AN EDITORIAL

A Thousand Times No

By grapevine and by direct pipeline, we learn of a move to consolidate the four road precincts of Wichita County in one unit, headed by a county roads manager, or some other title of significance with a salary to match. It is further proposed that all road building and maintenance machinery be pulled in and operated from one location. The location for storing all this equipment is not mentioned, but we presume it would be "centrally" located—in Precinct 1, Wichita Falls. This hogwash has the same merits as some of the federal grabs. The current policy seems to be to centralize everything. Get the seat of authority just as far from the people involved as possible.

There is no county manager who can look after the needs of the people of Precinct No. 2 as well as our own commissioner. He is in our midst all the time and knows our problems best. And another thing. We certainly do not want to integrate our precinct funds with those of the other precincts.

When the last county-wide bond election was passed, for the purpose of issuing bonds for the purpose of buying right-of-way, Burk Burnett voters went along with the proposal, although our precinct did not necessarily need the additional money. At that time, the proposal was made that all the money be put in one fund, "to be used as and where needed." Our commissioner, and those from Iowa Park and Electra flatly said no and stayed with it. The money was divided on a pro rata basis, the only fair way it could ever be divided. Let's keep it divided from now on.

Precinct 1, Wichita Falls, has spent nearly all its right-of-way money—one million plus—and still the estimates are that only one-half of the necessary right-of-way has been acquired. Where in the world will the money come from? Another centralization idea could take care of that, at least temporarily. Why not issue some certificates of indebtedness? This money would also be prorated to the four precincts. Of course we don't need or want the money, on which we would be paying 4% interest. Under this arrangement, there is one bright side—perhaps our precinct could find some way to transfer its certificate money to Precinct 1. In that way we would be relieved of the worry of trying to figure how and where to spend it, but we would be permitted to continue paying the 4% interest!

Of course we sympathize with our friends to the south. They really have growing pains. But, so long as they try to funnel all the traffic in north Texas right into the middle of Wichita Falls, their money worries will continue and the pains get bigger and bigger. There is every reason to believe that the money already spent in Wichita Falls for right-of-way would have been more than enough to buy a super-duper six or eight laner highway to completely ring the city. Then by carefully planning one-way streets in the congested areas, and doing a little widening and paving here and there, the problem could have been licked for years to come.

Ralph Swinford Takes Top Individual Awards

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., DAILY TIMES: "If a man wanted to lay a pretty good wager, he might go to one that on that future day when some man-made rocket lands on the moon, the French will be without a government."

CHESTER, S. C. REPORTER: "An article in the current Aviation Week magazine blows the wraps of secrecy off an important long range radar installation set up in Turkey by the United States to keep watch on Russia's missile program. In an accompanying editorial the magazine's editor justifies this seeming breach of national security by remarking that the radar observation program was a secret from no one but the vast majority of the American people."

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Since its establishment in the United States in 1910, the Boy Scouts of America have touched the lives of 26,000,000 American boys and their adult leaders. Chartered by the Congress of the United States, the organization seeks to promote the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues."

WINNEMUCCA, NEV., HUMBOLDT STAR: "By the time a man is fixed for life he has about worried himself to death."

STERLING, ILL., DAILY GAZETTE: "Whether the nation's taxpayers really bit into the seat of government spending or merely came out of the 1957 Federal budget battle with a piece of cloth in their mouths still remains to be seen."

QUINCY, MASS., PATRIOT LEDGER: "The United States as a nation and educators as members of a profession must re-examine their own attitudes towards scientists and the educational process. Mathematics may not be for the millions but more pupils would take it if Americans put greater value upon it. There will always be some 'eggheads' who will study science out of innate curiosity."

Recruits Needed — Not Apologists

In the consternation following the Russians' launching of their original sputnik, and the confusion-compounded resulting from the successful orbiting of the 1,100 pound encore with its sacrificial canine passenger, there were some pretty rash statements about the desuetude of American scientists, if we had any.

Whether or not our rockets could have hung a satellite in the sky six months before the Russians, or whether we merely had the wrong people in charge of our Operation Vanguard, is beside the point. American scientists need no apologists. Their contributions to the ever-increasing volume of human understanding are impressive in any company. Further, our best scientific minds are concerned with "basic research" and have been for many years, even though our leaders in Washington appear to have just discovered there is such a thing and are urging us to get going.

As a single example in the vast field of scientific inquiry, we would like to mention the Gordon Research Conferences, affiliated with the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which command the participation of the world's greatest technical minds. Langmuir, Urey, Seaborg, Baekeland, Carothers, are but a few of the great who have participated.

The conference began twenty-six years ago when the late Dr. Neil E. Gordon, professor of chemistry at Johns Hopkins asked a handful of other researchers to join him at Gibson Island in Chesapeake Bay for informal summer discussions. These meetings became an annual event, outgrew Gibson Island and moved to New Hampshire, where, presently, conferences are held on 36 different subjects at three different schools over a 12 weeks period each summer.

Applicants, who are carefully screened, with particular reference to their contribution to a scheduled subject, come from the academic world, from Government and industry. Young or old, the requirement for participation is scientific attainment, and for those who have something to give, financial assistance is available if needed. They gather to exchange fundamental knowledge on the frontiers of science, for "cross-fertilization" of ideas, philosophies, backgrounds. They seek no immediate solutions to practical problems, yet out of the basic research which is life to these men, have come new materials, new medicinals, new approaches to metallurgy, therapy, nutrition and the use of nuclear energy.

What we need today, even as much as expansion of basic research, is more, many more young people with science degrees who can sit at the feet of the great scientists we now have. But we can not have the number we need until we teach Young America once again to do its sums in grade school.

Meet Floyd — A Busy Marten
Introductions are not necessary for most of you know Floyd Marten, quite a busy "bird." Floyd is in charge of telephone installation and repair work here in Burk Burnett. He has been an active citizen of Burk Burnett for 9 years, and has 15 years service with the Telephone Co. In addition to his work with the Telephone Company, Floyd is Secretary of the Rotary Club, Director of the Chamber of Commerce and Boomtown Rodeo Association, as well as being active in other civic work. Fishing is Floyd's favorite hobby, and other spare time activities include farming, ranching, and house building. Despite the full schedule of his work and civic activities Floyd is always ready to help in any community project. And he is quite proud of Burk Burnett's new, modern dial telephone system, and his part in furnishing a good telephone service.

A Thought For Thanksgiving
Remember that old, Thanksgiving song, ". . . over the hills and through the woods, to Grandmother's house we go."
A short, sleigh-ride was all it took to get to Grandmothers in those days. Today, it seems as if everyone goes so far away—even when we travel by car.
This Thanksgiving, why not go "over the river and through the woods" the modern way—by telephone.
True, we won't be there to enjoy that wonderful golden brown stuffed turkey, the cranberry sauce, homemade bread and rolls—but we can gladden the hearts of those dear to us with a phone call.
Long distance is a wonderful, personal way to visit during the holidays. Low Station-to-Station rates make long distance economical, too. And remember, call by number—it's twice as fast.

Color For Christmas
Christmas may be a month or so away, but the way it flies its not too early to begin making out your gift list.
To match this colorful season of the year, telephones in color are an ideal gift—particularly for relatives or friends who have only one telephone in their home. A handy additional phone in color will be a gift they will remember all-year long as it makes their telephone service more convenient, more useful and more colorful. Why not call the telephone company today to learn how easy it is to give a telephone in color.

Shabby Roof Spoils Effect Of New Paint

Cast a critical eye at the appearance of your roof before you paint your house.

This is the advice of New York color stylist Beatrice West, who says: "Putting a new coat of paint on a house with a shabby, worn-out roof is like wearing a fur coat and diamonds with dungarees. They just don't go together."

Miss West, who color-styles thousands of new and remodeled homes every year, says she always examines the roof of a house first before deciding on a color scheme because:

"Nothing spoils the appearance of an attractive home more than a weather-beaten roof. This is especially true when a house has been freshly painted. The new paint actually accentuates the shabbiness of the roof."

If the roof of a house shows signs of wearing out, Miss West says, she usually recommends a new roof of asphalt shingles in a color which will provide a basic shade for other colors on siding, trim, and accent spots.

"As for the added cost," Miss West says, "I explain that when a roof begins to look worn, chances are it will no longer be serviceable in a year or two. The family will have to reroof then, anyway, and they might as well do it now and enjoy a completely color-styled house instead of doing the job only halfway."

The many colors available in asphalt shingles are a big help to color stylists, Miss West says. "For example, by choosing a roof of blended green with a fleck of yellow in it, I can pick up the yellow for an accent color on doors, window boxes and shutters, while the trim and windows can be painted in a harmonizing green."

Another trick with roof color, Miss West adds, "makes houses look taller or longer and lower. You simply reroof a tall, awkward-looking house with a deep, dark color and it appears lower. The opposite is true of a small house that seems to be built too close to the ground. Light-color roofing gives it a lift, making it seem taller and larger."

THANKSGIVING LUNCHEON HELD TUESDAY, NOV. 12th

The lovely home of the Howard Hendersons, northwest of town, was the scene of the Thanksgiving luncheon held on Tuesday, Nov. 12, by Circle 2 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church.

Turkey with the traditional trimmings was served at noon by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Blake Browning. Autumn dried and floral arrangements adorned the luncheon tables enhancing this festival. Mrs. John Rigby offered the invocation.

Immediately following the luncheon, Mrs. Bill Haws gave the devotional; which was a short story entitled "The Thanksgiving I Don't Forget" written by H. Gordon Green. This story brought to mind the days long past when our homes were not so comfortable and our tables not so laden as paralleled to our living conditions at this time and the bountiful comforts we enjoy.

Mrs. C. J. Morrison led the missionary lesson, "The Mind that was in Christ." This explained the churches responsibilities to the students at college; the work being done by Christian colleges; and the increasing need for more and better facilities for worship and recreation at student centers.

The circle leader, Mrs. Blake Browning, presided during the business meeting. The Christmas party will be held in the home of Mrs. A. W. Newman, 428 West College, December 10. The gift exchange will be limited to $1; and the Christmas basket will be prepared.

Members attending were: Mesdames A. W. Newman, Bessie Scruggs, J. P. Lawler, Hugh Jones, W. H. Holt, Oscar Melton, Beulah Hall, Paul Browning, O. E. Melton, J. H. Rigby, Bill Haws, Seeley Galloup, B. H. Alexander, Howard Henderson, Blake Browning and C. J. Morrison. Guests were: Mesdames Phillip A. Carpenter, Clara Bell, Glen Bear, Opal Royce and W. P. Boydston from Wichita Falls. (The Rev. Leon Turner dropped by in time for desert.)

Mrs. B. N. Cauthorn made the arrangement of the month using wild flowers and material from the road side, dried and treated. It made an arrangement to be used over a long period of time and was very attractive.

The gracious hostess served a lovely tea plate using the Thanksgiving motif. Fifteen members were present and one guest, Laura Louise Tevis and the hostess.

MRS. D. H. SMITH HOSTESS NOVEMBER 21 BURK GARDEN CLUB

Burkburnett Garden Club met November 21st in the lovely new home of Mrs. D. H. Smith. The party rooms were beautifully decorated with her own yard flowers.

President, Mrs. Walter Riley, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Tom Britton was leader for the day. Mrs. A. R. Bunsline brought a very valuable and interesting lecture on Texas' no. 1 problem, water conservation. She emphasized the irrigation methods in the north-west, the overflow of water in the middle west and the water problems of our own city. Mrs. R. C. Tevis discussed the water conservation on our home grounds, stressing that we always water thoroughly but not too often and conserve our own supply.

Mrs. Glen Bear, chairman of the Junior Garden Club work, talked on their wonderful flower show in the youth center recently and the proposed projects for the remainder of the year. She is doing a great work with this group. The club voted to set aside $45.00 to be used in this work if needed.

Mrs. J. D. Grizzle and Mrs. Sue Cantrell had charge of the program for the day.

Refreshments of Cokes, coffee, cake and candy were served to Mesdames Loren Wooten, Sue Cantrell, Mildred Dodd, Lela Clemmer, Helen Grizzle, and Oma VanCleave.

An increase in 1958 hog production is in sight because the 1958 spring pig crop will be much larger than the 1957 spring crop, and it now appears that the 1958 fall pig crop will also likely increase.

Market analysts warn that more than a moderate increase in the 1958 spring pig crop could lead to an unfavorable price situation in the fall of 1958.

What To Expect in 1958

Market analysts think that spring farrowings in 1958 will show a minimum increase of 7 percent and they could be larger. Prices to farmers will react as they have in the past.

In 1954 the spring crop increased 10 percent and prices to farmers fell 23 percent the following Sept.-Feb. In 1955 the spring crop increased 9 percent, and prices to farmers fell 29 percent the following September -February.

Social Security Information

Widows between the ages of 62 and 65 were given preferred treatment under the 1956 changes in the Social Security Act. While wives and women workers also can receive their social Security payments as early as 62, their filing before reaching 65 will result in a reduction in the benefit payments. Widows, on the other hand, can file at 62 without any reduction in the amount of their payments as widows.

To assist his office in the prompt processing of her application, Mr. Tate suggested that the widow bring with her certain proofs. She should have her marriage certificate, proof of her date of birth and a record of her husband's social security account number. If she has these proofs with her when she calls, Tate reported that the time required for getting her first check to her can be cut by as much as several weeks.

News From The HD Agent

Many people do not know that cleander flowers, leaves and stems are poisonous to man and animals, says Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent. Occasionally a child is killed by eating the cleander. When cleanders are the only green plants available, animals may nibble them and be destroyed.

Prevent accidents by sticking sharp-pointed scissors into a cork before putting them into the sewing basket or bag. The cork will also serve as a safe place to stick loose needles and pins.

Woodenware needs immediate cleaning after use, but never put it in water to soak. In fact, use as little water as possible. When woodenware becomes roughened, smooth with sandpaper, then apply wax or varnish.

When you're moving a heavy piece of furniture, you can prevent floor scratching by putting heavy socks on furniture legs.

Keep track of loose snaps in the sewing basket by snapping them together on a piece of cheese cloth.

Handy with a hammer and nails? Even experts sometimes miss and hit a finger. But that's easily avoided by sticking the nail or tack through a strip of paper and holding onto the paper as you bang away. Once the tack or nail is placed in the wood, the paper strip can be easily torn away.

Discard electrical bulbs when they have darkened. Even though they may still burn, they have lost their efficiency.

Coat the bottoms of ice trays with a light film of salad oil and they won't stick to the freezer shelf. Remember to freshen them occasionally by washing in suds and rinsing thoroughly.

3500 Newspapers Carry Dodge Ads

Newspaper displays featuring a large picture and a brief but competitive, sales message mark the announcement advertising campaign of the 1958 Dodge.

According to W. D. Moore, director of advertising and merchandising for Dodge, the ads are running 400 lines in size, and are being carried in still greater frequency than ever before in more than 3500 daily and weekly newspapers throughout the country.

Moore said the newspaper ads comprise a large portion of the announcement campaign, which also includes magazine and radio schedules, as well as television advertising on the Lawrence Welk programs. The campaign uses the theme, "They are catching on, but they can't catch up."

"We feel that the large picture and brisk, brief message carry our story effectively to the local prospect," Moore said. "We consider the ads a distinct departure from ordinary automobile advertising, and we are sure they will attract many readers."

The post-announcement radio commercials, which began Nov. 8th, capitalize on the success of the firm's unique selling campaign, which was based on the humorous presentations of local radio personalities, Joe Gentile and Ralph Binge. The newspaper advertising also represents a departure from standard practice, featuring large illustrations and short, conversational copy.

Moore said the newspaper ads will be about 400 lines, but will run with greater frequency than in the past.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner.

The curtains looked dingy, so she decided to clean them in a pan of gasoline in the bathtub. She forgot about the pilot light on the floor furnace just outside the bathroom door.

She was buried just a couple of weeks ago, this usually alert woman who was accustomed to doing her own dry cleaning. It happens to someone somewhere practically every day.

Many victims of home dry cleaning accidents, like the woman above routinely used flammable liquid to clean curtains or clothes. Others were beginners, motivated by economy or convenience.

Most of them were ordinarily sensible, with awareness of the peril of gasoline or naphtha or other dry cleaning preparations. One moment of carelessness to which we are all prone turned them from happy homemakers into sad statistics.

Explosions are only one of several risks run by the thoughtless do-it-yourself operators. Some cleaning agents are flammable; others give off injurious vapors; still others are harmful to human skin. All could be lethal if taken internally.

So inflammable is gasoline that to keep it stored at home is to openly court disaster. Gasoline emits vapors to form explosion mixtures in the air. A transient spark from a light switch or cigarette and the mixture may be ignited.

Vapors may flow in an invisible stream for 200 feet from the point of use, flashing back and exploding the main container when touched off by flame or spark. Static electricity generated by synthetic or silk being cleaned is fully capable of igniting the fumes of gasoline or naphtha.

Care must be taken to avoid inhaling concentrated vapors, since the common ones, excluding turpentine, are anesthetics. Some, after prolonged exposure are injurious to internal organs.

If gasoline or naphtha can dissolve dirt and grime on fabrics, obviously these same fluids are able to cut through the natural oils or human skin.

Miss Beverly Meador, bride-elect of J. B. Riley, Jr., was honored with a bridal tea Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ed Carpenter of Coahoma. IT'S THE LAW In Texas

Henry Jones decided to sell his home for $15,000 and when a buyer was found, the question arose as to how the buyer should finance the purchase. Henry had a mortgage on his house, with a balance of $10,000, and the buyer suggested that Henry permit him to take over the mortgage payments, paying Henry the difference of $5,000 in cash. This, argued the buyer, would save him the trouble and expense of getting a new loan himself and so Henry agreed. Several years after the deal was closed, Henry received a letter from his bank advising that the payments on the mortgage were far in arrears and that he would have to pay or a lawsuit would be filed. Henry was surprised to learn that he was still liable on the original obligation, and that if the property could not be sold at foreclosure to bring enough money to pay the mortgage balance and the costs, he would have to pay the difference.

Of course, Henry might have sued his buyer for his loss, but the chances would be that the buyer is insolvent and "judgment proof", so that Henry could not collect a judgement against him.

When a mortgage is assumed by a purchaser of real estate, the financial institution still holds the original note which was signed by the seller. If Henry had contacted his bank and obtained a release of liability, Henry would, of course, have been cleared of all further responsibility of the obligation.

Henry's bank, however, would have no reason to release Henry and might be reluctant to do so unless the bank's investigation disclosed that the buyer was at least as credit-worthy as Henry. The bank may also have had additional problems concerning releasing Henry from the obligation if the loan was of the FHA or GI type.

The danger of permitting an assumption of your mortgage loan may, therefore, be considerable, especially in view of the fact that real estate markets may fall after a period of years so that the real estate itself may not be of sufficient value to pay the mortgage note in the event of a default by the buyer.

RALPH YARBOROUGH'S Washington Report

"Give the people light and they will find the way." This is a basic precept of Democracy. So believing, this is to report to you that our country is in the most grave danger that it has been in since the first months after Pearl Harbor.

Last week I witnessed the missile briefings and firing at Fort Bliss and at White Sands Proving Grounds.

Our armed services have perfected a missile virtually 100 percent effective against pilot operated aircraft. But this offers little consolation because we have not created an effective weapon against guided missiles. This, without question is the most vital problem that faces us at this minute. It's the reason

I urged President Eisenhower to call Congress in session immediately. I believe that the earliest minute we can face this matter and speed up our research and development programs, the safer our country will be.

Many of you have asked me, during my recent fact-finding visits across the State, whether I believe taxes will have to be raised to meet the Russians' missile threat.

I believe the answer to this depends on the Administration.

If we have unguided service rivalry and typical helter-skelter Republican planning by the Administration, it might raise taxes.

However, if a missile administrator or director is appointed with authority to take control of missile development and coordinate the work, I believe our safety can be secured without additional taxes. One thing is sure: We cannot afford delay.

"Have you ever considered collision coverage?" I asked Mrs. Martel as we were reviewing her automobile insurance.

"Yes," she said, "I used to carry it before I moved here. But I took a chance last year and it worked out that I saved some money."

"That's true," I replied, "but how long do you think your luck will hold?"

I continued, "There's one advantage of collision coverage that you've possibly never considered. Suppose another car does $400 damage to yours. The driver says he will see that you get the money, but he fails to send it. Without collision coverage, you must attempt to collect it yourself. If he is out of state, then what would you do? For $400 are you going to make a trip across the country to file suit against him?"

"On the other hand, with collision coverage, you merely report the accident. The company pays you the $400 less the deductible amount of your policy, probably $50 or $100. Then the company takes over. Since it has nationwide facilities, it can follow up anywhere. Naturally, if it collects the claim from the other driver, even your 'deductible amount' is paid to you. We have seen this actually happen—time after time."

"That convinces me," Mrs. Martel said. "Include collision coverage in my policy."

Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitati'n Foundation, Correct

Recently in a newspaper clipping in a Texas newspaper we saw a reference to the Gonzales Polio Clinic. Rather frequently we have noted the use of the name: the Gonzales Warm Springs Polio Foundation. This points up a common misconception among Texans, one which we earnestly hope you will help us correct by publishing this letter. The hospital's name is the Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation; it was formerly the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children.

While our patient load has been predominantly polio, the Foundation for many years has treated other crippling conditions. Today, as the Salk vaccine is proving its effectiveness, the emphasis is definitely shifting to non-polio cases—auto and other accident victims and those handicapped by other crippling diseases.

Of course, there is much yet to be done for polio victims. And while Warm Springs has no official connection with the March of Dimes, we can wholeheartedly substantiate their campaign appeal for funds to continue this vital work.

However, the point we at the Warm Springs Foundation wish to make is simply that the non Polio cases treated, and there are more all the time, do not have a source of financial assistance such as the March of Dimes. This means that Warm Springs' own welfare program needs more and more voluntary contributions so that it may continue to provide this service.

No crippled child who can be helped is ever denied admission for financial reasons at the Foundation. Now crippled adults, too, can receive treatment on a welfare basis—another phase of the operation which calls for more funds.

We will be pleased to provide more details to anyone sending an inquiry to Warm Springs, P. O. Box 58, Gonzales, Texas.

SHORT ITEMS

Light-Color Roofing 'Bounces' Heat Away

More and more architects and remodeling specialists across the country are specifying white or light-color asphalt shingles for homes because of their heat-reflecting value.

Asphalt shingles in white, silver-gray, or one of the light pastel shades, literally "bounce" much of the sun's heat away instead of permitting it to radiate into the house.

Used in conjunction with a pitched roof over a ventilated attic space and thick mineral wool insulation in the attic floors, light-color asphalt shingles are an effective aid to summer comfort.

74 POOLS PLANNED

A new development of homes planned for Palm Springs, Calif., will have 74 swimming pools.

USE FOR PIANO BENCH

An old piano bench with hinged top makes an ideal room. About 8 inches should cut off legs to make the bench a good height. The compartments in the top holds crayons, coloring books, scissors, and equipment.

BUYERS GO TO SCHOOL

The Home Builders Association of Metropolitan Washington, D. C., conducts a "school" for home buyers where potential home owners can learn financing, space for family and other problems of purchasing a house.

TAPE PREVENTS MARRIAGE

Rubber electrician's tape strip from an old inner wrapper wrapped around the head hammer prevents marring surface of wood when removing nails.
