McNeeley Wins Re-election County Judge

McNeeley's campaign based on his record will be conducted by County Judge Guy McNeeley, announced formally Saturday, July 26th.

The incumbent will be opposed by Assistant District Attorney Gene Riche and Temple Street in the Democratic primary, July 26th.

Judge McNeeley has served 11 years as county judge, held the office in 1941-44, 1948-51, 1952-54, 1955-57, and 1958-60. He was appointed to the post Sept. 13, 1951, after Arthur Tipps resigned to accept appointment as judge of the District Court.

Judge McNeeley has occupied the office continuously since his election. Without opposition he was elected to a two-year term in 1952 and a four-year term in 1954. He seeks another four-year stretch.

Judge McNeeley said Saturday: "The office of county judge is judicial and administrative. It is judicial in that your county judge sits in judgment on one of his fellow citizens in such citizen is charged in the commission of a misdemeanor offense and also in the counting of guardians and administrators.

The office is administrative that the county judge is, under the law, chairman of your commissioners court to which business of the county is referred."

Judge McNeeley said: "In performing the duties of county judge it has always been my policy to render equal justice to all and special privileges to none."

"I believe I have kept faith with the people and have conducted the office of county judge the way they would want it conducted. If the people of this county believe that I have done so, I would appreciate their vote and support for my re-election to the office."

McNeeley is a native of Bonham, Tex., and has lived in Wichita since 1919. Judge McNeeley and his wife, Ruby, live at 1628 Wilson. He is 56.

Judge McNeeley was assistant district attorney in 1945-46 and attorney of Wichita Falls from 1947-50. He resigned the city to run for county judge.

Judge McNeeley is a trustee of the Grand Lodge of Texas, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, secretary of Pioneer Lodge Knights of Pythias and a member of University Methodist church.

MAKE THIS COMPARISON

Writing in National Review, Robert V. Jones describes the Soviet price system. It is a system whereby the state fixes all prices and all wages, and establishes whatever relationship it desires between them. These prices, save for certain absolute necessities of life, are extraordinarily high when translated into the hours of labor a man or woman has to put in to buy commodities. To cite one example, it takes about 300 hours for a skilled factory worker to earn enough to buy a suit of clothes.

In the course of his article, Mr. Jones says something that should be of particular interest to American consumers, who are used to going into our retail stores and finding what they want at a price most families can afford to pay. He writes: "In a free market consumers express their wants by bidding for particular goods, and as prices for particular goods rise or fall producers adjust their production accordingly. The Soviet administrative bureaucracy can obtain no such information from the price mechanism, for they themselves have set all the prices. They are consequently compelled to order production in accordance with their own ideas of what people ought to have, rather than in accordance with needs as consumers themselves believe those needs to exist. The result is that the Soviet citizen has very little opportunity for self-expression in his use of the material things of life. He eats the food, wears the clothing, and occupies the housing that is ordered for him."

The Soviet shopper is offered an extremely limited assortment of shoddy goods at high prices. Compare this with American retail stores with their almost incredible abundance of offerings. When you make the comparison, you are actually comparing the competitive free enterprise economy with a government controlled and dictated economy.

POLIO QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The questions everybody is asking about polio vaccination are answered in a quiz sheet just issued by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, that staunch organization which has been battling polio for 20 years and which made the Salk vaccine possible. Here are the main ones:

Q—Can Adults get polio? A—They can and they do. And it hits them harder than it hits children.

Q—Are parents safe from polio if their children have been vaccinated? A—No. Everybody has to get his own vaccination. A vaccinated person, though protected against polio can still carry the polio virus and infect the unvaccinated.

Q—Are you safe if you've had one shot? Two shots? A—Not as safe as the vaccine can make you. One shot is better than none. Two shots are better than one. But for maximum protection you need at least three shots of Salk vaccine.

Q—Is a baby too young to be vaccinated? A—Last year babies one year old had the highest polio attack rate of any age group. Next came children aged two. Some health authorities recommend starting polio shots at two months.

Q—Where can you get Salk vaccine? A—From your doctor or local vaccination clinics. Start shots early to have full protection before the polio season.

"AS IMPOSSIBLE AS YOU CAN GET"

"The office of the internal Revenue Commissioner has ruled that electric power companies get beyond the bounds of business operation when they campaign, through advertising or otherwise, in the interests of the nation's independent power companies as a group opposed to Federal power operations such as TVA.

"We cannot conceive of such an order standing.

"We can conceive of it having been issued, simply because this day and time has brought us the ability to conceive of anything. Nothing is impossible.

"But for a respectable branch of the government of the United States to maintain free enterprise unprivileged to argue for its own existence and against influences which would penalize or ruin it, strikes us as about as impossible as you can get.

"It is no less absurd than it would be for the mentally disturbed jurist to rule that a power company could not employ an attorney to defend its rights in court."

THE SPIDER IN THE PAPER

The News-Herald, of Cuba City, Wisconsin, recalls the famous answer made by Mark Twain when he was asked if finding a spider in the newspaper meant good luck. The writer said: "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over the paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace afterward."

The News-Herald adds: "It's even more true today. People are buying and reading more newspapers than ever before in history. Population has increased 47% since 1920—but newspaper circulation has increased 94 percent.

"Almost everybody reads the newspaper. It is one medium people won't do without." Wise producers and sellers of goods and services of all kinds know that newspaper advertising is the best way to keep the spider and his web away!

TOO SOON FOR AN OBITUARY

Newspapers have a reference room called "the morgue" where they keep clippings and obituaries of people famous or infamous. When a prominent man dies, they haul out his obituary and print it.

Somebody did that with Mark Twain once before he died and he made a classic reply. He said: "Reports of my death are exaggerated."

Ever since 1955, when the Salk vaccine was officially approved and licensed for use by the U. S. Government, people have been writing obituaries of paralytic polio. Polio, they say, is finished. But like Mark Twain, such polio authorities as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis answer: "Reports of Polio's end are exaggerated."

True, 65 million Americans have had one or more shots of Salk vaccine. But only 35 million have had the three shots prescribed for full protection, and 46 million have had no shots at all.

True, the number of polio cases dropped way down last year. But 1957 may have been a year of light polio attack. With three out of seven susceptible people still unvaccinated, there is no guarantee that polio epidemics won't break out again this summer.

The age group that need vaccination most are pre-school children, teen-agers and parents of young children. But there is plenty of vaccine available now for everybody, regardless of age. It's the cheapest insurance on the market.

Social Security Information

Listed below is a question and answer quiz on social security benefits.

Q—How can my wife find out what social security benefits she and our children would receive in the event of my death.

A—The best possible thing to do is ask your social security office for a free information pamphlet which will explain all types of payments under social security.

Q—My husband died in 1954, after working only one month under social security. I will be 62 in August. Can I draw anything on my husband's social security account?

A—No. You cannot draw survivors insurance payments on your husband's social security account as he had not worked a sufficient length of time under the program to be insured at the time of his death.

Q—My 17 year old son and I received survivors insurance payments based on my husband's social security earnings before his death in 1953. I know these payments are supposed to stop when he is 18. He plans to enter college next year. If he does go to college, will his payments continue after he is 18 years old?

A—No. The only way a child over 18 may receive benefits is for him to be severely disabled. Even though your son continues with his education, social security payments will not be made unless he was disabled before his 18th birthday.

Mrs. Phillip A. Carpenter, president of the Burkburnett Study club and Mrs. F. A. Jamieson, incoming president of the Burkburnett Study club for 1958-59, attended the Federation of Women's clubs 61st annual convention in Ft. WILBARGER-WICHITA

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Beginning Sunday, May 11th and continuing through Sunday May 18th, the more than 2700 Soil Conservation Districts of this nation will observe Soil Stewardship week. National Church Organizations are joining with Districts in suggesting that all churches devote one service to the Soil Stewardship on either May 11th or May 18th.

The board of supervisors for Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District are joining in the observance, according to Fenton Dale, chairman of the Board.

Churches have been mailed the talk of Rev. J. A. Birnbaum Pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church of Vernon. Birnbaum delivered this short speech titled "The Land And the Book." at the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District Annual awards banquet. Other Soil Stewardship information has been supplied to many ministers who have shown an indication of using one of their church services on Soil Stewardship.

Nolen J. Fuqua, President National Association of Soil Conservation Districts of Duncan, Okla., wrote the following in urging churches to assist:

There is in every man, latent though it may have become, an awareness of responsibility to God for the wise use of our soil and its related resources, water plants and wildlife.

It is the responsibility of those who assume the leadership for spiritual and moral matters to include in their sphere of effort the awakening of man to his soil stewardship responsibility.

The church is and truly ought to be a factor for reminding man of his obligation to God in the use of God's rich natural gifts. For too long our people have neglected or used without appreciation or understanding these divinely created resources.

Already in this comparatively young nation we have lost millions of acres of good productive land. We have let water, a necessity and a boon to every community, become a scourge as it rushed seaward, bearing loads of sediment to streams, channel and precious reservoir.

Therefore, we may see in every muddy rivulet, in every dust laden wind a warning from God. His rules regarding the use of His earth by man are being violated.

All people must now realize the importance of an abundance of good water and its relationship to our soil and our watersheds, for soil and water are life itself.

The stewardship of soil and water resources must be the concern of everyone who loves his nation. The responsibility of this stewardship rests with the people who own and operate the land. These are the farmers and the ranchers. Upon them we must depend to save and to improve what we have left in soil and water resources.

The nation's Soil Conservation Districts need the help of their church leaders in this divinely directed responsibility.

In Race for Texas Supreme Court

A three way contest for one of the positions on the Texas Supreme Court was revealed with the passing of the filing deadline last week.

First to file for Place 1 which will be vacated by St. John Garwood who is not a candidate for re-election, was the Chief Justice of the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals.

Judge Hamilton is basing his campaign entirely upon his 31 years experience as lawyer and judge.

His law practice began at Tyler in 1927. In 1929 he was County Attorney at Martin County. In 1933 he was District Attorney of the 70th Judicial District. He engaged in general practice at Midland from 1935 until 1950, when he was elected Judge of the 70 Judicial District which he had formerly served as District Attorney.

In 1953 he was appointed Chief Justice of the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals and was elected in 1954 without opposition to a full term of that office which he is now serving.

Mrs. Hamilton is the former Lois Rogers of San Antonio. The Hamiltons have two daughters, Emily and Ann, both attending the University of Texas, and a son, Robert, Jr., attending A&M College.

At a time like this, the more cameras in action the better. There can't be too many pictures of a moment like this.

To be sure of having the most complete album of wedding pictures her budget will allow, almost every girl who gets married today hires a professional photographer.

Such pictures generally supplement the traditional posed studio portrait of the bride. They consist primarily of informal photos of the bride and groom with their families and guests, both in the church and at the reception.

Many of these albums are hand-somely assembled collections, ranging in dimension from those suitable for wallet-size pictures to 11" x 14" or even larger. Small "accordion-type" albums, which unfold to display all the pictures at one time, are becoming quite popular.

One of the current favorites in albums is white leatherette with a gold-colored border. Usually, the pictures are mounted on heavy white paper, with a few inches of white space all around to give a framed effect. In other albums we've seen, transparent acetate envelopes hold the pictures flush to the edge, without mounting.

You'll find that today many wedding photographers offer a special "package deal", too. For example, one 8" by 10" white leatherette album of 24 pictures, plus one duplicate 5" x 7" brown leatherette album, may cost about $125. But for only $25 more, the same photographer will include these additional items: six identical 8" x 10" group pictures of the newlyweds, and 50 thank-you notes bearing their picture.

Stereo color slides have also become popular for wedding coverage. And with these as well, the price quoted is for a minimum number—usually 20 or 24. But remember, all you picture-taking relatives and friends of this season's bride-to-be, there's no reason to leave your own cameras at home just because a professional photographer's on the scene. Your pictures of the little incidents and happenings—offbeat and full of human interest—can make a wonderful wedding album all their own.

Grade School News

Our First grade sections have been entertaining their mothers in the rooms in token of appreciation of the help they have given during the first year in school. The children have eagerly looked forward to this occasion as a high light of their years work.

We have had a lot of excitement this past week taking achievement test. We sometimes look forward to these tests as being an ordeal, but after we start on them we find the test not so difficult.

Many of our rooms are planning end of school activities and picnics. We look forward to these as being a very wonderful way of gathering with our friends to saying what a wonderful year we have had in school.

ON COURTING BUSINESS—

Growing government and climbing taxes make a chilly atmosphere in which to invite new industries.

This view from present industrialists was presented at a recent hearing of the Texas Industrial Commission. Recently re-activated, the Industrial Commission is charged with finding ways to attract more industry to Texas.

Jim Yancey, spokesman for the Texas Manufacturers Assn. told the Commission that good labor-management laws and some restraint on government costs are needed. "Texas is fast losing its favorable position in comparison with other states in the area," he said.

Commission members noted there had been some misunderstanding" by regional Chambers of Commerce. Commission's purpose, they emphasized, is to help not compete with, such groups.

RATE BATTLE—
An Amarillo insurance firm has advanced one step in its battle to block enforcement of new, lower credit insurance rates.

An Austin district court granted the request of Cosmos Life Co. for a temporary injunction. State Board of Insurance had ordered a slash of about 50 per cent in rates for insurance issued on the lives of persons getting small loans.

Attorney general's department, which recommended the change, said old rates were excessively high. Companies contend the new ones are ruinously low. Court's injunction affects only Cosmos. Others, unless they join in the suit, must abide by the new rates. Until the case is finally decided, Cosmos must put in trust money equal to the difference between the old and new rates.

BAIL LAW VOIDED—
A law passed last year to regulate bail bondsmen has been declared unconstitutional by the Texas Supreme Court.

If effective, the law would have required bondsmen, unless they were attorneys to be licensed. One section applied only in counties of more than 350,000 population, another in counties of from 73,000 to 100,000 population.

High court pointed out that the constitution prohibits such narrow restrictions on laws of a general nature. Dallas legislators, who sponsored the bill last session, are reportedly planning to try again with a revised version.

SHORT SNORTS—
Senate general investigating committee has tentatively set its next hearing for mid May. Topic is still hush-hush, though it has been revealed it does not concern insurance. Investigation has centered in the Houston area. Amid predictions that the recession had "flattened out," Texas unemployment totals seemed to be leveling off. Latest official report showed number claiming unemployment benefits down from 93,289 to 92,596. A state holiday closing TFC offices for one day might have affected the drop.

Burkburnett Study Club Installed Officers At Annual Dinner Monday, May 12th

The Burkburnett Study club met for the closing of the club year with a dinner in the private dining room of the Cardinal Inn.

Mrs. Glen Bear was chairman of the dinner arrangements. Mrs. Jack Mathis of the decorations, Mrs. George McClarty of the entertainment.

Maj. Jane Sewall, instructor in the advance transportation Officers course, SAFB, and a resident of Burkburnett, was introduced by Mrs. Harold VanLoh, as the guest speaker for the evening. Major Sewall received her BS and MS degrees from North Texas State College at Denton, and as a WAC officer continued her studies at the Columbia University Graduate School in New York city. While stationed at Tinker Air Force base she became Transportation Officer, the first WAF officer to hold such a job in a Major Air Force Depot. Later she was selected to participate in the Training with Industry Program and studied traffic management at the Aluminum Co. of America, Westinghouse Electric Co. and the U. S. Steel Corp. Maj. Sewall served overseas in Europe more than six year. She told the club members of her travels and experiences while stationed in England. She displayed several weaves of materials and clothing brought from England and showed many beautiful colored slides made while on her coastal tour of England and of Scotland.

Following the tag Mrs. Archie Faulk, treasurer, gave a recapitulation report of the year's finances. Mrs. Howard Henderson presented gifts to the guest speaker, Mrs. P. A. Carpenter, out-going president and Mrs. Ollie Ratliff as the year's most helpful member, and Mrs. James Bohner for an outstanding program. Mrs. Glen Bear brought the club's new press book for show.

Mrs. F. A. Jamieson, incoming president and a delegate to the State Convention in Ft. Worth, May 7 and 8th gave an interesting and informative report on the activities of the Federated club of Texas and on the convention's program. Mrs. Jamieson stated the Texas Federation of Women's club presented a check for $10,000 to the Southern Methodist University to establish the Dorothy House Vietnam Memorial Oriental Scholarship. The presentation of the gift, the largest single contribution to education the TFWC has made in its 61 years was made during a luncheon session by Mrs. A. J. House, State president. Mrs. House also presented 5
