GRASS ROOTS OPINION

HARMONY, MINN. NEWS: "Since 1939, railroad wages have increased 187.4 percent, and the price of materials and supplies used by the railroads have gone 158.18 percent. But the average revenue received for performing one ton mile of freight service increased only 42.2 percent in the same period.

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "... we could call to the attention of all and sundry who think the government can give something for nothing the recent news report that a concern in New York is selling $20 gold pieces for $52. in our current money."

WILMINGTON, N. C., STAR: "The latest phase of the (McClellan) committee's probe into the union's affairs involves New York City's $50 million annual garbage-hauling industry. In Teamster tradition, the garbage haulers, belonging to the union, have been charged with squeezing out all other competition, using gangster methods."

HANOVER, KANSAS, NEWS: "Care and caution on the part of drivers and walkers would decrease the death toll greatly. Expect the unexpected, and don't walk or drive automatically. Thank! After all, you don't want to daydream your life away!"

REYNOLDSVILLE, PA., STAR: "It is hard for the historian not to draw a parallel between us and the Romans. The couch of ease and entertainment slowly cut the ground from under that empire. History has a way of repeating itself. We don't believe we want it to do so at our expense. But the price to prevent it is going to be high, we are going to have to realize that football scholarships and a hundred thousand fans in stadiums; the biggest consumption of liquor and cosmetics in the world; the drive for a four day week and some more of our luxuries are a little beside the point when there is a possibility that we can lose the whole kit and kiboodle because we are too occupied in bread and circuses."

How To Win Benson Quiz Show
 SAY "YES" AND POCKET $10,000

It sounds fantastic, but it's going to happen. And since it is so fantastic, it naturally is another give-away scheme brewed in Washington.

Beginning Jan. 1st in four states, the United States Department of Agriculture is going to make long-term contracts with farmers to take their land out of production and get up to $10,000 a year for doing it.

This should cause the greatest back-to-the-farm movement since Columbus discovered America. Imagine being able to sit in the comfortable rocker on the front porch and watch for the mailman to bring soil bank checks from the federal government.

The test of the new plan is to be made in Illinois, Nebraska, Tennessee and Maine. Why the poor farmers in Texas and other states have been left off the trial run of this gravy train hasn't been explained. Maybe the Republicans have some choice political contests coming up next year in the four favored states.

Under the plan, farmers in the four states will be able to make an offer to the federal government on what they will accept to take their farms out of the production of crops and plant them in grass and trees under the conservation program of the soil bank plan. The farmers will be able to sign up for three, five or ten years.

To make the project more attractive, Benson and his fellow schemers in the Department of Agriculture have decided to raise from $5,000 to $10,000 a year maximum payments which can be made for taking farms out of production.

Talk About Utopia.

The federal government created the problems which now exist in American agriculture. The social planners with their government control programs have caused a chaotic mess. Instead of trying to get back to the old tried and true plan of supply and demand, the social planners think everything can be solved by giving away more of the taxpayers' billions.

The government's subsidy programs for farmers have resulted in enormous surpluses being produced. Using more billions of the taxpayers' hard-earned money, the government has bought up the surpluses. It spends huge sums to store them. And while the government was buying up the overproduction through the Department of Agriculture, other agencies of the government have been spending billions on reclamation projects, to get new land into production. Then the Eisenhower administration came up with the truly brilliant idea of reducing production—the government would pay farmers handsomely to take their land out of production.

But the original soil bank give-away wasn't going fast enough to suit Benson and his crowd (the surpluses still are piling up), so Benson now apparently has decided to compete with the big television shows. Since he has tax money at his command, he can make the quiz sponsors look like pikers.

It doesn't take any genius to win Benson's give-away. All it takes is the effort to fill out the application blank for getting $10,000 a year while sitting in the old rocker.

Color Goes to Your Legs

This autumn, stockings become the important color link between hemline and shoe. Fashion decrees a monochromatic or "all-in-one coloring" look... one tone from head to toe. Recognizing this fashion importance, Bur-Mil Cameo Hosiery has introduced a wardrobe of stockings color-coordinated to complement your favorite outfit. Soft pale grey, subtle claret, a serene bluish tint, burnished brown—even a sophisticated gun metal tone so dramatic with black. These new colors create just a shade of difference, enhancing the costume effect.

NEW YEARS EVE SERVICES CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

The annual fellowship meeting at Calvary Baptist church will be observed New Years Eve night again this year as in preceding years. This has come to be an event that many look forward to with great joy. For on this night, not only do the members of this city gather for a time of spiritual feasting, but pastors & churches from neighboring towns and distant points meet with us to worship the Lord in preaching and singing and testifying. Everyone who reads this has a warm welcome to come and enjoy these services with us. They will begin at 7 p. m. and close out at midnight.

The ladies of our church will prepare sandwiches, pies and cakes and at about 10 p. m. we will have an intermission to enjoy the refreshments for the body and a time of social fellowship.

This will be a good way to end the old year and begin the new year—in the House of the Lord. Welcome.

Will Sandra get to be a nurse?

You can tell—just by watching her take care of baby brother—that Sandra has a sure and gentle touch, much patience, and a tender concern for anyone who needs help.

"She'll make a wonderful nurse," you'd say. Yet, she'll probably never get the chance.

Sandra, you see, is not getting the education she deserves. She lives in a community where there is a serious shortage of classrooms, teachers, up-to-date textbooks. Result? Inadequate schooling for many of our nation's children.

Let's be sure this doesn't happen to the children in our schools. Join with other good citizens to back up our School Board, attend PTA meetings and school conferences.

Poinsettias Take Boughs

What would Christmas be without poinsettias? They are as much a part of the holiday scene as holly wreaths and Christmas trees, lending a warm and festive touch wherever they are placed. Because of their great beauty and popularity, they make perfect Christmas gifts for business or personal friends — to give or wire any place in the country or overseas. Alyn Wayne, official stylist for the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, has designed here an arrangement of white poinsettias and fir boughs suitable for home or office. Particularly note the fact that the arrangement is of cut poinsettias, disproving the general opinion that once cut, they die. The secret is in the handling before arranging: Soak your plant heavily overnight, then cut and dip immediately in alcohol from 5 to 10 minutes. This seals the ends, and your poinsettias should last in arrangement from 1 to 3 weeks, depending on the woodiness of the stem. Try it yourself.

Billy: Scientist in 1988?

Billy's a bright, likeable kid. Seems as though he's always pattering around his basement doing experiments with his chemistry set. You might say he's the neighborhood's budding young scientist.

Yes, Billy could probably be a famous scientist some day. But right now, his chances are pretty slim.

In Billy's community there is a scarcity of classrooms, of teachers, and of good textbooks. Result? Billy is short-changed on his schooling.

Let's be sure that this doesn't happen to the children in our schools. Join with other good citizens to back up our School Board. Make it a point to attend PTA meetings and school conferences.

YEAR END TAX TIPS NUMBER 1

Act Now To Trim Your Federal Income Tax Bill

This is one of a series of four articles on federal income taxes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.

You still have time—but not much time—to do a little year-end tax planning and assure yourself of the best possible break when you file your tax return next April.

Millions of high, low and middle income taxpayers, realizing that careful planning of their financial affairs between now and the first of the year can pay off handsomely when the tax collector calls next spring, have already begun to establish those extra deductions and special exemptions that will reduce their tax bills.

You can do this too, but you must act no later than December 31.

To alert you to the tax-saving steps you may be able to take before the end of the year, this newspaper is printing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. These articles—if you keep them and follow their advice—can save you money.

Evaluate Income Prospects

If you are like most individual taxpayers, your goal at this time should be to level out income for this year and next year. Needless or careless bunching of income in either year can be costly. The sharp rise of today's progressive tax rates—which you can assume will be as high or possibly only slightly less in 1958—makes it much better to have an income of $8,000 in each of two years, rather than $6,000 in one and $10,000 in the other.

Taxpayers who are in danger of being whiplashed from one tax bracket to another because of wide fluctuations in their 1957 and 1958 income should act before December 31 to try to average out their taxable earnings. This can be done by careful shifting of income and deductions from one year to the next.

How to Shift Income

For example, if your two-year income estimate shows that your income for this year will be significantly higher than next year's, you should take immediate steps to throw as much income as possible from 1957 to 1958. At the same time you should speed up the payment of all expenses that can be deducted on your 1957 return. By concentrating deductions in the higher year and switching income to the lower, you will keep your taxes for both years in the lowest possible tax bracket.

Should you be faced with the more desirable problem of a sizeable increase in your 1958 income, reverse this procedure—delay expenses and speed up income if you can.

Timing income and deductions to gain a tax advantage is not too difficult for the millions of taxpayers who file returns on the basis of cash receipts and cash disbursements. "Cash basis" business and professional men can shift income by simply delaying or speeding up the collection of accounts receivable near the end of the year. Salesmen and contractors can do the same thing by extending or closing deals that may be pending in November or December.

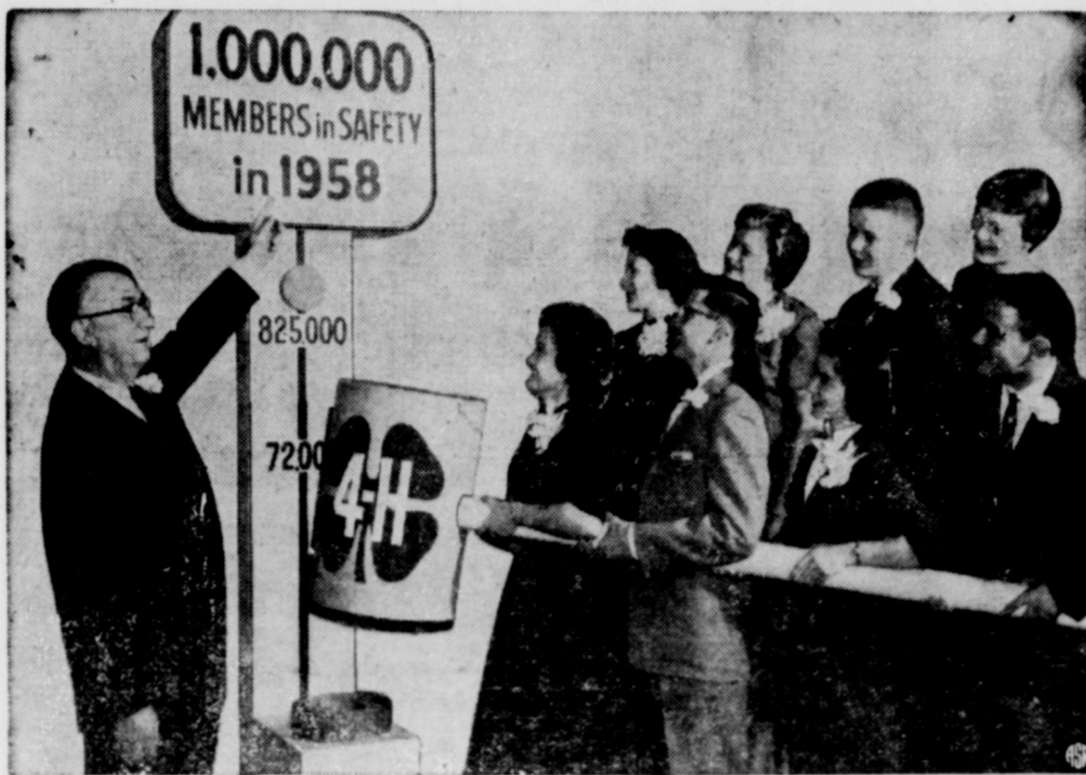

Special Income Situations

There are special situations in which it can be advantageous to bunch income in a single tax year. For example, a husband and wife can file a joint return to gain the benefits of income-splitting. Should one of them die, the survivor may file a joint return for the year in which the spouse died and also for two succeeding years under certain conditions. Thus, a widow or widower may profit by throwing more income into this year and less into next if his or her spouse died in 1955, since the privilege of filing a joint return will be lost in all cases in 1958.

If you are planning to be married in 1958, remember that the income-splitting privileges you gain will act like a rate cut for you. At $7,000 of income, your taxes will be $240 less than if you were single, assuming that you take the standard deduction and claim only exemptions for you and your wife. For this reason, young couples planning marriage might consider postponing income from 1957 to 1958, while accelerating deductions from 1958 to 1957.

4-H Winners Vow To Ring The Bell For Safety

DETERMINED TO BOOST THE NUMBER of 4-H members actively participating in safety programs to the million mark in 1958 are these eight national winners in the National 4-H Safety Program. Here, they show Ralph W. Moore, Director of Plant City and Field Relations for General Motors, the dramatic rise from 72,000 4-H participants in safety when GM began its sponsorship of the program awards 13 years ago to the current participation of 825,000 members. Leading 4-H toward the "million in safety mark" next year will be these winners, each of whom received $400 college scholarships from GM. In addition, General Motors provides them and the other state winners all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Bottom row, left to right are Sylvia McCarty, 18, Myers, Ky.; Leonard Wertz, 17, McClave, Colo.; Marilyn Ellison, 17, El Reno, Okla.; Don Willis, 15, Mendenhall, Miss.; Top row, left to right are Sharon Mitchell, 16, Dixmont, Maine; Carolyn Kay Moore, 16, Fairview, Kans.; Ronald Powell, 16, Clark, Mo.; Christine Pasley, 17, Hillsboro, Ore.

FROM WARM SPRINGS

FACT AND FANCY

by Walter H. Ricketts

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

Well, the bowl games are up on us again, and the sports writers are having their final fling of the season at picking football winners. Maybe I shouldn't say this, but I'm about half glad that we're going to be through with winner-picking for a spell.

I maintain that gridiron winner-picking is completely overrated. A moron, if he put his mind to it can be a relatively successful winner-picker.

Here's the formula. In most of a given set of contests, one of the teams will have a better record, or early in the season, more experienced and better players. You pick these teams. Some of the games will be between teams with equal records so you flip a coin, play a hunch or go along with your personal prejudices.

Following this plan over the long haul and you will pick from 65 to 75 percent of the winners. That's about as good as the so-called experts do, and I see no reason whatsoever to hang on their words like they were Modern Day Prophets.

Let's apply the formula to the major bowl games coming up. We see two clear-cut favorites, so we pick Ohio State over Oregon in the Rose Bowl and Oklahoma over Duke in the Orange.

The other three are pretty much toss-ups so you flip a coin and you get Texas over Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl, Navy over Rice in the cotton, and Tennessee over A & M in the Gator. At least that's what happened when I flipped. If you don't like it, then you flip. Make it two out of three or three out of five, etc., until you get the teams you want. (If they don't win, then you can really flip.)

To try to prove that no special qualifications are needed for winner-picking, I asked my six-year old daughter, Robyn, to name her choices. (For all Robyn knows, a coach is a transformed pumpkin and a single wing is a poor excuse for chow.) Well Robyn is going along with Oklahoma, Texas, Rice and Oregon. When I asked her about the Gator Bowl she said she hoped Texas A and M would win, but she was picking Tennessee. I didn't ask her to elaborate.

The El Campo citizens last week became the 65th Texas newspaper to carry our Fact and Fancy column, at least where space permits. We are quite pleased with this nice acceptance of our small effort to inform our citizens regarding the worthy program at the Gonzales

Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation.

We are grateful to this wonderful group of editors and publishers and wish them an especially elegant New Year. And that, of course, goes for our patient readers, too.

Clogged Gutters Endanger House

Roof gutters clogged by falling leaves can be a potential danger to a house. If water standing in the gutters freezes, it can act as a dam which may cause water to back up under the edge of the roof and leak into the house.

Two safeguards against this are:
1. Keeping gutters clear of leaves and other debris.
2. Properly applied roofing. Recommendations for application of asphalt shingles, the most widely used roofing for homes, call for an extra layer of waterproof material under the shingles at the eaves.

This is an "eaves flashing strip" recommended for use in addition to the usual underlayment, metal drip edge and starter course of shingles, wherever there is danger of freezing temperatures creating ice dams along the eaves. When asphalt shingles are then applied according to specifications, the roof will have a long, trouble-free life.

MORALE BUILDER

A pretty coat can be a real morale builder on a rainy day. By Aquatogs, this cotton poplin coat features a bulky knit yoke, push-up ragland sleeves, and contour belt. It is Zelan-treated for water and spot repellency.

WA CAN KI WA CAMP FIRE

The Wa Can Ki Wa Camp Fire group met for their Christmas party, Thursday, Dec. 19, at the Youth Center. Mrs. Joe Davey and Mrs. Wood entertained the members with games and delicious refreshments.

After the games and business the girls exchanged gifts and each member was presented a gift from their leaders, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson and Mrs. Wood. Mrs. Wilson was unable to be there because of illness.

Eight members were present. Susie Parsons, Reporter

CONTINENTAL LOOK

Prominent on the men's fashion scene this fall will be this all-purpose cotton coat by Rain-fair. The coat, treated with Zelan for rain protection, has a plaid cotton lining and continental stand-up collar. It is washable and Sanforized.

A "How-To-Do-It" PAINT POINTERS

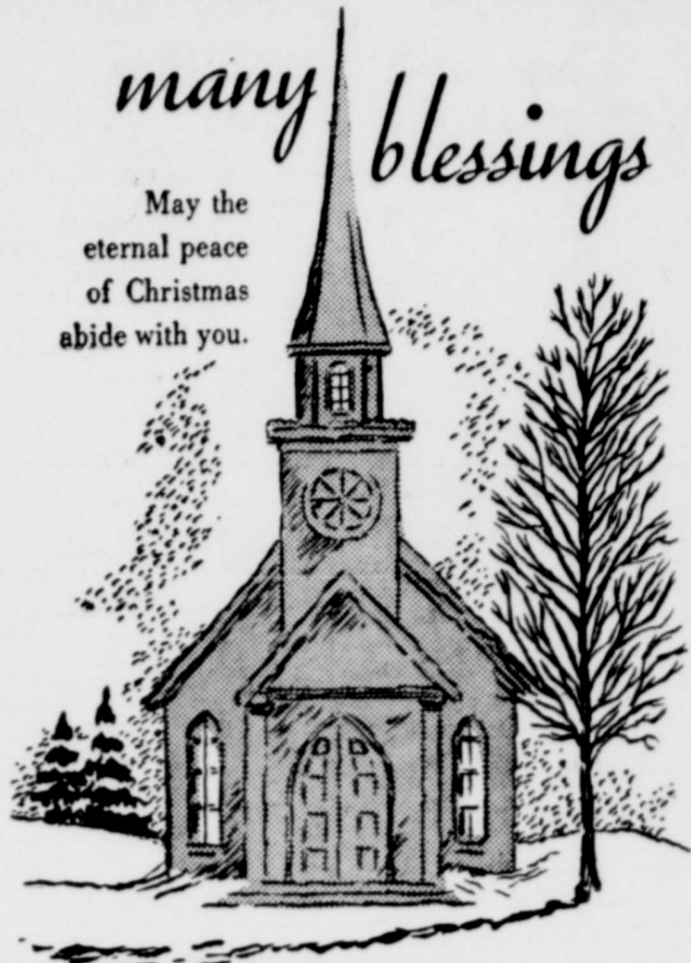

New wood requires special treatment. Before applying the undercoat, knots and sap streaks should be spot primed to prevent pitch-staining. According to Du Pont paint experts, the best widely available knot sealer is ready-mixed aluminum paint. Glossy areas on the bare wood should be sanded. Mildew stains also should be scrubbed with a paint cleaner followed by rinsing. Now a couple of "don'ts". Don't put oil type house paint on raw wood as a prime coat. There is a special primer made for this purpose. Don't add linseed oil to house paint. It will slow drying time and contribute to yellowing.

Tight Windows Save Heat, Reduce Drafts

Early fall is the time to check windows and exterior doors throughout a house to make sure they are functioning efficiently for the winter ahead.

A drafty house and high heating bills often can be traced to windows and doors which do not fit properly, or to faulty weatherstripping.

Old windows and doors can be replaced with units of ponderosa pine pre-fitted at the factory. These pass laboratory tests for tight fit and easy operation, and weatherstripping is precisely installed.

The clear ponderosa pine also is chemically treated to resist rot and keep shrinking or swelling from causing trouble.

Tommy doesn't know it—but the way things look now, he may not get that M.D. after his name. And that's too bad for Tommy, and too bad for us: Tommy's a kid who'd make a great doctor. Mrs. Will Teal Hostess December 19 Friendship Class

The Friendship class of the First Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. Will Teal, Dec. 19 with group two serving as co-hostesses for their Christmas party.

Mrs. Teal, president, opened the meeting. Mrs. R. P. Thaxton teacher, led in the opening prayer.

Mrs. H. S. Butts, vice president, presented a very enjoyable program. She introduced Mrs. W. B. Short, who gave Grace Noll Crowell's meditation on the Ministry of Service, stressing the beautiful service of the mother of Jesus as the wonderful and most beautiful example of motherhood.

Mrs. Weaver then told of The Hope of Christmas. She said though we live in a time of peril we should have this hope. Tho Jesus lived a very simple life, his ideals and words of hope have outlasted any material world. The great Roman Empire crumbled and its influence is almost nil, but not the hope of the world. Fear is the darkness within dispelled by the light or hope of the world.

Santa came and passed out presents from a beautiful tree. Mrs. Weaver presented gifts from the class to the teacher, Mrs. Thaxton; assistant teacher, Mrs. Parker; president, Mrs. Will Teal; Sec., Mrs. Kennedy; assistant sec. and treas., Miss Ella Billingslea.

Delicious Christmas decorated plates were served to seventeen members.

News From The County Agent

January and February, tree planting time in most parts of Texas, are nearly here. And there are lots of things that we should keep in mind if we get our orchard started in tip-top shape. B. T. Haws, county agent has several suggestions on how to handle trees upon arrival and how to prepare soil for planting. If trees cannot be planted at once, they should be "heeled in" by digging a trench wide enough to receive the roots. In covering the roots with soil, care should be taken to work the soil into three spaces where the roots are massed together, otherwise there is danger of drying out. When planting in the field be sure soil is thoroughly prepared. Deep plowing is recommended and should be done in the fall or early winter at which time a cover crop may be sown. Broken or torn roots should be removed before the tree is set in the hole. Plant the tree the same death that it was in the nursery and pack the soil firmly around the roots. For more information on setting an orchard, contact your county agent and ask for information on orchard management. B. T. Haws, county agent that is time to have soil tests to be prepared for spring crop. Reasons he gives are: You plan your fertilizing program early, in some cases taking advantage of fall discounts. It is the guess out of what lime and fertilizer needs are for your land, you get ahead of the spruce and some cases fertilizer can be applied early. The following tests are run on all sample: organic matter, phosphorus, potassium, soil reaction and soluble salts. From these tests and information sent specialists can recommend lime and fertilizer needs for your soil. See your county agent. He will help with details on how to take the sample and give you an information sheet to fill in and send along with it. The do you spend for soil testing will be the wisest dollar you can invest in your land.

How good it is to know that at the Church or Synagogue where they made their sacred marriage vows, they can always find the help they need to keep these promises. STATE CAPITOL News

By VERN STANFORD
Texas Press Association

Christmas cheer abounds at State Capitol.

We mean the old fashioned kind of warm greetings and sun-drenched dispositions, mixed with just a touch of fun.

This is the week when state employees, from the Governor down, hold their annual Christmas program. School choruses in Austin share in the festivities with carol singing. The Governor brings the traditional Yuletide message.

Activities center around a smooth Christmas tree. It stands in the rotunda and stretches up beyond the second floor railing.

Each year at this time committees from the Texas Public Employees Association divide the responsibility of getting a sturdy, 35 foot cedar and decking it with tinsel and 432 multi-colored lights. It's a sight for the ages, as well as young and old among the Capitol's regular inhabitants. And it always makes the question "Where did they get it?"

But state visitors usually find that it must have been imported from another state. This year the Capitol receptionist firmly says, "The Governor came from East Texas one day bringing it as a boutonniere."

Capitol employees will be leaving for home, Saturday, for the holiday vacation, which begins Monday. They are due back on the job Thursday morning.

Texas statutes now prohibit state office from being closed more than two working days in secession. This is interpreted to mean that offices can be closed Christmas day, plus two more. However, some workers plan to take more time "on their own." Therefore skeleton forces will man many departments during most of the period between now and January 3rd.

GOVERNOR HITS MOSSBACKS

It's the people who want the state government to sit on its hands who pave the way for federal centralization, says Gov. Daniel.

In a speech before an Austin civic club, the Governor hit at the "mossback philosophy" of those who want to preserve the status quo in state government, especially in regard to spending money. They do more to undermine the cause of local self-government than the most vocal advocates of federal power, he declared.

Daniel mentioned school needs specifically. He said the state, not the federal government, should step in to help districts that can't pay for needed buildings.

Concern has been expressed by some over the complete draining of the State Treasury to enact the Governor's 52-point legislative program. Various estimates have been made as to how much additional tax money will be needed to make up deficits in 1959.

Daniel's apparent reply: "State rights and local self government cannot be honestly defended unless we are willing to accept the responsibilities which go with these rights."

MANFORD APPOINTED

Former House Speaker Durwood Manford of Smiley steps into the controversial State Water Board chairmanship on Jan. 1st. He will replace retiring board member H. A. Beckwith and will take over as chairman from R. M. Dixon.

SAFE AND SCENTED

This young lady has her bubble bath in a tub properly equipped with a vitreous china soap dish and grab bar nearby. The grab bar adds safety, too, since many accidents occur in bathtub areas where no convenient grab bar is installed. The combination soap dish and grab bar is but one of the many durable china bathroom accessories made by members of the Vitreous China Accessories Guild in a rainbow of decorator colors to harmonize with any bathroom decor. They are readily available anywhere through professional tile contractors and dealers.

Gov. Daniel said he felt that his appointment of Manford will bring harmony to the board. In past months the Water Board has been subject to inner dissension as well as considerable outside criticism.

Manford is a former chairman of the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools and was named just a few weeks ago to the State Industrial Accident Board. He will leave that position which will be filled by Judge Ned Price of Tyler.

WATER RESEARCH BEGINS

State Water Board says it is moving ahead "as fast as possible" on a water development program for Texas.

Legislation passed this fall authorizes the department to make a study and present findings to the next regular session. Report is to cover where and what Texas' water resources are, with recommendations on how they may be used to meet the needs of various sections.

Information seeking meetings have been scheduled with consulting engineers and with farmers and ranchers, according to present Board Chairman R. M. Dixon. A first assistant planning engineer, Isom Hale of Dallas, has been hired.

Some $200,000 of the engineering work will be contracted, said Dixon. Low salaries make it difficult to attract engineers to the staff, he added.

DILEMMA REMAINS

Whether a school district should follow state or federal law in regard to integration is still an open question.

A federal judge declined to rule on the issue for the Dallas school board. A state law, passed last spring, says a school will lose state aid if it integrates without a local election. A federal court has ordered Dallas

HOW FAST CAN YOU GO IN A COFFIN?

Next time you are tempted to step on it, ask yourself this question! Last year, 40,000 died on our highways. In 3 out of 10 fatal accidents, drivers were speeding. Obey speed limits. Drive safely.

schools to integrate Jan. 27th. Members of the Texas Attorney General's staff appeared at the hearing to argue that a lower federal court could not set aside a state law. Federal Judge William H. Atwell agreed.

But the order to intergrate remains, leaving Dallas and other districts which foresee a similar problem, without an answer.

SHORT SNORTS

Members of the Texas Commission on Higher Education met on Dec. 16th to discuss the role and scope of each of the 18 state supported colleges and universities. Also on the agenda was the development of financial formulas for use by the institutions in submitting money requests to the 56th Legislature.

E. E. McAdams of Austin will succeed J. M. Patterson Jr. as chairman of the Board Control. Judge L. H. Lewellen of Austin also was appointed to serve as a member of the board. Texas' major reservoirs now are 97 percent full, reports the State Board of Water Engineers.

There's enough according to estimates, to take care of two years without rain. Applications will be accepted until mid January from young men interested in becoming state patrolmen, says the Department of Public Safety. Needed are 150 men between the ages of 21 and 35.

A "better than ever year for the Texas oil industry is foreseen by Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson. He predicted Texas would produce a billion barrels of oil by the end of '57 and that revenue would be higher because of price rises.

Mrs. J. M. Goins Hostess Xmas Party Unity Garden Club

The home of Mrs. J. M. Goins was festive with holiday decorations when the Unity Garden club met Dec. 10th for its Christmas party. Mrs. C. A. Morgan and Mrs. George Hodges were co-hostesses.

Members were greeted by a snowman and beautiful lighted tree on the lawn. An attractive wreath adorned the door. The party rooms were decorated in the Christmas motif with an ornamented Christmas tree as the center of interest. The mantle featured an arrangement of glowing white candles, banked greenery and a madonna.

Mrs. J. D. Riddle reported for the therapy committee. Members were asked to decorate the wards at Sheppard Field Hospital and two groups volunteered to work. Mrs. J. M. Goins donated an arrangement for an iron lung patient. Gifts were brought for Christmas cheer for the hospital.

First place in judging of the packages went to Mrs. Carl Sutherland; 2nd, Mrs. S. M. Landrum and 3rd, Mrs. R. H. McPhail.

Extending A Great Discovery

Mention fermentation to most people, and they think of beer—or maybe sauerkraut. But to the great French scientist Louis Pasteur, fermentation was the key to a whole new concept of life—a startling insight which enabled him to lay the foundation of modern medicine. Just a hundred years ago, Pasteur plunged the scientific world into frantic controversy when he declared that fermentation is caused by living micro-organisms. Until Pasteur's discovery, most scientists believed that fermentation—which produces alcohol, lactic acid and many other important substances—was purely a chemical process. The yeasts or other "germs" found in profusion in the brews were regarded merely as accidental invaders. No one suspected that microbes were the very essence of the process.

The notion that living things too tiny to be seen without a microscope could cause wholesale chemical changes and produce new substances seemed an absurdity at first. Once scientists accepted it, however, it made them receptive to the idea that such minute creatures could also cause drastic physical changes in man and animals—Pasteur's monumental germ theory of disease upon which most of today's medicine is based.

Even today, Pasteur's work continues to guide scientists into new fields of research. Recently, distinguished scientists from all parts of the world gathered in New York for the Pasteur Fermentation Centennial, an event marking the anniversary of the publication of Pasteur's paper of 1857. The conference, chaired by Dr. James A. Shannon, director of the National Institutes of Health, was sponsored by Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., world leader in fermentation chemistry and antibiotic developments.

It was this study of fermentation which turned Pasteur a chemist by training and profession, to the study of the processes of life—a turning point with enormous consequences for the health of the world. Today, an entire branch of the chemical industry is based on fermentation, and from this industry comes one of the world's greatest boons—antibiotics. They bring Pasteur's researches full circle: the fermentation process he studied now helps fight the disease germs whose importance he established.

Mrs. Louise Ratliff Hostess Dec. 10th Bluebonnet Club

The Christmas party of the Bluebonnet Garden Club was held December 10th, in the beautiful home of Mrs. Louise Ratliff with Mrs. Maude Teal and Mrs. Lou Ethel Boyd as co-hostesses. A white tree trimmed with pink adorned the living room, and a white and pink color scheme was used throughout the house.

The guests were assembled in the lovely decorated den for a short business meeting. Mrs. Peggy Mathis gave a clever Christmas story.

Lovely gifts were distributed from the tree to everyone present. The dining table featured a lovely organdy cloth decked with ribbons from which refreshments were served to Mesdames Jean Alexander, Velma Bohner, Elizabeth Brady, Gail Butts, Hattie Burns, Mary Cecil, Earlyne Chambers, Hettie Gilbert, Elizabeth Gragg, Lorita Griffin, Betty Jackson, Bertha Johnson, Jo Ann Kennedy, Grace Markum, Peggy Mathis, Margaret McCabe, Zella Mills, Jessie Preston, Emily Houser, Florice Jeffers and the hostesses.

Grade School News

We are very busy making the last preparations for the yearly visit of Old Santa. We realize that he has been very busy trying to find out how nice all the small boys and girls have been this past year and how well each has tried to do the things that Mamma and Daddy have wanted done. We have all promised to do much better the next year and to do a lot better work in our classrooms when we get back to school after the Christmas holidays.

We are happy to have many of the boys and girls back in school after a very hard battle with the Flu bug. We also have some children out of school with the mumps. We are hoping that this will be a very limited number of cases that we will have around and in duration of the time that each will have to be out of school.

News From The HD Agent

Fatigue, too much food or not the right kind, tension and excitement, all are factors in lowering body resistance to the common cold. The holiday season ahead will be happier if you plan now to help your family guard against this health hazard.

Food makes a difference, reminds Thelma Wirges, county HD agent. Start family members with a good, wholesome breakfast every day. Follow through with simple balanced meals at noon and at night. Eat at regular times as much as possible. Reserve the sweet or rich foods for mealtime dessert. Keep in between meal refreshment bits light and nutritious. Fruits, fruit juices, crisp colorful vegetables served with special dips can be just as tasty and appealing as rich, heavy foods.

Tension and fatigue may be hard to control during the holiday rush. But proper food during the busy season will help keep resistance up.

Mrs. W. E. Karstetter, Park Area HD club president, surely makes good uses of her home freezer at all times, not just during the holidays. She keeps attractive, nutritious and delicious foods on hand at all times. No matter how many come in, Mrs. Karstetter can go to her freezer and have a meal in a matter of minutes.

In case your family has tired of the turkey and dressing, why not freeze them? They will be mighty good in a few days. This is how it is done: Leave in large compact pieces whenever possible. If frozen in small pieces cover with gravy or sauce to prevent stale flavor. Package in moisture-vapor proof containers. Freeze dressing separately. Thaw turkey frozen dry in the original wrapping in the refrigerator at room temperature, or by setting container in water. Serve cold or re-heat. Turkey frozen in gravy may be reheated in a double broiler, covered casserole or over direct heat. Place dressing, before it is completely thawed, in a greased casserole. Add a small amount of water, cover and heat at 350 degrees.

Social Security

You don't have to retire completely to start drawing social security benefits age 65," according to Ert Tate, district manager of Wichita Falls, social security office. Mr. Tate explained that the 1954 Amendments to the security Act permit earning to $1200 in a calendar year before any benefits are lost if you work in all months of the year. Even if you earn more than $1200, some payments be made if your total earnings for the year are not over $2000. Moreover, you do not lose benefit for any month in which you do not earn more than in employment or do not receive substantial services in self-employment, regardless of amount of your earnings in months of the year.

Tate pointed out that this vision enables the worker to take a part time job, one involving less responsibility. In this way, he can keep busy and the same time supplement social security benefits. He gets that when the time retirement comes, every worker read the easy to understand, let, "Facts About Earnings and Receiving Payments," which available upon request at social security office. It will show you exactly how your benefits will be affected if you continue to work. "Better still," he said, come to our office and we will be glad to discuss your particular problem with you in person. The Wichita Falls social security office is located at 421 Post office building, P. O. Box 1, Wichita Falls, Texas.

William Howard was the U. S. president to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.
