Capacity Crowd At C-C Banquet In School Cafeteria Last Friday

A capacity crowd of more than 300 gathered at the school cafeteria for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet last Friday night. Rev. Turner, pastor of the Methodist Church, presided over the ceremonies. Fred Ferraez, pastor of the Church of the Nazarenes, gave the invocation. Dinner music was furnished by Tony Aulds.

Special entertainment music was furnished by Mr. Mrs. Tommy Shaw of Santa Falls. He sang two numbers, accompanied at piano by his wife.

H. Lohoefer presented the outstanding citizens' awards. Mrs. Leo J. Foster received the outstanding citizen award as woman of the year. George Byerly, outgoing president, the man of the year. Burk Burnett Study Club was awarded a plaque as the outstanding club.

Mrs. Foster was recognized for her work at the cafeteria and with the school children. She has managed the cafeteria 13 years.

George Byerly was honored for his efforts in making the celebration last year a success.

P. A. Carpenter, president of the Burk Burnett Study Club, accepted the honor for her club. Work during the year for the center, Town Hall, S. B. Hospital, and the State Hospital earned the club its honor.

Chester Lauck, an executive of the Continental Oil Company, Houston, was introduced as principal speaker by Rev. Leon Turner.

Lauck, better known as Lum of the famed radio and TV shows, Lum and Abner took complete charge of the group and held their undivided attention throughout.

As was expected, Lauck had a good store of jokes, which he told expertly and at timely points in his address. On the serious side, Mr. Lauck showed deep concern about our enormous national debt. "We have dissipated our resources and opportunities and will leave children and generations unborn saddled with a debt they had no part in making. We may be playing into the hands of the plans. They have said we would let us spend ourselves to death."

Current Literature Club took charge of the beautiful decorations.

Captain Wright To Leave Feb. 10 For Germany

Capt. and Mrs. Weldon Wright and daughters, Karen and Margaret, of El Paso, Texas, arrived here last week for a visit with their parents, Mrs. Luke Warren and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wright. Captain Wright is scheduled to report to New York about Feb. 10th and from there he will fly to Heilbronn, Germany to assume his duties as Chaplain of the Army Security Agency.

Captain Wright has been stationed at Ft. Bliss, the guided missile center of the world, for the past year. He was executive officer to the post chaplain and administrative chaplain. He also supervised a non-denominational Sunday School which had an attendance of approximately 1,000. While at Ft. Bliss he was privileged to attend an atomic shoot at Los Vegas proving grounds.

During World War Two Capt. Wright served as pilot of a single engine plane in the Marine Corps. He served 3 1/2 years in the Navy and Marines. Following his discharge from active service he joined the Marine Reserve.

Mrs. Wright and the girls plan to stay here for a few weeks and then they will join the Captain in Germany. They expect to be in Germany about three years.

Burk Making Plans For 1958

The city of Burk Burnett grew some in 1957 and laid the groundwork for giant strides in 1958. Water, in the past one of Burk's biggest problems, is now plentiful thanks to an extensive water development program completed during the year.

Schools, business houses and churches were built, along with a record number of houses. The population is estimated at more than 8,000.

Burkburnett recently switched over to a new $235,000 dial telephone system recently installed. Corner Drug Store was remodeled and air conditioned.

Elevator Built
First National Bank was completely renovated and a new front added. Harlin Mills Grain Co. completed a huge elevator costing $215,000 making Burk an area wheat terminal.

But the most important project was the city work to lick the water problem. It included 20 new wells, 26,000 feet of 12-inch pipe, 17,400 feet of 16 inch pipe, a 160,000 gallon ground storage tank, a 2,000 gallon booster pump and 10,000 feet of six inch water main.

At the peak of last summer's hot season, Burk used 1,100,000 gallons of water each day.

An addition of nine classrooms was made to the elementary school at a cost of $136,000. Farmers Co-op Gin handled 1,670 bales of cotton compared with only 960 in 1956.

Three Burk Burnett churches built educational buildings this year—First Methodist, $80,000; Church of Christ, $80,000, and First Baptist, $100,000.

Masonic Temple Built
An air conditioned Masonic Temple was built at a cost of $40,000. The town Hall was decorated and improved by $3,000.

Oil development has been good with more than 50 new wells drilled in the area. Many new wells in the Red River bed have proved good.

Several new additions will be developed in 1958 giving indications the town's building boom of 1957 will continue. More than 4,000 feet of paving has been done, including 1,000 feet in the low rent housing area.

For 1958, the city has an option on eight acres of land a mile south of the city. Purchase plans are being made with hopes of building a swimming pool and city park.

A new U. S. Post Office is also in the works for 1958.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hays of Enid, Oklahoma, are visiting this week in the F. T. Felty, Sr. home.

Mrs. Hays is the former Miss Florence Urban of this city.

Mrs. L. W. Mathis Hostess Jan. 15th To University Club

The University Study club met in the home of Mrs. L. W. Mathis Jan. 15th.

Vice president, Mrs. Bill Crosley, opened the meeting with the club prayer repeated in unison. Mrs. J. D. Majors, corresponding secretary, read a letter from Margaret Hall telling of the full time Red Cross nurse who would work to find the unreported TB cases.

Mrs. A. W. Newman, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Ralph White who graciously brought New Dimensions, a thrilling new do it with fabrics, color slide program. Mrs. Lewis Brocker was narrator. The New York exhibit presented by Celanese Corp. of America occupies 11,000 square feet of space and features thousands of yards of fabrics, in hundreds of colors and textures. There are 55 color slides which include 40 room settings and numerous window treatments. Among the variety of fabrics are Fortisan, rayon, printed sheers, celaperm acetate, taffetas in rich color, antique satins, sturdy upholstery fabrics and many deeply textured fabrics of New Dimensions in vivid and pastel shades to please all tastes and budgets. These color slides show how to make decorative fabric screens, how to apply fabric to walls and fabric bordered walls. A celanese dress length was given as a door prize and was won by Mrs. Lewis Brocker.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. B. N. Cauthorn Feb. 5th. Mrs. Leon Turner and Mrs. Bill Crosley served a lovely refreshment plate from the beautiful dining table to the following: a guest Mrs. Ralph White and members Mesdames W. H. Holt, A. R. Bunstine, P. Browning, B. N. Cauthorn, J. H. Rigby, Joy Sessums, S. S. Reger, Lewis Brocker, I. E. Harwell, J. M. Pogue, E. R. Burns, A. W. Newman, J. D. Majors, Leon Turner, Bill Crosley and L. W. Mathis.

Hughes Garneau Co. Pipe Treaters Erecting New Bldg. West of Town

Concrete Lined Pipe for Salt Water Use

A new industry is coming to Burkburnett. The new concern will treat pipe with concrete for use in salt water wells and salt water lines.

Hughes Garneau Company 611 Oil Capitol Building, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is erecting a building at the west edge of the city limits. The sheet iron structure is 100 feet by 60 feet. It is located on a lot 150 feet and 350 feet. When the plant is opened up it will require three to ten laborers, all local people.

The process of treating steel pipe for salt water use is simple, yet it requires a certain amount of machinery and technical skill. First the pipe is brought in the back of the building with the aid of overhead cranes on a track. It is placed on a rack with many rollers to support the pipe. Next concrete is placed in the pipe and the pipe is spun very fast by the rollers. Centrifugal force spreads the concrete inside the pipe walls to an even coating. The pipe needs to set about 72 hours for the concrete to set up sufficiently to be moved and put in use. Anything from two inch to twelve inch or larger pipe can be handled. The handling process is the same.

T. L. Dixon, shop foreman with 20 years service with the company, is in charge of construction of the new plant here. If weather stays favorable, the plant will be ready for operation about February 15th.

The company has plants in Oklahoma, Kansas, Illinois, and one at Longview, Texas. It also has mobile units for use in the field.

The Magnolia Oil Company has a water flooding project west of Burkburnett with an investment between twelve and fifteen million dollars. Salt water is pumped into the oil sand to force the oil through to pumping wells. Untreated steel pipe has a very short life in salt water. Other wells in this area also have a need for treated pipe.

Raymond Thornton Killed In Accident Dec. 22 In California

Word has been received here of the tragic death of Mr. Raymond Thornton in San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 22nd. It was a freak accident in which his own car knocked him down and killed him instantly when his head struck the curb. He had been to a blood bank to give a donation of rare type blood as he had frequently done before. Mrs. Thornton was in their car parked a few paces away and decided when she saw him leaving the doctors office to drive up and pick him up. In some unaccountable way, possibly from weakness and poor vision, he stepped in front of the moving car. Mrs. Thornton instantly lost all control of the car and he was dragged 40 feet. The car ran into a building before stopping. She was distraught because of the accident and could not give a coherent version of the occurrence for several days and was under a physicians care during that time.

Mr. Thornton was born near Randlett, Okla., Dec. 18, 1911 and grew to manhood in the vicinity. He left with his parents and family for California in 1937 and went to San Francisco in 1942 as a railroad engineer at Port Chicago. More recently he was in the building and construction work.

Survivors include his wife, Winona; two sons, aged 8 and 10, and daughter three years old; father, Roy Thornton, a twin brother, Ralph of Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Blankenship and Mrs. Oleta McHan of San Diego; and numerous relatives in and near Burkburnett.

The Rev. Leon Turner, pastor of the Burk First Methodist Church, was in charge of rites for the World War I veteran. Interment was in the Burkburnett Cemetery.

Born in Mississippi, Duvall had been a resident of this community for six years.

He is survived by two brothers W. S. Duvall of Austin and Earl M. Duvall of Fort Worth. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Gordon Moore of Sherman, Mrs. Helen Marshall of Byers and Mrs. Maggie Lewis of Wichita Falls.

U. S. Needs Foreign Policy Approach

For several years, the United States has had a negative foreign policy. Even the billions of dollars—around $60,000,000 at latest count—poured out in foreign aid has been for a negative type of thing, keeping other nations from going communistic. Our thinking and our policies have been defensive, another form of negative approach.

The United States needs offensive policies, a positive approach. James Burnham, in an excellent article in the Dec. 15th issue of National Review, has some suggestions for getting on the right track. He makes the suggestions as America's answer to Sputnik. They well might be America's answers to virtually all of its foreign policies.

Burnham suggests knocking strategic Albania out of the Soviet orbit, insisting on the reunification of Korea and Germany and building a military organization of exiles from the satellite nations of the Soviet Union. These are good ideas. They would put Russia on the defensive for a change. Not only are they objectives which in themselves would be great achievements if attained, but the very support of them would give the United States fine propaganda opportunities.

For years the United States has been spending all of its time trying to counter Russia. We wait until Russia takes the offensive on a idea or plan, then try to develop a plausible defense against it. This kind of policy leaves Russia free of internal stress. She is able to devote all of her time to propagandizing and intriguing in other nations.

But if the United States began hammering for the reunification of Germany and Korea, under terms in which the peoples of these countries could make their own desires known, then Russia would have to devote much time and energy to countering the proposal. Unrest would be created in East Germany and North Korea among non Communists.

The proposal would give the United States an excellent talking point in the United Nations. Whenever Russia started one of its propaganda plays in the United Nations, American delegates could hammer away at the Red delegates over this issue.

The United States has been trying to convince the rest of the world that it is the champion of freedom. How better can we achieve this end than to work aggressively for the freeing of subjugated peoples?

The fact that our present foreign policies are getting us nowhere—we are slipping all the time, as evidenced by President Eisenhower's special effort at the NATO meeting—should be proof enough to official Washington that a change in thinking is needed. The positive approach is the obvious one—to everybody but our Washington leaders.

Quantity and Quality

More than two hundred years ago Thomas Fuller remarked that to sell cheaper means that either quality or service must be cut—usually both. Of course, this principle was laid down before mass production and its partner, mass distributions, existed, and these two forces have changed matters enormously.

Another statement by the same man however is as completely true today as it was then: "A fair profit must be made or one does not last long."

The modern retailer, chain and independent, has brought down prices by trading in greater volume. By this means goods can be sold cheaper and still be of quality. By the same means the standard of service can remain excellent and a "fair profit" can be made. Thomas Fuller and the retailers of his day would have considered the percentage of profit earned under modern merchandising methods fantastically small.

Mass merchandising has out-moded the old theory that in order to sell cheaper, quality or service must be cut.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

DENVER, COLO., MINING RECORD: Governments which financially dominate the Free World apparently have agreed to perpetuate an insufficiency of gold and silver to use as money or to 'back' their paper currency by merely keeping the prices of gold and silver so low that citizens will find it financially unprofitable to mine gold and silver, as such. In this manner they believe they can continue to force their citizens to accept the product of their speedy printing presses as 'money.'

BARTOW, FLA., POLK COUNTY DEMOCRAT: "—25,000 surgical operations are being performed in the United States every day in the year—and most of the surgery done today would have been declared impossible by even the best physicians 50 years ago—Few professions have made greater changes or achieved more beneficial progress than has the art of medicine."

QUINCY, MASS., PATRIOT LEDGER: "Government never goes out of existence. Government has no competition so there are no competitive factors that force it to be efficient."

COLLINSVILLE, CONN., FARMINGTON VALLEY HERALD: "Why are we behind the times? The answer is obvious. The American people, in their headlong rush into materialism, have forgotten that progress for the satisfaction of human vanities is shaky progress, and that until we place values on exploration, research, intellectual discipline and progress for humanity, we can expect to continue to be behind the times. And these things do not start at the top, seeping down to us at the grass roots, but rather, they start at the grass roots and surge upward in direct ratio to our degree of interest and activity."

E-POINT PROGRAM OF T-B ASSOCIATION PUSHED

By Margaret Hall

Find, isolate, treat, restore, prevent tuberculosis, the sound tuberculosis "control" plan includes a variety of tested techniques. According to its community's needs, of the 3,000 county TB associations in the U. S. plans and its own program. Certain methods however, are used by every association. Wichita County, the TB association's protective and preventive program embraces: 1. Education, 2. Case Finding, 3. Treatments for County tuberculosis patients unable to pay private physicians services, 4. Health Nursing, recent included, to administer to sick and to prevent the spread of infection, 5. Medical research to help develop new and to test their restoratives through proper use and usage, 6. Rehabilitation of those tuberculosis victims who must learn new trades, occupations, to become self-sufficient after hospital discharge.

Service to patient and to their families is another program of the TB Association's Services, in the course of which, can run the gamut from attending to furnishing items of anything or any number of other assistances.

Cooperation with other agencies is a must for the TB Association if it understands the maximum and provides the maximum benefits to its community and state and nation. Other agencies include official and voluntary organizations. An official health agency, such as the department of health or the Wichita Health Unit, are supported. A voluntary agency should be another health association supported by contributions; for example, the American Cancer Society or the Heart Association.

Another agency with which the association works closely cooperatively is a professional organization, the Wichita County Medical Society. Tuberculosis is a medical problem. It is through physicians' knowledge and interest that the TB association depends for advice and approval of its program of protection and prevention.

Considered from any angle, education is the prime objective of the TB association. It is through education that all other achievements are consummated.

In the field of education, one of the most important health contributions participated in by the TB association has been the education of the state, or governing bodies. Empowered to write and pass laws designed to protect the public health, the body politic can enforce public health practices not possible if left to the discretion of individuals.

An example: The city council of Wichita Falls put into effect a city health ordinance in 1956. This ordinance requires annual chest X-ray and other physical examinations of all persons who are classified as food handlers, those people who work with foodstuffs consumed by the public. This law resulted from Agency cooperation: The TB association, the Wichita County Medical Society, the public Health committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the director of the Health Unit and interested physicians and lay people.

Law enforced health protective measures against communicable diseases are indispensable to a community's common wealth and common wealth.

There are too many disseminators (ornery no goods) who would never, of their own accord, have periodic chest x-rays either to protect themselves or to prevent the spread of contagious to others.

Another example of benefits resulting from education of the body politics, was the campaign made by the county TB associations of Texas and the state organization in 1956 for increased appropriations for our state's tax-supported TB hospitals.

At that time, Texas was the third state in the nation, from the bottom in TB hospital appropriations. In the hospitals there was a shortage of doctors, nurses, trained technicians and untrained personnel. Chaplains, dietitians, vocational therapists, and other vital personnel were needed. At an exorbitant rate, patients were leaving the hospitals against medical advice. They were returning to their homes where their disease worsened and where they spread new cycles of infection.

State TB hospital appropriations now average approximately $6.00 per patient per hospital day. (In some states, the appropriation more than doubles that of Texas). But a greater percent of patients are now remaining in hospitals until they receive medical discharge.

Finding and preventing tuberculosis serves a dual purpose. Preventing the disease also prevents home and family disruptions. Preventing tuberculosis saves tax payers of the nation millions of dollars every year. Only four tuberculosis patients out of every 100 can take care of their treatment and other expenses.

Case finding programs, particularly mass x-ray surveys, require multiple agency participation: the state health department, the Wichita Health Unit and the TB association. In addition to these agencies, dozens of civic, religious, cultural and educational groups assist in the actual service.

In addition to tuberculosis, mass surveys find lung cancers and tumors and some heart conditions. Many chest pathologies are discovered in time to effect complete recovery.

A year round case finding program was made possible when the TB Association gave its X-ray machine to the Wichita General Hospital. Required by law or executive ruling to have annual chest X-rays, food handlers and school teachers of Wichita Falls and other county towns may have the service at nominal fee: the cost is fixed to meet actual operating expenses. Hospital staff (charity) patients are also served at this source. During 1957, 4544 x-rays were given at the hospital. 6 cases of TB were found.

The Wichita County TB Association conducts all of its program activities from the annual sale of Christmas Seals. The Association isn't subsidized by any governmental agency. By mutual agreement, the Association is not a participant in the United Fund.

Billy: Scientist in 1988?

Billy's a bright, likeable kid. Seems as though he's always putting around his basement doing experiments with his chemistry set. You might say he's the neighborhood's budding young scientist.

Yes, Billy could probably be a famous scientist some day. But right now, his chances are pretty slim.

In Billy's community there is a scarcity of classrooms, of teachers, and of good textbooks. Result? Billy is short-changed on his schooling.

Let's be sure that this doesn't happen to the children in our schools. Join with other good citizens to back up our School Board. Make it a point to attend PTA meetings and school conferences.

With the 1958 motor vehicle inspection deadline more than three months away, approximately one million vehicle owners have obtained their 1958 inspection stickers, setting a trend for early inspections.

According to John H. Grant, manager of Motor Vehicle Inspection Records, Texas Dept. of Public Safety, more than 300,000 vehicles above the number inspected during the comparative period last year have been inspected to date. But he cautioned that three million vehicles are yet to be inspected before the April 15th deadline.

Regarding the early inspections, Grant said, "In addition to the ever increasing awareness of automobile and truck owners of safety inspections as an important safety measure, the increase this year is due in part to the realization that periodic inspections help maintain automobiles at higher value by lessening depreciation."

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr. director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported that vehicle inspections have reduced traffic fatalities. Garrison said that "mechanical defects were the major factors in 19 percent of the rural fatal accidents in 1957 prior to the inauguration of the inspection program. In 1958 mechanical defects were the major factors in only 5 percent of the fatal rural accidents. It can well be said that this is due to the motoring public's acceptance of the vehicle inspection program by keeping their automobiles in good repair."

The state police director asked for the continued good cooperation of vehicle owners in getting their trucks and cars inspected during the short period that remains in the inspection period. He asked that vehicle owners obtain their inspection stickers early to avoid long waits in lines that normally occur during the first two weeks of April.

News From The Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

An acute disaster hit most farmers in the great area of our country during the 1957 growing season. It was actually more than a disaster. It was a calamity in a large area of the Southwest and the Deep South. Heavy rains during the planting and growing seasons and early frosts and freezes during the harvest season greatly reduced farm yields and the quality of farm commodities. As a result, many of the farmers who had just gone through an extended drought find themselves in an acute economic condition. Along with other members of Congress from the effected areas, I have met with Representatives of the Department of Agriculture this week in an effort to work out some workable plan through the Farmers Home Administration or other agencies for making additional financing available and working out ways to extend existing FHA obligations. It is hoped that something constructive can be developed immediately. The farm plan that Secretary Benson presented to Congress yesterday has little chance of being approved for it has practically no Congressional support.

As fantastic as it may seem, there can little question but what the Nation that controls outer space in the immediate future will be in the same position of power as those that controlled the seas one hundred years ago. We in the United States must move rapidly and gain this control or reconcile ourselves to be a second class power in the world. It is now evident that Congress will move swiftly to make available the funds necessary for research & development in this important field; however, the mere appropriation of money is not sufficient. We must have good organization and good management, and almost equally as important be prepared in our thinking to accept the sensational and dramatic developments that will shortly be forthcoming with respect to travel and movement in outer space. It is hoped that the argument over why we are not ahead in missile development will not degenerate into a partisan, political hassle. It is far more important to our country's survival that we all work together to assure our being in the lead in the days to come rather than to argue among ourselves about who must bear the blame for our not being out ahead now.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Sid Grayson and their two children, Susie and "Butch." Mr. Joe B. McNeil of Wichita Falls and Mr. Robt. W. McFarlane of Burkburnett.

Mary Cecil, Faye Lynch and Core Lee Harmond attended Oriol Rebekah Lodge at Lawton, Okla., Friday night.

News From The HD Agent

Do you know what your soil needs? Many of your problems with the home landscape could be answered by having the answer to that one question and then doing something about it.

A soil test is the one way find this answer. Such a test will give you information about your soil and recommendations for improving it.

Such a test can be made at A and M College or Midwestern University. If interested, contact Miss Thelma Wirges, county HD agent.

Mesdames J. L. Graham, Marie West, Gayle Lowrance, Jud Irby, Walter Mersiovsky and Rex Adams are members of the Home Improvement committee for the Wichita Program building Group. When they met and made suggestions for improving the home landscape, they found this as the first need.

Make a good start for your 1958 landscape, with a soil test. The dollars you spend for a soil test will be the wisest dollar you can invest in your yard.

Mrs. Ralph Swinford is to be the Wichita County nominee for conservation Homemaker of the year. Mrs. Swinford has a home landscape worth a trip for anyone to see.

A large percentage of home fires start by burning trash. Thelma Wirges, county HD agent, says that a good trash burner helps insure the safety and beauty of your home.

For convenience, locate the trashburner near the kitchen, but far enough away for safety. It does not have to be large, if trash is burned every day or two.

For materials that won't burn bottles, tin cans, etc., place a large fly-tight garbage can near the trashburner.

Sparks fly easily, so cover top and front of the trashburner with one-fourth inch wire mesh. It should be surrounded by shrubs that will not burn easily. Locate at least 12 feet away from buildings. Make sure the clothesline is well out of range too.

Plans for building your own Mortarless Trash Burner are available from your local county demonstration office.

FROM WARM SPRINGS

FACT AND FANCY

by Walter H. Rutter

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

A country girl, I once read, is one who goes to bed feeling all in and gets up feeling fine. A city girl, on the other hand, goes to bed feeling fine and gets up feeling all in.

That, I was informed, is the difference between a country girl and a city girl.

As a country boy, I used to keep an eye on a good many country girls in my day. So I can vouch that after rising at some ghastly hour in the morning and helping with household and farm chores all day, the average country girl, or boy, was pretty well bushed by sundown.

Of course, they could always call on a nice reserve of country energy for a Saturday night hoe-down or sociable pea-shelling. But then Sunday morning they would sleep late and not get up until maybe 6:30.

But all this has been changed as the farm has become mechanized and electrified. The country girl, like her city cousin, gets her dairy products from a dairy rather than first-hand from a cow. Both obtain their canned goods and other foodstuffs from the grocery store. Both have wheels to take them where they are going.

Both have the best equipment in the world. And truly they all help make it a wonderful world. As they say in France, "Vive le equipment! Vive Les girls!"

1000 to Attend Field & Stream Annual Meeting

Approximately 1,000 persons are expected to attend the Jan. 30th Northwest Texas Field and Stream Associations annual banquet at Midwestern University to hear Robert B. Anderson, Secretary of the Treasury and guest speaker at this year's banquet.

This year's banquet will honor members of the Texas Game and Fish Commission who will be guests of the association.

Tickets to the banquet will go on sale Tuesday, Jan. 21st at 3 Wichita Falls sporting goods firms. Tickets may be obtained at either Noble's Hardware, Holts Sporting Goods and the Rod and Gun Store in Wichita Falls, or by writing Box 461, Wichita Falls.

Dale Jones, NTFSA secretary, said tickets would be placed on sale in other cities if business firms or service organizations would contact the association.

Because of space limitations, Jones said only 1,000 tickets will be sold. The dinner will be held at 7:00 p. m. in the Midwestern University Student Center.

The banquet's guest speaker came to the North Texas area in 1937 as general counsel to the vast Waggoner Estate. Four years later, he was made general manager, a position held until 1953 when he was appointed Secretary of the Navy by President Eisenhower.

Two years later, Anderson became president of Ventures Ltd., a multi-million dollar mining firm. The tall Texan served as president of the firm until appointed secretary of the Treasury in May of 1957.

W. S. Ikard is credited with bringing the purebred Herefords to Texas in 1876.

Snow and Rain First of Week

Rain, which began early Sunday morning continued throughout most of the day. One inch was gauged.

About daybreak Monday morning a light rain turned to sleet then to snow. Big flakes of snow fluttered down most of the day. On streets and roads the snow melted as it fell. Freezing temperatures hit just before dark, but driving conditions never became hazardous. If all the snow which fell had remained on the ground it would have amounted to at least one inch. Coldest temperature was 21 degrees Tuesday morning.

Showers are predicted for late afternoon today (Thursday).

How To Plan Federal Income Tax Deductions

One of a series of four articles on federal income tax. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.

By waiting until after the first of the year to decide whether to take your deductions or take the standard 10-per cent deduction you run the risk of losing your greatest tax-saving opportunity.

When you are forced to take the standard deduction because your actual expenses are less than the standard deduction, you literally "waste" your deductions for tax purposes. Don't let this happen to you every year. Plan your expense outlays so that you go over the standard 10-per cent deduction occasionally. This can be done by spreading two years of actual expenses into one.

For example, assume that you expect to have an adjusted gross income of $7,000 for this year and deductible expenses of about $100 less than what you are entitled to deduct if you take the standard 10-per cent deduction. Included in your actual expenses, however, is $250 in medical expenses and $100 in home charges that will have a 10-per cent deduction in 1958 but which can be deducted in 1957.

Standard Deduction

If you pay these expenses before December 31, you can bring your total allowable deductions for 1957 up to $950. By spreading these deductions this year and the standard deduction next year, your actual expenses are somewhat less because of the prepaid—your total for both years will be only $1,650. Had you taken the standard 10-per cent deduction in both years, the total would be only $1,400.

A self-employed worker who has difficulty enough deductions to justify the pyramid plan. He could set up a "lending" and "borrowing" plan that would enable him to throw his deductions into the year of his pyramiding.

By spreading your expenses for 1957 and 1958 you should be able to beat the standard deduction by itemizing), and minimize your deductible items for 1957 and 1958 (when you will take the standard deduction and waste your actual expenses) The general rule to follow when you are trying to make the most of your actual expenses is: keep outlays as low as possible in the years in which you take the standard deduction and pyramid them as much as possible in the years in which you itemize expenses.

Pyramid Medical Expenses

Most taxpayers need look no further than their family medical bills to find a deductible expense that can be pyramided to gain a well-earned tax advantage. The section of the tax law governing the deductibility of medical expenses states that unless you or your wife will be 65 years old by January 1, 1958, you may deduct only those medical expenses for 1957 in excess of 3 per cent of your gross income.

If you find that you are near or over the 3 per cent minimum and you are going to itemize deductions this year, you should pay as many of your medical bills as possible before December 31. And since medical expenses can be deducted only in the year paid (but cannot be prepaid), you might even consider speeding-up and paying for the dental work, eye examinations and general physical check-ups your family will otherwise be having in the early part of 1958.

Taxpayers who had low medical expenses for 1957 should reverse this procedure, postponing the payment of their year-end medical bills until after the first of the year. In this way they may be able to exceed the minimum requirement in 1958 and to gain a benefit from a payment that would otherwise be lost on their 1957 return.

Plan Premium Payments

The premiums you pay on your health, accident and hospital insurance policies can be deducted as a medical expense—so plan your payments accordingly. To give you greater flexibility in the shifting of medical deductions from one year to the next, you might arrange to have these premiums fall due in January.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson has been assured by the Chief of Army Engineers that the mock-up of a Texas water program he requested last summer will be ready by the end of April.

Sen. Johnson asked the Army Engineers and the Bureau Reclamation to collaborate on the development of an integrated water development plan for Texas. He has been told by Maj. Gen. E. C. Itschmer, Chief of Engineers, that full collaboration exists between the Engineers and the Bureau.

Also, Gen. Itschmer wrote the Senator, the Corps and Bureau are coordinating their activities with the efforts of the State of Texas as represented by the State Board of Water Engineers and other State agencies.

The two Federal agencies invited state representation and participation in all meetings and discussions regarding the program. Four such meetings have been held, two in the office of the State Board of Engineers one in the Austin office of the Bureau of Reclamation and one in the Ft. Worth District Office of the Corps of Engineers.

At the latest meeting, Gen. Itschmer informed Sen. Johnson the general framework of report was established in sufficient detail to permit preparation of a sample draft of the report. Another meeting will be held this month to make final plans for the pattern of the report and the material to be included in it.

The vigor with which the State of Texas is concentrating on the problem of water resource planning and development is indeed gratifying, the Chief of Engineers said. Reports from the field indicate that extensive planning has to date been accomplished by the river basin agencies and that full cooperation of these agencies will be extended to the Federal agencies in the preparation of the mock-up which you have requested.

Lack Of Money Did Not Hamper Missiles Program

"A huge defense budget and a resultant huge Federal budget will not necessarily be the answer to America's missile and Sputnik problems," the president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce said today.

B. F. Godfrey of Ft. Worth stated that a study just completed by the research staff of the Council of State Chambers of Commerce for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce reveals that there has been no lack of adequate funds for development of satellites and missiles.

The CSCC report, which is substantiated by statements of President Eisenhower, former Deputy of Defense Reuben B. Robertson and testimony of missile experts who appeared before the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, reveals that the lag in missile development is due to "unsatisfactory organization of the research and development program, absence of overall planning, interservice rivalry and the failure to make decisions."

Noting that economy in the last session of Congress is being blamed for "our obvious lag in satellite development and the apparent lag in our missiles program," the study charged.

"Once economy began to get the same blame, the special interest spending lobbies and advocates of big Federal spending generally saw a golden opportunity.

"They recognized in the Sputniks a vehicle for preventing in 1958 another nation-wide economy wave hike like that in 1957. These promoters of new and expanded Federal spending were well aware last year that the economy wave was largely responsible for such frustrations as they met.

"Now they think they see the opportunity to put through much that they could not get across last year." Eugene F. Rinta, rector for the council of Chambers, an organization of State and regional Chambers commented:

"The lag in getting satellite out in space is due by the experts on a definite give the effort second-rate to the long-range program, not to insufficient money.

"As for the guided program, there is real concern behind the Russians. The tent to which we are being desirable state of readiness missiles is laid to several factors, but money is not one of them.

Rinta called for a re-evaluation of priorities in expenditures both for defense and activities.

by C. A. Deuschle, Manager

BACKWARD GLANCE

Once again, we've turned the corner from an old year into a new one.

Before old man 1957 disappears completely from sight, let's take one last look at him. He was a year of continued telephone activity in Burkburnett and other nearby communities we serve. For that, he at least deserves a tip of the hat from us.

Here, in brief, is his telephone record:

- Total telephones now in service in Burkburnett 1593
- Average number of local calls a day 8762
- Average number of Long Distance calls a day 345

To sum it up, folks in Burkburnett depended on their telephones to do many jobs for them in 1957 and we plan this year to continue offering the kind of service that telephone users here have come to depend on.

QUESTION FOR THE LADIES

How many times did you answer your telephone today? Several times, I'll bet. Chances are, you'll get one or two more calls before the evening's over.

I'll bet, too, you're usually in the kitchen when the phone rings, or when you need to make a call. Sometime, just for fun, count the steps you take going back and forth from the kitchen to the phone. And count the times, too when you hurry through a conversation because there's something on the stove and you have to get back to keep an eye on it.

A telephone in your kitchen—where you need it most—is just about the handiest "appliance" you can have. You'll be surprised, too, how little it costs to put one in... even if you choose yours in one of the glamorous new decorator colors.

If you'd like more information about how you can have a handy new kitchen phone, just call the telephone business office—and we'll give you complete details.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

STATE CAPITOL News

By VERN STANFORD
Press Association

Pay your poll tax! Pay your poll tax! Pay your poll tax! That's the cry from all corners as individuals and groups began their campaign for support in the approaching 1958 elections.

AFL-CIO and strong labor committees are making a vigorous drive to get union members to pay the $1.75 right to vote tax, and become eligible to vote in the saddle in Texas government.

Gov. Price Daniel is urging all Texans to get that poll tax receipt now, before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Says the Governor, "Bad public officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote. I urge every Texan who loves this State and believes in majority rule to pay his poll tax and take an active part this year in the fight for constitutional government of, by and for the people." He emphasized that minority groups should not be allowed to take over Texas.

Also busy contacting eligible voters are the State Democratic Executive committees headed by Jim Lindsey of Texarkana and Jake Pickle of Austin.

Equally active is the DOT, whose chief spokesman is Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston. Aiding her are Alexa Dickie of Denton, Creekmore Fath of Austin, AFL-CIO heads and NAACP leaders.

"It looks like a country folks-big city battle," said one observer. With labor determined to swing the big cities, the final decision may rest in the hands of the multitude of smaller Texas towns and the rural folks. Usually they can be depended upon to vote, rain or shine.

INTEGRITY AND ECONOMY—in state departments will be emphasized in 1958, said Gov. Price Daniel in a speech kicking off his second year as chief executive, and the year in which he is expected to seek re-election.

Speaking to some 200 state officials, Daniel asked them to be responsible in their departments for strict compliance with reform laws passed last year. He said two types of people can undermine public confidence in Texas' 56,000 officials and employees, a "very few" wrongdoers and self-seeking demagogues who capitalize on the scandals.

He's not ready to sing bankruptcy blues, said the governor, referring to predictions that the state treasury would be in the red by 1959. Nor is he yet convinced, he said, that new taxes will be necessary next year.

But he urged department heads to keep a sharp eye on expenses and offered services of his budget staff to officials needing help in dollar stretching.

POLITICKING IS ON —

By tradition, the opening of the red bud in East Texas is a sort of starting gun for politicking.

Some seasoned campaigners regard an announcement before red bud time as a farmer would look in planting before the last frost. But for politicking or farming, there has to be some fence mending, tool sharpening, seed buying and ground ploughing before planting time.

Hence, this January, though the air is still frosty, Texas politicians are preparing the ground for a hoped for harvest of votes next summer. In Austin every move by a person in public life is interpreted as tool sharpening.

These events in the news are regarded as part of the pre-campaign cultivation:

Democratic Party Control — is expected to be a hotter issue this year than most campaigns for Capitol posts.

Stage is set for the first round of customary shin-kicking and name calling at the State Democratic Executive Committee meeting here Feb. 1st. SDEC is largely made up of conservatives favorable to Gov. Daniel. Their critics and opponents are the Democrats of Texas, a liberal group which contends its partisans were in the majority at the last state convention, but were unfairly squeezed out of party posts.

DOT has drawn up a proposed "code of ethics" which, it says, will prevent any fast shuffles at future conventions. At the Feb.

1st meeting DOT representatives will urge the Executive Committee to adopt the code.

RATTLING THE BARS —

More housing, more paroles, more industries are recommended by the Board of Corrections to relieve "a potential explosive situation" in Texas prisons.

Board said it will probably ask Legislature for $7,500,000 house appropriation. Mgr. O. B. Ellis' report to the board on prison rumbling said that with the inmate population at 10,500 at least 75% have to be crammed into "tanks" (one room barracks with 400 sleeping on the floor.

Boar also urged speed in getting into operation the paid parole supervisor program, authorized by last Legislature. Supervision system is designed to permit more paroles. About one-third the required number of supervisors has been hired so far.

Federal government threw a monkey wrench into prison operations by cutting back on the prison farms' cotton acreage, said the governing board. It said more work opportunities for prisoners must be developed.

GOLDEN AGE AIDS —

Ways to improve the outlook for Texas' older citizens are being sought by a 15-member committee of legislators and private citizens.

Sen Crawford Martin of Hillsboro was named chairman at the first meeting of the panel.

It's not "just an old age pension committee," said Martin. It will consider such sticky problems as the number of aged persons in mental institutions because no one knows what else to do with them. Also the difficulty oldsters have finding employment even with valuable training experience.

Percentage of "over 65's" in Texas population has doubled in past 50 years.

EVERYBODY CAN APPOINT —

Who has the right to appoint the attorney to handle affairs of an insurance company in receivership probably will continue to be a source of controversy.

But Renne Allred, Jr., whose right to that post has been contested, can keep his job as the result of a Supreme Court ruling.

At issue was whether the Board of Insurance or court handling the receivership should name the attorney. Allred was appointed by a local district court.

High Court said, in effect, the board has first appointive power, but the court can step in where necessary.

El Toro Run By Melvin Evans

Mr. Melvin Evans, of El Toro at 410 North Scott in Wichita Falls, is one of those substantial citizens upon whom the community depends a great deal for leadership and guidance. He has in the past and no doubt will continue to contribute more than his share of time and energy for the welfare of the community. Mr. Evans' friends and friendships once formed by him are never broken by an unfriendly act on his part and he spares no effort in order that services for civic welfare shall be commendable. Never participating in a situation for the mere purpose of gaining publicity, he proceeds in a calm, unobtrusive manner accomplishing his objectives with a quiet dignity.

We do not hesitate to recommend Mr. Evans to our friends as a fine example of the more progressive type of business leader who has aided in the growth of development of Wichita Falls and the surrounding areas. Remember the El Toro at 410 N. Scott Street. Pd. Adv.

LIONS CLUB

Town Hall Each Tuesday 7:00 P. M.

John Durham had charge of the program. He introduced H. J. Powell, Shop and Mechanical Drawing instructor at Burkburnett High School. Mr. Powell brought a very interesting program. He told of the work done in his department and how it ties in with all other phases of school instruction. The boys are given practical instruction in mechanical drawing and wood working. The shop is well equipped with power machinery, allowing the boys to actually build useful objects so they learn by doing and not by books and instruction alone.

Mr. Powell had on exhibit a footstool, a bed table and book or magazine rack, traction splints, pen and pencil desk set, and a billy club made for local police. These items, all well constructed, were made by first year students. The shop department does not stop with teaching shop work. It also teaches citizenship. "Be a gentleman at all times," is the only hard and fast set rule in the shop.

February 11 is ladies nite. February 22 is pancake sale day. Next week the program will be presented by Joe Eastman.

Burk Topples Olney, Decatur Basketball Teams

The Burkburnett Bulldogs skipped past two big giant stumbling blocks, Olney and Decatur, to set the climatic stage for their game with district favorite Bowie here Friday night.

The Bulldogs thrashed Olney 54-45 at Burkburnett as Doyce Walker scored twenty-four points. The Bulldogs held a 20 point advantage at one stage of the game.

Four days later the Bulldogs came from behind to nip Decatur 52-48. Again Doyce Walker led the Bulldog scoring with two dozen points.
