Connie Swinford Named Winner At Fat Stock Show

Glory came to freckled nosed Connie Swinford and to Wichita Falls here Monday afternoon as the Wichita County Four-H Clubber showed the grand champion steer of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. Nine year old Connie, dressed in blue jeans and jacket, wearing a pony tail and a broad smile was flanked by her proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swinford of Friberg, in her moment of triumph.

It was the greatest honor available in this stock classic. Her animal, "Silver," will sell at auction Friday. Last year's champion sold for more than $6,000.

After winning the show, Connie said she would give one-tenth of the proceeds from her champion to the church. Her mother said Connie always "tithes her allowance." Though she won the junior championship Saturday, she hurried back to Thornberry to attend Sunday School where she was awarded a four year attendance pin.

Connie was the darling of a huge gallery gathered in the show arena of this vast exposition center. Tremendous applause greeted the choice of Judge Dr. Robert Black of New Mexico A&M.

The champion animal was bred by her father, Ralph Swinford, by "Real Silver Domino 280." It was out of a Mill Iron cow.

Press bulbs flashed and television cameras ground, as Connie, who weighs only 58 pounds and stands only 58 inches from the arena sands, received a banner and plaque.

Her picture will appear in dozens of Texas newspapers as a result of her feat Monday.

The Swinfords said they brought their daughter and her fine little steer to Fort Worth never dreaming we would win anything, much less the championship. The honor came as a complete surprise to them. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, Max Carpenter and others from the Wichita Falls area were in the stands cheering her on as she gained each plateau on her road to the championship.

The Swinfords will remain in Fort Worth through the sale Friday.

Though the champion steer honor dwarfed all else here, other awards were made to area entries.

New Office Bldg. Being Built By Harlin A. Mills

Mills Grain Co. is in the process of building a completely new and spacious office building to house the expanding business of the company.

The new structure, according to Harlin Mills, owner, will be on the site of the former office at Avenue B and Second Street. It is to be a one story structure and will be constructed of masonry walls of dark grey with panels of cast stone in a blend of light colors.

The roof will be deck type. Interior walls will be of plaster and exposed brick.

There will be 2,400 square feet of office space and a covered parking area of 700 square feet on the east side.

Interior arrangements call for four private offices, a walk-in vault, coffee bar, scale room, records room and restrooms.

C. of C. Luncheon Attended by 54 Monday Noon

Fifty-four turned out for the monthly Chamber of Commerce business luncheon at Town Hall Monday noon.

Cliff Wampler, new president of the C. of C., was in charge. Marjorie Hofacket, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved.

Rodeo dates for this year were announced: June 16, 17 and 18th.

Floyd Marten and Mrs. Ralph White reported on the progress of the Swimming Pool construction program. A meeting is to be held in the near future with an architect in attendance, when definite costs and construction plans will be considered.

Clark Gresham, County Commissioner, reported the road by the rodeo grounds had been widened to four lanes. Bedrock has been laid and blacktop will be added as soon as favorable weather comes. Purchase of right-of-way for 287 expressway to Wichita Falls has been held up by the Highway Department, but hopes are that resumption of purchases may get underway soon.

Wampler made a brief report on a recent West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting held in Abilene. The Industrial Committee discussed four elements necessary to secure industry: Desire, Work, Time and Money.

Postmaster A. H. Lohofener reported a large quantity of mail coming to Burkburnett is undeliverable because of improper addresses. He urged all businessmen to check with their suppliers and see that they have correct addresses. Residents move around quite a bit and fail to leave their new address. As a consequence, they miss much of their mail.

It takes a raft of friends to keep some people afloat.

US Aids Tito-Reds, Argentina Starves (FROM THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE)

A story that struck at the heart chords came out of Argentina last week. It told of whole families from the depression-ridden pampas thronging into cities, not to seek fame and fortune but to try to find enough food to keep them alive. Starvation stalks the populous pampas.

These are our neighbors in the Western Hemisphere, the people whom President Eisenhower, Secretary of States Dulles and many others have said are so valuable to the United States in the cold war against communism and in trade.

If not out of human compassion then for strictly business and political purposes does it not seem that Americans would be solicitous of the welfare of our Latin-American neighbors?

We aren't. We twist dictator Tito's arm to get him to take American aid for Communist Yugoslavia. We give aid to dictator Gomulka in Communist Poland. We are eager to get dictator Nehru to accept American aid in anti Western India. We even talk of recognizing Red China and trading with her, with American aid being the probable next step.

Meanwhile, Argentineans are dying of starvation. And this situation has not arisen overnight. Argentina has been getting worse and worse economic plight for a long time. Yet while we were pouring out $56,546,000 economic aid to Tito and little Viet Nam got $785,000,000 American assistance, Argentina in the past three years was given $241,000 assistance, lowest of any of the 55 countries we aided.

Meanwhile, too government-leased warehouses in the United States are bulging with government bought agricultural surpluses. Some of the surpluses would keep Argentineans from starving. Or aren't we concerned about our neighbors while so solicitous about Communist Tito?

Crucial Point

Innumerable forecasts of what will happen to economy this year have appeared. The vast majority are highly optimistic. And the vast majority also have another thing in common—they expect that the cost of living will remain virtually constant. This simply means that they believe inflation has been at least temporarily leashed.

Everyone hopes this will prove to be the case. But the best of economists have been woefully wrong before. And certainly, there are clouds in the crystal ball today.

For instance, no less an authority than the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William Martin, is by no means sure that the price level will be stable. In his view, in fact, "the battle against inflation is at a crucial point." He adds: "The process of inflation in this country started over ten years ago during our wartime period and has persisted ever since." He presents three alternatives as possible weapons in this battle—higher taxes, a revision of the tax structure to produce more revenue, or a reduction in spending.

President Eisenhower favors a budget which will be in balance or nearly so, of about $77 billion. But there are strong forces at work which, if successful, will raise that figure by $10 billion or more, and thus produce a tremendous deficit. If that happens, it will be a true miracle if the dollar isn't further debased.

The point is that no should be lulled into a happy complacency by the economic forecasts. Attitudes that prevail in government will largely determine what happens.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

JEFFERSON, OHIO, GAZETTE: "A friend of mine, an ardent isolationist, is most vociferous in his opposition to all this space exploration. He has a double bitted argument. In the first place, he says, we've got enough problems here on earth to be settled before taking on any solar perplexities.

"Furthermore, he adds, if there are any men on the moon, they'll just talk us into providing them with housing and all of the charities of the welfare state."

BOONTON, N. J., TIMES-BULLETIN: "If your child has classroom failures, parents, don't be too concerned—that would be the advice of Stanley E. Diamond of the University of Michigan. He believes that classroom failures should be accepted as part of growing up. He reminds parents, it's probably impossible to mature in our society without experiencing failure. The good is not in the failure, but in the overcoming of failure."

SUMMERVILLE, GA., NEWS: "In the present age, when television, movies, automobiles and many other luxuries we now enjoy take so much time, the art of finding pleasure and satisfaction at home, in the form of hobbies or projects, is sometimes overlooked."

Why Car Insurance Costs So Much

Do you ever wonder why your car insurance costs so much—and is likely to cost more in the future? If so, an article by Richard Dunlop in the National Safety Council's magazine, Traffic Safety, will give you the answer.

First of all, Mr. Dunlop points out, it isn't because the car insurance companies are reeling in big profits. They have actually been paying out $116.70 for every $100 taken in through premiums, and since World War II they have gone $600 million into the red.

That is partly accounted for by inflated prices, and by car designs which make repairs extremely expensive—but only partly. Chiselers of assorted kinds are involved in the profitable business of turning car accidents into jackpots. Their fields of activity range from garages which pad the bills to ambulance chasing lawyers.

But this doesn't end the story. As Mr. Dunlop puts it: "Juries give away insurance money with an almost incredible disregard for the facts of a case." He cites a Texas woman who claimed that merely witnessing an accident caused her to suffer a miscarriage. Two obstetricians said that was poppycock—but the jury awarded her $90,000. New York State Supreme Court Justice McDonald has said: "Eighty percent of jury awards are excessive and 10% so grossly excessive they may be set aside by the court."

One solution to this problem is to reduce accidents. It can be done. Mr. Dunlop gives Butte, Mont., as an example. Its passenger car insurance rate actually dropped from $117 in 1936 to $35 at present, while the rates in most other places were soaring. Butte did it by breaking up the rackets, and by putting into effect a tough traffic safety program that worked. What Butte has done, any community can do—if the citizens demand it and back up the authorities.

There are still a lot of wide open spaces in this country. The trouble is most of them are surrounded by teeth.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE RICH... to be sued!

Biscayne 4-Door Sedan shows the Fisher Body beauty of Chevrolet's lowest priced series for '59.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "git" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. It is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or the vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

TELEPHONE TALK

Today, You're Still Paying World War II "Emergency Taxes" On Your Telephone Bill

Next time you're checking over the charges on your monthly telephone bill, take a real close look at the second line from the top. Notice the figure indented under the word TAX.

10% FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

Most of that amount represents federal (U.S.) excise taxes—10c on every dollar of local and Long Distance phone service.

Doubtless few people even remember, but federal excise taxes were World War II emergency taxes designed to help raise money for defense, and to discourage use of vital telephone lines which were then needed for essential war time purposes.

Well, the war is over. But you and I are still paying the taxes.

Continuing World War II emergency taxes on an essential item like telephone service is so unbelievable it's almost funny. Except it's a little hard to laugh when you're being belted in the pocket book that hard.

ONLY ON TELEPHONE SERVICE

Of the four essential household utilities—gas, water, lights, telephone—only your telephone service is subject to excise taxes.

And as if the tax itself isn't enough, there's also a hidden cost involved. You pay that, too. You see, we have to collect the tax and pass the proceeds along to Uncle Sam. This extra bookkeeping and billing adds to the expense of running the telephone business.

If you feel as I do, that this unfair tax should be repealed, I invite you to write Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough and Congressman Frank Ikard and tell them so. One more reminder won't surprise them. They'll already have heard about it from me.

DON'T MISS THIS TV TREAT!

The second Bell Telephone Hour on television will feature a host of musical stars, including Duke Ellington, Ella Fitzgerald, Grant Johannesen, Rise Stevens, Martha Wright and Russell Nype, with a wide variety of American Music by American artists.

TELEPHONE TALK

Today, You're Still Paying World War II "Emergency Taxes" On Your Telephone Bill

Next time you're checking over the charges on your monthly telephone bill, take a real close look at the second line from the top. Notice the figure indented under the word TAX.

10% FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

Most of that amount represents federal (U.S.) excise taxes—10c on every dollar of local and Long Distance phone service.

Doubtless few people even remember, but federal excise taxes were World War II emergency taxes designed to help raise money for defense, and to discourage use of vital telephone lines which were then needed for essential war time purposes.

Well, the war is over. But you and I are still paying the taxes.

Continuing World War II emergency taxes on an essential item like telephone service is so unbelievable it's almost funny. Except it's a little hard to laugh when you're being belted in the pocket book that hard.

ONLY ON TELEPHONE SERVICE

Of the four essential household utilities—gas, water, lights, telephone—only your telephone service is subject to excise taxes.

And as if the tax itself isn't enough, there's also a hidden cost involved. You pay that, too. You see, we have to collect the tax and pass the proceeds along to Uncle Sam. This extra bookkeeping and billing adds to the expense of running the telephone business.

If you feel as I do, that this unfair tax should be repealed, I invite you to write Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough and Congressman Frank Ikard and tell them so. One more reminder won't surprise them. They'll already have heard about it from me.

DON'T MISS THIS TV TREAT!

The second Bell Telephone Hour on television will feature a host of musical stars, including Duke Ellington, Ella Fitzgerald, Grant Johannesen, Rise Stevens, Martha Wright and Russell Nye, with a wide variety of American Music by American artists.

Col. Tex He Auctioneer Wichita Falls,

A Service Of The Thor Research Center For Better Farm Living

A problem penned by an Eastern reader, regarding paint streaking, points up one of the most important jobs in any painting project—care and cleaning of the brushes.

The reader says, "I clean my brushes in paint thinner after using them, yet invariably there is just enough old paint far up in the bristles to streak the new paint next time I use the brushes. What am I doing wrong or neglecting to do?"

Hang brushes in thinner to keep them pliable.

If you give the brush successive washings in three separate cans of thinner, turpentine, or other paint brush cleaner, you'll get most of this paint from the well. But if that doesn't do it, spread the bristles carefully apart in sections and use a small screwdriver about the width of the brush well to scrape out any paint that still may be there.

If you have an electric drill, here's another method you can use by obtaining a drill attachment which holds a paint brush. Wash the brush in thinner, then simply insert the brush handle in the electric drill attachment and spin the paint residue out of the bristles. Hold the drill inside a carton during spinning to catch the paint.

After cleaning, the brushes can be hung in large cans of clean thinner so that part of the bristles are in the thinner, keeping them moist and pliable. Use your portable electric drill to make small holes in the brush handles and suspend the brushes from wire fastened to the top of the can.

(Send any do-it-yourself questions you may have to the Thor Research Center, Marengo, Ill. They will be answered by letter in this column.)

Sen. Yarborough's News Report

Within a few years, we may see many thousands more tourists attracted to the Texas Gulf Coast for vacations at the seashore.

This is sure to happen when we are able to establish Padre Island National Park in compliance with a bill I filed in the Senate shortly after the new session opened. This bill, S-4, would keep for public use a substantial portion of this unique island which extends the southernmost 115 miles of the Texas coast. This beautiful half-mile wide natural beach, with its mild climate and bountiful wildlife, is one of Texas greatest recreation resources.

Properly developed, there is no question that as a national park, Padre Island would become the winter park of America just as Yellowstone, Yosemite, Glacier National and the Great Smokey Mountains are summer playgrounds.

Looked at from a standpoint of historical interest, Padre Island is one of the closest links Texas and the United States have with the past for it was there that one of the earliest explorers set foot on New World soil. The explorer, Alonso Alvarez de Pineda, a Spaniard, in Farm buildings, like modern farm machinery, are now taking a new bright appearance of color and design.

The recent introduction of low cost steel farm buildings in shades of blue, green, rose, bronze, gray and white have caused farmers and their wives to take a long second look at the shed. First reports indicate that buildings throughout the countryside have already started to break out in a rash of attractive colors.

One of the first buildings to be constructed, with blue walls and a rose roof, stopped traffic along the highway as people tried to take a closer look. Many of them were women who had to have a special gleam in their eye for this pleasant addition to the farmstead.

The new color coating, called Stran-Satin Color, is not a flake, but a protective coating of vinyl-aluminum that is said to be both durable and low in cost. Developed by Stran-Steel Corporation, it is applied to the galvanized steel panels at the factory, then shipped to the construction site for quick erection. The company said that test samples had withstood rigorous corrosive exposure tests with no deterioration of the finish, no loss of adhesion, and no corrosion of base metal. Also, it said that the new color coating will not blister, peel, or crack. Stran-Satin Color may be obtained on all Stran-Steel Stran-ter buildings, the all-steel pole building with "do-it-yourself" structure, and Rigid Frame buildings.

FOOTBALL CAPTAINS FOR 1959 SELECTED BY TEAM

For the first time in years the football team has chosen four captains: two line captains and two backfield captains.

The eighteen returning lettermen voted Jan. 20th for the captains of next years football team. The voting was divided equally between the four boys, each getting 9 votes.

The captains for next year's team are: Jerry Darter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Darter, who plays center; Carlos Ramsey son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ramsey, who plays guard; Bobby Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lewis, who plays quarterback; and Kenneth Durham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Durham, who plays halfback.

All of them, having played 3 years of football, will be seniors next year. Three of them were on the starting line-up all season and one the last part of the season.

These players were voted captains for their outstanding ability and sportsmanship.

News From The County Agent

You don't have to be a tax expert to save money when you pay your income tax. The government wants only the amount of tax due, and it is right of every taxpayer to use legal means to reduce his income tax.

B. T. Haws, county agent advises that income tax is like other farm and ranch costs and can be reduced by good management.

As an example of good tax management, Haws points out you might consider paying wages to your children for work done around the farm or ranch.
Such payments for bona fide services count as farm labor expenses even though you list these children as dependents.

You might also remember that when board is furnished to hired help, the portion of food which is purchased is a deduct-able business expense.

As in any business, adequate records are necessary to substantiate tax reports. Items of taxable income and business deductions must be shown accurately.

If you are interested in farm and ranch income tax management, Haws suggests that you see your local county agent and get a copy of the new Extension Service publication, L-409 Farm and Ranch Income Tax Management.

Ornamentals are a favorite victim of cotton root rot and the disease troubled many Texas homeowners last year. Now is the time to begin planning a control program to combat the disease and reduce damage this year, advises B. T. Haws, co-agent. For more advice he suggests getting a copy of L-390,
"Cotton Root Rot" from local county agents.

An inventory of your soil now will provide a basis for planning a fertilizer program which will supply needed plant nutrients and help your crops produce nearer their yield potential. A soil test will give this inventory.

Chemical brush control is dealt with extensively in three leaflets published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
They are "Brush Control with Ammate, Brush Control with 2, 4, 5-T, and Chemical Brush Control, Broadcast Application.
They are available from local county agents.

News From The HD Agent

As you plan the family spring and summer wardrobe, decide what to sew and what to buy ready made. Thelma Wirges, Co. HD agent, says you can have more and better clothes if you make them yourself, provided you sew well and have the time. You can also save dollars if you are skilled enough to make your own alterations of ready mades, remodel garments and do a good job of mending.

You can save these dollars if you take advantage of advanced clothing workshops for Wichita County Homemakers. These workshops will be held in Electra, Burkburnett and Wichita Falls.

Pre-workshop meetings for all interested homemakers will be as follows: Electra, Feb. 17th; Wichita Valley Farms, Feb. 18; Cashion Baptist church, Feb. 20; If interested in these workshops, please contact Thelma Wirges, 305 Federal Bldg., Wichita Falls for complete information.

These workshops were planned by the clothing committee composed of Mesdames Gale Mitchell, E. J. Simons, Bill Mitchell, Raymond Krull and W. R. Stimpson.
