BURKBURNETT HIGH SCHOOL BAND WINS SECOND SWEEPSTAKES AWARD

By winning division 1 (superior) ratings in both sight reading and concert at the Regional Fourteen Music Competition Festival Band event of the Interscholastic League held at Midwestern University Saturday, April 27th, the Burkburnett High School band won its second Sweepstakes honor of the year. The first was won in competition at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair in Iowa Park last fall. A division 1 rating is equivalent to a score of ninety-five to one hundred. Bands are rated 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5. 1 means superior, 2 is excellent, 3 is good, 4 means fair and 5 is poor. In the concert contest, the Burkburnett Band played Colonel Bogey March by Alford, Thomes from Tchaikovsky's sixth symphony and Beethoven's

Adagio Contabile. In this contest, the band is judged on tone, technique, interpretation and instrumentation. In the sight reading contest the band is allowed only two minutes to familiarize themselves with an overture and a march never seen before. The band is judged on how well it reads and plays the selections. Judging points are technical accuracy, tone interpretation, fluency, flexibility and general effect. Other schools winning sweepstakes honors in Wichita Falls Saturday were Jacksboro, Jr. High, Zundelwitz Jr. High, Munday High, Bowie High and Wichita Falls High. There were twenty-six schools entered in the Interscholastic meet. Other high ratings won by the Burkburnett High School band this school year are the sweepstakes in competition at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair, Iowa Park, in September; a division 1 rating in marching in the Interscholastic Marching contest in Wichita Falls in November; 1st place in marching competition in the Jacksboro Music Festival in March and at this festival a 2 plus in concert playing and a 2 in sight reading. Mr. James C. Wickersham, director of the Burkburnett band, has been director of the band program of the Burkburnett School system for the past four years. McClure and Siber Rate are very versatile in their activities. Pat (McCabe) McClure has been drum major of the high school band for two years. During her first two years of high school, she was majorette. This is her third year as a student conductor. For her entries in contests in twirling solos and ensembles and clarinet ensembles and student conducting she has been awarded eighteen medals. Richard Siber, who plays first trombone in the band, plays both the trombone and baritone. He is also an excellent piano accompanist. He has received a number of superior ratings for his entries on baritone and trombone solos and brass ensembles. This is his first year as student conductor.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ALTOONA, PA., Mirror: "A doctor contends that people will be shorter in the next hundred years. Aw, maybe they will reduce taxes before then."

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, Express: "Just as soon as everyone is covered by social security we will be back to just where we started. The only difference is that our money has been taken away from us by the government and only part of it given back. And it is only a short step to that point where everything can be taken by the government and just enough to exist upon is given back. There is a nasty word for this situation—Socialism."

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J. PRESS: "The continuing battle against man's relentless enemy, cancer, must be waged increasingly. You can help by your contribution to keep research at top speed."

FRANKLIN, IND. REPUBLICAN: "Profits are the economy's insurance policy against mal-adjustment and failure. They are no idle plaything but a vital reservoir to be tapped with great care, for the sake of both a business enterprise and the country it helps to sustain."

HIGHLAND, ILL., NEWS LEADER: "In these days a depression would be a period when people do without what their parents never had."

MITCHELLVILLE, IOWA, INDEX: "Time was when people thought a great deal about flood control, thinking that it required huge multipurpose dams costing an incredible sum of tax money. One authority says that big scale flood control, in case after case, can be better effected at vastly lower cost, by small upstream dams. And the whole theory of upstream flood prevention can be expressed in a phrase, catch the raindrops where they fall. The big dams are wanted for other purposes than flood control."

It's Inventory Time For Homeowners

Today fire will strike 800 homes. It struck 800 yesterday, and it will strike another 800 tomorrow. That is the average figure, for every day in the year.

Many of these homes are seriously damaged, many are totally destroyed. To make a bad matter worse, a very large percentage of all homeowners are woefully uninsured. Their insurance policies may have been adequate when issued years ago. But they are no longer so, because of what inflation has done to values.

According to the experts, this situation is particularly serious in insurance on personal possessions—which simply means the thousand and one things within the walls of your home. If that is true in your case, and if fire strikes, you will get the money for such insurance as you carry, but it won't begin to meet your loss.

Luckily, the solution to this problem isn't difficult. Step one is to make an inventory. Take each room separately and list everything in it. Put down the replacement cost of the article; estimate its useful life, and deduct the percentage of use already obtained, based on that useful life. Then you will have a generally accurate picture of current value.

When that is done for every room, add up the total and compare it to your insurance in force. The chances are that you'll be in for a shock.

The next step is to see your local insurance agent. He knows how to provide the insurance you need—both on possessions, and your home itself—at the most reasonable cost.

SITTING DUCKS

When you tour a strange city or even a section of your city in which you don't drive frequently, the odds are you become a sitting duck several times during your visit.

A sitting duck, according to traffic engineers and safety experts, is a motorist sitting helplessly in the middle of a traffic lane and wide open for a wreck.

Unfortunately, in some cities there is nothing strange motorists can do to prevent such accidents. Seeking the name of a street, a motorist will slow down, roll slowly into the intersection and then look frantically for the street name sign that will tell him where he is. While he's looking, he's a sitting duck.

Street name sign seekers are most dangerous at night. They must spend more time looking for street name signs in the dark, and, they are not as easily seen themselves by other motorists.

Fortunately, traffic engineers and safety experts in some cities have found a solution. No longer are you a sitting duck when you visit such towns as Fort Smith, Ark.; Austin, Tex.; Tulsa Okla. Madison, Wis.; San Francisco; Chicago; Phoenix, Ariz.; Salt Lake City, Utah, and Detroit.

In these towns street name signs are easier to see. They are reflective, visible from much greater distances at night.

You'll be glad these cities save you from being a sitting duck, and you'll wish every city did.

MORE TROUBLED SOULS

In pleading guilty to the second of six counts in the indictment charging them with spying for the USSR, Jack and Myra Sobel have escaped the possibility of execution. Their counsel, who intimated that they had been victims of "the long arm of Russia," forced into espionage to protect their parents in the USSR, said: "They told me they wanted to recapture their souls for the first time since they came to this country. They are anguished individuals, suffering from experiences they had gone through before they emigrated to this country and since."

Following this "recapture" of their souls, the Sobels spent forty minutes before a special grand jury investigating Russia espionage. It is hoped that they did their best to make amends to the country that gave them its trust and honored them with citizenship, and further, that whatever their sentence may be—their decision to confess the truth will be a moving example to others who have betrayed us willingly or not.

Krush Removes Temptation

Young Russians are to be freed, beginning next year, from the necessity of paying two to eight weeks wages a year for Government loan certificates. But few of their parents, who have thus far kicked in 260 billion ruble (about $65 billion, US) are likely to live long enough to get their money back. Mr. Krushchev has just announced payments will be postponed for 20 to 25 years. No interest will be paid. And it could, of course, be unhealthy to ask for payment in 1977 or 1982.

In his statement, Boss Krushchev observed that "capitalists" would not understand the arrangement. But we can image the poor old souls, who have slaved all their lives with the dream of retirement to keep them going, will understand perfectly. By now, they ought to.

ON THE RIVIERA

Seen on the Cote d'Azur, this pretty Mediterranean miss wears a very French cotton playsuit, styled by Vincent. Exemplifying the manner in which cotton has captivated fashion leaders of the international set, the outfit is in vivid red and white checks, trimmed with what the designer calls black "croquet" braid.

The club had a "42" party April 26th to entertain their families and hon or a charter member.

Mrs. J. D. Kennedy, food demonstrator, gave a demonstration on Use of low Calorie Cottage Cheese. She stressed the use of milk for bone builder.

Mrs. O. J. Cooper had charge of recreation and Mrs. P. S. Swinford won the door prize.

Refreshment plates were served to eleven members and one visitor, Miss Lura Spencer.

Cooper Club Honors Mrs. W. P. Rogers As Homemaker of Year

Cooper club of the Friberg-Cooper community would like to honor Mrs. W. P. Rogers as home maker of the year during National Home Demonstration Club week April 27-May 4th. Mrs. Rogers is a charter member and helped organize the club in 1941. She was the first president and since then has served as vice president, secretary, treasurer, reporter and has served on every committee in the club since then. Mrs. Rogers always raises a good garden and cans enough food to last them thru the year and has food left to share with their friends and neighbors. She raises chickens to eat and she and Mr. Rogers have their own milk, butter and eggs. She also raises beautiful house plants. Mrs. Rogers keeps an accurate record of all money taken in and spent as well as a daily diary. She has gone to two sewing schools given by the HD agent and makes many of her clothes. She has made draperies for her home this year. But with all her household duties she still finds time for the sick and bereaved. When there is a friend or neighbor sick or in sorrow, Mrs. Rogers is there with food or a pot plant she has grown in her own home. If for some reason she can't get there, one can always expect a card.

Mrs. Rogers is a member of the Kemp Bible Class at the First Presbyterian church and has held many offices in her class. She is a worthy matron in the Eastern Star and is active in community affairs. She is chairman of a committee, Improving Health conditions and services, in the Friberg-Cooper Community organization.

Even though Mr. and Mrs.

Rogers do not have any children of their own, they have time to love other peoples children and be friends to them.

Time of the Twister

Springtime is tornado time. In the unstable transition from winter cold to summer heat, great masses of cold and warm air collide. When the heavier cold air is forced above the lighter warm air, funnels sometimes form to relieve the topsy-turvy situation. This is the twister.

SOME 800 TORNADOES boll up each year in the United States. When they strike, local civil defense and the Red Cross speed to the rescue.

Spring is the time for a special weather eye to the tornado-spawning southwest. Last year, for instance, every major tornado occurred between February and May. On one day—April 3—four giant twisters killed 30 persons, injured 415 and caused an estimated $13,700,000 damage.

There is no way to prevent a tornado. But early warning, proper precautions and speedy rescue of victims can save lives. In addition, disaster funds administered by the Federal Civil Defense Administration can provide emergency repairs and restoration of vital community facilities when Federal assistance is authorized by the President to augment State and local efforts.

YOUR HIGHWAYS BY JAY SCOTT

Watching television saved a 44-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y. man's life—and if you will just read on it may save your life someday, too.

One Sunday night this winter the man, Alwyn Barnett, watched the "Loretta Young" TV show. The story dealt with a couple trapped in their car by a fallen high tension wire. Mr. Barnett noted that they had to remain motionless or be electrocuted.

Several weeks later Mr. Barnett was driving behind a Brooklyn trolley-bus when the trolley pole broke. The overhead 550-volt wires dropped onto his car.

The TV story immediately flashed into his mind. He jammed on his foot brake. He was afraid to touch the metal handled emergency brake.

He was facing up a slight incline, and for 40 minutes he sat motionless with his foot on the brake. As people gathered, he shouted to them to keep away.

Finally a crew shut off the current—removed the wires from his car—and Mr. Barnett went on to work unhurt.

SHORTS: There are 35,000,000 automobile radios in the U.S., reports the radio advertising bureau. Over 2000 miles of high speed expressways have been built in the United States since 1951.

There is no vehicle foot proof enough, no road wide enough, no curve gentle enough, for the drinking driver, says a Yale University alcoholism researcher.

We have started on the spring fever rampage the last few days and it must have been a carry over from the Easter holidays. It will not take so very many days to get over the fever rampage from the looks of a few test that have been sifting thru the past two or three days. It is very difficult to think about working so very hard the last few days, but then we realize that it will not be so very long until the summer vacation will be here, and it becomes necessary to put forth a more determined effort to do all that it is possible before the present school year drops into history and lose a lot of time that appears to be very unimportant at the present time but is most precious every day. We must realize that a day lost is a day lost forever and we will never have an opportunity to change a day that we have lived.

News From The Congress

By Congressman Frank Icard

Just this week the Committee on Agriculture has released a report of one of its Subcommittees on food costs trends. The report concerns itself to a large degree with the price spread between the raw farm products and the processed foods which we buy in the grocery store.

The report shows that in the last ten years for instance, food prices have increased 16% while the price the farmer receives for the raw material has declined something like 14%. During this ten year period the average city family has increased its expenditure for food by $500 per year, and of this additional outlay that the city family has made for its food, 80% or $400 of it went for processing, transportation and distribution, and only $45 went to the farmer. It is the expressed intention of the Subcommittee making this study to seek ways to improve efficiency in the processing of foods and to increase the per capita consumption of agriculture products.

It is interesting to note that when the city family purchases a loaf of bread or cereal product they pay mostly for processing packaging and distributing, the product and that actually very little of the retail price goes to the farmer. For example, there is less than 3c worth of corn in a 22c package of corn flakes, and only 4c worth of wheat in a 28c package of crackers. The pound loaf of bread that sold over the country in 1956 at an average price of almost 18c contained wheat having a farm value of 2.6c in 1956 the report shows that the average city family spent $1500 for food. Of this amount $105 was paid to food importers and fisherman for imported foods and fish, and $465 went to farmers for farm produced unprocessed foods. The balance of $930 went for the processing, transporting and distributing of foods to the retail purchasers. The national food consumption by the average urban family was about the same in 1956 as it was ten years earlier however, it is interesting to see some of the trends in food purchases. The use of potatoes and cereals by city families during this ten year period showed a decrease while the use of livestock products increased and per capita meat consumption increased 8 percent.

One of the most effective ways of providing a permanent solution to the agricultural surplus problem is through increased consumption. Studies such as this one can be of immeasurable help in developing new and greater uses of agricultural products.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. Quin Baker of Quanah and Mr. George Salem and Mr. Abraham Shraham Shoukain of Munday.

Prospects for a grain crop are very good at the present time. Grain in all sections of the county is good. Many farmers are needing some sunshine to cut alfalfa. The alfalfa crop is the best in several years.

Home gardens in the county are very good. Farmers are urged to check their gardens for insects and spray when necessary. The insect count is very high this year.
