Plan For Safety On July Fourth

Planning for safety is as important in your July 4th trip as the planning for the trip itself," said Major R. A. Crowder, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, in announcing the department's "Operation Death Watch" for the July 4th weekend.

"Many July 4th accidents are being planned now," Crowder explained. "People plan to drive too far in a short period, or they plan to drive too long without rest."

"Such plans often mean that drivers must exceed speed limits to reach destinations and return during the holiday period, or drivers attempt to cover those last few miles when lack of sleep has robbed them of the alertness necessary to stay alive," Crowder said.

We find that carelessness, impatience and fatigue accompany drivers on poorly planned holiday trips, Crowder continued. During Operation Death Watch we're putting all available men into an enforcement program designed to reduce traffic fatalities to a minimum.

Crowder said the Death Watch period during the July 4th holiday will see the Highway Patrol, backed by officers of the DPS License and Weight and Motor Vehicle Inspection divisions, working round the clock to stop speeders and careless drivers.

Radar speed detection units will be used, along with all other means of traffic enforcement, Crowder warned.

The DPS headquarters in Austin has predicted that there will be 28 traffic fatalities in the state during Operation Death Watch," Crowder said. "We're going to do our best to prove that prediction wrong, but we'll need the help of every motorist in the state to accomplish the job."

Capt. E. L. Posey, district Highway Patrol Commander, pointed out that July 4th holiday was in 1955. "Posey continued. The state recorded 18 persons killed during the July 4th weekend that year.

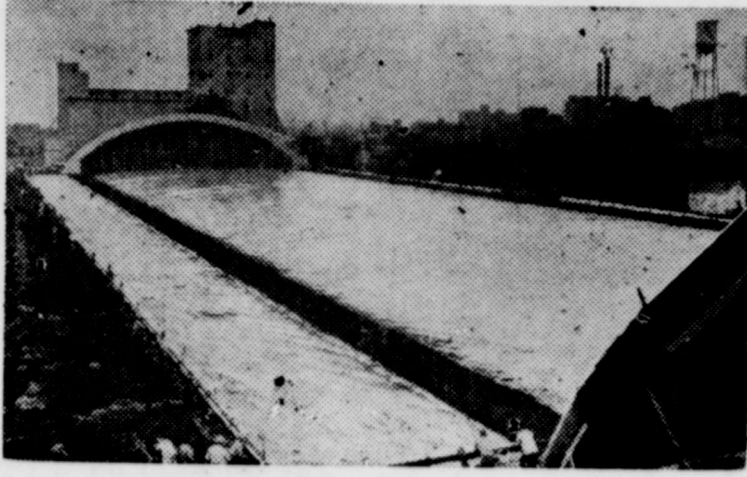

Our worst July 4th holiday period since 1950 was four years ago, the captain said. There were 33 persons killed in traffic accidents in Texas during the long July 4th weekend in 1954.

Operation Death Watch starts this year at 12:01 a. m. July 4th and ends at 11:59 p. m. July 6th. As a part of Operation Death Watch, the Dept. of Public Safety maintains a count of all accidental deaths, homicides, suicides and traffic fatalities.

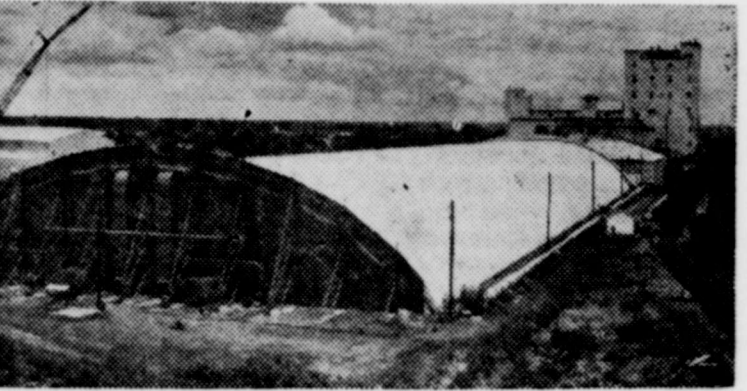

During the one day July 4th holiday in 1957, Dept. of Public Safety officers counted eight accidental deaths, two homicides, two suicides and 15 persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps.

Most Americans Are Good Drivers

Most Americans are good drivers—the high traffic toll notwithstanding.

The Council make a good point: with upwards of 70 million vehicles whizzing past each other only a couple of feet apart, the average driver must make 20 to 50 decisions an hour. Many of them literally involving life or death. Last year's all-time low death rate of 5.9 fatalities per 100 million miles of travel proves that most drivers made the right decisions.

Most of us want to be good drivers. We pride ourselves on our skill and common sense. We obey the law. We don't want to hurt ourselves, our families or the stranger in the other car. Then why do we have accidents? Carelessness?

Carelessness is a catch-all word that covers a multitude of sins. Good drivers that we are most of the time, every one who has ever been behind the wheel of a car remembers the near misses, and our accident toll is made up of those that didn't miss.

We get tired. We burn up at some minor rudeness by another driver. We drive a little too fast. We take a chance in passing. We think a couple of drinks can't do any harm. Or due to any one of a hundred distractions, we let our attention waver from the road for an instant beyond recall.

The National Safety Council estimates that more than 45 million cars will be on the roads over the day Fourth of July holiday. So don't be a good driver most of the time. You can't afford to make even one mistake.

Is He "Clean As A Hound's Tooth"

As of this writing, "Assistant President" Sherman Adams has employed the long suffering Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty as a buffer between himself and the press in the Goldfine affair.

In a written statement relayed to newsmen by Mr. Hagerty, Gov. Adams admitted that he had used the Goldfine suite in that Boston Hotel, and that he had gotten in touch with the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission regarding Mr. Goldfine's problems, but that these contacts were only "inquiries."

In a previous statement, Mr. Goldfine said that he and Mrs. Goldfine had visited with the Adamases in each others homes "on many occasions during the past many years", and that: "On some occasions, when Mr. and Mrs. Adams have been passing through Boston, I have entertained them at a Boston hotel and the bills have been paid by one of my companies." Mr. Goldfine was emphatic in regarding this as the same as offering the hospitality of his home, even though the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight says the Adams' hotel bills amount to about $2,000. He also denied that his old friend had ever used, or tried to use any influence in his behalf.

In answer to reporters' questions, Mr. Hagerty said: "The President finds nothing improper in accepting the hospitality of an old friend." Asked if he saw any similarity between the allegations presented to the subcommittee and the so-called "Truman scandals," Mr. Hagerty said he didn't know anything about the latter.

But, for all his protestations of ignorance, Mr. Hagerty must know the differences far outweigh any conceivable similarity. For one thing, Federal bureaucrats had not at that time been threatened within an inch of their jobs in the matter of accepting so much as a free lunch from anyone involved with the Government watchdogs. For another, the peccadillos of such hired help as Donald Dawson, T. Lamar Caule and Harry Vaughn can hardly be compared with questionable conduct from the man who is far more than his title of "Presidential Assistant" implies, who, in the judgement of many close observers, has served as Acting President of the United States.

Freedom To Advertise

Another vicious invasion of our dwindling freedoms was chalked up last month when the Bureau of Internal Revenue took action to try to gag private industry from using advertising to fight government competition." Thus begins a long editorial in The American Press, a monthly magazine which speaks for the weekly newspapers of this country.

The ruling in question was that advertising placed by electric utility companies, and presenting their side of the public vs private power controversy, could no longer be deducted as business expense for income tax purposes. Needless to say, all the proponents of socialized power greeted this act with shouts of joy.

The American Press also says: "We can't think of a more American way for business to battle for its rights than to take its case to the people by the use of advertising space. Surely this is more to be desired than secret, behind closed doors lobbying, which seems to be the alternative.

"It is our hope that the electric companies will not only fight this ruling in the tax courts but will go a step further and use part of their advertising space to acquaint the people with this attempt of the government to 'gag' them.

"Freedom to advertise is an important part of freedom of the press, and should be guarded with equal care. It is, in many cases the one vehicle through which business can 'speak out in open meeting'."

This goes far beyond the fight over who is to produce this country's electricity. If a tax penalty can be used to prevent any many, any industry or any group from stating his side of a case, one of the most essential of the freedoms supposedly guaranteed by the Constitution is on its deathbed. And government bureaus, tax weapon at the ready, will decide what can or cannot be said in the advertising pages of our newspapers and magazines.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

SYLACAUGA, ALA., NEWS: "Every so often some self appointed censor conceives the idea of cleaning up the newsstands. Invariably our reply is a stock one. The reading matter to which they take exception is legally published, legally distributed and legally licensed for resale, and under these conditions and adverse action on our part would be interference with free enterprise. Our suggestion would be that the censors inaugurate an educational campaign toward the reading of good literature rather than a cleanup campaign directed at resale.

REEDLEY, CALIF., EXPONENT: "The American people, and especially the rank-and-file of labor unions will hardly be satisfied with anything less than a labor control law that will really control, and perhaps eliminate, the professional hoodlums and racketeers which have infiltrated the labor movement. However since the AFL-CIO leaders are in their efforts to provide controls of their own, the most they can do is to expel a union led by crooks from the federation. But that doesn't help the members of that union. No, nothing short of a tight labor control measure will do. And now is the time to do it."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

If a fire-breathing dragon were loose on the Texas country side, smashing cars and their occupants, slapping down pedestrians, there'd be no question about the need to get rid of the monster. An aroused public would demand that somebody do something.

In actuality, innocent people are being maimed or killed every day as they go about their business. Thousands are lost every year.

But somebody is doing something. Right now, officials and private citizens are forming a massive posse. They are going after the killer, the monstrous indifference, carelessness and other difficulties that bring death on Texas streets and highways.

Leaders are members of the Texas Traffic Safety Council created by the Legislature just a year ago. Gov. Price Daniel is chairman; Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the department of Public Safety, vice chairman. Heads of numerous other state agencies are members.

Formation of the Council was the starting point for a campaign which, for the first time, brought the official power and prestige of state government to bear on a growing problem. For some years Texas vehicles and their drivers had been outgrowing highway facilities and outdistancing law enforcement agencies by sheer weight of numbers. In 1956 Texas had an appalling all time high of 2,611 motorist deaths.

Gov. Daniel called it a public emergency.

With only a skeleton organization, the Council hammered away through 1957 at tightening enforcement, organizing holiday safety campaigns. By the end of the year the toll had dropped by 72.

In February of this year the governor appointed the state's first full-time traffic safety director. He is Brad H. Smith, veteran South Texas newspaper, radio and television man and past president of the Texas Press Association, who has for many years been a volunteer worker in traffic safety.

First move was to acquaint Texans with the enormity of the problem. In this Smith says he's had unstinting help from mass news media and volunteer assistance from every type of civic group.

In April Gov. Daniel climaxed publicity efforts with a statewide broadcast calling for a crackdown on two major traffic evils — speeding and driving while intoxicated. Simultaneously, local traffic safety councils were formed in 190 counties. An estimated 5,000 people participated.

Meanwhile, the battle is being pushed on other fronts. A survey of traffic controlling resources resulted in recommendation of a 7-point program to bring Texas up to par:

1. A statewide program to bring greater public cooperation.
2. More rigid enforcement of present laws.
3. Adoption of the Uniform Driver's license Law.
4. A law to permit police to use chemical tests and other scientific aids to detect drunken drivers.
5. Development of strong, fair effective traffic courts.
6. A state Highway Patrol double its present size.
7. Universal driver education in public school supported by state aid.

Besides the state agencies working cooperatively through the new Council, other groups are part of the crusade. A major source of help is the 20 year old Texas Safety Association, a pioneer group which finances its efforts on a voluntary basis.

Texas Legislative Council is studying traffic problems and will report to the 56th Legislature.

Bringing new weight is the Governor's Highway Safety Commission. Scores of prominent Texans answered Gov. Daniel's call to give citizen support to official efforts. First Commission meeting is set tentatively for Fall.

Results thus far are encouraging. For the first 23 weeks of this year the toll was down by 101 persons, about 11% from last year. There were 163 fewer deaths down about 17% from 1956.

Goal for 1958 is a year long 10% drop or 254 lives saved, a real stab at the dragon.

July Snow Storm—

Next summer's Democratic precinct conventions will be like an extra after-hours election. There will be rival platforms and rival candidates, but only one key issue, who's to control the party.

Battle lines were drawn when the State Democratic Executive committee held its June meeting in Austin. Gov. Daniel, as head of the party in Texas, called on his moderate conservative cohorts to snow under the liberal labor Democrats of Texas at the conventions. He accused DOT of trying to usurp the party name for a splinter group.

SDEC is recommending electing precinct delegates to county conventions by primary ballot and moving primaries up to May and June. It also suggests a search for means to prevent party line crossing at primary time.

DOT is pushing for its code of ethics, for conducting conventions and a party registration law to keep out Republicans.

Relative merits of the two platforms may be as confusing to some voters as a snowstorm in July. What's clear is that if the moderate conservatives win out, Gov. Daniel will continue at the helm of party affairs in Texas. If DOT prevails, Mrs. Frankie Randolph, national committee-woman and DOT chairman, will take the wheel.

SHORT SNOTS—

Gov. Daniel has asked the State Board of Water Engineers to have ready by Dec. 1 a survey of Texas water needs that is to be presented to the next Legislature. Study is to be projected to the years 1975 and 2000. For the fourth straight week the Texas Employment Commission reported a drop in unemployment payments. Jobless persons receiving benefits totaled 78,965 in the last report. During the spring the total soared above 91,000. Jay Dean Howell, Jr. of Waco will join Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's staff June 23rd in the state and county affairs division. Howell is a former assistant U. S. district attorney. Albert H. Pollard, State Highway Department engineer, has been cited and given a $500 cash award by the Western Assn of State Highway officials for achievements in the use of gamma ray cameras to inspect bridge work. San Antonio will be host city for the state's big political shindig this year — the State Democratic Convention, Sept 9th. A 10 percent hike in motor bus fares within the state of Texas has been granted by the Railroad Commission, effective June 20th. Interstate fares had already been upped 10 percent.

First drought, then floods and now grasshoppers have come to plague disaster weary Texas farmers.

After touring the affected area in the Panhandle, Governor Price Daniel called it the worst grasshopper infestation in 20 years. Unless checked, he said, the 'hoppers could destroy much of the crops and pasture in 23 counties.

County, state and federal agencies worked with landowners to get crews to spray hatching grounds along roadways. State Agriculture Department, Highway Department, National Guard and Defense and Disaster Relief Office are cooperating in the battle. Aim is to try to kill the insects before they leave the hatching grounds and start chewing their way into crops for which farmers had high hopes this year.

Another threat is fund shortage. At a cost of some $3,000 a day for spraying crops, Texas Agriculture Dept.'s emergency funds dwindled fast.

Gov. Daniel expressed hope that some federal assistance might be obtained.

COX APPEAL DENIED —

Ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe has lost another round in his fight against a two year prison sentence.

Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 2-1 decision, upheld the trial court conviction on charges of consenting to accept a bribe. Cox's attorneys have one more recourse left, filing a motion for a re-hearing. Since the appeals court recesses June 28, this could not be considered until it convenes next October.

Cox's troubles rocked the state last spring, during the 1957 legislative session. They began when Howard Harmon of San Antonio, onetime head of the Texas Naturopaths, made public a tape recording of a hotel room conversation with Cox. Harmon and state's attorneys contended that the conversation reflected an effort by Cox to shake down Harmon in return for killing an anti naturopath bill which Cox had introduced in the Legislature.

JUDGE'S OPPONENT OUT—

One election contest has already been settled, some six weeks before election Day.

Texas Supreme Court ruled Judge Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls not eligible to run for the Court of Criminal Appeals against Judge K. K. Woodley. Reason: Judge Purcell has had only nine years experience as a lawyer and judge.

An 1891 amendment to the Constitution requires that Criminal Appeals Court judges have the same qualifications as Supreme Court judges. At that time the requirement for the high court was seven years experience. In 1945 the Constitution was amended to require 10 years experience for Supreme Court Judges.

Despite the time lapse, the effect of the two amendments is to require 10 years experience for Criminal Appeals Judges, according to the ruling in the Woodley-Purcell case.

Result is that Woodley will be unopposed in the primary and win automatic renomination for another six year term.

LINE JUMPING THREAT—

Another Supreme Court ruling on an election dispute poses an Election Day dilemma for Dallas voters.

It held that Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor official and self-styled "Stevenson Republican," is entitled to oppose Cong. Bruce Alger on the GOP primary ballot.

Cantrell's candidacy is interpreted as a move to inconvenience Dallas conservative voters. Election results for 1956 indicate a good percentage of "Big D" voters threw their strength behind conservative Democrats at precinct conventions and primaries, but supported Republican nominees for national offices in the general election. Presumably, unless conservatives are on hand to vote, Cantrell's friends might scratch GOP favorite Alger in his own primary.

But it's a two edged sword that applies equally to Dallas liberals if they go to the Republican primary to help Cantrell, they can not vote for liberal Democratic contenders for state office nor fight conservatives for Democratic control.

LIKE A JURY?—

Defending the State Board of Health's closed door meetings, Comm. Henry H. Holle said: "The Board is like a jury. You get the verdict, but you can't get in on their comments."

State Health Board has authority to allocate funds under the Hill Burton Act to match local funds for hospital building. Its policy has been to announce names of hospitals approved to receive funds, but not those rejected or why.

Newsman had been openly critical of the board for barring the press from its meetings. Holle said minutes of Board meetings were available to the public after formal approval at the next meeting, three months later.

MORE MONEY FOR LAND—

Texas Veterans Land Board has made its third $12,500,000 sale of bonds to finance land purchases by veterans.

This brings to $37,500,000 the bonds sold since last December. Land Office spokesmen say it monies the program enough money to carry it until August, 1959. A total of $200,000,000 in bond issues was authorized by voters in a recent constitutional amendment.

For a time the program was at a standstill because the Board was unable to find bond buyers who would accept the 3 percent or less in interest which the state is allowed under the constitution to pay.

TRY, TRY AGAIN—

Texas Supreme Court is again being asked to referee the battle of appointments that has brought the state insurance liquidation to "utter chaos."

Latest de a dlock developed when Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison fired Liquidator James M. Williamson (in office only 10 weeks) and replac-

Boys Rancher Saves Buddy From Drowning

Burkburnett Star Mr. H. C. Dodson Burkburnett, Texas Dear Mr. Dodson:

I am sending you a mat and a news story about two of our boys at Boys Ranch, because I believe it will be of interest to your readers. You know, through the years, the folks around Burkburnett have been so good to help us help our boys at the Ranch, and we like for them to know about the kind of youngsters their help is building.

I would also like to take this opportunity to remind you that if you are passing this way this summer, we would be mighty happy to have you stop by the Ranch and visit the boys and see just exactly what we are trying to do.

With best wishes to you and your staff, I am

Sincerely,
Cal Farley

A shy, slight Boys Rancher, Ernest Adams, receives the thanks of Pete Martinez, a buddy whose life he saved recently, and Cal Farley, founder and president of Cal Farley's famous Boys Ranch near Amarillo, Texas.

At the nationally known haven for homeless boys, the older boys frequently supervise groups of younger boys during leisure or play periods, and during such a period, Pete was taking four small boys for a walk.

Because swimming season was approaching and because the little boys were excited that they were going to be in this summer's beginners swimming class, they asked Pete to take them for a look at the swimming pool. As they were walking across the rock wall dam there, Pete explained to them that the bigger boys like to take hold of the rope hanging from one of the giant cottonwoods that border the pool, swing out over the water, then drop into the water.

Like all youngsters, the little boys were delighted with this idea, and begged Pete to "show us". Amiable and obliging Pete took the rope and executed a demonstration swing, but just before he reached the embankment, the rope broke and Pete, falling, struck his head against the dam and plunged unconscious into over six feet of water.

The little boys, terror-stricken when their buddy didn't come to the surface, started screaming. A group of older boys who were working on their saddles in the nearby barn heard them and came on the run to help, Ernest Adams in the lead.

Without breaking his long stride, Ernest kicked off his boots and, fully clothed, dived into the water and brought Pete to the surface. By this time the other boys and their instructor had also reached the dam and the staff member immediately gave Pete artificial respiration, after which the boy was rushed to a hospital.

Pete and Ernest have been friends at Boys Ranch for several years, and Ernest, although reluctant to discuss his feat of heroism, says,

"Well, sure, anybody's going to help out a buddy, if he can."

Texas crude oil reserves increased 9.2 barrels for each foot of well drilled in 1957; average for last 10 years, 17 barrels.

News From The County Agent

Extra rewards await the cotton producer who succeeds in producing a high quality crop this year, while discounts for low quality will continue to be stiff, reports B. T. Haws, county agent.

Cotton producers will find that such practices as weed, disease and insect control, fertilizing at rates based on research findings, irrigating for good maturity in areas where it is done with special attention to cutoff dates, careful harvesting and ginning, keeping low grade and high grade fiber separate and selling on grade can boost the income from this year's cotton crop.

A frosty glass of milk is a best choice for a cold drink on a hot day both from the standpoint of flavor and nutrition.

Tests indicate that laying hens perform best when the temperature ranges from 45 to 85 degrees. B. T. Haws county agent says poultrymen should make sure their laying houses are properly ventilated and that the supply of drinking water is adequate to meet hot weather needs. Too, when temperatures are around the 100 degree mark a fogging or sprinkling system installed in the laying house will pay dividends.

Farmers are urged to check their cotton closely for cotton insects. Some grasshopper, thrip and fleahopper damage was found in the Burkburnett area.

The use of turkeys from storage since Jan. 1, 1958 has been greater than any preceding year. However, storage stocks are still large and on May 1, amounting to 104 million pounds compared with 109 million pounds on the same date last year and the average of only 67 million pounds on the same date for the period of 1947-56.

It now appears that a drop from the 1957 record output of 81 million birds is certain and this should help prices. However the price rise will be tempered by large storage stocks. In addition, the paying prices that stores will be willing to offer for 15 to 20 percent of the crop which normally goes into long-time storage will be tempered by businessmen's judgements of the price that will prevail at the time the stored turkeys would normally be resold.

Present indications point to slightly better prices in the fall of 1958 than in the fall of 1957 because of the outlook for about a 14 percent drop in the 1958 turkey crop in the United States compared with that of 1957.

Sprays and dusts for the control of agricultural pests are a must to today's farm operations and to be successful. However, like other modern tools, these must be used with care to insure safety of the operator.

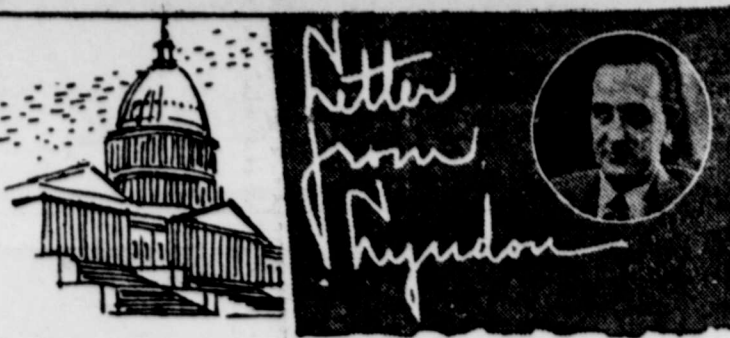

Here are some simple suggestions from entomologists at Texas A and M College for safe use of insecticides.

1. Always read the label before using sprays or dusts and follow warnings on the label.
2. Always store sprays and dusts in original containers. All sprays or dusts should be stored outside the home and out of reach of children.
3. Never smoke while spraying or dusting. Avoid inhaling sprays or dusts. Wear protective clothing or masks where indicated by labels.
4. Wash hands and face and change after spraying or dusting. Avoid spilling sprays or dusts on skin or clothing. If they are spilled, remove contaminated clothing & wash thoroughly.
5. If symptoms of illness occur during or shortly after spraying or dusting, call a doctor or get the patient to a hospital immediately.

If you must drive your tractor on the highways you will need to be extra careful because the normal 5 to 15 miles per hour of a farm tractor is almost like standing still on the highway in fast automobile traffic.

B. T. Haws, county agent gives these points to consider to help prevent dangerous accidents:

1. Be sure you can see ahead, to the side, and to the rear of the tractor and the implement you are pulling.
2. Be sure others can see your tractor. Have flags attached during the day and proper lights at night.

The Space Agency Bill passed by the Senate this week without opposition had been reported by unanimous agreement of the Special Senate Committee on Space and Astronautics. I am chairman of this Committee and I have never served with any group that approached its work with greater seriousness.

That is as it should be. Man presumes much when he presumes to bring the dominion of the stars within the purview of his legislative processes and under the jurisdiction of his administrative agencies.

Some say we now stand at the edge of the battleground for Armageddon. Others believe we are poised before the plains of the millennium. In either case, we have no national option but to marshal our resources, order our course, and proceed beyond the shelter and sanctuary of Earth's atmosphere into the realm of the limitless unknown.

To proceed prudently, or to proceed at all, we must of necessity proceed by faith. Humility is a proper companion for this national journey.

As a nation, we are motivated not by fear, but rather, by great confidence that extension of our capacity into the realms of space will some day bring release from fear for ourselves and all mankind.

We are moved by no thought of aggrandizement. We have no intention of planting flags of conquest upon the planets or of laying annexation claims to the stars. We do propose that space shall never become the route of march for tyrants and totalitarians and, as we have dedicated our resources in the past to maintaining the freedom of the seas and the security of the skies, so shall we dedicate our national capacity to maintaining the neutrality of space.

Space neither invites nor necessitates any re-definition of American goals and aims.

The goal of peace and liberty has led Americans through our history to explore the dimensions of challenging frontiers. Our goal now remains unchanged.

The nature of space, we must recognize it quite apart from the nature of land frontiers. We were permitted, in the development of the American West, to roll back the unknown at our leisure, confident as we did so that such gains as we claimed would be permanently ours.

With space, neither such leisure nor such confidence is permitted.

Space has given priority to a new denominator of national strength, the human mind. Unless this resource receives continuous exercise, our presumptions of security are meaningless.

We are, therefore, faced with the challenge of devising a policy and a program assuring the Nation the fullest mobilization of a resource which, among free men, is not responsive to directive and command.

That is the challenge. Mankind has never faced a greater one.

3. Be sure your steering apparatus is in good condition. Tractors with wheels that shimmy should be kept off the highway until repaired.

4. Keep the brakes equalized and tight enough to make short stops. Have good control at all times.

5. Be familiar with the machine you are operating and don't carry passengers on the tractor.

YOUR NEW Social Security

June brides who plan to continue working need to do something more than sign the marriage application and slip on the ring, according to Erton F. Tate, Wichita Falls social security office manager. They also need to change their names on their social security records.

Any woman who changes her name should be sure to submit a 'change of records' card to us. So that her new name may be tied in with our records under her previous name.

Records may be changed by calling at the social security office at the Post Office in Wichita Falls, or by requesting a change of record card from that office by mail.

It's a very simple procedure, Tate added. But it's one of those little things that mean so much. Future benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance system will be used on the work record, and that record cannot be completed and up-to-date in all respects unless the ladies remember to change their name on our records when they get married.

Birth certificates are not always necessary when applying for old-age insurance benefits. Erton F. Tate, District Manager of the Wichita Falls Social Security office pointed out yesterday. Tate said that this is a common misconception among those who apply for old-age benefits. Although birth certificates are necessary, some proof of age may be required. Some of the more commonly used proofs are old family records such as a family Bible, old insurance policies, voters records and marriage records.

To be used as evidence, these documents must show the claimant's date of birth or age; they must be authentic and they should be reasonably old.

Since the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance has certain rules and regulations it must follow in considering whether evidence is sufficient to prove the applicant's age, the document should be taken to the local social security office for personal inspection at the time a claim is filed.

If you are planning to apply for old-age benefits in the near future, it would be better to look for some record such as mentioned above rather than to concentrate on getting a delayed birth certificate.

Actually, in many cases, Tate said, such a record is preferable to a delayed birth certificate, especially if the certificate is of recent date.

There is no age limit for the payment of social security taxes. All employees and self-employed individuals pay the tax on their covered earnings regardless of age. This reminder comes from Erton F. Tate, District Manager of the Wichita Falls office of the Social Security Administration.

"It makes no difference that a person may be over retirement age and receiving social security insurance payments," Tate explained. "Social security taxes are payable if an employee is paid covered wages of any amount, or if a self-employed person has net income of $400 or more from his business during the year." Earnings are credited to a persons account after he reaches retirement age in the same manner as before and may affect the amount of benefits that he receives.

Wages paid by an individual employer to his parent, spouse or child under age 21, are not covered by social security and should not be reported, Tate pointed out. So long as a minor child does not work for his own parent, he is covered in exactly the same manner as adults, regardless of how young he is.

Tate advises those persons who have questions about the tax collecting provisions of the Social Security Act to contact the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas. If information is needed about the benefit provisions of the Social Security program, get in touch with the Wichita Falls, district office of the social security Administration located in Room 432 Post Office Building, Wichita Falls.

The yearbook committee for Wichita County HD clubs met this past week. Plans were started for the 1959 yearbook. Mrs. R. J. Ring is chairman of the committee.

Here's a suggestion from Thelma Wirges, county HD agent, that can save you valuable time and possible repair bills on your farm and home equipment. She says the instruction books that come with equipment can be a valuable tool to lengthen the life. They also help you use the equipment and are useful in reconditioning equipment. Her suggestion is to store these books in a safe place where they will be handy so you can refer to them. If you have a family file, you have the very best place. She suggests that you use these books to become better acquainted with the equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brockreide have an excellent file and business center built into their beautiful new home. It not only provides a place for keeping booklets and papers, but a most convenient place to relax and work on family business.

Mrs. Albert Brockreide was trained as a leader in the drapery workshops and surely shows excellent results in her own home. She has used the instructions from the workshops and has constructed beautiful draperies for 5 rooms in her own home. You would think a real professional had made them.

You can receive a set of instructions from Thelma Wirges, county HD agent, 305 Federal building, Wichita Falls.

Steam pressing is a fast growing trend judging by the increasing number of questions on the selection, use and care of steam irons, received by your county HD agent.

Mrs. L. L. McHugh, chairman of the county foods and nutrition committee, Mrs. J. L. Graham, chairman of the county home improvement committee and Mrs. Gail Mitchell, chairman of the county clothing committee have started plans for the annual committee planning meetings. If you have suggestions for work you would like to see done in one of these fields, contact one of these chairmen or Miss Thelma Wirges in Wichita Falls.

These committees are a part of the Wichita County Program

John C. White For Re-Election

A major advance for the Texas Dept. of Agriculture was claimed by Commissioner John C. White this week with the announcement that Texas now stands first among 12 southern states in the amount and enforcement of farm legislation.

"Since 1951, we have jumped from seventh to first position in modern farm laws," said White. "These legal provisions have enabled us to increase our services in Texas by as much as 300%. As a result, Texas can no longer be regarded as an agricultural dumping ground for inferior products from other areas."

The 33-year old commissioner who is seeking re-election to the top farm job in Texas, added that ten years ago we were a convenient garbage pail for the nation. Today, we can put more trust in our own production and know that farm goods shipped into the state must meet certain quality standards.

Commissioner White cited his re-organization of the Department as a major factor in modernizing and increasing farm services. It marked the first big overhaul in its previous 47 year history and helped put many programs on a self supporting basis.

Our goal during my past years in office has been to increase state services without making constant demands for new tax money, White stated. "The clean up of the state grain scandals, better seed laws, more effective insect controls and establishment of a market news service are just a part of the accomplishments under this system," he added.

White is actively campaigning to continue the programs he inaugurated after taking office in 1951. He defeated two opponents without the necessity of a runoff in 1952 and 1956 and was unopposed in 1954.

Born and raised on tenant farms in North Texas, White said that the challenge today for greater progress in our vital industry — agriculture — calls for devoted and experienced leadership in the future.

Before elected to office, Commissioner White was head of the Dept. of Agriculture at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls. He and his wife and three sons now live in Austin.

Texas had 113 trillion cubic feet of natural gas reserves at the end of 1957

Your New Social Security

Working women and wives of retired workers can receive Social Security payments after reaching age 62. The amount of the checks won't be exactly the same as it would be at age 65, but it will be reduced according to when the payments begin.

The earlier they begin the larger the reduction. However, early filing can mean extra months or years of Social Security checks. Taking the reduced benefit at any age between 62 and 65 means a woman could be ahead for twelve to fifteen years. The extra checks received before age 65 make up for the reduction for that length of time.

Anyone desiring information or assistance in social security matters are invited to meet with Mr. Joe Nesbitt, field representative of the Wichita Falls Social Security office will be in Burk Burnett on August 5th at the City Hall between 2:00 and 4:00 p. m.

Evening College Term Sept. 15th At Midwestern

The Evening College of Midwestern University is asking the surrounding area to help in scheduling non credit courses for the term beginning Sept. 15, according to Joe Stockwell, new director of the M. U. Evening College.

Adult education courses are offered by the Evening College in addition to academic courses, and are designed for the adult who is not seeking a college degree, but who nevertheless desires to widen his or her business or cultural horizons thru university level instructions.

These courses are open to everyone, regardless of age or prior schooling, and are held one night each week for nine weeks usually between the hours of 7:00 and 10:00 p. m.

In the past, courses have covered such widely diversified subjects as How to Buy Securities, Electronics, Wills and Estate Planning, Shorthand, Creative writing and many others.

If the need exists, we will do our best to provide courses in anything from Square Dancing to Great Books of Western Civilization," Stockwell said. However, we need time for planning.

In this regard, individuals and groups interested in adult education courses are urged to convey their suggestions to us no later than July 7th," Stockwell said. Mail should be addressed to the Evening College, Midwestern University, Wichita Falls. Our phone number in Wichita Falls is 767-8352.

FROM WARM SPRINGS FACT AND FANCY by Lester H. Richter

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

Now that this Sherman Adams thing has come up, I guess we have pretty well established the fact that "influence" gratuities are a pretty non partisan thing. Not enough people, Democrats and Republicans alike, are looking their gift horses in the month, which leaves them wide open for a lot of nagging.

Ike said that his team-mates would be cleaner than a hound's tooth, but he forgot to tell Old Sherman to look his gift horses in the mouth. Maybe I should suggest that the place for Ike to look for a clean hound's tooth is in the hound's mouth, but then he would really be going to the dogs.

Now all the hounding is being done by the Democrats who have been waiting a long time to find a substitute for mink. They have it now: vicuna, and they will doubtless drag it out for a "fur" piece.

Lest it be said that I am taking this matter too lightly, I hasten to report that I have given the matter considerable thought. I have decided that these gifts are being criticized only because they are going to people of influence.

I would suggest, therefore, that a law be passed requiring people of influence to turn all gifts they receive over to a non-profit organization which we could call a Gift Bank. The items would be shown on TV and sold on a sealed bid basis, the proceeds going to reduce the national debt.

Or, if they preferred a similar plan, they could just send the presents to me. I never could influence anybody.

The caption explained that these persons represented part of the 101 different jobs necessary to keep the Foundation's program of comprehensive physical medicine and rehabilitation functioning properly.

The strength of the Foundation's program lies in its highly trained staff which is concerned with the social, spiritual, psychological and vocational development of the patient, as well as his physical rehabilitation.

Savings Bonds Soar In Texas

For the fifth consecutive month sales have shown an increase over the same month in 1957. May sales were 2.2 per cent greater than May, 1957, and the cumulative sales are 4.3 per cent greater than the same period in 1957.

For the first time since World War II, Texas has an excellent opportunity to achieve its year's goal. Based on past sales performance we should have attained 43.7 per cent of our goal at this time and we have attained 43.3 per cent. With added work on the part of our 1,500 volunteers in the Lone Star State, we should attain our 1958 goal.

J. C. Porter, Wichita Falls SIA chairman, reports that the Wichita Falls campaign is well organized and from all indications they will achieve their goal of 2,400 new savers. Estil Vance, State Banking Chairman and president of the Fort Worth National Bank, gave an inspiring address to the top management meeting on June 12. Mr. Vance also made a savings bonds address before over 200 Rotarians gathered at their regular meeting.

Cliff Wampler is Burk Burnett chairman and reports good response here.

Mrs. W. R. Stimpson visited Mrs. Robert Riddle and children in Kilgore recently while Mr. Riddle went deep sea fishing off the Louisiana coast. The Riddles brought Mrs. Stimpson home and remained over the weekend for a visit.

Mrs. Tom Britton and Shirley left Wednesday for Albuquerque N. M. where they will join Mr. Britton and make their home. The Brittons were residents of Burk Burnett for several years and their many friends wish them much success in their new home.

Mrs. Bill Anderson and daughters of Farmington, N. M. spent several days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Simmonson.

Colonel George H. Marshall, Chief Secretary of Southern Territory, will represent the Southern Territorial Office at the farewell and welcome luncheons, dinners and public meetings incident to this change in top command.

With the retirement of Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Morrison on June 18 under the age rule of the Salvation Army making retirement at 65 mandatory, the Colonel Morrisons will end 38 years of dedicated service to others as officers of The Salvation Army. Fifteen of these 38 years have been spent in Texas.

When Lt. Colonel Pickering becomes Divisional Commander on June 19, and his wife, who holds equal rank with her husband, becomes Divisional Home League Secretary, they will return to Texas and to Dallas after an absence of 14½ years.

100 YEARS AGO

Texas Census 400,000, 1858

From The Frontier News Flashes, supplied by the Department of Journalism and Graphic Arts, University of Houston, we find that Texas had few inhabitants one hundred years ago.

"Northern papers say that at no time since the panic began, have times been so hard for men of moderate means as now.

"We apprehend, that the census taken by our assessors and collectors will be very imperfect. Hurriedly running over 60 counties, condensed at the State Department, we found that the total footed up 228,538 souls. In these counties were included Harrison, Dallas, Fayette, and some other large counties. Bexas, Travis, Galveston, Rush and Cherokee were not included. There are only 114 organized counties. Judging from the hasty view, our total population would appear to be less than 400,000, or about that figure.

MJF's Enjoy Picnic Hobo Party June 26

The Methodist Juniors enjoyed a hobo party, hayride and picnic Thursday evening, June 26th. Mr. Jim Pirtle met them at the church at 6:00 o'clock with a long trailer covered with hay and hitched to a pickup. Twenty juniors dressed in every conceivable costume with their paper sacks tied on the end of a hobo stick, climbed on. There were four counselors with them. They rode about 5 miles an hour to the city park where they spread their lunches together and ate a delicious picnic lunch. The department furnished the cold drinks for all the group.

After the supper they formed a line and marched by the judges table for inspection. There were so many funny costumes, but they finally presented Bonnie Moore with a prize for the girl who had the best hobo costume and Jimmy Creel received the one for the boys.

The group then climbed back on the trailer and went to the ball park and then back to the church. It was the most fun we have had this year and we give Mr. Jim Pirtle our vote of thanks for making this possible. Those present were: Sally Mitchell, Patsy Robinson, Jean Page, Lynn Halsey, Charles Reagan, Jimmy Eastman, Kenny Johnson, Johnny Waller, Janet Mathis, Lynn Holliday, Sylvia McDonald, Patsy Harsh, Dianne McConnell, Dorothy Hay, Bonnie Moore, Jimmy Creel, Bennie Lee McDonald, Carol Faulk, Anita Netherlain, Fleta Smith, Mesdames Jim Pirtle, Bill Halsey, I. R. Reagan, O. E. Melton and Mr. Jim Pirtle.

Double Ring Ceremony Sunday United Miss Jo Scoggins and Virgil Alex Mills

A Sunday afternoon ceremony performed in the Lamar Baptist Church at 4 o'clock united in marriage Miss Jo Merlyn Scoggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mirrel D. Scroggins of Paris, Tex., to Virgil Alex Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil N. Mills of Burk Burnett. Rev. J. H. Kollmeyer of Burk Burnett conducted the double ring ceremony. The vows were spoken before a background of emerald green foliage and candelabra, illuminated by white cathedral tapers. Sunburst arrangements of white gladiola and stock completed the setting. Mrs. N. K. Brooks, organist, provided traditional nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Stanley Arey. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in an original cocktail length sheath of imported alecon lace designed with a portrait neckline and long sleeves tapering to petal points over the wrists. The gown featured bouffant tulle overskirts fitted to a shirred cummerbund of tulle. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a tiara of Givre' and rhinestone. She carried a cascade of Stephanotis, maline and satin streamers centered by an irchid. Mrs. Bill W. Moser served as matron or honor. Maid of honor was Miss Martha Brooks and Miss Zoe Ann Fancher served as bridesmaid. The attendants were attired in identical mauve faille strapless sheath gowns, designed with fitted lace jackets featuring portrait necklines. Mauve lace hats applied with seed pearls completed their ensembles. They carried cascades of mauve and white pompon chrysanthemums outlined with maline and streamers. Candelighters were Miss Sherry Scroggins, sister of the bride, and Misses Mitzi and Treva Mills, sisters of the groom. They wore identical mauve peau de soie dresses fashioned with portrait necklines, bouffant skirts and shirred tulle cummerbunds. Wristlets of white feathered carnations completed their costumes. Brenda Bowles and Tommy Young, cousins of the groom, were flower girl and ring bearer respectively. Serving as best man was Donald Elliott of Burk. Groomsman were Charles Griffith of Randall and Jerry Reagan of Burk, while Dan Kinnett and Rayford Young of Burk served as ushers. Following the ceremony a reception was held at 702 Warford in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Wilson, aunt and uncle of the bride. Arrangements of white gladiola and stock decorated the party rooms. The bridal table was covered with mauve taffeta that was draped in a Victorian swag over a full net underskirt. Rhinestone studded tulle bells decorated the taffeta swag. An arrangement of candelabra, white spider chrysanthemums was the center decorative feature of the table which was complemented with crystal appointments. Misses Tommie Porter and Carolyn Bacon alternated at the punch bowl while Mrs. Lowell Posey, cousin of the bride, served the wedding cake. Miss Dee Ann Ireland presided at the guest register which was placed on a table decorated with a white satin wedding tree.

topped with two pearl lovebirds and tiny bells covered with white net studded with pearls and lillies of the valley. The bride is a graduate of Paris High School and is employed with L. and H. Drilling Co. The groom is a graduate of Burk Burnett High School and is employed with G and S Distributing Co. He is a sophomore business major at Midwestern University where he plans to continue his schooling. Mr. and Mrs. Mills, the groom's parents, were hosts in their home on Saturday evening for the rehearsal dinner which was served buffet style from a medeira cut work cloth and featuring a white floral arrangement. After a wedding trip to Lake Texhoma, Mr. and Mrs. Mills will reside at 2806 Speedway.
