Trash Dumpers Can Draw Fines Up to $200.00

Those who have dumped trash along the highways, or might be tempted to do so in the future, are warned that they can be fined up to $200.00 for such offense. The Commissioners Court will pay $100.00 to any one reporting the dumping of trash and rubbish along any highway, if the information leads to conviction of guilty persons. A farmer Southwest of Burk Burnett caught some one dumping trash in the bar ditch near his farm. He knew the identity of the offenders, but refrained from reporting them. GRASS ROOTS OPINION

KANSAS CITY, KANS., PRESS: "It is common sense that there must be a limit to the upward price spiral, else a loaf of bread will demand a wheel barrow of currency as it did in Germany after World War I."

CANTON, PA., INDEPENDENT-SENTINEL: "To all those students graduating from either high school or college—we say, without qualification, that the United States is still the land of opportunity. It is true that taxes are higher than they were a few decades ago, but it is also true that jobs are more plentiful, and earning power much greater."

ROSEBURG, ORE., NEWS-REVIEW: "The Hells Canyon project has become an exceptionally good political propaganda vehicle. This issue has been played out of all proportion to its economic factors—Although the differences between the proposed construction plans are of comparatively minor importance, the project puts the principles of public and private power in direct opposition to one another."

FREDONIA, N. Y., CENSOR: "Mao-Tse-tung is now reported to have admitted that 800,000 people were liquidated by his regime up to 1954. The news seems cold in print. But it should be dwelled upon. . . How many regimes in all history have executed as many as 800,000 human beings?"

OLYMPIA, WASH., DAILY OLYMPIAN: "News of an influenza epidemic sweeping the Far East formerly would have caused grave apprehension on this side of the Pacific, for infectious diseases are no respecters of geographical boundaries. Health authorities, believe there is no cause for alarm in the U. S."

"One reason is to be found in the magnificent advances of medical science and research."

When Will World War II End?

More and more people—including members of a considerable number of state legislatures — are trying to find out when the emergency created by World War II can be expected to end.

This is because of the "wartime-only" excise taxes on transportation, which amount to three per cent on freight shipments and 10 percent on passenger fares. They were designed to discourage unnecessary travel and shipping at a time when all the carriers were overloaded with war traffic, as well as to raise war revenue. The war ended about 12 years ago. The taxes are still on the books.

So far, the legislatures of 14 states have formally asked Congress to get rid of these taxes. It is pointed out that the taxes even discourage "seeing America First," in that they apply to travel within the United States but not to foreign countries. And they are a heavy burden on shippers—especially those whose products move a long way to market. For instance, the tax on a carload shipment of apples from Washington State to New York is $25.57—as against a tax of $8.04 on a carload from Virginia to New York.

On many items, the taxes are multiplied time after time, in that they apply to shipments or raw materials as well as the final finished products. They are thus a strong inflationary influence, felt by all consumers, at a time when inflation is again a serious problem.

They are special, discriminatory taxes—not regular taxes. They are taxes on the users of the commercial transportation service—not on the service themselves. They are a kind of tax which is defensible only when the country must deal with a real emergency, such as war. When will Congress decide that the World War II emergency has at last ended?

Support For The Sadlak Bill

Public response to the Sadlak bill (H. R. 6452) for reducing federal income taxes can be accurately described as overwhelmingly favorable.

This measure would cut the maximum income tax rate from its present 91 percent to 42 percent over a five year period. That period could be extended to nine years if necessary to avoid unbalanced budgets and deficit financing. Taxes in all the income brackets would be reduced by substantial amounts, and none would be increased. The government would still get all the revenue it legitimately needs—because, according to Representative Sadlak's carefully documented computations, increased tax revenue from expanding and stimulated employment and economic activity would more than offset the losses from rate reductions.

Hundreds of organizations in every part of the nation—civic clubs, chambers of commerce, commercial groups, educational institutions, etc., etc.—have gone on record in favor of the Sadlak bill. The list grows steadily.

Mr. Sadlak himself has said that his proposal "is primarily designed to moderate the tax impact on individuals and on small and growing business, and to eliminate the tax barrier to starting new businesses." It is an obvious fact that the present tax laws and rates work a greater hardship on the small business, with its limited assets, than on the long-established big business with its great assets. These laws, in other words, stand in the way of growth and success—and, therefore, deprive government of increased tax revenues that would follow growth and success.

One of the most colorful enterprises in American history, the Pony Express, existed for only 18 months—from April 3, 1860 to October, 1861. The war between the States ended it.

In 1 1/2-qt. saucepan mix pineapple, 1/2 cup of the water, lemon juice, sugar, salt and egg yolks. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to full, all-over boil. Take from heat. Stir in gelatin until dissolved. Chill until as thick as unbeaten egg whites. Put egg whites, remaining 1/2 cup of the water and INSTANT PET into 1 1/2-qt. bowl. Beat with rotary beater or electric beater at high speed until mixture stands in peaks. Beat in pineapple mixture gradually until well mixed. Let stand a few min., until mixture mounds when dropped from spoon. Put into cool coconut shell. Chill until firm.

Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation News
 Alfalfa is one of the better legumes grown extensively in Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District, according to James Park, Iowa Park soil conservationist. Park stated that alfalfa was best adapted to medium textured, permeable soils, but under irrigation and favorable moisture conditions had made satisfactory growth in tighter soils.
 Alfalfa is well adapted to irrigation where good drainage is provided and water ponding is of short duration. Under dry-land conditions and suitable soil it is grown in from 25 to 35 inch rainfall belt.
 Benefits from growing alfalfa are good hay crops, soil conditioner, adds organic material to soil, prevents wind and water erosion and may increase nitrogen in soil when some growth is returned to the land.
 Conservationists point out that alfalfa is affected by root rot and stands will be thinned where this is a problem. Legumes not affected by root rot or those that grow only in winter and spring should be used with grain sorghum, small grain rotation under root rot conditions.
 Wichita County ASC committee will approve increased seedings of alfalfa for federal cost-sharing and required fertilizer application should be made to the county ASC office at Iowa Park.
 Drills with fertilizer box attachments may be rented from equipment custodians of the Wilbarger-Wichita S C D, Fenton Dale, board chairman pointed out.

Larry Culley To Represent County

A county 4-H'er from the Reagan Junior High 4-H club in Wichita Falls will represent the county in the Boys Agricultural program this fall.

Larry Culley of Comden Gardens has been a club member for five years. The fifteen year old 4-H clubber has been interested in beef cattle, poultry, field crops and garden. This past spring saw Larry with some of the finest oats in the area.
 Larry recently received some broilers which he plans to enter in the broiler show at the annual Texas State Fair in October.

Mrs. Jerry Culley is helping her son as leader and is cooperating with the extension service in 4-H work.

Larry was the Wichita County public speaking entry this past spring at the district contest. He placed second to the eventual state winner.

As Mr. Culley is employed in Wichita Falls, Larry is in charge of the Culley farm. Despite his age, he has done a remarkable job. Larry has home improvement as a project and the Culley home is a show place in their neighborhood.

In June, Larry attended the district boys camp at Buffalo Gap and he also helped conduct the annual county camp.

Besides club work, Larry is active in the YMCA choir and is a faithful member of the Evangelical United Brethren church and is active in the youth work of the church.

Helping Larry with his project and leadership program are county agent, B. T. Haws and the county junior 4-H leaders.

If named state winner, Larry will be presented a $150. savings bond by the International Harvester Co.

Local Girls Win County Dress Revue

Two local girls teamed up to win the annual Wichita County dress revue held last Wednesday at the YWCA in Wichita Falls.

Talented Patricia Simons whose sister, Charlotte, had won the revue for eight years, was named overall winner and won the junior division for girls 14 years old and younger.

Shirley Van Huss of the Friberg-Cooper community near Burk was announced winner of the Senior girls division. By winning, Shirley will represent Wichita County in the 22 county district revue to be held in September.

Both girls were beautifully attired and looked as if they stepped out of the pages of some fashion magazine. Patricia modeled a princess style best dress of blue-gray cotton with pink flowers. The dress featured three quarter length sleeves, a full skirt and hand covered buttons. To accent her dress, Patricia chose black accessories and a pink sailor boy hat.

Shirley wore an orange and black figured dress of cotton with a stand up collar. The dress featured that early fall look with a sleeveless bodice and black satin trim. Shirley complimented her garment by wearing a small black hat and black shoes.

Miss Ethel Gesslin, assistant HD agent, announced the winners and presented the prizes. For winning, Patricia received a piece of luggage from Perkins and Shirley received $15.00 from McClurkin's.

Mrs. Charles Borland, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution who serves as sponsor each year, presented each girl in the revue a participation prize and the winners a gift from the DAR.

Also entering the revue from the local area were Sally Van Huss, Deanne Van Huss, Joan Van Huss and Linda Bailey.

The stage setting was a park scene complete with a white picket fence. Charlotte Simons, a sophomore this fall at East Texas, served as narrator this year and did an excellent job in describing the girls.

During the intermission, refreshments were served the guests by the DAR from a beautifully arranged tea table.

Also helping stage the annual event was Miss Thelma Wignes, county HD agent, Mrs. Marie West and Mrs. E. J. Simons, members of the planning committee.

Providing special music was Goldie Shock, soprano, and Ralph Swinford, accompanist. Mary Stewart provided the background music for the revue.

Over sixty parents and friends of girls 4-H in the county admired the girls as each sought to represent Wichita County in the 1957 district and state contests.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mrs. Nola Torpe were Mr. R. A. Enloe, Thelma Thorpe and Mr. and Mrs. Louie Thorpe and children, all of Ft. Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reed and children of Wichita Falls.

FROM WARM SPRINGS

FACT AND FANCY

by Loretta H. Renteria

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

The Miss Universe contest of 1957 is now history, and maybe I ought to let it go at that. However, in view of this year's complications, I feel like that whole matter could bear looking into rather carefully—and I could probably be prevailed upon personally to make the necessary investigations.

I realize, of course, that this is a broad field, and that it would require some time and effort, but when a cause is worthy, I don't mind making the sacrifices.

What started me thinking was all the fol-de-rol that occurred when it was revealed that Miss USA had prevaricated about her marital status and Miss Universe had fibed about her age. Now never again will anyone be able to say that figures don't lie.

Beauty contest judges are used to being thrown curves but never before have they back-stopped such lulus as this year's contest produced. One naturally wonders if maybe some of the others were hiding something, too, although from looking at their pictures you can tell they were not hiding very much.

Another complication is that the winner, a shapely Peruvian miss, won't be allowed to accept any of the lucrative personal appearance tours unless accompanied by her mother. This is the way they do it in Peru. So if Miss Universe's royal mantle looks a little lumpy, don't be alarmed, it's only mama tagging along.

What recommendations I would make after looking into this thing carefully, I don't know. My inclination right now would be to remove the marriage and age restrictions and go about the business of finding the most beautiful woman. If she can qualify even after having the misfortune of having a husband and two children maybe she's entitled to an extra star in her crown.

Anyway, if mama can go along why not hubby and the kids?

CASE REPORT: Lila Lee Latham, age 19, 135 Tarlton, Corpus Christi.

I came to the Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation on October 12, 1954, as a stretcher patient. I had had polio since June and little, if anything, had been done for me. I was pretty down hearted and hopeless. The first day I had P. T. I realized that GWSRF was for me and that they would do me good. I left in June of 1955 able to take care of most of my individual needs and to walk fairly well on my crutches and braces. While at the Foundation I carried two credits in the school and this May I graduated from W. B. Ray High School in Corpus Christi number 29 out of my class of over 570, with a 93.79 average for my sophomore, junior and senior years. This average afforded me the honor of being counted as one of the Permanent Honor Roll Graduates. Next fall I plan to enter Del Mar Junior College in Corpus with English as my major in connection with Special Education.

You may be interested in knowing that I have a report to make on your hypothalamus this week. On the other hand, you may not. You really should be, however, because it is not likely that your hypothalamus can either make or break you.

I'll confess that if you had come up to me a week ago and announced that you were going to discuss my hypothalamus, I would likely have said, "You better just leave my hypothalamus out of this." That is because I didn't even know what a hypothalamus was until the other day when I read an article in the newspaper on the subject.

To tell the truth, after reading the article, I still wasn't sure, so I looked it up. According to the medical dictionary, a hypothalamus is nothing more or less than ventral subdivision of the diencephalon," which I would have known, of course, if I had only stopped to think.

For some time scientists have been aware that the center of the brain has a section known as the hypothalamus, but according to this newspaper article, they are just now beginning to discover what a power-packed piece of equipment it really is. It appears now that it is the boss of the body, regulating heart beat, breathing, body temperature, emotions and even appetite.

In other words, when you get a good case of jitters, doldrums, tired blood, or cold feet, you can probably trace it right to your old hypothalamus. If you're fat and flabby because you can't keep your calory-picking claws off the creamed potatoes, you can mighty well lay the blame on you-know-what.

Until such time as the scientists complete their report on the hypothalamus and what, if anything, can be done about it, I submit the following lines of verse entitled "The Hypochondriac's Lament"
My body is bent, appearance shoddy.
The pains are countless in my body;

Burkburnett Couple Married 50 Years

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bedford of Burkburnett was recently celebrated in their home on North Harwell Street.

Mrs. Bedford was formerly Miss Fannie Strickland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Strickland of Wise County, Texas.

The couple were married July 28, 1907 in Decatur, Texas, in the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. Kirkendall.

They moved to Burkburnett in 1927 where they have since made their home. Mr. Bedford is a retired farmer.

The focal point of the bountiful dinner table was the beautiful three-tiered wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Bedford have seven children, 21 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

All of the children were home for the celebration with the exception of one daughter, Mrs. Juanita Farquhar of Grandfield. They were Guy, Bennie and Jackie of Burkburnett; Garland and Mrs. Faye Bird of Breckenridge and Mrs. Ruth Taylor of Dallas.

Thirty-eight relatives and friends attended the dinner.

Norman Duke of Chickasha, Okla., was a Burkburnett visitor Thursday and Friday.

Alas! I can but moan and cuss My aching hypothalamus.

One of the many services provided patients at the Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation is dental care. A completely equipped dental unit was provided in 1947 by Texas dental societies and their auxiliaries.

Each Thursday, Dr. Eugene Lauraine, Gonzales dentist, spends the day at the Foundation and is kept busy checking the condition of all patients' teeth and performing such dental work as is required. There's no extra charge made for this service.

From the Office of Lyndon Johnson

The Senate has passed the so-called civil rights bill, and in so doing, it has justified the faith of the American people in its ability to handle issues on the merits and not just on the politics.

As the bill came to the Senate, it was a confused mixture of vague ideas and bitter desires to "punish" the South. It was sectional legislation, and effort to gang up on one part of the country.

It revived long dead Reconstruction statutes. It authorized the use of troops to enforce "civil rights."

It threatened to deprive men accused of crime of the right to a jury trial.

The Senate refused to be stampeded. It insisted on going over the bill line by line; page by page. The debate did not split on sectional lines. Senators examined the measure as serious men seeking to solve a serious problem.

Senator Anderson, of New Mexico, and Senator Aiken, of Vermont, took the lead in knocking out the reconstruction statutes. Senator O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, insisted that the jury trial was too vital a right to be by-passed.

One of the most effective jury trial speeches was made by Senator Pastore of Rhode Island. Senator Mansfield, of Montana took a firm stand against the Reconstruction statutes.

Americans should always be grateful to these men. They are dedicated to the cause of civil rights. But they do not believe that legislation should be designed to punish one section of the country. They do not believe that any right, civil or otherwise can be advanced by sacrificing other rights, like the jury trial.

The bill in its final form represented reasonable legislation. It was national, rather than sectional, legislation. It eliminated the more ardent "civil" partisans. But reasonable men recognize it for what it is: that honorable men could support.

And its enforcement provisions applied only to the right to vote. Texans have recognized the right to vote. They supported the bill.

First dictionaries were by the Assyrians and Egyptians to explain, not to signs.

Automatically

with an All-Electric HEAT PUMP

Cool your home in summer . . . warm it in winter . . . with one central system that uses only air and electricity!

To make your home cool as a mountain breeze, the Heat Pump operates on the same principle as conventional refrigeration-type air conditioners. It extracts heat from indoor air and pumps it outside. In winter, the Heat Pump automatically reverses itself. It uses heat extracted from outdoor air (even in below-freezing weather) to keep you warm and comfortable indoors.

All you do is set the thermostat, and the Heat Pump does the rest — summer, winter and between seasons. It switches from cooling to heating or back again automatically — even within the same day or same hour — to maintain the temperature you select.

The Heat Pump also filters out dust and pollen, circulates fresh properly-conditioned air to every room. Walls, woodwork and curtains stay clean longer, too, because the Heat Pump uses only air and electricity.

Investigate the advantages of the all-electric Heat Pump for your home or place of business. Come by our office or write us. We'll be glad to answer your questions.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner.

Epidemic of Asian influenza certainly lay siege this fall and winter. It is possible to make this fall and winter because the State Department laboratory isolated the specific virus. Many more cases are being studied and they will undoubtedly be reported.

Like all influenza, this is a highly communicable strain. Symptoms include a sudden fever lasting from one to six days, chills, aches and pains in the back and joints, sore throat and a cough.

In the Far East the attack rate has been extremely high—about one of every five persons being affected. The death rate so far has been comparatively low—two deaths per 100 cases.

Cases experienced in Texas thus far have been relatively mild. But there is no assurance that the virus will not become increasingly virulent as it spreads from person to person.

Military experience indicates that the vaccine is 70 percent effective. Therefore, thoughtful people will get themselves immunized as soon as possible after the vaccine is available.

The State Dept. of Health will be unable to offer influenza vaccine for general distribution. Physicians will be able to purchase the material directly from commercial drug outlets.

It entered the United States through a West Coast port. The first case in Texas was diagnosed in a Boy Scout who had attended the Jamboree in Valley Forge last month. Since then sporadic cases have cropped up at various points throughout the state.

Like all influenza, this is a highly communicable strain. Symptoms include a sudden fever lasting from one to six days, chills, aches and pains in the back and joints, sore throat and a cough.

In the Far East the attack rate has been extremely high—about one of every five persons being affected. The death rate so far has been comparatively low—two deaths per 100 cases.

News From The County Agent

Fish can't live without oxygen. At this season of year, says B. T. Haws, county agent, oxygen depletion in farm fish ponds often cause fish to die. Haws suggests that fish pond owners secure from the county agent a copy of B-213, Farm Fish Ponds, for information on summer pond management.

Texas beef producers are reminded that the annual Beef Cattle Short Course will be held at Texas A and M College, Aug. 12-14. Major emphasis during the meeting will be placed on reproductive performance, fertility of beef bulls and estimating carcass characteristics of value to the state's beef cattle industry will also be discussed. Interested cattlemen are invited.

Beginning Sept. 1, 1957, the cost of fishing licenses will be increased slightly. The additional revenue will enable the Game and Fish Commission to increase its work program by about 25 percent and will generally benefit Texans interested in better fishing.

Weeds, such as goatweed, ragweed, partridge peas, sunflowers and others, do not particularly add to the beauty of the farm or ranch but their abundance this year will certainly add to the hunters bag in the form of more doves and quail.

The seeds of this year's bumper weed crop will be available to birds in late summer and through the long winter months ahead. The number of quail which will survive the critical winter period will largely be determined by food availability.

The farmer or rancher who protects some of his weeds, especially those near low growing permanent woody cover, will probably have a good population of birds through the winter. Those who are "clean" farmers will likely be looking for other places to hunt when bird seasons get underway.

Buddy Bowles has been returned home from the General Hospital in Wichita Falls following major surgery. He will return to the hospital in two weeks for a checkup and possibly more surgery.

Texas-Oklahoma Development Ass'n

Every town in the 26 county area in Oklahoma and Texas that comprise the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma development association is anxious to bring industry to your town.

John Crow of Electra, President of the organization states that his organization is endeavoring to schedule programs that will benefit the membership. The organizations last meeting held in Waurika was reported to have been the best in the organizations history. They had members from the Texas and Oklahoma Highway Commissions who talked on the roads of the two states.

Monday, Aug. 19, at 10 a. m. the association will meet at the American Legion Hall in Archer City and will have two outstanding speakers on the subject of "Industrial Opportunities."

Lee Paine, industrial economist with the Texas engineering experiment station, Texas A and M College, College Station, Tex., and C. W. Ferguson, acting regional director for the small business administration with headquarters in Dallas.

Paine has been a leader in industrial development in the State of Texas, has directed research and written reports on why many products are not being produced in Texas. Each year he takes an active part in the industrial clinic held at Texas A and M.

Mr. Ferguson will have information on how business men can take advantage of the service offered by Small Business Administration.

The afternoon session will be devoted to a question and answer session. Everyone will be invited to ask questions.

The meeting is open to the public and everyone is invited to attend. It is the desire of President Crow that all towns are represented.

John Rains, Manager Texas Electric Service Co., Archer City is in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Dinner will be served at the building.

Crow states that this is an opportunity for every town in the area to find out what industry requires, and how small Business administration held industry.

A large attendance is expected

Odd Fellow And Rebekah Ass'n To Meet At Vernon

The Lower Panhandle Odd Fellow and Rebekah Association will hold its 49th annual session at the County Auditorium in Vernon, Thursday, Aug. 22nd. Approximately 200 delegates are expected at the meeting. Registration will begin at 9 a. m. under the direction of Mrs. Mina Key of Vernon.

Mrs. Lucile Wakley, also of Vernon, will be in charge of the open program which will start at 10 o'clock. Hall Dycus, Seymour, President of the Association, will be in charge of the business session.

During the afternoon, reports will be given by the lodges in the Association. Officers, in addition to Mr. Dycus, include Mrs. Willcoxson, Childress, 1st vice president; M. P. Pybus, Vernon, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Thelma Chandler, Seymour, Secretary; Mrs. Pauline Isberto, Electra, Treasurer; Mrs. Katie Smith, Wichita Falls, Chaplain; Mrs. A. Z. Fowler, Electra, musician; Mrs. Irene Seymour, Wichita Falls, marshal; Miss Daisy Bob Vantine, Quanah, Junior Past President; Miss Myrtle Russell, Electra, reporter.

Archer City, Chillicothe and Estelina.

New Fishing Law To Benefit Texas Fisherman Sept 1

A new Sports Fishing License Law which increases fishing license fees becomes effective Sept. 1, 1957. The additional revenue will enable the Game and Fish Commission to increase its work program by about 25 percent and will generally benefit Texans interested in better fishing.

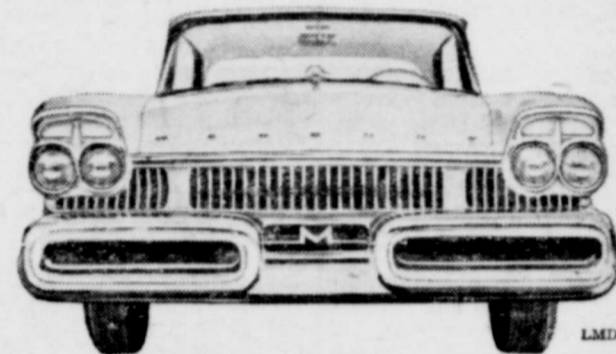

The new law states, in effect, that it shall be unlawful for any person to fish in any waters of this state without first obtaining a fishing license, according to Ed Cooper, wildlife conservation specialist.

The exceptions to this law, says Cooper, are persons under 17 and over 65 years of age, or member of such persons immediate family when fishing upon property he owns or upon which he resides; and persons fishing with trotline, throw line, or ordinary pole or line having no reel or other winding device when fishing in the county of his residence. No other fishing license shall be required of a person who holds a commercial license issued in this state, adds the specialist.

The new law differs from the old one in ways besides fee charge, points out Cooper. Unlike the old law, the new one is not concerned with the type of bait to be used. Another difference is that the license fee is the same for Texans and out-of-state residents. The new law which requires salt water anglers to be licensed and charges a lower fee to non residents, paves the way for a reciprocal licensing program with some of our neighboring state, concludes Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Ray Matthews and Rhonda of Palenstine have recently moved to Burkburnett to make their home. Mr. Matthews will be employed by the Magnolia Co. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Matthews of this city.

TELEPHONE TALK

by C. A. Deuschle, Manager

WONDERFUL WORLD

It's a wonderful world we're living in. Modern day science is making it easier every day to do even the simplest things in life. I read the other day about an oven that will cook a whole meal in minutes—electronically. And there are television sets which can be carried easily from room to room, and radios that fit into your pocket.

The telephone company is keeping pace with modern times, too. Take the telephone itself. We've got wall telephones, hang-up telephones and portable telephones—the kind that you can "plug in" wherever you like.

And we've got telephones with a volume control which can be regulated for low, medium or high—the kind which is especially helpful for people with impaired hearing. There are telephones in eight decorator colors, too—besides black.

But that's only the beginning. Our "Speakerphone" permits the user to talk with both hands free since it's equipped with a microphone and loudspeaker.

A new and popular time-saver is the Answering and Recording set. This machine answers calls while you're away, and records your caller's message.

Those are just a few of the items that are available today, and you can expect even more new ideas in the future. We are keeping your telephone service in tune with modern living.

HOT WEATHER TIP

Plenty of people now days are trying to beat the heat by staying outdoors. With backyard living so popular, I'd like to suggest that you allow your friends a little more time to answer the next time you call.

We suggest letting the telephone ring ten times—that's about a minute—before you hang up. That way, the person you are calling might find it easier to get to his telephone to answer.

If you spend lots of time outdoors, you'll appreciate this little added courtesy when friends call you, too. Nobody likes to make a mad dash when the telephone rings, only to find there's no one on the line.

SPEED YOUR CALLS

Many of our customers have found out that their calls go through a lot faster when they call by number. In fact, we think you'll discover they go through twice as fast that way.

If you don't know the number, the operator will be glad to obtain it for you—then jot it down for use later on. Blue Books are just the thing to keep your numbers in, too, and they are available without charge at the telephone business office.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Two years ago, a sudden intense fire in Minnesota made a pile of ashes out of a thriving motor repair business. The fire not only consumed the plant, but most of the owner's life savings. According to the newspaper accounts, "the insurance money was not nearly enough to rebuild the business." The doors were closed permanently.

The owner decided on a vacation before starting to look for a new opportunity. While touring Utah, he caught "uranium fever" and began prospecting. When he was sick from drinking poor water and nearly broke financially, he collapsed on a rock. Luckily, it was "hot". He filed claims on the area and sold out for $9,000,000. His name: Vernon J. Pick.

Perhaps fire may strike your property and do many thousands of dollars in damage. With that prospect in mind, you should either (1) carry plenty of insurance or (2) be prepared to find uranium. Either way you'll come out all right.

We will leave it to your judgment whether you wish to depend on luck or insurance. But, if you choose the insurance course, may we help you to determine the proper amount?
