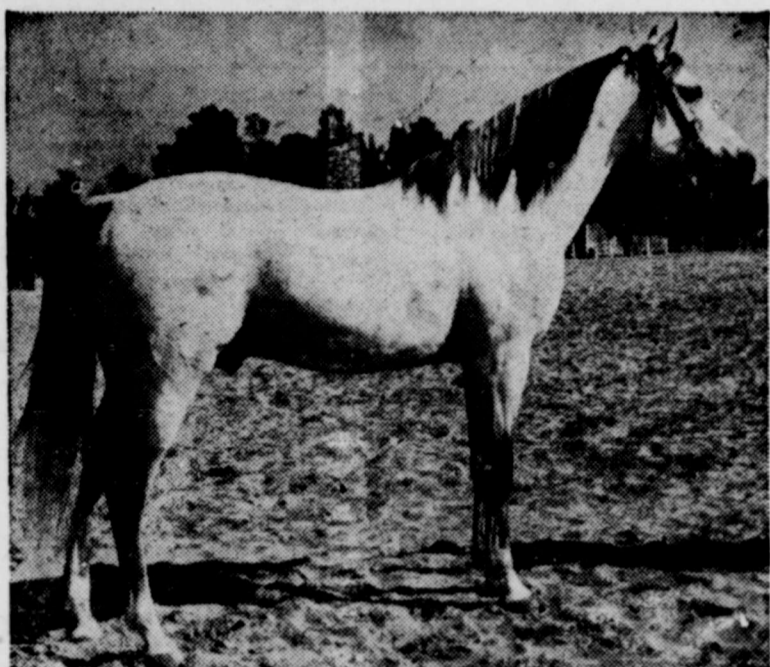

(1) Maximum possible use should be made of Commodity Credit Corp. stocks for payment in kind under the acreage reserve program. Certificates entitling producers to payments in grains other than rice should be interchangeable.

(2) No acreage placed in the soil bank under either the acreage reserve or the conservation reserve should be harvested or grazed under any circumstances.

(3) Farmers placing land in either the acreage reserve or conservation reserve should be required to maintain the acreage of other land on the farm that normally is idle or devoted to uses that exclude it from the soil bank base.

(4) Producers desiring price support should be required to place cropland in the soil bank in amounts determined by applying a percentage factor to their acreage of price supported crops. This recommendation is not intended to require a reduction of acreage devoted to allotted crops. Producers would be free to meet this requirement either by placing such amounts of their allotted acreage as they desire, in the acreage reserve program, or by placing "non-allotted" acreage in the conservation reserve program. In either case soil bank payments would be earned.

"My Kingdom For A Horse!"

England's King Richard III would undoubtedly have handed over his entire kingdom for one of the magnificent Arabian horses bred on the Inshass Farm in Egypt.

For on this farm, run by the Egyptian Government, are horses whose ancestors are certified in a long line stretching back at least eight generations. And even a king could not persuade the Egyptian Government to part with some of its famous sires, including Antar Ben Himdan, who is considered priceless.

The farm, which produces horses for the army, police and private horsemen, is operated along highly modern lines with expert trainers to supervise the breeding and development of thoroughbred Arabian steeds. Each year specially selected horses are exported to Europe to compete on continental race tracks, and the farm has a museum to house the trophies won by its distinguished animal alumni in national as well as international horse shows.

Texas Safety Association

If a man from outer space happened to pick up one of our newspapers yesterday (Dec. 26), he might conclude that the approved way of celebrating the coming of a new year in the United States is with sacrificial highway suicide.

This observation was made today by J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, as he commented on the record breaking traffic accident year of 1956.

"Last December Texas climaxed a month of 252 highway killings with a New Year's Eve toll of 11 traffic deaths," Musick said. "Drinking drivers and drivers traveling at speeds too fast for conditions figured prominently in the accidents, he said."

Both of these road violations show a great lack of responsibility for personal safety and the safety of others, Musick said. And at this season above all others, we should be filled with consideration for our fellow man. We should indeed be our brother's keeper.

He urges everyone to celebrate New Year's Eve in a suitable manner and to show his conduct on the highways and city streets that this holiday means more than an occasion of irresponsible merrymaking. Musick commended the Texas Dept. of Public Safety, city police forces, and the many city safety councils for their stepped up programs in accident prevention.

We should all join our officials and local safety groups in their attack on traffic accidents he said. Stringent enforcement methods will be successful if each driver and walker supports them with safe personal traffic conduct.

Still-lives can be as simple as this one, yet effective enough to be enlarged and hung on a wall.

the Snapshot Guild

Still-Life Snapshooting

Have you ever noticed how almost every national snapshot contest has a number of awards earmarked for entries in the "still life" category? Well, if you're like most of us, you've probably thought, "They're for the experts and the specialists—not for casual Sunday snapshotters like us!"

But that's where you're wrong—because still-life pictures are within camera range of everybody who can focus accurately and make time exposures. You need no more complicated equipment than a simple box camera, ordinary home lights or photo-floods, and—of course—a good eye for interesting objects.

Yes, in still-life photography, the "eyes" really have it! For the idea underlying effective still-lives is first to choose pictorial elements that are interesting in themselves and then to arrange them in a composition that's pleasing to the eye. And you'll be surprised to see how very simple elements can create striking effects, achieving beauty just through the pattern of shapes and textures or in the interplay of shadow and substance.

We personally feel a few still-lives belong in every photographer's repertoire—and in his album, too. For you can't shoot even a single still life without learning much about lighting and arrangement that will prove invaluable to you in all your other snapshooting.

Remember, any grouping of objects can be made to serve your purpose—and the simpler the "props" the better. A willow-ware bowl, some glossy apples, a plate and a paring knife arranged on a checked tablecloth—a collection of Dad's pipes and tobacco or Sister's record player and album covers—a bouquet of salad greens teamed with cruet, herbs and spices—the top of Mother's sewing machine spilling over with fabrics, ribbons and spools of thread—any of these can yield a handsome composition either in color or black-and-white.

Still life arrangements are bounded only by the limits of your own imagination and willingness to experiment. Try an interestingly lighted view of little Kathy's ballet slippers, a music box and a tiny figurine—or give fancy a whirl with a composition that highlights bell, book and candle as its theme.

—John Van Guilder

than to the houses. Better locations can be secured by buying existing houses. Modern Kitchen will become a "must."

26. Acreage near proposed shopping centers will be excellent for speculation. The automobile will continue to raise havoc with real estate prices, helping some locations and hurting others.

27. New inventions in connection with heating, lighting and other features will make most older houses obsolete.

28. Large commercial farms will continue prosperous. Small farms on the fringes of cities will be more valuable. The outlying medium-sized farms will be both expensive to operate and hard to sell.

29. The nearness to schools, churches, stores and bus routes will become a more important factor in the resale of homes.

30. Those wishing to own a well-located home to occupy will find 1957 a good year to buy or build; but a dangerous year for speculation.

Stock Market Outlook
31. It is foolish for anyone to now forecast the stock market for 1957. The Dow-Jones Industrial Average, now around 490 may decline to 400 or advance to 600 during 1957.

32. All investors will want "safety," but wise investors will first decide whether they also want "income" or profit. Only by luck can you obtain all three features with certainty during 1957.

33. Investors can buy, during 1957 well-seasoned preferred stocks (preferably cumulative) which will give, with safety, a yield of near 6 percent. I will gladly send, free of charge, a list of such to any reader so requesting.

34. During 1957 good utility stocks should be attractive for yield and marketability. The demand for electricity will continue to increase throughout 1957.

35. The above two recommendations apply to those in moderate income tax brackets. The investor in medium or high brackets will buy during 1957 non-taxable state, municipal or town bonds carrying "full faith and credit." Taxes will gradually increase during 1957 and non-taxable bonds will be more in demand from wise investors.

36. I am not now prepared to advise readers who do not care for income, but only for profit. As above stated, the Dow-Jones Industrial Average may approach, during 1957, either 400 or 600. It will be very easy to make a mistake by either buying or selling stock at this time, except for intelligent switches. I am willing to say, however, that readers should not get panicky and sell their oils. Even Gulf Oil which has the largest interests in the very rich middle East fields, should not be sold.

37. All sensible investors will carry good bank balances and reserves during 1957 so as not to be caught, whatever happens.

38. There should be no panic in the stock market during 1957. Stocks will either fluctuate near their present levels or else will gradually slide downward or upward. It will be risky to borrow money to buy stocks in 1957; rather, one might sell stocks to get out of debt.

39. The way to make money in the stock market is: (1) Confine your purchases to the stock of the leading companies in each industry. (2) Diversify moderately and do not try to pick out winners, remembering that, whether you buy or sell, someone (probably as smart as you) is doing the opposite at the same time. (3) Store up cash when most people are bullish; use this cash to buy stocks when most people are bearish.

40. We are no longer on the Gold Standard but on a Political Standard. Although the Law of Action and Reaction will ultimately rule, yet periods of prosperity can artificially be extended by manipulating money rates, subsidies and other financial props.

41. Every reader should have a little stock in one of the local banks in which he has his account. Bank stocks should make money during 1957 whatever the "blue chips" do.

International and Other Affairs
42. During 1957 the Administration will do everything possible to keep us out of war. It certainly will not get us involved with England, France, Israel or their allies.

43. So long as President Eisenhower is in good physical condition (as Commander in Chief) he will back the United Nations with our Army, Navy and Air Force. This is the only way in which he will be tempted ever to enter World War III.

44. The United States will not use the A-Bomb or H-bomb during 1957 or give these bombs to any other nation. However, to save the United Nations, President Eisenhower will give that organization all the bombs it wants.

45. 1957 should be a good year to make tax-exempt gifts to colleges, hospitals and other worthy causes. You however, should give a stock which shows you a profit, and let the beneficiary do the selling. 1957 should be an especially good year for such institutions to make drives for funds.

46. Householders will avoid making unnecessary purchases on installments until the international situation clears. Several feasible plans are being considered, one of which is to have a very small tax on every gallon of oil moving through the Canal with the understanding that the money be used for financing the Great Dam on the Nile River which the Egyptians so much need. This would make unnecessary any expropriations of the rich Middle East oil reserves and any renegotiations. Either expropriations or renegotiations will scare our investors out of making further foreign investments.

47. The big thing that Russia wants is not so much the oil fields as freedom to pass through the Dardanelles. This will be an important feature of a settlement of the Suez Canal problem. I further forecast that the Republic of Panama will attempt to undo the "steal" which we perpetrated in 1904, in order to build the Panama Canal.

48. It would be unfair to readers of this Forecast not to mention the great importance of Mr. Eisenhower's health. In connection with any building, business, investment or other program, it should be continually kept in mind.

49. Better fed and more intelligent populations, both in the United States and elsewhere, will continue to increase. Important new discoveries and inventions will take place. Twenty years ago we were enjoying the prosperity brought on by the Electric Era. Then followed the Motor Car and Oil Eras which we have recently been enjoying, plus a Chemical and building boom. These coming together or account for the great prosperity of the last ten years. Sometime we will witness a business readjustment, but it will be followed by a new Electronic and Nuclear Era. Therefore, be optimistic.

50. In closing, I urge my friends to read the 8th chapter of the Bible Book Deuteronomy, which was written 3,000 years ago and is as applicable today as ever. Incidentally, it mentions Egypt, which even then was an important factor in world events.

News From The HD Agent

Storage time for fresh pork in your home freezer should be limited. Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent says pork does not keep its quality in frozen storage as long as other meats.

Fresh sausage may be stored in the freezer from one to three months. Other cuts of fresh pork can be stored from three to six months, provided they are packaged properly and held at zero degrees F. or lower.

Fat portions of cured or smoked pork may become rancid if stored longer than a two-month period.

To package pork for the freezer use a moisture vapor resistant material such as heavy freezer foil. Fold closely to drive out air. Use an overwrap to prevent puncturing or breaking the foil in the freezer.

You can plant roses now, Mr. A. F. DeWorth, head, department of Floriculture, Texas A & M College, says fall is the preferred time for planting roses in Texas.

Mr. DeWorth says anyone can grow roses. Success depends on choosing the right varieties, proper planting, a location and soil.

For details on selections, soil preparation, pruning and care of roses, get a copy of TAP-1 Roses For Texas, from your home demonstration agent, Thelma Wirges, 305 Federal Bldg. Wichita Falls.

Fatigue, too much food and not the right kind, tension and excitement, all are factors in lowering body resistance to the common cold. The holiday season can easily set the stage for sniffles or a really bad cold. Plan now to help your family guard against this health hazard.

Food makes a difference, reminds Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent. Start family members with a good wholesome breakfast every day. Plan for simple, balanced meals during the holiday rush. Eat at regular times as much as possible. Reserve the sweet or rich foods for mealtime dessert. Keep in between meal refreshment snacks light and nutritious. Fruits, fruit juices, crisp, colorful vegetables served with special dips can be just as tasty and appealing as rich, heavy foods.

Tension and fatigue may be hard to control when the rush starts. But proper food before and during the busy season will help keep resistance up.

Grade School News

We are fast coming to the end of the good year 1956 and that it is time to think back on the events that have been done right and those that might have been improved upon. It is much easier to think about what we might have done a better job after we have had time to think about the outcome when we were in the middle of the job. This is just a definite proof that hindsight is far better than foresight.

can at least become aware of job at hand and resolve to more deliberate in our planning and action, and be more concerned about the final outcome. We are hoping that each may more resolved about doing better job in the future.

will make a determined effort to start the new year with resolutions that have been deliberate and well chosen for the best benefit of each individual. We hope that once they have been thought out and well followed that each resolution may diligently pursued until the purpose has been attained or a better course of action has been evolved.
